MEETING THE UFO OCCUPANTS : A LOOK AT SOME EXTREMES IN PERSONAL EXPERIENCES, by Don Worley

Some UFO contactees end up unscathed and quietly puzzled after their experience; for others it's a nightmarish thing that won't let go; and for a few it's a thrilling experience.

Part time preacher John Callie* had prayer with his sister's family in northern Kentucky, then headed north toward his home in Indiana. He stopped at Greensburg, Indiana on this sunny September afternoon in 1973, and placed some religious tracts in autos parked there. He was on State Road 3 near Milroy when he noticed, in his rear view mirror, what appeared to be a dark green car with fenders like barrels. Suddenly it was very close to his rear window, and now looked like a van, but had a large curved windshield. A buzzing sound filled the air and he observed two indistinct human-like figures with shoulder length hair inside the object. There was a brilliant flash and the buzzing ceased. The witness continued to watch the scene on his rear window by looking in his rear view mirror. Suddenly it looked like water filled his rear window. Then what resembled eagles moved across the top of the window and he felt the sensation of flying into the air.

Next, he found himself looking at the inside of an indirectly lighted room. Three ordinary-looking men in grey clothes came up into the room - two of them wearing hospital surgery-type face masks. This scene faded and was replaced by a distant aerial view of an earth-like surface. A planet or moon came up between two mountains in the distance.

Following this, he viewed a water-covered surface from a lower altitude. Situated in the middle of this surface was a huge dark cross-like area. Two man-like figures emerged from the center of this area, and became luminous. They moved toward him as if they were on a conveyor belt, and steadily increased in size. The dark-eyed figures were dressed in tight-fitting suits that had a cloak and sash tied in front. The on-coming figures seemed about to burst right out of his rear view mirror, and for the first time his intense desire to watch gave way to fear. At this moment he was released as his eyes dropped from the mirror and he found himself looking at a slow-moving Amish buggy as he sped down the highway.

The preacher's radio and watch malfunctioned after this event. He does not know with certainty how much time he could have lost on his journey home. He thought he was driving about 50 mph, and he was sure he travelled $\frac{3}{4}$ of a mile during the contact.

As usual, I am full of questions and completely mystified about all this. What prevented the automobile from crashing during the undetermined time the preacher experienced this? Did he really watch all this on his rear window, or could the scenes have been rapidly infused into his brain?

In checking his car, I discovered that there is about $\frac{1}{4}$ of each side of his rear window not visible in his rear view mirror. Could he have been physically removed from the road as the flying sensation suggests? Or do we have an alien induced out-of-the-body projection? Did his religious orientation affect a few of the scenes? Why did all this happen anyway? If he was supposed to get a message, this failed and it may still be locked in his mind. In the puzzling Callie case we have a representative sample of all the psychic-like contacts that occur in our population.

Most contactees in our next group seem to possess above normal ESP. Recently I learned what happened to Mrs. Vera Jones* when she lived in Tacoma, Washington in 1968. This woman has apparently still not recovered from what happened to her then.

Vera should have been in bed, but instead she sat in her kitchen, looking out the window. She had a problem - a husband who drank and mistreated her. Out near the street light she was amazed to see what looked like three large bubbles float down. She hurried outside and was watching when a big round black object with bright, beautiful, red lights came in over the church across the street.

Vera rushed back into her house and peered out a window. Three white-skinned tall men, wearing skin-tight divers' suits, were standing near the window. They had handsome faces and spoke in a very pleasant, masculine English. The method of communication was mind to mind and not vocal. Here is what Mrs. Jones said happened next.

"The spacemen asked me if I wanted to go for a ride. They said they were from Saturn. They said they had been watching me for some time and that I was a goddess. Then they got mean and said they were going to take my kids away from me. I asked them how they could do such a thing. Then I blew up at them and they went away."

In the following days the witness began to hear the spacemen's voices in her front room. They seemed to be discussing her husband's treatment of her and the fact that she was a goddess. Once she heard what sounded like swords clashing. She heard them talking about her as she took a bath. At night in bed she felt like something was making love to her but could not see anything. Distraught and full of fear for her children and herself, she went to a nearby fire station, and began to tell the men there about what was happening to her. They soon called the police, and it was not long before she found herself in the local hospital for the insane.

It is in the hospital that we see things supposedly happen that even more seem to indicate that Mrs. Jones was a mentally deranged person in the throes of severe hallucinations. Certainly, we can easily see how this person may have mentally moved into a world of fantasy to meet her needs. But should we be this hasty and positive in our judgement? Did her drunken husband or the arrival of the spacemen precipitate her plunge into a world of terror?

Sometimes contactees find that they have greatly increased ESP after they have met the UFO occupants. They sense, and are, the focal point of strange sights and effects not formerly perceived in their pre-contact life. Also, sexual developments in contact claims are not unheard of.

And a final question, if Vera is "crazy", why are her initial claims so corroborative with other UFO contact descriptions? She had no pre-1968 UFO interest. An experienced Western psychologist examined Vera recently. His tests indicate that she is still emotionally upset, and he urged her to seek psychological counselling. Like me, he has no firm conviction either way concerning her contact claims.

Although by far the majority of contactees' encounters are distressing to the individual, there are a few lucky individuals who find meeting the Ufonauts delightful. Dean Anderson* is certainly well within the ranks of these "happy contactees". Dean is a forty-one year-old Door County native who is a grounds-keeper at Peninsula State Park in Wisconsin.

One November night in 1973 Dean had his first encounter with a UFO when it hovered over Memorial Drive road in front of him. His car started jerking and later retained the sulphur odour which was present. Burn marks remained behind on the road.

The State Park has a beautiful golf course, and it is Dean's job to keep it meticulously trimmed. Often he is at work before sun up. In August 1975, a large 50-foot high grey UFO came in over the number 11 green. It flashed red and green lights, had a gold band around its centre, and had what Dean calls three condenser balls underneath it.

In July 1976, a similar craft landed on the practice fairway as Dean cut grass in full moonlight. Three figures emerged from the craft, went under it, and a pounding was heard. Then they quickly returned to the craft and it flew off. Three circular depressions remained behind in the fairway.

On July 22nd, as the ground-keeper cut grass, an orange glowing craft approached, and emitted a beam which caused him to have a headache and numbness in his extremities for a period of 24 hours. Dean believes he just got in the way as it flashed the beam toward another craft in the distance.

In August, Dean saw a craft in the distance but did not connect it with a figure he thought was a motorcycle troublemaker on the number 3 green. He spotted this figure in his mower lights and began to chase him on the mower. When 10 feet distant, Dean saw the tall, long-nosed figure was dressed in a shiny space suit with a black helmet. A dog's head insignia, with three circles, was on each pocket of the suit. On the ladies' number 13 tee the alien's helmet lit up and his belt started glowing reddish. A beam flashed in front of Dean, instantly stopping his mower, and a second beam numbed him. Then a small glowing craft swooped down and the spaceman quickly floated into it through a small door. Dean has photos of the spaceman's footprints made in the soil at the spot.

On August 23rd at 4.15 a.m., Dean had reached the number 12 green and was busy cutting. A large orange craft came down nearby, and two figures came out a door and moved down a beam of light just like it was an elevator. The two figures positioned themselves in front of the mower lights. Dean got off the mower and one figure approached him. The alien held out his hand and said, "We come in peace." Dean lightly shook his hand. Thus began Dean Anderson's contact with Sunar from Jupiter, and Treena from Saturn.

In a voice that sounded like Andy Williams, Sunar explained that they were here on a mission to collect flora and fauna. He also said that they had watched Dean and knew that his personal attributes made him suitable for contact. In addition, he explained that the long-nosed spaceman Dean had chased was Muton from Mars whose mission was to observe earthly civic and religious groups, including the one Dean belonged to.

Both Sunar and Treena looked young, but said they were 200 and 100 years-old respectively. Sunar was about 5ft.6ins. tall, 160 lbs with copper-coloured skin. His suit was a shiny yellow with black helmet and boots. Treena had on a light blue space-suit, black boots and an orange-red helmet with metallic flakes in it. Once Treena removed her suit (I have not learned why) and stood there in an undergarment of light-green glistening material. This must have been something to see since she is about 5 ft. tall, 120 lbs, with light tan skin, grey eyes, shoulder length hair and resembled Elizabeth Taylor in her youth according to Dean.

Dean's space friends presented him with a small gold-coloured amulet. One side has a bird resembling a dove of peace, and the other has the inscription "Peace and Friendship Forever, Treena and Sunar". Near the names are drawings of their home planets.

After about 20 minutes of conversation the pair walked toward their craft. The beam of light appeared, they stepped on it, and up they went.

What are we to think about this contact claim? Is it all a total fabrication? Thus far I do not believe that it is a colossal lie; however, I do believe that it can be the aliens who are the deceivers. Or, can I be mistaken and there are a few types of UFO occupants who are 'good' and speak only the truth. Who can say?

In conversation with the Andersons I learned that they are utterly sincere, and one had better not doubt the honesty and motives of their space friends. They implicitly trust them. Dean still claims meetings with Treena, and was supposed to get her verdict on answering the many questions I have. In trying to determine if Dean's friends are really there or some mental image induced by the beam alteration of his brain, I asked such questions as, "Did you see them breathe?" Dean said, "Yes, and I have even lifted them!"

Dean said he knew he would be ridiculed when he told all that he had encountered to reporter, Keeta Steeb, but knew it had to be told. He is his same quiet self and has never sought to capitalize on it.

In the final analysis, the panorama of all the different contacts claimed by persons in our world present us with a riddle far removed from the perimeters of 20th century science. It would be wise to investigate and document these impossible claims. Contained within the experiences of the contactees, be they puzzling, fearful or pleasant, may be the answers to man's presence in the Universe.

