THE SUN HAS ENTERED A NEW ACTIVE PHASE!

18th April 2010

Large Eruptive Prominence Imaged by STEREO

Credit: STEREO Project, NASA

Explanation: What's happened to our Sun? Last week, it produced one of the most power eruptive prominences ever seen. Pictured above, the prominence erupted in only a few hours and was captured in movie form by NASA's twin Sun-orbiting STEREO satellites. A quiescent solar prominence is a cloud of hot solar gas held above the Sun's surface by the Sun's magnetic field. Unpredictably, however, prominences may erupt, expelling hot gas into the Solar System via a Coronal Mass Ejection (CME). As pictured above, many Earths would easily fit under the expanding ribbon of hot gas.

EDITORS COMMENT: Although our interests are mainly in the field of ufology, we should be aware of what may affect us all!

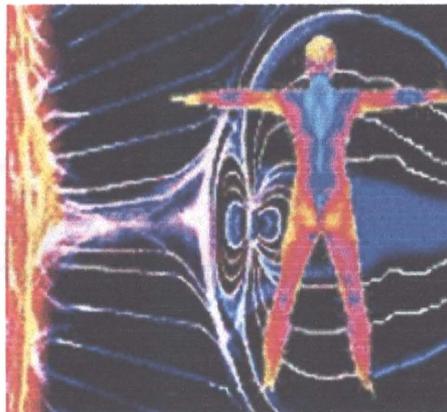

Last year there was little activity noted occurring on the Sun, but this year there have been at least two large CME's (Coronal Mass Ejections) to date. According to current theories expressed by Mitch Battros (see page 2) the CME's that are released in the direction of the Earth affect not only our magnetic field, producing aurora's ('Northern Lights' etc.), but are destabilizing the Earth's molten core. This effect is subsequently causing earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, such as the recent Icelandic volcanic dust disaster.

Mitch Battros Research on Sun-Earth Connection and 2012

Mitch Battros presents fascinating, and sometimes shocking, research from the world's top scientists. After years of dialogue with these experts, Mitch has been accepted into the guarded halls of NASA, NOAA, ESA, Royal Observatory, the US Naval Observatory and other highly esteemed scientific bodies. In addition to the latest research on the Sun's influence on our "weather", Mitch also presents ground-breaking evidence of how the Sun and other celestial orbs produce 'charged particles' and their impact on humanity.

Just as the Sun's solar activity affects the Earth's magnetic field which has a dramatic affect on Earth's weather i.e. earthquakes, floods, volcanoes, hurricanes; so does this wave of electrical currents affect the human body's magnetic field. Mitch also reveals a little-known development from modern medicine known as Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation (TMS). TMS provides empirical evidence of how magnetic fields can influence human emotions.

Solar Cycle 24 has begun - and it has been predicted by NASA, NOAA and ESA to be up to 50% stronger than its 'record breaking' predecessor Cycle 23 which produced the largest solar flare ever recorded. The Sun will reach its 'apex' (maximum) in late 2011 into 2012.

"I believe it will be the magnetic influence produced by the Sun which will usher in what is described by our ancient ancestors as "the transition" bringing us to a new state-of-being". (Mitch Battros)

LOCAL UFO SIGHTINGS

Once again there have been reports of 'LITS' (Lights In The Sky) activity in the Langwith, Mansfield area. PRA member Neil Cairns showed a DVD of video footage taken over a series of days in this hot spot area, to PRA members at the recent meeting on the 27th April.

Neil drew attention to the fact that several of the shots had been taken at a time when all aircraft flights had ceased as a result of the Iceland volcanic dust cloud danger to aircraft.

UFO Over Langwith, Mansfield.

The light was seen to appear, slowly approaching from the left. It then hovered for several minutes (see yellow arrow) while at the same time increasing and decreasing in brightness.

After a short time, it slowly moved away to the left (white arrows), then increased in speed and finally went out of sight. By an extraordinary co-incidence, about 11pm on 27th April, while driving back towards Mansfield after the PRA meeting with passenger Bob Easton, another LITS object was spotted.

