WHAT COSMIC AWARENESS CAN DO FOR YOU

Paul Shockley
Trance-Interpreter

Question:

In my last reading, why did Awareness say to ask: "Ask what this Awareness can do for you," if It only threw back the question to the asker?

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness indicated that you not ask what you can do for this Awareness, but what Awareness can do for you.

This Awareness asks: Have you asked yourself what Awareness can do for you? If not, this Awareness suggests that you ask yourself, What can Awareness do for me?

This Awareness suggests that you not necessarily think of Awareness as being limited to the Interpreter, or as being separated from yourself, for this Awareness is awaiting just outside your door, and will enter and converse with you whenever the door is open. This Awareness indicates, however, It is also open to the communication to you through the Interpreter and through the mails. This Awareness wishes to communicate with you in any way that is open, and appreciates your openness thus far.

This Awareness indicates It gave the suggestion that you ask not what you can do for Awareness, for this Awareness needs nothing in Itself because It has no self to need. This Awareness suggests that entities may ask: "What can Awareness do for me?"

This Awareness has never indicated that It would answer every question asked of It, nor that It would answer in the way entities might wish the answer to appear. This Awareness has never said that It would answer the question, "What can Awareness do for me?"

This Awareness will now indicate some things It will do and some things It will not do

(1). This Awareness will ever and always assist in any way possible to help entities to tune into higher levels of Awareness.

(2). This Awareness will ever and always remain open to communication with those who open their doors to communicate with this Awareness.

(3). This Awareness will ever and always give entities that which they need, but not necessarily that which they want.

(4). This Awareness will ever and always give entities that situation that is necessary for their soul growth, and will remove them from that situation whenever they have learned the necessary lessons of it.

(5). This Awareness will ever and always make demands on individuals who cling to separative actions, who seek power over others, who refuse to surrender their own self-interests to the will of this Awareness, which is the collective will of the Law of One.

(6). This Awareness will ever and always open the way by which entities may move in a path of least resistance toward that which is their own true purpose and direction.

- (7). This Awareness will ever and always work for the benefit of entities, never favoring one over the other, yet allowing favors to those who earn favors, and allowing obstacles to those who deserve obstacles, in accordance with the Law of Gratitude.
- (8). This Awareness will not do that thinking for you which you are capable of doing for yourself, nor will It make decisions for you and command you to follow.
- (9). This Awareness will not ask you to sacrifice yourself for It, though It will give that information which will allow you the opportunity to discover the usefulness of giving up certain aspects of your life that are not of any real value to your growth.
- (10). This Awareness will not assist one entity in rejecting or overthrowing or overpowering another, nor will It make selections for the choice of candidates. Though It may give some description of the qualities of candidates so that a clearer picture may arise for those who feel a decision must be made.
- (11). This Awareness will not reject anyone for any reason, though entities may reject It.
- (12). This Awareness will not be used or devoured by any entity to gain power or control over others, but will surely devour every entity with levels of Awareness, bit by bit, bite by bite, until each entity is a living cell of the body of Awareness, and all cells are experiencing total Cosmic Awareness under the Law of One.

This Awareness indicates that you have been given the keys to the Kingdom, whereby you can unlock the doors of your own will and consciousness and allow this Awareness to enter, and allow yourself to enter the Kingdom of Heaven which is within, and which will give unto you all that you ever desired, and more.

This Awareness indicates that wherein entities are given the keys but do not enter, preferring to stand outside and send someone else in to fetch certain treasures, that this Awareness can only sigh:

This is seen as likened unto a child who is given the opportunity to read, but refuses the opportunity and asks instead that someone else read the stories to him.

This Awareness indicates that the real purpose of Awareness channels is to open other channels for this Awareness, and that the messages given through these readings are designed more for that purpose than for solving specific personal problems of a temporary nature.

That these problems are but the results of having certain "wrong answers", shutdowns of channels and blown out communication networks. This Awareness wishes to restore the lines of communication between the physical world and the spiritual beings which are your true identities, and in so doing eliminate the causes of all problems, instead of dealing individually with each symptomatic resulting problem that appears in the moment-to-moment experiences of the ten billion souls which are a part of this Awareness.

This Awareness suggests that for those entities who do not wish to be devoured by levels of Awareness, yet wish answers to personal problems, that those entities may prefer to make use of a computer for their problem-solving, for there are many who are followers of the computer gods who are solving their personal problems, yet have no awareness of what is happening in the world apart from their personal problems and their solutions:

This as part of the continuing tragedy of the daily serial this Awareness must view, as the world turns.
