SUMMARY OF INFORMATION: SGFOIA3

1. (S/NF/SK) Location of [REDACTED] Dowsing produced virtually no well-discernable feelings across the entire world map. The only feeling was one very weak, repeated feeling of "tiredness" or "weakness" just above the coastal lake to the west of Karachi, Pakistan (see map, attached).

2. (S/NF/SK) Other details: I got repeated perceptions that she is surrounded by water. No activity on her part was perceivable.

There were no other major gestalts (than water) until late in the session, when there were repeated visuals of a very inert body lying in water on a shoreline. This shoreline, seen from approximately 1/2 mile up, appears as a chain of very small islets near a large body of land.

She has something with her in the water which has a "satiny" sheen to it, and to which she is holding, but I could not get further details on it. She is also holding something which is smooth and very lumpy (NFI).

She did not get here by accident. Something which she expected to be fun and exciting went wrong. She presently feels dread more than fear, but her feelings are not completely coherent in nature.

There were repeated impressions that she got into the water by the action of falling. Her feelings indicate that she fell from a very great height. My impression was less.
