THE SNOWS OF YESTERYEAR

The Evening Standard of 22 May 1967 informed the waiting world that "reports of flying saucers over Surrey have led to the formation of SIGAP, the Surrey Investigation Group on Aerial Phenomena. Members, who have their headquarters in Guildford, are taking part in an international sky watch on June 24th."

"Why June 24th?" the uninstructed may query, but old timers like us know full well that on this date in 1947 Kenneth Arnold described as 'flying saucers' the UFOs of the Cascade Mountains in Washington USA. We also respond nostalgically to the very word skywatch, with its memories of long nights of eyestrain in damp fields around Cradle Hill.

The founders of SIGAP were accompanied on their vigil by the International Sky Scouts of Shepperton, no longer – alas – with us, but fondly remembered by Jimmy Goddard, now of SIGAP, who was their chairman. Theirs was a 12 hour watch, starting at 7 p.m. Shifts of four persons sat back to back facing the cardinal points of the compass for two hours. They were sustained by romantic fervour plus a thermos of coffee and saw many UFOs, meticulously logged for posterity. They were honoured to be joined by "a special van belonging to BUFORA" with "a radio transmitter, UFO detectors and astro-compasses, besides tape recorders." Where is it now, we wonder? Safely stowed, perhaps in some corner of the Beer Hall at Hampton, with the secret of its UFO detector still intact?

In March 1979 PEGASUS reviewed the preceding year and reported a total of 91 incidents recorded. "The height of activity took place in the month of April," it stated. Ah, the merry month of April! Anyone for a skywatch on April 1st 2002?

G.M.

A HOLE IN TIME?

In the early Nineteen Forties the US Government started experiments involving radar invisibility of ships. Nikola Tesla originally headed the project along with Einstein, Von Neumann, and others. The electro-magnetic fields generated were unstable and the personnel on the ship suffered. Because of this instability the experiment reportedly didn't just achieve radar invisibility; it ended up causing optical invisibility and some extreme space-time distortions as well.

When the experiment went awry it twisted up the local space-time environment and caused a nearby "observing" UFO to get displaced. The distortions also caught up a technician, who was working in the ship's control room. When everything appeared to go awry and nobody could turn off the experiment, he panicked and jumped overboard. Not only did he end up at the same place as the UFO, but they were both there 40 years in the future, in 1983. The technician's name was Cameron.

Cameron's name is now Al Bielek. He lectures to various groups in great detail. His talks are consistent if bizarre. Supposedly, due to "psychological conditioning" his memories had been suppressed until events in the last 5 or so years triggered their return. At the next SIGAP meeting we will be watching a video of one of these lectures by Al Bielek (details enclosed with this volume of Pegasus), during which this seemingly run-of-the-mill man tells his incredible story. To whet members' appetites, the following article describes some aspects of 'The Philadelphia Experiment'.

In July 1943, the destroyer U.S.S. Eldridge pulled into the Delaware Bay area for a United States Naval experiment that involved the task of making the ship invisible. The project's official name is Project Rainbow, but was nicknamed and more commonly known as the Philadelphia Experiment. Much has been written and speculated about the legendary experiment into invisibility, but sorting fact from fiction is a near impossible task, especially with the recent influx of misinformation and deliberate disinformation that has been spread by those connected to the U.S. Intelligence community and professional sceptics. There is much controversy over what exactly happened, but one thing is for sure. For some reason, soon after the test was completed, a massive blanket of secrecy and denial was placed over what happened in Delaware Bay. It is thought that a huge scientific breakthrough was made, and the ship was accurately transported over space and time, disappearing in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and reappearing in Norfolk, Virginia. Whatever did happen is still not known, but different theories are discussed below: The "Official" Navy Record

The Navy admits that the U.S.S. Eldridge took part in an experiment that involved wrapping wire around the hull of the destroyer in an attempt to cancel out the magnetic fields of the metal on the ship. This is known as degaussing. This would render the ship "invisible" to underwater magnetic mines that rely on proximity sensors to trigger the detonation. These sensors operate by detecting magnetic fields around ships. Without the magnetic field, the ship would be able to pass through regions mined with these sensors, invisible to enemy mines, but not to radar or vision. The Navy's report is very plausible, and doesn't mention any exotic results or circumstances. But could this just be a believable account to drop the interest by the general public, leaving only the true minority of investigators in doubt?

Physical Invisibility

Some scientists have developed the theory that the Navy was working on a way to make the ship invisible to vision. However, it didn't involve warping space-time or any complex task of a similar nature. This theory suggests that the Eldridge was equipped with high frequency generators that would heat up the surrounding air to cause a mirage, making the vessel invisible.

This phenomenon is naturally occurring, and there have been cases where entire islands have disappeared from view in the right weather conditions. The high frequency generator would heat up the surrounding air and the water (creating a green-coloured fog that was said to have engulfed the ship), causing a mirage to form, concealing the ship from view.

The generator would also account for the sickness (physical and mental) of the crew after the experiment. A high frequency generator can cause serious harm to a person's well-being, especially at close range. This is more plausible than the degaussing theory, and would also explain the crew's sick condition as a result of the test.

The main problem with these theories though, is that it doesn't explain how the U.S.S. Eldridge was seen in Norfolk, Virginia by the civilian crew of the SS Andrew Furuseth, when the ship disappeared from view in Philadelphia in a space of only about fifteen minutes. There are also details such as crewmen being fused to the hull of the ship and some not even reappearing.

The U.S.S. Eldridge

Transported across space and time?

The most interesting theory about the Philadelphia Experiment is that the destroyer did in fact disappear and was teleported across space and time. Supposedly, there was a great number of ingenious scientists (including Tesla and Einstein) that were taking part in the experiment. However, Nikola Tesla was supposed to die at the time of the Naval experiment.

The theory is that light has to be bent around the ship to make it invisible. To accomplish this, the Navy wrapped the ship's circumference in wire and passed a measured current through it. This caused a huge oscillating magnet to form a magnetic field around the ship, not only bending the light, but space and time as well. The physics of the experiment are reminiscent of Einstein's Unified Field Theory that once you bend light, you are also unwittingly bending space and time as well.

The first time this experiment was undertaken, the ship didn't completely disappear, and an imprint of the hull could be seen sitting in the water. The second time, the ship totally disappeared in a green fog and was sighted in Norfolk, Virginia. A haunting fact is that when the ship reappeared, the crew were all in a state of disorientation. Some were mentally ill, while other crewmen didn't even return. There were also crewmen that returned embedded in the hull. Later accounts arose about the crewmen, including a former crew member who was involved in a bar fight, and all the participants froze in time, as reported by a local newspaper! There were also accounts of people who were on the ship, spontaneously combusting.

The mystery remains

It is still not known what happened that day in 1943, mainly due to the lack of witnesses coming forth who served aboard the Eldridge. There is also no documentation available to the public which details Project Rainbow. It may have simply been a degaussing experiment. But how did the destroyer appear seconds later in Virginia? Its possible the answer will never be known, but the mystery may be solved when scientists rediscover what happened in Delaware Bay.

