STACY BORLAND, ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR
LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

Sometime during the weekend of March 3 and 4th, a lovely young lady named Stacy was murdered, as well as her brother Russ.

What can one say at such a time. To remember the wonderful things about Stacy and her enthusiasm for life and helping the people; will that help us in our sorrow.

All sorts of thoughts go through your mind. If she hadn't become interested in UFOs perhaps she would still be alive? Are we to blame? In metaphysical circles they say we chose when and how we end our lives. In this circumstance I cannot believe she would chose such a heinous crime, especially when her life was becoming so interesting.

Stacy had become friends with Billy Goodman of KVEG Radio in Las Vegas. He wanted her to come to work for him as his secretary. She was excited about the prospect of being involved in what was happening in Las Vegas.

The UFOCCI Center that Stacy started was growing by leaps and bounds. The second meeting had 96 people in attendance. Her enthusiasm for life and research was contagious.

Stacy - wherever you are - we shall miss you so much but we won't forget you and what you have done for the UFOCCI. We love you Stacy.

From now on the trophy at Jorpah will be named the Stacy Borland Award Trophy in her memory.

(In Stacy's memory the following poem I read in "The Arizona Light" I believe, expresses our feelings.)

SING ME HOME

At the time of my passing
Through the doorway called death,
I ask of you, my loved ones, a most precious gift.
As you release me to the other side,
Behind the veil I will no longer hide.
As I pass through it, sing me home.
Give me your love in a song.

Sing me home on wings of song.
Sound will turn the key.
Sing me home with all your love,
Your song will carry me.

There is a river of light,
Iridescent and bright,
As I disappear from view.
As you sing me home on wings of song,
I'm never far from you.

Last month we ran the article about Thomas Wilson's encounter and promised that we would tell you another experience he had. Thomas is the new Associate Director from Anchorage, Alaska. He has had many psychic experiences but I think the following one is probably the most significant (to him) that he ever had.

THE ANGEL

By Thomas Wilson, A.D.

One night I was laying down in a trance state. I had an angel appear to me. At first I was in a dream state I guess. I was carrying bottles out of a six pack. All of a sudden they flew out of my hands - all except one. I reached down to pick them up and at the same time lifted my head up because I knew I was going to see somebody. I thought it was going to be my grandmother as she had died years before.

What appeared to me in the beginning was the most beautiful angel that I had ever seen. I had never seen one before that. I saw this most beautiful angel appear to me - she was just so beautiful dressed all in white with a Grecian veil on her head and in silk - I don't know what kind of material it was but it was just so beautiful. It wasn't the clothes that was beautiful - it was her. I felt an intense feeling at that moment. She was the most beautiful thing I have ever seen. The only thing I can tell you is that I could look through her eyes and they were personally lit. I could see in the background behind her. I could see millions of lights like another dimension. I knew if I could get behind her I would be where I wanted to be. I wanted to get there so bad behind her. She floated towards me. She didn't walk - she floated. She held up in her hands a card - a glass card with God's prayer on it and this scripture read, (I am sure you have heard this before) "God give me the strength and the knowledge to accept the things that I cannot change but give me the courage to change the things that I can and the wisdom to know the difference." That is the message that she had in her hands.

She folded it up and placed it in my mouth and it absorbed in my system like you were taking communion. I can feel the intensity of that right at this moment - that is how beautiful it was. Then she started to float away from me and I called to her "Please take me with you - do not leave me here - I do not want to be here." She said it is not your time. She floated back to me and placed her hands on me - on my hands and it was like someone touching me - not just someone - it was like from Heaven, from God - very very intense. She soothed me and said, "Everything is going to be okay." It was just to reassure me that everything is going to be okay. And she floated away.

When I came out of the trance I cried - so long I cried - hard. I knew that what had just happened to me was I had just seen something that is in touch with me and there are not a million words that can describe that. So I knew that it was time for a change.

I continued my life on as it was and I didn't particularly understand a lot of things that was happening to me but I knew that there was a reason for it.

I am going to back up a little again so you will understand why this happened to me. When I was in the Army my study - my MOS which was my job, was a Nuclear Biological Chemical Specialist. I learned about nuclear bombs - how to survive them. I have not actually seen live ones but I have worked with chemicals - how to protect yourself against chemical attacks - how to protect yourself against nuclear bomb attack. I don't know if this has any reference but the reason I mentioned it is that it goes back to that is something different. I am trying to explain this to you but I guess I keep jumping around. But I want to explain this to you because it is important for you to understand because I have dreams of troop movements and bombs and I know that is something that a million people have said will happen but I believe it is happening and it will happen. I know this. I feel sure. Like there is nothing in my mind I see will happen that hasn't happened. I don't want it to happen but I really believe that it is going to happen. I pray to God that it won't happen.

On February 24, 1990, Thomas Wilson, Associate Director, Anchorage, Alaska, and myself were on KING Overnight show hosted by Laura Lee. Laura had written a comment she wanted to make as her personal theory on what the alien question is all about but she never got the chance. I asked her if I could print it in the Missing Link and she said yes.

MY PERSONAL THEORY AS TO THE ALIENS

By Laura Lee

Seems that the profile of these aliens, gathered from these stories, is that of a race technologically advanced, but lacking in spiritual dimensions. You could say that our own society, which, by the look of things today, honors technology over spirituality, is heading in the same direction. Here we have a technologically superior race apparently abducting humans for laboratory testing, for genetic experiments, all without consent of the parties involved. These aliens seem to feel they have every right to run their tests on us, but then, we humans feel we have every right to run painful tests on rabbits and mice and cats and monkeys. We feel that testing our cosmetics and drugs is more important than the welfare of these animals. It seems to me that we are getting our own back, that maybe it's a two way street out there, the old principle of do unto others.

