Structures include many compartments of varying shape and levels, giving a sense of being "stacked". Site has an "ancient" or "antique" feel about it, but has modern elements + uses, though it seems less populated (even vacant) than usual.
 Site is somewhat isolated, in a ^{dry} perhaps deserty area.
~~Structure~~ Inside is cool, outside warm. Submed, pastel colors predominate, and there is a quiet, sparse, uncluttered feel about it.
 A sense of expansiveness is associated with the site in general.
~~Some~~ some similar subterranean ^{features} ~~elements~~ are closely associated with the site as well.

Concluding Statements

A place that tourists or the curious might visit,
it seems almost to have an archaeo- or anthropological interest element, but recreational (perhaps) "meditation" [?]
elements are important. ^{The site} ~~It~~ seems to provide a sort of "spiritual" renewal or connection for the people involved.
Has a very peaceful atmosphere.
