Subject: Words From Genni.

Mar. 4, 2012.

Here is some information from a person whose first name is Genni and she is from Sedona, Arizona. I've visited this place and it has some nice people in it similar to Mt. Shasta, Calif.

Good Morning from Sedona.

Here is the update, Confident Expectancy

I just received on Sedona and other locations re; The City of Light.

Sensing the frequency vibrations have begun.

Thank you

Confident Expectancy...

CITY OF LIGHT... SEDONA UPDATE

As the days drift into nothing, the sky will take on a lighter hue locally as The City changes its frequencies.

At the present you are aware of different clouds taking on unusual colored hues and shapes ... horizontal as well as vertical. That too is due to The City.

Human energy frequencies will be apparent, and human emotions can rise to the surface quickly as they shift into the higher frequencies moment to moment.

Doing business as usual will leave. Expect this to take place as embodying new light and truth ways slip in unnoticed, until the mind recognizes what is taking place and moves with the new energies.

Drastic changes take time to change the mental, but not much time will be given as the new enters and the planet healing is in process.

As the time comes closer, you will get a sensing more and more that something major is apparently happening, and inner anticipation becomes stronger (enough to pay attention to). It would be wise to be alert to any and all feelings connected, even to the unknown, for all play a part in the Immaculate Conception.

A trip to the local Stoneman Lake, and prayer time with the Seekers (unseen community of light beings we met several years ago.) and a blessing to take place would be appreciated.

Daily feelings will definitely shift and will become moment to moment decisions instead of long- range planning, as a feeling of just being in the now moment becomes apparent.

Old warn-out patterns will become more of a nuisance to tolerate as the new vibrational shifting takes place with the quick process now unfolding.

The weather changes ... that too can become moment to moment.
People will enter and exit lives on a moment's notice. You look to spring as the winter pattern makes its leave as normal. No more normal, dear ones. You can have all 4 seasons in a day.

In your Sedona location area, the shift is in process and anything can take place at any moment. Nothing is left to be normal so to speak.

Dear ones, not only is something coming into view, but is already here, so the changes will be felt of high frequencies. Rest is important as all these shifts also means your body chemistry will also be e-olved . But many have looked for elevational light for centuries.

Well guess what! It is here! Praise G-d!. Imagine that! How wonderful is this? We say....very!!!

So Light It Is..
