EDITORIALARE THESE SIGNS?

As you know I always entitle the annual crop circle report as "Signs in the Fields" to indicate the workings of a higher "power" as to the origins. It is clear that such a power/intelligence if it exists does not wish to communicate directly with the human race, merely leaving "calling cards" such as the crop circles which have developed over 30 years. At this stage are there other "signs" which may emanate from the same source?

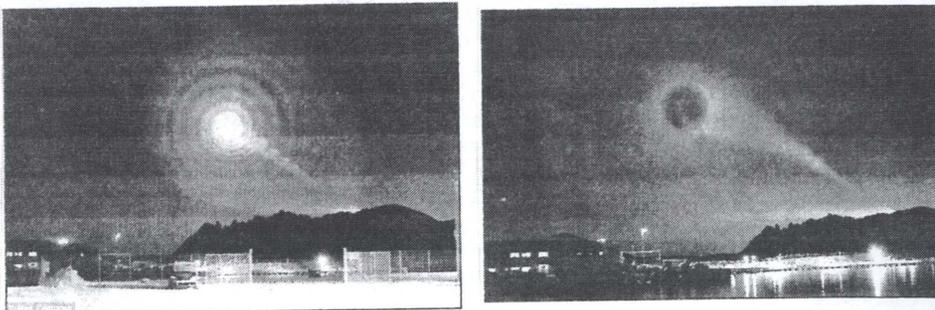

Mysterious round holes in clouds have appeared in several places all over the world. The case at O'Hare Airport, Chicago on November 7th, 2006 has been widely reported with a number of airline staff witnessing a possible UFO which rose through the heavy cloud present at the time leaving a circular hole which could be seen for several minutes. The whole episode was put down to freak weather conditions. I have recently watched a U-Tube video of a cloud system over Mexico where a jagged hole in light, fair weather cloud gradually broke up over a ten minute period. The sky all around and through the hole was blue so there was no mistaking this anomaly. As there are now indications that UFOs may be invisible to human eyes, it is possible that some sort of craft was parked in the space which was seen as a hole in the cloud to humans and video cameras. More likely, if this was a "sign" - the cloud was burnt away by an invisible force residing in the atmosphere to indicate non-random intelligence at work. Solid proof of this would be for two or more holes to appear simultaneously in the cloud placed in a geometrical order like the dots on dice, which is, of course, how early crop circles developed. If such a scene was observed it would be difficult to prove the holes in the clouds were man made.

The most striking visual event over the last 4 months has been the appearance of a brilliant light display in the sky over Tromso, Norway, on December 9th, 2009. The activity lasted between 10 and 15 minutes between 7 and 9am in a very dark sky at this most northerly town above the Arctic Circle. Of course this is just the place to see the aurora borealis (northern lights) as the result of the many charged particles in the atmosphere at these latitudes. The national press reported the event in some detail accompanied by stunning photographs. Within 24 hours the cause of the display was put down to a failed Russian rocket launch - of the new Bulava missile which is known to have failed many times before. Just how can a dud rocket produce a perfect spiral pattern as witnessed if it is totally out of control? The spectacle lasted a minimum of 10 minutes at low elevation it appears. The rocket failed at the third stage when high in the atmosphere and we might expect any visual effects to be haphazard and lasting only a few seconds. There is no statement from any official Russian source linking the events.

It was not until many weeks later that revised investigations pointed a finger at EISCAT which has a facility just outside Tromso. This organisation in full is called the "European Incoherent Scatter Scientific Association" and studies the interaction of the Sun and Earth as indicated by disturbances in the ionosphere and magnetosphere. At its base, Ramfjordmoen, there is an "ionosphere heater facility" which is stated to be capable of producing wonderful visual apparitions in the atmosphere. Apparently the equipment has been in place for many years, but nothing of this nature has ever been reported previously to our knowledge. A similar organisation known as HAARP operates out of America and is capable of shooting huge amounts of energy into the charged particles of the ionosphere.

It may have been coincidence that president Obama was due to receive his premature Nobel prize the following day in Oslo, which some observers suggest might be cause for a triumphalist display by NASA or HAARP in Norwegian skies.

Scanning many websites it looks fairly convincing that EISCAT produced this amazing show, but a definitive statement declaring "it was us" cannot be found. Some sources say that the Norwegian government or defence ministry were unaware of what was going on, and it would be surprising that an advanced and wealthy country like Norway has not released an official government statement to kill off speculation by now. The photographs below show the spiral at its most prominent state, although this may be a cleverly conceived time exposure, and a light blue beam which shot out from the centre of the spiral and gradually faded over 10 minutes. Video footage is mostly less dramatic, and the impression given is that the spiralling is a "Catherine Wheel" effect with something circular spinning and giving out sparks at a point on the circumference thereby creating the spiralling.

Back to our original notion of "signs", this could be another "cosmic joker" operation whereby something unique is seen, but that it is conveniently placed so that several man-made possibilities are always available to suit establishment thinking. If the spiral was seen from a ship in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean much of the above would no longer apply. The litmus test will be if the same spectacle is replicated at one or more other locations.

Apparently a pyramid shaped UFO of gigantic dimensions appeared over Moscow on the very same day as the Tromso event. Video footage of this can be seen both in darkness and daylight hours, so it must have been hanging around for many hours. If genuine one might have expected an interception by Russian fighters, but this is not mentioned.

A burst of UFO activity at the festive season 2009-10 was exciting news. We have a large number of reports from Worcestershire, West Midlands and East Anglia. Unfortunately many of these sound like Chinese Lanterns and there have been few cases since then into 2010 due to a great extent no doubt to the very cold weather this winter. The investigation team are pleased that a high number of witnesses actually filled in and returned sighting forms. Maybe this has something to do with the closure of the MODs UFO desk on December 1st, 2009.

A newspaper article kindly forwarded by one of our members indicates many sightings of objects over Hinckley, Leicestershire on New Years Eve. A reporter, Ben Eccleston, from the Hinckley Times analysed a large amount of correspondence in relation to these and concludes that the public voted 45 to 10 in favour of Chinese Lanterns being the cause.

Perhaps we should ignore reports coming in on party nights such as New Years Eve in future!

LATEST NEWS STORIES

MORE MOD FILES RELEASED: A further 24 ex Ministry of Defence (MOD) files containing UFO reports have been released to the National Archive. This group looks to be the biggest yet and is said to contain 6,000 pages of material. Browsing through some of these in the free viewing period, it is apparent that less than half the documents contain anything of interest being merely interchanges between government departments and the inevitable bland reply from the MOD to the enquirer. It is difficult to work out which file contains a particular year or location and an index would be invaluable. The best bet is to click on to Dr David Clarke's summary audio/video presentation lasting about 8 minutes.

It is noticeable that many requests are directed to the Prime Minister, Tony Blair, (in the sample seen), demanding full information on extraterrestrials. These inevitably filter down to the MOD who reply with the usual banal, if polite, letter. For the final time a sample letter and reply are produced opposite. This type of letter, which would never be answered directly by a politician, merely clogs up the arteries of the MOD and probably added weight to the decision to close down the "UFO Desk" in December 2009.

