- E. SESSION SUMMARY:

Site was wide, open, and spacious. I was outside. Site was natural with man-made structures. There was one structure that was big and tall and square. You had to walk quite a distance to get to it. There was some type of "path" that led to this structure. Although this structure was in the open, part of it may have been "enclosed" or "protected" by white man-made "poles" or "fences" that were pointed at the top. What was coming to mind was a "white picket fence." These white "fences" were to one side of the structure.

The site was peaceful and there was green, brown, and some blue at the site.

At one point, I could see a large white triangle associated with the site.
