SUMMARY ANALYSIS

REMOTE VIEWING (RV) SESSION CD-59

1. (S) This report documents a remote viewing session conducted in compliance with a request from SOD, J3, OJCS, Pentagon, Washington, DC. The purpose of the session was to provide information relevant to the hostage situation in Iran.
2. (S) The remote viewer's impressions of the target are provided as raw intelligence data and as such have not been subjected to any intermediate analysis, evaluation or collation. Interpretation and use of the information provided is the responsibility of the requestor.
3. (S) The protocol used for this session is detailed in the document, GRILL FLAME Protocol, AMSAA Applied Remote Viewing Protocol (S), undated.
4. (S) Following is a transcript of the viewer's impressions during the remote viewing session. At TAB A are drawings made by the remote viewer reference his impressions of the target site. At TAB B is target cuing information provided the remote viewer.
5. (S) The remote viewer was asked to locate Robert Blucher and describe his surroundings. He described Blucher as being in a hospital/clinical environment that appeared to be located on some type of installation, possibly military. The viewer stated that there were approximately 20 people in a ward-like room, but only 5 or 6 of these people were US hostages.

REMOTE VIEWING (RV) SESSION CD-59

TIME

#14: This will be a remote viewing session for 20 June 1980; mission time is 0900 hours.

PAUSE

All right #31 the time is 0900 hours. Your mission for today is to find Robert Blucher. I want you now to relax, concentrate, focus your attention on Robert Blucher. Describe his surroundings to me.

PAUSE

+05 #31: (Not audible).....I'm getting an impression of a..... (not audible) of a corridor with a wider pane of the wood window frame of the right at hand level (noise interference on tape) window, I think....(mumbling)of a series of bunks, as in a ward concept....a ward Blucher is on the top row of bunks at the end, and these bunks appear to be parallel to the wall in the ward area.

+10 Definite strong feeling of a containment in a mental hospital as being a secure place, and then I had a large, sort of modern, reddish sandstone building. About 4 storeys...appeared rectangular, and then...and it had a funny level thing on the top of it...like a half-level on the top, and then I had a very, very definite shot of a double gate. Double, wire fence, gate, security system. Ten yards down. Fifteen foot dead space in between the double fence (mumbling) and the conglomerate of white things inside the double gate. As though this was a exterior security around a.....a place that I have been seeing inside and out. The funny white things are like....it was very mixed up.... it's as though it looked like inside this gate something that would resemble water purification plant, or a.....but, it wasn't sewage. It was water or a plant. Possibly..uh..with tanks and round dome and it sort of inside...uh...it's near the gate, but it's not the part of the gate. It's like this place is a closed unit in itself, and it has all this stuff to run it. My imagery is not the best. So, let me clear for a couple of minutes, and try to lock on.....

+12 #31: I have a.....
No. I'm not getting anymore. I'm sorry. I'm just not getting anymore.....

#14: We're now ready for debrief.

#31: Okay. I didn't have very good imagery, but what I think I got was more less remote viewing than it was some other form of whatever it is.

Okay. The area had a definitely a clinical type of feeling. Right off the start. These windows, this is a hallway, and these windows have white wooden frames. They're painted white. It's interior windows. It's on a hallway, and they're white...uh...what do you call it...what's the paint you use in your bathroom, because it's waterproof.

#14: Enamel.

#31: Enamel. White, enamel paint, and these windows are...How? They are at hand level. This is hand level standing. And this is a hallway. I don't know what's on...what the rest of the hallway consists of, Hand level, white enamel window frames, very clinical feeling, okay, and these are, you know, glass windows, okay, and this is a hall. It was like I started inside and was just being progressively drawn outside without any control. I have no idea where I am in relation to number one, but number two feeling was an aerial..... how do I draw a ceiling from this point of view.....ha.....was an aerial of a string of bunks... This is going to be all boluxed (phonetic) up now. Let me do the bunks first. An aerial view.....

#14: Why don't you use a different piece of paper. Looks like some shit on that one.

#31: Ha, ha, two. An aerial feeling of a ward. Again, this clinical feeling came through very strongly..... of bunk beds, and I think that there was only one row of bunks on this side. I had the feeling that he was in here, the room was fully occupied, but that the guy, if you will, had been buried in a group of other people, and that there were maybe 20 people in the room.....but, only 5 or 6 were ours. Okay. And, this is a very strong ward slaver. Okay. Like a hospital ward or a mental ward or something like that, all right. Uh...and our guy is in this...he's in the last one...number four. He's in this...where the X is on sketch 2. But, these are double bunks, okay.

