FRONTLOAD:

"THIS IS A NEW TARGET. Given the complexity, in all likelihood you will be making repeated visits. I tell you this so you will know that it is not necessary to solve all the problem in just one session. As you approach the target try to move from the general to the specific by reporting first on the area and then narrow your focus to the target. I'll be guiding you as we progress. You have made reference to a "sanctuary" of beach and mountains. Use this reference, since it appeals to you, as your sanctuary and use this place as a jumping off point and a place where you can leave your day to day cares while we are in session."

* Loud noises from other room caused source to stop relaxation and begin again at 1046 - NEW TARGET TIME O/A 1052

NOTES:

- ① WEATHER clear, chilly, 40°+ - changing

First impression was a complex of buildings around a square of land with walkways or sidewalks leading from one to another.

The building was across one end of the square and was "H" shaped.

A second building was down the side and was shaped like a piece of a jigsaw puzzle i.e., long & narrow, then a wing jutting out, then long & narrow, and then another wing.

Third structure or building was round, curved and tall with thick walls and a recessed door. Impression that not all of structure was above ground.

On entering, impression of sliding door and a whirring sound (like the one in elevator). Also detected a round red light to the upper left of door (facing).

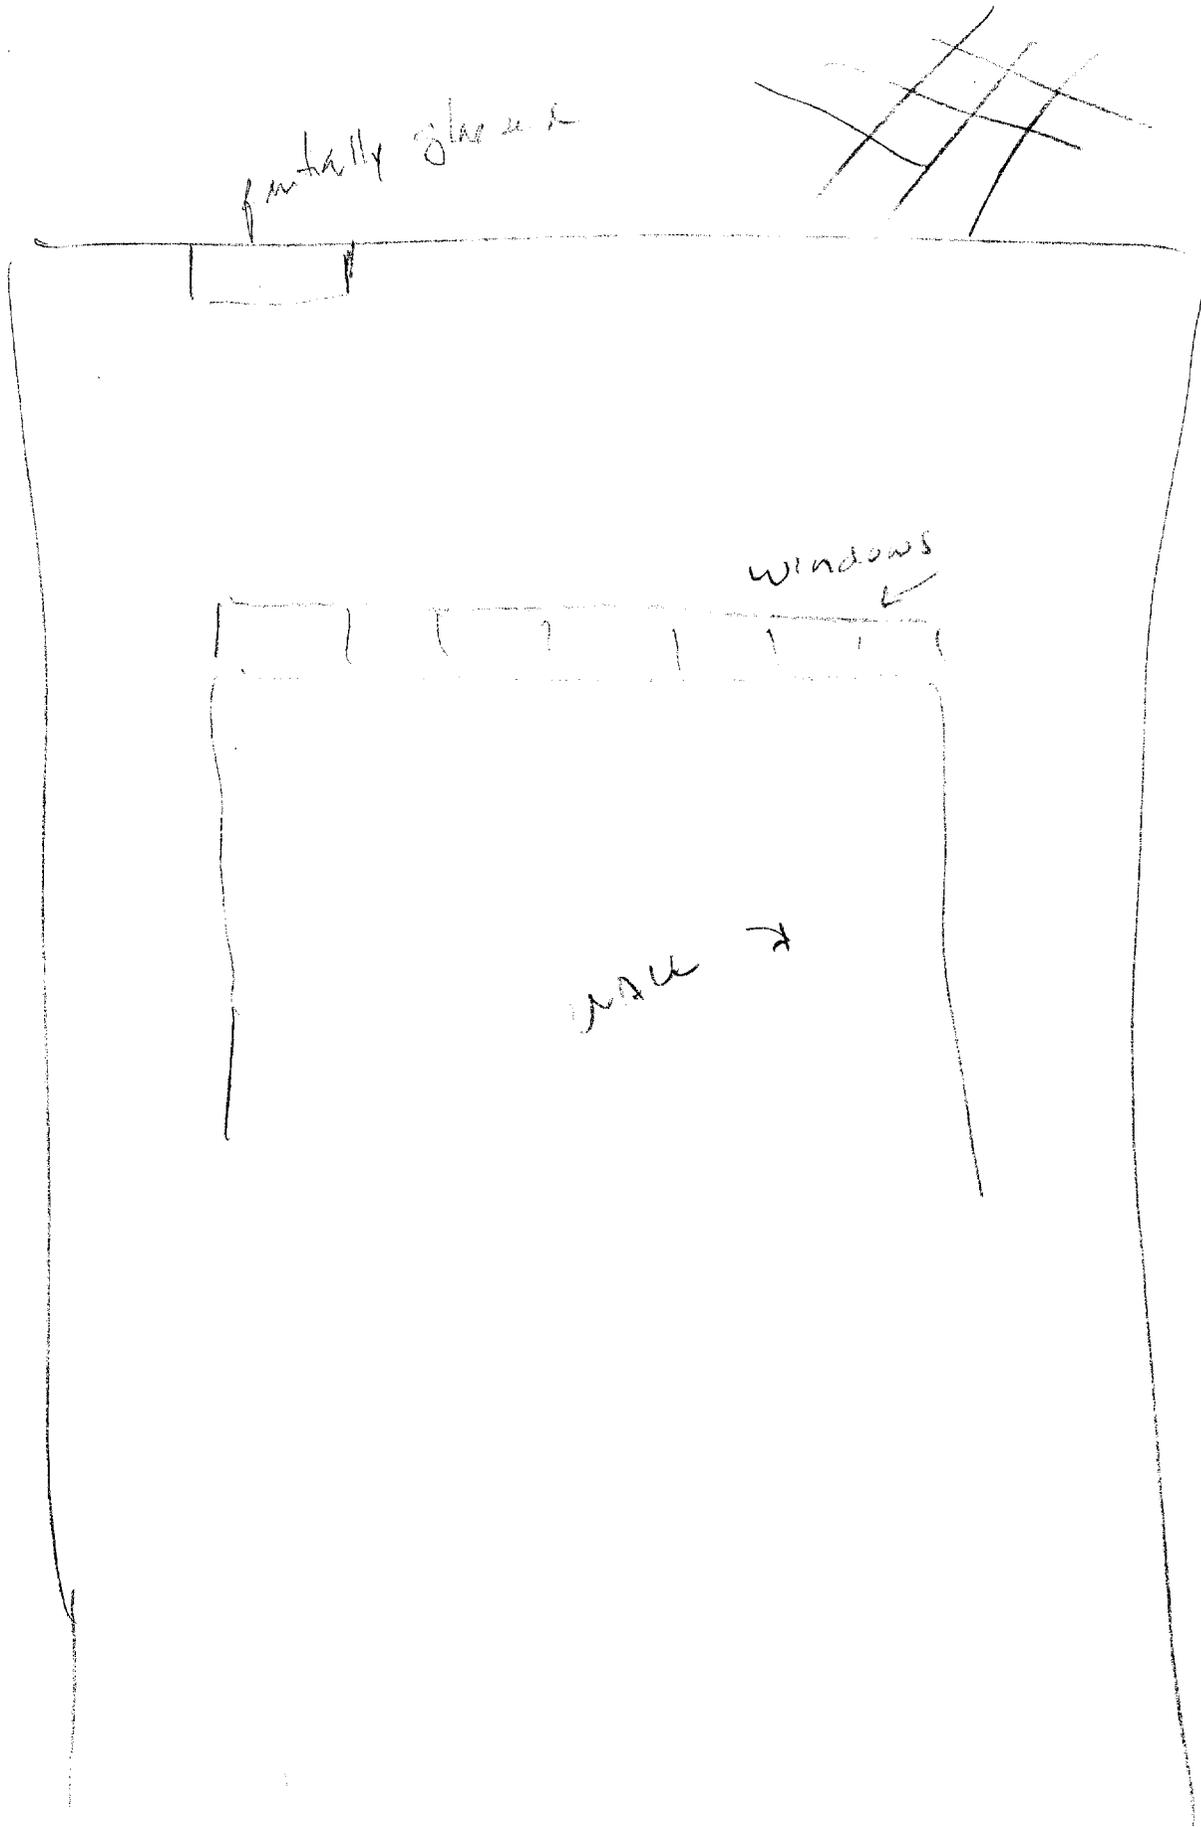

Next impression was a narrow cat-walk like platform and a person in white clothing with a clipboard. When standing on the platform it was like looking down into a pit. People and objects were far away. Impression of a ~~large~~ landing platform jutting out from wall (located below catwalk and above "ground" level).

