S. P. A. C. E. (Saucer Phenomena and Celestial Enigma)

The Air Force says that it has no PHYSICAL EVIDENCE (physical meaning 'something you can touch') that such things even exist. In the words of Capt. Edward J. Ruppelt, retired, who served three years at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, as Chief Investigator for Project Bluebook WHAT CONSTITUTES PROOF?? — Does a UFO have to land at the River Entrance to the Pentagon, near the Joint Chiefs of Staff offices? Or is it proof enough when a ground Radar Station detects a UFO, sends a Jet up to intercept it, the pilot sees it, and locks on with his Radar, only to have the UFO streak away at a phenomenal rate of speed? Which is PROOF?

Linzer Professor fotografierte eine „fliegende Untertasse“ UFO: Dichtung und Wahrheit – Hollands Königin glaubt daran

UFO SIGHTED & PHOTOGRAPHED AT LINZ, AUSTRIA

The above photograph and newspaper headlines appeared in the Jan. 28, 1961 issue of the NACHRICHTEN für den SONNTAG, of Linz, Austria. Our correspondent in Vienna, Dora Bauer, has given us a literal translation of the German:

"An amateur photographer who had bought a robot star camera, equipped with a 75 mm teleobjective lens, only two days prior to the sighting, was able to make this rare photograph of a UFO. The photo was made at 8:45 p.m. on Aug. 3, 1960. The photographer was not interested in UFOs, but was a skeptic until he succeeded in taking the picture.

On the 3rd of August, at about 8:40 p.m. he saw on the western sky a light which moved slowly from East to West with a wobbling motion. He called his wife to bring his camera. During the few seconds it took her to fetch the camera, he continued to observe the object, which came closer and grew larger. It came to a halt almost directly in front of him. After fixing the shutter speed and the distance he put the camera on a nearby post and focused the camera.

He then noticed that it was rotating. During the exposure the object appeared to be a shining white, but as soon as it moved away to the West, the white color turned to violet. The object continued to move away until it disappeared over the horizon. There was neither a noise nor a smell of any kind.

A few days previously, on the 29th of July, 1960, a woman observed on the Froschberg (near Linz) a similar object the size of the full moon -- but it was not the moon. It came from the direction of the steel works and moved silently toward the Central Railroad Station. The sighting lasted 3-4 seconds.

On Sept. 19, 1960, at Wegscheid, near Linz, four people observed a most peculiar object in the sky, which looked like a full moon behind clouds, but with a fuzzy fringe, which sort of wavered. Around that disc there was a cloudlike mist, rather thick, milling around the object, which extended downwards like a pointed sack, and which moved to and fro. The observers felt rather frightened during and after the sighting. (Credit -- Dora Bauer, Wien, AUSTRIA. (Vienna).

POLICE TO REPORT TO AIR FORCE ON FLYING OBJECT

KANSAS CITY, Kansas -- Jan. 8, 1961. Law enforcement officers heretoday were preparing a full report for the Air Force on an unidentified flying object seen sailing in the sky over this area.

Several Kansas City Kansas policemen reported seeing a strange, multi-colored object yesterday. Also, two residents called the Wyandotte County sheriff's office and reported seeing a bright red object flying through the air.

Reports said the object moved slowly from the west to the north, then disappeared in a burst of speed. Police of Kansas City, Mo. also reported some of their officers saw the object.

Sightings were reported to Richards-Gebaur Air Force base yesterday and officials there said the object was kept under surveillance for two hours, from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

There were similar reports here Saturday night and Wednesday.

The Rev. W. R. Holt, reported he saw a bright object traveling from the southwest to the northeast about 1:00 a.m. The object appeared to be a red flame with orange and green colors also.

An employee of the Weather bureau said reports that the object may have been a meteor could not be confirmed because weather observers did not see it.

The bright object was sighted in the skies over at least four states by local and state law enforcement agencies and the Federal Aviation Agency.

Sightings were reported in Nebraska and Oklahoma as well as Kansas and Missouri. The Federal Aviation Agency said it was compiling reports on the object.

The object was described by some as "looking like a meteor," by others as "like a star until you kept looking at it a while." (Kansas City KANSAN, Jan. 8, 1961 -- Credit Robert E. Henslee, Kansas City, Kansas).

