Cel. Adil de Oliveira, head of the Brazilian Air Force Bureau which is charged with investigation of the UFO's, recently made the following statement in a newspaper interview: "Now it is impossible to have any doubt as to the existence of flying saucers."

PETROGLYPHS SUBJECT OF DECEMBER MEETING

The December meeting of the Forum Division of S. R. A. will be held Friday, December 19, at 8:00 P. M., at the Mountain Pass Coffee Shop, 5116 East McDowell Road, with Mrs. Irene Fry as hostess.

Due to conditions beyond his control, William Coxon, who was to lecture at our November meeting, was unable to attend. However, he will be present on the above date and will present the lecture and slides previously scheduled. Mr. Coxon has made a study of petroglyphs, ancient rock writings, for more than twenty years in Western Europe and the Americas. This will be a most interesting and instructive program and it is hoped all our members can attend.

Our Librarian, Orpha Romine, will have books for sale at this meeting. With the Christmas season at hand, it is suggested that you consider buying "saucer" books as gifts. A good book is a treasure which is cherished for many years, and a good "saucer" book can open up many new channels of thought. Look over the list of available books on the last page of this issue of the Spacecrafter and make your selection now.

It is requested that members bring chairs as a few extra will be needed.

S. R. A. SCHEDULES SEVERAL LECTURERS FOR WINTER SEASON

In accordance with its policy of bringing able and worthwhile lecturers on the subject of spacecraft to Phoenix, the S. R. A. has scheduled several lecturers for the next few months.

Orpheo Angelucci, author of "The Secret of the Saucers," and who has made several contacts, will be in Phoenix the last week in January. Mr. Angelucci is well informed on all aspects of the UFO field and is a tireless worker in the dissemination of pertinent knowledge. This is a lecture you will not want to miss.

In February, Eugene E. Whitworth, Ph. D., L. L. D., of the Department of Human Relations at Great Western University, will pass through Phoenix with his wife on his way to Mexico and Yucatan on an expedition. Dr. Whitworth will lecture on UFO's and on archeological findings in Mexico and Yucatan. He will also show colored slides of this vicinity. We have had several excellent reports concerning his talks on the West Coast.

Late February or early March will bring us, at long last, our eagerly

SON OF THE SUN

By "Alexander Blade"

We are already here, among you. Some of us have always been here, with you, yet apart from you, watching, and occasionally guiding you whenever the opportunity arose. Now, however, our numbers have been increased in preparation for a further step in the development of your planet: a step of which you are not yet aware, although it has been hinted at frequently enough in the parables of your prophets, who have garbled whatever inspiration they have been able to receive. Sometimes they were ignorant. Sometimes they were unable to translate clearly the concepts implanted in their minds. Sometimes they were cautious, and to insure the preservation of the information they wished to place upon the record in the world, they spoke in metaphors and symbols.

We have been confused with the gods of many world-religions, although we are not gods, but your own fellow creatures, as you will learn directly before many more years have passed. You will find records of our presence in the mysterious symbols of ancient Egypt, where we made ourselves known in order to accomplish certain ends. Our principal symbol appears in the religious art of your present civilization and occupies a position of importance upon the great seal of your country. It has been preserved in certain secret societies founded originally to keep alive the knowledge of our existence and our intentions toward mankind.

We have left you certain landmarks, placed carefully in different parts of the globe, but most prominently in Egypt where we established our headquarters upon the occasion of our last overt, or as you would say, public, appearance. At that time the foundations of your present civilization were "laid in the earth," and the most ancient of your known landmarks established by means that would appear as miraculous to you now as they did to the pre-Egyptians, so many thousands of years ago. Since that time the whole art of building in stone has become symbolic, to many of you, of the work in hand - the building of the human race towards its perfection.

Your ancestors knew us in those days as preceptors and as friends. Now, through your own efforts, you have almost reached, in your majority, a new step on the long ladder of your liberation. You have been constantly aided by our watchful "inspiration," and hindered only by the difficulties natural to your processes of physical and moral development, for the so-called "forces of evil and darkness" have always been recruited from among the ranks of your own humanity - a circumstance for which you would be exceedingly grateful if you possessed full knowledge of conditions in the universe.

You have lately achieved the means of destroying yourselves. Do not be hasty in your self-congratulation. Yours is not the first civilization to have achieved - and used - such means. Yours will not be the first civilization to be offered the means of preventing that destruction and proceeding, in the full glory of its accumulated knowledge, to establish an era of enlightenment upon the earth.

