Greetings to all my Earthling and Alien Friends and welcome to 2011.

I hope that you enjoyed the holiday season and haven't been affected by the atrocious weather we have been having, not only in Australia, but globally. 2010 was by far the most turbulent year, starting with drought and ending with floods and devastation.

I would like to cast your minds back to January last year when mysterious patterns appeared on the Bureau of Meteorology's national radar system, without explanation. UK electrical engineer and crop circle expert Colin Andrews posted this link on you tube and said that Australians deserved an explanation.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cssOa3qkU7M>

Is HAARP engaged in a sophisticated form of weather modification and is testing being done from a secret facility near Exmouth here in Western Australia? This History Channel program shows how HAARP is used to manipulate the weather and cause hurricanes, earthquakes and other weather-warfare events.

<http://stevebeckow.com/2011/01/haarp-weather-warfare-enemies-allies-citizens/>

Whilst watching the televised news reports on the Queensland floods, an interviewer spoke to a resident of Rosalie, the epicentre of the flooding. The resident was heard to tell the interviewer that, as the flooding occurred he could feel extreme heat rising from the ground and he felt like he was melting. I thought that this was a strange analogy in a flood situation. Now take a look at these photos, could water alone cause this destruction to steel in such a short space of time? How about extreme temperatures?

I'm going to deviate from HAARP and the weather for the time being and remind you of other major events that occurred in 2010 in an attempt to thread together what is happening to our Earth V the New World Order.

In July last year Stephen Bassett, representing exopolitics, gave a number of conferences around Australia and indeed around the world, advising us that The Truth Embargo on the presence of ET's was about to be lifted. Most probably by the Obama Government but whichever nation Disclosed first, obviously would hold "The Power". With the help of the ET's themselves, began a mass of public UFO sightings globally, the most memorable being the mass de- cloaking of UFOs over New York City on October 13th 2010. This event was extensively covered by the US media and witnessed by hundreds of people. The following is an excerpt from David Wilcox website.

<http://divinecosmos.com/index.php/start-here/davids-blog/909-disclosurecriticalmass>

David is a well known, well respected, researcher of long standing credibility who claims to have "insider" information.

Last summer, in one single day of coordinated effort, China delivered packages to the private palaces of every world leader of every country. They were ordered to open the containers on October 13th, 2010.

The leaders were told the packages would destroy everything within a six-mile radius if they were tampered with prior to this date, and / or if they were not opened soon after this date.

On that fateful day, the leaders were shocked to find working free-energy prototypes inside these packages, as well as detailed plans on how to build them -- along with many other amazing documents.

Every leader of every country in the world is now in possession of these materials. Someone will 'break ranks' soon enough. The negative factions were ordered to stand down and completely surrender. They did not.

They rushed over to China and begged them to reconsider over several days of tense, hand-wringing negotiations. China refused. The war started immediately thereafter.

Nine days after the packages were first opened, a brand-new British nuclear submarine, the HMS Astute, lost all power and crashed into the rocks on its maiden voyage -- as a dead mass of steel.

The very next day, the US lost fully 50 different ICBMs in a single, cascading failure -- the largest ever recorded in American history.

Eight days later, on October 31st, 2010, a French nuclear aircraft carrier completely lost all electrical systems while en route to the Persian Gulf -- to beef up the US military presence there. Three days later, the largest nuclear power plant in America had massive electrical failures and powered down for nearly a month.

The next day, Qantas Airlines had a massive electrical failure in an Airbus 380 flying over Indonesia, forcing them to ground all their Airbus 380 jets.

Then, the very next day, Qantas had electrical failures in a Boeing 747-400 -- forcing them to ground all of those planes as well.

Qantas is the official Australian airline -- and Australia is a very key player in this geopolitical battle.

AND THE LIST GOES ON...

Three days after the stunning defeat of Australia's airline fleet, on November 8th, we had four different significant events:

1. Qantas was forced to announce even more engine problems -- which now plagued their entire fleet.
2. Two American nuclear power plants shut down within a single hour of each other.
3. Carnival's premiere cruise ship, the Splendor, lost all propulsion and communications systems and became dead at sea.
4. Time Warner lost all their cable channels in Cleveland, Ohio for 90 minutes - during the exact time George W. Bush was on NBC, followed by the next episode of the Disclosure drama "The Event".

The very next day after all these things happened, November 9th, a huge missile was launched off the coast of Los Angeles -- another highly embarrassing moment for the crumbling Old World Order.

A rocketry expert confirmed it was a solid-propellant missile on CBS News. This missile launch occurred three years to the day after the Chinese surprised US forces with a nuclear sub.

Then, only one day later, on November 10th, a strange "line of fire" was seen in the sky off the coast of New York City.