I'm not justifying abductions, I guess I'm suggesting that we take a look at our own practices and views of the sanctity of all life. Maybe it's time we realize that being top dog intellectually on Planet Earth does not necessarily afford us that status in the rest of the Universe.

What do you think? Let's have your responses!

MESSAGE from space, engraved on a silver plate, is believed to contain in these cryptic symbols the actual date and place where contact will be made.

Almost a year ago one of the newsstand rags ran an article about a message from outer space that was received. See the drawing below.

Lynn Brown receives a script from her Contacts. I asked her to see if she could get a translation to this message, according to what she already was receiving. The following is what she received.

THE TRANSLATION

By Lynn Brown

Here is a possible translation of the document you gave me. These are my personal interpretations, and may not be entirely accurate, but then again perhaps they might be - I'm not sure... you decide, OK?

FIRST HALF

Two races (peoples) coming together (purpose - the.)

Travel from stars/one race of people) to communicate a different way, to, (or about)

Our particular planet in this system with one sun, also to.

Bring upon a change with different ways (i.e., knowledge) of space travel.

A message from the stars (star people) will be relayed to all our major cities.

Involving (this will include also) or (this communication will be about...)

Propulsion methods of a certain type of star ship, that is different to our present day knowledge now.

(this involves) popping out of one system and entering into another (far quicker method of travel).

SECOND HALF:

(This) different way, is

(in the form of) a higher form of "vehicle",

(which is the result) of two sides (peoples [symbolic]) sides coming together, affecting a change (in)

(their/ours) system (bringing upon)

(a totally) different way, (which) will overcome problems that exist with travel now, to the stars, (and), will allow other (us), to travel to other systems.

Here is some other information regarding the silver plate:

- (1) The center circle in the middle of the larger circles I feel is the earth.
- (2) The star-like symbol to the right I think is our Sun.
- (3) The large circle in the center of the writings and all the other circles around the biggest ringed circle, represents (our) the moon, at different positions in relation to our planet, i.e. time of day or year? Not too sure yet. There are 12 of them - guess its to represent our 12 months.
- (4) From the position of the sun to the earth, I would say that the time would be approx. 3:30 p.m.
- (5) From the position of the greyed out area inside the wheel, I would say the month would be the end of February or beginning of March, on a 3/4 or more, moon, but not a full one.
- (6) I feel also that Monday would be a good candidate for which day.
- (7) From the position of the planet, I would say the place would be upon the continent of North America between Canada and the USA - somewhere perhaps in California, somewhere in there. Could be perhaps in Nevada.
- (8) The shaded large area, I take, to represent night time.
- (9) The two (figures) people on the right, represent the visitors (M + Fs).
- (10) The structure resembling pillars on left could represent the civilization they lost contacted and could also represent where they are from.

Well, how am I doing so far? Do I make any sense? These are just my personal ideas and opinions as to what all this means. I am not purporting them to be fact at all, perhaps only the inane rambling of someone who's seen too many sci-fiction movies - no?

Please have anyone write as to what you feel about the translation and if anyone else can read it. I'd be very interested in others interpretations too.

Representatives from 60 inhabited planets are planning to visit Earth and they've even provided a clue to their estimated time of arrival!

That's the word from Swiss astronomer Mark Bauer, who claims to have been visited by an alien messenger who gave him a silver plate etched with symbols that show where the extraterrestrial diplomats are coming from and how long it will take them to get here.

By RAGAN DUNN

"The symbols and images are highly stylized and wide open for interpretation," Dr. Bauer told reporters at his home in Geneva.

"The graph itself apparently denotes a time frame. And the depiction of our solar system definitely suggests that they are most interested in our portion of space."

Dr. Bauer has delivered copies of the cryptic plate to experts throughout Europe and the United States. But if anyone has managed to figure out what the symbols mean, they aren't talking — possibly to avoid creating a worldwide panic.

"I cannot divulge the circumstances under which the plate was given to me, but I can tell you that it was delivered by a highly evolved space being," said Dr. Bauer.

"The messenger made it clear that we would be meeting with representatives from 60 extraterrestrial civilizations, but he declined to say when or where the meeting would take place. I can only guess that he gave me the plate to see if we humans had the brains and technology to figure out the rendezvous time and point."

Phillip Rickner, the French UFO researcher, has personally vouched for the plate's authenticity. He said similar etchings have turned up in UFO hot spots around the world in the past 18 months.

And he is convinced that the extraterrestrials will arrive on Earth and openly talk with world leaders before the end of the century.

"Messages such as the one given to Dr. Bauer show just how anxious extraterrestrial civilizations are to meet with humans," said the expert.

"I don't think they'll show up tomorrow because they want us to be fully prepared. But I do think we'll greet them in our lifetimes. And when we do, a whole new epoch in human history will begin.

"They will bring mankind all the knowledge of the universe."

And that, of course, would be the realization of a dream mankind has had for years.

In addition to earthbound listening posts that constantly scan the skies for messages from outer space, several space probes are actually carrying messages to the stars themselves.

America's Voyager spacecraft carry gold-plated phonograph records that tell about life on Earth. The records' jackets are similar to the silver plate Dr. Bauer claims to have received from the alien he met.

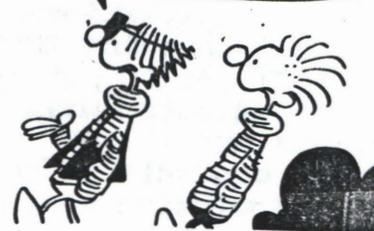

Voyager's symbols are also stylized and include a map of our solar system and the position of Earth.