THE CASE OF THE EVIL WIND

Climate Study Corroborates Sumer's Nuclear Fate

At the end of the third millennium B.C. the great Sumerian civilization came to an abrupt end. Its sudden demise was bewailed in numerous lamentation texts that have been discovered by archaeologists. The texts ascribed the calamity to an Evil Wind that came blowing from the west (from the direction of the Mediterranean Sea) -- a deathly cloud that caused excruciating death to all living beings, people and animals alike, that withered plants and poisoned the waters.

In The Wars of Gods and Men (third book of The Earth Chronicles series), Zecharia Sitchin saw an explanation of the sudden death in a long text known to scholars as The Erra Epos, that described a chain of events that ultimately led to the use of "Weapons of Terror" in a conflict between opposing clans of the Anunnaki ("Those who from Heaven to Earth came").

Based on the descriptions of the weapons in the Erra Epos and in the lamentation texts, Zecharia Sitchin concluded that the Weapons of Terror were nuclear weapons. Used to obliterate the spaceport that then existed in the Sinai Peninsula (and some "sinning cities" such as Sodom and Gomorrah), the nuclear cloud then was carried by the prevailing winds eastward, causing death and desolation in the Lands Between the Rivers (Mesopotamia) -- the empire of Sumer and Akkad.

Besides claiming that nuclear weapons were first used on Earth not in the 1940's in Hiroshima but thousands of years earlier in the Near East, Zecharia also pinpointed the date: 2024 B.C.!

Scientific Corroboration Now Comes Along

That the civilization that sprang out in Sumer circa 3800 B.C. -- reaching unparalleled heights under the last dynasty, the Third Dynasty of Ur (Abraham's city) -- had come to an abrupt end near the end of the third millennium B.C. has been an accepted and well-documented fact. That the end was abrupt, was also certain. What scholars deemed as still lacking was an explanation: How, what caused it?

Beginning in 1999, archaeologists and scholars specializing in the Near East saw mounting evidence that the demise of Sumer and Akkad (Sumer's northern extension) coincided with an abrupt climate change. An initial study by Harvey Weiss and Timothy C. Wieskel of Harvard University was reinforced by a subsequent study (Geology, April 2000) by H.M. Cullen et al from the Lamont-Doherty Earth Observatory of Columbia University, the University of Utah, the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, and the Institute für Geowissenschaften, Germany. Based on studies of unexplained aridity and wind-blown dust storms and radiocarbon datings, they reported that their readings indicated a date of 4025 years ago (plus or minus a margin of 125 years).

A precise date corroborated!

Those and similar climate-change studies, relating the climate conditions to the rise and fall of civilizations in the Old as well as the New Worlds, were summed up in a major study published in the prestigious journal Science in its 27 April 2001 issue. Authored by Peter B. deMenocal of the Lamont-Doherty Earth Observatory of Columbia University, the study paid particular attention to sedimentary remains of Tephra; the telltale rock fragments confirmed the date 4025 Years Before Present.

And 4025 years, before the present year A.D. 2001 -- is exactly 2024 B.C., as Zecharia Sitchin had determined in his 1985 book!

The Tephra Mystery

The reliance of this latest study on the Tephra evidence is doubly significant. While the previous studies spoke of "wind blown dust," this latest study focuses on a material called Tephra. And what is Tephra? It is defined in geology textbooks thus:

When a volcano erupts, it will sometimes eject material such as rock fragments into the atmosphere. This material is known as Tephra

These burnt-through pieces of blackened gravel-like rock mostly fall near their volcanic source; but ashlike particles can be carried by prevailing winds over many miles and can stay aloft for more than a year.

The area in the Sinai Peninsula where the destroyed spaceport had been is indeed covered -- to this day! -- with gravelike burnt-through blackened stones (for photo evidence see illustrations 105, 106, & 107 in The Wars of Gods and Men). But as Zecharia has pointed out in his book; there are NO VOLCANOES in the Sinai Peninsula. In the Sinai Peninsula, the source of the wind-carried dust remains a mystery.

And the only explanation for these broken and blackened stones in the Sinai and the windblown desolation in Mesopotamia can be the tale of the Erra Epos, (reflected in the biblical tale of the upheaval of Sodom and Gomorrah): not an eruption by a non-existent volcano, but the use of nuclear weapons in 2024 B.C.

New UFO Wave Hits Belgium

The Triangles Are Back!

A Report by Dieter Bosh/Belgium, Edited by James Neff
Exclusively for Rense.com Copyright©2002, Rense.com

In the years 1989-90, just after the Russian UFO wave, Belgium became very well known throughout the world for its flap of triangle shaped UFOs and other sightings, beginning in the Dutch area of Eupen and eventually touching the entire country.

This wave was a boom for UFO investigative associations like SOBEPs (abbrev/trans - Society Of Belgian Studies of Celestial Phenomena), which work hand in hand with the Belgian Army, and which have finally produced a long awaited book, edited by SOBEPs researchers featuring photos analysed by the military authorities which deemed the images authentic. There is also film footage of the recent craft, currently being analysed by a Mr. Alfarano. However, many UFOlogists and UFO watchers believe SOBEPs to be "too close" to the Army to be truly objective and are skeptical of their operations. Other independent UFO research organizations have emerged from the schism, including CEEPA (abbrev/trans - European Study Centre of Aerial Phenomena) and UIU (abbrev/trans - Union of Inter UFOlogy), of which I am a member.

They're Coming Back!

2001 has seen a considerable upswing in UFO activity in Belgium and France, including the elusive black triangles. In mid-October a young lady reported a strange UFO in the Avioth area of northern France. She described it as being a very dark, square shaped UFO with four lights, one at each corner (note: in the now famous January 5, 2000 Illinois Triangle sighting, the massive object tracked and followed by several police officers and state troopers across a wide swatch of the state was reported by one observer to appear perfectly square, "like a floating building, and just about as tall, maybe three stories high" - as well as similar Israeli and South American reports of "square" craft with similar antigravitic properties and unusual lighting). Further reports of the object or similar objects came in from Charleroi, Belgium, just across the border.

In December of this year, however, the UFO sightings became widely recognized, making the TV news and popular newspapers, reporting, "A new wave is hitting Belgium." One of the more popular Belgian papers, "La Dernière Heure" (The Last Hour) on December 19th featured a report about the return of the triangles, with new reports of blue lighting on the underside of the craft, as well as orange and yellow. Belgian TV produced extensive coverage of the new UFO flap, interviewing two young men in Namur, not far from Charleroi, who reported a very close encounter with a silver, cylindrical shaped UFO. Triangles are being reported with varying lighting structures; red, green and blue lights, as well as UFOs that are orange in colour.

Many of the Belgian UFO organizations believe the triangles and other craft to be US military related considering the presence of SHAPE (Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe), part of the NATO military construct in the theatre. So close to the intense battle zones of Kosovo a few years ago, and now Afghanistan as well as other recent regional troubles, the flaps seem to centre around the French Belgian border, and even craft similar to the "Adamski" style flying saucer have been reported in the area (which has been the case even for decades). But these current triangle craft are extremely swift, utterly silent, almost magical in their manoeuvres and often very close to the ground and residential roof tops -- they are, as called, "Belgian Phantoms."