"SPACESHIPS OF THE BIBLE" by Dr. Ronald P. Anjard

Consider that our universe is not what most people are taught to believe. Consider that our universe is filled with inhabitants somewhat similar to the peoples on earth. Consider that these "universe travellers" have made many trips to Earth. Consider that there have been many civilizations on Earth which have been so highly advanced that they exceeded what is presently known.

Consider the following possibility: the ancient gods and lords are not mythical characters nor were they supernatural. They were "supernormal" - "superhuman", and had a "super-technology".

Many of the miracles of the Old Testament are actually recordings of the spaceships which were piloted by the group of space travellers known as "Jehovah". These entities protected their chosen Earth tribes with their own technology and spaceships. The parting of the Red Sea was simply energy from a spacecraft which repelled the waters to allow some to pass through and then to be closed upon the pursuing Egyptians.

Try simply substituting the word "spaceship" for the word "Jehovah" or "Lord" in the Old Testament stories. It was terrible to touch the "Lord" because of the high vibration energies of the spaceship. Often the ancient writers confused the spaceship commander or "Lord" of the spaceship with the spaceship itself. They speak of the Commander or Lord walking with a particular person and at other times the "Lord" is flying overhead - creating fire, thunderbolts, and other disturbances of a magnificent or terrible nature. While individual specific cases in the Bible have been described by authors, this material is intended to consolidate and even broaden the "theory".

These considerations are not intended to in any way detract from the value of the Bible or to detract from the concept of a universal God. In fact, it may strengthen the belief of some by showing even a more awesome universe. However, the considerations are presented to help further explain past mysteries and to better interrelate others - especially those dealing with the theme of "ancient astronauts".

ANCIENT UFOs ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE BERMUDA TRIANGLE, by Dr. Ronald P. Anjard.

There are still many speculations concerning the Bermuda Triangle. Some question if there really are resulting phenomena. Others have theorized that there is a similar triangle in the Pacific. Still others describe a complete set of triangles or other similar shapes that cover our entire planet. But few have tried to determine what has caused these weird effects.

The answer goes back into antiquity - into times lost. Contrary to popular belief, mankind has long been on terra. The secret Hopi legends are that they have existed here as Hopi for over 250,000 years. In the early years, many pyramids were built in various parts of the world - primarily as energy collectors. In the ancient Sanskrit writings of India - research has shown the existence of spaceships somewhat similar to present day air ships. In published Hopi legends, men are described as using flying war shields to attack other cities and those people retaliating by attacking in their own flying war shields. The pyramids were an ancient means of power collection and redistribution. The concept, design and fabrication was primarily conducted through the direct aid of "ancient astronauts" working in close conjunction with mankind as it then existed.

Pyramids were built in various parts of the world as a "total" earth energy system. But the energy generated could not be adequately controlled. As a result, fantastic energy was dissipated through the skies and caused pole shift(s). Enormous cataclyptic land changes then occurred. New lands were born; some old lands sunk into the sea. The submergence of Atlantis was a direct result of these calamitous earth shifts. In fact, the surviving Atlanteans went either to Egypt or east to the Americas. The latter is substantiated by careful analysis of the legends of Native Americans.

Having realised that they had been ineffective in working with earthmen to harness energy, the ancient astronauts attempted to deactivate all the pyramids. The numerous reported energy effects, spirals and other unique analyses at the Pyramid of "Cheops" is just a small indication of the power present at this location. The problem, unfortunately, is that several pyramids could not be de-energized. One is buried in North America... some speculate that it is in the Grand Canyon area. Another "lost" pyramid had been an important part of Atlantis before it sank.

The Bermuda Triangle effect is caused by energy being dispersed from a sunken pyramid that was at one time part of Atlantis. Water conducts electricity and energy while earth and sand function as insulations. This may explain why the lost North American pyramid hardly has been suspected.

Many recent investigations and reports clearly show that the history as we have known it is too simplistic and needs correction. There are many unusual sites, skills and phenomena still unexplained by conventional scientists. Certainly ancient astronauts and ancient Atlantis are not accepted by all yet. But in a recent survey, it was reported that over 50% of the American people believed in UFOs. Ancient astronauts then are plausible, and much work is still being conducted to find the lost continent of Atlantis. When Atlantis is conclusively found, a pyramid will be found too - submerged in the sea - but still ... "alive".

MY ROOTS STARTED IN ATLANTIS63,000 B.C., by Dr. Ronald P. Anjard

It's important that so many are concerned with their heritage. But I'd like to expand this normal concept. My primary roots are based on my own personal experiences throughout many centuries of learning. These previous lifetimes affect my talents, interests, abilities, as well as fears and concerns in this life by an extension of consciousness. True, my present-day experiences are important ... they add to the past to help me progress. But my past lifetimes are truly my most important roots. This may seem to be an unusual approach ... but I have been searching this aspect of self for many years to help understand who and why I am. And this is the true import of searching and finding one's own roots.

Before I describe selected past existences, let me present a broader view of my roots as I know them today. I must add that each of us, in my understanding, has our own roots from which we derive our talents, interests, and fears.

- 1950's .. American, Caucasian, Male; Metallurgical Engineer; author in technology, philosophy, psychology and religion; importer; teacher; active in community religion, politics, and service. Past elected official.
- 1850's .. Canada, Caucasian, Male; Priest with special teaching; a leader, service.
- 1800's .. France, Caucasian, Male; Political organizer to fight corruption in government and church; teacher; had to flee France to Canada.
- 1750's .. England, Caucasian, Male; Metalworker in ship yard.
- 1700's .. West Africa, Black, Male; Slaver (need I say more?).
- 1650's .. Spain, Caucasian, Male; Trader; adventurer; teacher; leader.
- 1600's .. South America, Indian, Male; Inca farmer.
- 1550's .. Russia, Caucasian, Male; difficult life.
- 1450's .. Germany, Caucasian, Male; Farmer.
- 1400's .. Tibet, Oriental, Male; a religious life.
- 1350's .. Mexico, Indian, Male; Aztec who mined gold near Mexico City.
- 1250's .. Southwest (USA), Indian, Female; a Navajo woman who died early in life.
- 1150's .. China, Oriental, Male; Buddhist priest and political organizer.
- 500 - 1000 Several Mayan lifetimes - including priest.
- 300's Roman, Caucasian, Male; Roman soldier.
- 100's Greek, Caucasian, Male; poor farmer.
- 50's B.C. Roman, Caucasian, Male; Roman officer and metal worker for religious wares.
- 1000 - 2500's B.C. Egyptian, Caucasian, Male; several lives including scribe.
- 3700's B.C..... Tibetan, Oriental, Male; Monk, dedicated to spiritual studies.
- 32,650 B.C..... Persian, Male; Son of a "Sultan".
- 63,000 B.C..... Atlantean, Male; as a politician, used power with a heavy hand.

Refer now to the life in Canada, 1850's. Born to a lumberjack and lovely Indian; became a priest and sent to a special school. Was sent to the USA on a Mission. Died about 40 years ago. Now for the life in France as Reanau de Nice about the time of the French Revolution. Because I disagreed with my father's graft and dishonesty, my own ideals were "flamed". Actually formed groups under their own leadership to fight graft in Government and Church. With the great unrest this work had impact and spread in Northern France. With my entire family in danger, fled to Canada. Settled there, raised sheep and traded with Indians.

In Spain as Volair Ramirez about 1650, organized groups and for years travelled as a merchant and adventurer throughout the world. Now, as Mejing Malong in the Himalayan Mountains about 3700 B.C., was chosen to study in a monastery. Here developed spiritual understandings.

In 63,000 B.C., started lives on earth as the child of a union between a highly evolved space being and a lovely earth woman. This agrees with other articles by this author in which the Oahspe and very current archaeological findings suggest that present man is a "super-hybrid".

So here you have it. You'll note that I have been both Male and Female, have been every race and have lived in many areas of the world. Some experiences were good while some were not. You'll see common trends of today's life in many of the past lives. In fact, all the major interests and activities reflect the past very strongly. There are, of course, many other aspects of this continuing consciousness with which we will not deal at this time.

Yes, my parents and their parents left me with important traditions and roots that I truly treasure. But I propose that there are even greater roots. Those roots are those I planted myself, which have nourished and grew. The tree of life is my tree of life and it's your tree of life. When we learn who we were, we can better learn who we are and why. What really counts, though, is how we are Now!

THE "UMMO" AFFAIR : A SHORT SUMMARY, by Ignacio Darnaude Rojas-Marcos.

Since 1965, over twenty professional people (engineers, writers, police officers, civil service employee, university professors, lawyers, priests, etc.) residing in Madrid, Barcelona, Sevilla, Valencia, Bilbao and other Spanish capitals have been receiving under anonymous mailed envelopes hundreds and hundreds of xerox copies of typed folios showing a peculiar anagram resembling the letter "H" with its arms curved and a vertical trace in the middle. The main addressees of such queer documents were Fernando Sesma, Enrique Villagrasa, Rafael Farriols, Antonio Ribera, Dionisio Garrido, Professor Antonio Gallego Fernández, author Alfonso Paso, as well as Aimé Michel and René Fouéré in France, Pedro Romaniuk in Argentina and Gianni Settimo (of "Clypeus" UFO magazine) in Italy. The postage stamps of these already celebrated "UMMO Accounts" appeared cancelled in several Spanish towns and a few of them came from London, Berlin, Stockholm, Paris and Adelaide (Australia).

