INTER-CAPRI NEWS / A REPORT ON CAPRI BRANCHES AND ACTIVITIES

New Orleans, Louisiana: Gina Rando, the CAPRI Local Director for this district, has been doing quite a bit of work for our organization. Not only is she credited with the largest membership expansion campaign ever undertaken by any other Local Director, but she has also sent in color photos of an alleged UFO sighted in her area, she has sent in several UFO reports, written articles for CAPRI NEWS and expressed her wishes to do as much as possible to help our organization achieve its goal in becoming THE best in its field. For this, Gina, we salute you! Gina is the example we would like all of our Local Directors to follow.

Salem, Massachusetts: Mike Merandino and Ken Gilbert, founders of a new UFO group (NESRC) seem to be doing quite well. These boys, both outstanding members of CAPRI, are both hard-working and dedicated in their work. We are proud to have them with CAPRI.

Chelsea, Massachusetts (H.Q.): It was reported to CAPRI Headquarters quite some time ago that Barney Hill, the man who, along with his wife, was allegedly kidnapped on board a flying saucer several years ago, died suddenly at his home. Doctors reported that Barney died of a cerebral hemorrhage. (Your Editor wonders, if the kidnapping story is true, if Barney REALLY died of the cause stated...or did he die of something he shouldn't have, perhaps something unexplainable!) Starting next issue we plan to run the Barney and Betty Hill story. Once you read it, you will better understand what I am trying to imply.

Mt. Perry, Ohio: Bill Moore, Local Director for CAPRI in that area, has started publishing a small newsletter (EYEWITNESS IN OHIO). It is very informative and interesting. Good Luck, Bill!

INTER-CAPRI NEWS (cont'd)

Kitchener, Ontario, Canada: It seems as though one of our regular columnists, Kurt Glemser, is really getting around these days. Kurt, a self-styled writer now has regular reserved columns for his material in several of the well known UFO publications. Your editor feels that it is about time that Kurt's talents were recognized. He is doing a terrific job. Keep up the good work, Kurt!

Lorain, Ohio: I feel that John Locko, CAPRI Local Director of this area, deserves an honorable mention at this point for expanding his branch of our organization. Keep plugging, John!

Waycross, Georgia: Due to the relocation of the original Local Director of this district (Eston Dukes) we wish to announce that Grady Herndon will presume directorship for the area. Congratulations, Grady - good luck!

FLYING SAUCERS AND THE BIBLE

By Gina Rando, Local Director
New Orleans, Louisiana

"As I looked a huge cloud with flashing fire (enveloped in brightness), from the midst of which something gleamed, like electrum."
(electrum here is used for some undetermined bright metal)

This is how Ezechiel described an interplanetary ship in Chapter One, Verse Four of the Old Testament of the Bible in the Book of Ezechiel. The date was July 31, 593 B.C. I Supposedly, he not only witnessed a landing, but he also saw the occupants. He described them below:

"Within it (the ship) were figures resembling four living creatures, their forms were human."

Ezechiel, having lived in those times, could not fully understand what he saw and could only use the symbols and terms of his day to describe their appearance.

I will translate the passages when I can to enable you to understand what he means. To continue Ezechiel's description he states:

"Each had four faces (probably space helmets resembling deep sea diver's helmets). Each had four wings (tanks carried on their backs for whatever their needs were). Human hands were under their wings."

Now he refers back to the ship:

"As I looked at the creatures I saw wheels on the ground. They had the sparkling appearance of chrysolete (a green-colored gem, sometimes transparent), they were constructed as though one wheel was inside the other. The rims were full of eyes (the lights around the rim of the ship.)"

FLYING SAUCERS AND THE BIBLE (cont'd)

What you have read of the preceding account is only the brief description of an encounter of Ezechiel's sighting.

He is characterized as one of the Bible's most interesting figures, and as he was a more primitive type of prophet, the termination and symbolism is appropriate.

To go on, it seems that these space people took for themselves earthmates and divided themselves into two groups. When they went their separate ways, more came to colonize.

War came between the two groups and they used atomic weapons in combat. The Bible states how nothing grew, the severity of the burns of the less fortunate nearer to the blast, and the deaths among people miles away.

So, my friends, it is my opinion that UFOs have been seen before Christ was born -- where they came from and what they want is anyone's guess!!!

Winnipeg 1, Manitoba, Canada

On November 19, 1968 a luminous orange colored UFO was observed for 15 minutes, flying at low altitude near Guarulhes, Brazil. Cumbica Air Base said that the UFO was picked up on its radar, then suddenly disappeared.