But as Mr. Henslee remarks, "How do you manage to keep a meteor under surveillance for 2 hours as the officials at the Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base admitted?"

Early March saw an increase in UFO reports locally, and in various parts of the country. However, in spite of the number of Miami area reports, none appeared in print in the daily papers. One report did make the Hollywood paper.

STRANGE OBJECTS SPOTTED IN SKY

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., March 2, 1961--"Could these be flying saucers?"

That's what Richard Bombard, 16, wants to know. Richard and a group of his buddies spotted the "flying saucers" over Hollywood this week.

"I never believed in them until Monday," Richard told the Sun-Tattler. "Looking up to the west I saw what looked to be a star-shaped figure change from a white to a bright red. I thought my eyes were playing tricks on me."

But on Tuesday evening, he saw it again. This time along with his friends.

"We were all looking toward the west-northwest when a white light in the sky began travelling south-southwest and then stopped," he said. "It then changed from a white to a green and started heading back toward the same direction from which it first came. It stopped again and changed to a dim red and headed south again. It continued along the same path, stopped, changed to a real bright-red. Then it slowly vanished."

One of the group, Bobby Nichols, son of Hollywood Police Traffic Lieutenant and Mrs. Walter Nichols, commented: "It looked like a flying stop light to me." (Hollywood SUN-TATTLER, March 2, 1961--Credit Fletcher King, West Hollywood). King adds---"This may be the same mystery light in the sky that I have been seeing."

FLYING SAUCER REPORTED IN AREA

SANTA CRUZ, Calif.---Several reports on an unidentified flying object over the Empire Grade area last night were received by the Sentinel and county law enforcement groups this morning.

Sky Park airport on Mount Hermon road reported no aircraft in the sky at the time of the reports -- approximately 9 o'clock last night -- but said the planet Venus is at its brightest stage currently and has been the cause of several flying saucer reports in the past few weeks. (Santa Cruz SENTINEL, March 2, 1961 -- Credit Mrs. Peter Gregory, Santa Cruz, California.)

"MYSTERIOUS" OBJECT STREAKS ACROSS SKY

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 3, 1961 -- Blue-white, almost lightning-fast and trailing a long, narrow tail that tapered at the end, a mysterious object sped south to north over Southeastern Ohio at 7:30 p.m. yesterday. Unlike meteors, it flew in a straight line.

Two groups of men and boys playing basketball, one group in Madisonville, the other in Rossmoyne, saw it. So did a man grilling on his back porch on Michigan Avenue hill, Hyde Park. (All suburbs of east Cincinnati). So did a couple driving over US 52 between New Richmond and Point Pleasant.

So did Mrs. Alfred Friedlander, of Walnut Hills, who happened to be looking out a window and admiring the moon. But Mrs. Friedlander's observation was significantly different from what the others saw -- while she watched the object it was a red ball of fire, leaving no trail: "It looked like a star and went like the wind, as if it had been shot across the sky."

The speed was remarked upon by all observers. But the Hyde Park and Madisonville observers put the time it was visible at about two to four seconds---the driver on U.S. 52, for from five to ten seconds---he noted that he had time to pull to the side of the road, open his car door and watch the object after he first saw it through his windshield.

Speculation was that Mrs. Friedlander might have seen the object just at the outset of its visible course across the sky, when it was just glowing red and that within a few seconds it was heated to a white incandescence and left a white hot vapor trail.

The Hyde Park man first saw it about 30 degrees above the southern horizon. He watched it take a fast course covering about 90 degrees. It disappeared behind a barren oak that hardly would shield it completely had it been still bright, the man said. The body, or head, was white; the trailing streak green, long and quite thin, about the width of the head but many diameters of the head in length. (Cincinnati ENQUIRER, March 3, 1961, credit Dorothy Lefler, Cincinnati, Ohio.)

Just to make the reports of the strange and the unusual more interesting, comes this report from the Isle of Man:

ISLE OF MAN NOW BOASTS IT HAS MERMAIDS

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (AP)---This beautiful holiday island off England's West Coast claims it has mermaids. It plans to hold a mermaid hunt this summer to find out for sure.

