END TIME: 1415L

Site is a large structure (building) centered in the middle of other large structures. The structure is constructed of concrete, steel and glass. There is a predominance of glass at the site. The structure is very high and very long with huge hallways and walk ways.

The structure is similar to a community center, and in stage five the concepts associated with community center were: chairs, elevators, billboards, marques, doors, ticket windows, stages, large groups, entry doors, music, sports, theatre, rallies, discussions, public, admission, drama, plays, speeches, lessons, classes, events, gatherings, arts and presentations. It was clear that the structure houses large groups of people for dramatic presentations, political rallies, speakers, musical performances, and dance. There is also a presence of animal acts in the past (ADL Signal, a circus).

People attending the structure are usually well dressed and move about in the structure by means of elevators, stairways and long aisles. The interior of the building is adorned with artwork, sculpture paintings etc. Beautiful carpets cover the floors in most of the area. People visiting the structure go there to sit and observe the event at hand.

The site was identified by the viewer as the JFK Center for the Performing Arts.

Kennedy Center For The Performing Arts

A National cultural center situated along the Potomac river, the Kennedy Center was completed in 1971 and was created as a result of the National Cultural Center Act of 1958. Which mandated that a performing arts center be built to serve the nation as well as Washington DC.

Roger L. Stevens, chairman of the board of the center had the struggle to raise private funds and then to elicit matching funds from Congress for a total of 70 million dollars. In 1964 Congress dedicated the center as the sole official memorial to the late John F. Kennedy.

The center houses four theaters: an opera house, a concert hall, the Eisenhower Theater and the Terrace Theater. The building is 630 feet in length with an exterior of white Carrara marble, a gift from Italy in memory of JFK. The interior of the center and surrounding park display gifts of art and commissioned works of many nations. The Kennedy Center presents theater, dance, music and opera performed by leading artists from throughout the country and around the world. It also offers a wide array of free performances and public service programs.
