Los Alamos, New Mexico

19 December 1959

I. Description of Incident

At approximately 1025 EDT an Atomic Energy Commission security employee sighted an unusual phenomenon consisting of an object which appeared to him as a white tennis ball leaving a trail of sparks. The object was in sight approximately 5 seconds, disappearing suddenly.

II. Discussion of Incident

The description above closely resembles many others submitted to WFO which have been evaluated as astronomical phenomena. The short time in sight and the "sparks" are significant.

III. Conclusion

Probably meteor.