Catalonian 'ummologist' Rafael Farriols has gathered dozens of UMMO reports concerning physics, cosmology, biology and genetics, Informatic (1), astronautics, theology, parapsychology, Gnoseology (2), Law, psychological war, a theory of space and time, love and sexual behaviour, plus various other subject matters as well as fussy descriptions of their civilisation and everyday life on their alleged "cold star" named "UMMO", and also about their intentions and goals regarding their confessed activities and tasks on our planet Earth. Some of these typewritten memos are highly interesting, such as those entitled: "THE 'IBOZOO UU' OR THE STRUCTURE OF PHYSICAL SPACE, TIME, MASS, ENERGY AND GRAVITY" (a true masterpiece and actual Post-Einsteinian Unified Field Theory); "THE PLURICOSMOS" (the whole 'Multiuniverse' generated by God consists of an infinite number of differentiated and independent universes and their twin 'counter-universes', which co-exist simultaneously in an unimaginably vast and grandiose Creation, and then any thinkable possibility of any nature exists surely on some concrete universe of this endless 'Pluricosmos'); "OUR SPACE- SHIPS" (51 dense pages on their purported complex interstellar vehicles); "LOVE AND MARRIAGE" (male and female emotions, erotic relations, etc., on UMMO); "OUR CONCEPT OF GOD"; "THEORY OF KNOWLEDGE"; "THE BIOGENETIC BASES OF THE COSMOS"; "PARAPSYCHOLOGY"; "OUR FIRST CONTACT WITH EARTHLINGS"; "OUR SOCIAL STRUCTURE"; "OUR RELATIONS WITH EARTH MEN"; "ELECTRONIC COMPUTERS", and so on.

In accordance with this curious literary raw material, "they" come from the planet UMMO in orbit about the star Wolf 424, 14.6 light years away, and disembarked on Earth March 28, 1950 at La Javie (Lower Alps, France). They then lived from 1952 to 1954 as guests of Mrs. Margarita Ruiz de Lihory (aristocrat lady abiding at No. 58 Mayor Street, Albacete city, Spain), and it was here that psychobiological experiments with animals were performed. They held long, informative phone calls with several Spaniards (Enrique Villagrasa, Dionisio Garrido, Dr. Gallego Fernández - head of the Physiology Department of the Complutense University of Madrid - and to whom they gave a sophisticated histological apparatus, three captains of the Pineda Artillery Headquarters in Sevilla, etc.) and also hired an office clerk in Madrid for typing the bulky pile of UMMO papers. It was announced beforehand the landing of an unidentified object with the 'H' UMMO mark on June 1, 1967 at San Jose de Valderas on the outskirts of Madrid, and whose supposed 'snaps' appeared in Ribera-Farriols's book "A PERFECT CASE". It is said that the Central Intelligence Agency has obtained photos and abundant data about UMMO unidentified agents. To date, Spanish investigators have not been able to arrive at any solid conclusions regarding this mysterious, disconcerting, complex and, of course, damned UMMO case.

For three days in June 1971, fifty 'ummophiles' attended the First UMMO Symposium in Madrid in order to hear 30 hours of tape-recorded information; the Second Symposium took place at the Ritz Hotel in Barcelona in May 1973, and was sponsored by worldwide UMMO 'pontifex' Rafael Farriols. Fernando Sesma has printed the book "UMMO, another inhabited planet", and "FLYING SAUCER REVIEW" of London gave to the public several articles on UMMO matters by Antonio Ribera. Now Spanish UFO investigator Señor Antonio Moya Cerpa (San Francisco Javier 4, Castilleja de la Cuesta, Sevilla, Spain) offers to worldwide public opinion an interesting, laborious and comprehensive "UMMO DICTIONARY" based on 403 Ummiti words from UMMO accounts submitted by Señor Ignacio Darnaude Rojas-Marcas, in order that other experts in the linguistic sciences can work out explanations on the semantic laws and idiomatic characteristics of the UMMO language. We hope to see promptly published a solvent grammatical UMMO analysis on the basis of this "UMMO DICTIONARY" by Antonio Moya Cerpa.

Notes

- 1) "Informatic" - (computer) data processing.
- 2) "Gnoseology" - a philosophical theory of knowledge.

Editor's Note

Since "Informatic" and "Gnoseology" could not be found in any dictionary, I contacted Mr. Ignacio Darnaude who duly replied with the (above) meanings together with an extensive list of documents those people highlighted at the beginning of his article had received from unknown UMMO agents. Evidently, receipt of new documents is continuing into the 1980's, UMMO agents remaining still very much at large.

Having read numerous articles on the UMMO affair elsewhere, it is difficult, in view of the knowledge contained in some of these documents, which compare favourably with the 'new' knowledge emerging at this time, to believe that the answer to this mystery can be put down as a mere hoax perpetrated by some country's secret government agency.

"FIVE MINUTES TO MIDNIGHT", by Paul Shockley (Trance-Interpreter)

Something to Consider about the UFO Phenomenon

This Awareness indicates the so-called UFOs are not all controlled by benevolent space-beings: some are controlled by earth governments whose purposes are also paralleling and cooperating with those who would like to set up the one-world government to control all of the masses. This Awareness indicates that wherein entities are expecting to be rescued in the Last Days by benevolent angels coming in from space in UFOs, and whereby they are open to allowing these 'space brothers' to dictate to them how to set up their world for a more beautiful experience - these entities, if not discerning and watchful, are prime victims for deception by those who would simply desire to do away with the present governments and set up a world dictatorship.

This Awareness suggests that you be most careful in believing without question that any creature in an UFO must be a benevolent being, sent here from God to improve your lot. This Awareness indicates you might wish to consider that the UFOs are also part of an advanced technology which has been kept from the public for use after the chaos, to deceive the masses into believing that outside planetary beings are here to assist in bringing about the new, 'Golden Age'; and therefore, that these beings need only to be worshipped and assisted as they set up the dictatorship for the world government. This Awareness indicates that while there are, in fact, beings in space and UFOs which can permeate dimensions of space, travelling beyond the speed of light, this Awareness indicates that there are also other forms of UFOs controlled by entities who are of not-so-noble motive and whose purposes are very mundane and not-too-different from those of any power-seeking culture; and therefore, are capable of great deception in order to gain that desired power.

How to Tell the Good UFOs from the Bad Ones

Question:

Awareness, when confronted by these entities from the UFOs, or supposedly from the UFOs, is there any test, any questions, or any way that an entity can discern whether these are benevolent beings or these are alien beings?

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness indicates that those beings who are of benevolent purposes will contact entities through psychic means or through vibratory methods, so that intuitively you will know that it is safe and proper; whereby those who are of lesser motivation will cause apprehension and fear. This Awareness indicates this all depends, of course, on the entity's own sensitivity to right action or wrong action, to spiritual vibrations or to physical security. This Awareness indicates that it is through the sensitivity of entities to the spiritual vibrations that will allow the entity to perceive clearly and discern whether this is the proper contact or an improper contact. This Awareness indicates that this is not something of a rational nature, such as determining by the colour of uniform or shape of eyes or markings on the craft, for these things can be altered or duplicated. This Awareness indicates this is something deep inside the entity, the individual, in their own sensitivities; and it is rightly so, for that spiritual sensitivity is that which is the key to allowing entities to make the proper choice in such discernments.

This Awareness indicates however, It is not concerned with attempting to assist entities in discovering which type of UFO they should be raptured in, as opposed to which type of UFO they should avoid, for they will have no choice in the matter. This Awareness indicates that in the event that they are to be raptured, this will be a decision, not of their own making; for their decision has been made in their own living and the lifestyle and their own goodness and the sensitivity expressed toward others. This Awareness indicates that the final decision will be in the hands of those who would rapture or beam up the being.

Cancer Cures, Age-Reversal Methods, UFOs - All Have Been Developed, But Kept Secret.

This Awareness indicates what It is concerned about is that entities not become so gullible as to think that just because an UFO is not comprehensible in terms of present-day earth technology that it therefore must belong to a super race. This Awareness indicates these creations have been around for centuries, for thousands of years. This Awareness indicates even on this planet, there have been these so-called flying saucers or spaceships for many thousands of years, in ancient civilisations. This Awareness indicates that the recent influences began near the end of World War II when the German military began developing these ships as a new super-weapon to be used for the war purposes. This Awareness indicates that this technology later fell in the hands of the Western Allies as well, as eventually, into the hands of the Soviets; and therefore these nations also developed their own versions of the flying saucer, and have kept these secret through the suppression of information regarding 'flying saucers'.

This Awareness indicates that other technologies, such as energy sources and medical breakthroughs have also been suppressed for similar purposes; so that it appears the world is progressing very slowly, learning on a linear scale, step by step, making very slow and cautious discoveries in terms of health and technologies while, in fact, the knowledge has mushroomed at phenomenal proportions into new technologies which have been hidden from the masses, from the colleges; and these breakthroughs into higher technologies have created that which, if seen by the masses, would easily appear to be a technology from a super race. This Awareness indicates that it is this deception which will be so impressive after a holocaust; whereby these higher technologies can then come forth with their cancer cures, their health cures, their discoveries for longevity, the technology for free energies, and the spaceships capable of moving at tremendous speeds. This Awareness indicates these technologies brought forth, along with the wisdom which has been prepared over long periods of time, capable of setting up a one-world government; this is that which will be highly impressive to the confused masses, and in all probability, will become the only alternative that some of the masses will accept.

This Awareness indicates, it appears that there are some organized forces which may have a countering effect to the concept of the world enslavement. This Awareness indicates this both in the Western world and particularly among the Russian Skoptsi. This Awareness indicates that this also in certain other parts of the world among some fanatical religions. This Awareness indicates however, these forces, likewise, have not much greater benefits to offer; therefore, the choices for man on earth appear at this point to be quite limited in terms of future. This Awareness indicates however, there are also forces not of the surface of this earth which will have some influence in the future of humanity.

Question:

Would Awareness give us please, an idea of what percentage of the so-called UFOs which have been sighted and are being sighted on the earth actually are manufactured and come from the earth by our various governments and which percentage are actual extra-terrestrials from other realms?

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness indicates this varies at different times. That there have been certain times in the past wherein a large influx of UFOs from other galaxies, other stellar systems, have moved through this vicinity; some stopping in this earth's atmosphere, some research and explorations occurring here. This Awareness indicates however, that generally within the past 35 years, it would be relatively safe to say that approximately 60% of the UFOs are from the earth and 40% from other dimensions or other galaxies. This Awareness indicates that 60% also includes those from middle earth.

