

Subject: Get Ready.

From: "John Winston" <johnfw@mlode.com>

Date: 28/06/2012, 22:13

Newsgroups: alt.conspiracy.area-51

Subject: Get Ready.

June 28, 2012.

Let's hope the space people actually do something and don't change their minds and put it off to some later date.

.....
.....

To be shared.....

Ja-is

Green Light! Mass Arrests Will Now Commence! 6/27/12

P-ntagon and m-litary insider Drake has announced, tonight 6/27/12 at approximately 8:30PM, that the long anticipated green light has been given and the mi-itary and law enforcement alliance known to the people as the 'Earth Allies' will now move in within a time frame of 72 hours to begin the world wide sweep and mass arrests of thousands of members and associates of the c-iminal organization known as the 'c-bal'. For those unfamiliar with this action, these arrests will free, once and for all, all of humanity from their dark captures who have conspired to bankrupt, sicken and finally imprison every human being on the planet.

All citizens are advised to pick up a week or so worth of food, water and all necessary provisions as some store closures and utility outages are possible. All citizens are also advised to withdraw from their financial institutions enough cash to last at least a week, and preferably up to three weeks, as certain banks are expected to close their doors, rendering credit and debit cards useless for at least a certain period of time. All citizens are advised to remain calm and within a centered emotional state. All citizens are strongly urged not to riot or engage in any violent actions of any kind.

Mil-tary units and law enforcement personnel will be witnessed making these arrests throughout the U-ited States as well as in some other parts of the world, and all are advised to understand that these men and women are working in service to their brothers and sisters, to freedom, to constitutional go-ernment and to love. These mili-ary and law enforcement units are not moving in to arrest the citizens of their respective countries as some media outlets may erroneously report in the early stages of this far ranging operation. These units are engaging in the arrests of the members of the cri-inal ca-al and their many associates, that is all.

All are advised to stock their homes with the basic necessities and also advise as many family members and friends what to expect and what these arrests will mean to the people of this world who have suffered too long under the oppression of these crim-nals and their dark agenda of power and control. This day has been a long time coming, and all are advised to celebrate as these arrests are televised world wide as a signal to our brethren that this is not more of the same bad news we have been programed to believe is the only form of news. This is a time to celebrate, and the celebrations will continue through the July 4th holiday, which will be a true celebration of independence for the people of the U.S. and all the people of our world.

Message from the Ashtar Command 6/27/12  Cue the Orchestra

What we wish to do is remove this pyramidal power structure of abuse and control that has been designed here in your world and has been used as an organized means to attempt to control your every thought, your every movement, your every dream, your every wish, your every day and your every way of your existence. We see the removal of each and every one of these blocks that comprise this massive pyramid as the most important steps for you as a r-ce to take. Nothing can be done until these dark l-rds of power are removed from your society. They have plotted and schemed and bribed and stolen and abused and threatened and mu-dered their way deep into the trenches of every system and form of gover-ment all throughout your entire world.

They have left barely a stone unturned in their pursuit of total control and domination of your countries and every citizen within them. They were not planning on stopping their assault until every human alive was made their prisoner. This is how they think. These are the thought processes of those who currently control your world on a daily basis. They do not know decency, for they do not understand decency. They do not understand love, charity, mercy, kindness, forgiveness or empathy. They do not know the meaning of these words. These words are foreign to them, and so are the emotional expressions that accompany them, for they do not possess the same inner strings as you do and therefore these notes cannot be plucked no matter how hard one tries to teach them the music, for they cannot hear the music and they will never willingly dance to it.

It is only you, the members of your human race, who have ears to hear this music and the hearts to feel it. You are different than they. We do not wish to ever draw lines between people or races, worlds or galaxies, but here in your world is a very rare case, for here in your world there are, let us say for the sake of simplistic understanding, two distinct types of beings that walk your Earth. Let us compare one of these types of beings to a being who can love another being and understand what love is and why they love this other being, and let us describe this other type of being who walks your world as a being who does not love another, who cannot love another, as they do not understand what love is, for love is a foreign emotion that exists not within their people or within themselves. It is as if a foreign word has been spoken to them and this word bounces off ears made of tin and falls directly to their feet.

This is what is happening in your world today. These are the two types of beings that, to put it in its simplest terms, walk the face of your Earth. Beings that can love and do love and beings that cannot love and may never be able to love if they continued to live on your planet for another billion years. One of these species has to leave, there can be no other way for the survival of both these types of beings, for you cannot mix these two different beings into one society, it just will not work on many different levels. What we have come here to do is help the race that can and does love remove this other type of being from their midst. We are also beings who can love and do love and you, the beings that do possess love within your hearts, are our brothers and our sisters, and although there are many ways we are connected, our strongest connection is through the love that we can feel and feel for each other. We will help you rid your world of those who cannot love, for if they are permitted to continue to live amongst you there will come a day and it will come soon when they will reach the final stage of their agenda to enslave those who are different from them, those who can love.

We feel we of the higher realms have stepped in and intervened at the right moment, and the last moment we feel that was possible before the dark's agenda brought the curtain down on the human race. We feel matters are now very much in control in our favor, and we will not allow the safety and well-being of your people to recede back into a dangerous or precarious area. You have our word, the word of your brothers and your sisters, that the agenda of the dark ones to enslave your people will never be permitted to continue, and at this time the many blocks that they have constructed of their pyramidal structure of power and control, abuse and profit, of surveillance and extortion, are being removed and broken into pieces one by one and day by day. We, together with you, will see to this and see that those of the dark are removed from your Earth and are never permitted to return here ever again.

This is one of the priorities of our mission, and our plan is now unfolding. In the days ahead, every facet of this operation will be fully explained to you as you will be fully taking part in it and working right alongside of us as we rid your world of these parasites who have wreaked so much havoc and spread so much disease, poverty, mayhem and destruction throughout your world like rivers that burst their dams and spilled over their banks swallowing up cities, towns and small villages throughout every corner of your globe. We, together with you, will dry up these floodwaters and reseal these embankments and allow your cities, your countries and your people to thrive once again on the fertile soils of your new world.

Part 1.

John Winston. johnfw@mlode.com