Publication: UFO SKY WATCH
Box 124
Schoharie, New York

Dec. 12, 1968..Clifton Pk., N.Y.: Three men were pursued across the countryside by three UFOs early in the morning. The men said that the "transparent, tire shaped" objects could stop, go, hover and attain incredible speeds at will. The men encountered the UFOs shortly after 5 A.M. As they drove down route 146, the three objects followed. In desperation they attempted to hide the car behind a building. They stated that the objects found them and hovered about 400 feet over the car-twinkling as they switched from "brilliant red" to "greenish blue" to "orange." After a few terror filled moments the objects sped away.

March 8, 1969..Watonga, Oklahoma: Several persons were reported to have seen a mysterious UFO hovering for five minutes over the Watonga City airport at about 8:30 P.M. on the above mentioned date. Milton Banta, a printer from that area said that he and a neighbor, Gary Edsall, took time-delay pictures of the "big round light with long rays of light extending out from the object." At the present time, these pictures are being processed for possible identification. Banta states that he knew of two policemen who had also seen the object. At the time of the sighting, all radio transmission was allegedly cut off.

Sept. 13, 1968.. Port Hope-Lake Ontario, Canada: Donald Fenton and David Black saw a UFO hovering over Lake Ontario at about 8:55 P.M. on above date. Mr. Fenton said that it appeared out of nowhere. Mr. Black stated that it was three times brighter than the brightest star, glowing steadily as it moved in an east to west direction in an "erratic" course. The object was described as being "cigar" shaped and when it was in the area of Hercules Constellation it went through a series of manouvers - turning at 50 degree angles. As it turned, it flopped on its side, revealing the "saucer" shape. It disappeared with a long sweep upwards into the sky. It was estimated at the time of the observation not to be below 3,000 feet. Its color was a constant blue-green.

CAPRI RATING: #3 for Canada Case

From: CAPRI International
Headquarters - Chelsea, Mass.

Sept., 1966 .. Somerset, Ohio: On a bright, clear and dry night at about 9:00 p.m. in September of 1966, Mike Curry, with the use of binoculars observed a bright red and white disc-domed object. Mike observed the object for about ten minutes. He described it as follows: Sharply outlined - the bottom of disc was a bright white - the top was a bright red. At the top of the disc appeared to be a dome, or canopy. He estimated the distance between him and the object to be roughly 1/2 mile. There was no sound heard. The object at the time of observation was apparently in a stationary, hovering position.

This photo was made by Ed Keffel and Joao Martins at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. They estimated the UFO to be roughly twice the size of a DC-11.

THE GLEMSER REPORTS

The MIB Controversy

By Kurt Glemser

Since the beginning of UFO investigations in 1947, the men in black were doubted by few investigators until this year. The MIB are the equivalent of the contactees in the 1950's. The majority of UFO investigators believed in the contactees then. In this decade the majority believes in the MIB. The Bender Case did get under a lot of fire though.

In 1957, Coral Lorenzon, Director of APRO and author of 3 UFO books, challenged two darkly-dressed men in a black Cadillac, to return when she was around to see them. Nothing came of this. I believe this is the case from which the black Cadillac incidents were drawn. Only slight data is available on the above case. I feel the case rings true but the two men were not the men in black they were supposed to be.

In the last couple of years harrassment also came from the tele phone. Investigators are receiving calls in which no one speaks; there are only electronic noises or someone breathes into the phone. In my belief, these are just crank calls directed at anyone not just UFOlogists. Others are experiencing the same calls and they don't know the least bit about UFO's. I take the following from "Fighting Telephone Terrorism" by Ross Olney (Science & Mechanics, October, 1967):

"Breathers" are becoming quite numerous. They get their kicks by listening to the reaction as they pant into the phone."

The article continues with some advice. The best would be not to encourage the caller.

Some telephone trouble was apparently encountered during the 1968 Congress of Scientific UFOlogists in Mr. Allen Greenfield Editor of the Alternate Horizons Newsletter, motel room.

One conversation, between Rick Hilberg and Tony Price, was cut off. Price could not be reached when Hilberg called back. Finally, late at night, after many attempts Price was reached.

THE GLEMSER REPORTS (cont'd)

Two books on the MIB subject were published in 1968. The first was The Men in Black by Kurt Glemser and Robert Benesch. The other was MIB by Robert S. Easley and Rick R. Hilberg. Both gave some new revelations. However, a third, The MIB: Fact of Fiction by Kurt Glemser is the most controversial of the three. It is hoped it shall be published this year. In MIB, Mr. Easley states his belief that the MIB are the occupants of the saucers. Top MIB expert John A. Keel was first to bring this angle out. The most startling revelation in MIB is that Mr. Easley was shot at after he had given a UFO lecture. The shots came from a dark colored car driven without lights by two men. They were not necessarily MIB.