Ahriman the AntiChrist Plans to Return as the One-World Saviour

Question:

Would Awareness please explain who is going to benefit, who is actually going to control the masses if this plot actually is brought off, since It has previously indicated that Ahriman had left the plane and the Rockefellers and many of those entities behind the original conspiracy have been eliminated - who, exactly, is behind this and thinks he will be 'the one', the 'powers that be' - the head of this world government?

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness indicates that it will be remembered that this Awareness warned that Ahriman had left this plane, but that there would be an attempt to recoup forces and return after a period. This Awareness indicates it is during this present crisis period that those who are presently here are attempting to create the most chaos possible to bring about the intense chaotic conditions, so that when this has occurred sufficiently, Ahriman and others may return, pretending to be rescuers for suffering humanity to set up a world government. This Awareness indicates that essentially, this is a pattern used by the empire of Orion in taking over planets. This is that which has been used by these entities for such purposes, and the pattern developed is used on each planet in the same way. This Awareness indicates that more information regarding the empire of Orion will be forthcoming at a later time. This Awareness suggests that there is also a book which is relatively accurate in describing this method of taking over planets by the empire of Orion. This produced from a group in Arizona. This Awareness indicates that this book may be made available through C.A.C. for the membership if desired.*

*ED's Note: we have not tracked this down yet. It is published by some private organization. Members knowing about this, please contact C.A.C.

This Awareness indicates that essentially, it is necessary to look at these negatives to understand the nature of the forces which are acting upon humanity, so that entities can also recognize an alternative to succumbing to those energies. This Awareness indicates that the planet earth, while being prepared for chaos, is also progressing spiritually: between the dark spots, light is growing. This Awareness indicates that there are more and more entities around the world who do not 'buy' the lies, the deception of the Dark Forces, and who are spreading more and more light.

Introduction:

On the evening of December 31st, 1978, newspaper, police, and Ministry of Defence switchboards in Britain were jammed with reports by telephoning eyewitnesses of remarkable aerial activity seen from virtually all parts of the British Isles. These were quickly dismissed as explicable by official spokesmen, and the sightings duly forgotten, both by the media and by ufologists in general. A re-examination of the numerous reports collected by this writer, his correspondents, and by Contact International (UK), reveals that not only were the reports more abundant than previously believed but that the aforementioned official explanation was ludicrously unrealistic. The present study attempts to rectify the record and draws attention to what is now considered to have been a most significant episode.

The Phenomena:

Between approximately 6.30 and 7.30 p.m. on the above date literally thousands of sightings were made all over the United Kingdom of one or more flying objects trailed by flames, sparks, fiery matter, luminous vapour, or some similar substance. Reports varied in describing the object/s as spherical, triangular, or elongated or cigar-shaped. More exotic accounts compared these objects to "flying tadpoles", "legless newts", or to a "double-decker bus". In only one locality (Tamworth) was more than one object observed simultaneously. This and all the most reliable reports is included in the sightings list given hereafter.

Most accounts stated that the object/s travelled silently on a flat or level trajectory, and that it/they emitted great brightness. Several descriptions mention lighted doors or windows in the object/s, and, collectively, a great variety of colours were ascribed to these and other parts of the object/s. Figs.1 and 2 indicate many of these, as also many of the shapes drawn by some of the eyewitnesses.

Early Identifications and Time Lag:

Numerous newspapers, both national and provincial, published a selection of eyewitness accounts of the phenomena on January 1st, 1979, and on the days immediately following. Predictably, explanations as to the real nature of the object/s were not long in coming. Thus, when local radio stations - Birmingham (BRMB) for instance - also began receiving firsthand reports, it was only a matter of time before officialdom had to allay public consternation. The Ministry of Defence duly announced that the sightings were really of Cosmos 1068's booster rocket re-entering and burning-up in the Earth's atmosphere (1). To date, no other seriously advanced alternative explanation has been proffered. Indeed, Mr. Anthony Pace of BUFORA is on record as agreeing with the Ministry of Defence's statement (2), the only dissenting voice that I have been able to discover being that of Jenny Randles (3), who, however, did not identify the true magnitude of the mystery.

Interestingly, neither Flying Saucer Review nor MUFOB, two of Britain's leading and most respected ufo publications, gave the events of the evening of December 31st, 1978, any worthwhile coverage at all. Perusal of all issues of these journals issued since the date in question discloses an almost complete dearth of information on the event. Similarly, publications by western European ufo-study groups - it is not unreasonable to suppose that all or some of the objects detailed hereafter passed over western Europe about the same time on the same date - have also signally failed to publish data on what will be seen to have been a quite remarkable occurrence. Back in Britain, an astonishing deluge of telephone calls received at Contact International (UK)'s headquarters alerted personnel there to the extent of the phenomena, to such a degree that it was there realised that early publication of any explanation or resume was impracticable, whereby their official journal "Awareness", has yet to issue an account of the episode. It is, however, relevant to note that Bufora Journal has printed brief summaries of several of these sightings on a sporadic basis in more recent issues, without appearing to note that they were closely inter-related. This latter factor is very probably due to the well-known "time-lag" effect that occurs between the observation of some widespread event and the gathering in and analysis of those observations and their eventual publication.

The Reports.

Following is a list of nearly 200 reports from all parts of the British Isles, culled from numerous published sources and the archives of Contact International (UK).

Certain sightings have been heavily investigated, some less so, and others not at all. This uneven treatment, however, diminishes in significance so far as these particular sightings are concerned as eyewitnesses' accounts of investigated, partly-investigated, and non-investigated reports collectively offer remarkable consistency of detail, so that it is fairly clear that all the accounts really do pertain to the same phenomena. All the reports - listed chronologically - irrespective of how far each has been investigated, are therefore complementary and supplementary to one another. Where appropriate sources used are cited in parenthesis.

Duration of Sightings

Generally speaking, percipients stated that they observed the phenomenon for "several seconds" or "quite some time", while not a few estimated the duration as appreciably longer, viz: 30 seconds (No.154), c.40 seconds (No.138), 1 minute (No.50), c.1 minute (No.114), c.2 minutes (No.70), 2½ minutes (No.7), 2-3 minutes (No.128), 3-4 minutes (No.1), 5 minutes (No.25), and c.5 minutes (No.5); others merely described the object/s as moving slowly or at a leisurely pace. Although eyewitness estimates of this type are notoriously unreliable it is nevertheless clear that the phenomenon was - at least over many localities - visible for a much longer time than would be, say, a meteor or fireball.

Size of Object/s

Many observers remarked upon the huge size of the phenomenon, many describing it as gigantic, colossal, or immense. At least three reports state that the glowing or fiery tail stretched one third of the way across the heavens; and although this appears to have been an emission rather than a part of the actual object/s, it undoubtedly contributed to the general impression of enormity.

Height and Trajectory

Over 50% of the reports state that the object/s travelled horizontally and at no great altitude, some witnesses expecting it, indeed, to crash at any moment. In fact, no reports of crashes were made, and the phenomenon was still proceeding towards mainland Europe at low altitude when seen by airline pilots over the North Sea en route to Amsterdam (4). The low altitude factor may have been partly responsible for the great apparent size of the phenomenon.

Noise

With very few exceptions (e.g., "hissed" (No.71) and "sighed" (No.180)), observers agreed that, despite visible flames, sparks, smoke, and vapour effects, the object/s emitted no noise at all. This, coupled with the apparent great size and low altitude of the phenomenon (see above) is truly remarkable.

Variety of Objects

Perusal of the foregoing list of reports discloses three principal types of objects:- (i) elongated objects resembling cigars, rockets, or torpedoes (one report (No.12) likened it to an "airship"), (ii) spheres or globes, and (iii) triangular objects. A few isolated cases ascribe oblong and bar-shaped configurations, and one describes a globe as "spiky". Very probably these are local variants of the main types just listed. As nearly all reports ascribe a long fiery or luminous tail to all the objects, the general impression of an "elongated object" (see reports list) was widespread.

Accounts describing the phenomenon as "lollipop-like", like a "tapering oval", or like a "legless newt" are thus more understandable when the presence of this lengthy tail is allowed for. Some reports, however, refer only to a "comet-like" object (No.129) or to a "flying flame" (No.65), while others specifically mention the object/s as black (Nos.10, 68, etc.). The obscuration or sporadic fading out of the main object/s would readily account for the variety of submitted observations. The "segmented" effect seen near Newcastle (No.74) is perhaps as a sighting of the black-banded luminous tail only such as was associated with an object noted over Workington (see Fig.1). It seems very clear that the object/s did not appear in consistent clarity to every witness.

Colours

A wide spectrum of colours was reported, although in general white or yellow-orange tinges were attributed to the most elongated object/s; green, blue, or greenish-blue (but also pink, red, or brownish-red) to spherical object/s; and white or silver to triangular object/s. See Figs.1 and 2 for further details of colours. Colours do not appear to have been related to speeds, or altitudes, while some reported colours may well have been partially due to the inability of eyewitnesses to accurately differentiate between different (or more subtle) tones.

Directions of Flight

Summarised in Fig.3, these clearly show that at least three different objects proceeded in three different directions, viz: W-E (including NW-SE), N-S (including N-SSE, and NNE-SSE), and E-N (including E-NW). A number of other directions were also reported (E-SE, S-SE, S-W, and NE-NNE, E-E, etc.) which, though they may well be eye-witness errors, all share a common factor - they only involve small segments of sky. In that respect it is perhaps significant that at least three of these reports (Nos.7, 83, and 171) state that the phenomena "arced" or "zigzagged about" in a small area of sky before disappearing from view. Also noteworthy are some virtually simultaneous reports made by independent witnesses in different parts of a particular locality of radically different objects proceeding in different directions (reports 43 and 44, and 136 and 137 are good instances of this). The three elongated objects seen flying in parallel over Tamworth (No.159) are less easily interpreted, although the two round yellow lights seen over Waddington (No.3) may ultimately prove to have been quite mundane in origin.

