This shows how the past can be changed.

At present they are only able to move forward in time about 20 years, and are unable to navigate into the past. In time, when the apparatus utilized is converted from magnetic forces to crystalline bio-plasmic field this will be improved considerably, and time navigation will be deliberate and not by random mishap. Optimal time navigation occurs in Mer-Ka-Na through a consciousness refined Plasmic field, and while certainly aided in terms of time vector by crystalline apparatus, it is primarily operated by the light-consciousness quotient of the traveler. Many of you time travel in dream state quite often, and therein is the key to how it will be optimally done when you learn to be more lucid in expansive conscious states. There are indeed Laws of Physics that apply to how time and space are navigated intra-dimensionally. In the not so distant future Humanity will rediscover these laws. And when this takes place, the seeming boundaries between past, present and future will be better understood. As we have already explained duality experience in the third dimension contains programmed parameters that limit mankind's greater dimensionality perception. It is indeed these 3d single lens filters that create the linear illusion of sequential unfolding of time. This then is precisely the reason mankind believes that one moment exists and is gone forever, and the next moment comes and like the one before also evaporates into the great elusive mist of the past. We tell you that everything in and on the Omni-Earth and indeed the Multiverse exists at once, simultaneously.

The past, present and future only appear to those who exist within three-dimensional reality. And the programs that separate time-epoch files on the Omni-Earth can be navigated.

The Past is Dynamic

The past and future as you 'believe it to be' exists as a series of electromagnetic receptors held in the crystalline portion of the physical brain and in the nonphysical mind within the ultra violet field. These electromagnetic codlings can be changed, and in fact are in constant flux. You script your destiny, and your destiny is not a linear one-way dynamic. Your creation of your past is just as important as the creation of your present and future. The past then, is quite malleable and no more fixed than your future. Now, your mental process and beliefs create your past, and there are as many valid versions of the past as there are of the future. We tell you that if the next generation were all to be taught from an early age that the Roman Empire ruled the world until the 17th century, indeed that past would become a reality, and evidence would be found to confirm it. Yet it would be a completely different past from which the older generation constructed. But BOTH would be true. Both would be separate yet valid files within the hologramic programs of time. As humans in duality, you take it for granted that present action can change the future, but present actions can and do change the past as well. The past is no more detached or uninvolved from your present than the decisions you make today. We share a great truth for you to ponder, and that is that everything you do effects your past, and you can accordingly remove what you may term traumas and misactions that occurred years ago or lifetimes ago from your present stance.

Furthermore, all of you are required to do so! The electromagnetic crystallographic portals within the human brain are forged and mantled totally and completely by each of you, and uniquely so. The probable past can be changed, and such changes are far from uncommon. These changes do happen spontaneously on a subconscious basis. You can now learn to do this consciously by entering Quantum Consciousness via Mer-Ka-Na. The linear aspect of the past is rarely what you remember it to be. In fact you constantly rearrange your memory of the past with the experience of each new moment, each new occurrence. It is a constant metamorphosis from the instant of any given experiential event. Your hypnotherapists are aware that pseudo-memories of fictitious or altered past events can be implanted in the brains of humans through deep state inducement, and in a very real sense these memories and the way they effect the subjects present become quite real.

So, it follows to reason that the future, present and past are always re-created by each individual as beliefs, attitudes and associations evolve and change. And take note that what occurs is a real-time actual recreation, not a metaphoric one. The changes you make are quite real. The small inner child is indeed still within the adult human as you progress in years. But that inner child is also dynamic, not molded into a permanent version that remains as it was.

The child within the human constantly changes every day, as does the teenager, young adult and elderly you in your future.

The Power of Now

Accordingly, it is now incumbent on you as you enter the Ascension energies, to grasp the power of NOW, and realize that you can and must change the past, your individual past, from the stance of Now.. Within the NOW, you can convert to the Mer-Ka-Na and as such gain the controls of all within your multidimensionality. That is a sacred Universal Truth, and that Truth expands when you enter into it. It expands into power that allows you the fulcrum of co creation in the singular moment of NOW, above linear time and holographic sojourns within time in the Omni Earth. We tell you that personal issues and blockages can and do arise when appropriate evolvement of the past are stymied and not allowed to spontaneously take place. In some scenarios, serious neurosis occurs precisely because an individual has not changed his or her past. For example, a lifetime may be chosen in which you a part of a catastrophic event that results in a traumatic loss of life. This may have been chosen for myriad reasons of growth. Perhaps, as one example, in sequential lifetimes the entity is far more appreciative of time spent with love ones because of having learned that life can seemingly end unexpectedly. Yet such powerful traumas that were chosen for lesson in one life time are often so emotionally over-charged that they can and do bleed over and negatively affect other lifetime programs.

This untoward over-bleed may express itself as an intense fear of flying or perhaps a fear of water from drowning, and such. Masters, you can enter into Quantum Consciousness and remove the negative, retain the growth lesson, and replace the event entirely with a positive alternative. You can change the past!

While it is incumbent upon you to truly understand that there was indeed reason, that you have chosen to experience any trauma, it is also true that some of the traumatic or less desirable experiences simply have the purpose of showing you what can occur if you do not consciously create your own realities. If you hold a mental state of belief that the world is evil, or that you are undeserving, that very individualized mental projection will faithfully draw untoward experience into the physical reality in which your mindset manifested it. In all cases, however, you have the ability and need to draw the lesson, and then change, dissolve the past experience into a more positive one. This is requisite, and can be done consciously in Mer-Ka-Va and Mer-Ka-Na levels of consciousness. The key again, is understanding that all realities are in flux. All can be altered.

Quantum Consciousness

Masters, Your realities in all sojourns are constantly in a state of fluidity. Nothing you have experienced is written in stone, but humanity has in large forgotten this truth. So we tell you that each scenario you experience is but one of many potentials from an immense menu of possibility. The ones you do not experience, in your terms, are just as valid as the ones you do. Accordingly you have the ability to go back at any vector thru

Mer-Ka-Na Quantum Consciousness, to change any reality. If you have chosen (and all of you have) a particularly traumatic experience, you can alter it to one that is of your choosing. Always remember that the world is indeed formed holographically by your thought processes in actual image reflection of your own creation. When you truly understand that your physical experiences and environs are fully the materialization of your own structured mental creation and beliefs, then you hold the key to unlocking the door to scripting the future and indeed re-scripting what you think of as the past.

This is manifested through intent and optimal use of your divine will. But this requires concentrated deliberation and focal effort. In the course of realizing your true power, free will is a double edged sword until wisdom and enlightenment is re-acquired. Using your free will haphazardly in less conscious lifetimes can and does make physical reality into something quite less than what it can optimally be in your sojourns. But again from over view, this also has the ultimate result through cause and effect of your greater growth.

Subject: Blue Skies And -----. July 29, 2012.

These space people are waiting for us to come and be with them.

This cloud that has been providing calamity and chaos, depression, struggle, hardship, disease, illness sickness, destitution, poverty, crime and confusion is now for the first time in many long eons evaporating from the skies over your heads, allowing blue skies to appear and your sun to shine through brightly, warming all of the people of your Earth. We see clear skies for you for ages to come, forever to come, for once your world is pure of these negative beings they will no longer rain on your parade, as long as we, the Galactic Federation of Light have anything to say about it. Our monitoring services are detecting arrests now proceeding at a very steady pace, at a very rapid pace, and this pleases us immensely, as what awaits on the other side of this needed process is what we and is what you have wanted for a very long time indeed. We will be able to reintroduce our families to your families.

