SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The target is a tall structure in a large over all site. This site has a southern feeling. A man is present who is freighted. The structure has lights, (rectangular diamond shaped) and objects. This structure has narrow walkways and a thoroughfare with staircases. A lot of wood is present. An object is circular with a diagonal line through it. Something/people are positioned at different places on it and it moves around in a circle. Motion and movement of people are emphasized. There are several of these which engage in a network wherein ground work is being done. Groups of people are being shifted, moved from one area to the next. There is a lot of history and historical elements to this site (ground forces). This site is both work and culturally related which has in the past created an impact or event. Spools of simple machinery are present. The landscape is green, and somewhat hilly, with an element of beauty to it. The people involved at this site are guaranteed units. There are caretaking responsibilities to include maintenance of personnel.

Memorial to bravery, the Bridge of the Slovak National Uprising (above) at Bratislava honors partisans who fought the Nazis—and offers diners in a tower-crowning restaurant a view of the land they fought over.