Several close friends who have had the massive ships drift over their homes have challenged the military authorities on talk radio programs to overfly their homes without making the windows rattle like the black triangles have, if these are truly 'conventional aircraft' being mistaken for something altogether more fantastic. They don't, of course, because they can't. The stealth and other craft used by US military in Europe, during the war in Kosovo, and now Afghanistan, are clearly not the same craft at all.

Brussels has been well visited by UFOs recently, and that's where my personal sightings have come from, making me a true believer. A massive UFO show occurred here (the same time Mr. Alfarano shot his footage). The UFO I saw was quite massive (the only other possibility considering its size would have to be a Zeppelin), silver in colour, sending out strange green orbs almost like a laser show. Oddly enough, on this same day, people reported the peculiar square shaped UFO as well, some even stopping their cars along the roadside to watch. (Speculation: Could the "square" UFOs be two triangles together?)

I will be informing the Jeff Rense website about the current UFO activity here in Belgium as it unfolds.

UPDATE

We requested a translated copy of the article presented in the Belgian newspaper "The Last Hour" of December 19, 2001 and Patrick Moncelet, an independent UFO researcher, kindly translated the piece along with some personal observations.

"UFOs Seen In The Hainault Skies, Just Like In 1989"

The "Centre European d'Etudes des Phenomenes Aeriens" (Quevy) is looking for witnesses.

HAINAULT - Whatever happened on the 6, 9, 10 and 15 December in the Hainault skies? Several recent accounts concern unidentified observations in the Mouscron's sky and along the French border between 22 p.m. and 4.30 a.m. Those observations recall the Belgian flap between 1989 and 1991. The "European Study Centre of Aerial Phenomena" (= CEEPA) based in Quevy-le grand, the equivalent of the SOBEPs, is currently investigating.

Christian Daubioul, the Centre's president, says that several witnesses have seen one or several large triangles of a dark colour, absolutely motionless and silent. One of these witnesses is a policeman from Mouscron, living in the Blommès district, about 400 m away from the border.

"My first observation was on Thursday, 6 December. Parking my car in the garage, I noticed something unusual happening in the sky. Then I saw two triangles, one on the east side, the other on the west. On the three corners of the triangles were blue lights... I observed them with my bare eyes, and with binoculars. I also called my spouse to see the phenomenon".

He still has this to add:

"On Sunday, 9 December, I saw again the two triangles. They were in the exact same spot, apart from the fact that one of them was higher than the other. Then I went back to bed. Around 7.30 a.m., only one of the triangles remained in the sky. But since then, I never saw them again".

Let it be known that this witness saw an identical phenomenon in the sky twelve years ago, at about the same time of the year (that was on the 24 of December). He even went to report his observation with the SOBEPS.

A lady living in the border district of Mont-a-Leux observed a similar phenomena on 15 December at about 6.40 a.m., just before sunrise. Totally absorbed by the show behind her window, she saw an imposing mass sliding above her street, before disappearing from her field of vision.

Christian Daubioul thinks that these cases deserve attention, however he has no clear explanation: "One may think, given the actual war with Afghanistan, that these could be drones under testing... Many things are happening at the military level. But we are still looking for an explanation. Up to now, only the satellite re-entry hypothesis has been discarded".

For information, CEEPA is looking for additional witnesses, please call: 0497- 74 49 10. CEEPA e-mail address is: ceepa_2000@yahoo.fr This article comes from the website <http://www.dhnet.be> Comments from Patrick Moncelet.

* A long study has been made of those mysterious "Triangle UFOs" by the Belgian Airforce in cooperation with the Sobeps, but nothing definitive has come out of it, public opinion in Western Europe is still divided between the UFO angle, and secret military planes.

* As a ufologist with 40 years experience, it is my opinion that the triangular UFOs cannot be secret military drones or planes, for various reasons, the most obvious being the fact that such secret projects would not be allowed to fly over populated areas of Belgium (or other countries as well), where they could easily be spied upon and at the mercy of a failure and a subsequent crash. Also one must not forget the unusual performances shown by these triangles, like total silence even at very low altitudes, hovering for long periods, etc. Clearly there is something else at stake than simple secret planes, even the dirigible theory had to be discontinued.

* It is a fact that most of triangles cases happen over Belgium territory, and there does not seem to be any explanation to this either.

Patrick Moncelet / Kota Kinabalu.

MULTIDIMENSIONAL REALITY: UFOs AND ALIENS

Although scientific discoveries have proven that there is one overall 'reality' consisting of the full electromagnetic spectrum, there are many suggestions that there are 'facets' of this immense electromagnetic reality which are as yet unknown to us and which are erroneously referred to as 'other' dimensions.

This is not necessarily the case, as there is evidence that what some see as other dimensions are actually various different facets of the ONE multi-faceted superdimension we call 'reality'. For instance, it is theoretically possible that another 'world' may exist on the other 'side' of the electromagnetic reality in which we live, an anti-matter world or realm or possibly a world invisible to us yet no less 'solid' existing on the opposite or reverse electromagnetic 'polarity' from our own. Scientists have mathematically proven that anti-matter does exist. Many writers have theorized about the existence of an 'alternate' world where the flow of time might be different from that as we know it. One such author was C. S. Lewis. There have been many accounts however which suggest that people have vanished into or appeared from such a region. Based on the suppositions, both fictional and para-scientific, the one electromagnetic reality might consist of three major facets. 1) The world of the 'Living' in which we find ourselves, 2) the world of the 'Dead' or the spirit realm as it is known among many religions and which may consist of electromagnetic energy itself, 3) and possibly although uncertainly a 'para-physical' realm invisible to us though no less solid, which might exist in an opposite polarity of the electromagnetic reality-spectrum in which we find ourselves, and which may be inhabited by entities who have somehow found their way there from the other two realms, and which might be referred to as the land of the 'Living-Dead' since it seems from both fictional and theoretical accounts that it is a realm where physical and supernatural flow together, a possible realm of intense conflict between good and evil.

THE UNI-VERSAL (OR UNIFIED-DIVERSAL) REALITY:

Much has been written about so-called multiple dimensions and realities. Some of the theories surrounding this subject may be half-true, but not always entirely accurate. The fact is, there are many 'dimensions' yet only one 'reality'.

Let us use this example: A plant usually contains a main or central 'stem' yet many 'branches' which shoot forth from the main stem. If one branch could look toward the other side of the plant and see another 'branch', it might get the idea that it is part of an entirely different 'world' than it's own when in fact it is one with the other 'branch' by way of the main 'stem'.

In the same analogy, there is apparently only one overall 'electromagnetic reality', yet numerous FACETS of that one electromagnetic spectrum.

The human mind and body was created in such a way as to be enabled to perceive elements of all major 'dimensions' at once, or rather small portions of all dimensions at once. Humans as a result 'dwell' in the realm where all 'dimensions' converge, or in the convergence of the entire electromagnetic superspectrum, thus in a sense humans are 'multi-dimensional' beings, so to speak.

The human nervous system is in essence a type of biological 'transceiver' which is capable of perceiving these interlocking 'dimensions' and can receive and send information and impressions [The spoken word being one method], yet sociologists admit that 'words' make up only about 20 percent of the 'communications' which takes place between human beings. Enormous amounts of 'communication' can be exchanged through attitudes, tone, the eyes, body 'language', feelings, touch and so on.