A Precedent and A Conclusion

A rather similar phenomenon graced British skies on the evening of March 24th, 1955, and was exhaustively studied by Arthur Constance, who published his findings the next year (5). As on the present occasion, a multiplicity of directions were reported then for the object or objects by hosts of credible witnesses, who included trained and professional observers. In 1955 the phenomenon was officially dismissed as a big meteor. Constance conclusively proved otherwise and that, in all probability, it was some type of extraterrestrial visitor. The official explanation of the December 31st, 1978, phenomenon is that it was the booster rocket of Cosmos 1068 burning-up on re-entering Earth's atmosphere. The foregoing details reveal this to be a grossly unsatisfactory explanation.

The events detailed by Constance occupied a relatively short (approx. $\frac{1}{2}$ hour) period of time; those dealt with here occupied a far longer period (at least 5 hours if all the listed reports are reliably timed). Even Constance's relatively short period was certainly too long for a re-entering booster rocket to be pottering about in our skies, while the present 5-hour period is absurdly overlong for such an event. One might also add that re-entering satellite hardware do not zigzag and leap about when burning-up.

It is not unreasonable to conclude that the numerous sightings over Britain on the evening of December 31st, 1978, were not of Cosmos 1068's booster rocket, that they related to at least three different objects proceeding in quite different directions, that these flights were occurring simultaneously, but at comparatively slow speeds, that the objects travelled horizontally at low altitudes, that they were virtually silent, and that in some areas they meandered about the heavens in a manner no re-entering satellite unit could emulate. Eyewitness drawings, viewed collectively, show artificial shapes for many of the objects (see figs.1 and 2), from which it is possible to further conclude that the objects were of alien or extraterrestrial origin.

I should like to acknowledge the assistance afforded me during this study by individuals too numerous to name separately but without whose help this work could never have been properly undertaken; and to Contact International (UK) who put their extensive files at my disposal. Special thanks go to Mr. D.N. Mansell of the latter organisation for first pointing out to me the enormity of the events on the evening in question.

AN UNUSUAL CONTACTEE: THE CONTINUING STORY (PART IV)

Regular readers will recall the three-part series which recently appeared in Earthlink concerning the unusual and continuing experiences undergone by "Bob" (pseudonym), a man who has been involved with the UFO enigma for most of his life. For the sake of new readers, it is sufficient to say that besides having been witness to many UFOs, Bob (30) has the incredible ability to 'see' - due to UFO intervention - unknown letters, symbols, spacecraft, alien planetary scenery, views from space of unknown solar systems and various other far-removed spectacles as if they have been projected on to a screen directly in front of him.

In the main, these images - termed "dreams" or "day-dreams" in previous editions - are produced inside his own mind/optical apparatus, but appear to lie a particular distance beyond his physical eyes. And perhaps it is significant to add that although Bob, of Saffron Walden, Essex, can trace his UFO experiences back to 1956/57, the last five years or so have seen a marked intensification of the phenomena.

When Part III was compiled (April 1980), Bob's experiences had developed into a lull, but then on July 8, 1980, came word that even stranger events than before were taking place, and additional information has continued to follow ever since... enough detail, in fact, to ensure a Part V. But before we cite new events, though, some readers' comments on the case so far:

Mr. S. Andrews of Cardiff, Wales, wrote:

"I was particularly interested in the story of 'Bob', the 'Unusual Contactee', and feel I can possibly throw some light on this strange story. I was looking at the writing he had received and recognised some of it from various scripts - ogham, futhorc, Greek, masonic and Theban. These are all types of writing used in occultism and I refer you to a good book on this subject: 'Magick, an Occult Primer', by David Conway, in which you will find these and other subjects and alphabets...

"...I feel that Bob's drawing, fig.7(c),* is a star map with the Earth "⊕" at the centre, and it relates to the Second Coming of Christ; the end of the Piscean Age - "✕○" and "ZIONI", etc."

*Earthlink, Autumn 1979, p.20.

Mr. Andrews also writes that he, too, has had UFO-type experiences from an early age.

Mrs. J. Heywood of Axminster, Devon, wrote:

"... I was particularly interested in the writings received by 'Bob'. These seem to be equated with the Naacal Tablets of the Lost Continent of Mu. I have compared Bob's writings with the hieroglyphics, alphabets and symbols shown in the book by James Churchward, "The Lost Continent of Mu", published by Neville Spearman, and find some of the letters to be identical."

Mr. A. Miles of London, E.11., wrote:

"Bob's archaic language appears to resemble Gloyan(?) or Phoenician; a phonetic tongue. It could possibly be the 'Ancients' themselves still with us, the original root race - the Atlanteans."

Finally, Mr. S. Douglas of Romford, Essex, wrote this most interesting piece which is addressed to Bob.

".....as a creative artist (I) have recently made 'discoveries', which although of a different nature from your own, none the less have some specific ideas as to the nature of your visions. It may or may not be relevant to you, but either way might be worth consideration.

The imagination in the Western world is not at all understood. You yourself probably find that other people either insist that the things you've seen either exist in their own right, or else are 'imagination's', and by this they mean 'unreal'. Very black and white. What few can understand is that the imagination exists and works on two different levels. On a superficial level, imagination is only fantasy, often divorced from reality and connected with an individual's fears or desires. Many people are only aware of, or use, this level, which is no doubt the reason why, in the West, the imagination is always denoted as meaning 'fantasy'. However, there is another level of imagination which gives the word an entirely new meaning. If used in the right way, the imagination can lead us to deeper and greater realities which most people as yet are unaware of. In other words, there are things which although they are real are unseen until the human mind itself wakes up to them. So long as we insist something cannot happen or does not exist, we literally cannot see it. Surely this is what is meant by the word 'realise'. When we say that we have 'real-ised' something, we really mean (unconsciously) that by discovering something we have at last made it real. Of course, it existed all the time and was always real, but from our own point of view it wasn't real until we knew it.

I'd like to suggest to you that quite unconsciously your own mind has discovered the true purpose of the imagination, which is to uncover the things that deep down we already know. We know it already because it lies in our subconscious, and what we then do by proper use of the imagination is merely bring it to consciousness. It could explain why you have some of your experiences asleep, for example, and why you have the others during receptive moments of relaxation while the conscious thought processes are turned down, so that the unconscious can do its proper job as a receiver and come to the fore.

Probably you are unconsciously a very receptive mind, and so these life forms of UFO origin have chosen you to reach humanity ... and people like you ...

What is needed... is a more practised and deeper means of mental relaxation, and for this yoga or some form of meditation is necessary. This will also help... to probe your unconscious for the full and true meaning of all those symbols ... Deep down somewhere you do know what they mean, for sure!

In Earthlink someone suggests "there is, on the surface, either the possibility of the whole affair originating in Bob's own mind, or an outside source deliberately interfering." More likely, the answer lies in both suggestions, not in either one of them.

You might find it beneficial to read something on astrology, however sceptical you might be about the subject. I noticed the symbol for Pisces at the bottom of diagram 7(c)* on page 20, which is connected with 'dreams' and with discovering previously unknown realities by their use. Even if you're not a Piscean, your natal chart might show that this sign is meaningful to you... Also, it's only a guess but diagram 7(d)* looks like a birth chart.

... Carl Jung wrote some interesting things on UFOs in connection with alterations in human thinking, and... Lama Anagorika Govinda wrote a book called "Creative Meditation", which though heavy going in places, has profound things in it to help with a deeper understanding of visionary experiences."

*Earthlink, Autumn, 1979.

Having already read the latter letter, Bob has commented that although he does not disagree with the contents, he cannot agree either... but it should come as no surprise to find Bob adopting neutral ground.

As for the 'archaic' letters all the other writers comment on, it is tempting to speculate that the ancient races of Mu and Atlantis - more than just a mere legend - do indeed have 'representatives' living in secluded places on Earth to this very day, mysteriously guiding the evolution of humanity while at the same time being in harmonious communication with, and aided by, higher intelligencies of a cosmic nature. Indeed, some forward-thinking researchers are seriously considering this possibility, or being inescapably drawn in this general direction. For example, Jacques Vallée certainly hints at these unknown, unseen personages in his book "Messengers of Deception", while Andrew Tomas points a very clear picture in his "Shambhala: Oasis of Light". Vallée, unfortunately, like so many other researchers takes the view that whether UFOs be of extra-terrestrial or even terrestrial origin, no good can possibly come of them; certainly a biased attitude to take.

However, although these mysterious 'guardians' of our planet may well have knowledge of ancient languages and other great secrets, this is not to say that Bob's visions originate via these people, and the answer may very well lie in the higher realms of this fraternity. But this is all very deep water to be treading in, of course, and it is time we returned to Bob's continuing adventures.

According to information related by Bob during the period July to December, 1980, the following are just some of the events that have taken place (although they may not all be in strict chronological order as Bob has not found it practical to record the dates of the hundreds of visions received).

As noted in a communication of July 8, 1980, Bob was receiving a new scene that had been developing "since and before I last wrote to you," i.e. spring 1980. Bob related that he had been receiving an aerial view of another world where an alien sea was breaking on the shore of an unknown land. Mountains adorned the background and above them lay hazy clouds, while in the sky two suns shone brightly. Between the coast and the mountains appeared red and blue "dots... buildings or something else," suggested Bob. The black line amongst them looked very much like a runway with a bridge at both ends, according to Bob who every once in a while was given "a closer view" of this feature for some unknown reason. (In later communications, Bob describes another scene almost identical to the one described here, but one of the mountains appears to be a smoking volcano and all mountains are snow-capped, while the "buildings" are in white with black roofs.)

The colourful, panoramic view that Bob was receiving was not a 'still', however, but a moving picture, and, as was suggested in Part III, it is possible that Bob is acting as a sort of TV receiver for pictures transmitted from a 'roving camera' on another world.