However, if you do accept the means offered you, and if you do establish such a "millennium" upon the basis of your present accomplishments, yours will be the first civilization to do so. Always, before, the knowledge, the techniques, the instructions, have become the possessions of a chosen few: a few chose themselves by their own open-minded and clear-sighted realization of "the shapes of things to come." They endeavored to pass on their knowledge in the best possible form, and by the most enduring means at their command. In a sense they succeeded, but in another sense their failure equalled their success. Human acceptance is, to a very large extent, measurable by human experience. Succeeding generations, who never knew our actual presence, translated the teachings of their elders in the terms of their own experience. For instance, a cross-sectional drawing, much simplified and stylized by many copyings, of one of our traveling machines, became the "Eye of Horus," and then other eyes of other gods. Finally, the ancient symbol that was once an accurate representation of an important mechanical device, has been given surprising connotations by the modern priesthood of psychology.

The important fact is, however, that we are here, among you, and that you, as a world-race, will know it before very much longer! The time is almost ripe, but as with all ripening things, the process may not be hurried artificially without danger of damaging the fruit. There is a right time for every action, and the right time for our revelation of ourselves to your era is approaching.

Some of you have seen our "advance guard" already. You have met us often in the streets of your cities, and you have not noticed us. But when we flash through your skies in the ancient, traditional vehicles, you are amazed and those of you who open your mouths and tell of what you have seen are accounted dupes and fools. Actually you are prophets, seers in the true sense of the word. You in Kansas and Oklahoma, you in Oregon and in California, and Idaho, who know what you have seen: do not be dismayed by meteorologists. Their business is the weather. One of you says "I saw a torpedo-shaped object." Others report "disk-like objects," some of you say "spherical objects," or "platter-like objects." You are all reporting correctly and accurately what you saw, and in most cases you are describing the same sort of vehicle.

The "golden disk" - now confused with the solar disk and made a part and parcel of religion - even in your own times. The "discus," hurled sunward by the Grecian - and your own - athletes. The "eye of Horus," and the other eyes of symbology, alchemical and otherwise. Our mechanical means of transportation.

Now that the art of manufacturing plastic materials has reached a certain perfection among you, perhaps you can imagine a material, almost transparent to the rays of ordinary visible light, yet strong enough to endure the stresses of extremely rapid flight. Look again at the great nebulae, and think of the construction of your own galaxy, and behold the universal examples of what we have found to be the perfect shape for an object which is to travel through what you still fondly refer to as "empty" space.

In the center of the discus, gyroscopically controlled within a central sphere of the same transparent material, our control rooms revolve freely, accomodating themselves and us to flat or edge-wise flight. Both methods are suited to your atmosphere, and when we convert abruptly from one to the other, as we are sometimes obliged to do, and you are watching, our machines seem suddenly to appear - or to disappear. At our possible speeds your eyes, untrained and unprepared for the maneuver, do make mistakes - but not the mistakes your scientists so often accuse them of making.

We pass over your hilltops in horizontal flight. You see and report a torpedo-shaped object. We pass over, in formation, flying vertically "edge-on," and you report a series of disk-shaped, platter-like objects, or perhaps a sphere. Or we go over at night, jet-slits glowing, and you see an orange disk. In any event, you see us, and in any event, we do not care. If we chose to remain invisible, we could do so easily, and, in fact, we have done so almost without exception for hundreds of years. But you must become accustomed to our shapes in your skies, for one day they will be familiar, friendly, and reassuring sights.

This time, it is to be hoped that the memory of them, passed on to your children and their children, will be clear and precise. That you will not cause them to forget, as your ancestors forgot, the meaning of the diagrams and the instructions we will leave with you. If you do fail, as other civilizations have failed, we will see your descendants wearing wiring diagrams for simple machines as amulets, expecting the diagrams to do what their forefathers were taught the completed article would accomplish. Then their children, forgetting even that much - or little - would preserve the amulet as a general protective device - or as an intellectual curiosity - or perhaps as a religious symbol. Such is the cycle of forgetfulness!

awaited lecture by Dr. George H. Williamson. Various events have combined to change his previous schedules, but a letter just received from John McCoy states that he will be in Phoenix and Tucson after his tour on the West Coast.

Watch your Spacecrafter for definite dates on the above lectures and announcements of other speakers in the UFO field who have been contacted and will appear on the lecture platform in Phoenix during the next few months.

SPACECRAFT COLUMN IN GLENDALE NEWS

"The Sky Watcher" is the name of a weekly column in the Glendale News written by a young reporter and saucer enthusiast, Jerry Hard. Mr. Hard has made extensive research into the history of UFO's and his articles are packed with information.

It is suggested that as many of our members as possible plan to obtain copies of the Glendale News each week and acquaint the editor of that publication with the fact that this is a worthwhile project and should be continued.