Since mankind was created to perceive all dimensions simultaneously in a balanced and unified way, they have the power to 'focus' or 'tune-in' on one particular aspect, facet or spectrum of reality over all others. The danger in this is that the more one focuses on one facet-dimension of reality the less he or she is able to perceive-discern the others. In other words the more 'room' that one makes in their perceptions for a particular facet of reality, the less 'room' there will be to develop and maintain perceptions of the other aspects of reality. This is why it is good to have a 'balanced' perception.

One good example of this would be those who are born blind (being deprived of perceiving the dimension of light) and as a result are usually highly developed in the hearing/sound/touch senses, which attempt to make-up for the lack of sight perception. Most blind people, nevertheless, would probably rather have their eyesight if given the chance, since they are nevertheless being deprived of fully perceiving and enjoying one facet-dimension of reality.

Being multi-dimensional beings, we possess specific sensory organs which allow us to perceive different 'dimensions' or facets of reality. For instance here are some distinct 'dimensions' which are part of the one electromagnetic reality-spectrum, as described by researcher John A. Keel: LIGHT-COLOR DIMENSION (Infrared-heat, Red, Yellow, Green, Cyan, Blue, Violet, Ultraviolet); LOWER ELECTROMAGNETIC SPECTRUM-DIMENSION (Kilocycles, Megacycles, Electricity, Audio spectrum, VLF Radio, LF Radio, High Frequency Radio); MIDDLE ELECTROMAGNETIC DIMENSION (Kilometres, Microwaves, Super-heat, Very-High-Frequency Radio, Ultra-High-Frequency Radio); UPPER ELECTROMAGNETIC DIMENSION (X-Rays, Gamma Rays, Cosmic Rays); AUDIO-SOUND DIMENSION (Infrasonic, Bass, Treble, Ultrasonic, Very-Low Frequency or VLF); SUPERSPECTRUM DIMENSION (Gravity waves and fields, Magnetic fields, Black Streams, Thought-waves, Super Energies, etc.).

As one can see, this is a BASIC outline of the various 'dimensional frequencies' which make up the one electromagnetic reality, and all of these in turn break down into seemingly infinite and finer frequencies as in a Radio's AM-FM and other bands and even finer facets of these.

If it were possible for someone to enter and 'inhabit' one of these particular energy-dimensions via molecular energizing, then it would only be logical to assume that they would only have power to operate within that dimension. One can only operate and influence the 'world' in which they find themselves. If someone were capable of PHYSICALLY generating or 'phasing' themselves into the 'etheric' or non-physical dimension for instance then they must as a result give up the control and power which they formerly held to influence the physical-material dimension, other than perhaps influencing to some extent the spirit-etheric body of a human being. A non-solid entity usually would not possess the ability to lift physical objects unless they were at least 'partially' material. The accounts of 'poltergeists' would suggest the activity of entities, whether human, animal or angelic (usually infernal rather than paradisaical) which have manifested in para-physical or partially-physical form whether through 'tapping off' from the bio-energies of a human being, an electrical or some other MATERIAL or semi-material energy source.

There is evidence that the malevolent entities commonly known as the 'Greys' have (to mankind's detriment) succeeded in 'phase-shifting' between various different electromagnetic levels of energy and have been able to cause extreme harm to those who are spiritually weak and vulnerable, whether such a process is initiated through occult-tech or through mentally 're-directing' electromagnetic currents through their physical bodies to produce such an effect. This may explain why some 'phantasms' which seemingly appear and disappear have been described as appearing similar to the saurian grey entities, and have been mistaken for 'demons' (although some would nevertheless argue that they ARE demonic in character if not in nature). Such corrupted abilities on the part of these 'aliens' might explain why some people involved in investigating such creatures and their activities have gone insane, committed suicide, or literally died of fright, etc. at the hands of such infernal entities even through they were attacked from the 'etheric' dimension. Of course in such a state they could cause little if any PHYSICAL harm to a human being, however the psychic and spiritual oppression directed at the psyche or spiritual nature of a human being might drive a person to 'lose their minds' and engage in self-destructive behaviour. Also, their 'alien craft' have often been observed 'materializing' into or out of the deeper electromagnetic 'levels', wherein the demoniacal entities of ancient tradition are believed to dwell, suggesting that these draconians (serpent race and the fallen angels) work collectively in some type of 'Grand Conspiracy' or planned takeover of human society which involves intense activity within these 'supernatural' dimensions.

If and when humanity ever gets the 'upper hand' in a physical sense against such malevolents, it may largely be due to the fact that the human race has control of the 'confluence' or the 'space' where the various 'dimensions' converge, whereas the malevolents must still operate in the various time-space-energy 'levels' which they now control. Otherwise, the malevolents would control the SURFACE of this planet and all human life would either be eliminated or brought under their absolute control.

The various sources which have led some to believe that we must give up our hold of our 'multi-dimensional' existence in favour of a '4th dimensional' existence ENTIRELY, "to make way for a New Age One World Order", is most likely an alien propaganda strategy designed to deceive mankind into leaving their multi-dimensional realm. They do this by promoting involvement in, and especially the darker sides of, the occult, witchcraft, occult-tech and the supernatural, which in turn leads to an UNBALANCED preoccupation with other 'dimensions' at the expense of the balanced, multi-dimensional or '3rd dimensional' existence. And within the various 'dimensions' into which the 'Draconians' would lure us and trap us, THEY are the masters. They are, at least at this point in 'time' when these words are written, the ages-old masters of the occult realm or the electromagnetic aerial realms penetrating this plane, and therefore those who would attempt to enter into the 'occult' dimensions they control through the occult 'arts', etc. (which these 'aliens' admit they have controlled and manipulated for centuries) will simply put themselves under their absolute control. And the Saurian Greys are allegedly so cunning and deceiving that one can be under their absolute control and not even be aware of it, via their ability to control minds and suppress memories via occult-tech, even from a distance.

The Greys, like all 'Saurians', have a physical body-brain and a 'spirit-essence' which dissipates when their physical existence is terminated. They have no eternal soul 'matrix', but nevertheless are able to manipulate certain other-dimensional frequencies while they physically exist.

Humans are naturally superior to the Reptilians (which can only gain dominion over man when man via willingness, deception or manipulation surrenders their natural authority over these creatures and all nature). The reason for this is that humans possess THREE bodies, infused with each other which are able to operate simultaneously in the 3 MAJOR or BASIC levels of reality:

Spiritual, Soulsh and Physical. The Spirit-Etheric 'body', the Mental-Thought body (or soul); and the physical-Touch body, are all distinct yet inner-twined with each other and superimposed upon or within each other. Therefore man is able to experience the third (or three) major 'dimensions' of reality and the various seemingly endless subtleties or facet-dimensions of these three 'worlds', as each of these 'bodies' can themselves be sub-divided into numerous operational facets capable of perceiving-experiencing the various electromagnetic energies mentioned above. As it is written, man 'is fearfully and wonderfully made!' These various facets of the human bio-system 'flow together' in the human bloodstream, or the bio-plasmic body as some have referred to it, which contains the human 'life-essence'.