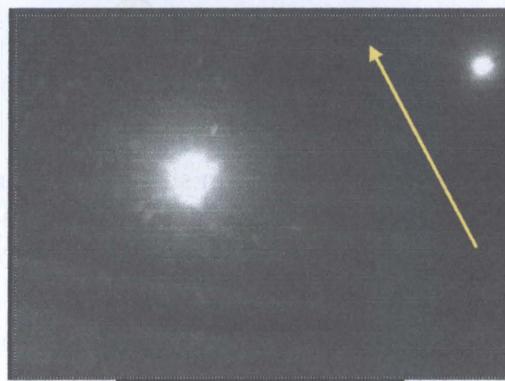

It behaved in a similar manner as the video'd light (above), by dimming and glowing as it was observed "just hanging in the sky". The light was then lost from sight as the car continued on its journey.

'FLYING TRIANGLES' SEEN NEAR BELPER, DERBYS.

PRA member Melanie Cunningham lives in the small village of Western Underwood, near Belper the scene of numerous sightings.

Melanie recently moved to the area from her home in the Western Isles (Scotland), previously having lived in the Belper area for several years, where she had witnessed numerous UFO sightings including 'Flying Triangles'.

Melanie achieved widespread publicity in the field of Ufology, when a 'still' from an 8mm film she had taken (camera supplied by the PRA) showed a yellow glowing FT, passing in the same area of darkened sky as the Moon. (picture right).

The 8mm camera had been given to Melanie in order to verify the numerous 'FT' sightings that she had reported. It appears that she is one of the few people, gifted to see UFO's in the sky when other people seem oblivious of the events going on around them.

In a similar way our colleague Eric Goring (Louth, Lincolnshire) has periods where this area of the country is apparently inundated with 'FT' activity and

He informs us of the precise details of his many FT sightings.

Melanie has recently sent us the following report of UFO activity in her area on 12th April 2010.

I heard a low mechanical noise and ran upstairs with my binoculars (8x21) where I noticed a large object moving over the house, towards the fields opposite, where there are only sheep and cows.

As I watched, I could make out the shape of a triangle with two whitish/yellow lights at the rear (see drawing) and a red light at the front. Then gradually the object descended from the height of about three houses to maybe one and moved off behind some trees. Approx. two minutes later, exactly the same thing happened! Two to three minutes after that a third triangle followed this pattern of activity - I was shocked!

Then smaller, quieter objects with rapidly flashing red lights started appearing in different parts of the sky. Some of these were silent and appeared to 'jump' from one place and then turning up in another, without appearing to travel between the two destinations. These craft came and went until about 10pm. By then I was so overwhelmed by seeing so much, that I retreated indoors. I thought "what on earth is going on?"

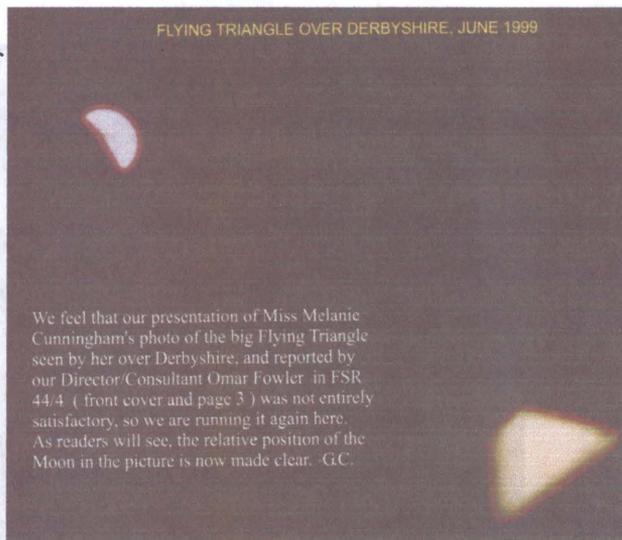

Also on the evening of the 9th April 2010, I observed several unusual objects in the sky opposite the front of my home.

One seemed triangular in shape and then suddenly it changed its position as it moved, I don't know if I was seeing it on its side or not but I saw what was either a diamond shape or a flower shape structure, made up of several pale blue lights...Very strange.

As you know, when I lived in Belper, I experienced many unusual sightings, including a brief sighting when I looked out of my bedroom window, of just 1 - 2 seconds, when I was astonished to see the figure of a 'man dressed in astronauts attire' at the foot of my garden path. The image was clear but vanished within 2 seconds!

End of report.

