These people say we have had a hidden space program for a long time.

Today my number one son told me that he met a person who was making a f-ee engine. It was over in San Jose, Calif. near Alum Rock Park. I'm aware of all of the dangers that are connected with building a fr-e energy device.

Behind The Mysterious S-cret Space Program?"

It has long been theorized that there exists a se-ret space program, enenormously complex program to conquer the nearby solar system with manmade spaceships that have been hidden from public view perhaps since the late 19th century.

Timothy B-ckley, the editor The C-nspiracy Journal and the Global Communications publisher, has recently released a new book called The Sec-et space Program: Who Is Responsible? that covers this arcane subject most thoroughly. The book is coauthored by Be-kley, Tim R. S-artz, Commander X, and myself, and includes the full text of a book I coauthored with Swa-tz ten years ago called Nikola Tesla, Journey To Mars. But let's look first at the newer material. The Secr-t Space Program begins with an interview with Richard D-lan, the author of UFOs And The National Se-urity State, Volumes I and II. Do-an's conservatism of approach is well known in the UFO community, and has kept his research credible after many years of close scrutiny. He is not a wild-eyed c-ntactee or fringe believer, but is instead a scholarly historian of the UFO cover-up with many contacts within the intelligence and milit-ry communities.

Dol-n told us why he believes the rumored secr-t space program really does exist, saying, I think that there are a number of anomalous events we know have occurred in Earth orbit and beyond Earth orbit. We've got 40 years of events recorded by US and Soviet astronauts of objects in orbit that appear to be not our own that seemed to move intelligently. We have the evidence of what's known as DSP satellites that's D-fense Support Program satellites. These are a series of geosynchronous satellites in Earth orbit that have a long record of tracking fast-walkers in space. That is, objects that are like a space UFO.

Astronaut Edgar M-tchell and researcher Richard Dola-, who believes a "breakaway civilization" may exist.

According to -olan, there have been nearly 300 such anomalous events recorded by the DSP satellites in the years 1973 to 1991.

It would seem to me very logical, Do-an continued, that just as there would be a covert monitoring of the UFO phenomenon within Earth's atmosphere and on the ground and so forth, if there are anomalous activities going on in space, then clearly you would want an agency to monitor that as well, to deal with it. And that would necessitate the creation of a very clandestine component to the US space program.

The normally staid Dol-n also allows for the possibility of there being an alien and/or human presence on the dark side of the moon that is concealed from public view. The information comes from leaks within the mi-itary world that, while not airtight, are nonetheless credible.

You get the claim quite a few times, Dola- said, of N-SA airbrushing and doctoring moon photographs. Again, these are claims, but I look at a number of these claims and they strike me as sincere individuals, and, frankly, I have no reason to doubt what they're saying. So that makes me think there's more funny business going on. They're hiding something important about space.

Even Mars is a possible location for artificial structures of some kind, according to D-lan, though he does not lend credence to reports from people who claim to have actually been there. Recovered UFO technology also fits into the mix.

It makes perfect sense to me, he explained, when you look at the history of apparent UFO crashes and recoveries, and there are a number I think there are good cases for, you have to assume that the national security apparatus isn't going to be just sitting on their hands looking at this technology forever. Of course they're going to try to study it and obviously to replicate it. How could they not?

So that allows 40 to 50 years, Dola- continued, with a lot of b-ack budget money and se-recy, in which a classified reverse-engineering group could work.

And if you've had any success with it, Do-an said, it's not something you can share with the world. Yet it would be something that would come in very handy for covert missions beyond Earth's orbit, i.e., a secr-t space program.

D-lan also described something he calls a breakaway civilization, or a se-ret group with technological knowledge light years beyond the everyday world.

I think this is something that is real, -olan said. Now, my theory of it is that it originated in really in post-World W-r II society, but there's nothing preventing such a thing from having happened earlier. The basic idea of the breakaway civilization is simply that you have a se-ret group, a class-fied group of people, with access to radically advanced technology, radically advanced science, and they just don't share it with the rest of the world. One scientific breakthrough leads to another, and that leads to another and so on. So the next thing you know, you've got a separate group of humanity that is vastly far beyond the rest of the world.

Which is the basic crux of our book, that a s-cret society consisting of scientists of various disciplines have banded together to create the means of our traveling to both the moon and Mars and constructing artificial buildings, even literal life-supporting bases of operation, for whatever purpose.

According to a source named Steven O-ar, who writes about a -ecret alien presence on Mars and a hidden program of diplomatic outreach, a Uni-ed Nations diplomat named Farida I-kiovet claimed that, in 1972, she investigated UFOs and occupant contacts for the P-esident of the General Assembly. Isk-ovet also claimed that she had been contacted by a landed spacecraft from the planet Mars.

The alleged contact was reported in the newspapers The Arizona Re-ublic and The San Cle-ente Sun-Post, the latter coming from reporter Fred Sw-gles, whose beat was then-P-esident Richard N-xon and his staff at the Western W-ite House.

Frada Iski-vet told Om-r that the alien offered to admit an ambassador to their Interplanetary Confederation in this solar system in exchange for an alien ambassador to the General Assembly of the United Nations. However, the terms of this peace arrangement were not acceptable to the Sec-rity Council and the exchange was rejected in a sec-et meeting.

Om-r also talks about a Martian flying disc spacecraft landing in the wilderness outside of Moscow, where a secre- meeting with Soviet Premiere Nikita K-rushchev was arranged in 1959.

The conference regarded improving relations with Earth, exchanging knowledge, and securing world and interplanetary peace, yet the Soviet gov-rnment rejected the terms. The report originated from a former Army Int-lligence sergeant who investigated UFOs while in the army in the 1950s.

Richard H-agland is a proponent of the idea that NA-A is withholding information on a secr-t space program they do not want the public to be aware of.

The astronomer and NAS- watchdog Richard Hoa-land says he has photographic evidence that proves the alien presence on Mars is very real. The much discussed Face On Mars photograph is an image taken from a part of a city built on the Cydonia Planitia consisting of very large pyramids and mounds arranged in a precise geometric pattern, which Hoagland sees as evidence that an advanced civilization might once have existed on Mars. He believes NASA is covering up the evidence in the belief that publicly acknowledging the artificial construction there would destabilize society.

Hoagland also believes that there are large, semi-transparent structures of glass on the moon's surface, which he says are visible in some Apollo photos when the images are digitally manipulated. He further claims that NASA is suppressing knowledge of an ancient civilization that once occupied the moon, and that the civilization left behind some of its technology, still visible on the moon's surface.

An especially dark corner of the rumors of the secret space program is the belief that the Nazis created viable flying saucer technology toward the end of World War II that was later discovered and suppressed by the victorious Allies. A new movie called Iron Sky will be released in April that uses the rumored Nazi space technology as the starting point for what is called a science fiction comedy, but to some believers in the field it's no laughing matter.

A dramatic look at a Nazi "flying saucer" in the relevant film "Iron Sky, in which the SS have set up a secret base on the moon in 1942 and are about to RETURN!

Our book goes into more detail of course, touching at one point on Adolph Hitler's occult beliefs regarding a subterranean race that possessed supernatural technology and was intent on one day claiming the surface world for its own. (JW I believe you will find that the inner Earth people only think good towards us and would like to help us in the future.)