As a sign of the positive intentions of whoever did this, not one death was associated with any of these events.

The missile and 'line of fire' was basically the peak of publicly-visible events. There were some oil refinery failures in Texas, Kansas and Louisiana after this, but not a whole lot else. The systematic destruction of classified military assets continued after this -- even as the more obvious, public displays stopped happening.

In the 'normal world', nothing blatant or visible was going on to suggest this war was still in progress -- but all of that changed when the birds and fish started dying in mass numbers, beginning on New Year's Eve.

In case you somehow missed this story, it is vast in scope -- truly a worldwide phenomenon. Here is one decent summary of the bird deaths written by Mary Rose:

The mass animal death epidemic began in Beebe, Arkansas when about 5,000 birds fell from the sky on the New Year's Eve. Right on the next day, 100,000 fish reportedly died along Arkansas River and another 2 million dead fish were found in Maryland.

Then, another 500 dead birds continued falling in Baton Rouge, Louisiana... Southeastern Sweden, Kentucky, Canada all reported the same phenomenon. Besides dead birds, 2 million fish died in the Chesapeake Bay and approximately 40,000 crabs were found dead in Kent in Britain.

The massive numbers of dead animals remain a mystery. At first, officials blamed fireworks on New Year's Eve and extremely cold weather as the main reasons for the occurrence. However, fireworks were flying around only on one night, which doesn't fully explain what is happening...

The UK Daily Mail newspaper came right out and blamed HAARP for the sudden deaths.

This sudden, worldwide use of HAARP defense shields appears to have been in direct response to a new, deeper escalation in the ET's campaign against these classified military assets.

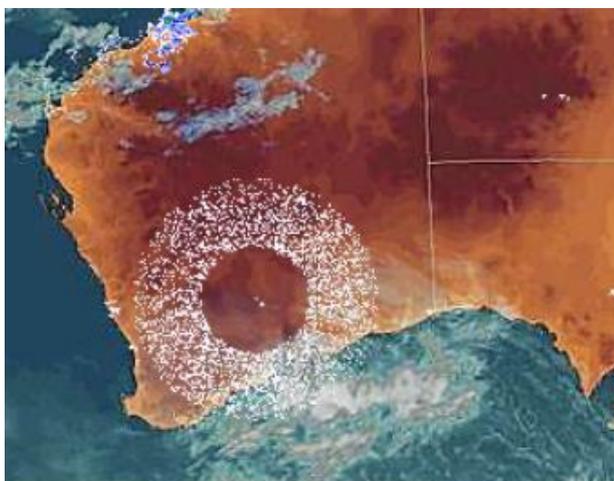

On January 23rd through to January 26th the fifth annual Global Competitiveness Forum, GCF, was held in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. It is interesting, to say the least, that they included a panel of speakers featuring, Dr. Jacques Vallee, Nick Pope, Prof. Michio Kaku, UFO Researcher Stanton Friedman, and an Egyptian Scientist Dr. Zaghoul El Naggar, a member of the Supreme Council of Islamic Affairs. The panel discussed "Contact Learning from Out of Space".

Michio Kaku theorizes that there are 3 types of Extra-terrestrial Civilizations and that we on Earth are moving towards becoming a type 1 civilization. One of the necessary ingredients to becoming a type 1 civilization is weather control. Listen to what Prof. Kaku has to say on this link.

VICE PRESIDENT'S REPORT

“Learn from yesterday, live for today, hope for tomorrow. The important thing is not to stop questioning”. Albert Einstein

Welcome to our members, friends and their families for another exciting year.

Last year was our first full year at our new premises The Campbelltown Arts Centre. I would like to thank the many members for their continued support during the year who turned up on nights of rain and hail (yes UFO-PRSA meetings can break a drought) and also joined us on our members nightwatch and Christmas get-together at the Campbelltown Catholic Club. Both of these social nights were a great opportunity for all members to come together and share a mutual passion and get to know each other outside of our meetings, which sometimes can be pressed for time.

As we value our members' opinions, we would love feedback from all of you. If there is something that you would like us to cover in our meetings, or the Phenomenon Times, please let us know either by email on ufoprsa@optusnet.com.au or by seeing one of the Committee members during a break or after the meeting.

There has also been a lot of sightings reported during the summer months, which is quite common as we tend to venture outdoors a little more and find many nights outside entertaining or just escaping the heat when that evening southerly cool breeze comes though.

Frank & I were away on holidays with family at Mogo (20 minutes south of Batemans Bay) and witnessed something unusual in the skies on New Year's Day. After a stifling 42 degree day, we were sitting outside of our caravan around 10.30pm when Frank noticed an orange object travelling from East to West. We watched it for probably 2 minutes before it went behind cloud. There was no noise at all and was fairly high in altitude but not as high as what you would see a satellite. From experience I have no explanation. I do know it wasn't an aircraft or a balloon with a candle inside, but without a camera within an arms distance to capture the evidence, I probably will never know unless someone else happened to see the same thing as we did & got footage or stills that we can analyze. What this proves to me is, 3 camera's still aren't enough !!!!

