Well it made the British press today in "The Sun" August 26th

Alien told RAF chief: I want to see Prince.

An ex-RAF chief claims he was contacted by an alien - who begged him; "Take me to your leader Prince Philip".

Sir Peter Horsley, 76 who held a top defence post as Deputy Commander-in-Chief of Strike Command - says his close encounter took place in a London flat.

He claims the alien - human looking with grey hair - had amazing telepathic powers. he called himself Mr Janus.

Sir Peter, who was an equerry to Prince Philip at the time, says in a new book: "He told me 'I would like to meet the Duke of Edinburgh'".

Sir Peter, who says the 'man' could read his thoughts asked why. The alien replied: "He is a man of great vision".

In the book 'Sounds From another Room', Sir Peter claims the 1954 meeting was set up by a retired general.

The old soldier told him UFO's were being sent to warn us of the perils of a nuclear war.

Sir Peter never revealed details of the meeting to the Duke, who he claims is "open minded" about extraterrestials.

So there you have it two weeks after the rest of the world was told, we get the "old" news.

There are things in the universe billions of years older than our human race. They are vast, they are timeless. If they are aware of us at all we are of no more consequence to them as ants are to us.