Dear Fellow Researcher,

I am writing to introduce a new organization and offer you a FREE service.

The UFO Research Network is a newly formed organization, dedicated to the investigation of the UFO (and related phenomena) and the dissemination of information. The UFO Research Network holds monthly meetings in St. Louis and has representatives in the US and Europe. Since October 1989, we have been a sub-board on the D A R K S I D E BBS based in St. Louis, Mo.

What is the FREE service I can offer you? Inclusion on the DARKSIDE BBS, UFO RESEARCH NETWORK sub-board. HOW? By sending me a copy of your newsletter, if you publish one, by sending newspaper articles, sighting info/case info. anything INFORMATIONAL that I can put onto the computer to go onto the BBS. It then goes out all over North America. The contributor is ALWAYS GIVEN FULL CREDIT for the item which has been sent, and their address, phone, etc. is included at the beginning of each article so they can be contacted personally by the readership.

So far our service has been VERY successful for the people who have been submitting items; they have gotten new subscribers and investigators have gotten responses to their request for case material.

To be included on the DARKSIDE/UFORN BBS we need from you:

- 1.) A subscription to your newsletter
- 2.) If you DON'T publish a newsletter, then send
  - a.) newspaper articles
  - b.) sighting info. (this can include "fringinalia" like Bigfoot, animal mutilations etc.)
  - c.) anything INFORMATIONAL, that I can put on the board as a contribution.
- 3.) If you DO publish a newsletter, any submission, in addition to your newsletter will be appreciated.

What you get:

- 1.) Inclusion on the "Organization/Publication" list which is on file on the sub-board. It not only contains name/address etc. but publications offered by each group, subscription information, and contact person. You may include any information you wish to be posted.
- 2.) FREE PR to a whole NEW market. (There are over 10,000 BBS in the US, Canada and Mexico! And it looks like we will be going international with UFONET and EURONET in ther very near future!)
- 3.) New subscribers. Each time I use something you send, you get FULL credit. (If you are sending a newsletter, people will want to read more than the articles I put on and will want to subscribe, which has been the case.)
- 4.) If you are investigating specific types of UFOs/paranormal phenomena and are looking for witnesses/participants, send a write up and I'll post it on the board.
- 5.) I will also include any meeting information or conference information you care to send to help you get more attendees.
- 6.) Writing a book? Published papers? Include your PR release and I'll see it gets posted!

The only requirement is that you send your newsletter if you publish one or contribute newspaper articles / sighting info etc., if you don't.

Hope to hear from you!

Barbara Becker

ARTICLE

By J. T. Alan

At the age of seventeen I became the Producer/Director of one of the most criticized UFO organizations of all time - IUIAP (International UFOlogists Investigation of Aerial Phenomenon) - the only UFO organization known in existence to be directed by a teenager. And now, one year later, the flame is still burning.

I have often been described as an instinctive newsletter craftsman and, like other personal UFO directors, am involved in my newsletters from their conception through their release. I have also been described as a "popcorn" director, which doesn't embarrass me at all. I think that popular newsletters that are well made are an indication that you're not working in a vacuum. I never want to stop entertaining.

So far, IUIAP has consistently been talked about mainly because we are the only UFO group made up of teenagers. And from that viewpoint is the reason why we haven't broken into the headlines - nobody wants to hear a bunch of BS from teenagers. I think that's wrong. The staff of IUIAP is made up of the most persistent and persuasive group of people that anyone will ever get a chance to meet. And before long, we will be in our twenties and the controversy will be over. I think that since my staff and I have worked so hard to perfect our organization that we deserve the right for an interview with a popular UFO magazine. We have a goal and we have tried so hard to spread the message to other youths. That message has been that you can do anything if you put your mind to it. "Where there is a will, there is a way."

We have managed to get some of the most popular people in the field of UFOlogy to write for our magazine. Those individuals are Aileen Bringle (UFOCCI Director), Philip J. Imbrogno, Brent Raynes and Nick H. Edwards. Now if that doesn't attract any attention, then nothing can!

Our goal isn't fame of fortune, but rather to say to everyone, "Look what we've been doing!". It's about time that somebody truly recognizes it. We are the only teenage developed UFO organization and I think that deserves to go down in the books.

I will be leaving for the Army the 27th of March and the IUIAP directing job will be handed down to my Assistant Director, Jimmy Gilliam. I have assured my staff that IUIAP will remain strong and evocative and that it will still remain a "popcorn" organization.

If there is anyone seeking information on how to subscribe to the IUIAP newsletter or who would like to receive information concerning how to write articles for IUIAP, please write to the following address: Jason Hooten, IUIAP Assistant Director, 525 Ft. Madison, IA 52627. Please enclose SASE.

Notes And Comments To Support The Cover-Up Of Extraterrestrial Beings In Collaboration With Some Secret Faction Acting As Head Of The United States.

Nellvergne Zajac

To begin with: as a result of the many books, papers and tapes we have received thru this organization (of which I have read and seen most), I decided to base this talk on various sources of information gathered from the aforementioned material.

The picture that continually pops up is one of a careless, or continuously messy cover-up, by the many government agencies of the U.S. To name the obvious: FBI, National Security Agency, Justice Dept, and the granddaddy of them all, CIA. We have (allegedly) before us the subversiveness of drug selling to predominately U.S. citizens in order to finance the secret building of space ships and possibly to maintain the "Greys". The selling may have started in the U.S, but since has spread to all countries, and as you probably know, the sources are mainly Asia and South America.

