Subject: The World Will Change. Part 4 of 4.

Mar. 10, 2012

This talks about adult stem cells.

These embryonic cells of the unborn are untouchable by society, and they might as well be on Mars, for no science is going to try to use these cells in a 3D manner, which is all you know how to do at this point. If they try, it won't work anyway. There are quantum processes you are learning about that are not only non-invasive, but actually helpful and that can transfer attributes from one biological cell to another and from one Human to another. Think "wireless" [Kryon human again]. What you thought would take wires over 1,000 miles long is now done with satellites. It's an analogy that shows you that you are moving into totally new understandings of the transfer of energy. Let's discuss the mother in that temple for a moment. The woman on the table back then, who is the "template," won the "Lemurian lottery" [Kryon being funny], for she knows that her baby, being entangled with another Human no matter how old or how sick, creates an enhancement of who that baby will be. This is complicated, but the process of helping the other will be etched into the baby's Akash, and the child will be born with an attribute of the h-aler. There is complexity and controversy and over-intellectual thinking in all this, for your 3D brains will r-ce to find things wrong with this. All I can tell you is that a quantum system is not a linear one, and your logic will fall on the floor if you try to analyze these things. Can you imagine time in a circle? Can you see being in two places at the same time, or even of changing your molecular structure at will to be part of another object? If you can't do that, then you are not allowed to comment reasonably. For all those things are part of quantum possibilities of DNA. If you don't believe me, ask a Pleiadian [more cryptic Kryon humor].
Now Yawee, are you understanding what you were doing back then? Do you need any more answers?

Todd: Well, I could say, do I? Yes!

[Laughter]

Yawee, what is it that you dream about? What is it that you dream about that you don't know and want to?

Todd: I dream about recalibration of the DNA and the coherent alignment that allows us to move freely, I guess, as the Pleiadians do in a quantum state from one place to another.

Of course you would ask that, since you see a much larger picture based on what your Akash has seen and remembers. You also know it's possible. Meanwhile, all those in here are asking the same thing about what they just heard: "Where can we find a pregnant woman and do this now?"
[Laughter]

It's way beyond that, and the Pleiadians knew it. All this information originally came from them and passed to you, Yawee. It was for then, not now. The Pleiadians don't need a pregnant woman in order for them to do what they do today. They have DNA, too, but it's in a fully developed quantum state - a state that is the potential for the Human r-ce.

I would remind you that my partner has given you messages in the past about the attitude of physics. Now we are right back to the polarity discussion that started this channelling. This "attitude," Yawee, is imbued into the natural invention that you have discovered. Physics is active and seeks balance. That is to say that every field you have created with your process has the attributes - are you ready? - of perfect DNA. It already sees the attributes of the blueprint of the unborn. You don't need a pregnant woman. The attributes can be passed to the Human and received by that Human in whatever posture that his cellular structure is able to absorb. What you have done in your work is to create a quantum field with those Pleiadian attributes, and the cells listen when they are exposed to them. It's not finely tuned yet, but you will discover how eventually. When you do, you will have the regener-tion engine of the future, without a "template Human," but instead with the attributes of the template Human. This process and others will be seen by science also. You won't be alone. It is not appropriate that you would have the se-ret of life exclusively, so there will be others. Embryonic studies with animals are going to start to reveal that which gives the ability to grow back limbs for Humans, and many of the other things we have talked about for 23 years. It begs still a greater question: "What is the true role of animals on the planet? Do they r-incarnate?" This is for another time.

Look for these kinds of things to happen soon, and also the use of adult stem cells in a bigger way. And there it is, all laid out in front of you. All of this has been waiting for 2012.

Yawee, one of your attributes is that you live with the Pleiadians. You are still in an entangled state with them, which is not in 3D. They want to hear the tones again as they did 26,000 years ago. They're ready. And when that signal is sent, it will say "humanity has arrived and is going to stay" [speaking of Todd's Lemurian Choir Project for the solstice of 2012].

And that is the message for the day. Some will say, "Too much science, Kryon!" Others will say, "Indeed, the beauty of the system of the Creator is at hand." Dear ones, don't be turned away with the particulars of the science. You don't have to know and understand it, but we ask you to celebrate it. For G-d the creator is the master physicist of the Universe and has used these tools to create the system of life and the balance of love. All of this is going to enhance Human life and Human understanding. Again, I will tell you that the distance between the nucleus and the electron of every single atom is filled with the love of Go-. That's the soup of the Creator, built for life and ready to take your hand if you want it to. It is the recalibration of knowledge on the planet and the first step into a quantum paradigm. Get ready for it.

I have no clock. I can't tell you when. I can only tell you that it is at hand and it was not when we started with you all those years ago. We passed the marker together and now the work begins.

And so it is.
