

is a Dauphin - Ochre River School Division teacher and colleague who lives less than 100 m from the railroad crossing and east-west orientated Highway # 5. Mr. was in bed around 1 A.M. April 2 (he says it easily could have been 12:45 A.M.), when an exceptionally bright white light shone into his bedroom, the window of which faces west. The light was much brighter than what normally emanates from east-bound vehicles at night. Mr. did not get up to observe the source of the light. He heard no sounds, however his bedroom window was shut. It was June when I learned of this bright light seen by .

We slowed down as we approached what appeared to be a road block with several bright white lights shining down the highway toward us, the 2 big red lights were still on the right shoulder. Both of us thought that several vehicles were involved in this apparent road block as indicated by the lights. Could the white lights have been the same as those experienced by ? The timing was right. The red lights were positioned a short distance to the east of a small bridge on the highway. Two reflector posts guarded either side of the bridge railings. As we got closer we were astonished to see there were no vehicles coming or going! Inordinately bright white light shone from the reflectors and an atmosphere of unparalleled power and authority, in our experiences, shone from these lights. The gravity of the situation was of an intensity beyond my ability to describe it. Incredibly, all 4 lights from the reflectors or from a point just in front of them seemed to be directing us to the 2 big red lights! was praying, her head now below the dash. We didn't stop and all seemed to vanish as we passed by. Synchronously, the train past the crossing as we past the "road block" so no red light would be expected from ^{the} crossing which we then approached.
