Subject: The Agreement.
2012.

May 1,

This is about the agreement that was made with the Greys.

But before we cover the technology that we gleaned from the aliens, let's review the "deal" we supposedly made with them. The basic story is as follows:

In the late 1947 an alien disc was recovered in Roswell, New Mexico along with several dead occupants and one live humanoid. The humanoid was given the name EBE (extraterrestrial biological entity) and survived until 1952. During its captivity, EBE became ill from some unknown dis-ase. Its body utilized chlorophyll and so a biologist was called in, Dr. Guillermo Mendoza, and EBE was nursed back to health.

In this video [above], EBE becomes ill during an interview and is assisted by biologists. Below Big-nosed Greys in autopsy from "Alien Autopsy" film.

In a futile attempt to save EBE, and to gain favor with this technologically superior alien race, the United States began broadcasting a call for help early in 1952 into the vast regions of space. The call went unanswered but the project continued as an effort of good faith. Aware of the alien encounters, President Truman created the NSA (National Security Agency) in 1952 with the goal of deciphering alien language and communicating with them. In 1954 the race of aliens described as "grey skinned with no hair and big noses", from the Orion region in space landed at Holloman Air Force base. These were the same race that crashed in Roswell seven years earlier. They stated their planet was dying and needed safe quarter on earth to conduct genetic experiments that would allow their race to survive. It was speculated that they reproduced by cloning and this technique lacked genetic variety and had weakened them over eons of time. The space was to be provided to them in exchange for certain "advanced technology" that the aliens agreed to share with us.

Ironically, the Government also had contact with another race of aliens in 1953. This race was allegedly more human in appearance and sounds very much like the aliens that Betty and Barney Hill encountered. This alien group warned us against the "Big-nosed Grey" aliens that were by then orbiting the Equator and they offered to help us with our spiritual development. They demanded that we dismantle and destroy our nuclear weapons as the major condition. They refused to exchange technology citing that we were spiritually unable to handle the technology which we then possessed! They believed that we would use any new technology to destroy each other. This race stated that we were on a path of self-destruction and we must stop killing each other, stop polluting the earth, stop raping the Earth's natural resources, and learn to live in harmony. Although this sounds ideal now, post WWII and entering the Cold War, these terms were met with extreme suspicion -- especially the major condition of nuclear disarmament.

The military believed that meeting these conditions would leave America helpless in the face of an obvious alien threat.

We also had nothing comparable in our history to help with the decision. Nuclear disarmament was not considered to be within the best interest of the United States and the proposal was rejected.

President Eisenhower eventually met with the Big-nosed Greys who landed for a second time at Edwards Air Force Base. A formal treaty with them was signed in 1954.

(Eisenhower arranged to be in Palm Springs on vacation. On the appointed day the President was spirited away to the base and the excuse was given to the press that he was visiting a dentist.)

In exchange for the transfer of advanced technology, the aliens were given permission to abduct humans on a limited basis for the purpose of medical examination and monitoring.

This had something vital to do with their own genetic experiments. Since their knowledge of biology seemed advanced beyond our comprehension, this was never adequately explained. The stipulation was that the humans would never be harmed, would be safely returned to their point of abduction, and that the humans would have no traumatic memories of the event. Also, the aliens would provide a detailed list of all abductees to a special group called M-12 who would monitor their compliance.

Asking for some "quarter" to conduct their work, it was agreed the alien bases would be constructed underground, beneath Indian reservations in the 4 corners area of Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado. Another base was to be constructed in Nevada in the area known as S-4, about 7 miles south of area 51, known as 'Dreamland'.

Although the National Security Council had an agreement with the Big-nosed Greys that they would give a periodic list of abductees to the M-12, within a short time it became obvious to the Eisenhower administration that these Greys had broken this agreement and were abducting far more people than they reported -- including large numbers of children! Horrified by the betrayal of the Big-nosed Greys, the government further suppressed any public knowledge of the aliens, realizing their own culpability for their betrayal of humanity. An assessment was made and it was determined that the US lacked the resources to fight them and so it was decided that the military should continue the agreement -- even though it had already been violated -- and to focus on exploiting the relationship with aliens for their advanced technology. [see below - page 4 of M-12 report]

Of course, any new technology gained would also have to now be kept secret lest the public should discover that it was "bought" with the sale of their freedom and security. Rare reports were surfacing about the alien's hybrid program and horrible genetic experiments that were being conducted on men, women and children. All of this had to be kept from the public at any cost.

A multi-billion tax-dollar secret fund was organized and maintained by the Military Office of the White House in 1957 by order of President Eisenhower, supposedly to build secret underground bunkers for the President and Congress in case of military attacks. Later, when much more funds were needed, the appropriations were funded by "black" projects contained in the defense budget -- not subject to any review.

One is reminded of the Building-7 at the World Trade Center. After "911" this missing fund was never mentioned again. Guess where the money went. Project REDLIGHT was formed and experimentation in test flying alien aircraft was begun in earnest. A super top-secret facility was built at Groom Lake in Nevada in the midst of the weapons test range. It was code named DREAMLAND. The installation was placed under the Department of the Navy and clearance of all personnel required "Q" clearance as well as Executive (Pre-idential) approval. This is ironic due to the fact that the President of the United States does not have clearance to visit the site. The alien base and exchange of technology actually took place in an area known as S-4. Area. S-4 was code named "The Dark Side of the Moon".

During these early years the United States Air Force, NSA and the CIA exercised complete control over the Alien Secret. Later the National Security Act (NSA) was established to oversee the intelligence community and especially the alien endeavor.

At some point, the military decided that the best R & D (research and development) of alien technology could be conducted at private corporations and laboratories [see below]. The oversee of this development appears to be under the control of a clandestine group who answer to the Bilderberg Group, a world wide political entity created by Nelson Rockefeller with the approval of Eisenhower. This group would attempt to manage the "mistake" and certain corporate entities would even profit from it.

<http://www.viewzone.com/event66.majestic3.gif>

The extent of the "mistake" was underestimated. Not only have the horrible abductions and the hybrid program continued to this day, but the "research and development" of alien technology has been exploited almost exclusively for defense contractors and kept secret.
