Subject: Ralph's Joke.
July 21, 2012.
Here is a joke that Ralph Squires told at his last meeting we had at his house. He said that was just a joke and not true.

A Child Psychologist decided to leave his office early one day. His secretary said, "You can't leave yet Doctor, there are 3 mothers with their children, in the waiting room". The Doctor said " I'll take care of them on the way out". Approaching the 1st mother, he said "Madam, the child's problem is the name - what is the name"? The mother said "Penny". The Doctor said "That's it, cut off the money, and the child will be fine". Turning to the 2nd mother he said, "Madam, the child's problem is the name, what is the name"? She said "I call her Candy". The Doctor said cut out all sweets and child will be fine". As the Doctor starts to turn toward the 3rd mother, she jumps up and grabs her son by the hand, and says, "Come on Bergermeister, let's get out of here."