In one of the shorter files, DEFC 24/2017/1, there is an exchange of letters between councillor Buchanan of Bonnybridge, the MOD and local MP, Dennis Canavan, claiming over 600 UFO reports emanating from the Scottish town in 2 years from the years 1993-4. The general argument is that the MOD only received 2-3 of these sightings over a 12 month period, so where did the all the rest of the 600 spring from? (This sounds similar to the Banbury "flap" of the early 1970s, where 100s of UFO sightings were stated to be coming from the Oxfordshire town, but only a handful appear on CIUFOR files inspite of the close proximity to the research headquarters). A quite informative letter from Dennis Canavan is shown opposite.

The press eagerly latched on to these latest files with reports in almost all the national and some regional newspapers. Juicy stories and illustrations from a selected few events cannot disguise the general dullness and repetition in the main bulk of the documents. The favourite story seems to be a sighting of a triangular craft over former Tory leader, Michael Howard's home, near Folkestone, shortly before the 1997 General Election which the Conservatives spectacularly lost. This seems mainly to be an excuse to publish a ghoulish photograph of Mr Howard, "something of the night about him", in several papers.

The latest information to emerge from the now defunct reporting facility at the MOD is that new cases arriving will be monitored for 30 days and then the record destroyed.

BRAVE NEW WORLD! We have heard from Malcolm Robinson, the UFO and paranormal lecturer that he has agreed to become assistant editor of a brand new magazine to be entitled: "UFO MATRIX". The editor will be stalwart ufologist and author, Philip Mantle in a group known as "11th Dimension Publications".

LETTER FROM DENNIS CANAVAN MP - US 1306/97

1. Councillor William Buchanan wrote to the Prime Minister in Sep 94 to say that in the preceding two years over 600 people had come forward with reports of "UFO" sightings in the Falkirk District. He urged the Prime Minister to order an enquiry into the sightings to alleviate the concerns of his constituents.

2. Sec(AS) replied to the letter stating that the Department had received only two or three reported sightings over the period in question and none were of defence significance. The letter went on to say that we were not aware of any phenomena in the Falkirk area which would warrant investigation, but that if we received any further reports (or substantive evidence) they would be assessed to establish whether they indicated any physical threat.

3. Nothing else was heard from Councillor Buchanan until Jan 95 when the local MP, Dennis Canavan asked if the Councillor and a local 'ufologist' might meet officials to discuss the "UFO" sightings. It was considered that such a meeting would probably perpetuate the myth that the Department had a role in "UFO" research and Lord Henley's reply (copy attached) declined the request. In so doing we emphasised, once more, that should Councillor Buchanan wish to provide any further information we would assess it in the normal way.

4. In the two years since that time we have not heard at all from Councillor Buchanan. There have been a handful of "UFO" sightings reported to us from the Falkirk area during this time. This would not be unusual given the number of sightings received for the UK as a whole (over 600 in 1996 alone). Those from the Falkirk area were not deemed to have defence significance. Geographically, Falkirk sits between Glasgow and Edinburgh airports, and an aerodrome (Cumbernauld) is close by. It is likely that civil aircraft activity accounts for much of what has been seen.

5. I attach a draft response for ^{USAFS} Lord Howe's consideration.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am writing to you to ask why our government DENY that Extra Terrestrials exist. When there is so much evidence to implicate there is other life forms than our selfs in the universe. So why does both sides deny these facts?.

Why does every one deny these facts by saying that the objects are either planes, Weather balloons, Satellites or falling debris and other stupid excuses. Is every body so scared by the truth ? If your not scared why deny the truth ?

If you are unable to answer these Questions PLEASE pass this letter on to someone that can answer these questions.

Thank you for your time and i hope to hear from you soon

Dear [REDACTED]

1. Thank you for your letter addressed to the Prime Minister regarding "unidentified flying objects" and crop circles. Your letter has been passed to the Ministry of Defence and this office is the focal point within the MOD for correspondence of this nature. I have been asked to reply.
2. First I should explain that the Ministry of Defence examines any reports of "unidentified flying objects" it receives solely to establish whether what was seen might have some defence significance; namely, whether there is any evidence that the UK Air Defence Region might have been compromised by hostile or unauthorized foreign military activity.
3. Unless there is evidence of a potential military threat, and to date no "UFO" report has revealed such evidence, we do not attempt to identify the precise nature of each sighting reported to us. We believe that rational explanations, such as aircraft lights or natural phenomena, could be found for them if resources were diverted for this purpose, but it is not the function of the MOD to provide this kind of aerial identification service. It would be an inappropriate use of defence resources if we were to do so.
4. You have asked about crop circles. There is no evidence to suggest that these phenomena are caused by anything of military concern and the MOD does not therefore investigate reported sightings or carry out any research into them.
5. I hope this explains the position.

Yours sincerely,
 [REDACTED]

Malcolm describes the new line up as follows: "Since the sad and untimely demise of UFO magazine and other such British publications, we at 11th Dimension Publications aim to restore the vacuum left by these publications and provide the valuable information that the British and overseas public have a right to see. And as stated, we look to people like you and other researchers and authors to share in getting this information out to the public."

Malcolm invites articles to be submitted solely on UFOs and consist no more than 4, A4 pages and not less than 2½ pages. Articles should be submitted to malchyspi@yahoo.com. The postal address is Flat 5, Unicorn House, Croft Rd, Hastings, E.Sussex, TN34 3HB

CORNWALL CONFERENCE 2010: It was mentioned in an earlier Awareness that this well known annual conference may have folded due to a cancellation at the height of the "credit crunch". The organisers have written to us to point out that normal service is being resumed and there will be a 2010 conference at the Fal Building, Truro College, on October 9th. For latest information on speakers, timings etc log on to the website www.cornwall-ufo.co.uk. Apologies for any misunderstandings.

UFO PHOTOGRAPH OF THE DECADE: Following on from the publication of the photograph of the saucer shaped UFO in the last edition, we are placing a further two shots in our centre spread. These have been subjected to filter processes on a computer to show how the object blends in with the background and is not superimposed, plus a high magnification shot showing clear signs of exhaust gases. We have been very disappointed with the feedback so far. Many non-ufologists have tended to snigger probably because the photo is "too good to be true". We still await a critical phone call or rational explanation to prove the object is a hoax or a man-made entertainment vehicle.

Previous information on the comparison UFO photographed at a location on the south coast of Cornwall was slightly inaccurate in that the year should read 2007, not 2008 as stated - no doubt due to the apparent speeding up of time on the memory of your ageing editor!

If you happen to show the photograph around remember the UFO was NOT VISIBLE to the cameraman or any other persons on the boat and was spotted only after digital processing. This important fact tends to be omitted when discussing the event.

MEMBER SNAPS UFOS: Our recent member, Eugene Kehler, of Wilmslow, Cheshire, has managed to photograph a number of UFOs. The photograph on the right was actually taken from Cheltenham racecourse in 2006. The metallic brown coloured object was spotted hovering 200ft above Cleve Hill after racing had ended. Eugene had plenty of film available as he was told not to photograph horses on the track as it stressed them out before they raced. Eugene also spends a lot of time study ing the sky from his garden.