This will be a family reunion of epic proportions, as many of you have many relatives and ties to families, orders, organizations, alliances and worlds here, beyond the limits of your 3rd dimensional reality. We have always been a part of your life and all of your lives in the physical. We have never been apart from you, never, not for a moment, but reuniting with you in the flesh, as you say, will be an occasion for us so joyous, beyond words of description. It will be a homecoming for you and it will be a homecoming for us in a way too, as our home in a large way has been empty since you stepped out that door many eons ago to begin your long journey away from your family and everything you knew as your reality.

What a courageous and daring step you took out your front door, for you did not know what it is you were to experience. You did not know where it is you would go, you did not know who it was you were going to meet, you were going to fight, you were going to love. You did not know when you were going to seemingly d-e, and you never knew when it was going to be time to be born again within a human vessel and begin another strange, but always wonderful journey into the physical again. These kinds of surprises will not be a part of the future for many of you ever again unless this is what you desire, for many of you have reached the point of your graduation, and upon your graduation you will have the choice whether you wish to come back this way again, but it will not be necessary for your advancement, your e-olution, your education, the betterment and the strengthening of your being, for many of you have shown that you have learned all that it is you can from a world of the physical realm and it is now time for you to take what it is you have learned and bring it home with you and begin your unpacking here with your family who has missed you so very much for so very long. Welcome home.

Seeing you again in whichever form you currently hold at this time will be a joy for us on so many levels. In one way we will miss the fond memories of guiding you and coaching you, and even though we always knew nothing bad could ever really happen to you we worried for you constantly. We were, as you say, the nervous parents and you were a child, reckless and dangerous in your ways, in your risk-taking, in your destructive and gambling nature. We watched as you walked into certain peril knowing that we must allow you to experience the results of the choice that you were making. It has not made it any easier for us knowing that in the end you would be all right, for we always knew you would suffer in some way, even temporarily the consequences of your actions and choices.

We had wished so often to be able to step in and turn you around and give you a push in the other direction, but this was not allowed per our agreement with you dear ones, for you wished to do most of everything by yourselves and you asked for complete freedom of all of the choices you would make and the paths you desired to travel, even if these paths lead down a dark and dangerous road. It will be beyond a joy, but also a relief to be able to embrace you in the flesh again and not have to worry so about where it is the day will bring you and watch as another 3rd dimensional drama envelopes you and spins you around in the clutches of a whirlwind of pain and confusion, problem, turmoil, destruction and regret, even though we always knew that you would be released from these torrential winds to once again walk free down another path of your choosing.

We are so glad you are coming home and we have many stories to share with you just as we are so very eager to sit and listen to your tales of adventure and excitement from your journey through the jungles of this 3rd dimensional landscape. We will have all the time in the world to share these stories with each other, as time is eternal here on our side of the veil. You may have forgotten this, as you have been gone so long. Time does not move as it moves for you at this moment dear ones, as time for us here on our side is our friend, is our compatriot, is our ally, is a tool that we can use to our advantage, for our education, for our fun, excitement and adventure and even in some forms for mystery, as we have the absolute luxury and pleasure to be able to spin like a wheel time, and wherever it stops we could travel to this point in time behind us or ahead of us, if you will, though time is actually neither behind us or before us, but is somewhere within us, and this you will understand much clearer once time is no longer wrapped around you.

We can use time as an escalator or elevator and ride it into its higher reaches, or push a button for down and explore where it will take us, and when the door opens we can step out into a world of mystery and surprise, of challenge, of fun, excitement, newness, and explore this new world for as long as we would like before we may tire of it and desire a new world to explore.

It can be said that we are time travelers, time explorers, for indeed this would be an appropriate title for us and it is certainly an appropriate title for you dear ones, for you have ventured through time in a way, as you have exited one reality and entered another with a completely different time construct. You have left a world where time is adequately controlled and well understood, to a world where it is time that controls you, governs you, and even up to the present day your top scientific minds have not been able to completely deconstruct time and control it, allowing it to be used as a tool as we use it.

Many of you will in the days ahead be entering this time portal again, emerging on the other side free from your current constraints of time and its control. So in a way, you will once again be time travelers exploring yet another path that will be new to you, as most of you have no memory of journeying this way before. What an exciting adventure this will be for you dear ones, and we are so happy to be able to supply you with the trail map that will guide you through what will be for you uncharted wilderness in the days ahead. Many of you are right now at this moment prepared fully for this great adventure, but as so many of you have come here together it is only appropriate that you wait for each other and leave together. Is that fair dear ones? We are confident that many of you understand this and will show all the patience that is required to wait for your fellow time travelers, as they are not many steps behind you and all will reach the door of your new adventure just when it is the great hands of the clock of the universe begins to turn the knob and open this door for you into your new, but familiar reality. We, your family and your friends, will be here waiting on this side of the door for you and we will help you unpack.

We are your family of the Galactic Federation of light, waiting for your return home from your weary travels. As ch-nneled through Greg Gi-es

This talks about the Bramuda Triangle.

You exist in many many realities at once. Once you reach a certain level of advancement, disciplined will and appropriate application of intent & concentration can absolutely be employed as springboards taking you from ego-personality 3d focus into other time schemes. Time holograms are somewhat analogous to color. In 3d humanity is primarily focusing, by design, upon one color. We assure you that your present life, your present civilization, in your present 'Now' co-exists alongside every so called past and future lifetime and civilization on the Omni-Earth. So both your now and their now exists simultaneously .. 'NOW'. In the precise locality of where you walk when visiting the acclaimed ruins of 'ancient' Egypt, Greece and Rome, the people of those civilization are alive, and walking amongst the glorified structures, the Temples, Pyramids and such fully intact and vibrant. Because of time frequency vibratory rates, you cannot see them, nor they you. This is simply and logically because the physics of time & space dimensionally separate you. The civilization in its peak and the 'ancient' ruins, coexist. You pass right through them, and they you, like ghosts! All of this will be understood in the centuries to come. And indeed it is verifiable in geo-mathematical terms and equations that are still unfathomed, still unsolved by your contemporary academics. And yet this is interestingly envisioned by your science fiction writers. In 2012 many of you are able to travel globally, visiting other countries and cultures existing simultaneously now on your planet. There are vast differences in racial demographics, religion, language, art and music. It requires effort, energy and linear time to travel through 3d-space to visit them. In the same way all past and future eras, epochs & times exist at once. Each occurring in its own succinct energetic-vibratory signature and within its +unique time-hologram but absolutely within the same Omni-Earth space that you live in. The 12-12-12 Very soon, on the 12-12-12, the Crystalline Vortexes of Arkansas & Brazil will axially connect, the Sun-Discs will network and all will connect to the 144-Crystalline Grid. Each of the 12 major facets on the double-penta-dodecahedron of the Crystalline 144-Grid will connect to the 12 dimensions of the expanded Earth, and the 12 strands of your DNA will be fully connected to the Grid. In this time you will begin to acquire, over time, the greater abilities still innate within you. It will indeed then, after the Ascension of the 12-12-12 begin to slowly occur to you that you can get to=20 times, as you can get to places, especially in the=20 coming generations. Space and time interface and flow through each>other.

