Abominable Snowmen: Legend Come to Life

by IVAN T. SANDERSON
F.L.S., F.R.G.S., F.Z.S.

*The Story of Sub-Humans on Five
Continents from the Early Ice Age
Until Today*

Illustrated

$7.50

Do "Abominable Snowmen" exist? Prepare yourself for a shock. In the opinion of one of the world's leading naturalists, not one, but possibly four kinds, still walk the earth! Do they really live on the fringes of the towering Himalayas and the edge of myth-haunted Tibet? They do, but we are far more likely to catch one in the United States! Northern California and its almost impenetrable Klamath Forests may hide the astonishing answer. From how many areas in the world have factual reports of wild, strange, hairy men emanated? Every continent, except Australia and the Antarctic!

Now at last, Ivan Sanderson, who has been accumulating material for 30 years on this subject, explains in language as plain and clear as a news flash just why no "Snowman" has ever been captured and kept for a zoo or a museum (one was caught during the last century, in Canada).

Has Sir Edmund Hillary said the last word, when he recently denied the existence of the creature he formerly strongly believed in? The whole story of his latest trip to the Himalayas is given to the public within this book.

What has Established Science had to say on the status of the "Snowman"? Why have the scientists played down the story? Why is the press so confused? The author explains the confusion of both, some of it deliberate.

Learn, for what may be the first time, the true story of the continents, and above all, the vegetation which covers them. Learn why many areas thought to be well known are less known today than a hundred years ago. Learn why maps are so deceptive, and frequently entirely useless. Learn what the American Indian knows about this problem and why, until very recently, he "wouldn't talk."

This is a book for those who want to discover the truth. The author, uniquely fitted by both intensive scientific training and his superb writing ability, tells this astonishing story and breaks down the barriers of Time and Space, showing in a bright light both how and why Mother Earth still clings to her ancient mysteries, and that the Age of Discovery has never really ended.

IVAN TERENCE SANDERSON, the author of Abominable Snowmen, is a world-famous zoologist and writer. Animal Treasure, Follow the Whale, and Animal Tales form only a part of his repertoire. He has also published exhaustively in scientific journals, under the auspices of the British Museum, the Chicago Museum of Natural History (formerly the Field Museum) and others. He holds degrees with honors from Cambridge University, England, in botany, zoology, and geology, and he has also read in (formally studied) anatomy and physical anthropology at the same institution.

Starting in the 1920's, Mr. Sanderson has led scientific collecting trips to such remote places as Nigeria, Guatemala, Malaya, and Dutch Guiana, all supported and backed by scientific institutions, such as the Percy Sladen Foundation of the British Museum. He has had his own TV show. The author and his wife (who collaborates on research and writing) currently divide their time between a farm in New Jersey and a New York apartment.

CREATURES ON MOON & MARS TRY CONTACT WITH EARTH

BY BERT GROTH
(Science Editor)

National Informer — March 8, 1964

Flashing lights observed on the mountains of the Moon, and flares seen brightening the surface of Mars, were recalled recently by the report of a young man and woman who said they were pursued on their way home by a mysterious light.

The Air Force, as usual, "explained" the light seen by the young couple, as being the planet Jupiter, which was shining brightly in the sky all that month.

However, the Air Force does not explain how the planet Jupiter, 438 million miles away from the earth, could affect the car's radio, and cause the headlights to dim, as the young couple reported.

Neither has the Air Force a good explanation for the mysterious lights that have been seen flashing on the Moon.

Scientists, also, are at a loss to explain them.

A constantly flashing white light was seen on the dark side of the Moon, near its western edge, by an astronomer in Woodland, California, on January 16, 1956.

The flashing continued for about an hour and a half.

Flashes were seen also, on the east wall of the crater Cavendish, on January 24, of that year.

The crater was just emerging from darkness, as the sun rose over that section of the moon.

The flashes continued brightly for about three minutes, and then took eight minutes to fade away gradually.

In the short intervals between flashes, the location of the disturbance was marked by a point of light a little brighter than the walls of the crater.

During each flash, a reflection of the light was seen from the western wall of the crater.

These two reports could be interpreted as evidence of signaling from the Moon.

But the regularity of the flashes suggest that it could have been merely a method of calling attention to a certain area.

A white light, which shone steadily, was seen on the Moon, from Stanford, California, on April 19, 1959.

It was too far into the darkened side to be a mountain peak shining in the sun.

After shining steadily for one and one-half minutes, it faded gradually from view in a few seconds.

This could have been an actual attempt to send a message from the moon.

A steady beam of light can be modulated in a way similar to radio waves, so that intelli-ble speech may be transmitted. Activity observed on the planet Mars could indicate the place of origin of the supposed signallers on the Moon.

A desert section, called Edom Promontorium, in the equatorial region of Mars, was being observed from Japan on January 1, 1954.

Suddenly, it began to brighten rapidly.

It went from light yellow to bright white in three seconds, and then back down to normal in five seconds more.

This flare-like light could be interpreted as the actual take-off of a rocket from Mars.

The rapid brightening and dimming of the light, suggests such a possibility.