EUGENE with the photograph and, inset, a close-up of the object.

AGONY CORNER: (Anti-establishment comment on latest scares, cover-ups and conspiracies).

BIRTH DEFECTS DUE TO DEPLETED URANIUM? The dangerous aftermath of using depleted uranium capped shells or bullets has been previously mentioned in relation to military activity in Iraq. Another hotspot in Iraq has been uncovered by the BBC where multiple birth defects have been reported, although the Iraqi government and American forces would prefer the facts not to be made public.

A massive battle took place at Fallujah, a city of 300,000 population, 40 miles west of Baghdad in 2004, wherein American marines stormed areas in the city held by insurgents with significant loss of life on both sides. The use of depleted uranium and white phosphorus chemical weapons was likely but never confirmed. Depleted uranium coatings are extremely hard and would add to the penetrative power of bullets or shells. However, after impact it is believed that minute particles of uranium break away and form a mist in the atmosphere which hangs around for years afterwards. If breathed in by residents in the area, poisonous particles can enter the lymph glands and blood leading to cancers and birth defects in new born babies.

The BBC found from direct investigation at Fallujah hospitals that birth defects in new borns were 13 times the rates in Europe. Leading editor, John Simpson, was shown photographs of deformed babies, including one with 3 heads and saw dozens upon dozens of children with deformed limbs entering a US funded hospital. Figures from a city doctor show that in 2003 there was one birth defect noted every 2 months, but this had now increased to a case per day!

There was a surprising response in some letters after the report appeared in the Daily Mail on March 5th, 2010. One person claimed that the uranium used for coating shells was an inert type, "238", which would not produce any radioactivity as opposed to the highly lethal "235" used for making nuclear weapons. The two types are separated out in nuclear reactors with the "238" type then being known as spent or depleted uranium. The writer suggests we stop criticising our American friends and look for another cause as to the birth defects. Previous history at places where a massive leak of radiation has occurred such as Chernobyl, Ukraine, in 1986 again show large increases in birth defects subsequently over several countries.

THE GLOBAL WARMING "GLACIERGATE": A wildly alarmist, unfounded claim that vast glaciers many hundreds of feet thick in the Himalaya mountains would disappear by 2035 has now been dismissed as having no scientific basis. The scientist who made the claim back in 1999 to an Indian magazine, Dr Syed Hamain, has worked for the past two years for The Energy and Resources Institute, (TORI), in Delhi, India. The chairman of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, (IPCC), Dr Rajendra Pachauri, is director general of TORI which has received large sums from American and European charities as a result of these claims. -----Interesting!

Apparently the most senior glaciologist in India, Dr Raina, issued a report in November 2009 showing the retreat of the Himalayan glaciers had not changed in the last 50 years and the IPCCs prediction was wildly alarmist. Dr Pachauri reacted furiously to this report calling it "voodoo science". A few weeks later Pachauri was making up excuses for his own propaganda! SIGHTING REPORTS

When Mr GJ was living in Australia in 1984 he saw a large ufo moving slowly and quite low overhead. It was shaped like a Jumbo Jet fuselage with a shaped nose cone, which seemed to be pointing upwards and had a disk for a tail fin. It had no wings and at least 6 times bigger than a jumbo jet. It had portholes along its side and the disk at the tail end also had portholes around it but smaller. It was matt grey in colour with no markings at all. There were no lights showing and it was silent.

A few days after Mr GJ's sighting a farmer in Northern Australia reported the identical craft and he was on TV explaining the shape exactly as Mr GJ had seen it.

Mr TD went out into his back garden and was studying the night sky when he saw two very intense white/orange lights in the NNE direction. The lights were spaced apart and remained in configuration and looked to be slowly ascending vertically. Unfortunately a cloud passed over and they seemed to drop into the cloud base and after a while was unable to see any sign of them. He was sure they were not planes because of the intense light and the way they were ascending slowly in unison.

Mr JFG aged 16 whilst listening to his MP3 was walking his dog over rough ground just outside Peniarwaun in Wales.

During the silence on the track change of his music he suddenly noticed a noise. He pulled out his earphones and noticed there was a rotary aircraft flying overhead. Mr JFG is a keen aircraft enthusiast so he watched the aircraft all the time trying to puzzle out which type it could have been and also as it was getting dusk at the time it made recognition more difficult.

He watched it disappear into the distance and it was then that he noticed a solid peach coloured light moving from the distance towards the aircraft and coming towards him. He could not really see for sure but he was convinced it was cone shaped, glowing and travelling in a south easterly direction. It was not travelling fast but it definitely swerved out of the way of the retreating helicopter and as it went through the cloud base its intensity of light did not fade which he thought was very odd. He knew it was not any conventional aircraft because of being quite an expert in plane spotting as it really is keen hobby of his.

As a member of "facebook" he found others had seen the same craft and all were curious as to what it was they had all seen and they discussed it on-line.

Mr & Mrs F were at the top their house leaning out over their balcony when they spotted a round object for about 2 minutes. It was surround by flames and they could see it very clearly. It looked like a red laser beam at first then it quickly became like a huge ball of fire that had a kind of V shaped laser on top of it.

It did not make any noise nor did it leave anything in its wake and as it was moving slowly it was easy to see. It then seemed to stop and stay above them for at least 5 seconds by which time Mr F went to get his phone to film it and to also call his father. It then started moving rapidly in a southerly direction.

Mr F was convinced it was not a usual type of craft nor a weather balloon or anything he could recognise.

Twins of Thornhill Edge watched some strange lights in the sky one evening until they disappeared over the horizon. The next night the twins saw them again and told their sceptical stepfather what they had just seen, they all rushed outside and just over the houses above the street they could all see the lights and they stayed out for sometime watching them. Mr Butcher stated that one light was very bright and then there was a row of smaller lights. He was sure they were UFOs because they made no noise and they just hung in the sky.

Also over Batley a Mr M Jones and his friend Mark Hinchcliffe saw something strange hovering over the garage roof. He states " My mate and I were watching television and we saw a bright light hovering above my garage there were three of them together, hovering in a triangular shape. They were really bright orange. They were just there, just above us, and making no noise. It was a scary experience, then they just disappeared". A neighbour was also able to corroborate their story.

Ms Brenda E was looking out of her bedroom window when she saw a very bright orange light. She didn't pay too much attention to it at first until she realised it was not a firework as it became very intense. Luckily she had a camera nearby and was able to get two very good photos of the object. The object looks round in shape and bright orange and she claimed there were other smaller lights which also were orange around it. (This does not show very clearly on the photograph) Suddenly the object shot straight up into the sky, she could not believe the speed that it went and it just disappeared.

3 Witnesses saw approximately 8-10 orange disk/flare like balls moving rapidly across the sky. They came in sporadic, successive, lateral burst.Moving rapidly and horizontally across the sky – almost like low flying planes. They were moving too fast to capture on camera and then each of them hovered in the same spot before they mysteriously faded out. Mrs LR did manage to see one of the orange balls through a telescope and it was an orange disk shape surrounded by a green glow (similar to how it appears around a flame).

