

Site involves a large, ornate, solid structure that has elements both ancient and modern; the impression of medieval comes to mind. Many colors are associated with the site, particularly beige, grey, black, red, green, and white. There is a sense of voluminousness about the structure, as well as alcoves, porticoes, large, pointed doorways, steps, filigree, echoes, marbling, courtyards, pomposity, and a street outside that seems to be made of small bumpy stones put together, "like" cobblestones, which can be seen through an immense open doorway. It seems picturesque, like it could be a sight-seeing attraction if it weren't being used on a daily basis for more serious purposes. There is a sense of it being non-US, of being far removed from this location. People involved with it come and go, seem to be leaders, part of a group which in general is cynical, ruthless, ambitious, machiavellian. There is a sense of religion permeating everything "like" Vatican or Iran--but top echelons are more "going through the motions" than truly religious, exploiting religious fervor and motivations of those under them for the power they can thereby control for their own machinations and political manipulations. For the most part they believe they are doing what's right. But that's because they don't think the things they do are wrong. Physically they are usually not fat, are dark complected, have somewhat wizened features with dark, almost pitiless eyes; they are male, dour, harsh, intolerant. AOL signal of Arabic word "Jumi'a".