PRELIMINARY REPORT ON MY WORLD TOUR

By G. H. Williamson

When I left Peru on July 20, this year, I had no idea that I was embarking on the most fantastic journey a man had ever taken! I knew that I would visit UFO group leaders in Brazil, Africa, Portugal, Spain, Sicily, Italy, Greece, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, France and Great Britain...but I had no idea that I would encounter startling sighting reports that never seem to be reported outside of a small area, nor did I expect to locate professional men who are now in direct contact with space visitors!

In Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, I spoke with and before UFO group leaders and with airline officials and pilots, and also with officials of the Brazilian Navy. These reliable informants told me that Brazil is well aware of the UFOs, and that it is a well-known fact that Brazil has a "secret" agreement with other nations of the world to keep quiet about the reality of UFOs for a time yet. I interviewed countless pilots who see UFOs constantly on flights between Sao Paulo, Rio de Janeiro and Belem, Brazil. Many strange "contact" reports were investigated during my stay there and I made an aerial survey over hundreds of miles of the Brazilian jungle interior in an attempt to locate (from the air) ruins of the "Lost World" of Colonel Fawcett...I studied unknown carvings on great rocks in the harbour of Rio de Janeiro and I am certain there is a connection between all of this and my recent discoveries in Peru. By the way...the UFOs are quite often seen hovering over such rock carvings at Rio after they approach the coast from the sea.

The greatest amount of information was obtained in Sicily and Italy. It is impossible for me to understand how so many startling happenings reported in all Italian newspapers just simply do not get reported outside of that country. And this view is even expressed by AP men in Italy! Appearances of a "beautiful lady" in a bright light (similar to Fatima) are reported from various parts of Italy... green fireballs and little discs constantly hover over important air force bases... an astronomical observatory burned under weird conditions... the President of Italy carried a UFO message to Brazil on his recent visit there... contacts are being made by the use of television, radio and even telephone! I talked with men (professors at a well-known university) who are in communication with space visitors using the above-mentioned means of contact! At the present time, people are talking about a "UFO lull"...nothing could be further from the truth, as I will show in my forthcoming articles in Flying Saucer Review. There are important happenings taking place in Germany and England, too.

The first night I arrived in London, I received the tragic news of my dear wife's death in Lima, Peru. The loss of a wonderful wife and mother to my son, and my fellow worker in science, was a great shock to me...but Betty was dedicated to a Divine Cause, and evidently she was needed elsewhere to serve at this time. My research will go on...research that she was greatly responsible for in the past will find its fulfilment in the future. Without Betty I could not have accomplished anything in the UFO field...she was (and is) my inspiration. She wrote a book before she died...I will complete that book and see that it is published.

A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE FROM ETHERIA

To all Earthians:

This month you celebrate the birth of Him Whom you call the Christ, the Shower of the Way. It is He Whom you revere and love as the greatest Master Teacher who has descended to the grosser vibrations of your earth plane in order to bring you the message of Love, of which He is the personification.

You do well to hold Him in high esteem, although he does not desire your worship, for even as He is a Son of God, so are each of you likewise Sons of God. It is true, much of your Sonship is still potentiality, but nevertheless the Spark of God - of the Christ Love - is within each of you, and it is your duty to cherish this Inner Spark and help it grow until it encompasses your entire Being. Then you, too, may become a Christ, with the same powers and, even as He stated during his sojourn on Earth, with even greater powers than He portrayed.

The man Jesus was a great Soul who voluntarily returned to Earth that He might bring the message of Love and Understanding and Peace to your people. And though you did not learn that lesson, the message has survived for lo! these many centuries. We Etherians, too, are endeavoring to bring that same message of Love to you. But so few of you heed the Principle we are endeavoring to teach, as two thousand years ago you failed to heed the teachings of Jesus. We weep when we see the sadness within your hearts, the sorrows and tribulations which you must bear. Won't you open your hearts to us and let us bring you again the age-old teachings that show you the way to Joy and Peace and Accomplishment?

The time is ever growing shorter. Planet Earth is today on the verge of a new Initiation. She is meeting the Dweller on the Threshold and soon will have vanquished the negativity which surrounds him - yea, will have vanquished the Dweller himself. Where will you be? Can you too loose your hold on the negative emotions and conditions which have bound you to Earth during her travail?

A New Age is dawning. Many of you are preparing yourselves that you may be ready to serve again, to help Earth after her Great Initiation when she will come forward, cleansed of the virulent thought forms of past ages, and ready to start a new Era in her own evolution. What will you be doing then? Will you too be one of the Servers?

