

Revelations

Awareness

85-4

The New-Age Cosmic Newsletter

$3.00

ISSUE NO. 267

Cosmic Awareness Communications

P. O. Box 115, Olympia, Washington 98507

Helping People Become Aware

What is Lust ?

Published by Cosmic Awareness Communications, P.O. Box 115, Olympia, Washington 98507. Reproduction is permitted.

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed Itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully-trained channels. The information contained herein was received from deep super-conscious 'trance' levels and 'interpreted' by an entity affiliated with C.A.C. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The Interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. The Interpreters published herein have no connection with, nor control over the editorial comments and material, including illustrations. This is entirely the responsibility of the editor. Members of C.A.C. are invited to send in questions of general interest to ask Awareness for possible publication in this newsletter.

Paul Shockley, Interpreter

WHAT KIND OF SEXUAL FEELINGS ARE ACCEPTABLE FROM THE COSMIC VIEWPOINT ?

( Do Words Create Morality ? )

QUESTION:

A question from R.E. "Awareness repeatedly spoke of lust, along with power and greed energies, as unnecessary and inappropriate, at least translated into behavior, and in the Indian Hindu Yoga chakra designations, the three lower chakras are classed as expressing forces such as those along with egotism or pride, while the fourth chakra at the heart is pure celestial selfless affection, the fifth near the thymus, pure amity, mercy compassion, and the sixth and 7th at the forehead or pineal and the pituitary or crown of the head, expressing forms of divine realization and cosmic consciousness. It is indicated the forces from the higher chakras, the 4th through 6th and 7th are Celestrian, but may be overpowered by lower chakra energies. Lust or sexual force is said to emanate out of the third chakra, from the coccyx in conjunction with the kundalini.

"Lust seems to be inconsonant with higher spirituality and the best feelings and behavior of humanity from various Awareness hints, and yet the sexual exchange and expression seems to have been condoned, at least where springing from altruistic love, mercy, consideration and sensitivity. This would seem to indicate that lust is egregiously unnecessary to normal sex desire although it would be difficult to see how engaging in frequent sex activity can be done without lust, which Awareness has said does not violate cosmic laws. Apparently then, slight sex desire and passion is necessary and appropriate in terms of sound relationships and marriage. In view of these seeming irreconcilables, will Awareness please indicate what is considered lust; whether this referred to unnecessary sexual passions; also please indicate what is within the realm of chaste and cosmically suitable feelings and actions?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that lust may be described best by the word 'obsession'; this in regard to appetite, an obsessive appetite for some particular goal; this in relation to a self-centered, self-oriented conquest. This Awareness indicates that wherein one experiences normal relationship with others in a manner whereby various chakras and different levels of relationship are interplaying and intertwined in that relationship, this is quite different from a relationship based merely on sexual obsession and the drive for conquest. This of course does not limit the meaning of the word lust to sex. This Awareness indicates the question was in regards to sexual lust; however, the gods of lust, greed and power are not necessarily obsessed with sex, --many are obsessed with money, many are obsessed with power over others; many are obsessed with grandeur and glory for self, and wherein one lusts after these or wherein one lusts after any form of treasure or aggrandizement of self or any form of self gratification, the action of lusting or being obsessed for selfishness, greed and for gaining power over others, this kind of lust is that which is unacceptable to this Awareness.

This Awareness indicates that you must also recognize the difference between need and lust. Wherein one has not eaten, wherein one is hungry and wherein one is obsessed in finding a meal, this may be similar to lust, yet is a necessity for one's normal balance and harmony in the universe. That likewise, one may have a sexual need and may pursue a particular course of action with great determination and focus, this may be a need in some cases, but wherein one's entire being is perpetually and chronically centered and obsessed with achieving a particular conquest and the entity is so fixated that he or she is unable to let go of that obsession, this kind of lust is that which shall prevent entities from developing properly until they have suffered the consequences of their obsession and have released themselves from that obsession.

IS GETTING "HORNY" THE SAME AS LUST ?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Awareness, many entities in order to 'make love' as they call it, or have sexual relations with the other partner, go through a ritual or through a certain preliminary state of arousal, sometimes referred to as 'getting horny'. Now, some entities say that people who get into these states are entering stages of lust. Would Awareness agree with that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the nature of preening as that which contributes to the sexual arousal. This Awareness indicates essentially, this as an action of drawing from the other attention of a magnetic nature. This arouses the magnetism of the other entity, this often called sexual energies. This Awareness indicates essentially, this as playing one part of a magnetic pole to attract the opposite magnetic influence from the other entity,--this also an action of polarizing oneself whereby the upper and lower spine areas become engaged in polarization. This Awareness indicates the mind through its imagery becomes one pole of the magnetic current and the genitals or other sexual organs begin reacting as other poles opposite, oppositely reflecting from the image in the mind. This Awareness indicates that this creates a stimulating effect on the magnetic currents of the body. When increased into increasing the voltage of current, the increase in amplitude of emotion or passions or magnetic flow of energies, so that the entire form becomes greatly aroused; this similar to increasing these energies in an electromagnet to give greater strength to the poles of that magnet.* This Awareness indicates that this action generally increases the life force within each entity. This is why many entities in coming together, feeling a magnetic pull toward another, referring to this pull as 'love'; these entities begin to feel that the other gives them life, that their life depends on the other. This Awareness indicates indeed entities can come more alive by increasing this magnetic field through sexual imagery, or through physical attraction and the interplay of these magnetic poles or energies between two compatible persons so that each feels greater magnetic energy and more life. This Awareness indicates that this can be termed 'lust' if one desires; that this is also lust for life or lust for the other entity.

This Awareness indicates the word 'lust' has a particular meaning but that word is relative, based on degree. When an entity becomes obsessed, that is a form of lust, yet there can be degrees of obsession; the question may be asked: how obsessed is one? This Awareness indicates that the nature of obsession is such that it depends on the amplitude of the energies and the fortitude of the role, these forces causing one to focus with intensity on object, may be called lust.

This Awareness indicates that the word 'lust' describes a combination of forces: amplitude, the increased energy, the increased force, fortitude, the direction and placement and role whereby that energy and force is sent along with time,--how long the duration of such obsession, fortitude, amplitude,--all of this is a matter of degree. This Awareness indicates that lust which lasts for a fleeting second is quite different from lust which lasts for years or a lifetime. This Awareness indicates that lust which is but a fleeting second is best described by the word 'desire'. This Awareness indicates that lust which lasts longer than a fleeting second may be described as a 'need', whereas lust which lingers what seems to be eternally to an entity must be described by the word 'lust' or 'obsession'; that when one becomes so obsessed or lustful that one cannot get out of the trap of that desire, then one is in trouble spiritually and socially and in many other ways. This Awareness indicates that all is a matter of degree, that entities cannot play with words and find morality, entities can only look at energies and discover balance and harmony or they may discover imbalance and disharmony.

* This is exactly what Awareness says occurs when an entity uses the South Pole of the Sam Millar magnetic Polarizer, and why Sam gets letters like the one from a 61 year old female who answered his questionnaire: "Yes, I noticed sexual awareness after NO interest in several years."