Every time Bob received this particular picture, the observation point commenced some distance away from the coast (fig.1), but then this viewing position began moving coastward while at the same time slowly increasing in altitude. Bob continued to ascend... over the coast and then the mountains (fig.2) where the rate of ascent increased markedly such that first the curvature and then the full but hazy disc of the planet soon became visible. Once in outer space, Bob made out three satellites or planets accompanying this world besides the twin suns, of course, which Bob felt were both larger and brighter than Earth's (fig.3). (Fig.1 may be closely associated with fig.7(f) shown in the Autumn 1979 Earthlink, p.20.)

Even as Bob was writing the above information down, a view of instrument panels was being visualised which shortly changed to that of two men in grey suits in a cabin (of a space craft). The features of these men (fig.4) were as follows: faces - fair in complexion but of slightly yellowish hue, the latter possibly due to the reflection of "cabin lights"; lips - brown; noses - half the size of the average Englishman's; eyes - normal in colour, etc.; eyebrows - none; ears - none; hair - "slightly bald"; hands - five fingers, but no thumb.

The scene then changed, the 'camera' panning across the cabin to an "ugly object - a head with really large, bulging eyes, big pupils." Instead of a nose there appeared two slots, lips were vague and there were no ears and no real indication of a neck. The skin was greyish in colour and appeared to be old and sagging (fig.5).

After this the scene changed completely, and a long cabin came into view. In the middle Bob saw "tanks" guarded by a rail, and three men in suits, but of a different type to the former entities, although Bob felt they were like human beings in many ways.

Since the summer of 1980, however, Bob has been experiencing something quite new and very strange indeed. Fig.6 shows what looks very much like a map of unknown lands, but like the other drawings, symbols, etc., presented in parts II and III of this case, all are largely a mystery. The difference in the map shown here, however, is the way in which Bob produced it.

When Bob is drawing or writing, he now sees, through both eyes, two hands plus arms appear in front of him, both arms originating from the position his own body occupies, these unknown arms having the same skin colour as Bob's. The hands, although having four fingers and one thumb each, have fingers all the same length. Now these arms and hands are transparent, and where the arms meet Bob's body they either fade away or connect to shoulders some five inches (12.7cm) lower than his own, and within his own body. We shall return to this incredible situation in due course.

Also to be seen in front of Bob and lying on his work surface are a set square, a type of ruler and a pen (fig.7) with a wire flex attached to the top, all these instruments appearing in a green-grey and whitish type of light. The paper surface that Bob is working on is then illuminated by what he describes as a "paper or plastic screen" which has come in from the left-hand side, this "screen" emitting a dense green light which spreads from the bottom upwards. A grid of brownish-green squares then appears from the top of the screen and covers it, the grid then being "smoothed out" (Bob explained that the screen is slightly curved - see fig.8 - and it appears to suck the grid into place, but sandwiched in between the grid and the screen is a "plastic under-sheet" also held in place by this apparent suction-like force). Included on the grid are numerous wiggly lines which apparently represent the outline of something. At this stage, all is ready for Bob's drawing lesson!

The unknown right hand now takes hold of the 'ruler' and the left hand the 'pen': a black line is then drawn, but this appears only on the grid, the under-sheet receiving the indent made by the pen (see fig.9). Following this, both instruments are put to one side, and then the right-hand with another pen having a wire attached prints a number at the end of the line. The whole process is then repeated for other lines until the drawing is considered finished. Now Bob's task is to take his own ruler and pen and draw over the positions the lines, numbers, etc., occupy on his own sheet of paper. If Bob doesn't draw over the markings, they vanish and the hands repeat the drawing again.

Once Bob has completed the drawing, the grid is lifted upwards and placed at the top of the drawing. The under-sheet is then removed to the right-hand side and another under-sheet comes in from the left-hand side. These under-sheets are apparently like paper, since they roll and curl until placed over the illuminated screen where they are sucked down to conform with the screen's surface. With the grid brought into place once more, a new drawing commences.

If Bob moves away from where he has been working, the images disappear only to reappear on his return. When drawing, the 'hands' are always present, although other ever-changing images are visible all the time. It is interesting to note that very many of these images can be seen at night - in the dark - and with his eyes closed, conditions which allow them to be seen most clearly. Being of internal origin, these visions are obviously only visible to Bob.

From the above drawing procedure, it is quite clear that Bob is being instructed as to what he should do; he, too, feels this to be the case and that this might well be a requirement necessary for navigation while in outer space, or even for ships at sea. Bob is finding other sights almost impossible to attach an overall meaning to, however, and this has him very much concerned. What is he to make of transmissions like, "Some-one's writing a letter, a game of what looks like marbles, a view of people, a helmet being put on over my head..."? Another puzzling and frequent reception is that of men "looking through books, turning over pages, then stacking the books and going to another... It's all men in these scenes, no women. I wonder why?"

Even as Bob was writing the above information down in a letter to us, he saw, superimposed on the surface of his letter in an off-white colour, possibly two rather important messages, which once printed over read:

THE DAY HAS COME WHEN I WE CAN BE WAS YOU AND US WE CAN GO TOGETHER WEN YOU CAN BE ONE THIS YOU WILL BE GIVEN SOME YAY I CAN CEE YOU NOW I WILL BECOME YOU IN 1978 YAERS* IME HAS ME IWILL BE B COO ✓

*this word may be incorrect (Bob)

THE DAY WAS WON YEST BY YOU AND IME INSTEAD IWE AND YOU ARE HERE IN A DAY OF INT CAN BE TOGETHER % ONIT YOU SAW US IWE CAN BE HERE
TOGETHER NOW Δ065L\A BIE YOU US NOW.

Although the spelling and syntax of these messages is very poor, the gist is there, and Bob is now seriously considering the hypothesis that some part of his mental self has been "swopped" - exchanged - with the mental part, etc., of a being from some other world. Why this should have taken place, though, is equally as puzzling as the visions. Could it be, Bob wonders, that this unknown intelligence wishes to experience what is happening on Earth? There is also the possibility, Bob feels, that he is being enlightened in preparation, should the opportunity (or need) arise, for an actual physical journey to another world. This might tie-in with the information Bob was given when only six to eight years old:- 1) When Bob hears "a particular noise in the morning around 6 a.m." it will be to inform him of a journey to be undertaken: "...either we on Earth would journey to the Moon or I would." 2) When Bob reaches about 40 years of age - circa 1990 - he will leave this planet "and be taken to the north-west planet system... in the middle of July 16." Whatever the answer, though, Bob most seriously believes the mental "swop" hypothesis to have taken place. Perhaps, Bob speculates, he was adopted by these beings at an early age; one of their 'children' even, now undergoing an educational programme.

Besides the 'arms' that Bob can see in front of him, he also gets "the insight of a second pair of lips about two inches from my own in which is also included a face of sorts, but the lips move opposite to what I might say - difficult to explain at the moment... I also have the feeling that this second face can talk since I sense a voice control appearing in a strange tongue."

At this point we will consider a few simple questions and possible answers. First, is this "second face", or what really amounts to an unknown being, also projected from within Bob's mind, or is this being truly present? Actually, there is also the possibility that this being exists in another plane of existence (a parallel universe), for latest accounts received tentatively suggest that Bob may be seeing 'through' to another world which interpenetrates our own. Secondly, could it be that the earlier-mentioned 'roving camera' is, in fact, the 'eyes' of this unknown entity?

Here we shall leave Bob's case until next issue and ask for your comments in the meantime.

Editor.

EXTRACTS

"OAH SPE" - A book of 'inspired' literature

Do you think flying saucers are new? Then read OAH SPE! A whole panorama of aerial and space vessels, described as though from today's newspapers.

Do you wonder at Einstein's theories? Then read OAH SPE! He could have gotten his information there! Uncounted thousands of tons of meteorites fall to Earth each day, yet space is nearly empty of them. OAH SPE knew it in 1882! Space is dark, say our daring astronauts. So did OAH SPE in 1882, and tells us why! Archaeologists have made amazing discoveries of ancient races and dead cities and civilizations since 1882. They might have discovered them sooner had they read OAH SPE.

Is there really a Hell? Who manages the Earth, the Solar System, the Universe - and how? How do the different religions fit into God's one Universe? OAH SPE tells all this, and a thousand more answers to man's most difficult questions.

A history of the higher and lower heavens and of the earth for the past 24,000 years; also a brief history of the preceding 55,000 years. An explanation of all the world's religions; the cosmogony of the universe; the creation of the planets, of man; new commandments applicable to the present day; the unseen worlds. *Written in 1881, Oahspe's archaeological discoveries and many other sciences are today being confirmed by space satellites and many other sources.

UFO Contact From the Pleiades (Also a book of the same title)

There has been a very important UFO contact made in Switzerland by an Edward "Billy" Meier who is a former caretaker living in the Canton of Zurich.

On Tuesday, January 28th, 1975, at 2:12 p.m., in the Swiss countryside of Hinwel, an historic event took place that will have far reaching consequences. Mr. Meier had a compulsion to take his moped and tour the countryside. At the above mentioned time a saucer-shaped spacecraft gently landed in a field next to him. "Billy" ran towards the craft but was stopped at some 50 meters from it by a force field. Then, from behind the saucer came a cosmonaut walking directly towards him. Thus began the first meeting and contact which has an historic importance. These contacts are still going on at present.

The contact is from the Pleiades and the cosmonauts are able to converse with Mr. Meier in his own native Swiss-German dialect. They have endeavoured to have their crafts in the most favorable spots so that the very best photographs may be obtained. They have given metal and mineral samples from their planet for our scientists for analysis. They want our earth people to know of them and their civilization. They prefer to work through individual contacts rather than mass contacts.

One of the most startling details that Mr. Meier learned was that we of the Earth are related to these Pleiadian cosmonauts. They stated that their forebearers were also ours.

Mr. Meier kept the news of his contact on a fairly subdued level and then in 1977 a team of qualified investigators from the U.S. went to Switzerland to study the contact in full detail. It was headed by Col. Wendelle C. Stevens, U.S. Air Force retired. Nothing was left undone. There was full computer analysis of the film and movie takes and sound recordings. The metal and mineral samples have been sent to the U.S. for thorough scientific study. Voice stress analysis tests were given to all of the witnesses of the surrounding countryside. All passed with flying colours.