We have come to assist you at this time of chaos and crisis. We are endeavoring to spread our message of Love and Service even as did the Christ so long ago. That message never changes, and each of you who heeds the lesson cannot fail to make great strides in your evolution.

Again, we hold out our hands to help those of you who wish to rise out of the morass of poverty, destruction, greed and hatred that is prevalent on Earth today.

The Way is not easy, but neither are the conditions under which you live, but once accomplished, you dwell in the Light of Wisdom and Love.

May each of you have a Joyous Christmas Season, and may the Christ Within come to the fore and bring you the Peace That Passeth Understanding.

In Love and Service,

Your Etherian Brothers.

Those of you who knew and loved Betty have been very kind to me in his hour of my loss. Yes, I have just completed a truly fantastic journey, indeed...what started out as a tour of the world to investigate current UFO reports ended with an accumulation of startling happenings and the loss of my partner who was needed elsewhere for a little while.

I will return to England, Italy and Peru in 1959 to continue the work my wife and I started together in 1952 after our first direct experiences with the coming of the UFOs.

AHO LECTURES IN PHOENIX

Major Wayne Aho, of Washington Saucer Intelligence, gave a lecture at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crum on November 30 which many of our members attended. He was accompanied by his bride of a few weeks, who is a member of the Toledo Aerial Phenomena Society (T. A. P. S.) in Toledo, Ohio.

Major Aho described the tour which he and Otis T. Carr recently completed and the ramifications of recent developments on the UFO scene. He also discussed "The Pentagon Case," a book which he considers very important at this time.

On Tuesday night following the lecture, Bill Lester of Radio Station KOY presented a recorded talk by Major Aho on his 9:15 "Top of the Desk" program.

This lecture was not sponsored by S. R. A.

SCHMIDT TO RETURN TO PHOENIX

A letter from Reinhold Schmidt states that he expects to be in Phoenix some time during the weekend of December 15. If a public lecture cannot be arranged, we will endeavor to have "Smitty" speak to our group in a private home.

The following contact story is reprinted from Flying Saucer Review, 1, Doughty Street, London, W.C.1., England. It is doubtful if many of our readers are familiar with this account, and Flying Saucer Review does not vouch for its veracity. You may judge for yourself.

MR. COOKE GOES TO ZOMDIC

Mr. James Cooke lives at Runcorn, in Cheshire, England, and early in the morning on Saturday, September 7, 1957, he was expecting the saucers. Mr. Cooke had seen them before on many occasions and on this particular night (it was just after 2 a. m.) he had already seen a formation manouvring in the sky. He knew that a ship was going to contact him that morning because he had been receiving telepathic messages that this would happen.

At 1:15 a. m. he excitedly watched the ship approaching - it was as brilliant as lightning to gaze upon. The saucer changed colour repeatedly from blue to white, back to blue, and then to red. Finally to dark red. By this time the ship had come to rest only 20 yards away.

He did not feel any wind, except that which was there before the ship came, but underneath it the grass waved to and fro as though attracted to the ship by some strange magnetic force. The saucer did not "touch down," but stayed a few inches from the ground. This, he was later informed, was due to the ground being wet from an earlier rain. It seems they do not operate when the weather and atmosphere are damp.

Mr. Cooke stated the ship was approximately 120 ft. in diameter. When he approached the craft a voice called out to him: "Jump, do not step. Jump on to the stair. The ground is damp. Jump. Don't have one foot on the ground or you will be hurt."

Mr. Cooke jumped as directed and mounted the stair (some kind of gangway let down) into the ship.

The light inside seemed to come from everywhere. It cast no shadows!

The same voice that warned him to jump and not to step into the ship instructed him to remove his clothing, and to don a suit that appeared at his side. It was difficult to get into it. He had to stretch it on, being told to put the legs on first, then the arms and hand portions. The next stage was putting on the head part and mask, complete with eyes, nose and mouth portions (mask lips being sealed together). The suit was joined at the front waist to points over each hip and when Mr. Cooke had put on the head and face he was told to bring the open part at the back together. When he did this it sealed itself as it touched, cementing together firmly. The garment was made of a "plastic-like" material, but far superior, Mr. Cooke said, to anything on this planet.

When he was attired the stairs reappeared and he was directed to descend from the ship into a larger one. (Presumably he was now on a mother ship. --Ed.)

He found on the large ship well over 20 people present. They were tall by earth standards, but he subsequently learnt small by their own average height.

No one had spoken to him since the beginning of the journey, excepting the voice mentioned earlier. Mr. Cooke clearly remembered the expressions on the faces of those who greeted him at the feet of the stairs and the gestures they made. They first placed their left hands over their eyes and then their right hands over their hearts. They could read his every thought. He had only to think and his thought would be answered. It was impossible to deceive, that is to say one thing and mean another.