A slightly different interpretation may be applied to activity observed on the same spot on Mars, six months later on July 23, 1954.

This time, the brightness increased for thirty seconds.

Then, after fifty-eight seconds of gradually dimming, it completely disappeared.

If this flare is from a rocket launching, then the longer length of time of brilliance may indicate a much more powerful rocket.

Another possibility is that atomic energy experiments may be going on.

But one of the most startling of recent observations, was that of an unidentified object which appeared in space near the planet Mars, on September 8, 1956.

As the red-colored planet was being observed by an astronomer in New Mexico, on that date, a faint point of light passed through the field of the telescope, in the opposite direction of the apparent drift of Mars, and slightly below the planet.

The telescope was moved away from Mars, to follow the object.

The mysterious light took ten seconds to pass across the field of the telescope, an arc of about five minutes.

This may have been the first observation of a possible rocket traveling in the Martian stratosphere.

Though, of course, the satellites of Mars, Phobos and Deimos, are believed by some not to have a natural origin.

The color of the satellites of Mars is a neutral gray, an unusual color for natural satellites.

Their time of revolution around the planet is that which a hollow object would take.

And the objects, themselves, were not observed prior to the 1870's, though fairly powerful telescopes had observed Mars since the 1700's.

All these various observations seem to tend toward one conclusion.

There is something in the skies of Earth, and the space surrounding the inner planets of the solar system that is not of a natural origin.

These objects may be the craft of intelligent beings from Mars, or they may be alien beings from other stars of our galaxy.

Whatever the explanation, today is a great time in which to be living, when mystery and adventure surrounds the people of Earth to an extent to which, perhaps, they do not even dream.

Park East Shop Caters To Flying Saucer Fans

By KARLA DAVIS

If a space man ever lands his flying saucer in Park East and wants to swap the latest interplanetary gossip, he'll find just the right earthling in James Rigberg, the editor of Flying Saucer News.

Mr. Rigberg operates his magazine from a small, crowded bookstore at 119 East 96th Street. Among the publications he offers are more than 100 titles: The Night Has 1,000 Saucers; Son of the Sun; Keys To the Citadel of Space; Rainbow City and the Inner Earth People and They Knew Too Much About Flying Saucers. "I'm the largest distributor I know of in the world," the 50-year-old editor claims.

Saucer Stories

Books on the world of flying saucers range in price from 25 cents to $10. One of the most expensive is a beautifully bound volume of saucer history. Mr. Rigberg says, "Saucers are as old as humanity," and has himself authored several books on flying saucer lore compiled from the Old and New Testaments and the Bhagavad Gita.

The vast majority of books and magazines on saucers treat the subject from a non-fictional point of view. And Flying Saucer News, a 32-page offset publication, which Mr. Rigberg edits, is filled with reprints of newspaper stories on what the Air Force calls Unidentified Flying Objects.

Flying Saucer News, begun in 1955, is published twice a year. Currently, more than 5,000 saucer fans subscribe, and the editor is considering newsstand sales to reach an even larger audience. Readers often send in articles for inclusion but Mr. Rigberg also keeps his own files of reported flying saucer sightings.

A recent issue contained an article on the Abominable

Snowman; a reprint from the Chicago Sun-Times, "A Swift Light Is Spotted;" and an explanation of the tragedy of the submarine Thresher ("an Unidentified Aquatic Object rammed the atomic sub"). Advertisers call attention to such items as the Planchette: "a mechanical means of making contact with the spirit world;" a copy of the Martian alphabet and language; and "Sacred Tibetan Rosebuds."

Mr. Rigberg says he has seen only one flying saucer. One evening while leaving his part-time job at a restaurant in Greenwich Village, he and a friend saw a "dark, round disk-shaped object . . . about a mile overhead." As the friend did not speak English, Mr. Rigberg has been unable to get a supporting affidavit.

Other saucer fans have been even more fortunate. One, Dr. Frank Stranges, described as a "full-gospel minister," knew a visitor from outer space who was assigned to the Pentagon. Another man, George Adamski, formerly head of a mystical cult known as the Royal Order of Tibet, has sighted and photographed what he claims was a "Venusian scout ship."

Mr. Rigberg, holder of two correspondence-course degrees from the College of Divine Metaphysics in Indiana, first became interested in the occult while working as a short-order cook in a Manhattan restaurant. He was supplementing his pay check by operating a copying machine from his boardinghouse room when, one night, "I got this psychic flash. I suddenly sense that I ought to insure my equipment against fire."

The day after he purchased insurance, fire swept through his boardinghouse and Mr. Rigberg collected $300. Shortly after, in 1952, he started his first bookstore, located at Third Avenue and 90th Street, specializing in books on the occult.

Two of his customers occasionally requested books on flying saucers, and this prompted Mr. Rigberg to offer several titles. Among the first saucer books to sell well was Flying Saucers From Outer Space, by Donald A. Keyhoe. The author, a retired Marine Corps major, writes in scientific terms and has accused the Air Force of deluding the general public by withholding saucer information. His books still make Mr. Rigberg's best-seller list.