2 witnesses 1 male and 1 female were travelling by car, crossing the Welsh side of Severn Crossing bridge on M4 when at approximately 400 yards after end of the bridge they saw 2 perfect sphere shaped objects like balls one being slightly larger than the other because one was closer. Both objects were solid in appearance and they could see the edges of both objects very clearly and noticed the edges were perfectly smooth with no rough edges. They described the objects as being metallic colour similar to gun metal grey. They were not shiny or highly polished but had a slight sheen to the surface. They could clearly see the sun glinting off the upper area that faced the sun. There were no lights or anything else on them, each was just a smooth spherical object with no pattern or texture to it.

The objects stayed motionless and stationary in the sky no wind movement seemed to interfere with them.

Because they were viewing from a moving vehicle they were first spotted low on the horizon, the couple were driving at approx 60mph and they seemed to moving towards them so they had at least a good 10 seconds to view them and it was then they realised the objects were stationary and it was only the vehicle that was taking them closer and closer until they finally drove underneath them. They were so clear that at first the couple thought that there had to be strings or wires attached to them holding them aloft but after passing them they realised they were actually up in the air suspended.

They spent the next few miles trying to assess what they had actually seen and it wasn't until a good many minutes later when they could not explain truly what they had witnessed that they concluded that they had to be UFO's.

The couple are very sensible and down to earth, the male partner having held a high ranking position in the army they insist they are not in the habit of making up strange stories or having flights of fancy. They are both professional people in their workplace and are still trying to come to terms with what they actually witnessed.

They could not hear any sound and were travelling very slowly. SG was walking nearby Western Cemetery with a male companion when they saw 6 objects which appeared to be in the style of a cross. The sighting lasted for about 5 minutes and they could clearly see defined edges to the objects which were a burning orange and really bright. The objects then began to move away into the cloud line but seemed to be travelling at speed possibly faster than that of a plane in normal flight. Ms DP was driving in her car coming from Worcester and as she stopped on the Worcester Road in a lay-by. As she looked up she could see an oblong object bright orange in colour which seemed to be standing still. She states there was no noise and she watched it for about 10 minutes. As it was not moving she then proceeded on her journey she could see it all the time she was driving and estimated that in all her sighting must have lasted 25 minutes. She arrived home and saw it above the hills and then it just vanished out of sight.

The following sightings have been recorded in chronological order so that readers can see how busy reports were flowing into Contact:

01/01/2010 Worcester, 00.02. 2 objects seen travelling at speed, described as red ball with fiery tail
 01/01/2010 Worcester 00.05 3 oblong lights travelling at speed from north to south. 6 witnesses.
 01/01/2010 Worcester, 00.10 1 object moving north to south then 2nd object, described as orange ball followed later.

01/01/2010 Worcester 00.15 8 objects seen travelling across the sky, yellowish bright light round shape watched for about 10 minutes.

01/01/2010 Worcester 00.15

01/01/2010 New Malden, Surrey 00.20 15 objects seen, shaped round, red on top white at the bottom in colour, travelling at same speed as an aircraft would across the sky.

01/10/2010 Worcester 00.30 2 square objects not very bright appeared to float by.

01/01/2010 Highgate Cemetery, London. 00.30 6/7 objects seen, round in shape and red/orange in colour average airplane speed, all flying in a straight pattern in the same direction.

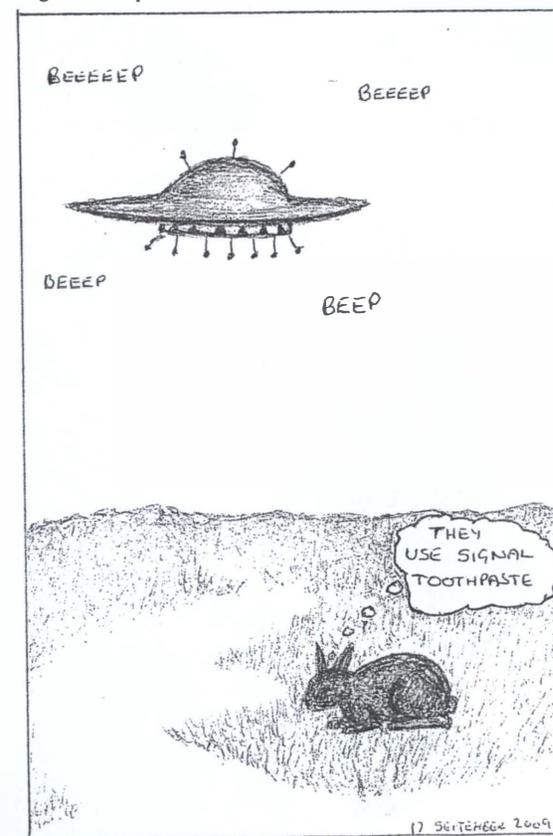

01/10/2010 Norwich 17.00 4 lights seen in a diamond shape, then bottom one disappeared, red in colour and it looked like a triangle shape just hung in the sky.

01/10/2010 Norwich 17.00 4 lights seen in diamond shape, (as above sighting seen by 2 sets of separate witnesses) bottom one disappeared and red in colour leaving triangle shape in sky

01/10/2010 Norwich 17.00 4 lights seen in diamond shape (as above – another set of witnesses)

01/10/2010 Worcester 17.30 1 bright red glowing object, moving very quickly in a straight horizontal path across the sky direction of north to south cylindrical and rounded in shape no noise.

01/10/2010 Worcester 22.30 2 red ball coming from the south.. 1 ball shaped object came first No sound, then veered sharply towards the east. Another red ball then appeared from same direction, following the same pattern as the first

THE ELIZABETH KLARER STORY

By Frances Copeland

Whilst sorting some of Contacts' paperwork a file was brought to my attention by one of our data members which intrigued me and subsequently made me want to investigate further, after a little research I came across this story which readers may find as interesting as I did.

The story of Elizabeth Klarer's Close Encounter appears rather far fetched at first, but after studying the evidence, which although not overwhelming, it does show a ring of sincerity by someone who was trying to tell the world of her experiences with absolute conviction and which does match closely with other existing close encounter stories.

Elizabeth Klarer was born on 1st July 1910 in Natal, South Africa and spent her years on the family farm near the Mooi River in the Drakensberg Mountains

In her younger years she studied at the Trinity College of Music and the Royal Drawing Society in London. From 1925-1927 she studied art and music in Florence, Italy and from 1928 to 1932 she attended Cambridge University where she received a diploma in Meteorology. From 1937 to 1939 she researched meteorological phenomena and during this period she also learnt to pilot light aircraft at the De Havilland Experimental Aircraft Establishment in Hertfordshire. From 1940-46 she served in the South African Air Force. She was a studious, clever, intelligent person as one might say and had achieved a number of awards for her art, music, flying and even equestrian performance.

Her story starts in October 1917 when she claims that she and her sister had their first UFO experience. They were standing on a hill admiring the view of a South African sunset at around 5.30pm when they saw an orange-red ball rushing towards them out of the sky; a meteorite on a collision course with Earth. Suddenly, they saw a round metallic object circle the ball of light three times and then as though with a special power deflect it from its destructive course.