Man was born a part-spiritual being, which is evidenced by the various senses or perceptions which operate from this 'etherial' part of man: sight, emotion, touch, thought, etc., all of whose operations cannot be entirely 'explained' in 'physical' terms. Since the human blood or life-stream contains BOTH physical and spiritual characteristics, this would explain why the life-blood of a human being plays such an important part in not only Christian thought, but also in satanic cults and rituals. Avowed Satanists fully realize the power resident in human blood, and so do the draconians themselves. The reptilians are 'energized' to some extent by stealing and robbing human souls of their very life-essence, and to some extent these predators are vampirial and anti-life in character. Any human being with a beating heart is fully alive in the eyes of our Creator, and to steal someone's life-essence which the Creator has given them as an invaluable gift is one of the most heinous crimes that could possibly exist.

The above explanation of dimensional convergences would also explain why some people are able to discern objects, such as cloaked aerial craft, which lie behind the normal limited range of human vision while others nearby are not able to perceive such objects. In modern times a good percentage of UFO craft are concealed through an electromagnetic 'cloaking' system, but certain 'sensitive' humans as well as certain finetuned equipment may be able to detect such craft. However, as we've indicated, someone who strives to be 'sensitive' or focus entirely on any particular 'frequency' of the electromagnetic-etheric superdimension will suffer by becoming 'blind-sighted' to other aspects of reality into which they are not 'focused', and may be far more susceptible to draconian mind manipulation due to reasons that we have mentioned earlier.

First International UFO Museum Opened In Istanbul

From Haktan Akdogan, Founder & Chairman, 2-3-2

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

We are proud to announce "The First International UFO Museum of Middle and Eastern Europe, Balkans and Middle-East" opened in Istanbul on January 18, 2002. The news of this grand opening has been broadcast on many national TV channels including CNN Turk, NTV, Kanal D, Star, ATV, BRT, TV8, etc. and publicised by many leading national newspapers such as Hurriyet, Milliyet, Star, etc.. Even Russian television has mentioned the opening in its evening news.

Being the first UFO Museum founded in Middle and Eastern Europe, Balkans and Middle East, the museum is located right at the centre of the 10 million populated city of Istanbul which connects the two continents, Asia and Europe.

The aim of this project is to inform not only the Turkish citizens but also millions of tourists coming to Istanbul from all over the world, about the UFO phenomenon. Our main goal is to serve people coming from every country and aging from 7 to 70 by presenting them the proof of the UFO & E.T phenomenon through various data both in English and in Turkish. The project has been supported by the data and archives of hundreds of associations and institutions worldwide, which are conducting scientific research on this subject.

The International UFO Museum includes:

- Museum and Exhibition Sections
- Library
- Video-VCD-DVD Viewing Room and Meeting Room

MUSEUM AND EXHIBITION SECTION

In this section, hundreds of UFO incidents and a wide range of information about the UFOs and ETs are exhibited in separate divisions, by means of photographs, pictures, illustrations and written documents-texts both in Turkish and English. These include:

The UFO Chronicle of the world and worldwide sighting map, information and animations on the archaeological ruins and traces and epigraphs/inscriptions/ tablets, ancient cultures and their connections to ETs, Crop Circles, Area 51 and other secret bases, Abductions, Animal Mutilations, top secret official documents, NASA cover-ups, MARS, research and analysis reports of important institutions and universities, types of aliens and UFO's, Roswell, Aztec, Varginha, etc., incidents, national and international newspaper-magazine articles and periodical archives, worldwide UFO reports and related issues...etc.

Moreover, there are six separate divisions in the Museum, in which various UFO incidents are represented by models and statues and explained both in Turkish and in English. These representations include:

- * The models of archaeological ruins / traces / marks which reveal the UFO phenomenon
- * Representation of Roswell incident by models, replicas and statues.
- * Representation of autopsy done on Roswell aliens
- * Representation of an experiment done by aliens on an abductee
- * Statues of various types of Aliens, based on the information of observation reports
- * Models of various types of UFOs based on the information of observation reports.

LIBRARY

People willing to get information and do research about UFOs, Extraterrestrial Life and the Universe, have the opportunity to benefit from our library, in which there are over 1,000 books and magazines, both in English and Turkish. Reading tables are also available.

VIDEO-VCD-DVD VIEWING ROOM AND MEETING ROOM

Visitors have the opportunity to watch various related documentaries and films both in English and Turkish. Moreover, there will be periodical conferences and seminars about UFOs and related issues, given by our national and international guest speakers.

ALSO, WE ARE ASKING YOUR KIND SUPPORT!

Our International UFO Museum is seeking evidence, literature, proof of alien visitations of Earth, photos, videos, DVDs, books, texts, any kind of related materials that are written, audio and visual formats for our permanent public exhibits..

So, we kindly ask your cooperation and support and are expecting to receive your donations to this highly important International Project. If you have anything related to UFOs, ETs, Area 51, Abductions, Crop Circles, Animal Mutilations, etc., and wish to donate them, please send them to our address below. Any contributions of information or research materials and artefacts that can be made available to our Museum are greatly appreciated by all especially the public we serve.

People who are going to make donations will be honoured by an "Appreciation Certificate" and their names will be announced on the "Appreciation Board " in the entrance of the Museum.

Through this important Project ,which will be the first of its kind in Eastern- Europe, Balkans and Middle-East, the UFO & E.T phenomenon will become widely known by not only the Turkish citizens and the citizens of this broad region, as well as by millions of people coming to Istanbul from all over the world.

By taking your stance as a citizen of this Planet and by standing together, the whole Truth will be known!

May Truth and Peace Prevail on Earth!

MYSTERIOUS FORCE HOLDS BACK NASA PROBE IN DEEP SPACE

By Robert Matthews, Science Correspondent

Source : Daily Telegraph 12/02/2002

A SPACE probe launched 30 years ago has come under the influence of a force that has baffled scientists and could rewrite the laws of physics.

Researchers say Pioneer 10, which took the first close-up pictures of Jupiter before leaving our solar system in 1983, is being pulled back to the sun by an unknown force. The effect shows no sign of getting weaker as the spacecraft travels deeper into space, and scientists are considering the possibility that the probe has revealed a new force of nature.

Dr Philip Laing, a member of the research team tracking the craft, said: "We have examined every mechanism and theory we can think of and so far nothing works.

"If the effect is real, it will have a big impact on cosmology and spacecraft navigation," said Dr Laing, of the Aerospace Corporation of California.

Pioneer 10 was launched by Nasa on March 2 1972, and with Pioneer 11, its twin, revolutionised astronomy with detailed images of Jupiter and Saturn. In June 1983, Pioneer 10 passed Pluto, the most distant planet in our solar system.

Both probes are now travelling at 27,000mph towards stars that they will encounter several million years from now. Scientists are continuing to monitor signals from Pioneer 10, which is more than seven billion miles from Earth.

Research to be published shortly in The Physical Review, a leading physics journal, will show that the speed of the two probes is being changed by about 6 mph per century - a barely-perceptible effect about 10 billion times weaker than gravity.

