Subject: Are We Living In Something Like A Bird Cage?
2012.

May 23,

Here are some space people who think we are living in something like a bird cage.

There are many ways to describe and to see your current state within duality, and one of these ways is to say you are within a bird cage. This is a metaphor that similarly describes your current state of imprisonment. It is as if you are all living within the confines of a cage, as there is so much for you beyond these walls, barriers and limitations that you can experience if you choose to experience them. We are here to help you see that there is another choice for you. We are not here to bust you out of this cage, for it is your cage. You have designed it, you have constructed it. It is not a cage that has been placed around you by foreign entities of a negative brand. It is you yourselves that wished to experience what life would be like caged like a trapped bird without the wings to soar to your freedom.

What you choose now to do with this information is up to each and every one of you to choose for yourselves. We will also not make this choice for you, as it is not our right to visit any world throughout this universe and make decisions for the beings that call these worlds their home. We are here to advise you of your current situation and of your choices, and we are also here to see that whatever choice it is you make you will experience. This is simple to understand, is it not? We are not here for any other reasons. If it is true freedom that you wish to experience, then we will pool our resources together with you and see to it this is what you will experience, but always remember that it is you that must choose the lanes in which you wish to travel.

We do not provide these avenues of your experience as they have already been provided for you by your Creator. It is your Creator that has made all your choices possible for you. We do not add or detract anything from your experience. We are not here to take away anything from you. Does it make sense to you to think that there is an alliance of so many thousands of worlds that have come here to take from you what little you have? Do you resonate with this belief? Does this sound plausible to you? What we have is true freedom and the resources to do whatever it is we wish to do and experience throughout this vast universe. Considering our wide variety of choices, does it make sense to you that what we would choose would be to come here to this small planet far beyond the center of this galaxy and even further beyond the center of this universe to pilfer what little it is you have that so many of you are fighting and arguing over? No, this does not make sense, and it certainly does not make sense to us that there is at this time a number of you who staunchly and immovably believe this and also go out of their way and spend so much of their time and energy trying to make others believe this. This is so counterproductive to all of the marvelous advancements that today stand just out of your reach. We wish nothing more than to begin to gift your world with all that so many of you desire for yourselves and your loved ones deep inside.

There are currently obstacles that stand in your way to assist you bring to your world the many changes necessary to advance your lives beyond your current state. One of these obstacles is fear. The fear that so many of you are openly displaying at this time and spreading like a plague throughout your online social communities. We see these messages, articles and false c-anneling through the eyes of sadness, but not sadness for ourselves, but sadness for you, our brothers and sisters, as all these lies and di-information do nothing but delay the gifts that are rightfully yours and that could have been presented to you so very long ago. Do you understand what awaits you and your society just beyond the shadows of fear? Do you understand what it is that awaits you that will change so many areas of your current lives that cause so much suffering, pain and hardships for so many? Do you not see that the time has come for each and every one of you to put aside your inner fears and insecurities and find a way to allow these changes to take place, changes that will lift you and lift your entire society up and out of the recesses of your current states that are outdated and are no longer necessary for your education and advancement.

You do know you do not have to remain living like this anymore. Do you understand what this means? Do you understand that you and every single s-ul around you can immediately begin to prosper and to thrive and to live the life that you deserve as a so-l existing within your Creator's magnificent and abundant universe? Do you really wish to continue living the way you are, tied to your jobs that pay you barely enough to survive another week to go back to work to enrich the lives of someone else at the very top of the pyramidal structure of your society? Is this what you wish for yourselves and wish for your family? Do you not wish for more? Do you not wish for better? Do you not wish for healthier, for cleaner? Do you not think that all these things are possible for you? Why would you think this universe is so limited?

Just look up into the stars at night and take in just for a moment like a breath the magnificent canopy that is your ever-expanding universe and ask yourself Am I experiencing all that has been made possible by my Creator? If you answer no, then ask yourself Do I wish to experience all that is made possible for me by my Creator? If you answer yes, then allow us to allow you to experience what you have just chosen. This is all we ask, and we ask this not for ourselves or our own purposes, but out of love for you, for we experience just what has been made possible through our choice to experience all that has been made possible for us by our Creator, who is your Creator, and we wish to share with you our joy, our love and our excitement we experience at each and every new sunrise that begins another beautiful and wonderful day for us. We wish for you, our dearly loved ones, to experience the joy that we experience each and every day. We do not wish for you to experience even one more day of your current living situations. We wish to begin today to shower your world with the gifts that have been so generously bestowed upon us, and we ask you to allow this to happen. Is this far too much to ask?

We understand it can be a difficult task to rise above the limiting confines of the emotion of fear. We knew this before we journeyed here, and we have studied this limiting emotion for many, many eons of time. What we are engaging in here are methodologies and educational programs to assist so many of you that are trapped in fear's cage. This is one of the areas we concern ourselves with predominantly here in your world, and the resources that can be freed once this rising fear can begin to subside and ebb can be used on so many other programs and systems that can bring so much joy and fun to your world and remove so many systems that today bring so much hardship and struggle for you. Do you see how important it is for you to do all that you can to help us help you remove the shackles of fear from your ankles, from your wrists? Can you find a way to assist us and to assist others in the world around you in this way?

We look for the magic key that will unlock the shackles from you, but one cannot be found. One cannot be found because there is not one reason you fear, but there are countless reasons you fear. You fear almost everything that you do not recognize as familiar. You fear everything that comes into your lives that has the power to change it even in a very small way. You fear strangers, you fear the unknown, you fear the mysterious, you fear the dark, you fear the cold, and you fear new ideas and concepts that will change the way you do things on a daily basis. Why? Why do you fear these things? Why do you fear what is new when what is old is so saddening and maddening for you? Why do you fear the keys that will unlock your shackles tying you to every day toils? Why do you not see these keys as gifts, wonderful gifts being presented to you by your Creator and by beings created by your Creator who love you and want nothing but the best for you?

These are some of the very difficult questions that we struggle to find answers for. Allow us to find these answers by understanding you more. Explain to us in your writings, your messages and your posts through your online communities why it is you fear these things deep down inside. Be as honest and open as you can possibly be as we will be studying what it is you offer as the reasons why you cannot break free of the fear that imprisons you like a bird in a cage. We promise you we will do all that we can to find a way to help you break free from this cage and fly away, soaring to new heights within this universe.
