1. (S/NF/SK) MISSION: Describe the nature and purpose of an activity at encrypted coordinates 937201/907314.
2. (S/NF/SK) VIEWER TASKING: Coordinates. In session cue: "activity of interest."
3. (S/NF/SK) COMMENTS: Next session will be spent exploring the "object which moves." From the last session, the activity here concerns preparing it for use. file

Summary of Information

Site involves a very tall, wide, voluminous structure that inside is primarily open space. It seems to have a curving over roof and a nearly entirely open front. It sits in the middle of a very open flat area, which is the focus of security, and is enclosed by fences, and (A/S) "seems like" a military sort of compound, that is quiet, calm, matter of fact; what little landscaping there is very "dress-right-dress" and meticulously maintained. As a focus of the site a large, grey, metallic object was perceived, which was rounded, had spaces, was attached to an even larger metallic object that stood up off the ground on "legs." The first object was rounded with spaces in it and something round and somewhat conical in the center. It had parts that resembled stanchions and braces, the function of which was to hold or separate. A change of viewpoint to one apparently a distance away and overhead revealed a number of people, "like ants" swarming around something that they were moving around that was covered over as if to avoid observation. There was a strong impression that one or more aircraft are/were involved. Strong AI sense that it involves Soviets. Some activity of importance is occurring inside the spacious structure. There is some sort of light, and flashing, and shiny contoured section of metal, which are smooth, flat, curving; impression of framework and assembly. An object or objects of significant size are located here, whose dimensions are much thinner in vertical cross section than in either horizontal direction. Other dimensionals involved are verticals, diagonals, curving, "hollow," and "tunneling." There is a shape that reminds me strongly of a manta ray "wing" that is curved up and over, and matched on the other side by a similar shape. Strong feeling this whole object is created with the intent of movement--to proceed from one location to another, non-terrestrially--A/S either by water or air. It is burnished, shiny, smooth, dark. The structure where it/they are located is enclosed so that huge quantities of artificial light are required to illuminate things as people fit things, take them off, grind/machine them, etc., then try to fit them again, juggling back and forth, tailor-making parts to cover other parts. A complete "thing" is large, complex, wide, smooth on outside, sleek looking. There is an associated object that is rounded, almost spherical, very dark, and a portion of it is very glossy. It seems to be made of very hard plastic or composite, metal, and some sort of silvery fabric designed to cover articulated joints.
