

extracted and how inaccurate it is.

When we read the words shared by certain individuals who are chann-ling information in this way, we can barely comprehend what historical period or which historical people or place these channe-s are even speaking about. We struggle to put the pieces together to try to adequately comprehend just where these =hannels are gathering these bits and pieces of information from. This information is so highly inaccurate that very often we cannot trace it back at any level of accuracy to come to some sort of conclusion where this information was pulled from. Do you see what kind of problems this can and is presenting at this time here in your world?

There are c-annels that are presenting information as if it is a part of your history here in your world and which affects in some way your current and future affairs. This is in no way the case, as virtually all of the information extracted from these libraries in this fashion is highly inaccurate and makes very little sense whatsoever. It is as if millions of different jigsaw puzzles were mixed together, and then this vast pile of puzzle pieces was divided among 1 million individuals who began to try to build some kind of picture from the few pieces that they have collected, which are barely enough of one-story to piece together any kind of factual event in the history of this universe.

We, the Galactic Federation of Light, speak to you at this time of this matter as we feel it is very important for you to understand that when you are reading information from certain sources that discuss the past history of your universe, that these tales are nothing more than scattered, mismatched and inaccurate pieces of information borrowed from many varied sources of information that may be stored in many libraries throughout this universe. We ask you not to take this information seriously and read it as if you are reading accurate and historical accounts of the history of the universe in which you live. You are not. You are reading a fictitious and nonsensical tale strung together with assorted pieces of scattered information that even individually can have no meaning for you without the bigger picture being assembled for you.

We will assemble this greater picture for you in the days ahead when we can speak to you personally, face-to-face, and perhaps one day through the use of your media outlets. It will be at that time that we will paint for you an accurate portrait of the history of your universe. Until that time, please use great discernment when reading historical accounts being shared with you through individuals who have attained this information through the means of ch-nneling. This is not to say that we do not wish for you to continue to follow the messages that have been carefully written by fully conscious, higher dimensional beings and presented to you through chan-els.

We wish to make it clear that what we at this time are saying is to disregard information that is presented to you from chann-ls who are extracting information of the history of your universe through various records stored within libraries throughout your universe. The information that we are passing to you at this time through certain chann-ls we feel is very important information for you as individuals and as a collective, and we wish to continue to share information with you in this manner. The information that we are sharing with you in this way is not information that speaks of the history of your universe, of w-rs, of intergalactic p-litics, of treaties, or of colonies. Instead, the information that we are sharing with you consciously through certain chann-ls is information about the current circumstances of your world and of your futures, not of your past.

There will be plenty of time in your futures to learn and study the events of your past. This is not the time for this, as what matters is what is now.

This is what matters at this time and we wish you to focus on this, for what happens now is your future, and we wish for you to build now the better future that deep down inside all of you desire for yourselves and every living being around you on your planet. What we desire is what you desire, we do not wish for anything else, and we will do all that we can to make your individual and collective visions become a reality for each and every one of you.

We are the Galactic Federation of Light.
