Unusual Phenomenon.

My recollection of the unusual phenomenon which I saw in the sky on the evening of April 25th.

I became aware of this sometime after 9pm. but before 9.30pm. when the sky became illuminated in the north-west. I saw this object which was the shape of a long cylinder and travelling from left to right and descending. No definite outline could be seen because the whole thing was giving off a pale green concentrated illumination. It was moving in this same direction for 5-10 seconds and then the rate of descent increased, and the fluorescent type illumination began to disperse and finally disappeared behind cloud. The whole movement covering about 25 degrees latitude and a similar amount longitude.

I was listening for sound and thinking it might be an aircraft crashing but at the same time realising that this was something much bigger than anything made by man, except the possibility of a nuclear device.

There was no sound and although I continued looking in the same area for a further 15 minutes, there was no more activity.

Lincoln Driver Saw The UFO.

The unidentified flying object sighted last night was also seen in Lincolnshire.

Lorry driver Jim Broughton, of 42, Sibthorpe-street, Lincoln, told the Echo today that when he was driving back from Grantham along the A1 last night he happened to spot the UFO.

"I was going towards Long Brennington when I saw a break in the clouds and spotted this bright object for about six or seven seconds.

It was travelling very fast with a long green coloured trail behind it. The object itself was cigar shaped and was making no noise at all."

This, he said happened at about 9.15 and it puzzled him until he read a report in the morning papers about a strange object being seen above London.

Police in Lincolnshire have no reports from people in the county having seen the object.

Apollo Flights.

One constructive thing the Apollo manned flights should have done is to end the myth about flying saucers. All those hours in outer space and not a single saucer sighting. All those thousands of photographs and not one unidentified flying object.

In the face of this how can enthusiasts go on claiming that they are for ever seeing flying saucers from the ground? But I have no doubt that they will.

Mystery of Earth's Space Signals.

The Earth is broadcasting mysterious long-frequency radio signals into space.

They are similar to mystery "messages" that scientists on Earth are picking up from the giant planet Jupiter.

Existence of these Earth signals has just been pinpointed by a United States robot satellite, Explorer-38, which is orbiting 3,640 miles above the globe.

Explorer-38 is equipped with radio aerials 1,500 feet long - bigger than New York's Empire State building is tall.

The satellite was launched last July, but the mysterious Earth signals have only just been discovered.

Like the signals from Jupiter, those from Earth, as picked up in space, are focussed in a narrow cone.

They increase in intensity very rapidly towards the lowest frequencies, and are picked up in short sporadic bursts.

Just where they come from is a mystery, but scientists think they may have their origin in the Earth's magnetic field.

United States scientists are using Explorer-38 to map radio signals throughout the Milky Way.

Lost Planet 'Evidence'.

Supporters of the 'lost' Phaeton planet hypothesis believe that it once circled the Earth in an orbit between Mars and Jupiter until it was destroyed in some cosmic catastrophe.

Studies by Leningrad scientists, headed by physicist Yelena Guskova, give some support to the theory.

They have examined 700 meteorites which are believed to have originated in the region between Mars and Jupiter. All of them have proved to be magnetised and it is considered that they have retained their original magnetisation.

Neither their passage through the Earth's atmosphere nor their collision with the Earth's surface is believed to have had any appreciable effect on their magnetic characteristics.

On the basis of these characteristics the scientists have deduced the size of Phaeton and have come to consider that it was somewhat smaller than the Earth.

The New Age.

God created worlds. On what grounds do we consider He would not have peopled them? Remote civilisations knew worlds were inhabited by men, or beings like men in form, but nobler, whom they called gods. Ancient writings speak of people from the Sky, and our Scriptures tell us, repeatedly, that the angels (messengers) looked like men. Many present-day scientists now believe other planets are inhabited by civilisations far in advance of ourselves in every way.

Many have forgotten they are the sons and daughters of the Creator, or "the children of the Most High." The Spirit friends tell us the destruction of this Planet by nuclear weapons will NOT be permitted to happen because the Earth is to become the inheritance of those who have respected the Creator's laws of love and compassion towards others. Therefore, although the world will NOT END this Planet must be cleansed and prepared for rehabilitation in the NEW Age now dawning. We are already experiencing many of the changes taking place. These will continue and intensify. Earth's scientists are recording unusual atmospheric, climatic and geophysical disturbances. Changes are also beginning to take place in the heavens - eg. the Solar Sun reversed its magnetic field recently.

A Cosmic Plan For Mankind. By Peter Williams. Spiritualist News. Jan '69.

It is no secret that the space people bring a message of peace to our trouble ridden planet and they desire to remove our unwarranted fears of invasion from other planets. They learned thousands of years ago the futility of wars. If we were to receive them and their message with open arms and an open mind, they would help us to sort out our scientific problems as well as give us guidance which would help us in our spiritual evolution. They could help us with our educational system; with our hospitals; with our geological surveys, and also to produce an agricultural system 25,000 times better than at present!

The space people could teach us more about the law of Karma and Re-birth and the much fuller and broader cosmic principles of life and being.

They say of us, that had we really followed the teachings of the holy men, we would not be in such a desperate state in our world today. They also give us a very serious warning to stop carrying out atomic experimentation, as our scientists can only judge the effects in one octave of manifestation; and there are in fact seven.

There is spirit life and intelligence on all the planets in our solar system as indeed in the solar systems in every galaxy in the universe. Our planet is the least evolved spiritually of all the planets in our system except for perhaps one.

Finally the space people who recognise the unity of all life and creation in the whole universe can teach us how spiritually-minded people can do something to help bring about the proper evolution of our world by the use of dynamic prayer: requesting the spiritual powers, which are inexhaustible to be sent out to the whole world and using the greatest power in the whole universe - love - we could achieve so much; as all the great masters have taught us down the ages. However according to Karmic Law they cannot intervene unless we ask them to do so, & also work towards our own evolution.