In his Saucer Scoop article, "Counter-measures: MIB Cases" Richard S. Rack copies material from "Fighting Telephone Terrorism" which may work with hoaxsters but it couldn't possibly with MIB. The first reason being there are no MIB. The second being that if there were MIB they would be more persistent.

Armand Laprade in his "Phenomena Magazine" challenged the facts of the MIB. He starts his article by saying this disgusting situation should be looked into by the serious UFO researcher. I wholeheartedly agree. Hopefully, this situation will be remedied soon.

"Now we'll see who has the best team in baseball."

THE CAPRI REPORTS

THE BIZARRE MYSTERY OF M.K. JESSUP AND THE "ALLENDE LETTERS"

Part 2 - By Mike Dunphy

It was explained in the last issue of CAPRI NEWS (vol. 2-#3) that members of the crew of a U.S. Naval Vessel were confined to areas where they could receive aid when they "went blank", "got stuck", or "freeze." Allende explained in his first letter to Jessup that to go "blank" was an after effect of having been within the "field" too long. When one went BLANK, he suddenly found himself fading into INVISIBILITY. To GET STUCK was a side effect which prevented a man from moving on his own. Further, if two or more of his fellow crewmen did not come to his aid he would freeze, then his position must be marked out carefully and then the field is "cut off." Everyone had to step around the spot the man was frozen into, then the other crew members would touch the stricken man on the face, or bare arms. Sometimes it takes only an hour or so, sometimes it takes all night. Once it took SIX MONTHS to un-freeze the man. This deep freeze is the result of a HYPERFIELD set-up within the field of the body.

Another effect of freezing is INSANITY, (i.e., half the crew were reported to have suffered this misfortune). While in this state, you may breathe, see and feel, but still are not aware of time. Allende states that the first case of DEEP FREEZE took six months, five million dollars worth of equipment and a special ship berth to cure it.

In his second letter, Allende closed by stating his wonderment to the possibility if the NAVY has used this ACCIDENT OF TRANSPORT to build, quote, YOUR UFOs. (?) (i.e., Note that Allende uses the word "your" as though indicating that he is NOT one of US). He continued: "It is a logical advance from ANY standpoint. What do you think?" This is only one of the times that Allende hints that UFOs might NOT be from ANOTHER WORLD, but from EARTH itself, either from a KNOWN civilization or from perhaps an older, more advanced one which chooses to keep its existence secret. (i.e., Just a thought! The lost (?) continent of Atlantis??)

Could the mysterious disappearance of the five Avenger Torpedo Bombers (TBM) which left the Naval Base in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida on December 5, 1945 be chalked up to ANOTHER experiment in teleportation? According to reports, the five planes had left on a routine flight. Suddenly the base radio received an urgent message from the Commander of the flight: (QUOTE)"I'm not certain where we are...I don't know where we are! Even the sky and sea look different. Every thing seems so strange..." Those were his last words, then total permanent silence.

A Martin flying boat with 13 men and a load of equipment was dispatched to start a search for the "lost" Avengers. Within five minutes the search plane also totally and completely disappeared. One of the most intensive searches in Naval history was conducted for the missing aircraft. Not one shred of evidence was ever uncovered to this day!

Was it as Allende had said about the destroyer? "The experiment was a complete success - the men were complete failures." Was Allende just an earthman who witnessed a top secret Navy experiment or was he a man from another world (perhaps another world UNKNOWN to us that is right here in our OWN world, or perhaps from our own world but a different dimension?) Or was he just a plain crackpot attempting a hoax - and if so, why did the Office of Naval Research become interested in the case?

What if UFOs DID come from Earth? What does Allende know that he only hints at in his letters to Jessup?

* * * NEXT ISSUE * * *

Why and how the Office of Naval Research became interested in M.K. Jessup and the Allende letters; also some unexplained reports.

CAN ANTI-GRAVITY REALLY EXIST?

By Isaac Asimov

QUESTION: What is anti-gravity?
How can it be studied:

ANSWER: There are two types of fields, electromagnetic and gravitational, which fall off in intensity as the square of the distance. This fall in intensity is slow enough to enable an electromagnetic or gravitational field to be detectable at large distances. The earth is firmly held in the grip of the sun's gravitational field even though the sun is 93 million miles away.