MORE DERBYSHIRE NEWS

BELPER – It could be the setting for its very own X File after one young resident reported seeing a UFO suspended in the air. Nicholas Thompson, of Pingle Lane, said he spotted a small black sphere with legs and landing feet floating between a house while he was looking out of the window, in a strange sighting akin to what is seen on the top American sci-fi television show which sees two FBI agents investigating unexplained events. It hovered for a few seconds and then went behind a house and out of view, said Nicholas. The 11-year-old said the sighting happened around three months ago, but he is now looking for anyone else who has had a similar experience.

Belper School student Nicholas said: "It was the first time I'd ever seen anything like it, but I'm sure of what I saw. It's convinced me UFOs exist. I've been trying to look and see more things since I saw it." Have you seen anything unusual in Belper? 'DERBY: Its Rise and Progress'

(By A.W. Davison. Published by Bemrose & Sons Ltd. 1906)

(Extract from Chapt.5 'Social Life', pages 203,204.)

In the thirteenth century records of Burton Abbey appear several detailed accounts of marvellous signs displayed in the heavens, all elaborately done in Latin by the Abbey scribe.

On October 14th 1253, according to this chronicle, a wonderful sight was witnessed at Alvaston near Derby, by a large number of people. One of whom Nicholas of Findern who duly reported it to the Abbey authorities.

About the hour of the vespers (?) the sky being clear, suddenly a large bright star appeared out of a black cloud with two smaller stars in the vicinity.

A battle royal soon commenced, the small stars charging into the large star again and again, so that it began to diminish in size and sparks of fire fell from the combatants.

This continued for a considerable time and at last, the spectators 'stupefied by fear and wonder' and ignorant of what it might portend, fled. (End of extract).

Infrared UFOs Picked up on Digital Cameras

Kenneth Larson writes, "The recent spate of news in UFO magazines and UFO blogs concerns the various witnesses around the world who aim a regular camera at the clear sky and see nothing but sky."

But when they use a digital camera that has the infrared spectrum and take a photo of the clear sky and scan the digital camera image they discover or see an unexpected UFO.

Human eyes do not have the infrared spectrum---but many digital cameras do. In turn, the UFOs seem to operate in the infrared spectrum. So, UFOs do exist in the sky, but often we cannot see them with our regular eyesight. Infrared is situated outside the visible spectrum at the red end--or the wavelength between 700 nanometers and 12 millimeter) spectrum.

Editor's Note: It appears that the heat from the cylinder shaped UFO in Addison, Texas is being captured by the digital camera, while the actual UFO is above it.

STOKE ON TRENT 'FLYING TRIANGLE' 1996

(Readers Letter 12 April 2010)

Dear Mr Fowler,

I saw you on the Controversial TV Channel in the past few days talking about the black triangle UFO phenomenon. I thought I would relate to you an encounter which my wife and daughters had back in 1996.

My wife went out one cold Autumn night about 8.00pm to collect our youngest daughter from Brownies and to also collect her older sister from her friends house on the way (the girls were 8 and 12 respectively) Now before I go any further I must say I normally went with her on this journey but curse the fact that on this occasion I did not.

As she came back in about 30mins later, as soon as she came through the door she said "I think I've just seen a UFO"with a half smile, I asked her what she was talking about. She told me as normal she picked up both girls and was only in the next street down, a matter of 2 minutes drive when she was aware of something in the sky above the car and low in the sky so she stopped the car and saw a large black shape above so got out of the car to see better.....she said it was a "huge black triangle shaped thing" in the sky just hovering in total silence.....

Now bear in mind the location of where she stopped was the edge of a newish housing estate.....she said nobody was around and she told the girls to stay in the car whereby they dropped the windows and asked their mother "what is it?"my wife said it started to move slowly back and forth and that she could hear a helicopter approaching, at this point she said she became really scared and thought it was watching her so jumped in her car with a very strong thought "oh god, please start" which it did, and as she glanced up at it in almost the blink of an eye she said it shot off upwards and at an angle.

Now as I said she was only in the next street and as she got to a junction at the end of the road she saw a police car parked up and two male officers out of the car looking up at the sky.

I went out myself but in the garden but of course nothing but a clear starry night. I remember my daughters excitedly getting their pens and paper out and drawing the triangle and one said to the other "was it isosceles or equilateral" to which the reply was "equilateral" what they described and drew is virtually identical to the triangle on your web page, dense black with white lights at each corner and a "duller" reddish light in the middle.