Scientists initially suspected that gas escaping from tiny rocket motors aboard the probes, or heat leaking from their nuclear power plants might be responsible. Both have now been ruled out. The team says no current theories explain why the force stays constant: all the most plausible forces, from gravity to the effect of solar radiation, decrease rapidly with distance.

The bizarre behaviour has also eliminated the possibility that the two probes are being affected by the gravitational pull of unknown planets beyond the solar system.

Assertions by some scientists that the force is due to a quirk in the Pioneer probes have also been discounted by the discovery that the effect seems to be affecting Galileo and Ulysses, two other space probes still in the solar system. Data from these two probes suggests the force is of the same strength as that found for the Pioneers.

Dr Duncan Steel, a space scientist at Salford University, says even such a weak force could have huge effects on a cosmic scale. "It might alter the number of comets that come towards us over millions of years, which would have consequences for life on Earth. It also raises the question of whether we know enough about the law of gravity."

Until 1988, Pioneer 10 was the most remote object made by man - a distinction now held by Voyager 1. Should Pioneer 10 make contact with alien life, it carries a gold-plated aluminium plaque on which the figures of a man and woman are shown to scale, along with a map showing its origin that Nasa calls "the cosmic equivalent of a message in a bottle".

ABDUCTION "CHECKLIST"

by Dr Karla Turner

If "abduction" reports can be believed, and there is no reason to doubt the honesty of the reporters, the abduction phenomenon includes the following details:

- 1) Aliens can alter our perception of our surroundings.
- 2) Aliens can control what we think we see. They can appear to us in any number of guises, and shapes.
- 3) Aliens can take us, our consciousness, out of our physical bodies, disable our control of our bodies, install one of their own entities, and use our bodies as vehicles for their own activities before returning our consciousness to our bodies.
- 4) Aliens can be present with us in an invisible state and can make themselves only partially visible.
- 5) Abductees receive marks on their bodies other than the well-known scoops and straight-line scars. These other marks include single punctures, multiple punctures, large bruises, three- and four-fingered claw marks, and triangles of every possible sort.

6) Females abductees often suffer serious gynaecological problems after their alien encounters, and sometimes these problems lead to cysts, tumours, cancer of the breasts and uterus, and to hysterectomies.

7) Aliens take body fluids from our necks, spines, blood veins, joints such as knees and wrists, and other places. They also inject unknown fluids into various parts of our bodies.

8) A surprising number of abductees suffer from serious illnesses they didn't have before their encounters. These have led to surgery, debilitation, and even death from causes the doctors can't identify.

9) Some abductees experience a degeneration of their mental, social, and spiritual well-being. Excessive behaviour frequently erupts, such as drug abuse, alcoholism, overeating, and promiscuity. Strange obsessions develop and cause the disruption of normal life and the destruction of personal relationships.

10) Aliens show a great interest in adult sexuality, child sexuality, and in inflicting physical pain on abductees.

11) Abductees recall being instructed and trained by aliens. This training may be in the form of verbal or telepathic lessons, slide shows, or actual hands-on instruction in the operation of alien technology.

12) Abductees report being taken to facilities in which they encounter not only aliens but also normal-looking humans, sometimes in military uniforms, working with the alien captors.

13) Abductees often encounter more than one sort of alien during an experience, not just the grays. Every possible combination of gray, reptoid, insectoid, blond, and widow's peak have been seen during single abductions, aboard the same craft or in the same facility.

14) Abductees--"virgin" cases--report being taken to underground facilities where they see grotesque hybrid creatures, nurseries of hybrid humanoid foetuses, and vats of coloured liquid filled with parts of human bodies.

15) Abductees report seeing other humans in these facilities being drained of blood, being mutilated, flayed, and dismembered, and stacked, lifeless like cords of wood. Some abductees have been threatened that they, too, will end up in this condition if they don't co-operate with their alien captors.

16) Aliens come into homes and temporarily remove young children, leaving their distraught parents paralysed and helpless. In cases where a parent has been able to protest, the aliens insist that "The children belong to us."

17) Aliens have forced their human abductees to have sexual intercourse with aliens and even with other abductees while groups of aliens observe these performances. In such encounters, the aliens have sometimes disguised themselves in order to gain the cooperation of the abductee, appearing in such forms as Jesus, the Pope, certain celebrities, and even the dead spouses of the abductees.

18) Aliens perform extremely painful experiments or procedures on abductees, saying that these acts are necessary but give no explanation why... Painful genital and anal probes are performed, on children as well as adults.

19) Aliens make predictions of an imminent period of global chaos and destruction. They say that a certain number of humans...will be "rescued" from the planet in order to continue the species, either on another planet or back on earth after the destruction is over. Many abductees report they don't believe their alien captors and foresee instead a much more sinister use of the "rescued" humans.

"In every instance from this list, there are multiple reports from unrelated cases, confirming that such bizarre details are not the product of a single deranged mind. These details are convincing evidence that, contrary to the claims of many UFO researchers, the abduction experience isn't limited to uniform pattern of events. This phenomenon simply can't be explained in terms of cross-breeding experiments or scientific research into the human physiology... Before we allow ourselves to believe in the benevolence of the alien interaction, we should ask, do enlightened beings need to use the cover of night to perform good deeds? Do they need to paralyse us and render us helpless to resist? Do angels need to steal our foetuses? Do they need to manipulate our children's genitals and probe our rectums? Are fear, pain, and deception consistent with high spiritual motives?"

"Something big's going down, sir.
They're heading your way now!"

ODDS OF EARTH BEING HIT BY BIG ASTEROID LOWERED

Reuters News Service

WASHINGTON -- Astronomers delivered good news Wednesday -- we are much less likely to get wiped out by a big asteroid than previously thought.

The odds are only about 1 in 5,000 that an asteroid big enough to wipe out civilization will hit the Earth in the next 100 years, a team at Princeton University reported -- far lower than previous estimates of 1 in 1,500.

Research on ones that have hit the Earth -- like the one that wiped out the dinosaurs 65 million years ago -- shows that a collision with a large asteroid half a mile in diameter could kill a quarter of the world's population.

Research has also shown that such enormous asteroids strike the planet regularly -- every 100 million years or so.

Astronomers have been looking around to see how many of those asteroids might be out there.

Using data from the Sloan Digital Sky Survey, the Princeton team, headed by Zeljko Ivezic, estimated the solar system contained about 700,000 asteroids that size -- about one-third the number in earlier estimates.

That suggested there was a 1-in-1,500 chance one would hit Earth in the next century.

"Our estimate for the chance of a big impact contains some of the same uncertainties as previous estimates, but it is clear that we should feel somewhat safer than we did before we had the Sloan survey data," Ivezic said.

The Sloan survey is mapping one-quarter of the sky using the telescope at Apache Point Observatory in New Mexico.

Writing in the November issue of the Astronomical Journal, Ivezic said they were able to assess more accurately the size of known asteroids.

Asteroids with a surface of carbon are dark, like lumps of coal, while rocky asteroids are much brighter. To a casual observer, a small, rocky asteroid looks as bright and as big as a larger, rocky one.

"You don't know precisely the size of an object you are looking at unless you know what type it is," Ivezic said. He said the Sloan survey looks at the colour, so astronomers can distinguish between carbon and rock.