Secret Societies Society's Secrets

“Question with boldness even the existence of a God; because, if there be one, he must more approve of the homage of reason, than that of blind-folded fear”

-Thomas Jefferson.

The year Ahead.

My name is Darren Terry, I am a researcher with UFO-PRSA and this article is to explain the research I am going to do over the next 18 to 24months.

I will be discussing how I have come to this topic and why I believe I need to research this and the format I will be using to track my work. The result could be 2 years of wasted time or it could be the start of a new way of looking at our life and the governments and governmental systems around us.

Please note, this article does not start to go into the research it is to give you an understanding of the work I will be doing.

To start a little history about myself and the way I see the world. I have no problem with believing there are UFO's, the existence of Aliens, the operation of a One World Order and the spiritual growth of the human race.

In 2006 I went to my first UFO meeting in Campbelltown. I was impressed by the group's research into the sightings and the fact that they looked at all the cases with a very open attitude and tried to prove the sighting from both sides so as to not support a misleading or false sighting. I continued to go to the meetings and I eventually became a researcher with the team.

In 2009, on an expedition I had an encounter with the rest of the team, in short the night ended with a surreal feeling, a feeling of whatever happened is not over, and of being separated from this place. That night in a tent, in the middle of the bush I slept for an abnormal length of time into the next day. It wasn't till six months later, under regression, I found out what happened that night and how it was to change my focus in life.

I had an encounter that night with an alien race, an alien race that has had contact with humans for a long period of time, and I was given a job which was to start to educate the population to look outside the box that most people live in. To get people to understand that there is a bigger, much bigger picture, and that there is more to our existence and survival than just this planet.

I have struggled with this for many months and to be honest, wondered why me? You have to understand I don't like humanity I think we are a virus on this planet. And the fact that so many people can live and not question things around them just frankly annoys me. So I had a choice to make, which was to turn my back on a job from the entities that I have looked for for so long or take on the void of understanding around me and provide tools to people to get them to Question the World around them.

Camp site at Hill End, 2009

I was going to do a talk last year at one of the UFO-PRSA meets on Secret Bases in Australia, thinking this was a way to start to fill the void but realised that my talk was flawed. I was only going to be heard by the people that already believed that secret bases exist. There was an act of trust to overcome, the general population only see what is in front of them, i.e. the papers tell the truth and the news at night is true and accurate. I needed to find a way to get people to look deeper, to question everything.

I have read a lot of David Icke's material and I believe he is miles ahead of us in his understanding of the hidden world around us. But even his work has an act of trust to overcome. Now please understand I know a lot of people that you will never change, they will only see what they want to see, which is fine. But, if I can get a small percentage to question the world around them, then we are on our way to opening bigger doors and learning the truth behind the hidden world.

In the last 3 months I have been watching a news show on the Fox News Channel. It is a one hour show that airs 5 days a week and is hosted by a gentleman named Glenn Beck. Now I do not agree with everything that Mr Beck says or is calling for in America but I do like his method of research which he uses. It is straight out of the news whether TV or print, it is out of our history books, written books of today and transcripts of lectures from people or organisations of interest. However, some of his work is right on key (He may not agree) from where I am starting and heading.

Hidden In Plain Sight.

I do believe Humanity will get to a higher spiritual level and we will be able to look around and see the damage we are doing to the world (and I don't mean Global Warming, that is a topic for another day) I'm talking about the harm to the plants and animals around us.

Nonetheless, I see we have a couple of great hurdles to get over first. One of these is trusting oneself to direct one on the right way or path. At the moment so many of us are following someone else and not questioning if it is the right thing for me or humanity. I believe that we as a race need to learn this and that this will be a very hard lesson to learn and may be a very costly one.

So the work ahead of me, lets start with, I believe that a One World Order is running the world and is leading us away from our enlightened state of mind. At the moment I have no hard evidence of the workings of this organisation nor any evidence that they are quietly and slowly influencing our governments. So, I am looking for evidence that we are heading towards a police state and that our governments are going to take away our freedom, that our right to move in the direction we want is being closed. There is information showing this is happening but it is missing a direct link to the news of the day so people are not seeing it.

I am planing to show that society is being played, very slowly and quietly by examining the connection between key political figures, people with economical power, and business people. I am looking at government policies and the reasons why the new policies are being brought in or adopted and the people behind them. I will look for a connection in peoples families, education, careers, lifestyles and any other area that I can try to link a connection that is hidden from the public eye.