I must say I have had a mild interest in the subject most of my adult life but at the time this happened had no idea that there were triangles being seen as well as the traditional saucer and cigar shaped UFO's. I made a point of keeping my eyes open in the local press and a couple of weeks later saw a couple of reports about triangles, one being reported by an airline pilot as he was on approach to Manchester airport the other by a motorist who spotted a triangle near a motorway in the area. Of course I thought to myself it must be something secret and military and largely pushed it to the back of my mind .

My wife has since said she is "pleased the girls were with her that night otherwise she would have doubted her sanity!"

It was not until quite some years later when we got on to the internet and read other people's encounters with identical craft I realised it was no military secret she has seen, rather something far more mysterious.

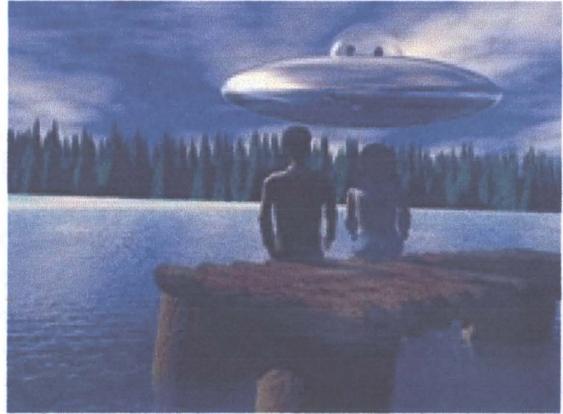

Strange how they are so often at a very low altitude, my described it as "huge" and just a "few houses high in altitude" she never told anyone but me about it and in recent years I related the sighting in the local press just in case anyone in a nearby street witnessed it but there was no feedback to my printed letterbut then we know how some people prefer not to open themselves up to ridicule.

I know you must get lots of email but being as this was not reported at the time I thought it may be of interest to you. I nearly forgot the location, we are in Stoke on Trent.

The Buff Ledge, Vermont Encounter - August 7, 1968: 06 Apr 2010 08:42 AM PDT

On August 7, 1969, an abduction event took place at Buff Ledge summer camp for girls on the shores of Lake Champlain north of Burlington in Vermont. The case was investigated by Walter N. Webb, who spent 32 years at the Charles Hayden Planetarium in Boston as senior lecturer, assistant director, and manager of operations. Mr. Webb, who has had a lifelong interest in UFOs and who worked with J. Allen Hynek, wrote a book about his investigation called "Encounter at Buff Ledge: A UFO Case History."

Two teenage camp employees, a sixteen year old boy named Michael Lapp, and a nineteen year old girl named Janet Cornell, were sitting on a boat dock late in the afternoon. The camp was mostly deserted because most everyone was gone into Burlington for a swim meet. As the sun dropped and the sky darkened, a bright light suddenly appeared. Michael said that he at first thought it was Venus. (Note: It couldn't have been Venus. Venus was a morning star on that date, rising at about 2:00 am on the Eastern horizon, not visible in the late afternoon over Lake Champlain)

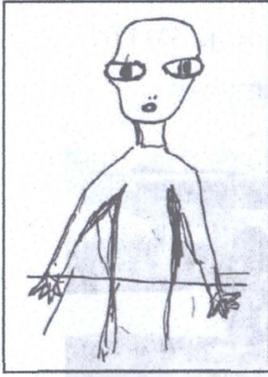

As the object drew closer, the shape became more clear-it was a saucer shape. Suddenly, Michael remarked, "Wow! Venus is falling." But he knew better. The lone light now dropped three smaller lights from it and they immediately soared over the lake. The larger object soon disappeared from sight. It was obvious the objects were being intelligently controlled. The UFOs seemed to perform for the two mesmerized teenagers, doing zigzags, loops, and then would suddenly drop like a falling leaf.

Now, the three UFOs moved ever closer to the two friends. The UFOs formed a triangle formation, and then two of them pulled away, leaving just one out front. Later, Michael would recall hearing something that sounded like "a thousand tuning forks" as the two objects pulled back. The last UFO then passed right over them, shot upward and briefly disappeared. Soon, it would reappear, tilted to one side, then drop straight into the lake.

After a time, it would emerge from the lake, and then begin moving directly toward Michael and Janet. The UFO was so close now that two beings could be seen through the transparent cupola of the object. The beings appeared child-like. According to Michael, their necks were elongated, they had big heads for their body size. They had no hair, but large eyes which wrapped around the side of their heads. He thought that he was in mental contact with the beings.

