It was reported by the wife, that the person observed in the incident was a "professional" and "well-dressed". The person at the bar was male, wearing a suit. At that time of the afternoon, the wife's opinion was that the person would have been dressed in a suit and tie and would have appeared to be entirely covered by a dark coat. The person was seen to leave an entirely clear way in the front of the building. The person was seen to be "acted in an unusual, to a high degree" and the investigator in said the person was a threat.