He was taken to a planet called Zomdic in another solar system. "Your scientists don't know this planet exists," he was told.

Mr. Cooke stated that although they do have roads on the planet, these are not used. They are relics of a bygone age. They use small ships as transport which move across the ground at about 20 or 30 ft. up. These small ships apparently operated on some harmonic principle. The pilot would sit in a bucket-shaped seat before a table on which was a small object like a hammer. There was a row of metal-like strips protruding like organ stops. Taking the hammer the pilot struck one of the strips and a melodious "ping" was taken up by some sympathetic instrument and the note persisted at first and then rose higher and higher. Other notes seemed to blend in. While in flight the small ship was controlled by a small ball on which the pilot's left hand rested. When the ship landed the musical notes continued to "ring" until the pilot took his hand from the ball and, using the hammer, struck certain strips some way from the first ones he had struck before. The humming then ceased and everything was still.

The vegetation was mostly of a yellow variety, not like grass. Small herbs, yellow in colour with blue-tipped leaf. The flowers, though, Mr. Cooke said, were superb.

He was taken to meet one of the wise men on the planet. "Listen," Mr. Cooke was told. "The inhabitants of your planet will upset the balance, if they persist in using force instead of harmony. Warn them of the danger."

"But they won't listen to me," Mr. Cooke replied.

"Or anyone else either," the wise one added, and there was the sound of a sigh with the words.

Mr. Cooke was then instructed in many things, including the method of propulsion through space.

After this interview he returned to the ship that brought him to Zomdic. On the return journey he had to extricate himself from the loaned suit. This he found more tricky than getting into it and he had to slit open the back with a razor blade that was in the coat pocket of his own suit lying where he had left it previously.

When he got back it was Sunday, September 8. Landing was uneventful, except that he burned his hand on the rail of the stairs. The ship did not actually touch land and he omitted to let go of the rail completely before his feet touched earth.

Mr. Cooke arrived home at Westfield Road, Runcorn, at 10:50 p.m. On his arrival home there were present his mother and four friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hocknell, Mr. E. Thomas and Mrs. E. King, and all of them, Mr. Cooke states, will confirm as to his appearance and mannerisms at the time.

Miss Thelma Roberts investigated this contact on behalf of Flying Saucer Review, and spent a whole week-end interviewing Mr. Cooke. She found him to be a sincere and kindly person with an open and receptive mind, devoid of vanity and with a keen sense of humour. He answered all her questions without wavering.

Mr. Cooke told her that the saucers themselves are used only in the magnetic fields of the earth and not in outer space as they have no repellent power when meeting other objects. Mother ships are used in outer space. Saucers use as a propelling force the magnetic fields surrounding the earth and permeating the atmosphere. He said saucers have to "tune in" to the planet they are visiting and to the person they "contact."

Those people he met on Zomdic wore what he thought to be two-piece garments with a belt around the waist. He described their faces as "baby faced," some had beards. They all had good smooth complexions and he could only call them beautiful. On being asked if he had noticed any women on Zomdic, he replied that there had been something about the people he could not quite place till later. Then it came to him, they were bi-sexual. They do not use money. What they needed they have. Energy is turned into substance in any required form.

Mr. E. Thomas, one of the witnesses to his return home, states that he saw the burn on the back of Mr. Cooke's hand.

PROBERT TAPE HEARD AT NOVEMBER MEETING

A tape recording made at the International Spacecraft Convention at Giant Rock, California, last spring brought an enthusiastic response from the members and guests attending the November meeting of the Forum Division of S.R.A. The tape, which lasted approximately one and one-half hours, was recorded by Mark Probert, trance medium, through whom the voice of Yada de Shi'ite spoke. Yada claims to have been a member of a priesthood and that he lived 500,000 years ago in a highly developed civilization in the Himalayan Mountain region. He states that he perished in a cataclysm caused by a polar shift.

Yada spoke of the Etherians coming to visit our planet at this time, that they "arrive" by the process of "emergence," and their purpose in coming.

The group as a whole wishes to thank Walt Sanborn for presenting this tape recording and Mr. and Mrs. Crum for their generosity in permitting the members to enjoy their lovely home.

Under our present national and local Mental Health Program, Reinhold O. Schmidt could have been confined to Alaska for life, yet he was guilty of nothing except seeing a spaceship and dutifully reporting it to officials. Watch our next issue for information about the ulterior motive behind this program.