The Nature of Time
Time and space are aspects of the same mechanism.=20 Space, in a manner of speaking is congealed time=20 held in a matrixial kinetic format within duality=20 that allows for the separation and program of the=20 purposed programmed illusion of sequential time metrics.

Accordingly time is the inverse of space, in dynamic free flow. Both occur through the harmonic flash of consciousness units, through the mechanisms of the inward and outward pulse of matter to anti-matter via black holes and white holes. The inward-outward Harmonic Flash is not only the point in which space and time merge into a homogenous foam, it is also the rate of consciousness unit perception that strobes attention of awareness into each simultaneous lifetime. This occurs at a magical rate called the Planck Number, occurring precisely at 10 to the power of -43 of one second. At this point time and space merge and become nonlinear and the Torus aspect comes into play. Space is inversed, turned back upon itself, and time units float in a nonlinear discontinuous quantized pool of what you term past, present and future.

The Omni-Earth
The separation of your 'lifetimes', are anchored to the Omni Earth in holographic inserts in 'Time-Separation' programs. The advanced human can enter into these through Mer-Ka-Na to the over-soul hub where each time sequenced 'lifetime' is connected like fiber-optic spokes to a wheel. From this center point, you indeed are at the control panel to explore and change any aspect of any and all lifetimes in the nonlinear NOW. While group-time-programs (of Civilizations & Epoch) are anchored to the Omni-Earth at specific points (which often display time over-bleed anomalies) one does not need to visit such earthen (telluric) time-nodes to enter. Rather they are individually entered via focused Quantum Consciousness. This process is taught in the Metatronic Keys.

Question to Metatron: Are there areas within the Earth that naturally create time distortions?

Metatron: There are indeed. And we have spoken about this in previous essays. Time can be compared in certain ways to a computer program. Often your 'Windows' programs on your laptop and desktops can go into distortions of their programming and the desired separation of sub programs can intermingle creating mixes that twist and deform the conceived order. In this analogy, we can say that both time and space as you perceive it are linear sub-programs of the earth grid reality projection. Time and=20 Space can be said to be holographic program insertions that allow the Quantum Omni-Earth to be tidily separated from simultaneous NOW reality into your focal, seemingly independent 'lifetime sojourns'. So we tell you that just as your Windows can produce occasional anomalies in its desired separations of programs, so does the program of the Hologramic Earth Matrix of linear time have a flux that creates intermingle and distortion. That distortion occurs on several levels. The first is due to a gravitational flux that can rhythmically occur in the specific area or come in as a surge or rogue wave. When this occurs the very gravity distortion also affects the space-time continuum in the area, and creates a dimensional aperture field very similar to what occurs in the poles.

Bimini

Now we will also tell you that the Bimini Crystal, the Tuaoi Stone or Fire-Crystal has created distortions in the space-time continuity in the area you term the 'Bermuda-Triangle' for the past 12,000 years. Since its 'over-heating' in the inappropriate use, that led to the implosion of the Crystalline satellite (Second-Moon of Atlantis) the Bimini crystal has randomly surged ionic bombardment of massive energy waves into the earth's interior as well as the earth's magnetosphere creating disturbances in space-time harmonics and imbalances in the gravitational field. The reparation will allow for the stabilization required in the New Earth by preventing damage from its uncontrolled discharges you see. Uncontrolled these are capable of exacerbating tectonic movement and imbalancing cristo magnetic field harmonics that are necessary for the ongoing dimensional expansion. Do you understand?

The initial activation/regulation of the Bimini Crystal on the 12-12-12 will involve a massive discharge of what may be considered toxic ionic-wave-energies. It would not be recommended to be within a radius of 60 kilometers of the Bimini crystal when it is first activated on the 12-12-12. Precautions are indeed in place, but the initial release is capable of disrupting & short circuiting the Human Aura. The fracturing of the auric field would not be fatal by any means, but the initial Tuaoi surge will fracture the aura in the same manner as a long distance airplane flight, or X-Class Solar Flare, absolutely capable of causing severe auric energy bleed. The purpose for its activation is reparation. It will be cautiously regulated into balance at minimal function. It will be monitored, such that random erratic releases no longer occur. Points of Time Continuum Anomaly All versions of the Omni-Earth coexist above the linear programming. But this axiom of Truth is initially very difficult for you humans to perceive or truly completely comprehend from the stance of the third dimension. That is because the 3d density aspect of the human physical structure in duality manifestation operates within and as a result of the linear time 'program' that enables the Earthplane experience. You are therefore pre-indoctrinated to linear perception in Earthplane existence. This linear perception program determines to a great extent the 'normal' resonance patterns for the kinds of experiential probabilities that mankind selects, projects and perceives while 'growing' into greater consciousness from the base point of dense physicality. But we tell you that the source reality of which all lifetimes emerge is not 'written in stone', thus your experience is truly never predestined. You chose from an assortment of potentials the experiences you want to have. Both the Cosmos and all life contained within and without are always being created in the NOW moment.

And although your 3d preconditioning is linear, you not only have the ability to reach beyond physical programming, you also have the ultimate goal of doing so. While inhabited by human consciousness, the living physical body operates as an intense focus point for Earthplane experience.

The aggregation of consciousness within the physical body on all levels focuses its own myriad network of sensory perception and communication, both on levels of the ordinary, and the extraordinary.

In terms of the latter, you are therefore constantly perceiving in ways that you do not recognize with the 'ordinary' physical senses. There are vast arrays of colors, sounds, electromagnetic codes, and sensory feelings that you see & apperceive both on a cellular and crystalline level of chakric networks sourced in Quantum Consciousness that are geometrically and frequencially influencing you.

This network is connected in harmonic oscillation to all others like it.

But humanity is at this time vastly unaware of these extraordinary levels of interaction that take place between all spectra of bodies, crpto-electromagnetically and materially within biology. This interface occurs in Crpto Mer-Ka-Na light body and is more far reaching than humanity in masse realize. Yet the physical cells in biology can and do respond to each other, and their activity triggers even higher centers of crystalline light body consciousness that ties into and above linear time. Rather into multidimensionality. Multi-Dimensiona Time Holograms So in this assay we are speaking of Time and its nature in more than one context. We will speak of human perception of time as it relates to your lifetime-sojourn experiences and your ability to script and re-script both future and past. We will also touch lightly upon separation mechanics of hologramic time program inserts onto the earth, and their anchoring to certain points on the Omni-Earth. Now, many points upon the earth contain magnetic and gravitational oscillations that create a time anomaly.

Some are recognized, others are not. None are understood much less accepted as possible by your main stream academics as yet. Time is a sub program of light physics, and is in essence a created illusion. It can and is effected somewhat at anchor points by gravity, earth spin ratio, electromagnetics and celestial alignments. All of which are mechanisms of this phenomena. Now, time as you perceive it, is simply that, a perception. We assure you that time truly does not exist in the linear manner that you believe, beyond duality. And even within the filtered lens of duality, there are certain areas of dimensional overlay that occur on your planet in which striking time anomalies can and do occur. You see there are many Earths that concentrically occur within the space that mankind perceives physical earth to occupy. There are frequencial mechanisms that connect these overlays of parallel dimension, and these create gateways to other timeframe subprograms and realities that coexist differently and more tangibly within these unique areas. But understand Dear Human, these are not experienced in the brain, in human biology. Rather in higher multi-dimension, via the higher mind in which you exist just as vividly, just as tangibly as you do in the physical.