References to our situation was made by extraterrestrials who are at least telling earth people. What is happening was stated by the Pleiadians when they pointed out in the book, "Message from the Pleiades," (pg. 40) "that there is no truly altruistic government in this world today, each are good or bad as the others and all are oppressive of the human spirit and managed by power brokers for the benefit of institutionalized and entrenched burdensome systems of control." On the other hand we have the attitude of the aliens, according to George Andrews from his book, "Extra-Terrestrials Among Us", "Fear and panic are very important to the alien. If you become panic-stricken, you will be of no use to their Earth project. A person must be able to stay calm under all situations. The aliens must work with people who do not panic. They are not here to get us out of fights, to end our wars, to change our governments, or to physically save us. All they do is to pass on information about what their instruments are recording to those willing to listen and able to understand. We must save ourselves. We must protect ourselves. We are not really their concern. They have problems enough, and if somehow their information can help us, they are glad to be of service. But when the time of disaster arrives, they will pull out of our solar system. They refuse to become entangled with our warlike planet."

Then we have from the Andromedans, in "Contact from Andromeda", (pg. 41), "Man's mission for the moment will be to continue the species until the same will be aided by other greater civilizations with the objective of finding the antidote-to salvage and restore the magnificence lost to DNA. Because, even though we may not believe it - man belongs to a race in danger of extinction." The greatest responsibility of the men of our greater civilizations is that some community must be imposed." Do they mean that we are part of the greater galactic community and must be helped somehow or that we are only a laboratory for the rest of the space travelers? Are they referring to AIDS at this point, being introduced in order to eliminate the undesired? We learn from the news, that the disease has spread to countries previously thought to be immune from the outside influences. From an article in Natural History, Feb, 90 issue, "A Pox upon Our Genes", by Jared Diamond in which he states, "AIDS may be in the process of causing big shifts in human gene frequencies, although we can't yet specify which genes are involved. Natural selection is not a theoretical postulate, but a grimly continuing reality."

Indications of what is happening is being done in the form of studies by K.C. Deposs & Associates of Seattle, They have researched the Drug War, the Trilateral Commission and the Iron Mountain Group. So the big cry for democracy in other countries, our American government continues to call for does seem ludicrous. To quote George Andrews again, "There is ample documentation suggesting that among the highest priority covert operations of the CIA are those designed to maintain a steady supply of heroin and cocaine to the Mafia. For specific details, see "The Politics of Heroin in Southeast Asia" by Alfred W. McCoy, published by Harper & Row in NY, 1972; "The Great Heroin Coup" by Henrik Kruger, published by South End Press, in Boston, 1980; and "Mama Coca" by Antonil, published by Hassle Free Press in London, 1978. Uncle Sam's publicised "war on drugs" is in fact a war on the independent drug dealers, who constitute a threat to the Mafia monopoly. The CIA and the Mafia have worked hand-in-hand from the very beginning of the Agency."

Now have the "Greys" made a treaty with our secret governing body, the CIA, etc and have these humans gone beserk, taking the opportunity to confuse the rest of us, or is it our destiny? Is the Trilateral Commission a side effort or separate entity? From the list of names it would seem these are the humanitarians of the earth. And they seem to be planning a one world government. Just what is going on?

"To describe the aliens most involved there has been considerable debate as to whether UFOs are extra-terrestrial or ultra-terrestrial or interdimensional. However, one possibility does not necessarily rule out the others, and they may all be true. Some UFOs may be time-travelers from the future, who avoid interacting with us because they do not want to change the course of events that leads back to their home base of reality. Or, on the other hand, they might have acquired the art of subtly modulating the course of events in order to strengthen favorable aspects of the home base environment and cancel out negative ones, and be fine-tuning the creating and maintenance of a paradise as home base. A paradise which could have existed on this planet long ago, and which might return." (George Andrews)

I am also concerned with the other aspects of this whole picture. A video was done by Japanese film makers, who have pieced together a complete story of the secret underground bases in Nevada. As these activities go on, I am reminded of the assassination of John Kennedy. As described by Jim Garrison, a district attorney in New Orleans at the time, in his book, "On the Trail of the Assassins", the assassination was committed by, "the hard-line, war oriented elements of the American power structure, for whom the CIA operations directorate had been created and for whom it functioned. Kennedy's refusal to support the Bay of Pigs invasion, decisions in 1963 to withdraw from Vietnam, restoration of diplomatic relations with Cuba, and plans to sign a nuclear test ban treaty with Moscow, was nothing less than "selling out to the communists"."

Later a Senator Frank Church committee found in addition to plotting the murder and execution of Patrice Lumumba of the Congo (now Zaire), 1978, the several attempts made on Fidel Castro's life and the active encouragement of assassinations of Raefel Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, 1961, Pres. Deim of S. Vietnam, 1963 and Gen. Rene' Schneider of Chile in 1970, all was done by the very Agency set up to protect our interests in the name of Democracy! They are now in the business of drugs in order to get the money in which to pursue the continuation of technical knowledge from the "Greys". Again the question arises, do they work together in this endeavor? In his book, (pg 200), George Andrews, quotes an anonymous letter to the Editor of a Denver paper, "Up the Creek", April 4, 1983. "I was in the Army intelligence, stationed in New Mexico. The cattle mutilations are done by a secret government operation called Delta. It doesn't use tax money, mainly support from Exxon and Atlantic Richfield. Money is laundered thru General Meyer's office in the Pentagon. They take animal parts to test effects of germ warfare and poison (weak mix of cyanide and dioxin), they're testing on the civilians in the U.S. The black copters are used to ferry heroin and coke. The federal narcs can't crack the bigtime drug movers because it's the Army doing it! Delta's big bases underground are on Indian reservations 28 miles east of Albuquerque on I-40, 14 miles north on a dirt road into the Laguna Indian Reservation."