NEWS NOTES

David Moore was seriously injured in an accident which involved his motorcycle and a truck a few weeks ago, and in which he sustained several broken bones and internal injuries. He has been released from the hospital but will be confined to his home for several more weeks. David wishes to express his appreciation for the book from the Association and the cards and metaphysical healing he has received from many of our members.

Frances and Russell Cloud and Roy and Lenore Whaley and children spent a most enjoyable Thanksgiving weekend on the Coast. They visited Orpheo Angelucci in Glendale and friends in Los Angeles and San Diego. They were fortunate in that they missed the earth tremors by a few hours.

We hear through the grapevine that Tommy Cochran has returned to Phoenix after an absence of several months. We understand he has been ill in Los Angeles.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear friends of S. R. A. :

I received your November Spacecrafter a few days ago, and I think you folks are doing a good job.

It was too bad that Reinhold Schmidt's itinerary did not include Phoenix at this time as much is occurring in America, and indeed in all the world regarding space and space travel. In the Arizona Republic for November 17, Walter Reisel, the blind reporter, said the main figure in U. S. Rocketry (who must be none other than Von Braun) stated that a super-intelligent people from space are evaluating us, or words to that effect. This made me wonder if Mr. Von Braun has read "Aboard A Flying Saucer" or gets his information direct, as I did. Or, at long last, has the Government loosened up with some of the information which I personally know they possess?

I should like to point out that no report has ever been given regarding observation of the moon through the Mt. Palomar 200-inch telescope. However, they release reports on "stars" billions of light years away which, when photographed, show no more than a yellow dab of paint on a piece of glass. Not even Mars or Venus are reported as seen through this granddaddy of all telescopes - why? The answer is because the truth would show the falsity of all printed reports heretofore given, and all astronomers would lose face, if and when this should happen. Whether you believe my views or not, this is food for thought.

My contacts with Captain Aura Rhanes and her crewmen convinced me that we will never have true space travel until Peace is first accomplished. A thought along that line is that only about ten per cent of our rockets of the medium range (1,500 mile) and the Intercontinental 5,000 mile are even partially satisfactory at present. As there are several departments concerned, for instance, planning, manufacture, firing, guidance, distance evaluation, etc., if only one branch can report satisfactory results, the report is given to the public, which then believes that a ride to the Moon or Mars is next. We still have quite some distance to travel and to evaluate before we are halfway to the Moon. The 79,000 miles traveled (as reported) by the first moon rocket would have taken it far from the Earth's gravity belt, but it was reported to have (probably) fallen in the Indian Ocean. Just who are we letting do our thinking for us? They report these things, believing that no one except themselves is capable of thinking and that they can tell us anything. We are supposed to swallow all they say.

I do hope that the group proposing to put out the movie, "The Real Flying Saucer Story," have great success. However, I do not believe that a good and true picture could be made without cooperation going further than just releasing rights to a book to the Ormonds for filming purposes. As no other details were included, I am not taking part in this endeavor.

Many of my friends in Phoenix know of my tea leaf readings. Recently some friends, who visited the Grand Canyon, lost their dog while camping. They stayed several days trying to find him, without results. They came here, and I read their tea leaves and told them where their dog could be found. They went back to the location which I described and came back next day with their dog - a very happy couple indeed. My description of the dog as to size, color and sex without ever seeing him is what prompted them to return to the spot where they found him.

I spoke to George H. "Ric" Williamson's father a few days ago and he stated that he believed that Ric would be in this area around Christmas time. He was then in New York City.

Again, thanks to all my Phoenix friends for their past cooperation.

Sincerely,

Truman Bethurum

Dear Editor:

Mr. Seelye doesn't answer any of the questions asked in my letter; he merely yells "McCarthyism" at the suggestion that there could be any relationship between World Peace organizations and the Communist movement. His organization may be above reproach, but others such as the Mid-Century Conference for Peace and the American Peace Crusade have been listed as subversive.¹ Dr. Daniel A. Poling² says, "The most insidious and far reaching menace of atheistic communism is its world-wide peace drive...."

Without question, the Communists are masters of propoganda and psychological warfare. There is also no question that for many years they have penetrated non-Communist groups and used them to disseminate their views and gain support on special issues; just as today they are penetrating groups actively involved in the integration dispute in order to create hatred, strife, and violence in this country.

The World Council of Churches has on its ruling board Dr. Josef L. Hromadka, a Red Czeck puppet who twice received the Stalin peace prize and who spoke in support of Russia's tank invasion of Hungary.