THE PURSUIT OF LOLITA -- IS THIS CONSIDERED LUST ?

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

Would Awareness indicate if the entity Humbert Humbert, portrayed in the best-selling book by Vladimir Nabokov, if this entity's obsession with the nubile Lolita is an example of sexual lust in an entity?*

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this may be considered in the affirmative to a degree. This Awareness indicates that much of karmic relationships which are experienced by entities whereby entities become overly obsessed with the action or being of another, this can also be considered lust, can also be part of the karmic trip, the karmic pattern or movement of energies which entities must eventually become free from, relieving those lustful patterns or obsessions so that they need not be caught in those obsessions. This Awareness indicates that again the question must always be asked: how strong is the karmic obsession, how strong is the karmic pattern, how lustful, how obsessed, what degree? It is not a matter of being lustful therefore being tossed aside as unworthy or being not lustful and therefore salvageable and acceptable, it is a matter of energy flow: How obsessed are you going to let yourself be in pursuing a particular goal which can lead you into oblivion, can lead your being into a trap, can lead you to do things which are out of harmony with the cosmic laws, can lead you into activities which are detrimental to your own well-being and the well-being of others. How far do you wish to go in this direction?

After 23 years, Nabokov's novel, Lolita, can still shock. Will Blanche Baker as Albee's Lolita have similar impact?

How hypnotized are you by your obsession? How trapped are you by that obsession? This god of lust is that which is created by entities who get caught in their own obsessions and make gods out of those obsessions to the point where they lust after these goals regardless of all consequences to others, regardless of all ramifications and effects on well-being, harmony and the balance of the cosmic laws. This Awareness indicates that to write laws by words is to make morality, but morality has no substance in reality for words do not convey reality, they only reflect reality like flat mirrors; the mirror image is not the reality, even though it may reflect the reality; the word is not the reality, even though it may reflect the reality; therefore the word 'lust' can have many, many, many meanings,—a different meaning for every individual, a different meaning by every individual for every situation wherein the individual uses this word. This Awareness indicates that it is not a matter of words, it is a matter of mind, a matter of consciousness, a matter of attitude: Does one allow one's attitude to be such that one becomes obsessed and focused in a direction so intently that all sense of balance and harmony with cosmic laws and other entities becomes lost and forgotten because of that obsession? Does one allow oneself to become so entrapped by an obsession or fixation on another entity or on a situation or on a goal so that one cannot find happiness in living except through the continued pursuit and attainment of that particular goal?

This Awareness indicates if so, then one has a problem which needs to be reconciled; that such problems are the creations of the entities who create such problems and may be uncreated by simply relieving themselves of the obsession which created the problem. This Awareness indicates many entities believe that they cannot escape their obsession because some force, some fate has driven them to this. This Awareness indicates this is generally but an excuse used by some entities to justify continued lust.

Paul Shockley's Lustful Obsession to Use Awareness

This Awareness indicates when such an entity discovers or recognizes that they cannot win in that pursuit, that they cannot find satisfaction in that pursuit, wherein all hope is lost, wherein all hope of attaining that end desire is lost, the entity then generally finds it possible to drop the project entirely. This Awareness indicates however, that many entities in their very makeup enjoy becoming obsessed with a project, pouring their energies into the attainment of that project and experience a kind of obsession because they believe that determination will bring them the success they need. That in many cases this quality can be most beneficial. This Awareness indicates that the present Interpreter as one who moved through many of these experiences, who lusted, who became obsessed, who went through many months and years of obsession on various situations, obsessed over various entities. This Awareness indicates that the obsession eventually took a turn and the entity became obsessed with discovering what Cosmic Awareness was all about.

This Awareness indicates this entity in becoming obsessed with discovering Cosmic Awareness, originally wished to make use of Cosmic Awareness so that he could have greater control over the conquest of his goals. This Awareness indicates however, that as the entity moved into greater understanding of Cosmic Awareness, the lust for power through Cosmic Awareness began to crumble and the entity found himself devoured by levels of awareness and being used by this Awareness rather than using this Awareness for his own lustful purposes.

This Awareness indicates this as intended to show entities that those qualities which entities often think of as being a negative quality, can in fact be transmuted and turned toward very beneficial qualities; those who lust after spiritual energies, those who lust after this Awareness, those who become obsessed with discovering who in fact they really are: these entities may find themselves making use of that energy for their own benefit. This Awareness indicates that the warning about obsession or lust, power and greed must be understood in terms of its application rather than simply as evil words, for the words themselves are not evil; the energies symbolized by the words can be negatively used or may be used for good.

Why all Words are Lies

This Awareness indicates likewise, words of power and greed have degrees of meaning and different applications in their own use. This Awareness indicates this is why It has previously indicated that all words are lies. It is necessary for entities who wish to discover truth to look behind the words at energies, for the words are but signposts describing the streets, describing the shops, describing the areas, describing the places, but wherein one simply looks at the words, one does not experience the city. This Awareness indicates those who are satisfied in thinking in terms of words without looking behind the words, are like those who look at a map of a city, read the streets and say, "Oh, yes, I understand this city."

This Awareness indicates they have no comprehension in reality for the city, until they walk down the street rather than simply looking at the name of the street on a map. Likewise, entities who speak the word 'lust' have no comprehension of that word until they have experienced to some degree what lust is. This Awareness indicates once one has experienced a portion, then one can imagine more and determine how far one wishes to go on that street of lust, if that street leads not to where you wish to go. This Awareness suggests that you then may turn around and move toward streets which are more harmonious to your desires.

This Awareness indicates that the roads of lust, power and greed lead into that area of the city wherein there are violations to human rights, as in no other part of the city, and the further entities go down these streets, the more so is the danger.

****

* The book, 'Lolita', by Vladimir Nabokov, is still available in most bookstores. Nabokov has been hailed as one of the greatest writers of this century. His novel, 'Lolita', one of but many, was made into a movie which starred James Mason as Humbert Humbert. Although the movie achieved some critical acclaim, it did not reveal the poetry, the sensitivity and the inner drives of the entity in his pursuit of the lovely nubile Lolita. If you have turned 40 and haven't yet read this incredible book, you should be hustling down to the bookstore to buy the paperback. (CAC does not stock this particular book; Vicki T. says it would 'inappropriate' to do so. This editor does not agree, but then, the book was written by a man for men and for those women who have fantasies, I suppose.) A new stage version by Edward Albee of 'Lolita' is to open soon on Broadway. I simply can't imagine how they would do this, having read the original book. Anyone who sees it, drop me a line!

DOES A STRONG LOVE FOR SOMEONE EFFECT ONE'S SOUL DEVELOPMENT?

