1. (S/NF/SK) INTERVIEWER TASKING: Tasking as listed in the previous sessions conducted with this Source on this project has not been changed or re-directed.

2. (S/NF/SK) SOURCE TASKING: Source was told this was a continuation of the last session and that She would be receiving new tasking during the session. In addition, Source was provided the same encrypted coordinates as the previous sessions, 137500/112794, as per Extended Remote Viewing (ERV) protocols.

3. (S/NF/SK) INCLEMENCIES: There were no reportable incidents or anomalies which may have influenced the data obtained in this session.

4. (S/NF/SK) SUMMARY: Source furnished the attached summary which was prepared following the session and submitted to the Interviewer within 24 hours after the session. The completeness of the typewritten summary has been compared to the Interviewer's notes and all omissions, changes, and/or corrections have been verified as acceptable by the Interviewer. In addition to the information provided in the summary, Source provided additional information during the actual session which was inadvertently omitted from Her summary and which may impact on the final analysis of the data provided. That additional data is provided below in raw unevaluated form:

a. (S/NF/SK) In Source's initial descriptions of the Soviet prototype, "Plane #2", she perceived that this aircraft had two engines described as "powerful rotors", which are place to the side of the aircraft "separated" (one to a side?) and that it requires both of these engines to fly this aircraft. This may indicate a fairly heavy aircraft or less powerful engines. In either case, Source perceived the existence of two engines probably located on each side of the fuselage and possibly "buried" deep within the airframe since the Source could "feel" but not "see" the engines. Internally, the Soviet model was perceived as having several crew members but possibly only one pilot who actually flies the aircraft. Separate areas within the aircraft are isolated from one another according to the specific mission of each crew member.

b. (S/NF/SK) Source was tasked to perceive the "possibility" that data pertaining to "Plane #1" (the US Stealth Bomber) was in some way provided to the people who are involved with "Plane #2". In Source's "opinion" this fact is a distinct possibility and may have involved the passage of actual components of the Stealth Bomber to Soviet agents. In a rather confusing scenario, it would appear that these components fell into the hands of an individual involved with Stealth through an accident. The actual nature of the accident was unclear but may have involved the actual crash of a Stealth prototype in which the recovery of the components provided the opportunity for this individual to steal the items without detection. The actual crash may have only been a runway incident or some similar event in which actual Stealth components were damaged and recovered. Again, the scenario appears to be confusing, but a breakdown in control of these items, possibly the crash recovery items, may have enable the transfer of the components to a Soviet agent who may have also not actually been prepared to receive the items. In fact, according to Source's scenario, this Soviet agent may not have actually been attempting to acquire Stealth technology and may have been approached unsolicited by the other individual who made him the offer of Stealth technology. In an case, the components and/or information concerning US Stealth technology was flown to the location of "Plane #2".

Looking for me or yes/no Gully

c. (S/NF/SK) The type of data that was delivered to the Soviets was unclear, however, it would appear that the Soviet engineers involved with their own counterpart looked at the data with less than expected excitement. Although it would appear that they intend to incorporate the information/components, they considered the information to be more of a "link" rather than the final answer.

5. (S/NF/SK) COMMENTS: Source continues to provide very interesting data on this rather unusual aspect of the tasking package. It should be noted that the questions concerning the possibility of US Stealth technology being passed to the Soviets was couched in very ambiguous phraseology in an attempt to avoid "forcing" the concept on Source's consciousness and yet preparing Her for the tasking in a manner that the concept of espionage involving Stealth was the actual tasking. It cannot be assumed that even though the question was couched in "possibilities", "potentials" etc., that the Source, nevertheless, perceived the true meaning of the tasking and with this "conscious" knowledge delivered up information that may have been tainted by this "left brain" analytic concept. The fact that She did provide some definitive data, e.g., a man with an injured hand - perhaps even in a cast, and data pertaining the to acquisition of the information, may provide the opportunity to confirm and/or refute portions of this report so routine counterintelligence investigative procedures.

SUMMARY

SOURCE 079

I FIRST FELT THAT I WAS IN AN OPEN, CIRCULAR AREA WITH THE SECOND AIRCRAFT AND I COULD SEE MEN AROUND THE OBJECT. THEY WERE LOOKING DOWN INSIDE THE AIRCRAFT, CLOSING IT, AND SHUTTING IT. I FELT AS THOUGH THEY "ZIPPED" IT UP.

AS I MOVE INSIDE THE AIRCRAFT, I COULD SEE MEN WALKING AROUND THE AIRCRAFT AND I COULD SEE THE CONTROLLER DRIVING THE AIRCRAFT. I COULD SEE MEN TALKING AND MAKING DECISIONS ONCE INSIDE THE AIRCRAFT. THE AIRCRAFT HAD MANY COMPARTMENTS AND I COULD NOT SEE INSIDE ALL OF THEM.

THEN I COULD SEE THAT SOMETHING HAD FALLEN FROM A SMALL STORAGE ROOM AND ALTHOUGH THERE WAS NOT MUCH DAMAGE, IT WAS DECIDED BY A MAN OR A SMALL GROUP OF MEN THAT THIS WAS A GOOD OPPORTUNITY TO DO AN EXCHANGE OF SOME HARDWARE PARTS. ✓

THIS DECISION WAS MADE ON THE SPOT AND IT WAS NOT PLANNED OUT. THERE WAS AN EXCHANGE THAT TOOK PLACE BETWEEN MILITARY MEN AT A LOCATION THAT IS KNOWN TO ALWAYS BE BUSY BUT DURING THE EXCHANGE THE LOCATION WAS NOT BUSY. ✓ THE MAIN FRAME OF THE AIRCRAFT WAS IN BOXES AND WAS PICKED UP BY THESE MEN AND WAS USED TO BUILD THE FIRST AIRCRAFT. ✓

AT THE END OF THIS SESSION, I FELT THAT A MAN WAS PHYSICALLY HURT BY ANOTHER MAN. ✓