The Communists have taken advantage of the diplomatic immunity provided United Nations delegates to send agents and saboteurs into the United States. Take, for example, the twenty-one Russian seamen who had been given asylum in America and were living in New Jersey and New York. Soviet secret police, with U.N. credentials went into their homes, beat them into submission, kidnapped them, and forced them to return to Russia. American law enforcement agencies knew what was happening but were not permitted to do anything about it.

Since the United Nations has been "keeping world peace," the Communists have taken over an estimated 800 million people.

Is Communism such a menace, and why?

J. Edgar Hoover³ says, "The real danger in Communism lies in the fact that it is atheistic and seeks to replace the Supreme Being. When Communists temporarily and passively tolerate religion, it is for the purpose of furthering Communism. But time and again they have struck ruthlessly against Christians, Jews, and other faiths, torturing, imprisoning, and murdering those who hold God above the State...."

Dr. S. A. Fineberg⁴: "Communism is a totalitarian scheme for regimenting human existence. It subjects every aspect of life to the wishes and whims of a bureaucratic oligarchy. Their view of life is based on materialism and a collective society. They think of people as creatures whose destiny is determined solely by their material well-being. Communist rules assume the right to deal with all human beings as though they were property of the State."

Bishop F. J. Sheen⁵: "Communism legislates for the mass, but it does not impose any individual morality. That is one of the reasons, I think, why some people - not all, God forbid - have an exaggerated interest in social justice, because it dispenses them from individual justice."

Dr. D. A. Poling: "Communism is a driving dynamic faith. It has all the passion that we associate with the early Christian Church, but its basic tenet... is atheism. It has absolutely no concern for the individual. It teaches and practices that the individual is not only the servant of, but the slave of, the state. His personal well-being is of no consideration at all if the strength of the state is in any way mitigated or jeopardized by this individual...."

Many backers of World Peace and World Government, even if not actively communistic, are pretty nebulous in their thinking; and their great fallacy is that they have failed to provide for the protection of the individual against the system of government, such as is provided by our Constitution and Bill of Rights. What kind of a tax system would a World Government provide? Maybe the World Trade Union will decide your type of employment can best serve humanity in South Africa, so, like it or not, off you go. Or the World Council of Education decided your children are best suited for training in the textile industry which now centers in Pakistan. So long, kids. Perhaps you have been wrongly accused of a theft, but the new World System of Justice, patterned after some of our fellow nations, holds that you are guilty till proven innocent, so there you sit in jail. Worse yet, to satisfy the Middle East code of justice, the penalty for theft is cutting off a hand. These things may sound pretty fantastic, but they have to be considered and are not so far fetched when you think of the steps that have already been taken in that direction. (Atlantic Charter, Statutes of Forces Agreement, GATT, United Nation.)

I have been a student of metaphysics for twenty years, and I am acquainted with the basic principles concerning the oneness of humanity and also with the changes that are to come with the Aquarian Age, but I see no reason to confuse many of today's trends with these changes just because they use some of the same adjectives. The Aztecs made a slight mistake in thinking the Spaniards were their long awaited white gods. That was the end of the Aztecs. Let's not make a similar mistake.

War can always be avoided simply by offering no resistance to aggression. But at what price? A World Slave state would provide world peace.

6. Roman Catholic Church.

Dear Editor:

Though it is regrettable that our friend, Arthur C. Seelye, Secretary of World Peace, was "shocked" by Martha Jane Wood's letter on his article, "World Peace," and "bowled over" by the editorial comment, I can only echo, "let us not be suckers" and strike at every bait offered, even though it bears an apparently pristine pure seal or Millenium label. Let us sniff, warily, lest it carry the all too familiar "odeur de borsch."

Though not personally informed concerning Mr. Seelye's organization, it is to be presumed reputable by virtue of acceptance for publication of his article in the Spacecrafter. To check on organizations and personalities before publication acceptance is routine for any editorial staff.

While there are many sincere, patriotic groups working for world peace, there are also many subversive organizations hiding under the Flag and using patriotic and high-sounding, misleading titles.

Many social, church, civic and other bona fide clubs have been and are still being infiltrated by sworn enemies of democracy, who while professing to be champions of world peace, the downtrodden and under-privileged, are working solely for their own ends, i. e., subjugation of America by Communist Russia.

In no other country in the world do foreigners, including enemy agents, enjoy freedom, justice and hospitality on a scale comparable to that showered on them by America. In no other country in the world are the rights of foreigners, including enemy agents, protected more conscientiously and generously.

So, with immunity almost a foregone conclusion, the Fifth Amendment ever available, freedom of movement unrestricted, enemy agents posing as innocent visitors and tourists enjoy a holiday at America's expense.