This is the most documented ongoing alien contact in modern history.

UFO Contact From the Pleiades (From another source)

Edward Meier's initial contact was with a space-woman named Semjase:

"What I thought was a human being appeared. She had blonde hair, fine features and a blue shimmer on her skin."

Semjase, reportedly 1,000 years old and from the planet Erra in the Pleiades star cluster, told Meier: "Listen to what I have to tell you, write it down and pass it on to your fellow men."

Since then he has produced 1,000 pages of advice from these space people who "are 13,000 years more advanced than we are and they have the ability to make time stand still during a space flight."

A photo of Semjase taken by Mr. Meier certainly looks impressive, and fits George Adamski's description of his female space contacts.

An Angel's Messages to Joseph Smith Discovered?

..... Mark William Hoffman, a pre-medical student at Utah State University, purchased a Bible which he now thinks contains copies of an angel's messages to Joseph Smith about 150 years ago. A single page containing several hand-drawn characters is said to be a sample of "reformed Egyptian" used on the golden tablets that made up the Book of Mormon. It was with the aid of divine inspiration that Joseph Smith claimed to be able to translate the Book into its present English language. The note stated: "These caractors were dilligently copied by my own hand from the plates of gold and given to Martin Harris who took them to New York Citty but the learned could not translate it because the Lord would not open it to them in fulfillment of the prophecy of Isaiah written in the 29th chapter and 11th verse." It was signed: "Joseph Smith Jr."; (and the spelling errors are his). The historians of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) said they too were unable not only to identify or translate the characters, but they were unable to link the passages with any part of the Book of Mormon. These strange hieroglyphics might be compared to others claimed to have been found in the Americas, but the nature of the characters would appear a poor orthography. If one would accept the reality of angels or spirits in heaven, it would seem unnecessary to produce written communications, but a much better designed orthography, or even ideography, would seem preferable to an ancient and obscure form as attested to on this document. Red Indian Chief's Message to the White Nations

"One thing we know that the white man may one day discover, our God is the same God. You may now think that you own him as you wish to own our land. But you cannot. He is the God of man. And his compassion is equal for the redman and the white. This earth is precious to him and to harm the earth is to heap contempt on its creator."

The Six-Pointed Star of the Christ

The Power of the Most High God manifests as Love and Light, Love-Wisdom, through the Six-Pointed Star of the Christ.

The Six-Pointed Star is the Symbol for the Spirit of God made manifest in man - The downward and upward pointing Triangles, the Higher and Lower Selves merging. And Christ is the Name man has chosen for this Spirit.

The Christ is not a person. The Christ is the Spirit of God brought into manifestation, and a Spark of this Light of the Christ dwells within the Heart Centre of each human being.

In past times certain Great Souls manifested the Christ Spirit through their persons, living in Earth. Such a One was Our Lord, Jesus the Christ, who expanded this Spark to be a great Light permeating and irradiating all his bodies, from the physical outwards, and far beyond.

In times to come the Christ Spirit will be manifested in Earth through many personalities inhabiting human forms, human beings who will bring this Great Spirit and its Light into their lives here, in this planet Earth. As a result, these ones will be totally transfigured by this healing and transmuting Force, which nullifies all evil, and which will permeate their whole being, transforming it into a Star radiating the Light and Love of the Most High God.

BOOK REVIEWS

"The Interrupted Journey: Two Lost Hours Aboard a Flying Saucer", by John G. Fuller. Souvenir Press (London), 1980. Pp.340. Price £6.95.

While the subject of UFOs or flying saucers enjoys somewhat more credibility today than it did, say, 15 years ago, cases of abduction by alien beings of people must surely remain, in view of the comparatively few documented cases in existence, little more than science fiction in the minds of the general public and scientific fraternity. Among ufologists, however, the idea of these abductions actually taking place is quite popular, especially since new and very similar stories continue to surface in various parts of the world.

Prior to 1966, the year which saw the first (American) edition of "The Interrupted Journey", probably the best known abduction case of all, my own views on the UFO subject were simply those of an open mind; I had never even read one UFO book let alone heard of aliens abducting human beings. However, after reading a serialised version of John Fuller's findings in several successive editions of a British Sunday newspaper, I was left so impressed with the evidence that my continued involvement with the UFO subject was assured!

John Fuller, a diligent journalist, TV director/producer and author of numerous books, spent months investigating the story of Barney and Betty Hill, a couple whose strange experience took place on September 19, 1961.

It was during the late evening, while the Hills were motoring home from Montreal, Canada to Portsmouth, New Hampshire, that a bright star-like object, which gradually grew both larger and brighter, followed their car for many miles. Barney, during one of their many stops to try and identify this object, ultimately made out a strange craft with beings inside when he observed through binoculars. It was at this stage that Barney panicked for he felt certain that these beings were out to capture them! Hurriedly driving on, the Hills arrived home feeling groggy and confused with the truth soon to dawn on them that both their memories were blank for a two hour period during the latter part of their trip.

For the next two years, Barney and Betty struggled in vain to recall the events of those two lost hours, but their dual amnesia was causing harmful side-effects, especially for Barney.

Dr. Benjamin Simon, a skilled Boston psychiatrist, was shortly recommended for the task of relieving the amnesia by way of time regression hypnosis. The story that emerged from those two lost hours, however, was quite unexpected, for the Hills independantly and unknown to each other told Dr. Simon identical stories of a road block and then abduction by strange beings aboard an unknown circular craft of large dimensions. Following on-board medical examinations, the Hills were released and told to forget the entire affair, which Barney, a total sceptic of flying saucers, was more than happy to do!

Finally, with more than six months of taped sessions with Dr. Simon over, the big question remained: Did the abduction truly take place? Or was the Hill's recall under hypnosis only that of a dream somehow passed from one to the other? Although Dr. Simon ruled out dreams and other alternative explanations, his professional status as a scientist prevented his acceptance of the abduction since science has not confirmed the existence of UFOs.

With John Fuller's original work now out of print, this new British edition is a most welcome arrival, and it was most gratifying to discover that the story is unaltered from the initial text having apparently stood the test of time. The book has, however, been extended and includes an interesting Forward by John Fuller together with an extensive transcript of the Hill's hypnotic session with Dr. Simon when Dr. J. Allen Hynek was present, a transcript only summarised in Dr. Hynek's book "The UFO Experience".

Without doubt "The Interrupted Journey" is the Master work in its field, for no other case has been the most detailed, longest observed and expertly scrutinised as has this one.

For the sceptic, open-minded and believer alike, this is a book that must be read.

"Betty put the binoculars up to her eyes and focused carefully. What they both were about to see was to change their lives forever, and as some observers claim, change the course of the history of the world." (page 6).

"Photographs of the Unknown", by Robert Rickard and Richard Kelly. Price £7.95. New English Library (London), 1980. Pp.144. Plate size: 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ " x 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ " (29cm x 21.5cm).

Since the middle of the last century when photography first came into general use, the camera has been used to capture everything in existence, including at times even things thought not to exist! This book is largely a record of the latter.

I was extremely impressed the moment the pages of this well produced work fell open revealing some of the finest photo's - in full colour where such film was originally used - known to exist.

The range of subjects covered is considerable, and included are such favourites as the Loch Ness monster, Bigfoot, UFOs (18 pages are devoted to this), sky-falls (ice-bombs, chains, 'Angel Hair', etc.), Kirlian photography (perhaps the most colourful pictures in the whole book are represented here), psychic phenomena (such as ghosts, ectoplasmic forms, psychic surgery, etc.), levitation (some convincing proof is depicted), poltergeists in 'action'.... and lots more besides.

Although photographs are easy to fake, the authors have judged their entries to be of good standing, and one outstanding example of photographic capture of the unknown that deserves special mention is the series taken by the 19th century physicist, Sir William Crookes, who 'snapped' the ectoplasmic form of one deceased Katie King, materialised by medium Florence Cook (pp.108-109).

Now for those with UFOs in mind, there is a superb series of highly strange pictures of one UFO apparently taking off from beneath the sea near the coast of Grand Canary Island, the event taking place as recently as March 1979.

As for the most thought-provoking phenomenon, well for me the bleeding images of Christ - portraits, statues, etc., which bleed real blood at intervals- are truly amazing. Perhaps, like apparitions of the Blessed Virgin Mary (also included), this is just another way of increasing religiosity in necessary areas. And remaining on this theme, there is even a page relegated to the little publicised Indian saint, Satya Sai Baba, in whom it is believed by his millions of followers that the Christ force is made manifest. Just a few of Sai Baba's miracles are shown here.

Truly, the authors have performed a minor miracle of their own with this book, and it seems likely that a follow-up will appear, a great many photo's having yet to be published.

"Who Am I? I Am That I Am", by C.A. Joseph. Regency Press (N.Y. & London) Ltd., 1980. Pp.116. Hardbound! Price £5.00.

'I AM THAT I AM' is a centuries old description of God (meaning all is God) and this book was written after a long quest by its author for understanding of God. I think that Ufology must surely lead us to wonder about the Creator of all things, and this may even be one of its functions!

The author writes: "The whole purpose of this book is to help you to turn inwardly, with eyes closed, to God, the Father. We shall obey this call when we become weary of the thousands of incarnations we have all enjoyed and suffered; life after life, in every race and in every nation in the world, beneath the veneer of yellow, black, white and brown skin. The author himself has undergone all kinds of lives, extreme wealth and poverty, religious denial and positions of power and plenty. All this wealth of experiences in order to be able to tell you what he has found, in this volume."

For the past forty years the author has studied many Teachings, including: Theosophy, Rosicrucianism, SRF, Buddhism, Christian Science, Taoism, MRA, Subud, TM, Mantra Japa, etc., and is a keen exponent of meditation and yoga. He believes that "they are all without exception the most valuable spiritual education for everyone. However, these merely befit one for travelling the Path of Light, but fail to teach Ascension, which is graduation from the school of life, freedom from rebirth, union with God and is the ultimate goal of all mankind".

