Subject: Things Are Going Into High Gear. Part 2 of 2.
Mar. 15, 2012.

This talks about the Occupy Movement. I don't know whether I am for it completely or not.

(See our blog post "Occupy Olympia, OSSF 2012 & Foster Gamble")
This Spring, maybe as early as the month of March, the Occupy Movement will ramp itself up, spawning massive protests which will spontaneously erupt all over the US. It will embolden itself as more and more people will be drawn to support or even join the movement in some fashion. Already on Thursday, March 1, 2012, the Occupy Wall Street movement staged what it termed as its "largest coordinated action this year" with large protests all over the country. Collectively, all of these many signposts are signally merely the very beginning of monumental changes that have been prepared for this planet. What is still yet to come will be truly staggering, truly mind-blowing and will be nothing short of a revelation to all.
GLOBAL ECONOMIC REFORM SLIGHTLY DELAYED BUT ADVANCING

Meanwhile, many speculative investors have been eagerly awaiting the revaluation of the Iraqi currency, the Dinar, with a daily diet of intel reports suggesting it's imminent announcement. What is becoming increasingly clear is that the Dinar revaluation may be tied to nearly 200 other foreign currencies that will also be revalued at the very same time. If indeed these rumors bear any truth whatsoever, then they would go a long way towards explaining why the Dinar has not seen a revaluation as of yet. When the currencies of over 200 countries are adjusted upwardly, it would signal a global economic recovery unprecedented in the history of the world. Indeed, some reports suggest that as much 1/4 of a quadrillion dollars (or $250 trillion) have been flying around the world on a daily basis as monies are shifted from the coffers of major crime families to more noble recipients. Perhaps even some of this money is intended for you! Those who have been frustrated by the persistent delays must be mindful how complex and enormous the task of saving the global economy, the people's and government's assets truly is, all the while preventing an escalation into World War III. You have to admit, that's a tall order. Therefore, we must continue to have trust and faith that everything is moving steadily towards completion. What is more important to appreciate, however, is how big of a deal this entire process is for the future of humanity. What we are witnessing is a complete restructuring of the entire global economic system so that the type of criminals who have benefitted handsomely from the old system for so long, will never, ever have the opportunity to do so again. Many coordinated steps are being taken so that no other individuals or groups can hijack the global economic system ever again. What we are talking about is a level playing field for all. Not just the Western world, not just the Eastern world but everyone, everywhere from every facet of life. We have been programmed to believe in a concept of scarcity which has only been a false paradigm continuously shoved down our throats so that we can be easily controlled. An endless succession of wars have been fought over the notion of scarcity for far too long. The fact of the matter is there is plenty of land, food, water, resources, energy, oil, gold, money and will of the people to go around. The universe our universe is one of total abundance and only the mind of man limits himself. Meanwhile, the criminal capitalists who have for so long stood at the top of the pyramid, are growing more and more desperate as their empire crumbles all around them. In the past, their saving grace has always been to start a -ar and indeed, they have been beating the drums persistently to attack Iran in a last-ditch effort to trigger World W-r III. This will unequivocally not be allowed to happen. Although, we can assume they will try their darnedest until they are neutralized.

Recently, Project Ca-elot interviewed a man by the name of John K-ttler, who claims to have contact with various m-litary intelligence agents and off world sources he refers to as ET/ED's (extra-terrestrial/extradi-dimensional entities). During two separate interviews, he reported on a wide range of incidents that have arisen in far flung locations across the globe recently. These included an attack sub armed with n-clear w-rheads; advance aerospace aircraft in Area 51; and nu-lear/dirty bomb weapons aimed at the US from the country of Venezuela, all of which have been removed from the planet by the intervention of ET/ED's, either directly or indirectly.

David W-lcock, on the other hand reported that has many as forty different attempts have been made to instigate World Wa- III in the Middle East this year alone. Yet all efforts have been foiled, time and time again, most likely by some kind of ET actions.