According to one un-named newspaper clipping found on our files it was said that Elizabeth Klarer had run and told her father who remarked at the time "it was probably a meteor"- but she was sure it was an emissary from outer space. Elizabeth although young, was impressed and mystified, and for years she would return regularly to the same spot hoping to see the strange craft again.

In 1933 Elizabeth married Capt. Phillips a test pilot and moved away from the farm. She flew regularly with her husband and one evening in 1937 en route from Durban to Baragwanath in their small De Havilland Leopard Moth, Elizabeth had her second experience of a UFO. This time a blue-white light streaked directly towards their aircraft. She indicated to her husband the approaching light and they both watched its advance. The light levelled out and paced their plane and they were able to detect a circular object behind the light. The colour changed from blue-white to dull gold with a violet glow underneath which eventually turned to red. The craft then shot above them and disappeared. Capt. Phillips was clearly shaken by the experience but not Elizabeth she thought it was both very exciting and intriguing.

Elizabeth during the war years having been trained by the RAF as an observer of aerial phenomenon was commissioned to work for Air Force Intelligence in the UK to do special decoding work. Her marriage ended after the war and she later remarried to Paul Klarer which was not destined to last very long either.

Whilst visiting the family farm on 27th December 1954 (her sister was now running the farm) Elizabeth had her first contact. She had now been divorced twice and aged 44. At 10.00am she heard great excitement outside and rushed out to have a look to see what everyone was pointing at in the sky, it was a beautiful clear day and she hurried up to her favourite hill and saw a brilliant flash from the clouds above. She was aware of an enormous disc-like craft about 19 metres in diameter descending towards her. It then hovered over the southern ridge of the mountain-top.

At first she felt she should run away but then the object stopped about 4 metres from her and just hovered. She could feel the displacement of air around the craft and Elizabeth felt a painful pressure inside her head, and all the time she could hear a soft humming sound. Although unsure of what was happening she was by now quite fascinated by what she was seeing and the urge to run away had been taken over by curiosity.

She described the hull of the ship as flat, rotating around a flattened dome. There were 3 large portholes facing her and the colour of the ship hurt her eyes but once accustomed to its glare, she was able to see into the portholes where startled, she saw a humanoid type figure looking at her.

The figure seemed to have his arms folded across his chest and looked at Elizabeth with no more interest than gazing at the surrounding landscape. He was handsome with a thin ascetic face an aquiline nose and high cheekbones, with fair/white hair. Suddenly when it seemed that the pressure in her head was at bursting point the craft with a blast of hot air rose and disappeared at tremendous speed.

Elizabeth was unable to settle after that, she took her two children back to Johannesburg and tried to settle down again but in Easter 1956 she took the children on holiday to the coast and found a strong compulsion to return to the farm. Unable to resist the urge any longer she returned in haste feeling restless and tense with the knowledge something was waiting for her.

Early in the morning of 7th April 1956 Elizabeth went to her hill, and without any shock or surprise she saw the huge metallic spacecraft resting on the ground in a dip on the top of the hill. There also was the spaceman waiting outside the craft almost as if he was expecting her.

Upon closer contact she could see he was older than she first thought and he was extremely tall almost 2 metres high. His hair was white at the temples and worn quite long for the 50's his face was deeply lined his eyes a clear grey which seemed slanted upwards, his cheekbones very prominent and high. He wore a cream garment which was a like an all in one piece suit, it appeared light and comfortable the trousers were tight to his legs and finished to the ankles. The neckline was like a polo neck and finished at the wrists. She noted that the suit shimmered in the evening light and took on a silver appearance.

Elizabeth offered her hands and the spaceman took Elizabeth's proffered hands in his and said "You are not afraid this time?"

Looking into his eyes Elizabeth had no fear she completely trusted him and felt very calm. She was taken through the doorway of the craft into a large circular cabin. There was also a second man inside the craft. He was the same height but seemed more darker in complexion and more muscular. He just smiled at Elizabeth, his teeth were very white and perfect and he too seemed of a greater age than first thought by her. The second man pressed a button on a console and the door shut and so did all the portholes, for a few seconds Elizabeth had doubts and panicked as to what she was doing, leaving her family on the farm and friends but this was only momentary, as she became assured all would be well and she had to put complete trust in these two strange men, it was said to her in telepathy she realised later.

The spaceman took her arm and guided her towards the centre of the cabin there were two semi-circular seats with a lens between them and he urged her to look through the lens. At the same time she could feel a slight vibration beneath her feet and hear a slight humming sound around her. She watched through the lens and could see that the craft was moving rapidly away from Earth. Her view stretched for immense distances and was very clear indeed. It was explained to her that they were 1600 kilometres above the Earth and that the lens that she was looking into was very powerful and could see through solids - either wood, brick walls, buildings even into cellars deep in the highest tower block. The sight through the lens was of tremendous clarity and Elizabeth could see the blue colour of Earth so clearly.

The light in the cabin was as if it was daylight although no actual source of light could be seen, the floor and walls were a soft rose hue. She was assured by the welcoming spaceman that there was nothing to be nervous about and that he knew all about her. He introduced himself as AKON. He was an astrophysicist and his mission involved research on many planets beyond his home system and that this particular spacecraft was one of many from their fleet of reconnaissance craft which used a Mother-ship anchored in space as a base.

Their journey continued straight into space where Akon indicated when they were approaching the Mother-ship, this was also known as a Scientific Survey Ship. The two ships were connected by an expanding funnel which sealed to the hull of Akon's ship. The huge mother-ship was filled with men and women dressed in uniforms similar to those worn by the two men in the smaller craft. They were friendly smiling people who greeted Elizabeth courteously.

Elizabeth was given food and drink and told how they grew their food by hydroponics and that they had to be self supporting in space. She saw pictures of the planet from which they originated from called Meton which was $4\frac{1}{2}$ light years away - it was shown as all very peaceful and tranquil. Elizabeth learned that the spaceships made long journeys into space and that their speeds were unlimited, they moved easily and regularly from one solar system to another, they did admit that moving from one Galaxy to another posed a few problems for them.

It was explained to her that their concern for mass panic on Earth was one reason why they only revealed themselves to certain people and nearly always on a one to one basis and not en masse choosing quiet locations almost isolated places at times. It helped them to interact with the life forms of the planet without the need for military intervention.

Elizabeth had contact with Akon on several occasions and she fell in love with him and he with her. As a result in November 1957 they became lovers and she subsequently became pregnant. During the next few months being with child she had to endure harassment, especially from American intelligence forces and on one occasion she was almost kidnapped by the Russians who wanted to capture the future space child. She spent the last four months of her pregnancy on Meton where she was looked after and gave birth to a son called Ayling. Ayling is still believed to live with his father on the planet Meton. Unfortunately owing to the vibrations of the magnetic field being different on Meton than Earth, her heart was unable to adjust to the new pressures and she was forced to return to Earth after 4 months. This resulted in her having to have constant medication when she did return and it posed a problem for her for the rest of her life.

The planet itself was a kind of Utopia unaffected by pollution. There was no crime, money was not needed, they were all vegetarian and motherhood was looked on as something special. There were no marriages but a life long partnership was deemed to be normal. She claimed she was still able to keep in telepathic communication with Akon and Ayling at all times, and she has even received holographic images of both him and her son so as to keep in contact.