(MORE ON THE AQUARIAN GOSPEL & SEX)

QUESTION:

A couple of questions from G.M. in Indiana. "In the Aquarian Gospel of Jesus the Christ, Jesus said the trial of love at the Hierophant was the most difficult of all trials. Does a very strong love for someone effect soul development, that is, make growth or service more difficult?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this as the same question wrapped in new clothing as has been answered many times. This Awareness indicates that essentially, the action of loving another deeply is not harmful to soul growth, does not hinder soul growth but in fact deepens one's understanding of others and of oneself, for entities learn through relationship. This Awareness indicates that in terms of the apparent meaning of this question in relation to sexual contact with another, the answer is again the same: that wherein entities wish to reserve that which may be termed their vital force, the entities will channel this force toward that which is either constructive or destructive depending on their own capabilities, that the restriction of this force, the sexual energy can only be held in check for a certain time, and it must express itself either in emotion, in sexual release or through some creative or destructive expression or through mental development through the energy which causes the entity to become agitated either mentally, emotionally, or spiritually and the energies may or may not be channeled properly, depending upon the entity's motivations, realizations, self control, understanding and general wisdom.

This Awareness suggests therefore, that entities in playing games with the sex energies, either inhibiting or expressing without responsibility for those expressions, are asking for trouble if they do not channel these energies with care, with responsibility, with understanding, with wisdom, and allow these energies to follow clear, honest relationships rather than basing relationships which follow the significance of sexual expression or inhibitions.

This Awareness indicates that entities who let their relationships follow and tag behind their sexual impulses and expressions, will receive difficulties and entities who allow their relationships to follow and tag behind sexual restrictions, inhibitions and repressions; these entities attempting to form relationships which are secondary to these repressing forces, will also find difficulties.

This Awareness suggests that your clear relationships be first, that these when based on honesty will allow the proper flow of the actions which control the sexual energies. This Awareness indicates that essentially entities must be aware of the dangers of sex and the use and abuse of this energy, that there are actions which abuse the entities involved, and actions which can abuse others besides the entities involved, and these must be recognized when present in a sexual relationship,--if these are present, entities must be aware of the situation, capable of taking responsibility for the actions.

This Awareness indicates that wherein there is no abuse to the parties involved, or to the other related or associated parties, then this becomes a beautiful communicative and intimate type of union, whereby entities may become closer to one another in spiritual as well as physical, emotional and mental communicative levels. This Awareness indicates that the denial of expressing love to another entity must not be construed as being a step toward greater spirituality, for this essentially can lead to spiritual snobbery and separateness and the vanity which may accompany this type of expression.

This Awareness indicates that the Aquarian Gospel of Jesus, in telling this story is also giving the story of an initiate moving toward Christ Consciousness, that the entity took the responsibility for his purpose, rather than to move toward a diversion in giving himself to this woman. This Awareness indicates this as symbolic of any entity whose purpose may be threatened by any type of temptation which lures the entity from his purpose. This Awareness indicates essentially this as being symbolic rather than moralistic. This Awareness indicates that entities may read what they wish from this particular passage, but that essentially this was not following the intended purpose of the philosophy. This Awareness indicates that the purpose in giving this was to discuss the difficulties, the challenge, the dedication of the entity in moving toward a particular state or status which the entity wished to achieve in his development on this plane for his particular purpose.

This Awareness indicates there are times wherein entities should develop themselves and avoid meaningless or shallow relationships; there are also times wherein meaningful and significant relationships are appropriate. This Awareness indicates too often entities pick an example of that which they consider to be the most perfect model and attempting to follow that model create a significance on a particular area of their human expression, either becoming obsessed in expressing in that way such as one might choose Casanova as a model, or another who denies any form of expression in that direction, such as the monk who decided that speaking with others was evil, and therefore sat upon a rock for many years, hopping down only to eat blades of grass, then moving back to the rock and into the meditation position.

This Awareness indicates these extremes are based on personal significances which the minds creates as to what is valued and what is not, as to what is right and what is wrong, and are closely associated with attitudes of vanity and self-aggrandizement, wherein the entity believes that 'if I succeed in avoiding or in indulging in this particular type of behavior, I surely am great and wonderful.' This Awareness indicates that too often, this is the motive for entities who begin by seeking self-improvement.

This Awareness indicates too often, the search for self-improvement simply ends in a gimmick of having spent a life of abstaining from some particular vice, or having spent a life of having overindulged in that particular vice or value, and the entity's life simply can be measured by how well the entity succeeded in indulging or avoiding that significant vice or value. This Awareness asks entities to consider: is this what really matters in one's life?

ED's Note: The book, The Aquarian Gospel of Jesus the Christ, was translated from the Akashic Records by Levi, and published by DeVorss & Co., Marina del Rey, Calif. (Also permanently stocked by CAC. Please refer to the CAC Book Catalog.) This book is highly recommended by Cosmic Awareness, who has indicated its content is valid information, depicting the life of Jesus, particularly his early missing years and his later ministry. Information not found in the Bible.

To find out if your telephone is bugged, call: 1-618-876-0001.
If you hear a busy signal....Federal bug.
If you hear a whistle.....No bug.
If you hear a phone ring.....State bug.

IN ORDER TO HEAL OTHERS, MUST WE CONQUER ALL PASSIONS OF THE LOWER SELF?

QUESTION:

Would the answer Awareness just gave to that question also answer his other question: "Where Jesus tells us to gain the power to heal the sick, control the spirit of the air, and raise the dead, we must conquer all passions of the lower self?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the term 'lower self' is in reference to that which is the overindulgence in the animalistic or passionate aspect of an entity's being, without regard for the higher manifestations and spiritual development of the being. This Awareness indicates that some people do need to abstain from certain forms of behavior because of their obsessions with these concepts, whereas others have the ability to consider these in proper perspective and to put greater significance on other levels, other attitudes, other concepts and other feelings. This Awareness indicates that wherein entities wish to heal others, the most important attitude is to care about others, care about the sorrow and suffering to such an extent that it becomes extremely important and significant to you, and the lower passions or the lower expressions of one's being, the self-indulgence which is referred to as the 'lower passions', these will begin to gradually fade from significance as you place greater significance on the care, the concern for the welfare and feelings of others.

This Awareness indicates that in loving with your heart, head and emotions and your feelings, in caring about the welfare of others, you engage the higher forces of your being and this leads to greater energies for healing. This Awareness indicates these entities who find their consciousness locked in the lower chakras, seeking release, are not such as would be concerned about the welfare, feelings or sufferings of others, and therefore, by their very nature will not be inclined to put themselves out to heal others, or to even make the attempt.

This Awareness indicates that those whose real concern is for the welfare and feelings of others, relate from the higher centers first, and in some cases, these may trigger off communication which leads to sexual activities from the lower centers, but the difference being that the relationship was based on communication from higher centers at the beginning and this establishes the foundation for that relationship.

This Awareness indicates so long as this foundation does not deteriorate and crumble, the relationship will be deep and meaningful and of a healing nature. This Awareness indicates that those based on lower chakras find much difficulty in developing and reaching a pure relationship leading toward higher spiritual expressions;

"I'm so bored I might even be interested in sex."

but even so, the difficulties are often transcended and entities find themselves becoming more concerned about the welfare and feelings for others and eventually the energies may lead to that which is a spiritual love, even though that love began from a mere sexual love.