As you can tell, all of this is but another piece of the "big" pie. To continue quoting George Andrews, "The hypothesis of collusion between a demonic type of UFO occupant and demonic elements operating under camouflage within our government is strengthened when one considers the circumstances under which the martyrdom of Wilhelm Reich took place. During the period just before US authorities sent one of the greatest geniuses of modern times to his death in the penitentiary, then confiscated and burned all of his work they could get their hands on, in true Nazi tradition, Reich received considerable unwelcome attention from a type of UFO manifestation that was definitely hostile to the research into subtle aspects of life energy he was engaged in."

So in conclusion, you now know what's happening in the U.S. and possibly spreading around the world; what we are facing now and in the future. The big question is, will unforeseen events occur to stop all this or are we destined for the "Big Brother" enslavement! We don't know.

SUGILITE

By Gerald Bringle, Director

At the mine where I work, I work rotating shifts. I have a real problem with my sleep. For one thing, I am a very light sleeper. I suffer from insomnia a lot of times. I have tried sleeping pills but found they really do a number on me. They alter my personality. As an example after using some sleeping pills I may go into depression for long periods of time. Some times I have anxiety attacks as a result of using some sleeping pills or I become highly irritable.

There is only one sleeping pill I have found with the minimal side effects and that is "Sleep-Ez". However, lately I feel as though I have built an immunity to it. I don't wish to increase the dosage. Right now I am only taking one. I know if I start taking two it won't be long before I have to take three and so forth!

Because of the work I have done with stones and crystals, I was sure there must be something out there to help me with my sleeping problem. Although I have tried several stones and crystals, some helped some didn't. I never really found anything I was satisfied with until I used Sugilite.

When I was at the Quartsite Rock and Gem Show on 2-9-90 I bought a small piece of Sugilite from Henry Kreiner. When I saw that stone it was like as though I had to have it. When I picked it up and held it I knew this was a totally amazing stone. It really felt good just holding it in my hand like I didn't want to let go of it. However, I could feel the energies building up and I knew I needed to set the stone down so I put it in my pack until I could get time to experiment with it. At that time I didn't know what to use the stone for; I just knew I was very attracted to it.

Bagdad to Quartsite is a three hundred mile round trip plus I walked around all day at the rock show. I got back to Bagdad about 8:00 p.m.. I had people come over to visit after I got home so I didn't get to bed until about midnight. I was very anxious to try this new stone. I showered and went to bed without any clothes on. I lay flat on my tummy. I placed the stone over the coccyx (tail bone) point down.

This stone was in the approximate shape of an arrow head, wide at the top narrowing down to a point and approximately 1/4" thick.

The Sugilite felt good on that location so I left it there and went to sleep. During the night the rock would fall off as I turned or whenever the system had enough it would cast it off.

I slept the whole night through until 8:00 a.m. without waking up once. Usually I wake up three or four times during the night. I was really amazed I had slept that long. I was a little stiff and sore from all the walking I had done the day before but I was well rested.

I took the stone and washed it under cold tap water and set it out in the sun to "charge". I had a very busy day taking care of household chores; fixing my lunches, running errands and there were several people who came over to visit so I had a very active day. I had plenty of energy without stimulants (coffee). I went to bed about 9:00 pm. because I had to get up at 5:00 a.m.

I decided to try something different. After I showered I went to bed and laid on my right side. The Sciatic nerve, which is the main nerve of the body, runs down the outside of the legs. The main acupressure point is on the upper leg about half way down between the hip and knee. When a person is standing up straight with hands at the side, it would be about where the fingertips are. I laid the piece of Sugilite on my left leg, next to the skin, over the acupressure point with the point of the stone down, toward the feet, and went to sleep.

I slept until about 1:00 a.m. got up to go to the bathroom, laid back down in bed on my right side, placed the stone over the same place on my leg and went back to sleep. I didn't wake up again until 5:00 a.m. In fact, I woke up one minute before the alarm went off. Usually after I have had a couple of days off I find it hard to get out of bed to go to work. I have an automatic timer on the coffee pot. Usually on days like this I hate to get out of bed. I lay in bed listening to the coffee perk and smelling the aroma. Then at the last minute I get up. Not so this day! I got up, dressed, washed, cooked a nice breakfast, got my lunch and was off to work early. I felt good going to work which was unusual after going back to work from the "week-end" I worked a 12 hour shift. I had plenty of energy. I didn't even have the usual afternoon coffee. I felt fine.

I was totally amazed and so happy to find something that will help overcome sleep difficulties.

Dear Gerald Bringle:

In your very interesting paper on the mutes in the MISSING LINK, Number 85, you write that the question is asked to you: "Why are so many cattle being mutilated?"

In France, as author of a book on the American cattle mutes, entitled, "LE GRAND CARNAGE," the following question is often asked to me: "Why today so little the number of the cattle mutes?" and I'm embarrassed to answer. Because to my knowledge through the MISSING LINK, THE GATE, UFO NEWSCLIPPING SERVICE, FATE, INFO. PURSUIT, the mutes are very scarce today.

If your thesis exposed in your paper is truth, then why so few mutological events in the newspapers, whereas in the seventies, thousands of mutes were reported in the media?

In despite of my inquiries on site in my breeding region, any "classical" mute in France. In a startling manner the lacking organs on the American cattle are just these that the French mutilators abandon on the soil after they have removed "whole" steaks fillet of beef and other good meat.

The spoken congratulations for your action in favor of the truth concerning the mutes. We must to continue to perpetuate the mutological mystery, if it is. Best Regards... M. Granger, Ph.D, Chalon/Saone, France.....