Several islanders insist they have seen mermaids sunning themselves off the rocky shores---and they say the creatures are gorgeous.

One member of the House of Keys, the islands Parliament, is reported to have offered 20,000 pounds ($56,000) to the first person who can land such an elusive catch.

Wing Cmdr. Roy MacDonald says he once saw two red-haired mermaids swimming about five miles offshore.

"They were moving at about 12 knots, MacDonald said. "No human being could swim at such speed. I was out fishing, but before I could get the anchor up they vanished."

The mayoress of Peel, another island town says she once saw a mermaid basking on the rocks off Peel Castle. This mermaid was a redhead, too.

Helen Cowell, 23, a secretary, says she spotted a brunette mermaid three miles south of the town. The mermaid was sitting on a rock in true mermaid fashion. "She was about 3 feet 6 inches long, but I could not see her tail," said Miss Cowell. "She had a lovely figure. Any man would have fallen in love with her."

Miss Cowell even made a quick estimate of the mermaid's vital statistics, 35-25-35.

A mermaid, for any sheltered reader not exposed previously to the word, is supposed to be half woman (upper half) and half fish (lower half). The scientific gentry says in the dictionaries and scientific books that a mermaid is a "fabled" creature---meaning they think there is no such thing. Some even attribute the legends about mermaids to sailors who once saw a dugong or a manatee, which are creatures that live in the sea and are supposed to look like mermaids.

Well, no matter. The Manx people would be just as interested in catching a tourist or two as in catching a mermaid -- maybe more so. (Boston HERALD, March 6, 1961, Credit Lorna Donovan, W. Newton, Mass., also Ellis Moore, Miami, Florida).

And while we are at it, may just as well report the most recent sighting of NESSIE:

THAT MONSTER'S SIGHTED AGAIN

FORT AGUSTUS, Scotland (AP)--Alexander Campbell, a water department official, says 50 school children and 3 adults have reported simultaneous sighting of the creature called the Loch Ness monster. (Long Island, N.Y. DAILY PRESS, Credit Gladys Fusaro, Huntington, N.Y.)

NO TRACE IS FOUND OF OBJECT

BUFFALO, N.Y., Feb. 12, 1961--A report of a "shining object falling into Lake Erie" touched off a fruitless search of the inner Harbor area off the foot of Georgia St. late yesterday afternoon.

The Coast Guard received a call at 3:45 about a falling object which the caller said might have been an airplane.

Coast Guardsmen in an outboard motor boat and an Army helicopter from Ft. Niagara searched until sunset in the inner harbor, between shore and the breakwall, where the caller said the object seemed to fall. They found nothing.

Meanwhile, area military installations and the FAA at Greater Buffalo International Airport said they had no reports of missing aircraft, military, commercial or private.

The Coast Guard said it had a report that an airplane made a landing on lake ice, but not in the inner harbor and then took off again. "This plane might have been mistaken for one going down," the Coast Guard said. (Buffalo COURIER-EXPRESS, Feb. 12, 1961, Credit M. Ridge, Eden, New York and Gladys Fusaro, Huntington, N.Y.)

MAJOR WAYNE S. AHO

In the February issue, we announced the series of lectures of Major Aho, in Miami. At that time I had not met Major Aho personally, or heard him lecture, in spite of having heard of him for a number of years. So at that time your Editor stated that he would reserve his opinions until he had analyzed the Major personally.

Well, Wayne has come and gone and made such an impression among the saucer enthusiasts of Miami, that he stayed over and lectured for an additional week.

We were very pleased to see the approach to the saucer mystery and to the dangerous subversion problems in our country, and to the way that Major Aho has of awakening his fellow citizens.

And unless America does awaken, the predictions of Nikita Khrushchev will come true. In his most recent meeting with the Premier of Red China they boasted that the surrender of America was not far off.

The date had reportedly been set for 1973 by Stalin and Mao Tse-Tung at their last meeting. And under Khrushchev, the Communist timetable for world conquest has advanced far ahead of schedule.

So I liken Major Aho to a modern day Paul Revere, who is traveling about the country, calling to his fellow Americans to awaken, the enemy is at the very door, yes, even inside the gates.