For some odd reason, as Michael watched the aliens, he slapped his knee. One alien did likewise. The UFO was now directly over their heads, as it shot a beam at the two. Michael grabbed Janet's shoulder and pulled back, landing both of them on the deck on their backs. He then was terrified of being taken, and screamed, "We don't want to go!" The next thing Michael recalled was sitting on the dock and gazing at the object, which was now farther away from them. Janet seemed to just sit in a trance. It was now totally dark. Soon, they heard members of the swim team talking as they made their way back into the camp. The UFO moved higher up into the sky. It flashed its lights a number of times, and then disappeared. Michael wondered, "How long have we been here?" Nothing would be said about what happened that late afternoon. When summer camp ended, the two went their separate ways. Michael rarely thought about his experience for the next five years, but as time went by, he began to have disturbing dreams.

Ten years after Michael's experience, he decided to contact the Center for UFO Studies. He was referred to investigator Walter Webb. After becoming familiar with the details of the case, Webb suggested regressive hypnosis to relieve Michael's nightmares, and hopefully regain his lost memories. The sessions brought back the events of the late afternoon experience at Buff Ledge. But now, he recalled being lifted by a beam into the waiting UFO, and going into a larger UFO. He also remembered Janet lying on an examination table.

The beings shone a light into her eyes, took skin samples, and fluids from her body. "The aliens all looked alike, Michael recalled, and had those large eyes, a mouth without lips, no ears, and two small openings for a nose." Michael also described the beings as having three pointed, web-like digits for fingers, and their bodies felt "damp and clammy." Michael recalls the aliens wanted life on our planet to be like theirs, without violence.

Janet, now 29, would also be regressed. Her recalled memories would only strengthen the case of alien abduction. She recalled the "coldness" of the table. Something had pulled her hair, and pinched her neck. There was no disharmony in Michael and Janet's statements.

Webb also conducted an investigation outside the boundaries of regressive hypnosis. He was able to find other members of Buff Ledge that had witnessed strange lights over Lake Champlain on the same night as Michael and Janet's abduction. Two other members of the camp also claimed to have been abducted after seeing strange lights, but earlier in the summer. Their names were not released. The events at Buff Ledge camp are certainly proof of an alien abduction.

Evaluation - Walter N. Webb

Michael and Janet were given a thorough evaluation which included MMP| (Minnesota Multiphasic Personality Inventory) tests, PSE (Psychological Stress Evaluator) exams, and background character checks. The two personalities comprised a study in contrasts. When I last saw Michael six years ago, I characterized him then as bright, idealistic, having psychic and mystical interests, leading a creative and artistic lifestyle, and lacking in strong motivation. His life and interests appeared to have changed drastically following the UFO experience (Some of these changes, however, were undoubtedly due to an unhappy home life and to normal teen-to-adult maturation.) Unable to apply himself at college, he dropped out of schools three times, worked at odd jobs across the country, and finally returned to college where in 1978 he succeeded in graduating with a B.A. in religion. When I last contacted him some years ago, he was pursuing a modelling and acting career.

Janet, on the other hand, followed a straight and narrow path to her present station in life as a wife and mother. She appeared equally bright, well-adjusted, confident, outgoing, highly motivated, and leading a conventional lifestyle. An excellent student, she graduated from college with honors in 1971 with a B.A. in psychology. After holding several responsible administrative positions at an ivy league college, Janet married a physician in 1978 and now cares for her four children, ages 11, 8, and 5 (twins). Unlike the male witness's continued obsession with the UFO experience, Janet has become preoccupied with family life and prefers to forget the encounter.

It was established to my satisfaction that both witnesses were honest, credible individuals who did not perpetrate a hoax (indeed, they had no opportunity for collusion) nor suffer some sort of shared hallucination or delusion. The probability is high, in my judgment, that Michael and Janet experienced a real external event of unknown origin.

Jaime Maussan's 'Metepec Creature' Confirmed a Hoax

Posted: 22 Mar 2010 01:24 PM PDT Phantoms and Monsters

The following remarks have been taken from www.alcione.org (written in Spanish)

A “Veterinary Assistant” featured in the whole Metepec Creature brouhaha, “Ángel Palacios Núñez”, is, according to Alejandro Franz, in fact Urso Moreno Ruíz, nephew of Mario Moreno, and a taxidermist.