This Awareness indicates that it appears that for entities to attempt to judge one another or even to judge themselves in regards to their behavior, can be quite confusing and may be in error, and this Awareness asks that you not judge yourself, but that you simply become aware, fully aware of your actions, your feelings, your motives, your urges, your hungers, your relationships; and the ramifications and results and potentials regarding their expressions. This Awareness indicates in this manner, you become responsible for yourself, at whatever level of development you have attained without being inhibited by rules and regulations, beliefs or taboos, you become aware and capable of right action based on wisdom, responsibility, understanding, and the mutual concern and respect for others, so that your actions do not bring problems to any others or to yourself.

This Awareness indicates when entities understand that rights must be given only with responsibility for those rights, for the proper expression of those rights, and that without the proper responsibility, entities do not have the rights; when entities understand this, then the external rules, regulations and taboos become less meaningful or fade entirely as the understanding and wisdom of the proper use of rights and responsibilities is brought into its appropriate expression.

WHAT IS HUMBRO THE SUPER-SECRET GOVERNMENT AGENCY?

QUESTION:

A question from J.C. in South Dakota. "Please describe in detail the mysterious government department which is called in army jargon: HUMBRO (Human Resources Research Office), whose decision it was to expose some 300,000 American servicemen to varying amounts of radiation in the 86 atomic test blasts in the Nevada desert from 1951 to 1963. Does this government department or its equivalent still exist, and exactly what are they up to?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it does not exist under that particular name, but that there are many areas and agencies within the government which cover research of a wide variety and which under other names involve information gathering of a nature that is often of controversial content. This Awareness indicates that this particular branch, at that time, this more of a specialized organization set up for testing and measuring effects of atomic energies and radiations. That this particular organization as that which was designed to give data on a new field of nuclear energy, by various forms of testing: underground, atmospheric, surface, underwater, and also in relation to personnel.

This Awareness indicates that these efforts to gain information regarding this new power as that which was the particular purpose of this organization during that time; that this as having been within a particular branch rather than being a branch in itself, this organization no longer functioning as an active research organization, but the records and information gathered are available to other branches and to other organizations or agencies within the government.*****

DID A UFO FALL IN RUSSIA?

(MORE ON THE 007 TRAGEDY)

QUESTION:

A question from D.A. "A recent issue of the Globe had a very interesting article that may have had some effect on the recent handling of the Korean airliner shooting. I'll quote from the article: 'Russian military forces may have captured a downed UFO on a remote island 500 miles Northwest of where they blasted KAL 007 out of the sky. U.S. intelligence sources and UFO experts say the alien craft and its crew were shot down by Soviet forces late that summer when it attempted to take off after crash-landing on deserted Shantar Island, on the Sea of Okhost.

"Top American security experts fear that the Russians may have shipped the star ship and its crew alive to the regional center of Kharbarovsk, to be sent on to a secret research center near Yakutsk, in Eastern Siberia. 'This is a very serious situation,' says Mark Stanley, a former CIA agent based in Washington DC. 'There's no telling what that space craft contained in the way of engines, various equipment and weapons.'

"There have been eye-witnesses to the capture of the alien craft, and huge railroad flat-cars, normally used to transport heavy equipment went in and out of the area for 10 days," says Jan Klashnov, a former Soviet intelligence officer who is now a Pentagon advisor. He said, 'the area was cordoned off by thousands of troops for several days, and no one was allowed to leave or enter and we have eye-witness accounts from several Eskimos who said that the crates aboard the flat-cars looked more like cages for living creatures than anything else.'

I'd like to ask Awareness if this was indeed a UFO crash, or was it, as I suspect, a Soviet Cosmosphere that was shot down by the United States, and was this connected in any way with the shooting down of the KAL jet near the same area?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this as having been a Cosmosphere; that this was but one of the factors involved; that generally this as having had little bearing on the shooting down of the airliner, although it did have some psychological impact on the attitudes of those in the military in that general area. This Awareness indicates that mostly the airliner as having been shot down in connection with the fear that information being gathered by the airliner in regard to secret military operations in the area of Russia, regarding their submarine bases, and Tesla-type devices; that Russia would be jeopardized by the information gathered.

This Awareness indicates that the shooting down of that particular space-craft as that which has added to the seriousness of the military in that area, putting them in a position of being even more alert and ready for a fight; but this Awareness indicates that even without that incident, the entities would have felt justified in shooting down the airliner to prevent spying on this particular area, for this as being a very sensitive area, militarily, to these entities.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

European papers have mentioned that both the Japanese and the South Koreans monitored, radar-monitored that plane, and they wonder why none of these people monitoring it warned the pilot that he was way off his course.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these entities were aware of the purpose of the mission.

(Closing Message)

This Awareness indicates that there are seen energies that look like hillsides with steel barbs growing from them; the steel barbs making it hostile to the trespasser. This Awareness indicates that it is symbolic of the militaristic attitudes which are prevalent on this earth plane. This Awareness wishes to see these steel barbs transferred into palm trees, flowers, bushes, grass, wherein there can be birds, animals, butterflies, and wherein entities can walk without fear.

***

ED's Note: For more info on the Korean 007 incident, please refer to 'Revelations of Awareness' No. 83-19 (Murder Will Out); $2.00 from CAC.

The Law of One

This Awareness indicates all is one;
There is the Law of One and all reside within this Law:
That all souls are cells of the body of this Awareness;
and when this Law is obeyed, there is no need for any entity to struggle and compete; for this is likened unto the parts of one's body fighting the other parts of one's body, and in general the body being at war with itself.
With the Law of One you may be at peace in the body of this Awareness..

Cosmic Awareness

WHY HIGH UNEMPLOYMENT IN COMPANIES WITH BILLION DOLLAR DEFENSE CONTRACTS?

...The Robots are Coming!

QUESTION:

In a recent session, Awareness commented, that some, a great deal in fact, of money going to the so-called defense build-up is being used for some of these underground installations the bigwigs plan to crawl into if a successful nuclear war is ever instigated. I'd like to ask: recently, the Boeing Company in Seattle announced it's going to be forced to lay off another 10,000 employees because the airlines aren't buying their planes. The Boeing Company has already laid off some 30 to 50,000 people in the last year or so. Yet in none of these articles about Boeing have they ever mentioned the war contracts they got. Now I have been clipping from the Wall Street Journal since last fall, the published war contracts, which are usually filed away in a back page, a list of companies that are awarded war contracts, and I went and checked this file, and there was some 20 or 30 contracts to Boeing within the last year, and I totalled these up and these were almost a billion dollars. Now in none of these articles do they ever refer to the war contracts Boeing has received. Now Mr. Reagan talked about the recession ending when his supply-side economics, the 'trickle-down' theory starts working, and the 'trickle-down' theory is, for a large part, these huge war contracts that he is handing out to these companies are going to result in the hiring of many of the now unemployed. Now, I started to add two and two together and it just didn't make four in this case. Would Awareness explain why a company like this is laying off people, when it's got a billion dollars worth of defense contracts they're not talking about?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears that the rationale of this company, in terms of their explanation of this action is that these entities being layed off at this time are not being useful in terms of the airlines operations, the development of commercial airplanes, and that the war contracts as not yet being ready to go into production; therefore, to keep these entities working during this time would be an unnecessary expense to the company.

