NOTICE

WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. The law extends statutory rights of authorship to unpublished works, which were previously protected by literary property rights under common law. Such works do not have to be registered with the Copyright Office to receive protection under this law.

In general the law provides copyright protection for a term of the life of the author plus 50 years. Unpublished and uncopyrighted works created before January 1, 1978, are covered as of that date by this same provision and are protected at the minimum until December 31, 2002. Works already in the public domain and works prepared by U. S. Government employees as part of official duties are not protected by copyright.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

Persons wishing to publish any unpublished writings included in the papers of the Library should obtain permission from the holder of the copyright. Permission to reproduce copyrighted materials in the Library's still photograph, motion picture, cartoon, and oral history collections must also be obtained from the copyright holder. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve a violation of copyright law.

Dear Mr. Anstee:

Thank you for your letter of September 16, in which you refer to unidentified flying objects.

While we would not be in a position to send an expert in response to each such request, we are always willing to investigate all responsible reports or claims of evidence. Hence, if you wish, you can identify the book to which you referred as to title and publisher and send such identification to Dr. E. C. Welsh, Executive Secretary, National Aeronautics and Space Council, Room 11, Executive Office Building, Washington 25, D. C.

Sincerely,

To the Vice President.

Dear Sir,

During the past few months I have been corresponding with the U. S. O project Officer in the Department of the Air Force, Public Information Office, Washington, they have asked for evidence, recently, I asked the Air Force to send I an expert to my home, and I would show him the Human beings that can be seen inside a space craft. The book "Flying Saucers Have Landed" has been produced, in a number of countries, and reproductions of the photos in the book varies in quality from one country to another. But in the British edition of the book, the photo reproduction is quite good, and Human beings can actually be seen looking out through the Portholes, the U. S. A. F. have seen fit to ignore my request in their letter to me. It seems obvious that the U. S. A. F. wish to either hide the facts or ignore them. Sir, can you please have an open minded expert, who wants the public to know the truth visit my home so that he can see this evidence for himself.

Yours sincerely,
Ronald W. J. Austee
