

Case IX (Serial 0044, 00)

A farmer and his two sons, aged 8 and 18, were at his sickle camp on August 11, 1947. At about 1930 hours, he went to look for the hogs, having sent them to the river for some time from his house. He noticed an object some 300 feet away, 75 feet above the ground. He saw it against the background of the canyon wall which was 400 feet high at this point. It was bridge hopping, following the contour of the ground, was very slow, about 20 feet in diameter and 10 feet thick, and had poles on the side from which flames were shooting out. It made a swishing sound. The observer stated that the trees were highly agitated by the craft as it passed over. His two sons also observed the object. No one saw the object for more than a few seconds.