What we must be aware that in the Western world, we have been steadily fed a pack of l-es regarding the geop-litical landscape. We have been led to believe that Russia and China are our mortal enemies as a fake cold -ar was invented to keep us in a perpetual state of f-ar, thereby justifying outrageous and unnecessary amounts of mil-tary spending.

As crazy as it may sound, many insiders feel strongly that it is Russia and China who have stood up most forcefully to the New Wo-ld Order/Fed-ral Reserve ca-al and have literally saved the American people from a total take down.

These two countries have steadfastly refused to allow Iran to be targeted by the US or Israel in some kind of a fake World W-r III Armageddon scenario that would end up annihilating most of humanity. Further reports have indicated the US Pe-tagon will not allow WW III to proceed either.

As recently as February 26th, the N-O ca-al attempted to ass-ssinate Russian Prime Minister Vladimir P-tin. It was the second such assass-nation attempt in the month of February. Prime Minister Pu-in has been a strong deterrent to the New Wor-d Order takeover of the planet, as have been the Chinese, despite the Western media propa-anda to the contrary.

In fact, Chinese Vice President Xi J-nping was in Washington, DC on February 15th and he issued stern warnings to the US hierarchy to allow the impending economic global reform to proceed post haste. The Chinese hold the economic bargaining chips in the form of US debt bonds and are willing to do whatever it takes to get this process underway.

Ironically, someday in the not-too-distant future, Americans may well be thanking the Russians and Chinese for their assistance in saving the world.

Believe it or not!

THE GRAND PLAN

We have to appreciate how truly monumental an effort has been made at this time, pulling together humans (both east and west), extra-terrestrials and the D-vine in a united front to transform planet Earth. There is a whole series of paradigm shifting events taking place, one by one, that are freeing humanity from eons and eons of bondage and servitude.

The Year of the Water Dragon

Those who doubted that the year 2012 would bring any kind of life-altering events, simply did not understand the significance of the times and conditions we are now living in. The expansion of consciousness is an unstoppable force that is surging across the planet, affecting everything and everyone in its wake. And it is happening! It is really, really happening! (See our Commentary "2012: The Age of Enlightenment & The Year of the Water Dragon")

The Mayan calendar foretold of these times and thus far it has been spot on. As we move through this year, events and transformations will be accelerating each and every week, each and every month. And the acceleration will continue to expand right into 2013 and beyond.

The decree for these transformations has come from the most highest sources of all God and the Divine. This is a highly coordinated, multi-faceted plan that is coming into fruition and the Earth is just one of numerous planets, universes and star systems undergoing monumental changes.

Light and energy waves are pouring in from the galactic center of the universe and transforming everything they touch. No stone will be left unturned, no animal, mineral, vegetable or person will be unaffected by this Divine grace.

A gigantic energy wave has already hit the planet on January 29, 2012 that accelerated evolution in a dramatic fashion.

Perhaps you felt that acceleration in your own life. Another one is due on Wednesday, February 29th, which will further push humanity on a major evolutionary uptick. So be aware of it. Many more waves are expected throughout 2012.

There is no turning back now. We are headlong into this transformational process and it is a done deal.

The world has been brought to the very brink of ruin only to clearly see there is another more glorious choice that is collectively possible. Most of us have already made the decision to decisively move forward into the Golden Age and that is precisely what we shall receive.

All that remains is to have the faith and the belief in your heart that the Golden Age is upon us and is merely waiting for us to acknowledge it. Despite how dire and chaotic the outside world may seem, it is the inner world within our hearts and subconscious minds that is most important.

Resist the temptation to ask when the ET's are going to step in to save the day, or when are the many promises that have been made to change the economy, or take out the bad guys are going to be fulfilled. Rather, ask yourself what have you done to make your own little world a better place. A supremely positive, expectant attitude is a good place to start.

The secret is that the more you embrace the Golden Age within your heart, then the quicker you shall experience it within your own world. It is that simple.

Remember, above all fear and doubt are our enemies, faith and trust are our allies.

May the force be with you.