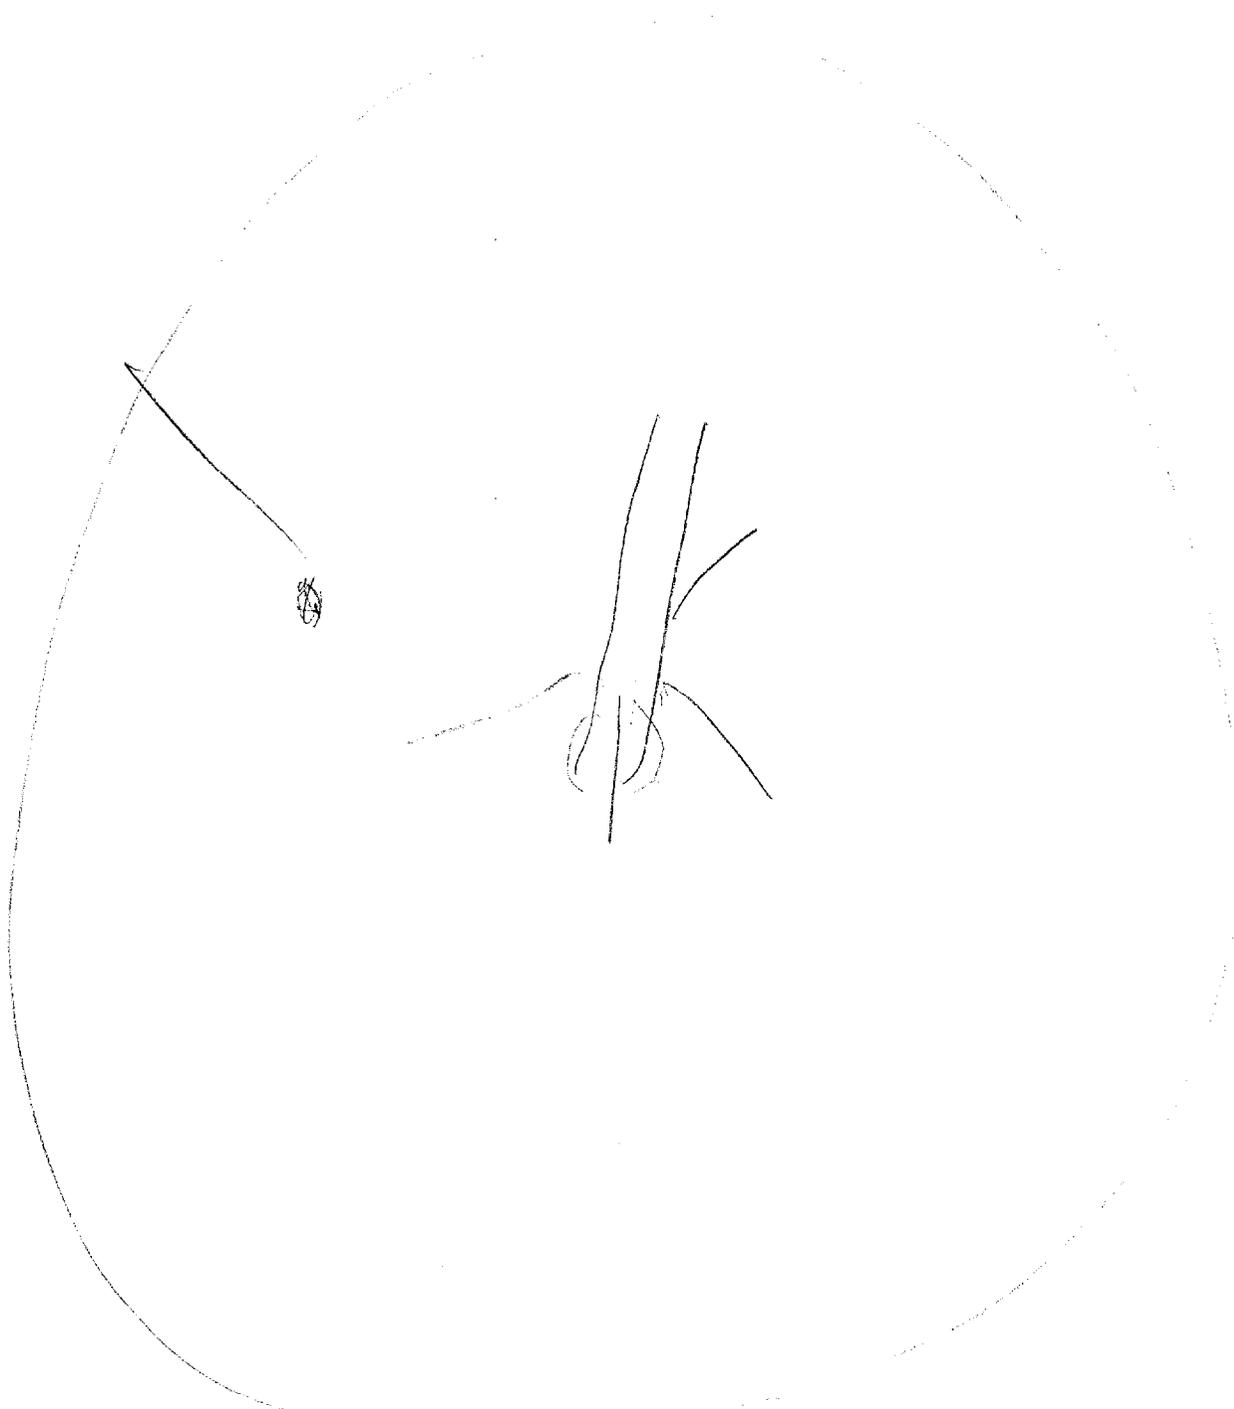

There was a tall cylindrical object with supports in the middle of the "ground level". Standing on the "ground" the roof appeared to be a raised species that would be open and fold back. Impression that when closed would be flush with surrounding landscape and would be camouflaged.