Simultaneous Time

To explain it in your present day computer analogy, Space and Time are sub-programs of digital-dimensional light. Space-Time then is a hologramic server that can simultaneously store many different files and sub files within its storage capacity. Just as there are locations within the stages of computer access that allow you to see all of the programs and files and navigate from one to the other, so there are location vectors on the Earth program that anchor the hologramic dimensional gateways that allow access into other metric/matrix files of reality and time formats.

So as you live this 'present' life in the perceived time of today, you also live all your existences at once.

Time 'programs' are hologramic and these programs are manifolded and coded in certain areas, especially the polar regions. Gateways or multi program access occurs in them.

The area of the Crystal Vortex of Arkansas contains many overlays of myriad space-time energy dynamics. It is indeed a Crystalline Portal, but we will say an open-ended portal that is not just a wormhole in space to other points in the Cosmos, but indeed (and especially) a unique gateway to other dimensional aspects of what may be termed the hologramic Omni-Earth program. It may be termed a time-gate vector. It is one of many coordinate points on your planet that contain within it time code scripting. Such coordinate points are anchors that peg each reality to the physical worlds, the mini-Earth. And so then, within this concentric overlay vector othertime programs; other dimensional realms can be frequentially accessed more easily. The ancient adepts knew this, and certainly experienced to varying degrees by many of what you term as the indigenous.

Time Gate Vectors are not the only means to access other realities. Indeed this can be done myriad ways, including the crystalline energies of the phi resonance, in deep meditative states. But what is different in the Time- Gate Vector coordinate-points is that the Omni-Earth Time program itself is anchored, to use a simplified explanation, to certain aligned points that occur on your planet, within certain frequential matrixes. These are very unique in purpose, and differ from areas such as Titicaca, Arkansas, Ireland (Newgrange), Shasta and Roslyn that are primary Celestial Star Gates. In the former one access other realms, other epochs, other programs of terrestrial time, whereas in the latter one travels to other dimensions in Space. Do you see the difference?

Question to Metatron: Are you saying that Arkansas and other such 'Time-Gate Vectors' allow for or enhance the ability to travel in time?

Metatron: Yes. But let us be clear, it is better to say that all programs of hologramic times programs coexist more clearly, more tangibly within such points. That does not mean that when one walks into the Crystalline Vortex of Arkansas that you will disappear from the present and materialize into a future or past program, rather it means windows into other time-sequence frames are (more) accessible here. But we will indeed tell you that materializations can and do occur here quite intentionally and occasional by accident. We will tell you those more technological civilizations, both from the future and past in your terms, which understand the very real science of time travel chose such time gate vectors for entering other epochs for various purposes. Indeed this can has and does occur.

Time Travel

Time travel, as we have mentioned, has occurred in both your future and past. Although there are instances in which people have temporarily passed into different time holograms, there are very few cases where the transition was permanent. Your Admiral Byrd did in fact temporarily view a very real passing into a different time epoch during his polar flight. Most of the flight disappearances that are so publicized over the Bermuda Triangle were not permanent transfers. Time disruption did occur, but the airplanes did not fully disappear into another epoch of time. Rather were they caused by related instrument malfunctions that treated misdirection and radio silence, and the disappearances were simply crashes into the sea. Certain of your governments working in classified tandem with covert corporations have already developed crude mechanisms of time travel. These are not yet at a truly manageable level, and the stress that results on the human 'tempornaut' is considerable, stress-aging the human body approximately 7 to 10 years on each journey.

This describes how a person can become an energy vampire. This is John Winston. sending you a posting on my friends computer because mine is not working now for a while.

Energy Fair Trade
by Jeannie E. Javelosa,=20 2012

I believe in inner change so that outer action can be best expressed. If we want to change the=20 world,as Mahatma Ghandi stated, then we better begin with=20 ourselves. So let talk fair trade. No, not the organized social movement and market-based approach that aims to help producers (often in developing countries and emerging economies) make better trading conditions and promote sustainability. Rather, what I want to highlight is the fairness and\ balance of energy exchange that is being traded around=20 nowadays. While we trade physical things, we are all also involved with subtle trading of the intangibles such as our thoughts, emotions and concepts.=20

If tangible fair trade movement is about making sure each=20 party gets a fair share of their payment for the commodity,=20 then energetic fair trade means each party must also get=20 a balanced and fair share of the energies being sent out=20 and received.

We take for granted that stealing refers only to material=20 things. Yet, what we see a lot of in life is that stealing=20 can also mean stealing another person's energy (as in=20 becoming an energy vampire to suck out another person's=20 positive energy so we can feel better), or stealing=20 someone's time when we know someone is waiting and we=20 were the ones late, or even when we are insensitive to=20 the state of another person and we "steal" their=20 healing time for their own health, leisure or family when we demand unreasonable things. This latter one highlights the demanding bratty personalities who expect everyone to cater to their often unreasonable and selfish whims, thus causing undue stress. Another form of stealing=20 has something to do with intellectual property, in that we=20 may also be stealing another person's ideas if we pass it=20 off as your own. While we know no one can really be that original nowadays, we need to be honest about the sources of our influences and ideas especially when we present this to the public.

This one-way "stealing" process can also be seen in how we consume things. Or what things consume us. It is a universal law that what we give out comes back to us (law of karma), or what we take we need to return in some form or another. We need to consider how to give back the appropriate energy or amount either to that other person or release it through another form or act of goodness, kindness or service just to balance the "universal ledger." Energetically and karmically, there is a need to strive for balance. Just taking and taking will create an imbalance.

A perfect example of this selfish act of taking and taking is now reflected in the state of our world today: pollution, nature coming back at us through natural disasters, climate changes and global warming, plus poverty and hunger at such massive levels in the world. All these stare us straight in the face, and we would really be dense if we cannot see the selfishness in this picture. We are coming into a sleepy awakening, slow though it is, and there is now the beginning of understanding that we are all interconnected. If we take something, we need to give back or we are adding to the creation of this not-so-very-nice picture of a chaotic reeling world we're in today. Whatever we receive is taken from somewhere else. Or It is because of this inter-connectiveness that such buzzwords and phrases are coming about to define new energetic sharing levels for our physical world: conscious consumerism, sustainable practices, corporate social responsibility, global diversity in our human commonality, ethical fashion and yes, fair trade. Lets not forget the new tools of technology and social media already present to make us all come together to connect, police, reflect, share and cooperate.

There are all these subtle levels of energies of giving and taking that we must mind our thoughts (judgments or positive, creative thinking), our actions (reactions or aware actions), our words (verbal rebuttals or kind words that can heal?). The energies around today are so erratic. Isn't everything going so fast that we feel we need to run to keep up with everyday life? Everything seems to be demanding of our attention - work, relationships and family, downtime, intellectual and spiritual pursuits, creative expression... all these compiled in our own individual lists that define what we want in our life, and how we strive to balance it.