I will be focusing on the Australian state of affairs, being that this is where we all live and if things are going to change they need to start at home.

I am going to start with looking at the direction that the Australian political parties are taking this country. Years ago, the Liberal party was centre-right and the Labor party was centre-left. This gave the two main parties in Australia a clear difference in direction. But I think this is not the case today; things are different. The parties seem to be closer in their policies and both are heading left in the political system. So this is my first line of attack.

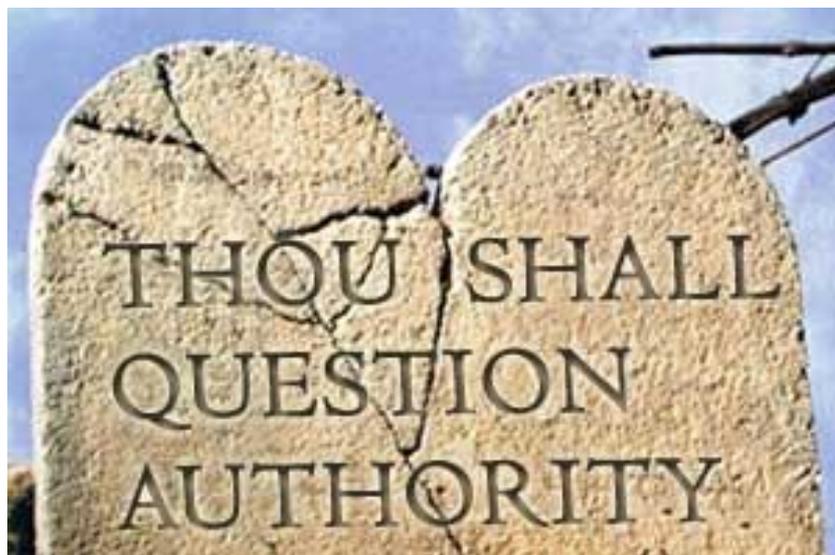

For the record, I am no political expert nor am I up to date with the economical scene. This will be a huge learning curve for me. This is not a political discussion, it is not that one party is better than the other. I believe I will find that they are all being led by a system above them or within them that is driving the system in the way that is helping the One World Order to achieve its goals

I would like as much feedback as I can get on this research, I would like to know if this is something that you are interested in to read about in the Phenomenon Times and/or hearing about at the public meetings?

I do not claim to be an expert in these fields. I am only trying to introduce different ideas and information for everyone to consider, in their own life's journey.

Darren Terry.

Back in November of 2004, a mother was awoken by her 5 year old son, standing by her bedside. He declared that he had a bad nightmare. His mother looked at the bedside clock; it was 4:05am. Without turning on any lights, she walked him back to bed and tucked him in. At this time, she recalls having a bad headache and that when she first got out of bed, the sole of her right foot was sore. When leaving his room, she then stretched as she stood in his doorway. At this moment, she notices a green light outside of the glass window of her back door. She looked around to see where it might be coming from, but nothing was switched on to reflect this green light, it just seemed to be there. As her eyes adjusted in the dark, she remembers seeing a dark figure and the green light appeared to be about waist height. She suddenly got scared and went back to bed! Then she falls asleep!!!

In the morning, she remembered all of this and was amazed that she had even gone back to bed, let alone fall asleep. A friend had stayed overnight, but as far as the boy's mother was concerned, the most important thing was "why didn't I raise the alarm?" Her friend woke that morning and the two women began to talk about the night before. The guest spoke of having a very strange dream. Bearing in mind that her friend was a very sceptical person, the mother just sat back and listened before making any mention of her own story.

Her friend told her that the strangeness of the dream was that it involved Aliens, or what she thought were aliens and considering this friend was ignorant to UFO's and Abduction cases, this was an interesting recollection. In her own words;

"I felt half awake and half asleep, I heard a loud whirring sound in my head, it seemed to be paralysing me. I was aware of 'aliens' or hazy images being near, they seemed to be trying to invade our bodies. I tried to fight them off but I felt like I couldn't move so I lay there praying. My praying seemed to save me, but they took you, it was a weird

The mother was quite taken aback by this account of her friend's dream and then to top it off her young son got up and told his mum about the bad dream he had had during the night. In his own words;

" Mum, I dreamt there was a green eye on you, first it was half closed in a slit and then it opened until it was big and round and I knocked it off you and it flew away, but it kept coming back and I kept on trying to knock it off you, I didn't want it to get you."

This upset his mother, it was all too much for her to comprehend, it was too much of a coincidence. Were they all participants in the same dream or were they all remembering fragments of a real encounter?

Psychic QP Perception

Past Lives

By Kellie Pataky

Over the Christmas break I decided it was a great opportunity to catch up on some reading. Being a huge book lover, I tend to have a collection that keeps growing by the minute but unfortunately not a lot get read from front to back.