This Awareness indicates however, that it appears there is something further involved in this. It appears that this company as planning in part to initiate robot-type machinery and to be extremely selective in terms of the personnel involved so that only those who meet certain requirements would be hired. Also, that there appears to be something else occurring in regard to the use of the money being appropriated to these corporations, this appears to be in reference to some form of combined types of actions which are of an ultra-secret nature, whereby the monies are not being used clearly, as publically indicated, but for certain ultra-secret purposes, whereby these companies only know portions of information, and are being financed in part to assist in operations associated with a more complex program than they themselves understand.

Essentially, the companies's rationale on this is that they intend to upgrade their plant and to use more mechanical, or robot-like machinery to do much of the work which has heretofore been done by employees.

IF ROBOTS DO ALL THE WORK, WHO WILL MAKE MONEY TO BUY THE PRODUCTS THEY PRODUCE?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

There's been a lot of talk by companies, many of the big companies, of installing robots, and that by the end of this century, robots will have taken the place of literally millions of workers in assembly lines. I'd like to ask Awareness: If robots become the workers of this country, who's going to have money to buy the products?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in order for money to be produced, it is only necessary that a printing press operate. In order for money to be distributed, it is only necessary that a network of banks and outlets be created to distribute money to individuals. It is not necessary that entities produce in order to acquire money; that is an arrangement of a society. The arrangement of a society wherein entities must work in order to acquire money is a strictly personal rule of the society; that this is similar to a family which requires the children to work for their allowance rather than simply giving the children their allowance.

This Awareness indicates that in terms of a society, it is possible that the society distribute money, just as it could distribute ration stamps which allow entities to purchase what they need. Therefore, theoretically, robots could be created in factories throughout the world which could take up millions of jobs, relieving entities from such occupations, and still the entities, under a benign government, could have the wealth necessary to sustain themselves in relative comfort. However, this would perhaps be ideal under an advanced and benign government, but this does not appear to be the case in this instance, for it appears that the action is more of a commercial purpose of those multinational corporations in conjunction with their puppet administration, to create greater diversity of classes so that as they improve their plants and need less reliance on human assistance, those who are relieved of duties may find themselves also being relieved of opportunities and experiencing greater hardships, as a greater division of classes occurs due to fewer opportunities of employment.

This Awareness indicates that depending on the degree in which this type of change occurs, it can have a devastating effect upon the working class. However, it appears that the working class, the masses, are not inclined to allow such actions to have an effect of totally devastating their lifestyle. Such entities will only allow things to go to a certain level, before a voice will be raised to challenge these actions and to create new opportunities.

This Awareness indicates essentially what is occurring on this plane, is that at an extremely rapid pace, changes are affecting the fiber of societies so that economic systems which have been present for hundreds of years shall be altered so that entities may have greater leisure time to pursue their own activities, and robots and machinery shall take over many of the menial chores. This Awareness indicates that in the process of this change, there will be many difficulties and great conflicts as entities cannot easily adjust to these changes, or see where things are leading, and will feel threatened and confused, and will be in conflict with each other over the changes which are occurring.

This Awareness indicates that for those who move through these transitions avoiding extreme conflict, the movement shall lead to greater leisure and time for personal pursuits. That eventually, citizens will receive payment whereby they may have their needs met without such demands placed upon their time and energy. However, this does not appear to be likely as an action reaching completion until the end of this decade. That during the '90s this will begin to be made manifest.

***

(Another Message from Michael)...

OVERSOULS & KARMIC FAMILIES

(YOU CAN'T FIGHT SPIRITUAL DESTINY)

QUESTION:

A question from W.E. "I would like to ask Awareness to comment on the validity of this metaphysical concept as presented in the book, Messages from Michael, by Chelsea Quin Yarlborough. This information was channeled from the mid-causal plane, an evolutionary level higher than the astral levels. The entity Michael states that entire entities were cast from the Universal Father, or Creative Force, and then fragment themselves into physical bodies, up to one thousand in number, and then stay trapped on the physical plane for however long it takes these fragments to experience all of the life cycles before integrating themselves back to the Oversoul.

"Once the integration is complete, the soul can then evolve upward to the higher planes above the astral levels. I seem to recall Awareness once stating that we are our own spiritual guides. I interpret this to mean that certain portions, or fragments of the entire soul counsel and guide the fragments still residing on the physical plane. Once all of the soul fragments complete their physical incarnations they integrate themselves and move onward.

"If this concept is valid, then there could be hundreds of soul fragments on this plane that are a part of a higher Creative Force of which I am inclusive. Does Awareness see this as the creative pattern for the casting of souls from the Universal Creative Force who in turn fragment themselves into physical expressions? If this is true, how could a complete joining of fragments occur if one of the fragments of my entity was someone like Jim Jones or Adolf Hitler, entities who have committed such horrible injustices that possibly, they may never evolve beyond the lowest of astral levels?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that you cannot confuse the personality with the soul evolution. This Awareness indicates that it is also indicated in the Kahuna philosophy; this concept of group unity with an Oversoul directing a number of entities. That the entity Kurt Vonnegut as also having referred to this concept of groups who were governed by some cause or Oversoul type of energy. This entity referred to these as entities of a certain karass, a term from Cat's Cradle.

This Awareness indicates that this type of identification with an Oversoul or overall spirit, a group mind, as that which links entities together in bonds of friendship and loyalty without a complete understanding of why. This Awareness indicates that this bond and loyalty goes beyond blood-relationship or even cultural or racial or national identifications. The entity who, for example, is from Indiana, and discovers another person from Indiana while traveling in South America, and goes around looking for people from Indiana, and linking up with them as though there was something in common; this is not the same thing.

The identification of entities brought together because of a common denominator in material interests or material identifications is not the same thing as the group soul, the group brought together because of an Oversoul. This Awareness indicates that while it is possible that two entities might be part of the same Oversoul and still be from Indiana, or still be in the same bloodline, it is not required that they have these things in common.

This Awareness indicates that generally however, what happens when there is a karass, or spiritual family formed under a group soul, generally what happens is that entities come together and after once meeting, return again and again without fully knowing why, having some kind of spiritual destiny together, sensing this without fully knowing what this spiritual destiny is, but sensing that this person is on the same path, even though perhaps quite different, and even though perhaps they do not get along very well at all, they still follow the same path and have a destiny together, and sensing this, return again and again, or keeps in contact over the years with this person, even when they may have differences or conflict between them.

This Awareness indicates that these spiritual families often reincarnate at the same time and if not in similar location, will gravitate to a location wherein they meet, and may reincarnate again and again in places whereby they come together and find themselves moving and working along a similar path or philosophy. This Awareness indicates that the fragmented portions may only come together after each has evolved sufficiently so that each knows its purpose and recognizes the necessity of working in harmony with others of the group.

This Awareness indicates that this often requires years of identification, association or working with others of the group and sometimes much conflict between the entities, but for some unknown or unclear reason, the entities never break off their friendships, never break off their relationships, or never break off their hostilities with each other until all is resolved, whether it takes one lifetime, or many lifetimes.