At the root of this "fair trade" issue is really a sensitivity to knowing what we need and refraining from desiring more and more when the need has been met. And this can be as mundane as that shopping spree we can do without, or as subtle as demanding for time from another who we know cannot give it. Respect the energy and time of others. All these can be called fair trade.

We can also approach to the energy exchange from a more proactive perspective. We can help build the world's kindness reserves by giving "credit to the universe" as we give more than we take. This is service. Either in action, in our choices of what we need and want, or in the silence and positive vibrations of our personal energy that we extend.

Time, Space, Time-Travel
& Teleportation

Happy Endings

Greetings Masters! I am Metatron, Lord of Light, and I greet=20 each of you in a vector of unconditional love. Take a=20 moment to feel the energy, close your eyes, and sense a=20 cocoon of warm nurturing envelope you an entourage gathers.=20
We speak this moment on many topics, focusing on time, time travel, the nature of duality and teleportation. We=20 recognize the divinity in each of you.
As entities of Divine Intelligence, & Beings of Light ...=20 we ask that you discern what we share.Time and space=20 remain an enigma to man, even within the cusp of 2012.
Humanity queries time travel and space travel in the=20 present from the aspect of physical laws. You will never reach areas of remote 'space' or hyper-space in=20 fueled rockets.=20

Nor will you travel in time in constructed locomotive=20 apparatus. We tell you it is a frequencial concept, and=20 not one contrived from the physical brain.
Time travel and teleportation are indeed very real concepts=20 of both physics and metaphysics. You are well aware of=20 advanced Yogi's & Shamanic Masters who have mastered the=20 process, but such Mastery does not occur before the individual is ready. This is important to understand.More=20 advanced societies of your Earth, and indeed those termed=20 the benevolent extra terrestrials have been capable of=20 manipulated teleportation through the process of=20 frequencial 'dematerialization' of particulate matter to antimatter.
Such teleportation was utilized by the Atlanteans with the technology of the Sirian-Pleiadean-Arcturian groups.=20 Specialized Phi Crystals were used to shift the coherent=20 frequencies of matter from its seeming physical vibrational=20 rate to its antimatter vibratory quantum-wave state.
The Transport was then processed through a laser beam=20 conduit by targeting the precise energetic signature of=20
the destination vector.
Your own studies of fullerenes or allotrope Carbon-60=20
Spherical fullerenes termed 'Bucky-Balls reveals that the=20 molecular truncated icosahedrons of fullerenes revert from=20 nano-matter particulate to quantum wave in certain conditions.
Your scientists have noted for decades that electrons appear=20 and disappear in atomic orbits. Humanity began=20 re-experimenting with teleportation and time travel over eight decades ago, albeit for the wrong reasons.=20
This was reignited by the works of HG Wells in the era of=20
Tesla and Edison.=20
The infamous event termed the Philadelphia experiment did=20 in fact occur in an effort of warfare technology. Its=20 array results, while covert, disastrous and misapplied, did reveal stunning revelations regarding magnetic fields, gravity fields, and teleportation and time-space effects.=20
These continued covertly in what you term the Montauk=20 project. It is not our intent to enter into areas termed=20
'Black-Ops' or conspiracies, but we will say what was sought in the 'cold-war' timing at Montauk was not allowed=20 into fruition. We will add that benevolent factions of=20 the Sirian-Pleiadean Alliance have always maintained=20 teleportation stations beneath the earth's surface and that it is a technology that will only be used for benevolent purpose.
Earth is a protected free-will plane and a growth station=20 for humanity. There are in the Cosmos other planets and=20 life-forms that are in duality, many more technologically=20 advanced. The benevolent Ashtar Group actively provide a=20 shield for your Earth and its Ascension ... and many of you, in multi-dimensional aspect, are part of this=20 protection. You are the Sirians, the Pleiadeans and=20 Arcturians. We will also add that some of your=20 governments and scientists are well aware of=20 Sirian-Pleiadean bases below the Earth, including the=20 infamous area of Nevada. And while this may be surprising to you, the installations there involving the=20 Sirian-Pleiadean Alliance & Humanity are quite=20 benevolent, and no technology will be shared that=20 could be used for warfare. Far more effort than you=20 can imagine has been placed in the graduation of the Earth leading to the Ascension. The Ascension of=20 the Earth will occur on the 12-12-12, and the Ascension=20 of the critical mass of Humanity will occur in 15=20 generations. We tell you there have been envoys=20 from the future than have come back in various time=20 epoch holograms to insure this. Some of these would be=20 shocking to you. But we tell you the defeat of the=20 Spanish Armada (carrying the Inquisition), and=20 indeed the defeat of Nazi Germany were two such=20 events that were influenced to their outcome by=20 'back from the future' envoys.=20 (Both groups were of the core energy of the Aryan=20 Sons of Belial of Atlantis). Had the two referenced=20 outcomes not been influenced, the planet could have=20 taken a vastly different path. Indeed some of you are among these envoys now. Many are among the metaphysical groups. Indeed=20 some of these are scientists (including Nicole Tesla & Albert Einstein), others are artists & writers (including Stanley Clarke). They, like=20 you, take on the filters of duality, and were not frontally aware of this truth. Your science fiction writers in movies and television,=20 specifically 'Contact' and 'Star-Trek' were on=20 the right track in terms of teleportation. But keep in mind that select time-travel and=20 teleportation are not the same thing. If you consider that in the Earthplane you are seemingly=20 fixed in linear time and able to move about in=20 space, then the opposite would occur at a specific Torus effect flip into parallel, where you would=20 be somewhat 'fixed' in space and able to move=20 about in time.

Multidimensional Aspect of 12-12-12

In 2012, precisely on the 12-12-12 your Earthplane=20 ascends into 12 dimensions. It is the Crystalline=20 coherency transformation.=20 Creativity will be amplified, and for many of you,=20 the arc swing of duality will be lessened exponentially.=20 This means multidimensional access is enhanced. But it does not mean 3d duality will disappear. The 'human' Earthplane experience in duality is a=20 credentialled and honored learning process though which many varied Beings of Divine intelligence travel.=20 Before you are 'allowed' by your higher-self into=20 multi-dimensional and parallel systems of reality=20 that are far more complex, vastly more extensive=20 and open, you must first learn to optimally and=20 responsibly master thought-creation energy. You are in the University of Earth for that purpose...=20 to see firsthand, through physical materialization,=20 the concrete result of your thoughts and emotions.=20 That is precisely why Time & Space are purposed=20 illusions, and this vivid 'mirage' is so potentially=20 programmed by the Divine-Self that you, by=20 necessity, must focus your outer senses on the=20 University of Duality, that termed physical reality.=20 Such 'linear' focus then is engineered, the perception filters that seem to block=20 multi-dimensionality are beneficial in allowing=20 humanity to face and grow through Earthplane=20 experience.=20 When the growth achieves a certain advanced level=20 of 'light-quotient' then, and only then, do you=20 choose to open & bridge into more expansive=20 multi-dimensional perception. That is what 2012=20 is about!=20 But keep in mind that you humans travel in space=20 and time almost every time you sleep.