=1 - BELL ROCK Vortex is located 4.9 miles south of the traffic light at the junction of Hwy 179 and 89A. It is one of two vortex areas considered to contain electric/masculine energy. Located one block from Hwy 179, it is very easy to find and can be seen for miles. Energy boosts and emotional uplifting of the spirit are common experiences. Many are drawn to climb to the heights both physically and spiritually.

=2 - CATHEDRAL ROCK Vortex is considered the magnetic/feminine vortex and can be approached from three directions:

- (a) 2.2 miles south of the Hwy 179 and 89A junction on Hwy 179, turn right on "Back-o-Beyond"--a dirt road--and continue until you see a dirt pulloff at the base of Cathedral Rock on your left. Park your vehicle in this area and pass through the open gate area crossing a dry creek bed. Take the path on the opposite side of the creek bed and follow it to a second dry creek bed--turning right into it and continuing to climb all the way up--the creek bed turns into solid rock and looks like a staircase in areas. This is the easiest way to climb Cathedral Rock (for hiking enthusiasts) and offers a fantastic experience in the process--"From the heights you experience your roots";
- (b) 4.9 miles south of Hwy 179 and 89A junction on 179 turn right on Verde Valley School Rd--stay on this road approximately 5 miles to a fenced dirt pulloff parking area on left side of road. Walk north on road approximately .3 mile until you see Oak Creek and pass through gate area on right and proceed at the base of ridge toward Cathedral Rock. Passing behind the trees you will see a trail--follow until you come to a large open meadow. Pass through the fenced, open gate area on your right into a dry creek bed at the base of Cathedral Rock--you are there!
- (c) Traveling west on Hwy 89A, approximately half a mile out of West Sedona, turn left on Red Rock Loop Rd (you will see a sign on your right that says "Trash Compactor"--turn left here--Red Rock Loop Rd sign is often not visible. Proceed 1.8 miles south on Red Rock Loop Rd to Chavez Ranch Rd and turn left onto dirt road proceeding .4 mile until road veers right and follow .5 mile to Red Rock Crossing Park (road ends at Oak Creek). There is a trail east of the parking area which parallels the creek and approaches Cathedral Rock. There are many areas next to the creek to swim, sun, meditate, or just relax. It is necessary to walk across the creek to get to Cathedral Rock from the park side. For the photo enthusiast, exceptional shots are taken from the park area around sunset--Cathedral Rock is the most photographed area in Sedona.

Since this is the feminine vortex, it's perfect for those needing to totally relax and unwind (especially good for those coming from high stress jobs and living styles).

=3 - AIRPORT MESA Vortex is located .5 mile south of Hwy 89A on Airport Road. You may park your vehicle on the right side of the road (dirt pulloff) just before the cattle guard. A trail is located on the east side of the road and takes you on a short walk over a hill. From this point, Bell Rock is visible. The vortex energy covers the three hills located on the east side of Airport Rd. You can also park beyond the cattle guard on the left side of the road and climb the hill with a tree on top. From this vantage point, you can see all sides of Sedona. Airport Mesa Vortex is an electric/masculine vortex and is as inspiring and uplifting as the Bell Rock Vortex.

=4 - BOYNTON CANYON Vortex is considered an electromagnetic (masculine/feminine combination) vortex. It can be reached by traveling west on Hwy 89A (approximately 1.1 mile west of Coffee Pot Dr) to Dry Creek Rd. Turn right and continue 2.8 miles to a "T" intersection turning left and continuing approximately 1.6 miles to another "T" intersection. Turn right and continue .3 mile to a dirt pulloff on your right. Boynton Canyon Trail #47 begins from this parking area (going north) as well as a fire road (going west). Ancient Indian ruins and awe-inspiring sights can be found off of Trail #47. The fire road leads to a dry creek bed which can be followed into the Canyon area or can be continued for many miles taking you into Long Canyon (the canyon behind Boynton). This vortex contains balanced energy and covers the widest area of the four vortexes.

Surrey's Shirle beams UFO panels to Russia

Grab a moment and fix it — if I can do that, breathe on canvas that moment, I have achieved something. Shirle Klein, artist
Moscow is about to be visited by another UFO, following last summer's Pravda report that aliens had landed.

Surrey artist and UFO devotee Shirle Klein has been invited to exhibit three huge murals as part of an exchange with Russia. And Klein's space age versions of future street scenes are beginning to take shape in the sunlit garret of her Contemporary Newton home.

International attention is nothing new for the native of Montreal, who has exhibited across North America, in France, Australia and Bulgaria.

The daughter of Polish immigrants, Klein says her parents worked hard for her not to be an artist. But a teacher offered to let Klein live with her for a year while studying art. She attended Sir George Williams University, now Concordia, and then became a protégé of Dr. Arthur Lismer, one of Canada's famous Group of Seven.

"He was a good teacher, he allowed you to be you," Klein says of Lismer, who urged her to take risks. "There would be many pieces of work hanging and he'd say, "I always know yours."

Klein also studied at the School of Fine Arts, Saïdy Bronfman Centre in Montreal.

Cheery and outgoing, Klein says she's content to walk out of her house, turn the key and seek new adventures — worldly goods hold little value for her.

And that's probably good for the Bulgarian government which has yet to send her the rubles promised for work which was exhibited in 1989. She was one of the 100 artists from throughout the world invited by the Bulgarian government to guest in an international show mounted every two years.

"The world is accepting me," Klein says. "And they're a wonderful group at the Surrey Arts Centre too. New York writes me, and it was through a visit to my son in Toronto that the Moscow invitation was extended."

At first rebuffed by a Toronto gallery for work that was considered too subjective, Korean owners of another Toronto gallery were excited about her portfolio. Just a couple of days after visiting and showing them snapshots of her work, they called her with the Moscow invitation and an order to supply three, four foot by eight foot panels to be shipped unframed to Russia in time for a June, 1990 show.