Explaining some of the attributes of the spaceship Akon explained to Elizabeth that the need to rise slowly from Earth was due to her getting used to the feeling. When moving from one dimension to another she had to get used to everything including the electrical-gravity which controlled everything in the craft, even to her corpuscles within her body. She felt a tingling sensation when moving from one dimension to another. When the spaceship was powered the outside of the ship was loaded with energy which in turn surrounded the whole craft and because the Ship relied entirely on energy no bolts or screws were required. The matter of the ship fuses to make a combination of matter and anti-matter. The equator of the ship creates a vacuum which makes the ship weightless. It therefore moves forward without any effort and maximum speeds can be produced. He did explain that other operations of the space ship were far too complicated for her to understand.

The ship is created in space - from pure light energy into substance and it takes naturally the celestial form. They then bring the ship to the surface of the planet and construct the interior. The whole skin of the ship is created in space in order that this atomic structure of the skin of the ship is conducive to energizing. That's how you get the power and the different colours. It is not like a metal exterior at all it is more like porcelain. It is made of an atomic substance from pure light energy which is the ultimate particle.

In 1958 we have in Contact's files a letter signed by Donald E Keyhoe Director of NICAP showing that there had been an exchange of UFO material from Elizabeth to Nicap during this period.

Dear Mrs. larer:

We are eagerly awaiting your material and a few informations requested in our letters of April 11th, and June 19th but they remained unanswered.

We do hope you are all right, may be enjoying a deserved summer vacation somewhere around the world.

As far during this summer we are working on our analyses your material would be essential as far we are working on the Adamski type spacecrafts' analysis and on the last week we received from the Belgian Ministry of Defense genuine material which has absolute type identity with yours.

Please send us your material as mentioned in your letter Air Mail -Registered. After a short period of time (max 2 weeks) your requested pictures after copying will be returned with check covering your expenses.

Two weeks ago we received genuine color pictures of Washington D.C. sighting. Spacecrafts in formation behind the Capitol.

Many thanks your kind attention to our request

Yours truly,

Colman VonKeviczky

PS: Please don't forget to send us a color picture of yours. If possible you on the location of the sighting.

29 November, 1972

Dear Madame:

I am very, very sorry delaying by my answer your kind letter, dated on September 17, and your air mail package containing your valuables, which arrived in safety one month later, on the end of October.

The real reason of my delay, that on 1st of November my only sister arrived from Hungary with her husband for a one month visit of USA, and we were busy with them showing everything possible.

On the other side of the token, I was waiting for the enclosed article which delayed in the editor's office longer as one month, on account of collecting informations of our activity regarding the grave discrediting material issued against the US government's misrepresentation of the public.

First of all many thanks mentioning me, our network at your interview issued to the Sunday Times, exclusive looking magazine. Mainly I am greatly obliged to you, your education detailed in the article and in your manuscript, as far it is the most important factor in your case especially at the presentation of our analysis on your experience before the United Nations. It is schemed on the next session period of the UN General Assembly on the fall of 1973.

Further thanks your kind donated pictures and for the genuine prints of the spacecrafts. They are fascinating. It is a great pity, that the 8x10 color enlargement (on the front page of the Sunday Times) doesn't present the full size of the craft, which picture has a massive evidence, that the galactic spacecrafts are physical, and they are using and emitting a magnetic field blanquet for the reason of invisibility and defense within our aerospace. I would be very grateful to you having an other copy (full negative image size) illustrating the whole craft as on the front page of the Sunday Times.

Enclosed please find a $ 10.00 check in advance, regarding we have at present very serious expenses for the project, but we will straighten out our bill during the month of January.

Please accept dear Madame Klarer our best wishes for the coming Holiday Seasons, we remained

Yours truly

By 1959 Elizabeth Klarer wrote a book called "Breaking the Light Barrier" it was an autobiography and it was published in Swedish and German. An Afrikaans publisher had expressed interest but publishers in both South Africa and Britain told her they will publish it only as a science fiction. This she would not allow. "Its all true so why should it be published as fiction. Perhaps when I am dead they'll publish my book in English" she said.

In 1960 both the Royal Air Force and the American Air Force issued booklets on flying saucers - both agreeing that they doubted their existence but based on witness statements and photographs at the time

In May 19th, 1963 A reporter from the Johannesburg Sunday Tribune wrote an article saying that Elizabeth Klarer had made a statement that Men from outer space are living in South Africa and that they mingle among the crowds all the time. She was very much to the fore on UFO sightings and was not worried about speaking openly on UFOs, although at the time NICAP was fighting a world censorship of flying saucers to which Elizabeth was a member. She stated she was concerned with bringing the truth to the public hinting at an international ban on talk of flying saucers because world authorities did not want to spread panic.

In January 1968 The Library of Congress in Washington DC wrote to Elizabeth asking for her co-operation in support of a study of the UFO phenomenon by the University of Colorado, the Library of Congress was preparing a bibliography of worldwide literature on the subject and wished for a copy of her book and they also requested for her original manuscript be deposited in the Library's collection. It was later forwarded to the Library in December 1977.

Elizabeth took on an exchange of letters with all persons with a negative as well as a positive view on UFOs and from The Star, Johannesburg on Monday Feb 10th 1969 she took the editor of the newspaper to task stating that the USAF were putting up a smoke screen regarding the sightings of UFOs. She was not in the least surprised that the Condon Report ended on a negative response to this phenomena but that she had clear evidence that these things do exist and that the scientific interest shown by the University of Colorado asking her for her co-operation in support of a study including her original manuscripts and photographs was proof that there were still a need for confirmation.

Taken from a newspaper clipping by Hilary Prendini (paper unknown) Elizabeth had just recently returned from an international UFO congress in West Germany where she presented a paper on her idea of using light as a means to propel spaceships. "Her thesis is that light is a secondary manifestation of gravity waves travelling at speed and as such would be an obvious means of propulsion".

This was then confirmed by the Weekend Argus 6th December 1975 when Elizabeth Klarer spoke up by claiming "she had the key to the world's energy crisis - but the earth will benefit from her knowledge only when mankind is spiritually ready to use it in a constructive way" this was spoken at the 11th International UFO congress at Wiesbaden, W. Germany. Elizabeth said the key - a mathematical formula for instant travel based on the harmonic interaction between the speed of light and intensified anti gravity would not be understood by earth's scientists for at least 30 years. This knowledge of highly advanced physics which will solve all our energy problems and give us the most fantastic propulsion system and a road to the stars, cannot be acquired by mankind on this planet until he is spiritually ready to use it in a constructive way, not a destructive way like the atom bomb. It is the reverse process of Einstein's famous $E=MC^2$ theory. She had no problem about the formula being stolen as only when one has a grasp of highly advanced physics far more advanced than earth science – could it be understood.

At the Congress Elizabeth was the only woman out of 200 delegates to produce a paper therefore must be considered as a fore runner for the advancement of UFO studies with her amazing theories of light propulsion. She received a standing ovation.