More importantly, Urso Ruíz apparently confessed in an Internet forum he indeed hoaxed the creature, which is indeed just a squirrel-monkey: (see photo below)

“It’s just the corpse of a skinned squirrel-monkey. I took its ears out and involved it with all the hair and fluids of all animals I could find, then I dried it. All samples they take of it will come out as being of different animals.”

Of course, we already knew it was a skinned squirrel-monkey: He goes on:

“Mr Mario quickly sold it to Maussán for 300.000 pesos [US$23,000], as you can see after four years they still can’t realize it’s a hoax.”

“I must say I didn’t claim it was real. That was Maussán who claimed it was real. He believed it. All the show was a hoax that got out of control, but after four years I’m happy to see one of my creations going around the world and through many scientists and tests and they still haven’t figured out what it is. I may have fooled science! LOL”

Stephen Hawking warns over making contact with Aliens

Aliens almost certainly exist but humans should avoid making contact, Professor Stephen Hawking has warned. In a series for the Discovery Channel the renowned astrophysicist said it was "perfectly rational" to assume intelligent life exists elsewhere. But he warned that aliens might simply raid Earth for resources, then move on.

"If aliens visit us, the outcome would be much as when Columbus landed in America, which didn't turn out well for the Native Americans," he said.

Prof Hawking thinks that, rather than actively trying to communicate with extra-terrestrials, humans should do everything possible to avoid contact. He explained: "We only have to look at ourselves to see how intelligent life might develop into something we wouldn't want to meet."

In the past, probes have been sent into space with engravings of human beings on board and diagrams showing the location of our planet. Radio beams have been fired into space in the hope of reaching alien civilisations.

Prof Hawking said: "To my mathematical brain, the numbers alone make thinking about aliens perfectly rational. "The real challenge is to work out what aliens might actually be like." The programme envisages numerous alien species including two-legged herbivores and yellow, lizard-like predators. But Prof Hawking conceded most life elsewhere in the universe is likely to consist of simple microbes.

Editor Comment: Isn't it a pity that even a brilliant mind like Prof. Hawkin can get it wrong when it comes to predicting what an Alien species may probably look like.

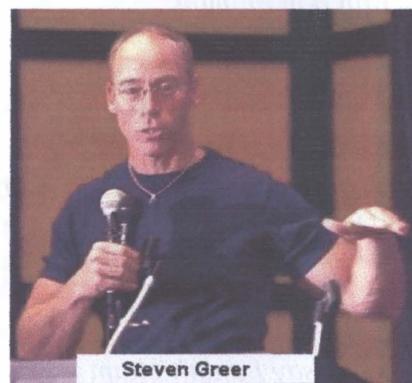

His comments regarding avoiding contact with an Alien civilisation were preceded several years ago by the late Gordon Creighton, Editor of 'Flying Saucer Review' who stated exactly the same point of view, that we should not advertise our presence in the Universe!

Steven Greer Response to Stephen Hawking Comments - April 26, 2010

It is unfortunate that Stephen Hawking has added his voice to a growing chorus of xenophobia and fear regarding what he terms "Aliens."

Secondly, as a scientist, he should know better: Any interstellar civilization would possess such technologies that the meager resources of Earth would be unneeded.

If you can travel faster than the speed of light, you can manifest what is needed. Period. Moreover, IF they were hostile- since ETs are already visiting Earth (see www.DisclosureProject.org)- this would have been made crystal clear when we detonated the first atomic weapon in 1945. To date, no place on Earth has been invaded or attacked or colonized.

Hawking should refrain from stirring the war-mongering fear pot that attends all things "alien." And one might ask: Why would he make such statements, unless he is carrying water for the military-industrial-financial complex which profiteers off of the wars that fear breeds?

‘SKELETONS’ – ALIEN VISITORS?

Thanks to C. D. Gragg Copyright 2010 All rights reserved. (PRA Review Extract from Filers Files # 13)

"The most fascinating subject in all my research was Theta Tres, an articulate, seven year old Ma-yan girl. I was meeting with her mother, Eta Tres and her grandmother, Epsilon Tres on a UFO sighting and hardly noticed her presence. I had no idea why she was there except perhaps her mom couldn't get a sitter." After finishing the UFO investigation, we moved on to other interesting events. I was quite sure that from the discussion that both mother and grandmother had been visited. As the conversation proceeded, they said I should listen to the seven year old. I did.....