They looked at 10,000 asteroids were able estimate that the asteroid belt contained about 700,000 that were bigger than half a mile in diameter.

THE REPTILIANS: WHY THEY ARE OBSESSED WITH BLOODLINE AND RITUAL

By David Icke

I witnessed a "channelling" session this week in England, performed by a channel/medium I was very impressed with. As readers of my books will know, I am extremely wary of channelled information because while on occasions it can come from a high and enlightened source, much of it is very low level or, frankly, a sham.

However, I felt that this channel was one of those who is truly gifted and a wealth of detailed information emerged that confirmed and added to my own research, which has been very much gathered in this dimension and not through channelled messages.

Anyway, here is some of the information that came through relating to the relationship between the reptilian bloodline and the Illuminati obsession with ritual. As always, the choice of what feels right is yours and yours alone:

The reptilian and other entities, which are manipulating our world by possessing "human" bodies, operate in frequencies between the Third and Fourth densities. These are referred to as "hidden spaces and planes unknown to man", in the apparently ancient Emerald Tablets, which I quote from in "Children of the Matrix". For simplicity, I refer to this "between world" in my books as the lower fourth dimension.

It is from here that they police our vibrational prison - the Matrix - and seek to addict and restrict us to the dense physical senses. This world was once far less dense than it is today and the "fall" down the frequencies, caused by the manipulation of incarnate consciousness and DNA infiltration, has made it so much more difficult to maintain a multi-dimensional connection while in physical form. We are now in a cycle of change when the vibration of this "world" will be raised out of dense physicality and return to where it once was. In doing so, the reptilians' ability to manipulate our physical form will be removed and this is why they are in such a panic at this time to prevent this shift from opening the vibrational prison door.

The reptilians and other manipulating entities exist only just outside the frequency range of our physical senses. Their own physical form has broken down and they can no longer re-produce. Thus they have sought to infiltrate human form and so use that to exist and control in this dimension. They chose the Earth for this infiltration because it most resembles in vibration the locations from which they originate. These reptilians are addicted to the dense physical "world" and the sensations it offers and they have no desire to advance higher. Their aim in this period is to stop the Earth and incarnate humanity from making the shift from dense physical prison into multi-dimensional paradise.

[From what I understand, this dense physical world is caught in a manufactured time "loop", in which "time" is a circle, constantly repeating itself. Note that one of the ancient symbols for "infinity" is the snake swallowing its own tail. The pentagram or five-pointed star, so prevalent in Satanism, is also symbolic of this unbroken "time" cycle, the vibrational prison.

The period we are now experiencing has, therefore, been played out before. We are just at that point again in the repeating circle or cycle, like a rat running on one of those wheels in a cage. No matter how fast it runs, it keeps covering the same ground. What we need to do is break the "time" circle and thus the prison. We are now in that part of the circle that is most vulnerable to this because of the vibrational changes taking place in this part of the Universe and this is why the control of humans has tightened so rapidly in this period - they are doing everything they can to defend their prison from the awakening of the inmates. The micro-chip is crucial to that.

Genetic corruption

These reptilians and their allies have corrupted Earth DNA with their own and this genetic infiltration lies dormant until it is activated by the vibrational fields generated by the Illuminati secret society rituals, and others in the public eye like the carefully designed coronations and official ceremonies of many kinds, including even the UK State Opening of Parliament and certainly those of the various religions.

[This activation is now also being inflicted upon the general population through technology on Earth and in space, no doubt, and this channelled entity said that the cloning programme is there to develop designer bodies for the reptilians of the "in between world" that would not require the overpowering of an already incarnate consciousness.]

Once activated, the DNA opens the body to possession by these reptilians and other beings, and this is what is happening, for example, to Freemasons in the rituals that most of them deliver parrot fashion while having no idea of their vibrational significance. This is why the Illuminati are so obsessed with knowing a person's bloodline. They know which have the potential for this activation and possession and which do not. The Mormon Church genealogical database and now the DNA data banks are designed to identify those with the bloodline. These are the people who are given jobs and roles that serve the Illuminati agenda, while most of them have no idea what is really going on and what they are being used for. Their DNA is then activated and they go through a change of character (a phrase I have heard so many times in relation to such people once they advance in the system) and a very different consciousness takes over their mental and emotional processes.

[This is why it is so important for everyone to stay well clear of ritual, no matter how innocent it may appear on the surface. I would include "New Age" ritual in this, too. I don't mean standing in a circle, connecting together and projecting loving thoughts, etc. I mean carefully constructed ritual that is constantly repeated, as with religious ceremony for example. I am beginning to realise why I have had a life-long aversion to taking part in ritual of any kind.]

Each new generation of the Illuminati bloodline families is exposed to the appropriate ritual to activate their possession by the reptilian entities and so the cycle goes on. The phrase that comes to mind is "...forgive them for they know not what they do."

P.S. Apparently, this DNA infiltration is known within the inner circles of the British royal family as the "family disease". They are actually in fear of it because they know that once it is activated they will be taken over. But of course they are caught in a world of constant ritual and ceremony designed specifically to activate their possession. It is catch 22. Without the ritual they cannot be the royal family, but with the ritual they are activated and possessed. The thought and emotional processes of the UK's Queen Mother are not those of Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, the little girl officially born into that body 101 years ago. They are controlled by the reptilian entity or entities, which possessed her after the hybrid DNA activation.

NEWS IN BRIEF/ SIGHTINGS ROUNDUP

SCOTLAND FLYING TRIANGLE COATBRIDGE -- Mark Fraser reports, "A few friends phoned me on Sunday, (Feb 3, 2002?) to tell of a UFO (or supposed UFO) sighting over region of Coatbridge direction." They were coming back from Glasgow via Hamilton and noticed three distinct very bright yellow white lights in triangular shape and pulsing in the middle area. Supposedly it was very high up and disappeared for a few seconds to only to return again shortly thereafter. They are generally sound people and sounded quite shaken after seeing it. Personally my money is on the triangular USA military crafts. Thanks to "Mark Fraser" Scottish Big Cats

TURKEY UFOs OBSERVED AND FILMED ADIYAMAN -- At around 11:00 PM on the night of January 26, 2002, the General Directorate of Police in Adýyaman received a phone call informing that a brilliant flying object was observed at the eastern side of the city. The Police called the patrolman on duty at Adýyaman-Kahta highway at the eastern side of the city by radio, who also confirmed sighting of the brilliant object flying in the sky. The Chief of Police was notified and a police team was sent to the area equipped with night cameras. They spotted the brilliant object, which was rotating around its own axis and spreading out colourful lights, and managed to film for around 5 hours. The following night, at around 2.15 AM, two similar flying objects were observed. The objects were also filmed by the watch guard of the Security Directorate between 2:29 and 3:00 AM. The Chairman of Sirius UFO Space Sciences Research Centre, Haktan Akdogan talked with the Governor of Adýyaman Halil Isýk on the phone about the incident. Governor Isýk reports five UFOs were observed. Twenty police officers and hundreds of civilians witnessed this incident. The film was sent to Sirius UFO Space Sciences Research Centre.

