The Independent Research Centre for Unexplained Phenomena

Issue 22 - Autumn 2000

Time for our annual catalogue of formations reported throughout the year. The designs and shapes show no sign of retreating or diminishing and this year saw some incredibly complex geometries and patterns.

Of course hoaxers were still out and about, but as they're now part of the phenomena, it's becoming increasingly easy to ignore them. They're still too egotistical/scared/devious/stupid/well paid (delete as you feel applicable) to give up and find something more constructive to do with their time (is there indeed still a conspiracy to debunk and muddy the waters of serious research?)

I deliberately don't label formations in my International Database as being either hoaxed or genuine, simply because at the end of the day, no one knows for sure. Therefore I always strive to provide factual and accurate information and scientific evidence. That way the reader and enthusiast can make up their own minds by examining the evidence available.

As always please feel free to offer any corrections or additional information on any of the formations listed in my database. I compile the information for the benefit of everyone, so I endeavour to keep it as up to date and accurate as possible. However, additional information is always appreciated. Don't forget that if you have internet access, the main database is available online at www.cropcirclesearch.com/database

Because of the interactive and immediate nature of the internet, the online copy is always bang up to date and contains any changes/updates not necessarily included in this printed version.

The online version also allows you to gain full appreciation of Lucy Pringle's high quality, full colour photographs of most of the UK formations. The thumbnail images shown here are only representative of the formation and hardly do justice to the full-sized images which are available online.

| ca00ad | Unknown | 16th Aug | Grenfell, east of Regina Formation is a small single circle, only about 10 feet in diameter, in mature wheat. What is interesting about this circle however, is the lay, which is radial, with the wheat stalks flattened out from the centre to the outside edges. A similar pattern was seen in the large seven-circle Edmonton, Alberta #2 formation in barley from last year. | Saskatchewan | Wheat |
| ca00ae | Unknown | 20th Aug | Moosomin  A classic 'dumbbell' formation consisting of a large circle and a smaller one, joined by a straight pathway. The large circle is approx 120' dia. and the small one 60'. The pathway is approx 40' long and 5' wide. | Saskatchewan | Wheat |

| de00ac | 8th Jul | 9th Jul | Odense From ground-level, the quintuplet was impossible to see at any distance, even from the edge of the field, and was first seen from a workman's crane. Within the 25-meter broad formation, the central circle was 4.3 meters in diameter; then 2 meters away came a concentric ring ca. .7 meter thick; then 4 meters away a surrounding ring about .5 meter thick; and on this were 4 rings in the 4 directions, each less than a meter thick. There were numerous geometrical irregularities throughout the glyph. All parts were lain counter-clockwise. | Fyn | Wheat |
| de00af | ? Jul | 14th Jul | Kjersing A spiral 100 meters in diameter. The central circle was 4 meters in diameter, the path is 1 meter thick, with 6 meters between rows. The circle center was at some distance from the tramline. Said to be easily made with a 70 cm. garden-roller on a wound-up rope, and then a one-meter stomping board. A similar spiral appeared in Denmark in 1998. | Jylland | Wheat |
| de00ab | 14th Jul | 17th Jul | Stenmagle A circle 8 meters in diameter surrounded by almost 6 meters of standing crop, then a 1.5 meter ring. From this a pathway 29 meters long and 1.5 meters wide, ending in a circle with a 9-meter diameter. Close to the ring and concentric to it were two arcs on the pathway, the second longer than the first. The ring and circles were laid clockwise, the arc halves lay in each their direction from the pathway. | Sjælland | Barley |
| de00ad | 27th Jul | 27th Jul | Onsted s. of Aarhus 3 aligned circles of 72, 38, and 28 meters, joined by two straight 10-meter pathways 3 meters wide. A fourth 12-meter circle to the south-west of them. | Jylland | Wheat |

de00aa 3rd Aug 4th Aug Borum

Located some 12 km west of Aarhus, this formation consists of a large ring connected to a smaller circle via a pathway. Three arced sections form a triangular shape within the ring.

Jylland Wheat

de00ac ? Aug 23rd Aug Greve

3 unaligned circles (two of them 23 meters in diameter), the outer two with outer rings. Irrespective of tramline positions, the rings were geometrically particularly messy.