Although the editor feels the U.S. is wrong in failing to recognize flying saucers officially, as do Brazil and Argentina, he is quick to admit "There is not much censorship here or I couldn't sell the things I do."

His small shop also offers "essential oils for Love, Health and Prosperity;" books on the occult, psychic and spiritual; and a carefully-selected stock of burglar alarms.

The store has gone into bankruptcy once and Mr. Rigberg still works as a short-order cook, but he is confident the saucerian shop venture will succeed. By the first of the year, he hopes to be financially able to "quit the restaurant business" and devote all his time to book-selling and magazine publication.

However, Mr. Rigberg, who regrets he has seen only one flying saucer and has yet to meet a space man, wishes he had more time for saucer-spotting: "The trouble is, I'm so busy in the store I don't get outdoors much."

Letters to the Editor FROM OUT OF THIS WORLD!

To The Editor
Dear Sir:

If you would like some new, news of the current happenings: In Nov. 1963, the citizens of Jacksonville, Florida were alarmed over the lighting up of the sky for three quarters of an hour when white objects were sighted and a near panic almost started. The U.S. Naval Station near by, nor the U.S. Naval Air Base, nor the Airport officials could account for the happening. Police Stations and Civil Defense Offices were swamped with calls. The flying saucers slowly drifted away. Time was about 10:45 P.M. exact date I forgot. This is the first major notice since the Boy Scouts, came across a saucer in the middle part of the state 3 years ago. It took off and some were very frightened and the heat did singe a few, this was due to the blast take off.

Your Friend,

planet were sent to the Earth to help nascent humanity and are known to occult scientists as the 'Lords of Venus' and the 'Lords of Mercury.'

"The Lords of Venus were the leaders of the masses of our people. They were inferior beings of the Venus evolution, who appeared among men and were known as 'Messengers of the gods.' For the good of our humanity they led and guided them step by step. There was no rebellion against their authority, because man had not yet evolved an independent will. It was to bring him to the stage where he would be able to manifest will and judgment that they guided him, until he should be able to guide himself.

"When under the tuition of these Beings mankind had reached a certain stage of progress, the most advanced were placed under the guidance of the Lords of Mercury, who initiated them into the higher truths for the purpose of making them leaders of the people. These Initiates were then exalted to kingship and were the founders of the dynasties of Divine Rulers who were indeed kings 'by the grace of God,' i.e., by the grace of the Lords of Venus and Mercury, who were as gods to infant humanity. They guided and instructed the kings for the good of the people and not for self-aggrandizement and arrogation of rights at their expense.

"At that time a ruler held a sacred trust to educate and help his people; to alleviate and promote equity and well-being. He had the light of God to give him wisdom and guide his judgment. Hence, while those kings reigned, all things prospered, and it was indeed a Golden Age. Yet, as we follow the evolution of man in detail, we shall see that the present phase or period of development, though it cannot be called a golden age in any but a material sense, is nevertheless a necessary one, in order to bring man to the point where he will be able to rule himself, for self-mastery is the end and aim of all rulership. No man can safely remain ungoverned who has not learned to govern himself, and at the present stage of development, that is the hardest task that can be given him. It is easy to command others; it is hard to force obedience from oneself."

It is also taught in Vol. 2 of Questions and Answers that: "There are some Egos who do not evolve, but are stragglers upon the path of evolution. For them there comes a time when they are finally ejected to the Moon and are denied the opportunity and privilege of rebirth in the present evolutionary class. They then remain upon the Moon until the vehicles they have crystallized by lack of action are finally dissolved, and as they cannot go forward with the stream of evolution, there is only one other way open to them: to gravitate back through the gate of Saturn into Chaos, or Cosmic Night, where they must await another opportunity of manifestation in a later life stream.

"Ordinary humanity who follow the path of evolution are led to the Kingdom of Christ, the Sun Spirit. Stragglers who fail to keep up with the procession retrograde to the Kingdom of Jehovah, the Moon Spirit.

"The advanced guard of humanity, the Initiates who have passed both the lesser and greater Initiations... are given the choice of staying here and helping their brothers in this world or of going to Jupiter and preparing the conditions under which humanity may evolve in the future Jupiter Period.

"Advanced souls who misuse their powers as black magicians eventually retrograde directly to Saturn and are forced into Chaos by dissolution of their vehicles. Saturn has a preponderance of the fourth or reflecting ether. Hence its pale light, and the Egos who go there leave a record of their lives and are then propelled outward toward Chaos by way of Saturn's moons.

As he was flying high in the sky
He saw an object racing by,
Coming somewhere from the blue
A flying saucer comes in view,
Observing all this earthly strife
Man's inhumanity to life.
A new strange force appeared to man
Once more his eyes began to scan
Another saucer coming near
His heart began to beat with fear.
The pilot thought it meant a war
As he raised his plane to soar.
In the clouds they stood nearby
Motionless they caught his eye
As they drew nearer to his plane.
He chased them, but twas all in vain
When they vanished from his sight
He was bewildered by their flight.
Then his heart began to ponder
At their speed thru the wild blue yonder
Then he thought "what could they be"?
To him it was a mystery
After landing back to earth
This strange news, what was it worth?
It was broadcast far and wide
From news reporters by his side.

