

SCIENCE

After a year of the most intensive search ever mounted to detect radio signals from extraterrestrial civilizations, astronomers from the University of California, Berkeley, have picked up 164 signals—out of some 30 trillion recorded—that “bear further investigation.” This doesn’t mean that E.T.s have been found, only that these anomalies have not yet been otherwise explained.

21.06.93 Time