SG1A

2. (S/NOFORN) Source provided the following details:

a. (S/NOFORN) Inside building along right side there are many rectangular objects at shoulder level. They are approximately 2'x3' and look like glass tanks or like aquariums. Something like fish tanks (see drawing 5, TAB B).

b. (S/NOFORN) Interior of building had large room. Source described this room as being like a classroom area as opposed to being a conference area. Source reported many desks/working desks throughout the room (see drawings 1 and 2, TAB B). Source indicated that working seminars might be held in this area.

c. (S/NOFORN) Source reported that on this date main attraction was "some thing" which was being examined in great detail. People doing the examining were older, mature, and educated. They shared a very academic interest in this "thing." (See drawings 3 and 4, TAB B) Source reported object to be very angular, dark and metallic, protrusions at one end, and was something to put in space.

d. (S/NOFORN) Source reported that beneath the building were cement pools (approximately 10'x20') that were filled with some sort of liquid, like chemical baths. Source felt that the pools were for scientific purposes.

3. (U) Request evaluation and comments concerning this report be provided this office NLT 2 July 1980.
