

funny as the whole idea of this case was a rotten joke - The case kicked around for 2 years. Publicity died down, so they went to the Grand Jury to indict both Newton and Kurbann - The great crooked Denver Post ran a story which said they had flustered before the Grand Jury for 2 hrs, and then flatly refused to indict anybody - It ^{the case} came up at last, and my atty left San Diego at noon on Sat, by train to L.A. to pick up his file papers take plane to arr, Denver 11.30. ^{pm.} We met plane no lawyer - Case called on Monday, still no lawyer. He was found Tuesday in hospital at La Jolla just north of San Diego. Got off train with heart attack - He shot he was in Denver. He has never practiced law a single day ^{any} since in San Diego an old old man now. Alice Scully sees him when she goes down to San Diego to see her daughter I told the Kurbann atty, with Mr Jewell