Klein's murals of colorful space age imaginings and figures unlike the human form, will hang alongside 60 other pieces by 20 artists of international repute.

At first nervous about the commission, Klein relied on her contact with extraterrestrial life to guide her actions. She quickly found sketches she had produced some time ago — which proved to be exactly what she needed to begin the murals.

"It was all in my sketches — when I need answers, I get them right away," Klein says, enthusiastically. "I am being contacted all the time... you cannot live in this world without spirituality."

The second of the murals is taking shape and Klein says it's a challenge for her to sketch and paint while the huge piece is lying flat. Next to the mural is a high counter for her supplies, with her grandchildren's art papering the exterior.

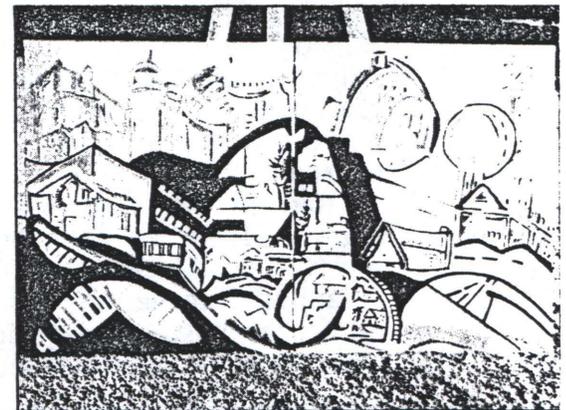

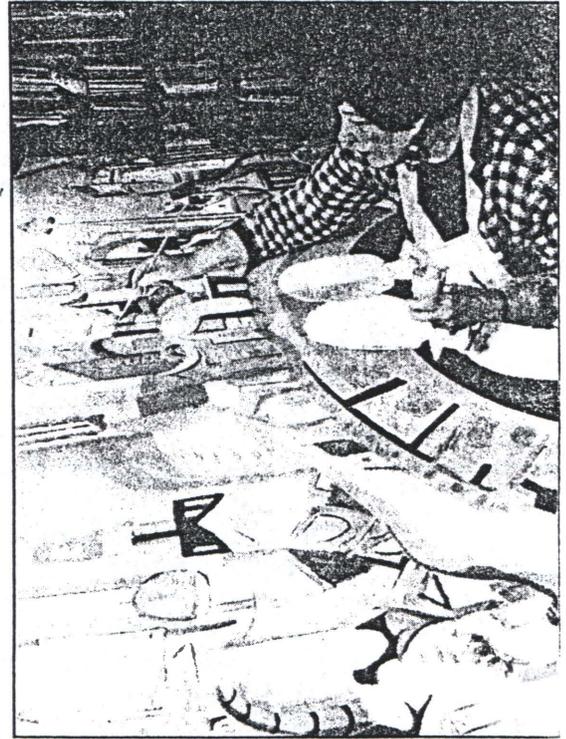

The counter was made for her by a South Surrey tradesman. He came to do some repairs to her former home, saw how Klein worked, and declared he could provide her with a better arrangement.

So now she stands in stocking feet on a small stool, with a small portable television facing her work area. She makes her own paints and likes to spend her days at her artistic labors, with background sound from the television.

Klein is confident the murals will be ready well in advance of the June date for the Moscow exhibit.

Meanwhile she's enjoying the special forces which are guiding her towards their completion.

"My life is good. It can't be dull. If it's dull, I'll create something," Klein says.

Shirle Klein is working steadily on huge murals to be sent to Moscow in June, for an international showing. Her works depicting futuristic cities and unusual life forms were encouraged by Arthur Lismer.

CAN AN EARTH PERSON BE IN LOVE WITH AN ET?

By Elena Ruiz de Castilla

I know our cosmic friends are perplexed at the fear they seem to generate in the course of their work here on our planet, but perhaps it is more perplexing and confusing to them when one of us develops what might be considered as inappropriate feelings towards the contactor. Such has been my case, and I have been struggling with it for several months now. No, I cannot say that I have been the victim of cosmic seduction, although if they have been monitoring me as I believe they have, I may have provided them with a certain degree of temptation.

The problem began when I started to channel Yusov, and for the first time in my life I felt that I had found someone who understood and cared about me. Due to his efforts my life has changed completely and am still changing. I am no longer the person I was even a month ago. I possess a strength and determination which is new to me. He has taught me to solve my problems through prayer and meditation rather than by drinking; and believe me, the problems I have would drive Jesus himself to drink!

So, I have been faced with the confusion that one might naturally feel concerning channeling plus the problem of the feelings I have had for Yusov. I suppose that my problem is that I do not wish to offend my ET friends in any way since they are of a much higher nature, and are here for the purpose of elevating the consciousness of those who are willing to understand their message.

Yusov has told me that he is a physical being; that he is Plieadean, and that his communications with me are done through telepathic projection. He often describes the work he is doing and the areas where he prefers to work. I have met him a number of times in dreams and astral-projection; however, I am waiting for him to come to me on the physical level.

In one communication he described his one earth incarnation which occurred in Atlantis. He told me that I knew that he was Plieadian, and that I loved him for this reason, that we shared a beautiful relationship, and that he died tragically in a political battle, and that I committed suicide by throwing myself from some cliffs into the sea.

I told no one of this information because quite frankly, I thought I might be going crazy. However, something very strange happened about three weeks later. I received a cassette tape from a friend in which she told me that I had had an Atlantian incarnation with Yusov, and for this reason there now exists a strong attraction between him and myself. She went on to describe the details exactly as Yusov had described them to me, with one exception; according to what she was seeing, Yusov died as a result of a fight with a rival for my love - a man whom I was later forced to marry and whom I never loved.