The real enemies of America want to first destroy our right thinking, then to poison and weaken our physical bodies, and finally to enslave or annihilate altogether. Does this seem like a fantastic plot? There is good evidence for it, and men like Major Aho see its manifestations in many places, high and low. For example:

(a) There is a systematic attempt to undermine our national morality. This is done by controlling the flow of ideas and communications. It is very subtle, but nonetheless extremely powerful. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

(b) Within the past year Hollywood with its movies and TV shows has been more corrupt than ever before. It has released a flood of films glorifying prostitution, homosexuality, abnormal behavior, pornography, lewdness and immoral conduct.

Nothing has been seen like this before. Someone has opened up a floodgate and we are engulfed with unwholesome sex and violence. This is a prime factor in juvenile delinquency; and the soaring crime rate among adolescents and juveniles is the result of such deliberate campaigns.

In every drugstore and bookshop, we can find books of filth and immorality. We are engulfed by such literature, and most of it can be traced back to the New York publishers who with their corrupt writers, are willing or duped pawns in the schemes of the Destroyers.

Both New York and Hollywood are key points of influence for the destructive forces that are waging such a successful campaign to undermine, weaken and subvert America.

(c) Washington, D. C. and the entire Government apparatus is honeycombed with subversives and disloyal persons, says Major Aho and other discerning patriots. Infiltration is everywhere, in the State Department, Health, Education and Welfare, and yes, even in the Pentagon. It is much later than we think. The termites have bored in deeply, to stay, to win or die.

A favorite way to get rid of those who oppose the termites at work is to harass them into nervous breakdowns or troubles, have them examined psychiatrically, and then railroaded into mental hospitals for the rest of their days.

And what we particularly like about Major Aho, is that along with his saucer lectures, he is awakening more and more people to these dangers confronting our beloved country. They in turn can and will awaken others to the dangers.

Here in the Miami area, since we are but a short distance from Cuba, we are more aware of the dangers than some may be in other parts of the country. Here we have more than our share of Termites in the woodwork. And some are getting so bold, YET, to even poke their heads out of the woodwork from time to time.

All of which brings me to the crux of this Editorial. And if I can awaken all of our readers to this danger, my time and energy in editing this bulletin over the past 4 years will not have been in vain.

To quote Ric Williamson, "I believe in Flying Saucers, but I don't believe all the things that are being said about them."

For many years your Editor has felt that many of the contact claims left much to be desired. This does not mean that I say none of the contact claims are true. If there are saucers in our skies, which I know that there are, then they most certainly could contact earthlings, if they so desired.

However, it is my firm belief that some of the claims, particularly some of those in the field of mental contacts, have been infiltrated by the Destroyers, or the Termites, whichever name you prefer. (They are both too good.)

They are using the front of "messages from advanced intelligences" in the saucers to disseminate their subversive wares.

There are three goals of the enemies of our freedom. (1) To undermine our Government, (2) to undermine our religions, and (3) to undermine morality.

When you find any contactee, printing or preaching ideas that come into the categories mentioned above, you should be extremely careful, in your contacts with these people, or in your passing on any literature or ideas which these individuals express, on to other unsuspecting individuals interested in the saucer phenomena.

The Destroyers have infiltrated every segment of our society, and they have also infiltrated the saucer field.

DID 1960 PLANE CRASH REALLY HAPPEN IN 1932?

WASHINGTON--(UPI)--The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) is investigating the story of an airplane that went back into time.

The investigating request came from the respectable but doubtful Aircraft Owners and Pilots Assn., which told FAA it got the story from an unidentified member.

His story:

In January, 1960, the pilot of a new Cessna 182 reported that he had collided with a Laird biplane, an aircraft of ancient vintage. Neither plane crashed but some months later, the Cessna pilot stumbled across a Laird biplane in a barn on an Ohio farm.

Pieces of aluminum were found imbedded in the Laird fuselage. They matched the aluminum on his Cessna. Paint also was found on the old plane and an analysis revealed they came from a Cessna.

The pilot looked in the Laird cockpit and picked up a flight log. In it was written the account of a collision "with a strange was written in Editorial, too

He took the log to Washington where an FBI laboratory test showed it was written about 1932.