Theta Tres was first visited by ETs in her crib at the age of three. She liked it very much when they came to play with her. She called them skeletons and told her mother about them. Her calling them skeletons was most puzzling until one day a year or so later. She and her mother were walking down the street and there was a drawing of a little gray in a shop window. She pointed at it and told her mother there's a skeleton. She had seen the very thin arms and legs of the little grays and gave the best description that her young three year-old vocabulary would permit. (End of extract).

Little Skeletons (Extract From Filers Files #14 By Kenneth Larson)

I am absolutely taken aback... I just read your recent files with the article entitled "Mexico the Little Skeletons." I was very young and this article is only the second time I have seen reference to the way I use to describe my "visitors". This is a partial message I sent to a reporter for News Blaze named Ian Brockwell who seemed to be very sincere/honest and we have since corresponded many times.

"When I was young (first memory about 4-5 years old)... I remember a continual and very lucid dream where I found myself in the presence of beings. They were tall, thin and white with deep dark and big eyes. I remember simply finding myself in their presence. I would be laying horizontal and I really can't remember if I was on a table and it almost felt like I was floating. But the one incredible aspect of this "dream" was the feeling of complete and total unconditional love... but it was more than that... it was like the "love" was simply "there"... in every fiber of the atmosphere... just "there"... available for ALL to experience. It was such a wonderful and content feeling that I would get up in the morning and I couldn't wait for night time to come again so I could get back there. And I use to go to sleep every night hoping it would happen again. I remember that my Mom and Dad would come in to kiss me goodnight every night... and they both would give me a little tickle and with their kiss on my cheek... and I always remember feeling such complete love along with that...

Now the beings... I had no reference point to describe them at that age other than early exposure to Halloween images and otherwise and I use to call them Skeletons .. but it wasn't scary to me and it was the only way I could describe them... So... in the morning I would be at the breakfast table and I would say to my Mom (and Dad) that I was with the "Skeletons who tickled me" again last night. Now my parents had no idea what I was talking about and it was a recurring dream... This went on into the beginning of puberty and years later, after I became so involved in my research and before my Mom passed away. I brought this up with her... and she remembered this... and we talked about how there may have been more to this that a simple dream or make believe.

On one of my field expeditions with Steve (Greer) at Mt. Shasta...I related my story... the moment I said I use to refer to these beings as Skeletons... Dr. Greer just about fell out of his seat... he interrupted me and announced that in all his writings... and all his talks... he has never admitted this... but in fact he use to refer to the beings he had contact with as a child... as Skeletons also... You could have heard a pin drop... it was quite an event for both of us I later contacted Linda Wilts (CSETI Assistant) who recorded every minute of every outing we had... and I asked her for a copy of the tape so I could play it for my Mom... After weeks of her looking... she finally contacted me and told that that she found the tape... BUT... that part of the evening (when Steve and I were talking about this) was nothing more than static... 15-20 minutes of static (just like in the movie Contact)! None the less... it happened and something I will never forget (there were 40+/- people there).

I do not like to use the word "abducted" when I remember what I believe are true ET encounters... I refer to them as "contacts" because I was fully willing and wanted to experience this. Kenneth Larson

Back to Montana

By Captain Robert L. Salas

Captain Salas was present in March of 1967 at Malmstrom Air Force Base in Montana when a large, saucer-shaped craft at a very close distance was reported to him at the same time as numerous nuclear missile warheads were deactivated. Could this have been a message from extraterrestrial beings not to engage in nuclear conflicts? Why have this and many other UFO incidents reported by high-ranking officials not been given major news coverage?

Captain Robert L. Salas

"For the sake of that airman I spoke with, and for all the other officers and men in the Air Force who have had to keep silent about what they experienced with these objects, I, without reservation, accuse the U.S. Department of the Air Force of a blatant, pervasive and continuing cover-up of the facts, deception, distortion, and lying to the public about the reality of the UFO phenomenon.

Captain Robert L. Salas, USAF, on the shut down by UFOs of nuclear missile warheads at Malmstrom AFB

On March 25, 1967, I woke up groggy from my 24 hour "tour in the hole," as we referred to duty in the underground capsule. As I recall that morning, I picked up the Great Falls Tribune and read accounts of UFO reports around the area.

