

SRV SESSION 8 JANUARY 1987

SG11 [REDACTED]

Site involves at least one event and some sort of extended activity. The event seems to involve a meeting between at least five to six individuals, non-US, who are nervous, excitable, worried, and almost "paranoid" about something. One main person does most of the talking. He is short, dark complected, and wiry. (See Sketch 1.)

An object (see Sketch 2) is of some interest.

Some sort of "heavy," very significant activity is involved. Impressions of dense, very solid pieces of metal (fabricated into some sort of useable appliance, equipment, vehicle, or whatever) are moved large distances for some specific purpose with far reaching ramifications.

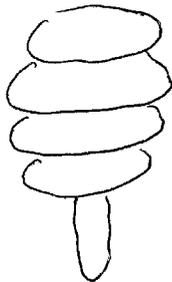

The overall activity, of which the meeting is a key subset, takes place not just in one location, but at several locations separated by extended distances--some perhaps even transoceanic. The whole enterprise is meant to remain undisclosed, known only to those directly involved.

Miscellaneous impressions:

- a. Some sort of white clothing is involved, or worn by people associated with the activity in question.
- b. A perceived view of heavy foliage in a warm climate "like" it's being viewed obliquely of the end ramp of an airplane or helicopter flying fairly close to the ground.
- c. A piercing pure blue, almost prismatic color. (Even though I didn't physically see it, it left an after image on my retina.)