Like that. All right. That was that feeling. And, the room was maybe...oh, the room was large. It was maybe 45 feet by maybe 30 feet. And, there's an exit here. But, no door there. It's like the door goes out a little bit, and then there's a door. You know. It jets out, and then there's the door to this place.

Three...was a feeling of a building looking down on the two, three, or four storey building which had..... some kind of a roof within a roof. That's what I was trying to say. You know what I'm talking about. Some sort of...a profile would look like this. That's the profile of the building, like that. All right. And, this building was a large building. I can do a better drawing than that. You can tell from the quality of the, of the drawing ability that the images were't very...they don't have it all together today, some reason.

Okay. In here.....there is something that makes...that look there's an, an interior cap on it. Okay. This is about 4-storeys, and it's a large building, you know. I mean it's an.....and it's surrounded by. It sits all by itself. I thought this was the hospital. Automatically, this was the mental hospital or the hospital, okay. And, it sits..... there are..... It's a funny layout. From the side I viewed it, there's no drive up or anything like that. There is like a sidewalk around the place, I seem to recall, but, I couldn't find any drivewalk or parking place. The whole place was surrounded by green and trees, okay. The whole place green and an occasional tree. Okay. It sort of like just sits out all isolated all by itself. At least from the side that I saw it.....

- #14: We're going to go ahead and switch sides on this tape now.
- #31: There's a profile. This is a view. You ready? The overriding feeling here was that the building was drab, brown ...reddish brown, not a brick, but more like a block, okay. The whole thing. You know. Sort of semi-modern type structure. I mean, nothing old with a bunch of ornateness or anything like that. Isolated, but it's in part of something, okay. It's isolated within an isolated area, Okay, that's the whole idea. So, I stuck off in a corner.
- #14: Uh...in other words.....
- #31: This is not in the city. This is somewhere else.
- #14: Ahhh.....But, what you're saying is, this is a part of a complex.
- #31: Yes. Right. Okay. Then I got this feeling of double wire fence which was really interesting. It was a very definitely..a double wire fence, like a prison compound

#31: And, it's like a typical sewage treatment plant. In the sense that...well, you can figure this out. You can see what I mean there. Who ever visits a sewage treatment plant? The only people that ever go there are the workers! You know. The ones that go there, andand even then, essentially the sewage treatment plant runs itself with the exception of maybe one guy there all day long. Then, maybe the engineer comes out and visits a couple times and checks things, and checks water levels and stuff, and then he leaves. Meanwhile, the flunky is still there, and he just hangs around, and makes sure he turns the right valve at the right time. That's the gestalt of this. There's not a mass of people in here. It's like a remote controlled place. Like it just runs by itself. There may be two or three people around there to make sure the water level is up, and that the pumps are running all right, and nothing smoking or burning, but other than that, not too many people come here.

Uh...okay, now I felt that in the road goes around, and that that's the direction to this building in sketch 3. Okay. It's around over there on the right side from this view. Possibly where the area of the X is, but it's on the horizon, okay. It would be far away. It would be 2 or 3 miles, okay. Okay. And,.....there is sparse vegetation. Not nicely controlled vegetation, like..... you know what I mean. Like it was all pruned and clipped and everything. It was more random vegetation, like you'd find on Ft Meade type of a place, Okay. Where they just left the tree standing in the...you know...that type of thing.

Now, at this point in time, with sketch 4, I was beginning to wonder, now where in the hell am I.....and...the only thing I pulled out of that is that I think I am in the Teheran vicinity. I am far away from Teheran, but I am not so far away as to be in another city. I am on the outskirts of Teheran in some sort of an installation which is medical or is military and I'm in the medical part of it. All right And, at the end of the session where I started recollecting is that there was outside of Teheran...we did a map dousing thing at the very beginning of this exercise...way back in November, December, and.....one of the places that I doused was a military facility that's on the outskirts of Teheran. And, I just sort of had this blup, oh, that's where it is. You know, just sort of I'm out...I'm far enough from the city to be away from the city, but I'm not isolated from the city, but I'm on the outskirts of the city. And, I just sort of...spontaneously occurred to me that, oh, well, this is where it is. I'm out here at this other....abandoned or closed down or reduced military facility.....