****

THE LAND OF THE FREE

In San Francisco Thursday, a couple accused of growing marijuana in their yard were indicted under a new law that allows the government to confiscate their property, worth $100,000.

USA Today,

Dec. 14, 1984

HIATAL HERNIA: A NEW TREATMENT

QUESTION:

A question from L.O., Sunnyvale, Calif. What are some ways to treat a hiatal hernia other than surgery?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there are certain entities who are capable of physically manipulating this to its proper place through several treatments; this manipulation can assist in the healing process. This Awareness suggests that you may contact a naturopathic college for information regarding any particular naturopathic doctors in the area who can be of assistance in this. This Awareness suggests also, that some chiropractic doctors are trained to assist this manipulation. This as a manual action which must be done with great care, and there are few who can do this properly, though there are a number who would like to practice.

This Awareness suggests that the entity Mija Katalps of Boring, Oregon, as one who is capable of this action. This Awareness suggests that the entity may write to her,-- this entity as a naturopathic and chiropractic doctor,--that the entity may write to her for further information regarding this situation. This Awareness suggests that this entity may assist in referring you to others who are capable of locating one who can help.

ED's Note: Mija Katalps Home Clinic, 11013 S.E. 120th Pl., Gresham, Oregon, 97030. Phone: (503) 658-4856.

QUESTION (Follow-Up):

He also wanted to know if hot castor oil packs would be effective?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This can be somewhat beneficial. This Awareness suggests however, that this not being effective except in mild cases; that the majority of these require greater attendance. This Awareness suggests that this entity can receive assistance from Mija Katalps on the procedure.

This Awareness suggests also, that the entity Mija Katalps could perhaps assist a local doctor over the telephone as this was being conducted, to help the local doctor perform the manual manipulation to pull this down. This Awareness indicates that there are also some therapists in the polarity therapy movement who are capable of this action; however, one must be very careful,-- for again there are many who would be willing to practice on the entity, but who have not had the experience of properly affecting the cure.

*****

WILL CANADA ALSO RECALL ITS MONEY?

QUESTION:

S.L. in British Columbia, Canada would like to ask Awareness if the money devaluation planned is likely to happen in Canada, the same way it will happen in the United States,--the recall of the money and the issuance of new bills?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this does not appear to be aimed at coinciding between these two countries; that such an event could occur independently, but this is not seen at this time.

****

PHYSICAL PAIN CAUSED BY INJURY

( PAPAINE & THE PATH OF SUFFERING )

QUESTION:

In a recent reading, Awareness covered the subject of pain. I have a question from P.R. in Pennsylvania, that concerns physical pain. It's a personal question, but I think it has some universal aspects to it, so I shall read his letter. It's a rather long one.

"I have a situation which if at all possible I would like to be addressed to Cosmic Awareness. I don't know how wide-spread it may be, but I do know others with similar situations. The question I'm about to ask revolves around the section in 'Revelations of Awareness' No. 83-15, in the section called Why Pain Exists and How to Overcome that Pain.

In 1978 I injured by back power-lifting in competition. I believe this was the first injury, although there may be something, or some occurrence during my childhood where there was damage inflicted, but I do not remember any such occurrence.

"In February of 1981, I was involved in a pretty bad car accident, and although I seemed to escape critical injuries, my pain has accelerated and become hard to bear at times. The problem is from my hips up into my neck/shoulder area. I have seen a chiropractor for over 2 years and have gotten no more than a few hours of relief in all this time.

"I have become disgusted with my own efforts in attempting to alleviate the pain and promote healing. I know of other people who have spinal area pain which is constant and they also find no or very little relief. The spine refuses to go into proper alignment, or stay there if it is aligned. The question I keep asking is: 'What can I do to alleviate this pain?'

There is reason behind my efforts; they revolve around the aforementioned section: soul growth. I could accept this pain as the Path of Suffering. In approaching two people in particular, I have gotten two different, yet similar answers. A sensitive I talked to said the pain is due to karma, of which some reasons were pointed out. In a Tarot reading by Sam Millar, it was not due to karma, and he suggested magnets, which I've been using for a month and a half.

"There seems to be no relief as of yet. These answers are similar in that they both point to a 'Path of Suffering,' yet, in reading the pain section of No. 83-15, I ask: 'If one understands he has chosen the Path of Suffering and no longer wishes his soul growth to continue on this path, should it still be difficult to overcome?'"

"I take this standing on the fact that I'm not interested only in doing away with the pain, but doing away with the pain so I can grow along lines I have chosen, or wish to choose to be my life work. Let me explain further. I am 27 years young and an electrical engineer. I do not feel I am aiding or being of service to people in this profession. Furthermore, I do not enjoy it. I enjoy participating in sports to channel off some of my stress energy. I want to get into writing, among other things. I feel I am very close to being able to take the risk of job occupational change at this point in time. Due to the pain, sports are almost a chore, but the enjoyment can overshadow this at times. My big concern is in writing. Sitting, which I do professionally at a desk as an engineer, is horrendous on my back. I need to be able to sit at a typewriter for good lengths of time to accomplish my goal.

"Any relief at all would be tremendous to me. Why is it so difficult to overcome? I feel I am looking for self-pity or complaining even as I write this. Is there something which I do not understand? Do I lack faith in the God Force? The situation does not make sense to me and it seems the harder I try to understand even what the readings states, the harder it seems to be to understand, yet I have not given up, nor do I every think I will. It just seems I am confused, lost, whatever.

"If anyone can help I would greatly appreciate this. I have put this letter off for some time because I felt somewhat guilty begging for help. I have come to a point where I badly want and need this to release me. Thanks for your time in considering this."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this being a physical affliction, caused by what may be termed "accidents", creating a certain condition; that there are ways of approaching this.

This Awareness suggests that there are always those who seek the magical or alchemical healing. There are also those who seek the technical healing. There are ways whereby entities can be healed slowly, or instantly, or through a series of manipulations to the spine, gradually over some period of time. There are also entities who carry pain throughout their lives due to a foolish moment or an accident wherein they twisted or turned too suddenly.

This Awareness indicates that for the more technological approach, which this Awareness suggests to you at this time, there is a new technique that has been recently discovered and is used by many doctors, whereby papain, an enzyme from the papaya is injected into the spine to assist in these injuries. This Awareness suggests that you investigate this and attempt to find out how you may receive such injections or speak to a doctor who can assist you in this manner.

This Awareness indicates that in considering the mystical approach, this Awareness indicates that for example, if you desire to make a metaphysical case of this condition, the psychological causes of the activities that led to this particular incident and the release of the blockings, whereby a magical or alchemical healing could take place; this Awareness suggests you refer to the Scorpio lessons, relating to alchemy.