It therefore behooves every American to be constantly alert, on guard, vigilant. The Communist Juggernaut crushes ever closer; its path of destruction ever wider, grimmer. America is the goal! Intact, if possible, with our vast industries and technical abilities, but America, dead or alive....

As to Senator Joseph McCarthy, let me suggest a letter by Mr. Howard H. Boyle, Jr., in the current issue of American Mercury Magazine, December, 1958.

page 144. Mr. Boyle states the facts far better than can the writer. The letter which follows, by Mary M. Davidson, West Palm Beach, Florida, should also be an eye-opener.

The principle of non-violence as a solution for world problems is as admirable as impractical where Communism is concerned. Ask anyone who has been set upon by thugs on a dark night or witnessed Communist goons in action.

There are thousands of good Christians who have risked their lives escaping from godless Russian-held countries and concentration camps. Thousands more are trying and will continue to try. Why?

Talk to refugees who have crawled on their bellies, groping blindly in the dark, through hundreds of yards of mined fields, scarcely daring to breathe lest it trigger a hidden land mine and blow them to bits; then have to cut their way through electrically charged barbed wire guarded by sentries in lookouts every hundred yards - sentries equipped with flood lights, machine guns, trained guns, waiting. One false move and you are blasted into Eternity. Or blazing lights illuminate the area; sirens rend the night, screaming, tearing at your very insides. Dogs, trained to kill, are loosed to track you down. Machine gun bullets spray the ground like rain - hot lead rain....

Not fiction, facts regularly occurring in many parts of the Communist-held world. Poor devils preferring to risk their lives for one chance of freedom rather than remain Communist slaves in hopeless, unbearable captivity.

There are many such refugees living in this country today. Talk to them. Listen to their stories. Ask them if a policy of non-violence will subdue or improve the sadistic, godless Communists. Ask them about friends and relatives, still held captive, and those who tried to escape but breathed at the wrong time.

There are many souls incarnated on earth at this time who can understand only force. Who so live and rule and will eventually so die, violently. At the moment, until that time comes, we must be practical. Meet fire with fire when necessary. There is no greater Power in the Universe than God. Nothing - no thing - can stand against it. Personally, not having attained Godly Power as yet, as a mortal I must resort to mortal means.

To "overcome evil with good; falsehood with truth; hatred with love" is the Christian Way, and I subscribe completely, within limits - my limits. Can one, not a trained pianist, sit down at a piano and play Rachmaninoff's "Prelude" or Tchaikowsky's "Fifth Symphony" just because of an urge to do so?

Let us be practical, watchful, alert.

Let us be real Americans and demand of our Government that foreign vermin and all enemies of America be ruthlessly cleaned out, immediately and permanently.

Let us return to our American heritage and Principles and demand of our Government that it so serve the people!

Fred Kearney

Dear Editor:

I enjoyed the meeting very much at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Crum and wish to express thanks to those lovely people.

And thanks again to you, Franky, for always getting out such an inspirational Spacecrafter and, knowing the amount of work you put into these bulletins each month, we're ever grateful.

I am reading the "Life and Teachings of the Great Masters of the Far East" by Spaulding. For those of you who haven't read these books, they are a "must." To you who have, I am sure you feel as I do that they contain the most beautiful pattern for living one can read. Through these teachings I have found much peace and comfort, all of which is needed in this world of ours today.

Sincerely,

Gertrude Cummings

SPACECRAFT SIGHTINGS

The radio reported that a glowing 50-foot cigar-shaped object was seen in the skies near Cameron recently. The color changed to a brilliant orange, then it appeared to land. However, no trace of the object was found upon investigation. It was suggested by the announcer that probably the information was silenced by the military.

Theodore Moore sighted what appeared to be a large star coming straight down in the southwest with a very decided greenish tint, which he estimated to be about 20 miles distant. It appeared to strike the ground, but there was no explosion. Theodore watched the object for seven or eight seconds. Shortly thereafter, a helicopter from Luke Field, which apparently was searching for it, cut across the area in quarter-mile strips in each direction.

Franky Miller saw a stationary object in the west which flashed a red light on and off several times, then faded from view. A few seconds later it reappeared, flashing white, then disappeared again. After a short time it came back, flashing red, then disappeared altogether. The total time involved was probably three or four minutes.

ARE YOU STILL CHRISTMAS SHOPPING ?

Why don't you simplify your Christmas shopping and save yourself weary hours and "hurty" feet by solving some of your problems by giving friends and relatives Forum or Associate memberships in S. R. A. ? This is a gift that will really be appreciated and will last an entire year.

Also, our Librarian keeps an excellent supply of books for sale which make welcome gifts. Plan to do some "shopping" at our next Forum meeting on December 19.