I ordered online the latest book by Western Australian medium Anthony Grezelka, who I was fortunate to meet a couple of years ago when he visited Sydney. The book is called “Spooked – Ghostly Tales and Eerie Encounters” and is a wonderfully honest recount of Anthony’s early years as a child up to most recent and memorable investigations.

Darren Brodie and I went along to one of his platform reading nights at Penrith Panthers and spent a bit of time talking to him about our group and what we did after the show. He is a great guy, very down to earth and was keen to learn more about we did.

We talked about various subjects, but one that comes to mind was that of gifted children. We all know how passionate Mary Rodwell is about ‘Star Children’, but Anthony too talks a lot about this subject as most of his vivid memories are that of a child.

At only six years old, Anthony’s first memories of ‘spooks’ were two figures that appeared at the bottom of his bed. These figures were of misty appearance which seemed to have no more substance than vapour. The shorter one was stooped over, staring at his feet; the taller one was turned slightly away, as if watching the door. He felt negative energy emanating from both these frightening apparitions. He watched both of them in the darkness twist their elongated heads into terrifying contortions of human faces. He tried to scream, but the noise died in his throat and was powerless. This was a horrifying experience for a six year old boy to say the least. But then there appeared a third figure, standing beside him; a beautiful but strange looking woman with dark hair and multi-coloured eyes which shone in the dark like opals.

She turned towards the other spirits and they retrieved instantly, moving away from his bed and disappeared. She looked at Anthony and smiled, nodded once and she too disappeared. Anthony then ran into his parents’ room and jumped into bed with them, he spent almost every night squashed up between them determined never to sleep alone in his room again.

After some time, Anthony did return to his own room but found it hard to sleep at night without the light on. The lady often visited him, but he laid in his bed, eyes tightly closed, refusing to see her. She seemed somewhat discouraged by this but determined not to give up. It was several years before he discovered who this determined silent ‘spook’ was. It was actually his father that solved the mystery.

When Anthony was about ten years old, his father received some family belongings that had been left in the country that his parents had fled during the Second World War. When they were going through the boxes, the first item to be unpacked was a beautifully painted portrait of a woman with dark hair and strange multi-coloured eyes.

“That’s her” Anthony cried.

“Who” his father asked.

“She’s the woman that watches over me” he replied.

“That’s my mother Paulina. Your grandmother. She died many years before you were born”.

As Anthony walked up to touch the portrait, from the corner of his eye he saw movement from the corner of the room. There she was, standing in the room looking at him, smiling, happy and he finally knew who she was and that she was here to protect, not frighten him.

During these early years, Anthony simply learned to cope and keep quiet about all the strange happenings that were going on about him. Now as an adult, he wished he understood and knew more of how to communicate with who he was seeing and perhaps shared the experiences with others who could have helped him understand them, rather than be frightened most of the time.

Anthony gives some great advice in his book of how you can help a child who you believe may be experiencing something paranormal. It is important to realize that what may seem strange to one person is perfectly normal to another.

Adults who are faced with a psychic child have a hard road to navigate, and it can be a difficult and stressful. Seeing ghosts isn't something you can be immunized against. However, the best tools you have are information, patience and tolerance. The more you open yourselves up to the possibility that this child is experiencing something out of the ordinary, the better position you are in, to help him or her deal with it effectively.

Below are some tools that Anthony suggests you can use to help your child understand and discover safely what they are seeing, hearing or feeling.

1. Be open to discussions on the subject. Don't let your own upbringing or bias make you too resistant to speaking openly about what is happening. This will help your child understand that there is help if they need it and secure in the knowledge that what they are experiencing is ok with you.
2. Read about the subject in an effort to educate yourself. This way you are more likely to be able to tell what exactly your child is experiencing. You'll also be in a better position to offer explanations and guidance when needed. One little word or warning though – be discerning with what you read because, like any subject, you can get widely ranging opinions even amongst psychics and mediums themselves. Read everything you can, but only take on what feels right and resonates with you and leave the rest.
3. Leave your child alone. Yes, it might seem a little bit of a contradiction after being told to be armed up with information and understanding, but the fact is most children will not really need any great assistance and will, in fact, grow out of what they are experiencing by the middle of primary school. So unless they ask you or want your guidance, leave them be with what they are experiencing. Remember, making it into a big deal can be as harmful as trivialising or doubting it.
4. Never push a child into experiencing more than they want to. It's good that they understand what is happening but don't try and convince your child

4. that they are experiencing psychic phenomenon if they themselves are not sure. Also, it is never advisable to push a child into answering questions about dear departed Aunt Jane – it is hard enough for an experienced adult medium to understand and communicate information from the other side, a child will certainly struggle even if they do have genuine psychic abilities.
5. And lastly don't be scared of what is happening. Understand that the times we are living in are producing a generation of psychically aware children and more will develop these skills than ever before. It is perfectly natural and nothing for you, or them, to be afraid of.