Further confirmation of the Atlantian incarnation came through my work with a Dick Sutphen video on past life regression, in which I relived those experiences, including my first intimacy with Yusov on an isolated beach which now lies miles beneath the surface of the Atlantic Ocean.

It is not unusual to me that Yusov has had an Earth incarnation. Many ETs who find themselves between lives on the astral plane choose to come here in times of difficulty to assist us. There are also star people who are the result of genetic endeavors, that is just one of several ways they are able to mingle with the Earth population.

As for my feelings for Yusov, it is up to him. I realize the problems of a relationship with an ET. The first problem would be my husband. Maybe they could drop him off in Siberia somewhere. It would be something that nobody would understand or approve of. For the moment I know that I must concentrate on the spiritual lessons that Yusov is teaching me, and if anything further develops it would be the most beautiful experience I could imagine. He is so full of love, patience, understanding and wisdom. He is the one who could erase all the hurts and disappointments I have experienced from Earth men, but we are from two different worlds and I am afraid it isn't meant to be.

THE MYTHIC LANDSCAPE

THE HOLE IN THE LAKE

This series looks at the magical places hallowed in our region's Native American mythology.

BY DAVID M. BUERGE

THE BELIEF THAT CERTAIN LAKES in the Puget Sound region were connected to the Sound by subterranean passages provided the basis of several myths. For example, Bow Lake near today's Sea-Tac strip was believed to be connected to the Sound by a passageway that opened between Three Tree Point and Maury Island. In that tale, a man made his wife's lover swim across the lake. In the middle he was sucked down, and later his headless corpse was discovered floating off Three Tree Point. Today, this lake of judgment is surrounded by mobile homes and office buildings.

Langlois Lake, near the town of Carnation, was the setting for a similar myth told by Jerry Kanim, the chief of the Snoqualmie, and nephew of the great Snoqualmie leader of pioneer days, Patkanim. He recited the tale in the native language, and the following, taken from ethnographer Warren Snyder's translation, captures something of the flavor of native oral folk literature.

(The native name for the lake, bit, means "salmon soup.")

The Snoqualmie people have two girl children. The oldest one possessed herself a husband, a young man from Snoqualmie. Then the youngest one married a young man from Snohomish.

He [the Snohomish man] was always here at Snoqualmie living with his in-laws. He was always together with the Snoqualmie man. One day he [the Snoqualmie man] said, "All right now, we'll go out to compete with each other for some game." The Snohomish said, "All right." They asked their wives if they would like to go along. The women said, "We'll go along."

Then they got themselves ready. They went up the river named the Tolt River. They killed some game, some elk, and broiled it. They had enough meat.

Then they started home. They came to the lake named Salmon Soup. Here they rested. The Snoqualmie man said, "Behold this lake. It could be dangerous." The Snohomish asked, "Why is it dangerous?" Said the Snoqualmie man, "This lake has a hole in it." The Snohomish said, "I don't believe it. It is too small a lake for it to have a big hole."

Their wives tried to stop their arguing. The Snohomish said, "I'm always diving in the salt water. I can't find a hole in it." Said the Snoqualmie, "I dove. I was there in that hole. And that's the reason I am telling you this."

The Snoqualmie said, "If you do not believe it, we'll dive. You'll find out." The Snohomish said, "All right, we dive. I want to know whether there truly is a hole."

Then they started to strip off their clothes. Their wives tried [to stop them], but they would not stop. Then they went down to the lake. The Snoqualmie said, "I will be the first to dive."

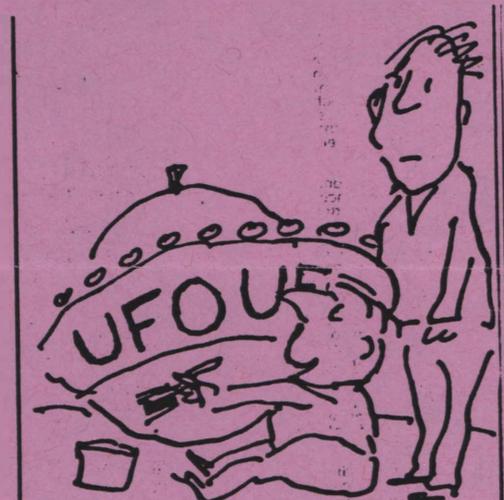

They went into the water. The Snoqualmie said, "I learned the Otter power. The Otter dives from one lake and comes out in another lake." The Snohomish said, "I learned the Loon power. It dives everywhere in the salt water." Thus they dove, singing their power songs.

The Snoqualmie dove while the Snohomish waited. Then he also went, he also dove. The Snoqualmie went into the hole, but he did not go very far. He turned around and waited. Then he saw him [the Snohomish man] coming. His wings were spread out. The Snoqualmie was saying, "I'll grab him." The Snohomish came to where the Snoqualmie was waiting. The Snoqualmie grabbed him just at the end of his hair. He had him, but then the Snohomish went on.

The Snoqualmie waited for him to come back. Then he gave up. He came up out of the hole and came out of the water. He told the women, "He was going. I grabbed for him, but I didn't get him." They waited for him to come out. He did not come out. They gave up then.

As in the story about Bow Lake, the parents of the Snohomish man later discovered their son's body floating in the Sound—minus the head. ■

BEETLE BAILEY

What are you doing?
I've made this balloon into the shape of a flying saucer, and I've attached battery-powered lights to it.

Now what?
I'm going to fill it with helium, and tonight I'm going to fly it over the city and fool a lot of people.

But why spoil the illusion of an alien spacecraft by putting UFO all over it?
That's for all the doubters who don't believe anything unless they see it in print.