The gravitational field is far the weaker of the two, however. The electromagnetic field set up by an electron is something like four million trillion trillion trillion times as strong as the gravitational field it sets up.

Of course, gravitational fields seem strong. We all have painful experience concerning the strength of the earth's gravitational field every time we fall. But that is only because the earth is so huge. Every tiny fragment of it contributes to the gravitational field and in the end the total is enormous.

But suppose we take a hundred million electrons (a quantity too little to see in a microscope if collected in one spot) and scatter them through a volume the size of the earth. They would set up an electromagnetic field equal to the gravitational field of the entire massive earth.

Why aren't we more aware of electromagnetic fields than of gravitational fields?

That is where another difference comes in. There are two kinds of electric charge, called positive and negative, so that an electromagnetic field can result in attraction (between a positive and a negative charge) or repulsion (between two positive or two negative charges.) In fact, if the earth's volume contained nothing but a hundred million electrons, those electrons would repel each other and scatter far and wide.

CAN ANTI-GRAVITY REALLY EXIST? (cont'd)

The forces of electromagnetic attraction and repulsion serve to mix positive and negative charges thoroughly so that the effect of those charges tends to cancel out. Very tiny electron excesses and deficiencies can be brought about and it is the electromagnetic fields of those tiny excesses and deficiencies that we study.

The gravitational field, however, seems to produce only a force of attraction. Every object possessing mass attracts every other object possessing mass and as mass piles up so does the intensity of the gravitational field without ever any cancellation.

If a massive object repelled another massive object with the same intensity and the same manner as those objects attract each other under the usual gravitational conditions, then we would have "anti-gravity" or "negative gravity."

Such gravitational repulsion has never been detected, but that may be because all the ordinary objects we can study in detail are made up of ordinary particles.

There are also "anti-particles," which are just like the common particles we know, except for the reversal of the electromagnetic field. Where a particular particle has a negative charge, the corresponding anti-particle has a positive charge, and so on. Perhaps anti-particles have the gravitational field reversed also. Two anti-particles would then attract each other gravitationally just as two particles do, but an anti-particle would repel an ordinary one.

The trouble is that a gravitational field is so weak, it can't be detected in individual particles or anti-particles but only for sizable masses. We have sizable masses of particles but no one has ever collected a sizable mass of anti-particles in one place. Nor has anyone ever suggested any practical alternate way of detecting anti-gravitational effects.

ALASKAN HUMANOID DISCOVERED-AUTHORITIES HIDE "THING" IN UNDERGROUND BASE

ALASKA: It has been reported to CAPRI NEWS that a creature resembling part man, part animal has been discovered and captured in this state. The THING is being held in an underground military base. Latest reports indicate that it is well and being fed regularly.

One report stated that a scientist, while conducting a test on the creature became hysterical and finally went literally out of his mind as a result of staring into the creature's eyes.

At the present time, Gray Barker of SAUCER NEWS has the same report in his office. For further details on this extraordinary case, I suggest to the readers to contact either Mr. Barker or myself. However, I must say that at this time, I doubt very much that Mr. Barker knows or has any more information on this HUMANOID than I have. It will take some time yet to uncover any new leads to the story. Therefore, as the pieces are put together, they will be published in CAPRI NEWS and probably SAUCER NEWS.

WHAT ARE THEY WAITING FOR?

By James Hatem
Local Director
CAPRI: Salem, N.H.

For some time, one thing that has bothered me concerning the Saucers is why haven't they come out openly and made their presence known to the world.?

First I considered what would happen if we were to visit some other civilized planet. Would we not, after a couple of days of reconnaissance want to make some communication with the inhabitants? THEY surely have been HERE for more than just a COUPLE of days, so why haven't they contacted US?

Let us suppose that our visitors are from a planet where the average life span is 1,000 or more earth years. Highly unlikely? I would think not for look at our own Sequoia trees whose age can exceed 3,000 years. Would it not seem feasible that some of these life forms be intelligent?

Let us assume it possible that our space visitors can have such extended life spans as so described. One might ask what all this has to do with their willingness to communicate with us, and as will be seen shortly, a great deal.

As already established our own space travelers would probably wait no longer than just a couple of days before attempting contact. BUT, the average life span of earthmen is about 70 years. These two days would put an appreciable dent in the normal life span of a human. Whereas to our visitors from space, who live perhaps for thousands of years, this would seem like a mere trifle of a second with relation to our own standards of time. Assuming that their sense of reasoning is similar to ours, in that they would make themselves known in a couple of days, we may have a longer wait than anticipated. It does not take a mathematical genius to deduce a long wait if a minute is to be substituted for a YEAR!