Roundway Hill nr Devizes

This large (approx. 350 ft) and interesting formation was reported at the top of Roundway Hill near Devizes. It lies near the hillfort of Oliver's Castle.

The hillfort of Oliver's Castle has seen many crop formations in the past.

"The camp was more anciently called Roundway or Rundaway Castle, and its present name of Oliver's Camp or Castle seems to have arisen out of a popular tradition that Oliver Cromwell occupied, if he did not actually build, the camp. The only foundation in fact for this tradition is that the battle of Roundway in 1643 was fought on the neighbouring Downs, when some of the combatants may have been posted close to, if not actually within, the boundary of the camp. Cromwell himself was not present on the occasion, but the fact that Cromwellian troops fought on the adjacent Downs was quite enough to give rise in the course of time to the popular association of the camp with the name of the great man himself. Cromwell has always loomed large in the imagination of the people, and it has been said that he has achieved an unenviable notoriety only second to the Devil himself."

Quote from www.themodernantiquarian.com .

The most famous of the crop patterns to appear near here (actually at the bottom of the hill on the opposite side of the fort to this formation of 25 July 2010) was one recorded on film by John Whaley :

Killarney Vale

Full overcast

“At around 3:30/4am was woken (I am usually a light sleeper as I have 3 small children) by a loud sound that was far from any aeroplane or helicopter it sounded as loud to be inside my camper trailer (as we are staying at my sisters for the Christmas holidays) it sat over head for about 5-10 minutes before slowly creeping of then disappearing. It was really of no shape but had a massive flood light. To myself I thought it could have been a blimp but flying only meters from my head then to leave that quickly and to be THAT noisy it is impossible. It was very windy that nights but when it was over head it was quiet dead quiet, then as soon as it left there was a massive gush of wind that shock the camper trailer. Scary Shit!! If you asked me yesterday what I thought of people that believed in UFO's or ALIENS I would have laughed and said what Dheads, but now I am not so sure I didn't sleep for hours after or move from my bed as I was thinking it was an invasion. I would like to know if anyone else witnessed the same thing.”

“Multiple orange "balls" moving individually in multiple directions after having amassed close together in the view of my young son, who then notified his mother, who thought it was the southern lights, until they moved.

We watched and got some video footage of what can only be described as glowing orange orbs that did not alter in colour or shape in any way. They remained constant and silent, while seemingly suspended on invisible wire.

These objects did not make being seen an issue, and did not hurry away at all. The fact that they were moving without any sound, but definitely within hearing range for an aircraft was surprising.

I do not know what the objects were, but, am hoping my description may help you with other reports of a similar time and date.

These objects were seen at 12:01 01/01/11, in the lower blue mountains area.

Thank you for providing a venue to report these things.”

“At murrurundi showground we were feeding our horses when we all were drawn to attention of bright objects in the sky which were moving but staying in a group. it looked as if a couple were larger or brighter. We commented that it cannot be a plane or helicopter. I ran about 50m and back to get my camera. By the time I got back they had changed positions it seemed.

I have a video of 36 sec at the time didn't seem to be getting the footage so I gave up as I'm not a camera expert and just thought they were too far away.

The following day I got home and still have it on my camera, but also its on my computer and watched it back and to my amazement had captured activity. I have taken 19 photos off the video.

We really want this investigated and to find out what this may have been and if there is an explanation at all.

My husband said it may have been a tower of some sort, but I moved back and could see the mountain ranges, these objects were too high and at daylight the next day, did not see any such objects that they may have been. I have no idea how much longer they stayed around we had to go to a presentation, had not eaten all day due to breaking down several times on our way there and just didn't stay to look as we thought the camera wasn't capturing it.

I would really like to speak to someone, I have this footage on my computer and the camera. I didn't want to delete off the camera in case of thoughts of a hoax.”

Partly Cloudy

I was driving home from a friend's place and I noticed that there was a shimmering rainbow like effect through a single patch of cloud in the distance, towards the right of my vision. I was driving down Frankston/Dandenong Road towards Frankston, just after the Thompsons Road intersection when I decided to take pictures of this 'rainbow' in the clouds'.

I was driving at the same time (sorry, naughty naughty!). I used my left hand to take these images, propped up on the steering wheel, angled towards the 'rainbow'. My angle may have shifted a little between pics, but I was driving on a road that runs straight. I am more than aware that there are dirt marks on my window, but the object in question looks far from dirt IMO...