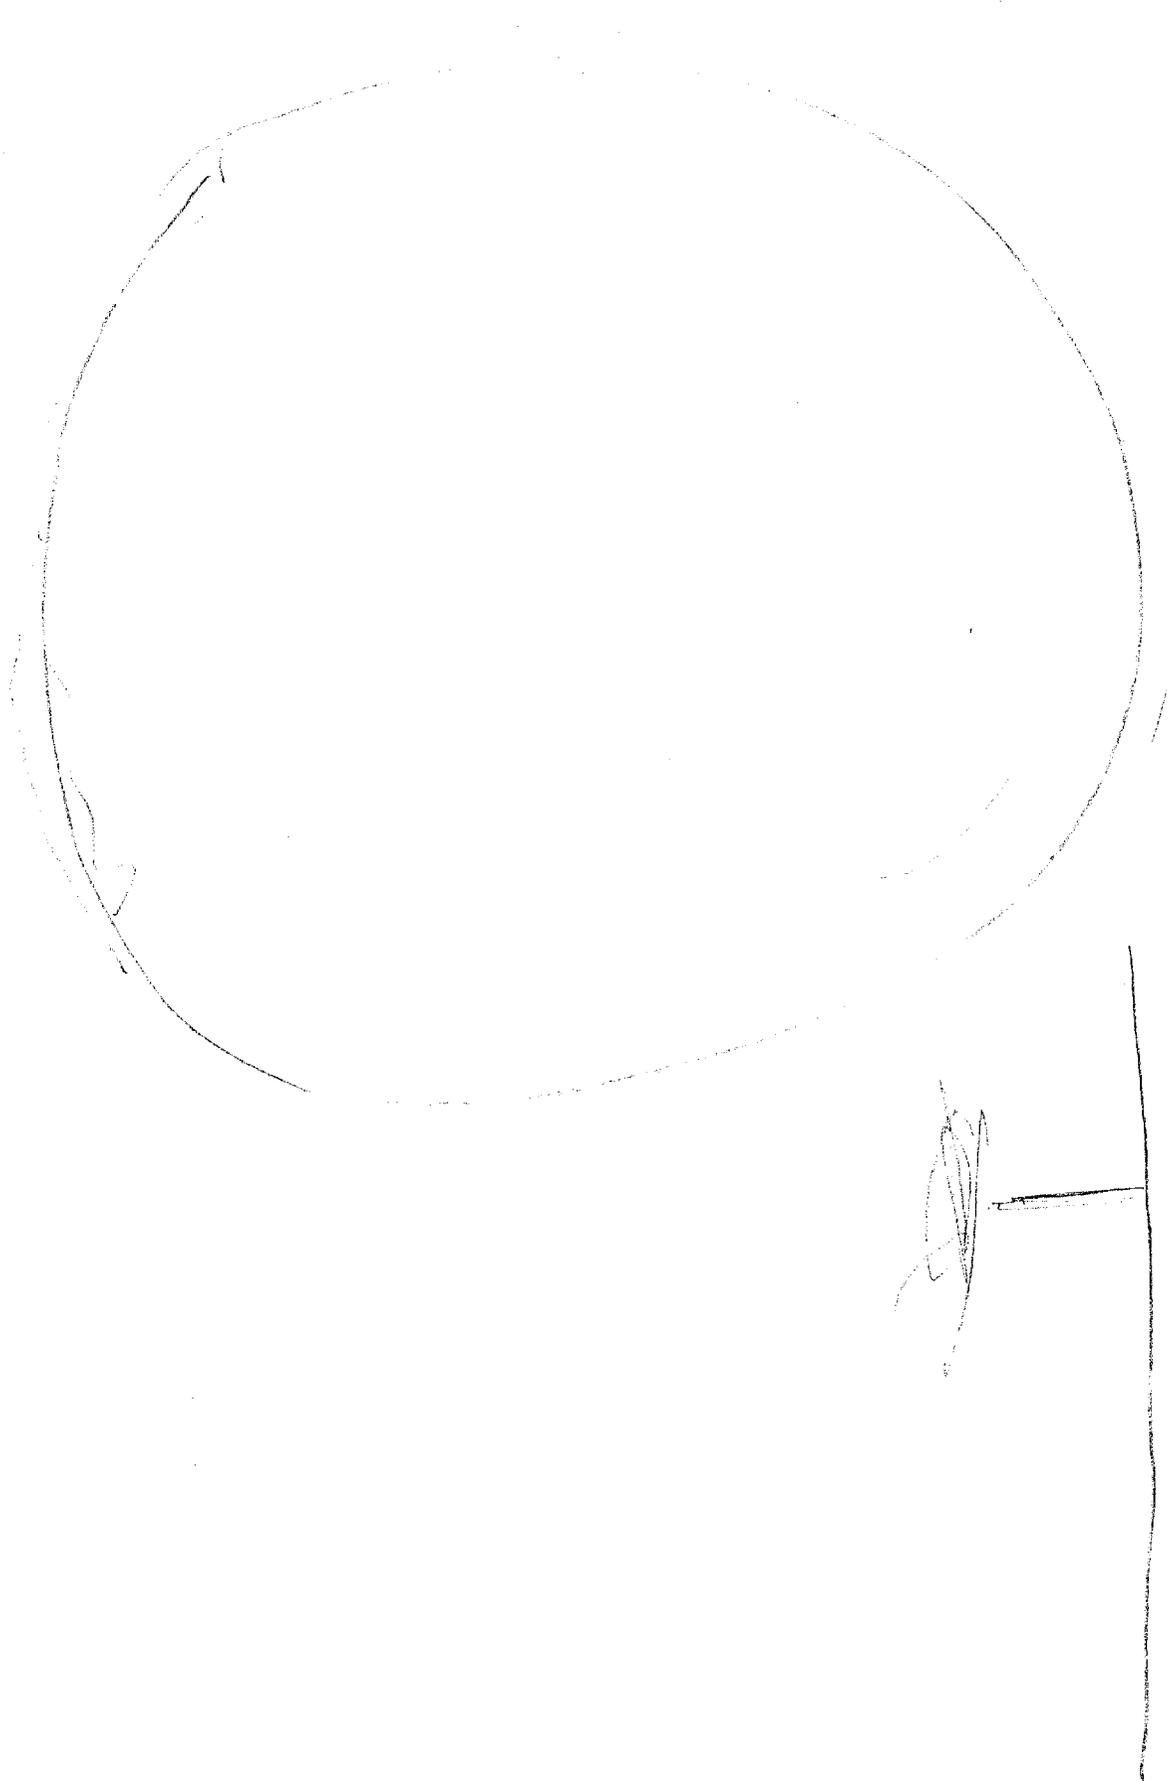

Warehouse-type structure at first was wide open and deserted. Tall walls with square or fishtail windows and a partially open door.

The there was an impression of standing next to a person wearing bright yellow clothing with a dark (black, shiny) reflective visor.
 Could not make out features. Person was handling a tool (for lack of better words) that produced heat and a flashing (not blinking) light containing some blue. Not like a welding torch.

Then had an impression of a door (perhaps)
 sliding open to reveal a blindingly brilliant, radiantly light. Could not go into light,
 but it gave me a peaceful sense,
 comforting feeling. When the door closed and the light was cut off. ~~At~~ there was a feeling of absolute abandonment.