This Awareness indicates that in reference to the massage or physical manipulation, this Awareness suggests that a physical therapist, an acupuncture doctor, or osteopath or chiropractic doctor may be of some benefit. It appears however, the quickest relief, although it may not be complete, would be papain injections. That there may still be some need for chiropractic adjustments on occasion, or for acupuncture treatments; that it appears acupuncture treatments can be beneficial in alleviating the pain, but that these are not seen as a total cure in themselves; that a series of acupuncture treatment, along with some chiropractic adjustments over a period of time appears to be the next best approach.

This Awareness suggests that the papain shots be considered first. That this assuming that you are most interested in ridding yourself of the pain, rather than experiencing the pain and using this as a platform for further discovery of how one might heal oneself through psychic or through alchemical forces. This Awareness indicates that the situation can be approached from many different ways, but that which is most expeditious is the approach which this Awareness recommends so long as it works properly.

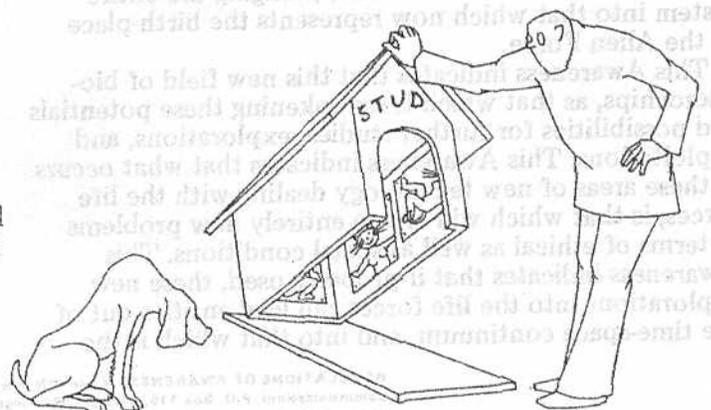

This Awareness suggests that you may still continue studying pain and the needs for dealing with pain, even after this symptom has left your system. This Awareness suggests that you perhaps need to look more carefully at your lifestyle, for becoming involved in sports of a competitive nature is flirting with injuries of this type, either for yourself or inflicting such on others.

****

Path of Righteousness

Some time ago outside St. Paul's Church was a large poster announcing, "Christ is coming." On the railings a notice said, "Please do not obstruct these gates."

—"The Times," London, Nov. 13.

NEW COMPUTER CHIPS--A DOORWAY INTO THE FOURTH DIMENSION, OR ANNIHILATION?

QUESTION:

A question from J.C. in South Dakota. "In the December issue of OMNI magazine, a bio-chip, a new innovation in computer technology is described. The bio-chip is a micro-computer chip made of protein which can, via a living bridge of embryonic nerve-cells, be implanted in and connected with the human brain, to create a 'living inter-face between an electrode-studded chip and the brain,' according to James McClear, one of the 6 member research teams EMV Associates, Inc., of Rockville, Md. Says McClear: "Computer and human intelligence are not antagonistic; they compliment each other beautifully. You might consider it a marriage made in heaven. The being of an individual so equipped, would live in the computer part, not in the Central Nervous System. It is also possible that when the corpus vanishes, its implant would survive, and could be transmitted to a fresh host."

"Well, that pretty much fits the specifications of an immortal soul, and if you have something that has intelligence, and the ability to communicate at high speed, it might well become a single consciousness, a superior and omnipotent being," says John Werung, EVN's co-founder. "We are so accustomed to thinking of ourselves as the crowning glory of evolution that it is difficult even to consider the possibility that we are merely the beginning of life, a potential for intellectual development that is limitless, once we take control of our biological destiny."

Awareness, is this a valid scenario, and what would be the disadvantages as well as advantages of such technology, especially since big business is now very interested and is already pumping money into this technology?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these concepts being very far reaching and of significant magnitude in reference to the potential development of consciousness. This Awareness indicates that in a more immediate sense, these concepts can be recognized as capable of creating a wide variety of situations that could lead to social conditions, or a society which could be quite beneficial to its inhabitants, or if misapplied, could create another situation similar to that which occurred on Tyrantor. This Awareness reminds entities of the Unholy 6 and the system known as Tyrantor, wherein the computer controlled the masses, and entities experienced perfect harmony for eons or ages, and whereby eventually a rebellion occurred, and entities altered the computer, and thus altered the consciousness of the inhabitants, plunging the entire system into that which now represents the birth-place of the Alien Force.

This Awareness indicates that this new field of bio-microchips, as that which is reawakening these potentials and possibilities for further studies, explorations, and exploitations. This Awareness indicates that what occurs in these areas of new technology dealing with the life forces, is that which will create entirely new problems in terms of ethical as well as social conditions. This Awareness indicates that if properly used, these new explorations into the life forces can lead entities out of the time-space continuum, and into that which is the fourth dimension.

This Awareness indicates that this as associated with the Elohim, wherein the movement out of the third dimensional realm into infinity, and the timeless immortality of life, created by the evolution of these entities, and allowed by those forces which were the immortal origins. This Awareness indicates that essentially, the movement from the immortal realms into the third dimensional materialistic realms, and back to the immortal realms, is that which must follow through the bridge between matter and life, and this new field dealing with the life forces is that field which opens the door for many of these pathways.

This Awareness indicates that as in all things, any information, any new discoveries, any new technologies may be used for good or for ill, depending on the motive of the ones using that tool.

***

ED's Note: for more information on this subject and about Tyrantor and the Unholy Six etc., please refer to 'Revelations of Awareness', No. 79-25 (The Secrets of the UFOs); $4.00 from CAC.

(Closing Message)

This Awareness indicates that there is seen that which is a primitive, ancient jungle setting, wherein entities have archaic tools of a most primitive order, wherein there is natural vegetation without restraint, without fences, without structures, without any forms of control over these jungle forces of nature. This Awareness indicates there is seen this in contrast to the present structured society, filled with technology, capable of destruction as has never been available before. This Awareness indicates that the primitive society of the jungle, as that of the past, and the present society of high technology, capable of great wonders or great destruction as that of the present, and these forces still superimposed upon one another, whereby these jungle tribes are now in control of these high technology forces, capable of great wonder or of great destruction, and the primitive urges of these jungle tribes as being such that anything can happen.

This Awareness indicates that the passions and the mind have not developed at the pace of technology, and therefore the technology is now in the hands of many who operate from jungle passions.

"HAVE YOU EVER THOUGHT ABOUT GETTING A NEWSPAPER ROUTE?"

Students flunk the ABCs of the USA

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (UPI) — An elementary geography test was flunked by nine out of 10 college students in North Carolina — including one who thought the "state of Atlanta" borders North Carolina, a study released yesterday showed.

"Truly these are depressing statistics. This is ignorance," said the professor who wrote the test, Dr. Richard Kopec, chairman of the geography department at the University of North Carolina.

Of the 1,875 students at eight of North Carolina's largest universities who took the test last September, 97 percent of the freshmen and 93 percent of the upperclassmen failed.

The students showed less knowledge of both world and national geography than pupils who took and failed a similar exam 34 years ago, Kopec said.

Less knowledge

Estimates of North Carolina's population ranged from 25,000 to 250 million and estimates of the U.S. population went as high as 236 billion.