CUT OF THE BLUE

These photos taken on March 12, 1960, at Desert Hot Springs, California, illustrate how the "saucers" materialize and dematerialize. This is, make themselves visible or invisible in a few minutes (or less) of time.

Starting with photo #160 to #164, note in three minutes, how solid the objects from outer space appear.

In photos #168 to #170, notice how the "saucer" on the right has almost vanished; in one minute.

From photo #169 to #175, notice the vapor trail being generated by the "saucer" on the left. Although the "saucer" on the right has almost vanished from eyesight, note the identifying marks in the sky - of it still being present.

From photo #178 to the finish, note the bright white light on top of the other "saucers" that have appeared. Note also the various cloud manipulations performed.

Now if you will check the background, you will notice all this activity has taken place in the very same area for about 35 minutes.

A careful study of these photos will reveal other information.

In photos #187 to #191 of the original set, a bell-like craft is visible. However, it is enshrouded by a fine mist. (White arrow #191.)

Some of the fine details are lost in reproducing the original prints, but enough detail is present to give one food for thought. That some intelligence from "out of the blue" is in operation.

These photos are from a large collection of flying unidentified objects taken over the past few years. It is hoped in the near future, others will be published.

The originals and negatives are on file. This is authentic!

FLYING SAUCER PHOTOGRAPHED NEAR ALBUQUERQUE

This series of seven color photographs of a Flying Saucer reproduced here in black and white, was taken about 15 miles south of Albuquerque, New Mexico between 2:00 and 4:00 P. M. on June 16, 1963 by Mr. A. A. Villa, Jr. on Kodacolor 120 film with a Japanese Make "Rokuoh-Sha" camera having an f4.6, 75mm focal length lens.

Mr. Villa states that his contacts requested him telepathically to drive to the rendezvous area alone. There he met the nine members of the crew, consisting of five women and four men, as they disembarked from their landed spacecraft through a hermetically sealed door. They were all beautiful beings ranging from 7 to 9 feet in height, with hair of blond (fiery golden), red (like polished copper) and black. They said they were from the galaxie of Coma Berenices.

The truck appearing in some of the photographs is Mr. Villa's. Mr. Villa states that he has made contact with these same people on several occasions prior to and after these photographs were taken and that he has taken other saucer photographs which he hopes the Space People will give him permission to release for publication soon, along with a full account of his experiences.

It should now be obvious to any rational person that spacecraft of the type in these pictures are not figments of the imagination, hallucinations, wild geese, spots before the eyes, weather balloons, light reflections, mirages, or natural phenomena, etc., but instead are tangible hardware demonstrating a technology far superior to any yet developed on Earth.

Full color prints of this set of 7 photos are now available from AFSCA for only $3.00 per set of 7 - 3 1/2" X 5" color prints. Minimum order $3.00. Extra prints 50¢ each. Now you can help in our great educational campaign by showing your friends actual color photographs of a Flying Saucer. Do your part! Join our army of light workers! ## Celestial Deva Converses with Gautama Buddha

It is told, that a celestial Deva (alien creature from another world) once came to Buddha in the shape of a Brahmin, dressed in white garments. The Deva asked: "What is the sharpest sword? What is the deadliest poison? What is the fiercest fire? What is the darkest night?"

The teacher replied: "A word spoken in anger is the sharpest sword; greed is the deadliest poison; passion is the fiercest fire; ignorance the darkest night."

The Deva said: "Who gains the greatest benefit? Who loses most? What armor is invulnerable? What is the best weapon?"

The teacher replied: "He is the greatest gainer, who helps others; he loses most who greedily receives; patience is the invulnerable armor; wisdom the best weapon."

The Deva said: "Who is the greatest thief? What is the most precious treasure? Who is the most successful in gaining possessions? What is the securest reward?"

The teacher replied: "Evil thoughts is the greatest thief; virtue is the most precious treasure; the mind is the most successful in gaining possession; Nirvana is the securest reward."

The Deva said: "What is it that causes ruin in the world?"

The teacher replied: "Ignorance causes the ruin in the world."

And the Deva, hearing the words of the teacher, bowed low before Him in reverence,

THE U.F.O. THAT CHANGED MY LIFE
TESTIMONY

by
Leo V. Bartsch
353 S. 4th Street
Coos Bay, Oregon

Revised 2nd Edition March 3, 1964

In America we still have a right to read and write what we believe. What am I trying to prove? Only that God has not deserted us.

Many ask, "What is this testimony all about?" It's about supernatural U.F.O.s and man's destruction of this earth. I felt there would never be a 2nd edition after my experiences as a result of my first testimony, but now I wonder about the 3rd because an overwhelming inspiration has convinced me this was not to be kept silent. God is my witness. Be your own judge.

I received comments pro and con from the 1st edition of this testimony. One lady wrote me and said, quote, "I received a copy of your testimony in a letter and I had a strong witness in the Holy Spirit when my hand came in contact with the printed page (of testimony), so I know the (U.F.O.s) Unidentified Flying Objects are of God. Truly God is moving by his Spirit and only the Holy Spirit will save this old world in its mad rush to destruction. Mrs. E.A.L."

Many are trying to silence God's word and the U.F.O.s. God is no respecter of persons. This U.F.O. was not just for me, so should this 2nd edition enlighten the reader in any way about supernatural U.F.O.s and give you peace of mind, thank only the Lord.

I now believe God does move in mysterious ways, is most merciful, and does cast out demons. Yet after what happened to me on September 27, 1959 and for three years later, I never once gave God credit for anything. I was for twenty years hopelessly in the grip of bad habits and the confusion of hell. Never went to church since the age of fifteen, or ever read the Bible. My Dad was a German Lutheran and my Mother was a Polish Catholic. I loved them both, so listened to both sides of their wars, nationality and religions until I left home.

I could not believe God was so merciful to touch a sinner like me; yet my paralyzed 29 arm was healed instantly, and hate was taken out of me. I was lifted right out of bed (and yet I believed I was caught between a flying saucer gravitation and the earth's gravitation) which caused weightlessness, cured my arm, took hate out of me, and was the greatest experience of my life, after three newspaper items came out about this U.F.O. and what happened to me for the next three years. Not one person said or even suggested that this may be the Lord's work (or even the devil's work) until after the mystery was revealed to me three years later. Only flying saucer fans and U.F.O. phenomena groups called on me. They were very sincere in trying to help me, and did enlighten me in many ways. I heard tape recordings which were out of this world.

When leaving on a trip on December 23, 1956, I told the following person, "I'll be back in three months." I returned March 22nd. This person died the 23rd (three months to the day); and while the dying person's head lay on my arm, in the hospital, it left a numb spot on that arm the instant death took place. My doctor could do nothing! It only got worse during the next three years. Several weeks before this arm was healed the fingers began to twitch and tremble. I had no control of it. I would lay on it at night and massage it during the day. It felt like blood did not want to enter in. This arm felt just like it was trying to leave my body, until that morning of September 27, 1959, about 3 A.M. I awoke my wife to tell her "something out of the universe just went low over this roof." Although I saw or heard nothing, I knew it! How or why I do not know. I became weightless for almost a minute. I seemed to be turned on like a light bulb and filled with indescribable goodness from head to toe. I realized what my wife must be thinking from the look on her face. I told her to look at the clock and be sure to remember the time as, I said, "Someone saw it and it will be in the newspaper." So when the next issue came off the press there it was, in the September 28, 1959 issue of the "World" newspaper of Coos Bay, Oregon. A mother and her two sons, ages seven and nine (notice three witnesses) had seen a beautiful colored flying object which she reported to the police and the Air Force. She gave approximately the same time and direction and altitude that I had told my wife; although as I stated, I saw or heard nothing. Why I knew all this I do not know. I have not yet seen or spoken to this woman or her sons although they lived only three miles from me. I wrote a letter to her but did not get a reply, so did not try further to contact her. From where she lived the direction of her sighting was directly over my house and she stated it was low.

I started to attend U.F.O. and flying saucer meetings. I became Coos Bay area representative and public relations man for the Aerial Phenomena Research 30 Group of Seattle, Washington, until . . . . . My U.F.O. mystery was revealed three years later on September 15, 1962 at a crusade in Portland, Oregon. We were all asked to concentrate on God for our greatest needs. I didn't get my greatest needs but I did get my greatest answer; when for some unknown reason I looked up and silently said, "Oh God, who art Thou?" Then suddenly my entire left arm which had been healed felt like a sparking electric contact; yet wonderful; and then I suddenly heard these words, "How did you like your answer?" This took me by surprise. I didn't intend to ask that question, "Oh God, who art Thou?" This didn't make sense. Suddenly I knew God changed my question and then answered it by using my left arm, and then asked me (perhaps through someone near by) "How did you like your answer?", because then I remembered (three years back) the U.F.O. experience of September 27, 1959 when my left arm was healed by a miracle. God's answer was fool-proof! Three things took place here yet some say this is mass hypnosis, and some say U.F.O.s are of the devil.

When I was a Catholic I heard all Protestants are going to hell. When I became Protestant I heard all Catholics are going to hell. I once felt all Protestants were under one head (or a united group) like the Catholics until I sent my first testimony to more than one hundred churches. I now find ridicule and criticism a blessing in disguise. At present I'm what some call a church tramp.

I won't list all of my phenomena but I welcome any comment. I had dreams with visions about Jesus that made this revised edition a must. Also an unexplained beam of light; a sudden appearance of a telephone receiver which said just three words, "Are you ready?" and the thoughts, "God, Venus and Mars" came to my mind. I felt this was a warning and that the explanation of this would be revealed if my mind, heart and soul were cleansed and ready for it. So I accepted an invitation to a small Pentecostal church. As I said, my mother was Catholic and my father was Lutheran. I was nothing. A medical doctor who was a Baptist happened to be speaking at this church and the way this doctor spoke surprised me so. I once had a dislike for all MD's but he made the Bible and salvation so simple it gave me a real peace of mind for the first time in my life. (I was born and raised a Catholic until I left home, and now I love any church where the people therein truly love and glorify God through Jesus Christ our saviour, with all their hearts, minds and souls.) The first thing the next morning while in the kitchen alone I seemed to see and feel heat waves entering my body. I seemed to be filled with something great and powerful. I knew my very worst habits and desires were gone forever. I became a changed person. I started to read and enjoy the Bible for the first time in my life. This happened on October 22, 1962, the day Cuba and Russia were exposed to the world by God, and only God can pull us out of this.