Later that afternoon, I received a call from one of the airmen who had seen the object at Oscar Flight where we had experienced the strange incident of multiple warheads being disabled the morning before. He pleaded, no begged me to meet with him to talk about what had happened. All he wanted to do was talk about it.

He had been one of the security guards who had to stand in abject terror in front of this large red pulsating ball of light by our front gate with only a rifle in his hands. He told me unashamedly that he was confused and frightened by what he had seen, and he was desperate to speak with me about it. I had to tell him that I had taken an oath not to speak about the incident to anyone and could not meet with him.

As much as anything that has transpired in my life, that conversation has consistently haunted me to this day.

I was unaware at that time that the entire flight of ten Minuteman I missiles was also disabled while UFOs were observed over the launch facilities of nearby Echo Flight on March 16, 1967.

They too were not allowed to talk about it. Only later did I discover the intense policy of secrecy around UFOs throughout the Air Force.

James Klotz and I have documented these events in our book Faded Giant. There are multiple witness statements and documentation to support these claims. At least for the sake of that airman I spoke with, and for all the other officers and men in the Air Force who have had to keep silent about what they experienced with these objects, I, without reservation, accuse the U.S. Department of the Air Force of a blatant, pervasive and continuing cover-up of the facts, deception, distortion, and lying to the public about the reality of the UFO phenomenon.

SPECTACULAR MARS PHOTO'S

Not so many years ago, photographs of distant planets and their satellites that are now available would have been considered in the realms of pure science fiction. The latest images that have been published only increase our curiosity and raise the question as to whether there has been intelligent life on Mars or in fact it still exists?

PHOBOS: (above) Serious consideration is now being given to the theory that this satellite of Mars may be an artificial body!

GEOMAGNETIC STORM: A high-speed solar wind stream hit Earth's magnetic field last night (May 2-3), sparking a geomagnetic storm that lasted more than 15 hours. In Scandinavia, the Northern Lights were so bright they could be seen through the glow of the midnight sun. Red auroras spilled across the Canadian border and were spotted in several US states. Details and images are features in today's edition of <http://spaceweather.com>.

July 28, 1965; CARSWELL AFB, Texas (10 Men, Two Phones, One Button Control World's Fastest Bomber).

(Half of the wing stands nuclear loaded and ready to fly at all times.)

At 9:40 p.m. local time, a USAF Reserve Major, with a Command Pilot rating and a top secret clearance, with his wife observed a manta ray shaped object fly almost directly overhead at below 1000 feet altitude. The object moved at a constant speed on the same course of 360 degrees. The object was approximately 40 feet long and had two brilliant white lights pulsating off and on once every second. At no time was there any sound.

The object flew directly through the Carswell control zone at low altitude. The Major upon returning to his quarters called the control tower. The sighting was verified by three other persons on duty. The report was submitted because RAPCON could not identify aircraft in the area at the time of the sighting. The report goes on to state: "This sighting was a positive observation, under ideal circumstances, of a definite object of an unconventional nature--possibly of foreign origin, which could be a threat to national security." All the witnesses' names have been blacked out on the report. This is not usually done with military witnesses. (With Thanks to Dan Wilson, Ohio, USA)

THE RETURN OF JENNY RANGLES

(Recent News Release) Posted By Pauline Wilson at Sunday, April 25, 2010

In the "Fortean Times" the latest issue, number 259, has a fascinating opinion piece by long-term UK UFOlogist, Jenny Randles. Jenny has been in the background for some time now, after making a significant contribution to both British and global UFOlogy. The piece is titled "UFOlogy in 2010," and is a discussion on where the study of UFOs might be in ten years time.

Commenting on the percentage of mundane reports out of all the incoming raw reports she states "...it was largely correct to say that most UFO sightings are misperceptions - there is little (if any) hard evidence for an alien presence on Earth, while a small residue of puzzling cases do indeed challenge our understanding of subjects as diverse as atmospheric physics, metaphysics and the notion of consciousness. This is the reality that researchers now confront..."

Jenny goes on to say "Finding answers to the UFO mystery will not involve some 'big reveal.' It can only be solved piece by piece, because there is no single UFO mystery to be revealed-just a mixture of different phenomena caused by a bewildering array of things."

Jenny may have studied UFO's for 30 years, but doesn't appear to have learnt much! Ed
