Incident 110 -- same, same, 4 July 1967

There appears to be an extraordinary coincidence for this incident.

One major fact is a reported observation was made at the time of sunset, with light conditions are changing rapidly. Also, presence of the object which was observed singly because of the changing visibility. At the time of day when military aircraft are not likely to appear, and it might not be out of the question that the objects actually were other aircraft.

Despite these conjectures, no logical explanation for the incident seems possible at this time.