He says that he has only now found enlightenment on this and other leading spiritual questions through the Essenes, an ancient esoteric Order who are open and active in the world today.

This book is nicely produced and simply written, with a wide range of subjects. I find it all very interesting and look forward to studying it further.

UFO NEWS AND EVENTS AROUND THE WORLD

The Return of the UFOs

UFOs are coming back in force. This Thursday, 25th December 1980, between 21.00 and 22.30, hundreds of people were reported to have seen unidentified flying objects, these in south-western France, in Portugal, near Lisbon, and also in southern Great Britain. In these different countries, the description remains: true or untrue? Let us nevertheless remind readers that these visions were reported on Christmas Day. Perhaps one should see amongst these UFOs a few champagne bubbles!

"Le Soir" (Belgium), December 27, 1980.

Cr. Mr. W. Ager, Brugge, Belgium, for article and translation.

Editor's Note: According to several national newspaper reporters who contacted me on Boxing Day, an unknown object (or objects) was seen from Cornwall to Yorkshire. The following day, these papers concluded the object to have been a bright meteor.

Mystery Cricket Balls Knock Scientists for Six

Hundred of balls found deep below the earth have got scientists in a spin. For they could have been made by prehistoric man - which would mean there was intelligent life on the planet almost 3,000 million years ago. The balls, from one to four inches across, were found in mineral deposits at the Wonderstone Mine in the Transvaal, South Africa.

An official who cracked several open found that one kind contained a sponge-like substance which quickly powdered when it was touched. The other type was solid metal, blue with a reddish tint and containing specks of white fibre. Three neat grooves - like the seam on a cricket ball - ran around the centre of each ball. They had no irregularities and no known geological process could have formed them, says Roelf Marx, curator of South Africa's Klerksdorp Museum.

He was amazed when he displayed one of the balls with samples of other rocks. After some months he found that the ball had turned itself around. Marx couldn't believe it and kept watch. Sure enough, the ball was able to revolve on its axis. "I have no explanation," Marx says. "The sphere baffles everybody. It looks man-made, as though cast in a mould."

Geologist Professor Bisschoff says: "From the position in which these things were found, it is likely that they are 2,800 million years old. I don't know why they revolve on their own axis - nothing in nature could make them do that."

The balls were all found in the same layer of the mineral pyrophyllite. They all fit perfectly in the hand, as if they were designed that way. One theory is that they were primeval missiles. Now scientists are puzzling over why they were needed.

"Weekend" magazine, July 2-8, 1980,

Possible CE2 Local Sighting of August 17, 1980.

Although UFO sightings in the Essex area have been very few during the past two years or so, this case represents one of the few that have proved interesting.

In response to a letter to "Earthlink", local investigators Bill Eden and Carol Munday visited a Mrs. Gatward of Tilbury, a town lying on the north side of the river Thames. From their interview of August 31, and numerous subsequent 'phone calls, this story emerged.

At about 3.29 a.m. on August 17, 1980, Mrs. G. awoke, not being able to sleep (as is sometimes the case) and noticed a white light moving slowly past her window. The object carrying the light halted at times and thus aroused her interest, and although a red flashing light seemed indicative of an aircraft, she realised, when it was possibly no more than 75 ft. (23 m.) away, that this was no aircraft. The object being only at roof top height, Mrs. G. switched on the bedroom light and tried to alert her husband, but he wasn't at all interested. Returning to the window, she saw that the object had the shape of a bullet with the apparent size of a matchbox at arm's length. Also, light beams were shining from both 'nose' and 'tail' and a red flashing light was mounted on its back (see fig.11); no appendages of any kind were noticed and no audible noise could be perceived. Mrs. G. estimated its size to be that of an average car.

As the object moved off westwards, the white lights at its rear could be seen situated about its circumference, but once beyond Mrs. G's vision, she retired feeling cold due to her three minutes' vigil at the open window. Mrs. G. slept dreamlessly till morning (as she did for the next two nights despite her intention to keep watch for the object's return). However, upon awakening at about 7.30 a.m., Mrs. G. felt very sick and woke her husband. There was also a tingling sensation in both arms (which had been exposed out of the window when the object passed) and this lasted for a few hours. A roaring noise could be heard in her left ear, which was of about 30 minutes duration, and although Mrs. G. suffers from tinnitus in this ear, this was a noise she had never heard before. If this wasn't enough, she was unable to eat anything until about 2 p.m. that day; a cup of tea was, however, acceptable.

Strangely, Mrs. G. thought these symptoms were effects due to radiation emitted by this object, and these were the main reasons for her contacting "Earthlink". However, Mrs. G. felt that she "should not be talking about it," and had at first felt upset.

Mr. Bill Eden found Mrs. G. very pleasant, sincere, and very sure of what she had seen. From Mr. Eden's calculations, he found the object to have been some 7ft. long by 28 inches diameter (2.1m. x 0.7m).

Close Encounters of the Most Eerie Kind

A Crawley family has the uncomfortable feeling that somebody up there is watching them. Stephen Cunliffe, 13, of Ifield Drive, claims he was woken up at one in the morning by an intense white light that flooded into his bedroom "as if someone was shining a massive torch through my window." It was accompanied by a loud whining noise. Looking out, the frightened boy saw a dark oval object from which came beams of very bright white light.

His parents were woken by the noise and felt the house vibrate. His father Henry, a factory worker, also saw the light through the bathroom window. The family are convinced that it was a UFO, and say that there was a similar occurrence at breakfast time a few months ago over their home. "We all heard this weird noise right over the house and all the breakfast things rattled though we didn't actually see anything on that occasion," said Stephen's mother, Irene. "We all just stopped in our tracks."

Whatever this mysterious thing is, it seems to be following the Cunliffe family. A few years ago, while they were living in Australia, Stephen was out playing with friends when the children were frightened by an unusual low flying object. "Stephen ran into us crying, and we asked him to draw what he had seen." The picture showed a cone-shaped object with protuberances at the side.

On another occasion Mrs. Cunliffe said she clearly saw two UFOs coming in from the direction of the sea, flying very fast, with one following the other closely.

On the recent sighting Mrs. Cunliffe said: "Something woke me just before I heard Stephen call out. I got up and went into his room and he said: "Mum there's a UFO," and dived under the covers."

"Eve.Argus"(West Sussex), September 4, 1980.

Both America and Russia believe that UFOs are spacecraft manned by beings from other planets spying on earth. Yet for 30 years both have cynically maintained a massive cover-up - using lies, ridicule and threats to dismiss the possibility of close encounters of the third kind.

These are the sensational claims made in a controversial new book, The UFO Phenomenon by Johannes Von Buttlar, which alleges we have all been duped by the cover-up of the century. The book, already a bestseller in Germany, accuses America's Central intelligence Agency and Russia's secret police, the KGB, of: DENYING the existence of UFOs, despite millions of sightings by intelligent, respected people, while.... BATTLING behind the scenes to capture the technology that could mean world supremacy - the secrets of the flying saucers.

Von Buttlar says that: WHEN the CIA were told by investigators that UFOs are almost certainly extra-terrestrial visitors, they launched Project Grudge. This was to make the world believe that all the reports were hallucinations, mistakes or deliberate deceptions. WHEN a Russian inquiry also decided that UFOs were real, the CIA put on pressure, through the American Space Agency, to make Moscow announce that flying saucers did not exist.

The U.S. armed forces issued orders in 1951 and 1953 threatening servicemen and civil airline pilots with $10,000 fines and ten-year jail terms for publicizing genuine UFO reports. "Only false statements and fictitious reports may be published," they were told. "All real reports must be treated as secret and forwarded to the appropriate authorities."

IN 1955, the secret services of America, Russia, France and Britain, meeting in Geneva, agreed that the public should be told nothing about UFOs.

WHEN America's Navy Secretary Dan Kimball reported seeing two disc-shaped objects circling his plane on a flight to Hawaii in 1952, he was told it would be better for him to keep quiet if he wanted to stay in office.

SUICIDE verdicts were recorded on two top U.S. scientists who died after studying UFOs. Professor Robert Jessup was found in a gas-filled car in 1959. Professor James MacDonald died with a bullet in his head in 1971. A friend of Jessup said: "He knew too much. They wanted him out of the way."

The CIA denied any cover-up when approached by news reporters. A spokesman said the Agency stopped monitoring UFOs in 1953. But investigations reveal that CIA agents were still proving UFOs as late as 1975 - and telling people they interviewed not to disclose their interest.

While on the subject of 'cover-ups', watch out for a new book "The Roswell Incident" by Charles Berlitz, which claims to reveal the truth about the well-known 1947 crashed UFO in Montana, U.S.A. This UFO contained small humanoid beings, and these aliens are now preserved in deep-freeze in America. We will be publishing much more information about this case (from another source) in our next issue, i.e. "Earthlink" Summer 1980.

Note: Charles Berlitz is well-known for his book, "The Bermuda Triangle" among others.

Signs in the Sky

The following is a communique from a "Brother in the Lord" who witnessed an event in Russia. The date this event took place is unknown.

"Just want to inform you of what took place here recently. A sign was seen in the sky over the city of Tombou.* Against a clear sky, a white hand holding a brush wrote the following words:

1. Overcome evil with good.
2. It is winter time for my people.
3. It is the day of repentance.
4. Not one righteous soul will remain in the midst of the unrighteous, and not one unrighteous soul shall remain with the righteous.
5. Give heed to my redemption.
6. Bear righteous fruit that will benefit repentance.
7. I will save those who are God fearing.
8. Be courageous, the Time is Drawing Near.
9. Behold, I'm coming soon.....

The hand wrote for thirty minutes. That which was written could be seen for three hours. Everyone in the city read it. Fear fell upon the entire city, so that even traffic was stopped."