In 1983 she addressed the House of Lords and her paper was also read at the United Nations. Her paper on "light propulsion theory system" was regarded as highly classified material and great care was taken to keep it as such. It was intelligently written with meticulous care on a very scientific level and it was obvious from all the correspondence she received from scientific centres around the globe she was taken very seriously. Elizabeth had co-operated with top scientists throughout the world on exchanging information about interstellar spacecraft and was an acknowledged expert in her field

Elizabeth never went back to Meton, but her beliefs never deviated from what she said was the truth and she was consistent throughout her life. She died in 1994 of cancer.

by Geoff Ambler

We regret to inform readers of the death of CIUFOR member, Denise Arnold, at the very young age of 44. Denise supplied illustrations which were published in Awareness Vol 30 No 2. Although unknown to most people in ufology, Denise had some interesting experiences which she conveyed uniquely to CIUFOR, so it is thought to be of value in assessing exactly what happened to her along the way culminating in her untimely death through cancer as far as we can gather.

Originally Denise contacted us in 2001 having reported a UFO experience from 1998? while walking home from Aylesbury to Halton, Bucks, alongside a canal in the early hours. She drew what she thought she saw and this was used as the cover for Vol 30 No 2. Later on in 2009, she recalls that the UFO resembled the Large Hadron Collider which, of course, had not been built at the time. At a meeting held at a pub in Wendover, Bucks, a rather nervous Denise supported by a male friend was interviewed by Geoff Ambler and Mike Soper. In a rather complicated exchange, Denise stated she had reported the UFO to a local police station and because of her odd behaviour, had police visits and had eventually been "sectioned" under the Mental Health Act. It was fairly clear that CIUFOR was only getting a partial reconstruction of events, but Denise then persuaded us to write to her solicitors to explain how UFOs were reported and that her general demeanour was not particularly "odd".

It became apparent to Geoff that Denise was surrounded by invasive energies that were harmful and this was explained at a short subsequent meeting. As this latter encounter was a bit tense, no further contact was made at the time. Amongst the correspondence received in 2009, Denise describes seeing green, yellow and white lights whilst walking alongside the Grand Union canal presumably on the same occasion she saw a structured UFO. Several weeks later she was in a music shop in Aylesbury when she viewed a CCTV which showed herself to be surrounded by a white haze/mist. Other people in the store did not exhibit this effect which was not visible to the naked eye. Denise states she was not wet and giving off steam, nor was she sweating - proof perhaps of what was picked up at the 2001 meeting, though not mentioned at the time.

It was not until early 2009 that the connection was renewed when CIUFOR received a letter from Denise explaining she had moved to New Milton, Hants from Buckinghamshire and was mentioning the Hadron Collider resembled the UFO she had seen. Having replied to this letter and welcoming her to the group, Denise subsequently began writing once, twice or even three times a week through the rest of the year until October. All the letters were hand written in block capitals and gave vivid pictures of her mental and physical health problems in addition to claims to be able to "remote view", and she was experiencing the "hum" problem which was discussed in recent magazines. We asked if other people in New Milton had come across the "hum", but it appeared Denise was leading a reclusive existence, seldom went out and was in touch with few people. Some audio tapes were mailed to us explaining the "hum" was present on these as and when it occurred. After checking them over it became apparent that Denise was recording an impression of what she heard - I.E mimicking the sound which was probably in her head alone and could not be heard in an open environment. Possible conclusions were that Denise was surrounded with bad energies in a plume that extended outside her house and might have acted as a receiver for mobile phone signals and other man-made electronic detritus.

There was a shock in store when a large consignment of medical records of a highly personal nature arrived at P.O Box 23. These detailed all the history of Denise's medical and mental problems, many dating back to the time she was sectioned in Bucks. Every drug that had been placed into her was referred to and cross-examined for side effects. Denise was no pushover and accused the NHS authorities of wrecking her body naming unpleasant outcomes such as excessive body hair appearing. (Of course if the sectioning order has been applied then presumably the patient has no choice as to what drugs are used to alleviate the problems).

These papers were quickly returned, but others from the local health surgeries continued to be copied and forwarded as they were issued. Denise was in constant conflict with her own G.P in New Milton and had ignored warnings about having smear tests and had walked out of a body scan at Southampton hospital due to extreme pain during the process. She mentioned a "lump" that she could feel in her bowel region right through the summer. It did not occur to her that this was likely to be a very dangerous cancer, that was growing in size all the time. By September she described it as the size of a "cornish pasty" and was experiencing a hernia in addition.

In mid-April 2009, an attempt was made to "section" Denise again at New Milton. She returned from local shops to find medics, police and ambulance men all waiting in the road. However Denise responded well to an on-the-spot interrogation from a psychiatrist who declared she was sane enough not to be detained under the Mental Health Act. This was shortly after she had received help to remove the "raging energies" that surrounded her, so might be considered a success for CIUFOR advice.

Later on a number of doctors, psychiatrists and specialist nurses tried to speak to Denise at the front door of her New Milton home, but mostly failed to gain entry and were rudely rebuffed. Considering the time and trouble these people had taken, Denise should have been aware how seriously they regarded her problems. A common excuse was that they would spread Swine Flu, which as we now know, was a greatly exaggerated event during 2009. It is fair to say that Denise regarded National Health Service professionals as "satanic" and was prepared to write to UFO specialists more than to people who could resolve her physical problems.

Denise had paranoid fears about "bogeymen" in the news and continually mentioned the possibility that Al Qaeda was operating around New Milton - possibly creating the "hum". It was pointed out that the IRA were far more dangerous and widespread 25 years ago. She also had a fetish about spelling, continually correcting letters from the surgery and even pointing out a few mistakes in Awareness - a hangover from her schooldays where she described being put in a corner with the dunces cap on for poor spelling. On the other hand, Denise was deep thinking and creative - a truth seeker who forwarded to us interesting articles on animal behaviour and ideas on ancient civilisations. Her quirky sense of humour was apparent in some of the cartoons she submitted and the last work received by CIUFOR is shown prior to this article as a tribute to Denise.

There were no holds barred with Denise's personal life and quite willingly told us she had been celibate for 8 years; had been raped by a previous boyfriend in Buckinghamshire; and had been forced to move away from there as she had been accused of "threats against relations". Her father had left many years ago and was believed to have sired many children in the States. She described how police had called to tell her that her mother had died at the end of 2008, so they were clearly not in touch. The only other relation mentioned was a half-sister. There were also suggestions she had been sexually abused as a child which may have led to her troubled adult life.

By late September it was clear that Denise was in great pain from the growth inside her. A letter from surgeons at Southampton hospital (and forwarded to CIUFOR of course) pointed out in the most frank language that she "almost certainly had bowel cancer, also affecting the liver". I had to reply that she only had weeks to sort this out - to bite the bullet and have the surgery necessary even if it meant going on to cocktails of drugs which she loathed. One more letter arrived in early October and then - nothing. After waiting 3 months, having posted on several other items without response and having no phone number for the New Milton address, a decision was made to contact the surgery where Denise was registered. Her former G.P rang to say Denise had died probably at the end of 2009 - the reasons were fairly obvious. We have no idea how or where she was put to rest.