That was the story as told to the FAA. An FAA spokesman said it already has checked its records and found no record in January 1960 of a collision involving a Cessna and anything resembling a Laird biplane.

He said the agency was checking with the FBI to determine whether it actually ran a test on the alleged flight log.

One question bothering the FAA: Did the supposed collision occur in 1960 or 1932?

"It's a good question," the spokesman said (with tongue in cheek). "Did the Cessna go back in time or did the Laird somehow find itself in 1960? I know one thing, if the FBI tells us they really did test that flight log for authenticity, I'll believe anything." (The Cleveland PRESS, March 9, 1961, Credit Nicholas Nestor, Cleveland, Ohio and Fletcher King, W. Hollywood, Fla.)

NOTE: This one sounds as if it came out of the "TWILIGHT ZONE". Who is exploring backwards or forward into TIME.

Who was the man who explained the UFO's thusly: "They are our great, great, grand-children, who have mastered not only space-travel---but time travel as well---and they are exploring backward into TIME!

SO---NATURALLY---they are not going to land and fraternize with us---how can they---they haven't been BORN YET!

NOTHING CAN POSSIBLY GO WRONG!

The world's first all-automatic jet passenger plane was ready for service. Its first customers went aboard by themselves---no attendants, no stewardesses, no pilot or co-pilot. The doors clanged shut and the engines started electronically. Then a recorded voice on the plane's intercom announced to the passengers:

"This is the most modern plane in history. The newest of magic brain installations makes it possible to eliminate human hands on the ground and in the air. We have no pilot, no crew; everything is controlled electronically. So, sit back, relax and enjoy your flight. Nothing can possibly go wrong...possibly go wrong...possibly go wrong...possibly go wrong..." (Long Island PRESS, Jan. 29, 1961, Credit Gladys Fusaro, Huntington, N.Y.)

IT YELLS AND IT'S 10 FEET TALL

KLUANG, Malaya, Feb. 1 (Reuters)--A game warden said today he was convinced of the existence of a creature "hitherto unknown to man", that gives Tarzan-like cries, leaves 30-inch human-like footprints and stands at least 10 feet tall.

The game warden made the observation after he took part in a search party through heavy jungle following the trail of the "abominable Mudman."

"It must be at least 10 feet tall," he said. "All along the trail branches were torn around that height."

Some game experts thought the creature might be a large Orang-outang. (New York DAILY NEWS, Feb. 11, 1961, Credit Gladys Fusaro, Huntington, N.Y.)

The following UFO report was sent in by Dorothy Lefler, of Cincinnati, Ohio. The witness desires to remain anonymous, because of his executive position in one of Cincinnati's machine tool companies. (In this publication we respect the rights of individuals to remain anonymous concerning UFO reports, but we at the same time have our own opinions as to the personal courage and convictions of anyone who does request anonymity.)

DATE: January 14, 1961. Early Evening.

AREA: Jefferson County, Indiana, near Clifty Falls. Land adjoining witnesses' farm property is military proving grounds. He noted that a skeleton crew had been at the proving grounds for several weeks. Also area is noted for many natural springs as well as moonshine stills. It is about 25-30 miles from Cincinnati, as the crow flies.

WEATHER: Pouring rain, pitch black, low ceiling.

PSYCHOLOGICAL: According to the witness' daughter, the man had always believed in the possibility of life on other worlds, and so-called flying saucers. He could see no reason to believe or disbelieve, but for him to say that he was 100% sure, he would have to see one himself, which he did; therefore, he now says he's certain.

DESCRIPTION OF UFO: The man took his dog out on the porch, but the dog broke away and ran out into the yard under a huge tree. When witness turned to call the dog, he immediately saw what he described as a huge white light which looked to him like a kitchen stove in size, with two exhausts. He saw the object through bare branches of the tree.

It hovered for 45 minutes and he watched it the entire time. It disappeared instantaneously. He noted that he could not tell if it were large and far away, or small and closer. But he assumed that it was not at too high an altitude, because of the low cloud ceiling. He also said that if it were not for the skeleton crew at the proving grounds, he would tend to believe that it was some form of U.S. experiment...but who would experiment with what kind of experiment in the pitch black and pouring rain?