Will Astronauts And Chicks Enjoy Life On Planet Mars?

BY WALDO BANKS
Space Editor

Before the 20th Century ends, Earth men may have claimed land on the planet Mars and set up housekeeping there with their chicks.

Science fiction? Hardly. Dr. Joshua Lederberg, head of the Department of Genetics at California's Stanford University, has said:

"As a place for human habitation, even exploration, Mars would be considerably less congenial to human access and modification than the bottom of our oceans.

"But it is the abundance of water that must dominate our evaluation of the planet as a home for adaptable forms of life."

He believes Mars may have that abundance of water. Dr. Lederberg says initial exploration of Mars by American astronauts must seek the answers to these questions: "We want to know if life on Mars has evolved in the same fashion as our own, how fast has it evolved, at what point might it have diverged from our pattern . . . ."

Another Stanford University scientist, Dr. Elliott Levinthal, March, 1965, and ending December, 1975.

The "first two are identified as Mariner missions and the last four as Voyager missions," he said.

Where does the United States stand in its preparations to send men to Mars?

If They Bring Along Beds, Yes!

tells the condition and period of time under which the trip to Mars must be made to Earth men:

"Missions to Mars must be carried out when the planet and Earth, in their orbits, are closest together. This situation occurs every 780 days, and the experimental opportunities presently being discussed under the National Aeronautics and Space Administration programs are the six oppositions starting with

"A preliminary design for a spacecraft to return men from Mars during the years 1971-1975 has been submitted after a six-month study by Lockheed Missiles and Space Company, Sunnyvale, Calif.," the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said.

An odd-shaped Earth re-entry module designed by Lockheed would make the million-mile trip to Mars and then return over a 13-month journey.

NASA said the spacecraft had been designed to withstand re-entry heating of about 35,000 degrees Fahrenheit—more than three times hotter than the sun's surface—at entry speeds up to about 44,000 miles an hour.

Project Mercury astronauts, such as Lt. Col. John Glenn, returned to the Earth's atmosphere at less than 17,000 miles an hour, subjecting their spacecraft to temperatures of about 3,000 degrees.

So, for the next 10 years, this is how the schedule lines up to ultimately put American astronauts on Mars.

Next year (1965) three astronauts will attempt a rendezvous in space with Project Gemini.

Then in 1969 three more astronauts are scheduled to make the first trip to the moon.

By the mid-1970s four to six astronauts are to climb into a spacecraft and begin the trip to Mars.

And by the end of the 20th Century, travel to Mars could become an almost normal thing as flying today in a jet aircraft has become.

But this is still a little ahead of the story.

Dr. Lederberg talks about trips to other planets in the Earth's solar system.

"The Moon, Venus, Mars and Jupiter are celestial bodies nearest Earth and almost certainly will be the itinerary of spacecraft in the decade ahead."

"Mercury is too close to the Sun and Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto too far from it to be on an early timetable," he added.

Jupiter, the farthest planet man will probably ever be able to reach in his lifetime, is 487 million miles from the Sun, and is a very cold planet.

It is 11 times the size of Earth and has a period of revolution of 11.9 years as compared to the 365 days for Earth.

Traveling at 30,000 miles an hour it would take a space ship 2.7 years to reach Jupiter.

To reach the planet Pluto, traveling at the same speed, it would take almost 50 years to reach there and another 50 years to return.

And, in any event, scientists pretty well agree that man could not possibly learn to adapt himself to live on any planets in the earth's solar system other than Mars and possibly Venus.

Doctors in the Life Sciences Laboratory of General Dynamics-

Astronauts, builders of the Atlas and Centaur rockets, say living conditions in space someday may be as convenient as the average family home.

They do not, however, predict when this will be achieved.

The scientists are attempting to achieve this by creating an artificial gravity in which astronauts can live in space.

Sometime this year, two American astronauts will step into the Gemini mission simulator at Cape Kennedy, Florida and fly qualifying missions as they train for the nation's next manned flight into space.

It isn't time to pack bags yet, but the journey to Mars for earth men is just around the corner of time.

Many of the people of the 21st Century will probably make the trip.

GEMINI SPACECRAFT NO. 1 that will carry astronauts into the Earth's orbit to rendezvous in space next year is readied at Cape Kennedy, Florida. It will be boosted into space atop a Titan rocket. After Project Gemini is completed, Project Apollo begins with the objective of putting three astronauts on the moon in 1969. In the 1970s American spacemen will try for a trip to Mars.