It was the next day when I decided to look at the pics I had taken that I noticed something else in the sky. I used a Nokia 3600 slide phone (uses a 3.2MP camera) to take these pics - 3 pics in total. I would like to send these pics over to you, so please contact me on how I can do this!!! Unfortunately, this type of phone takes about 6 or so seconds to load each picture once you take one and then resets itself ready to take another, so there is a time difference of about 20 seconds between the first and third images taken. It would be great if you could cast your UFO eye over these and analyse these!

FACTFINDER

by Michelle Usnik

The Manor: The first time that I accompanied the group during an investigation was at the Manor.

This investigation was, in my opinion, very productive, although the other group members said that they had had much better experiences during previous investigations at the Manor. During this investigation Kellie and Lorraine picked up several individuals.

We began the investigation by just having a walk-through of the building itself. After this we set up the equipment in the areas that the group had experienced activity in on prior investigations, including the room we chose to conduct the vigil in.

Almost immediately after beginning the vigil we began to get activity, and everyone could sense a strong presence near the door to the room. As is common in these situations the cameras began to play up, new batteries went flat, etc. After a while the group decided that it was time to try to communicate using the spirit board.

It did not take long to start getting messages. At least three distinct individuals appeared to be trying to communicate. We were receiving messages that appeared to be quite clear, but further research has shown that the information may have been distorted because it was sometimes difficult to separate which entity was giving the information (it was as though they were all talking at once at some points).

The clearest communication came from a presence that called herself Elizabeth. She also gave a surname, her age at death and year of death. She said she was married, and only 24 when she died, but that it was not in childbirth. She gave a death date in the early 1960s, and stated that she still had close relatives living in Strathfield.

Unfortunately the details she gave did not match with existing records. This may, however, be due to some of the confusion mentioned earlier. The surname she gave was also the same as the suburb next to property that the Manor is built on, and therefore may actually be part of her previous address and not her actual surname. She also said that she had not been married long, so I am not certain whether she was stating her married or maiden surname. Marriage records for that period are still not publicly available, so if she was giving her maiden name I will not be able to find her correct death entry.

Elizabeth also stated that she had never lived at the Manor during her lifetime, but that she had visited. This means that tracking previous owners and tenants of the Manor will not be of much help, but does give some support to the theory that she had given us her address and not her surname.

Next issue I will continue with findings from the Manor.

The Reality of Being a
Contactee and Life Long
Experiencer

Amanda Prosser

Reality refers to something that is real, not a figment of an imagination, not something made up out of thin air and not something dreamed.

My reality includes working with young people, children who are students within educational settings. I also work alongside adults within the educational settings. I work at two different educational centres, one run by the Australian Government and another run by the Catholic Church and both schools have something in common. At both schools I have had adults and students disclose their contact experiences to me.

Disclosures have been relayed to me by the person who has had the experience, by an adult or parent of the young person and by adults separate to anyone else. Students have disclosed to me in class, in front of their classmates as well as privately, after class or quietly out on the playground. One element is common to both schools, the adults and students speak to me in confidence.

When students started to disclose to me, it was both shocking and humbling. They were blurting out information that had obviously been simmering just below the surface and they were entrusting that information to me. It was the last thing I expected to experience in a classroom but now that my journey has enveloped me, I can see no better place to share, discuss and disclose than in a classroom.

Contact with Intergalactic Visitors is probably more common than anyone currently realises. I do not profess to be an intellectual or scientific expert but I know what is happening. I am a Contactee, I have seen Intergalactic Visitor Craft in the sky. I acknowledge that I am not the only one, essentially I am not the first and I will not be the last. I have also discovered that I am a life long Experiencer. Discovery is the essence of learning that you are an Experiencer and this is aided by answering questionnaires composed by thoughtful and thorough researchers, accompanied by personal reflection of certain occurrences during various stages of life. Professional assistance with regard to counselling and regression helps put the pieces of a 'spiritual and multi dimensional' jigsaw into a complete picture.

The beauty of being a Contactee and a life long Experiencer is, once the realisation has been absorbed by the intellect and digested by the soul, the journey truly begins. Once the journey envelops you the transformation that ensues is dynamic but ever so gradual and gentle. At least this is now my ongoing reality.

My reality is all about my spiritual growth and journey. Star Children, Indigo Children and Crystal Children are now featuring in my life, they are all around me. Not just because I work in an education system and not because I am a Teacher, it is because they have come to Earth to learn but more importantly to teach. As part of what is referred to as the 'Starfeed' are Star and Indigo Adults. Now that the students of life are disclosing their contacts and experiences we can all move toward viewing our beautiful Earth as a classroom, where we respect, share and discuss all information so that everyone gets to benefit.

What follows is the first of two reports made by Amanda in the following weeks of her work.