And there is a great balancing effect in the waking=20
and sleeping experiences.
While most of you do not realize this, we tell=20 you that every day, in very deep sleep-dream=20 state, you process daily experience.
And in this 'sleeping' state your 'higher-self'=20 examines very carefully those experiences you will=20 manifest into your life. You make the selection from an infinite menu of possibility, and create=20 the experience of those that will allow your greatest growth. Your experiences & limited=20 perceptions of the physical 3d-nature of space and time are to a large degree determined by your neurological structure, and this 'designed'=20 structure serves you well.
The singular linear time-line of your 'chosen'=20 physical experience is the surface path along=20 which your life seems to flow. In a broader=20 truth there are infinite paths both above and=20 below your actualized progress that are part=20 of one inconceivably miraculous network=20 and you in higher aspect experience all of them=20
in a manner of speaking.
So while so many of you are caught in the=20 somewhat misunderstood and erroneous concept of the downward spiral of humanity, and are anxious=20 to 'get-out' ... keep in mind that all around=20 you is a created illusion, and you are the=20 co-creators of this 'dream'. Your life on=20 Earth, despite what many of you think, is by grand design, and carries grand purpose. We=20 realize it is not easy.=20 Even lifetimes that you consider to be flawed carry tremendous lesson potential. Now, in terms of the=20 subject of dimensionality ... it is important=20 that you consider & discern what we tell you, even=20 though your academics have yet to accept what we=20 say. Matter occurs in spectrums, just as does=20 light. Physical matter is on one end, and anti-matter=20 on the other. The two are not in opposition,=20 rather vibrating at different frequencial resonances.=20
All of you, each and every one of you, without=20 exception, have the innate ability to both=20 teleport and time travel. Your true source is in fact in the realm of non-matter or anti-matter.=20

Subject: Star Trek. Part 2, July 30, 2012.

This talks about the Bramuda Triangle.

.....

You exist in many many realities at once. Once you reach a certain level of advancement, disciplined will and appropriate application of intent & concentration can absolutely be employed as springboards taking you from ego-personality 3d focus into other time schemes. Time holograms are somewhat analogous to color. In 3d humanity is primarily focusing, by design, upon one color. We assure you that your present life, your present civilization, in your present 'Now' co-exists alongside every so called past and future lifetime and civilization on the Omni-Earth. So both your now and their now exists simultaneously .. 'NOW'.
In the precise locality of where you walk when visiting the acclaimed ruins of 'ancient' Egypt, Greece and Rome, the people of those civilization are alive, and walking amongst the glorified structures, the Temples, Pyramids and such fully intact and vibrant.
Because of time frequency vibratory rates, you cannot see them, nor they you. This is simply and logically because the physics of time & space dimensionally separate you. The civilization in its peak and the 'ancient' ruins, coexist. You pass right through them, and they you, like ghosts! All of this will be understood in the centuries to come. And indeed it is verifiable in geo-mathematical terms and equations that are still unfathomed, still unsolved by your contemporary academics. And yet this is interestingly envisioned by your science fiction writers. In 2012 many of you are able to travel globally, visiting other countries and cultures existing simultaneously now on your planet. There are vast differences in racial demographics, religion, language, art and music. It requires effort, energy and linear time to travel through 3d-space to visit them. In the same way all past and future eras, epochs & times exist at once. Each occurring in its own succinct energetic-vibratory signature and within its +unique time-hologram but absolutely within the same Omni-Earth space that you live in. The 12-12-12 Very soon, on the 12-12-12, the Crystalline Vortexes of Arkansas & Brazil will axiallytonally connect, the Sun-Discs will network and all will connect to the 144-Crystalline Grid. Each of the 12 major facets on the double-penta-dodecahedron of the Crystalline 144-Grid will connect to the 12 dimensions of the expanded Earth, and the 12 strands of your DNA will be fully connected to the Grid. In this time you will begin to acquire, over time, the greater abilities still innate within you. It will indeed then, after the Ascension of the 12-12-12 begin to slowly occur to you that you can get to times, as you can get to places, especially in the coming "generations. Space and time interface and flow through each other.

The Nature of Time

Time and space are aspects of the same mechanism. Space, in a manner of speaking is congealed time held in a matrixial kinetic format within duality that allows for the separation and program of the purposed programmed illusion of sequential time metrics. Accordingly time is the inverse of space, in dynamic free flow. Both occur though the harmonic flash of consciousness units, through the mechanisms of the inward and outward pulse of matter to anti-matter

-----vis and white holes.

The inward-outward Harmonic Flash is not only the point in which space and time merge into a homogenous foam, it is also the rate of consciousness unit perception that strobes attention of awareness into each simultaneous lifetime. This occurs at a magical rate called the Planck Number, occurring precisely at 10 to the power of -43 of one second. At this point time and space merge and become nonlinear and the Torus aspect comes into play. Space is inversed, turned back upon itself, and time units float in a nonlinear discontinuous quantized pool of what you term past, present and future.

The Omni-Earth

The separation of your 'lifetimes', are anchored to the Omni Earth in hologramic inserts in 'Time-Separation' programs. The advanced human can enter into these through Mer-Ka-Na to the over-soul hub where each time sequenced 'lifetime' is connected like fiber-optic spokes to a wheel. From this center point, you indeed are at the control panel to explore and change any aspect of any and all lifetimes in the nonlinear NOW. While group-time-programs (of Civilizations & Epochs) are anchored to the Omni-Earth at specific points (which often display time over-bleed anomalies) one does not need to visit such earthen (telluric) time-nodes to enter. Rather they are individually entered via focused Quantum Consciousness. This process is taught in the Metatronic Keys.

Question to Metatron: Are there areas within the Earth that naturally create time distortions?

Metatron: There are indeed.

And we have spoken about this is previous assays. Time can be compared in certain ways to a computer program. Often your 'Windows' programs on your laptop and desktops can go into distortions of their programming and the desired separation of sub programs can intermingle creating mixes that twist and deform the conceived order. In this analogy, we can say that both time and space as you perceive it are linear sub-programs of the earth grid reality projection. Time and Space can be said to be hologramic program insertions that allow the Quantum Omni-Earth to be tidily separated from simultaneous NOW reality into your focal, seemingly independent 'lifetime sojourns'. So we tell you that just as your Windows can produce occasional anomalies in its desired separations of programs, so does the program of the Hologramic Earth Matrix of linear time have a flux that creates intermingle and distortion. That distortion occurs on several levels. The first is due to a gravitational flux that can rhythmically occur in the specific area or come in as a surge or rogue wave. When this occurs the very gravity distortion also affects the space-time continuum in the area, and creates a dimensional aperture field very similar to what occurs in the poles.

Bimini

Now we will also tell you that the Bimini Crystal, the Tuaoi Stone or Fire-Crystal has created distortions in the space-time continuity in the area you term the 'Bermuda-Triangle' for the past 12,000 years. Since its 'over-heating' in the inappropriate use, that led to the implosion of the Crystalline satellite (Second-Moon of Atlantis) the Bimini crystal has randomly surged ionic bombardment of massive energy waves into the earth's interior as well as the earth's magnetosphere creating disturbances in space-time harmonics and imbalances in the gravitational field. The reparation will allow for the stabilization required in the New Earth by preventing damage from its uncontrolled discharges you see. Uncontrolled these are capable of exacerbating tectonic movement and imbalancing crysto magnetic field harmonics that are necessary for the ongoing dimensional expansion. Do you understand?