THIS TITAN ROCKET being readied on a launch pad at Cape Kennedy, Florida, will ultimately send three astronauts into space next year to rendezvous there under Project Gemini. It will be a major step in the direction of putting a team of American astronauts on the moon by 1969.

mistake, as God did in the Pearl Harbor mistake. But will God allow us three such mistakes? We better believe anything is possible.

Some say, "Leo, I will believe you when your short stiff leg grows and bends like your good one." God already saved that leg and my life long ago. When I was eight years of age, my left leg was rotten, including the bone, from Osteomyelitis, which was caused by the last fight I ever had and the first nickel I ever earned. Seven different doctors at Pierce City and Springfield, Missouri told my mother that if they amputated the leg at the hip I might have a 50-50 chance to live. Otherwise none. I'm 50 now and still have both legs, though one is stiff. The doctors told my mother, "You are murdering your son!" I thank God for a mother with such faith and courage. I have an honorable discharge from the U.S. Army with this leg.

None of us realize how many times our lives have been saved, or the way they were saved. In the 1930 depression days my stiff leg saved me from becoming a terrible criminal. The most hate, distrust and ulcers I ever had was when I was independently rich. Your misfortunates may be a blessing in disguise. We are all here on trial for a reason.

When you think or see seemingly impossible UFOs, think of God and nothing is impossible. Look how God has increased our knowledge the last fifty years in comparison to the last two thousand years; yet we use it like foolish kids. Is man really improving? He has only found a way to destroy the earth, not save it. I believe every answer, including the cure for cancer, was and already is in the Bible. Zechariah 5:1-2 tells of flying rolls in the old testament. I read in the (World) newspaper of Coos Bay, Oregon, November 9, 1959, "Hopeless cancer case recovers! Doctors mystified", and almost five years later I read about the same person in the Portland, Oregon Journal of October 5, 1963, "Incurable cancer vanishes! Doctors still don't know how cancer disappeared, neither does patient." Five years ago this man's lungs were so shot full of cancer he had only a few weeks to live. I believe God gave this man a new set of lungs and this will also be revealed, as was mine.

When man can press a button and destroy all living things, then it's time God wants us to know he is still around and has not deserted us. More and more signs and mysteries will appear in the news in spite of man's attempt to censor them. I've had twenty years of hopelessness replaced with happiness since God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit came into my life.

I'll never be offended if some feel my experiences are the work of satan, considering how I constantly see and hear how brilliant minds all over the world get hundreds of different interpretations and denominations from just one proven book, the Bible. Amen.

Dear Sir:

I own and operate a good sized observatory. This observatory deals strictly with unidentified flying objects or flying saucers. I understand that you send out some information on flying saucers to people who request information.

First of all I would like to correspond with you. Second I would like to know if you can please send me any kind of information you would have on flying saucers. Just Flying Saucers.

Thank You.

Norman Schreiberstein, Director
Philadelphia, Pa. 19111

Dear Mr. Schreiberstein:

We have withheld your address for the benefit of keeping the other than flying saucer interests from flooding your mail box.. We have in mind a serious student of U F O and Astronomy who lives in Benton, Arkansas who wrote us a letter advising that he would take steps to stop such action. I am sure you appreciate and understand our attitude now. Mr. J. R. F are his initials, we hope that he will read this letter.

Your story in the Philadelphia papers we sent out requesting permission but have had no reply thus far. Suggest you write to them about it. Our best wishes to you,

The Editor

Dear Sir:

Thanks for you free copy of Flying Saucer News. I found your magazine to be quite interesting.

I'd like to bring to your attention the fact that your magazine has several articles that appeared quite blurred, thereby making the story difficult to read. One more thing. In the August issue of your magazine on page 23, there was an article reprinted from the Tuesday August 6, 1963 edition of the Chicago Sun-Times entitled: A Swift Light Is Spotted. The article is written in a Tom - Swiftie fashion. What I mean by this is apparent all over the article. For instance, in the 7th paragraph it says, 'He kept it under observation for several hours, he added guardedly '.. Is this article a gag or a report of a real sighting written by someone with a sense of humor? Please clear this up.

Now that I've finished tearing apart your magazine, I would like to tell you that I am subscribing to your magazine for 3 years, or 6 copies worth. I am enclosing $1.00 I may contact you from time to time if I choose to buy one of the books advertised in your publication.

P.S. Just like to thank you for your courteous and generous offer and service.

Yours Truly,
John Signorelli
Newton, New Jersey

Dear Friend:

We want to thank you for your much appreciated letter. The letters or articles that appeared blurred were probably reduced down to size too small and this we have tried to correct.

About The Chicago Sun-Times the point you mention is quite right and is just about the size of it H U M O R. However, as an old timer in the writing field I would like to point out one thing and that is we need all the stories we can get, that is, to have the public read about them. This humor is part of the story which the staff writer must add more or less in most cases to save his job, besides it makes it shall we say more interesting for example a touch of salt and pepper to your food makes it more palatable. With Appreciation,

The Editor

Please note

In our August, 1964 issue on page 23 we gave the usual statement of courtesy of Steve Vanco and The Chicago Sun - Times. However we did receive the same report from another reader and who also writes articles EDWIN L. BROOKS, 9731 So. Brennan Ave. Chicago 17, Illinois.

