Dear Folks: I won't be talking about the Royal Family anymore.

Subject: Are You An Old Soul. Part 3.

June 10, 2012.

This talks about our DNA changing.

This is a review. If you're constantly creating light, then darkness does not have a chance. We've said this over and over and now it comes full circle to you personally: Wherever you go, darkness can't touch you. Are you listening to me? It can't touch you. The essence of your light is the love of G-d and you are broadcasting it, Lightworker - broadcasting it! There's no dark thing that can get in there as long as you're broadcasting light!

Now let me tell you a guaranteed way where you can stop broadcasting light and open yourselves up to go backwards instead of forward. It's by saying, "I can't do it. Who am I? I'm not worthy." There will be many s-iritual leaders who will tell you you're not worthy. They will tell you that you were born dirty and unworthy to even talk to Go-. They will tell you that you have to suffer to get the attention and approval of -od. However, G-d is in you, and even the master of love told you that. Therefore, you are not born dirty, but born magnificent! If Go- is in you, then light is in you.

We move on to point two: Drama, anger, frustration. There's a lot of it. So when you leave this room, how much of that are you going to participate in? It depends upon the duality, doesn't it? If you are a Lightworker, a lighthouse on this planet that changes the balance of light everywhere you walk, then you're going to be given immediate power over anger, frustration and drama. Power over it! Now, you can't change the people around you. You just can't. They will flail and do whatever they want to and they may go into anger and drama. They may even try to push your buttons. I think you know who I'm talking about. I know who's here and who is reading. They'll do it in order to get control over you, and if they can affect you, you've fallen for it, haven't you?

If a person can get dramatic, if they can get angry enough, if they can push your buttons, then they just won the light/dark battle. For years, this has been a struggle because the balance of dark and light has always teetered in the middle of balance, but so often favored the dark. The dark was easy and blind. During these years, the Lightworkers had to work hard to gain the upper hand for themselves, so they would not be affected by the other. I hope you understand what I'm saying. It has been an upstream swim for the Lightworker!

Now, however, energy is being delivered to you as this earth shifts, which is going to make it far easier for you, the Lightworker, to be in control of emotions, no matter what is around you. Then you can stand there with all the a-gels on your side, while others try all they want to affect you, but you won't need to react. I challenge you to do this, for there'll be those of you who walk into the workplace in a couple of days and may have a challenge. It is the way of it. The old balance will still be there trying to assert itself in an old way, not being aware that you've changed. So what will your reaction be? Can you begin to take your power?

What happens when one person takes the high road? Eventually, that road is where the other person will want to be also! It's well lighted and attractive. You don't just change yourself by creating light. What you do on this planet is seen by all. Every single, small victory at home or at work will help you walk in a peaceful way where you didn't before. That victory is seen by everybody, and you seem better balanced.

All of us on this side know what you have done! Listen to our applause when you walk from a place and know you did it: You didn't fall for it this time, and you are not affected anymore. Some of you know of what I speak. Anger, frustration, drama - it doesn't have to be in your life at all.

Perhaps you've decided, as you walk from place to place, that you may have to get out of town, get out of a relationship, get out of a job, for things to settle for you. Now I want you to rethink that idea for a moment. What happens if things start to change for you personally and the things that bothered you before now don't? That changes the conditions, doesn't it? Now you can be in the same situations you always were, and yet it's completely different. You're not frustrated anymore. You don't get angry anymore, even as those around you continue to spin in drama and unrest. You actually have more wisdom due to it and can manifest better.

I'll tell you what may eventually happen. Those spinners will see you, and eventually some are going to come to you in private and say, "How do you do it? I wish I didn't have to spin as much. I see that you've changed. For some reason, you're not bothered anymore. For some reason, you have a smile and I can see the peace of G-d in you and I want it. You don't gossip. You don't make other people wrong. You have an honoring for all people when you open your mouth and speak. I can hear it. Something changed in you and I'd love to know what it is." Then, my dear Human Being, and only then, should you open up and say, "I've found something that I never thought existed. I found the peace of Go- inside me." That's powerful, and your actions prove it.

Number three: Are you aware of how your body is shifting? It's allowing for you not only to heal yourself, but to feel better as you do it. This creates a cellular communication where you don't age as much. Your body will stay younger when the chemistry doesn't have to deal with anxiety.

The Planetary Balance

A summary: On this planet, the balance of what has happened, what Humans have done through the ages, stays here. It is recorded quantumly in what is called The Crystalline Grid. Everything that takes place on the planet, which Humans create, stays here as energy. Every situation where energy is created stays in The Crystalline Grid. If there's a dark energy created by Humans, The Crystalline Grid emanates darkness. If there's a light energy, it emanates light.

For 23 years and the last 18, in particular, you have changed the dark/light balance of Gaia. In the process, your DNA starts to shift. It is quantumly tuned to The Crystalline Grid. That is to say, it then starts to shift not only in you but also in every baby that's born. You might say that the Human DNA field "looks around" at birth and picks up the energy that is given to it by The Crystalline Grid. That, then, is the starting energy it will have for life. Therefore, what you do now affects the energy of the earth and even the consciousness of humanity to come. Think about it. For eons, nothing has changed. Human nature was always the same and, therefore, you never saw anything but war and frustration. This is now starting to change, and the Lightworkers on the planet have created it.

The children are changing. They're different. Some of them are taking on quantum attributes. Many adults laugh at this concept, as they sit and enjoy a better earth, not even acknowledging the considerable change before them, since they are in their own box of reality. But that's what's going on, and it's because the dark and light balance of the earth is affecting newborn DNA. History is not repeating itself, and instead of the planet's population continuing to separate and split itself apart, it is attempting slowly to put itself together. But it happens over generations, so it's not as obvious as something that happens on a week-to-week basis, which Humans would rather look at in their impatience and intellectual pursuit of a fast-moving reality.