The initial activation/regulation of the Bimini Crystal on the 12-12-12 will involve a massive discharge of what may be considered toxic ionic-wave-energies. It would not be recommended to be within a radius of 60 kilometers of the Bimini crystal when it is first activated on the 12-12-12. Precautions are indeed in place, but the initial release is capable of disrupting & short circuiting the Human Aura. The fracturing of the auric field would not be fatal by any means, but the initial Tuaoi surge will fracture the aura in the same manner as a long distance airplane flight, or X-Class Solar Flare, absolutely capable of causing severe auric energy bleed. The purpose for its activation is reparation. It will be cautiously regulated into balance at minimal function. It will be monitored, such that random erratic releases no longer occur. Points of Time Continuum Anomaly All versions of the Omni-Earth coexist above the linear programming. But this axiom of Truth is initially very difficult for you humans to perceive or truly completely comprehend from the stance of the third dimension. That is because the 3d density aspect of the human physical structure in duality manifestation operates within and as a result of the linear time 'program' that enables the Earthplane experience. You are therefore pre-indoctrinated to linear perception in Earthplane existence. This linear perception program determines to a great extent the 'normal' resonance patterns for the kinds of experiential probabilities that mankind selects, projects and perceives while 'growing' into greater consciousness from the base point of dense physicality. But we tell you that the source reality of which all lifetimes emerge is not 'written in stone', thus your experience is truly never predestined. You chose from an assortment of potentials the experiences you want to have. Both the Cosmos and all life contained within and without are always being created in the NOW moment.

Part 2.

.....

Subject: Star Trek. Part 3. Aug. 1, 2012.

This talks about the crystals underneath Arkansas.

And although your 3d preconditioning is linear, you not only have the ability to reach beyond physical programming, you also have the ultimate goal of doing so.=20
While inhabited by human consciousness, the living physical body operates as an intense focus point for Earthplane experience. The aggregation of consciousness within the physical body on all levels focuses its own myriad network of sensory perception and communication, both on levels of the ordinary, and the extraordinary. In terms of the latter, you are therefore constantly perceiving in ways that you do not recognize with the 'ordinary' physical senses. There are vast arrays of colors, sounds, electromagnetic codes, and sensory feelings that you see & apperceive both on a cellular and crystalline level of chakric networks sourced in Quantum Consciousness that are geometrically and frequencyally influencing you. This network is connected in harmonic oscillation to all others like it. But humanity is at this time vastly unaware of these extraordinary levels of interaction that take place between all spectra of bodies, cristo-electromagnetically and materially within biology. This interface occurs in Crysto Mer-Ka-Na light body and is more far reaching than humanity in masse realize. Yet the physical cells in biology can and do respond to each other, and their activity triggers even higher centers of crystalline light body consciousness that ties into and above linear time. Rather into multidimensionality. Multi-Dimensional Time Holograms So in this assay we are speaking of Time and its nature in more than one context. We will speak of human perception of time as it relates to your lifetime-sojourn experiences and your ability to script and re-script both future and past. We will also touch lightly upon separation mechanics of hologramic time program inserts onto the earth, and their anchoring to certain points on the Omni-Earth. Now, many points upon the earth contain magnetic and gravitational oscillations that create a time anomaly. Some are recognized, others are not. None are understood much less accepted as possible by your main stream academics as yet. Time is a sub program of light physics, and is in essence a created illusion. It can and is effected somewhat at anchor points by gravity, earth spin ratio, electromagnetics and celestial alignments. All of which are mechanisms of this phenomena. Now, time as you perceive it, is simply that, a perception. We assure you that time truly does not exist in the linear manner that you believe, beyond duality. And even within the filtered lens of duality, there are certain areas of dimensional overlay that occur on your planet in which striking time anomalies can and do occur. You see there are many Earths that concentrically occur within the space that mankind perceives physical earth to occupy. There are frequencial mechanisms that connect these overlays of parallel dimension, and these create gateways to other timeframe subprograms and realities that coexist differently and more tangibly within these unique areas. But understand Dear Human, these are not experienced in the brain, in human biology. Rather in higher multi-dimension, via the higher mind in which you exist just as vividly, just as tangibly as you do in the physical.

Simultaneous Time

To explain it in your present day computer analogy, Space and Time are sub-programs of digital-dimensional light. Space-Time then is a hologrami server that can simultaneously store many different files and sub files within its storage capacity. Just as there are locations within the stages of computer access that allow you to see all of the programs and files and navigate from one to the other, so there are location vectors on the Earth program that anchor the hologramic dimensional gateways that allow access into other metric/matrix files of reality and time formats.

So as you live this 'present' life in the perceived time of today, you also live all your existences at once.

Time 'programs' are hologramic and these programs are manifolded and coded in certain areas, especially the polar regions. Gateways or multi program access occurs in them.

The area of the Crystal Vortex of Arkansas contains many overlays of myriad space-time energy dynamics. It is indeed a Crystalline Portal, but we will say an open-ended portal that is not just a wormhole in space to other points in the Cosmos, but indeed (and especially) a unique gateway to other dimensional aspects of what may be termed the hologramic Omni-Earth program. It may be termed a time-gate vector. It is one of many coordinate points on your planet that contain within it time code scripting. Such coordinat points are anchors that peg each reality to the physical worlds, the mini-Earth. And so then, within this concentric overlay vector other time programs; other dimensional realms can be frequencially accessed more easily. The ancient adepts knew this, and certainly experienced to varying degrees by many of what you term as the indigenous.

Time Gate Vectors are not the only means to access other realities. Indeed this can be done myriad ways, including the crystalline energies of the phi resonance, in deep meditative states. But what is different in the Time- Gate Vector coordinate-points is that the Omni-Earth Time program itself is anchored, to use a simplified explanation, to certain aligned points that occur on your planet, within certain frequencial matrixes. These are very unique in purpose, and differ from areas such as Titicaca, Arkansas, Ireland (Newgrange) , Shasta and Roslyn that are primary Celestial Star Gates. In the former one access other realms, other epochs, other programs of terrestrial time, whereas in the latter one travels to other dimensions in Space. Do you see the difference?

Question to Metatron: Are you saying that Arkansas and other such 'Time-Gate Vectors' allow for or enhance the ability to travel in time?

Metatron: Yes. But let us be clear, it is better to say that all programs of hologramic times programs coexist more clearly, more tangibly within such points. That does not mean that when one walks into the Crystalline Vortex of Arkansas that you will disappear from the present and materialize into a future or past program, rather it means windows into other time-sequence frames are (more) accessible here. But we will indeed tell you that materializations can and do occur here quite intentionally and occasional by accident. We will tell you those more technological civilizations, both from the future and past in your terms, which understand the very real science of time travel chose such time gate vectors for entering other epochs for various purposes. Indeed this can has and does occur.

Time travel, as we have mentioned, has occurred in both your future and past. Although there are instances in which people have temporarily passed into different time holograms, there are very few cases where the transition was permanent. Your Admiral Byrd did in fact temporarily view a very real passing into a different time epoch during his polar flight. Most of the flight disappearances that are so publicized over the Bermuda Triangle were not permanent transfers. Time disruption did occur, but the airplanes did not fully disappear into another epoch of time.