Mr. Brooks has been in the hospital for the last 4 months.

REPORTS OF UNIDENTIFIED FLYING OBJECTS

To The Editor
Dear Sir:

The world of Ufology opened to me quite by accident a number of years ago when I discovered a book on the subject in our local library. Since that time, I have had a deep interest in the subject. I have written four pages on the subject plus an article for our school paper. In addition, I will be giving a talk on the subject of Ufology to the school body late in February of 1965. I also plan to make the study of Flying Saucers my life's work.

I have had three experiences with U.F.O.'s. The first was late in 1960, at the Memorial Field in Oyster Bay at about 4:45 P.M. I saw three luminous disks passing from East to West out over Long Island Sound. They were about the size of the noon day sun and bright orange-red in color. The U.F.O. were traveling at about the speed of a jet. The second U.F.O. appeared to be about 3/4 of an inch away from the first, and the third about a foot away from the second all at arm's length. The whole sighting took about 20 seconds.

The second happened to Mr. Donald Luckenbill. This is the story as he told it to me. He saw a white point of light at about 2 A.M. The weather was clear. The size seemed to be a considerable distance and about 20,000 feet in altitude. It was round and traveled in a Multitudious direction. He told me, "The only thing that makes me think that the light I saw in the sky was actually a vehicle under control was the fact that it hovered and remained stationary - then 'zoomed' off in another direction. 'He said the speed varied from stationary to rocket speed.

The third involved my friend. He saw six round red objects traveling faster than a jet. The weather was clear. They looked bigger than a star at arm's length. One other person was with him. The objects traveled East. The most unusual part of this story occurred after the objects disappeared. Bring the middle of the winter, my friend observed this formation near a large sheet of ice at the beach. The block of ice mysteriously crumbled even though the temperature was about 19 degrees F. Nothing happened to the rest of the ice in the surrounding area. Why did the ice crumble? My friend who was sceptical of Flying Saucer existence before this happened, now firmly believes in their existence.

Sincerely,

John Prytz

Note: Jack Gibson, 101 N. Powell, Columbus 4, Ohio has just sent us in a report on the Socorro, N.M. sighting. We want to thank you Jack.

Alagoas, Brazil June 18, 1964, at 6:55 P.M. many people, including myself and family, saw a different kind of light pulsating in the sky, near the constellation Scorpion which was at that time more or less 45 degrees above the horizon, east.

At first when the light suddenly appeared, we thought it was an airplane, but it didn't move from the same place in the sky, so we concluded it was something else. It went on pulsating its white light for some 40 seconds, and then began diminishing its brilliance--- but always pulsating -- and gave the illusion (was it ?) that it was going into the sky, without moving from the same point there in line of our sight.

The night was clear, with shining stars and moonlight.

I made some inquiries and found out that other people had seen the phenomenon from other streets. Was it a real U F O ? Was it the U.S. satellite that is placed above the Northern part of Brazil? In this case, does this satellite shine and pulsate? Actually, I don't know what that strange brilliant light was.

Dear Sirs:

We would like very much to receive a copy of the Flying Saucer News, and enclosed is 25¢ for it.

While in Phoenix, Arizona, my sister-in-law took a few pictures in color of the mountains on a trip to Payson, after seeing Roosevelt Dam, and when these were finally developed there appeared to be space vehicles flying at rapid speed. When blown up on her screen we were amazed. Since then we have heard Daniel Fry of "White Sands Incident" fame speaking here on our lovely Paddle Queen ship, two nights. It was thrilling to meet him after reading his book some years ago.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Ruth Love

What Has 4 Legs, Burns Grass, Is Round and Shiny ?

Socorro, New Mexico. April 25th 1964

This particular sighting is the most important and most authentic since the great saucer flap of the 1950's.

It stood on 4 lrgs, was round and scorched the grass that it had come in contact with.

Socorro police officer Lonnie Zamoro saw it. He said " It was round and as tall as a car ". However he denies knowing what it is. When he came nearer to the object, all he found was the scorched grass and four strange markings in the ground.

The indentations were found to be almost 14 inches long and 6 inches wide, after he and six other state police visited the spot.

The markings and the burned grass were admitted by White Sands Missile Range Officials. This report is much more than is ever in fact never admitted by the Air Force,

IDOL OF THE SUN

God of Luck

INTRICATELY CARVED: from a semi-precious stone found near the Pyramid known as "Sun of God" in Mexico. Legend says this small primitive idol rules games of chance and brings good luck, prosperity and happiness to the wearer. It is also said to be the Patron God of the crops and harvest. This carved idol makes an attractive necklace for the ladies, or Key chain for the men. $2. P.P. Please state which desired.

JEWEL COLORED PENDULUM

POCKET SIZE and preferred by many for its accuracy, comes in seven glowing colors, each correlated to the sign of the Zodiac it is said to vibrate to, Red, Orange, Yellow, Green, Blue, Violet, White. Complete with chart and suggested instructions. Give birthday. $1.10 P.P. No C.O.D. Mail Order Only.