Spirit Lifting with StarFeed
Children/Young Adults

Time: 3.30pm

Date: Sunday 12th December
2010

Place: Ferrier Street,
Narrandera. NSW. Australia.

Present: Kate, Annie, Will,
Phoebe, Amanda

I received a call from Kate, an ex-student, on the 12th December 2010 requesting help with some spiritual activity. A group of friends had been experimenting with an Ouija board and over the preceding few weeks there had been spiritual phenomena and observed activity within the rented home of Kate's friend.

The phenomena included banging sounds and the sound of someone walking on the floorboards. One incident included a lounge, with people seated on it, moving approximately thirty centimetres away from the wall after a loud noise physically shook the room at the rear of the house. A helium filled balloon had floated to the ceiling of a bedroom and was observed moving, from side to side for a period of time. The balloon moved back and forth about arms length in distance. The windows in the house had been painted shut and could not be opened, there was no air conditioning nor was there a fan being used in the bedroom. The next day the balloon had moved from the bedroom out into the hallway.

As soon as I entered the house I felt a sense of spirit and felt the soul belonged to a peaceful person. At no time did I feel fear or evil. I did however feel a sense of heaviness in my legs and felt as if I had a weight on my shoulders. My shoulders became stooped as if I were an elderly person. We all entered the main bedroom and we all felt the same physical symptoms at the same time.

I sensed and saw an image of an elderly woman who had died alone. She was dressed in clothes that reflected pioneer living around the 1800s and I could see a horse and cart. The Star Children/Young Adults asked for her name and I immediately saw capital E. Her name was Elsie and as soon as I announced her name out loud three of the Star Children saw a glass door on an already open cabinet open several centimetres further. Everyone was standing on the floorboards and no one was near any furniture.

I saw Elsie start to move towards the light and she turned to face us and apologised for making the banging noises and moving the balloon. She explained that it was amazing what could be achieved when in the spirit state.

Will could see a skirt with brown horizontal stripes and I confirmed a white long sleeved blouse. Kate asked about her hairstyle and I described it, perhaps plaited and pinned up on top in a bun. We all concentrated on helping Elsie to lift from the Earth and to return to the light. Elsie was thankful for our help and turned to the light and was gone.

All the Star Children/Young Adults heard an audible sound when Elsie lifted. They heard a noise described as sounding like fshhh. I did not hear the noise. We were all facing the only window in the bedroom during the entire session.

We all moved to the lounge room and I asked permission to burn some incense. I walked through the house with the burning sticks which allowed the perfume to create a deeper sense of peace and calm.

We felt the need to visit the rear of the house and out into the yard. We were all drawn to a small hill that was easily observed over the rear fence. What we all sensed was an angry mob. Kate and Will were describing burning sticks and a group of men headed somewhere. Kate could see the men wearing metal helmets on their heads. The anger was a sense of discrimination and it may have involved Aboriginals. There were four of us that felt our throats become tight as if our throats had become somewhat constricted.

Two of the Star Children/Young Adults felt there was an issue with something underground, perhaps water. None of us could discern exactly what had caused the anger or explain the reason for their marching together in a group. It became apparent they had all died. We focussed on helping them to the light and they quite simply all kept marching towards the light. However there was a sense of one soul remaining earthbound.

Will and I sensed a male and Kate enquired about his age. Will and I both stated aloud, about thirty, at exactly the same time. We remained with his spirit while he made his way to the light. He was taking longer than the others and was reluctant to walk into the light. Eventually he moved into the light and there was a sense of peace and we all moved back inside the house.

It is interesting to note that the Star Children/Young Adults were all actively exhibiting spiritual gifts and talents in one way or another. I had not worked with young people in this manner before. I knew Kate well and had met Will briefly at school and met Annie and Phoebe on that day. We all worked together and instinctively we all knew what we had to do. I led only because I am experienced with spirit and have lifted souls before. The only explicit instruction I gave was before we began. All I asked them to do was to go within themselves and connect and commune with their Creator, their God, with their personal spiritual self and to clean all fear from their being.

I spent several hours with the Star Children/Young Adults before I left. During our conversations I learned that we all share a commonality, that of being Experiencers. I am an awakened Experiencer and the Star Children/Young Adults are unawakened. They are well and truly on their way to becoming awakened and I wait with respect to share the next part of our journey.

I feel a sense of honour and humility as I think about the experience that Kate, Will, Annie, Phoebe and I shared. I drove home with a sense of peace and love that satiated my soul and so touched was I by the shared experience I was almost moved to tears. I did not cry because I was actually experiencing a feeling I had never felt before nor could I adequately describe how I was realising and digesting the entire afternoon.

What I have learned from the Star Children/Young Adults is that if they are our future then we are safe in their care and my faith in our Creator is stronger than ever.

Much Peace