Rather were they caused by related instrument malfunctions that created misdirection and radio silence, and the disappearances were simply crashes into the sea. Certain of your governments working in classified tandem with covert corporations have already developed crude mechanisms of time travel. These are not yet at a truly manageable level, and the stress that results on the human 'tempornaut' is considerable, stress-aging the human body approximately 7 to 10 years on each journey. At present they are only able to move forward in time about 20 years, and are unable to navigate into the past. In time, when the apparatus utilized is converted from magnetic forces to crystalline bio-plasmic field this will be improved considerably, and time navigation will be deliberate and not by random mishap. Optimal time navigation occurs in Mer-Ka-Na through a consciousness refined Bio Plasmic field, and while certainly aided in terms of time vector by crystalline apparatus, it is primarily operated by the light-consciousness quotient of the traveler.

At present they are =3D

only=3D20

able to move forward in time about 20 years, and are unable to =3D

the

=3D

in=3D20

dream state quite often, and therein is the key to how it will be =3D

optimally=3D20

done when you
learn to be more lucid in expansive conscious states. =

=3D

There are=3D20

indeed Laws
of Physics that apply to how time and space are=3D20

navigated
intra-dimensionally.

In the not so distant future =

=3D

Humanity=3D20

will rediscover these laws. And when this takes place, the seeming =

=3D

boundaries=3D20

dimensionality=3D20

perception.

It is indeed these 3d single lens filters that create =

=3D

the=3D20

linear illusion of sequential unfolding of time. This then is =3D precisely the=3D20

reason mankind
believes that one moment exists and is gone forever, =

=3D
and the=3D20

The Past is Dynamic

The =

Your =3D
creation of=3D20
your past is just as important as the creation of your

The past then, is quite malleable and no more fixed than your future. =
=3D
Now,=3D20
your mental process and beliefs create your past, and there are as =
=3D
many valid=3D20
versions of the past as there are of the future.

We tell you that =
=3D
if the=3D20

that past would become = generation

constructed. But=3D20
BOTH would be true. Both would be separate yet valid files within the =
=3D
holographic programs of time.

As humans in duality, you take it =
=3D
for=3D20
granted that present action can change the future, but present =3D actions can=3D20
and do change the past as well. The past is no more detached or =3D uninvolved=3D20
from your present than the decisions you make today. We share a great = =3D
truth=3D20
for you to ponder, and that is that everything you do effects your =
=3D
past, and=3D20
you can accordingly remove what you may term traumas and misactions = =3D
that=3D20
occurred years ago or lifetimes ago from your present stance. =3D Furthermore,=3D20
all of you are required to do so! The electromagnetic =3D
crystallographic=3D20
portals within the human brain are forged and mantled totally and =3D completely=3D20
by each of you, and uniquely so. The probable past can be changed, =
=3D
and such=3D20
changes are far from uncommon. These changes do happen spontaneously =

=3D
on a=3D20
subconscious basis. You can now learn to do this consciously by =3D entering=3D20
Quantum Consciousness via Mer-Ka-Na.

The linear aspect of the =3D past is=3D20
rarely what you remember it to be. In fact you constantly rearrange = =3D
your=3D20
memory of the past with the experience of each new moment, each =
new=3D20
occurrence. It is a constant metamorphosis from the instant of any =
=3D
given=3D20
experiential event. Your hypnotherapists are aware =3D that pseudo-memories of=3D20
fictitious or altered past events can be implanted in the brains of =
=3D humans=3D20
through deep state inducement, and in a very real sense these =3D
memories and=3D20
the way they effect the subjects present become =3D quite real.

So, it=3D20
follows to reason that the future, present and past are =3D always
re-created by=3D20
each individual as beliefs, attitudes and associations evolve and =3D
change. And=3D20
take note that what occurs is a real-time actual recreation, not a =
=3D metaphoric=3D20
one. The changes you make are quite real. The small inner child is =
=3D ndeed=3D20
still within the adult human as you progress in years. But that inner =
=3D
child=3D20
is also dynamic, not molded into a permanent version that remains as =
=3D
it was.
=3D20
The child within the human constantly changes every day, as does =
the=3D20
teenager, young adult and elderly you in your future.

The Power =
=3D
of=3D20
Now

Accordingly, it is now incumbent on you as you enter the =3D Ascension=3D20
energies,
to grasp the power of NOW, and realize that you can and =3D must change=3D20
the past, your individual past, from the stance of Now.. Within the =
=3D
NOW, you=3D20
can convert to the Mer-Ka-Na and as such gain the controls of all =3D within=3D20
your multidimensionality. That is a sacred Universal Truth, and =
that=3D20
Truth
expands when you enter into it. It expands into power that =3D allows you=3D20
the fulcrum of co creation in the singular moment of NOW, above =3D linear time=3D20
and hologramic sojourns within time in the Omni Earth.

We tell =
=3D
you=3D20
that personal issues and blockages can and do arise = when appropriate=3D20
evolvment of the past are stymied and not allowed to spontaneously =
=3D
take=3D20
place. In some scenarios, serious neurosis occurs precisely because = =3D
an=3D20
individual has not changed his or her past. For example, a lifetime =
=3D
may be=3D20
chosen in which you a part of a catastrophic event that results in = a=3D20
traumatic loss of life. This may have been chosen for myriad reasons =
=3D
of=3D20
growth. Perhaps, as one example, in sequential lifetimes the entity =
=3D

is far=3D20
more appreciative of time spent with love ones because of having =3D
learned that=3D20
life can seemingly end unexpectedly.

Yet such powerful traumas =
=3D
that were=3D20
chosen for lesson in one life time are often so emotionally =3D over-charged that=3D20
they can and do bleed over and negatively affect other lifetime =3D programs.=3D20
This untoward over-bleed may express itself as an intense fear of =3D flying or=3D20
perhaps a fear of water from drowning, and such. Masters, you can =3D enter into=3D20
Quantum Consciousness and remove the negative, retain the growth =3D lesson, and=3D20
replace the event
entirely with a positive alternative. You can =3D change the=3D20
past!

while it is incumbent upon you to truly understand that =3D
there was=3D20
indeed a reason, that you have chosen to experience any trauma, it is = =3D
also=3D20
true that some of the traumatic or less desirable experiences simply =
=3D
have the=3D20
purpose
of showing you what can occur if you do not consciously =3D create your=3D20
own realities. If you hold a mental state of belief that the world is = =3D
evil,=3D20
or
that you are undeserving, that very individualized mental =3D projection=3D20
will faithfully draw untoward experience into the physical reality in = =3D
which=3D20
your mindset manifested it. In all cases, however, you have the =3D ability and=3D20
need to draw the lesson, and then change, dissolve the past =3D experience into=3D20
a more positive one. This is requisite, and can be done = consciously=3D20
in
Mer-Ka-Va and Mer-Ka-Na levels of consciousness.

The key =
=3D
again, is=3D20
understanding that all realities are in flux. All can=3D20 be altered.

Quantum Consciousness

Masters, Your =3D
realities in=3D20
all sojourns are constantly in a state of fluidity. Nothing you = have=3D20
experienced is written in stone, but humanity has in large forgotten =
=3D
this=3D20
truth. So we tell you that each scenario you experience is but one of = =3D
many=3D20
potentials from an immense menu of possibility.

The ones you =
=3D
do not=3D20
experience, in your terms, are just as valid as the ones you do.