MYSTERIOUS ATMOSPHERE RISE REGISTERED

The Meteorological Service of Costa Rica announced this morning that the atmospheric pressure in this area of the Caribbean---including our country---has undergone a very high rise provoking a situation never before present in the country, and for the moment, indescribable.

Engineer Elliot Coen whom we asked about this aspect, advised that he will be studying this strange phenomenon and that it is still premature to speak of its origins. In addition to this, the Meteorological and Seismological Service of Costa Rica announced the quick termination of its study about seismological movements of the year 1960, and like origin of a weak storm in the Atlantic and cold drizzle which was present during almost all of the day, yesterday and today in the central valley. OUR LIFE IN SPACE BEGAN JUST SIX SECONDS AGO

In discussing the intriguing question of whether there are intelligent beings on other worlds, Dr. Albert R. Hibbs, the Chief of Jet Propulsion Laboratory's Division of Space Sciences makes the solar system as familiar as your block, and the universe as understandable as your town.

If such species did exist, starting perhaps "a billion years or more before the first man stood upright on the earth," Dr. Hibbs says it is reasonable to ask why they have not visited here and made themselves known.

"Perhaps they have," the intense and personable young scientist, a Navy veteran and California Institute of Technology alumnus, continues.

"To get a better grasp of the times involved in this problem, suppose we scale them all down. Suppose the earth is a house and instead of being 5 trillion years old, suppose the house is only 500 years old---a museum piece by American standards but not too uncommon for many European countries.

"In this 500-year-old house, nothing at all happened in the first 300 years, as far as occupancy went. But about 200 years ago the first mold began to appear on the walls, and the first bacteria began to grow in the dust in the corners.

"Over the next 199 years and 11 months, the animals that roamed through the house, and the plants that grew there, became more complicated and sometimes considerably larger.

"Then about one month ago (scaled down from 1,000,000 years) the first being that we might call human began to crawl through the rooms.

"He had to fight all the other animals in the house for food, absorbing all his time and energy until about five hours ago (scaled down from 6000 years)."

That was relatively when, Dr. Hibbs goes on, man started cultivating and storing food, so he wouldn't have to fight all the time. With all that leisure, he started "painting pictures of himself on the walls and surrounding them with symbols for the noises he made in his throat."

Only "two or three days ago" did man start recording events on the wall, Dr. Hibbs says, and it was just about two hours ago that he began to think philosophically and to wonder about the house in which he lived.

"It was about 20 minutes ago", he continues, "that he first got an inkling that the best way to learn things was to observe and experiment."

Until the last 10 minutes on the scale, man merely had glanced out of the window, was amazed at what he saw there--sun, stars and moon--"but was always content to tell himself silly little stories about these objects and go back to hunting food."

"Now says Dr. Hibbs, "he is beginning to try to understand them. Over the last six minutes, his science has matured to the point where his theoretical explanation of his house and the things outside is beginning to make scientific sense.

"About three minutes ago, he found he could fly around his house on metal wings and began to wonder if he could not get out of the house altogether. "Finally, six seconds ago, he launched a rocket that put a satellite into orbit about his house."

Dr. Hibbs concedes that man has been speculating idly for some "three or four minutes" about whether there "might be anybody else in any other house, anyplace outside." But he continues, "It's only in the last five seconds that he has seriously raised the question: "Is anybody out there looking in? Only in the last five seconds have all eyes been looking out the window.

"Well, is anybody looking in? Considering the house is 500 years old, it's very possible that a lot of people have looked in... concerned, as we have been, with the problem only the last five seconds, we may have missed a lot of visitors. Some may have left a few minutes ago, and others may be on their way now, ready to knock on our door in the next few minutes.

"But before we dash out into the front yard, waving our arms and trying to attract the attention of whatever neighbors there may be...perhaps we should consider first whether or not our new neighbors are likely to be friendly." (Article by Julian Hartt, Los Angeles EXAMINER, Feb. 12, 1961--Credit Jan Rex, Miami Beach, Florida).

And here, we will end with the psychology as presented by Desmond Leslie, of England, who reasons that if the space people are hostile, and want to take us over, "What are they waiting for?"