VIDEO ANALYSIS: Five objects are viewed which are glowing, moving and much more brighter than any star or planet. At close-ups, the objects are rotating around their own axis. Enlarged by computer the objects were scattering around lights in various colours. The brightness and proximity of the objects reveal they were inside the atmosphere. The light beams spread out by the UFOs have been measured by spectral photometer, which also confirmed that the objects were in motion. The objects hovered and then started moving unlike aircraft. The glowing objects do not make any sound and exhibit an advanced technology and do not fit any category of conventional aerial devices. Thanks to Haktan Akdogan, Chairman of Sirius UFO Space Sciences Research Centre, www.siriusufo.org.

Editor's Note: A powerful earthquake toppled numerous buildings in central Turkey on February 3, 2002, killing at least 42 people. Seismologists feel there may be a connection between the UFO lights and "earthquake lights," that may have predicted the earthquakes. It is known that flying lights often occur before earthquakes and serve as a warning.

NEW YORK LARGE FLYING TRIANGLE GLIDES OVER HIGHWAY SCOTCHTOWN -- The witness was travelling westbound on State Highway 17, and saw in the distance a group of white lights with a central blinking red light moving off in distance at 6:15 AM. There was heavy traffic both directions as he drove four miles east of Exit 119 that intersects with State Highway 302 which leads to Pine Bush. As he approached Exit 119 he suddenly aware of very large (size of 737 at least) three large white lights substantially touching each other in horizontal row. The craft was very low with an altitude of only 300 feet descending silently as though gliding, Its speed was 60 MPH as it passed over Highway 17 traffic, and continued to my right descending over trees and rooftops and then turned left toward Pine Bush.

The witness says, "It was banking 45 degrees, revealing three large white moderately bright circular lights defining a perfect equilateral triangle and a same size circular red light in centre." None of the lights were blinking.

The area between the lights appeared black and triangular, barely distinguishable from sky which was still dark and completely overcast. The craft passed about 100 feet over and in front of me. The object descended far enough to disappear below my horizon. The terrain to my right at that point is below elevation of Highway 17, where only treetops and rooftops of buildings are visible. I did not pull over to shoulder because of traffic risk. Within seconds I saw road sign saying "Pine Bush." Passed same but doubled back onto 17 and then 302 and a side road off 302 in direction of apparent landing looking for object but did not see it again. Stewart International Airport is fifteen miles east with C-5 aircraft.

NASA PROPOSES ATOMIC ROCKET PROGRAM NASA plans to develop atomic-powered rockets that could greatly increase the speed of spacecraft and nuclear reactors to energize outposts on distant planets. The 2003 NASA federal budget proposes to spend $46.5 million to begin developing nuclear electric rockets and $79 million more to build atomic-powered generators that can fly on spacecraft. Eventually NASA would eliminate chemical rockets that are relatively slow. To travel greater distances much more powerful and faster propulsion systems are needed. In the last hundred years man first flew powered aircraft in 1903 at a few miles an hour with the Wright Brothers plane to 14,000 mph to go into orbit around Earth. The next hundred years should see a similar increase in speed. Generally NASA's Spacecraft are powered by solar cells that convert sunlight to electricity. Once the Spacecraft reach distant planets the sunlight is often so dim that there is little electrical energy for instruments. It is apparent our space technology is slow compared to the high-speed passes made by alien UFOs. It is apparent we're using comparatively primitive technology. We're in contact with various NASA personnel who are very frustrated by NASA's unwillingness to look at their own videos of high performance spacecraft that can literally fly circles around our own shuttle missions. It would seem NASA would attempt to study the alien technology but there seems to be a feeling if we don't acknowledge they are there, maybe they'll go away. I've have noticed the Shuttle crews and NASA use various code words for UFOs. Everything from Santa Claus to fast moving stars.

NASA envisions rockets using nuclear fission or fusion that could fire for months, driving the spacecraft to greater and greater speeds. The Disclosure Project has the testimony of hundreds of FAA, military and intelligence personnel who have seen documents and in some cases have been inside recovered alien craft. There is more evidence than most people realize. Weekly there are dozens of eyewitnesses, photographs, video, cattle mutilations and landing traces all pointing to alien craft. Many scientists admit there is likely alien intelligence on other planets in the universe. This intelligence may be thousands of years ahead of our technology.

Additionally, they only have to make the trip once to be seen in our skies. We have the testimony of respected professionals to help us determine what is actually happening. The aliens could have underground or undersea bases, or bases orbiting our planet. Former CIA Director and Navy Admiral Roscoe Hillenkotter in 1960 stated: "Unknown objects are operating under intelligent control. It is imperative that we learn where UFOs come from and their purpose."

Daniel Fry an Aerojet-General engineer was doing fieldwork at White Sands Missile Range when he heard a voice booming out of a saucer hovering above him. It was actually a space probe and the alien stated his race had inhabited earth tens of thousands of years before. He said, "They now live in life-support spaceships and that their life spans are over twice that of humans." Fry claimed after his initial encounter he was contacted again by the alien who claimed he had readapted to earth's environment, and was posing as an international businessman. The report sounds outlandish, but Fry made a detailed engineering report on how the alien craft functioned and its propulsion system. His description of acceleration by a force identical in nature to a gravitational field in the book, "Steps to the Stars" led MIT Professor of Electrical Engineering Parry Moon to assert that, "A more rigorous treatment might be of great value to scientists. Source is "UFOs Politics, God and Science" by Dr. Robert Trundle. The point is that a respected engineer was told that the aliens visiting Earth live aboard spaceships, and even live among us. A trusted Admiral and the first Director of CIA told us they are here, and he devoted the remaining part of his life to help bring out the truth. As Director of NICAP, he told us, its time for the truth to be brought out about UFOs. But through official secrecy and ridicule many citizens are led to believe the unknown flying objects are nonsense," from Bruce Maccabee, "What the Admiral Knew" International UFO Reporter, Nov 1986. The following high quality witnesses are spotting UFOs daily!

PUERTO RICO BALL OF LIGHT OVER TELEVISION TOWERS, CERRO LA SANTA -- On Wednesday, February 6, 2002, at 10:30 p.m. Mr. Luis Marrero, a retired UFO researcher, was returning home along Route 52 (Las Americas Expressway) from the city of Caguas to Ponce. As he reached the vicinity of the Las Catalinas Mall, he realized that at 35 degrees altitude, and very close to the giant television transmitters, he could see a static ball of light. Luis told me that he estimated a 600-foot diameter for the light. Upon reaching the toll barrier, he noticed that the white ball of light increased in intensity. When this occurred, and after approximately 3 minutes had transpired, two smaller balls of light emerged from the white light. One of them was yellow in colour and the other blue. Both headed vertically downward toward the forest below, where they vanished from sight. He was unable to see them again. Just when the small lights--which Luis described as having a size similar to auto headlights--vanished from sight, the larger light vanished, evaporated or "shut off." Luis was surprised that the towers' lights were off, something highly uncommon, since those lights are always on. He thinks the white ball of light may have caused a blackout in the area. On the following day (Thursday) there was a blackout in Cayey's Barrio Beatriz, not far from where he had seen the light.