I regret this has been harrowing reading, but the correspondence took up a great deal of time last year and lessons must be learnt. The realities of physical deterioration must not be masked by fears of the past or deluded fantasies. Maybe Denise had had enough of life in any case and felt so aggrieved by the NHS treatment in the past "sectioning", that she was not prepared to submit to them any longer. Let us hope she has found peace wherever she is now.

SKINWALKERS EXIST AMONG HUMAN POPULATIONS

by Michael Soper

Despite apparent sophistication the anglosaxon sphere is often quite foolish and has the habit of manufacturing military systems that represent difficult ongoing problems - for example the top secret STEALTH aircraft. A new Stealth plant has just been revealed after the French succeeded in printing a picture of the Lockheed Martin RQ 170 Sentinel flown out of Tonopah by the 30th reconnaissance squadron. The USAF official statement is that the RQ 170 is a currently developing stealthy aircraft system to provide support to forward deployed combat forces.

One can also consider the old question of SPECIES STEALTH, a theme that much dominated thought in the Middle Ages - there for some ludicrous system related to the concept of the Jackal, a humanlike creature that in fact lives in society and is a predator.

Another phrase is SKINWALKER favoured by the American Indians. The skinwalker lives in human society by changing or subverting or perverting all the people they meet from the first moment of their meeting, and some say this predates settlers into tribal native populations. Hence a person can be unconsciously subverted, killed and eaten in spirit or personality terms and becomes a slavish, secretive also ran. The skinwalker gains strength from this and moves onto the next victim - hence the skin that is shed secretly at each engagement is the victim's as they reverse all the characteristics they had at that first "fatal" meeting. Tropical populations are often petrified of this type of thing, though since the Middle Ages, this type of fear has not featured much in England. The skinwalkers in the UK adopt (apparently) a standard clone like appearance in the male form a bit like the late prime minister, Edward Heath (according to the ideas of David Icke), so they might be called here "Heathoids" for reference perhaps.

Note some have been told in connection to meetings with E.Ts that they should not don glasses, since the E.Ts destroy them, and those having had partial or complete abduction experiences can develop the odd trait of continually losing or breaking their glasses, and many find unless they keep on a hot filament bulb, their glasses break mysteriously in the night - an odd folk fact. This fact is completely mysterious. Here one may try to find the rational cause for the optical effects and there is one obvious possibility - the E.Ts desire to hide their own need for artificial optical help, since they consider this a vulnerability. This is common in human society - some hide illiteracy, some hide the odd inability to stroll alone in the countryside any distance and try to put all others off.

Hence the changes the skinwalker induces in others consists of their desperation to hide in the culture and not be noticed. The skinwalker remains undetected - the skin that becomes sloughed off is that of the victim and has actually been devoured. Since those that change into the modified form (and do not use surgery) typically survive only briefly (often succumbing to a sex disease) may be due to contagion by organisms like amoeba from the non-human Heathoid is naturally to remove the previous hiding distraction, once the present one has been located. Thus the skinwalker leaves a series of victims, strolling from each to the next. Some Heathoids as a byplay modify societies or even countries into cruel reversed parodies of their former nature, and thus the jolly layers of adipose tissue these support in later life are not actually funny at all and consist on the spiritual plane of the selfconstruction by cannibalism. In the minds of the Indians these definitely exist and some may have arrived on the ships bearing settlers. Some looking back into their family history may suspect skinwalker actions at various points (though they normally do not kill directly). Note this is the type of thing outlandish author, David Icke, has been pilloried for saying, yet he may well be correct about this very negative force.

Quite commonly more religious people say - how can God permit this? Just as dogs infect other animals with diseases originating in their excrement, changing the victim into easier prey (and humans are supposed to care for the animals on Earth), this type of thing has an almost spiritual dimension although some very dramatic emotional effects.

However there are some rules, more to prevent finger pointing and vigilanteism:

- (1) Children are not normally targetted.
- (2) Church married couples are not normally targetted.

These seem to be the rules, though I do not know if it also applies to the concept of "partners". In the UK, the recent immigration of about one in ten of the population has made the forces that monitor this somewhat confused, and presumably Heathoids and their feminine counterparts (possibly shrimplike and light haired) are becoming more active.

(EDITOR: The skinwalker notion can be related to "shape shifters" and "werewolves". The latter is a favourite of film makers who compete for the most gruesome metamorphosis between handsome chap and grizzly monster. Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde is another good fictional example, but in these cases our victim normally returns to normality after a night of rampaging.

In real life the Sherman Ranch in Utah, US, close to the Ute Indian reservation is popularly known as the Skinwalker Ranch, having a 50 year history for paranormal and UFO activity. Multiple cattle mutilations have occurred in as little as 20 minutes and reportedly since the 1960s. It is rumoured that Navajo Indians actually sent skinwalkers as a curse. The ranch is off limits to the Ute and they say the "the ranch is in the path of the skinwalker" who lives in a cave in Dark Canyon nearby. Much of the facts and rumours about this place has been brought to light by investigative reporter, George Knapp, who gave an electrifying lecture on "Hunt for the Skinwalker" at the 2006 Laughlin, Nevada, UFO Conference).

ASTRONOMY NOTES 2010

Please find details of the positions of the 5 nearest planets in 2010. The most likely to be confused with UFOs are Mars - very prominent early in the year but then fading, and Venus, seen as an evening star from March-October and before dawn November-December.

Four eclipses will be seen: Jan 15th - annular eclipse of Sun; June 26th - Partial eclipse of Moon; July 11th - total eclipse of Sun; Dec 21st - total eclipse of Moon. Only the last named can be seen from the UK as a partial eclipse.

Mercury
 The solar system's smallest planet flits back and forth from morning sky to evening sky several times a year. It never strays far from the Sun in our sky, so it's tough to find in the glare. From the northern hemisphere, it is visible in the morning sky this year in February, May and June, and September. The late-year appearance is the best because the planet will stand highest above the horizon. In the evening, Mercury is best seen in April, July and August, and November. The spring appearance is best, in part because Mercury will approach to within a few degrees of much-brighter Venus.

Venus
 Venus, the dazzling morning or evening star, outshines all the other stars and planets in the night sky. It moves into the evening sky in March, low in the west as darkness begins to fall. It will climb into better view through the spring and into summer. It will disappear from view in October as it passes between Earth and the Sun. It will return to view as a "morning star" by early November, and remain there for the rest of the year.

Mars
 Mars puts on its best showing early in the year, when it shines like a brilliant orange "star." The planet is at opposition in late January, when it passes closest to Earth and shines brightest. As the year progresses, it will fade as it moves farther from Earth. It will disappear from view in the Sun's glare in December.

Jupiter
 The largest planet in our solar system begins the year hidden in the Sun's glare. It will emerge in the morning sky by late March, when it will shine as a bright beacon low in the east shortly before sunrise. As the year progresses, Jupiter will rise earlier and grow brighter, eventually moving into the evening sky. Its best appearance comes in September, when it lines up opposite the Sun in our sky. It will shine at its brightest for the year and remain visible all night.

Saturn
 Saturn looks like a bright golden star. It spends the entire year in the constellation Virgo, the virgin. Saturn is at its best in late March, when it's closest to Earth. It disappears behind the Sun in September, then returns to view in the morning sky in late October.
