

THIS PAGE IS UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

(Excluded from automatic downgrading and declassification)

Information given here is too limited for any conclusions to be drawn. The stated heights, the occurrence at the same time and night, and their specific direction makes explanation of the objects as meteors unlikely. The given table also does not share characteristics of typical meteors, but would fit into a description of rocks or flares.

THIS PAGE IS UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED