Incident with ex-Carterville, Georgia -- 9 January 1968

* While the possibility of this subject's using a motor is not ruled out, it seems unlikely. Subjects are not stated to be "light sky blue," nor to travel as slowly as indicated. However, report also states that subject was an "intense blue," and, if speed were underappreciated (or if subject had a large frontal velocity component -- heading largely "forward"), it might possibly be interpreted as a fireball.