This sort of reasoning brings to mind another question: Will we ever make contact with them?

WHAT ARE THEY WAITING FOR? (cont'd)

Picture yourself as an astronaut from earth visiting another planet, and on your arrival you find that the inhabitants of the planet are born and die in a matter of minutes, as what we may look like in the eyes of OUR extra-terrestrial visitors. Would you, as an alien, want to make contact with such a primitive and useless species? I think not!

The proof is right here on earth where research scientists are spending millions of dollars unravelling the mysteries of communication with monkeys and, more recently, porpoise. But, I have not yet heard of a single cent being spent to try and talk to a mosquito or a horsefly. Logical? Maybe!

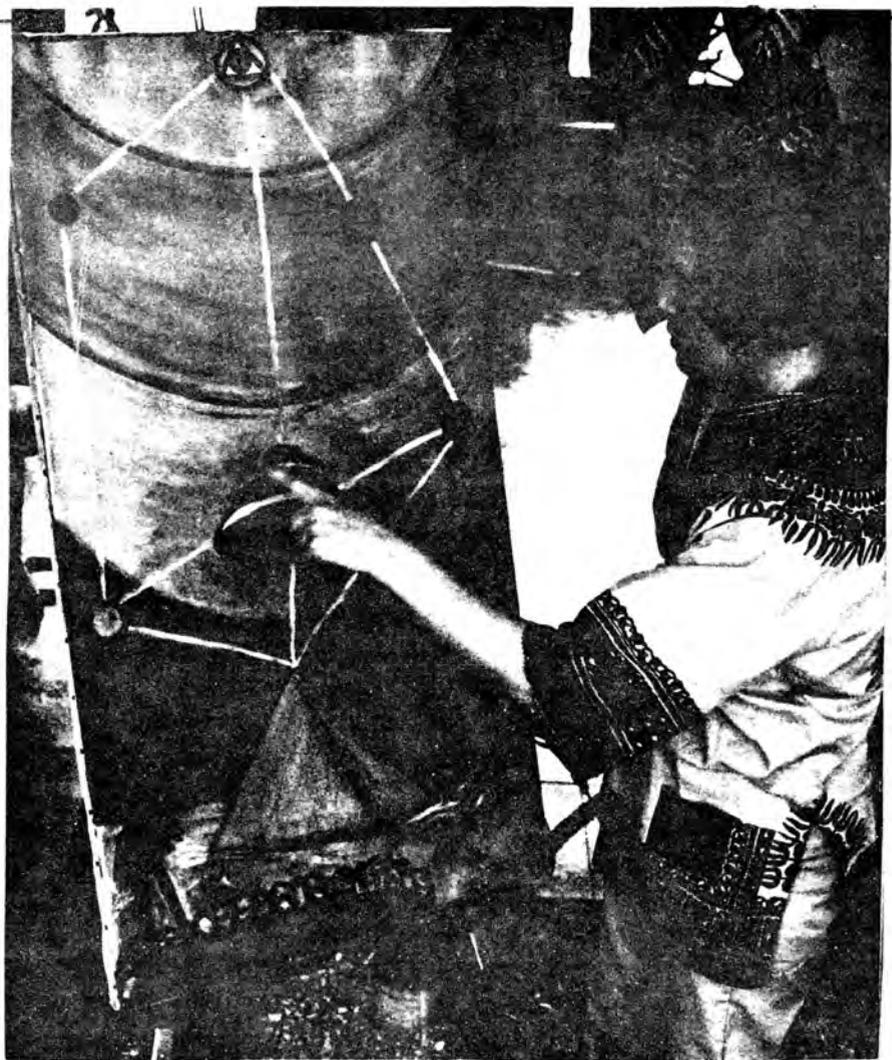

While this theory does presume it unlikely that we can ever expect any communication from our visitors (at least in the immediate future), it does substantiate their existence.

All too often we hear some scientist say that it is impossible for these UFOs to achieve these velocities with which interstellar transportation can be made. Perhaps they are right, and the fastest these spacecraft can travel is 50% of the speed of light (which I believe is not too unreasonable, for it is mathematically possible). However, never do these scientists take into consideration the life span of the occupants. After they completed their elaborate calculations, they come to the deduction that such a trip would take close to 100 years, and that the occupants would never survive such a long trip. Granted, this is true of humans, but this cannot be applied to all of life itself ... particularly living things which we know relatively nothing about.