"Fewer than half of the 1,875 students knew that Alaska and Texas are our two largest states and only about one in five knew that Rhode Island and Delaware are the smallest," Kopec said.

Among the countries believed by some students to separate Nicaragua from Panama were the Soviet Union and Cuba.

Kopec blamed the students' ignorance on a lack of emphasis on geography in elementary and high schools. Two-thirds of the students tested said they never had a course in geography.

Martyrs recruited

LONDON (AP) — The London Times reported today that Iran has set up a special military unit to prepare suicide squads to launch terrorist attacks in countries unsympathetic to its Islamic revolutionary regime.

The newspaper said documents obtained by an Iranian opposition movement identify Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, the United Arab Emirates, Jordan and France as prime targets.

The Times said the documents indicated that Iran was seeking "specialized military instructors who should be under 30 years old, preferably bachelors and who must be completely committed to martyrdom."

Shingles plague Nixon

NEW YORK — Former President Richard Nixon is in "excruciating pain" at his New Jersey home with a case of the shingles which has plagued him for the last month, the New York Daily News reported today.

A friend of the former president told the News that Nixon's physician, Dr. Harvey Klein, called it "the worst case of shingles he has ever seen."

The disease is caused by the chicken pox virus and affects the nerve endings, often resulting in blisters and sores.

Three Mile Island cover-up charged

WASHINGTON — The Nuclear Regulatory Commission conducted a "deliberate cover-up" of an informal health survey of people living near the Three Mile Island nuclear power plant, sponsors of the study asserted yesterday.

A commission spokesman said the survey had been studied and rejected as biased.

The study, sponsored by Norman and Marjorie Aamodt of Concerned Citizens, concluded that the cancer death rate in three areas around the plant is 700 times higher than would be expected for this population.

Marijuana crops top $16 billion

WASHINGTON — Americans harvested a record $16.6 billion worth of marijuana last year, with increasing amounts grown in personal "victory gardens" in basements and closets, the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws said yesterday.

NORML, which advocates legalization of "pot," estimated in its annual cultivation report that about 25 percent of the 11 million pounds grown domestically last year was produced indoors under plant lights.

While the number of indoor commercial operations remained stable at the 1983 figure of 200,000, the number of people growing their own marijuana indoors for personal use rose by one-third, reaching 4 million, NORML said.

The U.S. Agriculture Department estimates that the nation's corn crop last year was worth $19.5 billion, followed by hay at $11.5 billion and soybeans at $11.3 billion.

Near-misses in air often unreported

WASHINGTON (AP) — While new government accident statistics show 1984 to be one of the safest for major airlines, the Federal Aviation Administration is acknowledging that some near collisions went unreported in recent years.

FAA spokesman Edmund Pinto confirmed Thursday night that reports of some near in-flight collisions were never sent to Washington and, therefore, weren't included in annual statistics.

Pinto did not provide any specific numbers of unreported incidents, saying the total was less than 3 percent.

But ABC News reported Thursday that at least 102 near in-flight collisions had been confirmed during 1983 and 1984 and were unaccounted for in the FAA's figures. The agency's statistics claim to show a sharp reduction in such incidents during recent years.

Portrait of John Mitchell unveiled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Attorney General John Mitchell, who spent 19 months in federal prison for his role in the Watergate scandal, will have his portrait hung in the Justice Department, a spokesman said yesterday.

Missile test over Canada protested

GRAND FORKS, N.D. — A U.S. B-52 bomber bearing four unarmed cruise missiles successfully completed a test in Canadian airspace yesterday, amid protests on both sides of the border by activists saying Canada was forfeiting its "stance of neutrality" on nuclear weapons.

The B-52, that carried the four unarmed cruise missiles landed without incident at 5:38 p.m. CST (3:39 p.m. PST) at Grand Forks Air Force Base, about two hours after the test of the cruise missile's guidance systems concluded, Maj. Alton Waller said.

The air-launched cruise missiles are manufactured by Boeing Aerospace Co. at a plant in Kent.

Belgian envoy hears missile plea

WASHINGTON — Representatives of major U.S. peace and religious groups met yesterday with Belgian Ambassador Raoul Schoumaker to urge the Belgium government to delay deployment of the cruise missile.

"The Belgium government now has the unique opportunity to create real momentum for the upcoming U.S.-Soviet arms talks by taking an independent step," said Stephen Cary, chairman of the American Friends Service Committee and head of the group that met Schoumaker.

IRS gets more access

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court today made it easier for federal investigators to check on individual taxpayers who participate in tax shelters.

The justices, by a 9-0 vote, allowed Internal Revenue Service agents to get information about taxpayers from companies promoting the tax shelters without first having to go into court.

From staff wire reports

Reagan will cut arts

WASHINGTON — President Reagan plans to propose an 11.7 percent budget cutback for the National Endowment for the Arts, with programs supporting opera, music and dance absorbing most of the reductions, it was announced today.

White House House spokesman Larry Speakes confirmed a report in the New York Times that Reagan will request $144.3 million for the arts agency in fiscal 1986, some $500,000 more than he sought for the current fiscal year but down from the $163.7 million appropriated by Congress.

The program for opera and musical theater would be cut by 18.3 percent, to $4.9 million, while the music program would be cut 15 percent, to $13 million, and dance would be cut 13.5 percent, to $7.7 million.

Pastor's wife acquitted

BRAINERD, Minn. (AP) — A woman who admitted slaying her husband, a Baptist minister, has been acquitted by a jury after she testified that the man threatened to kill her and their four sons.

The Crow Wing County District Court jury deliberated for five hours Friday before finding Lucille Tisland, 32, innocent of first- and second-degree murder.

She admitted shooting the Rev. Robert Tisland in her Bemidji home on May 28, 1983, but testified she did it because she was afraid he would kill her and their sons.

When the verdict was read,

$50,000 just to fix a leaky toilet?

CHICAGO — A grand jury investigating home-repair schemes yesterday indicted 18 people, including a contractor whose company charged an 84-year-old widow $50,000 to fix a leaky toilet.

"We are seeking jail sentences in these cases," said Attorney General Neil Hartigan. "If a person uses a gun to rob an individual of $10, he goes to jail. So should a person who robs a couple out of their life savings."

The indictments included charges of conspiracy, criminal damage to property, and theft or attempted theft of more than $200,000 and two automobiles. They were returned by a Cook County grand jury as a result of Operation Home-Con.

Nude driver stops truckin'

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. — Police arrested a woman who allegedly drove nude on Interstate 95 and turned on the light inside her car to give passing truckers a better view.

The woman was a traffic hazard, said Volusia County Deputy Larry Humm, who made the arrest early Wednesday near a rest area north of State Road 40.

Humm said Toni Hardwick Smith, 33, of Rocky Mount, N.C., was also charged with drunken driving and possession of marijuana.

The officer said he heard radio chatter indicating the truckers were jockeying for position to get a better look at the unclothed woman, he said.

Humm stopped the car when it passed through the rest area. When he walked up to the car, he saw the woman scrambling to put on a shirt. Her pants were below her knees and she wore no underwear, Humm said.

The Olympian, Friday, January 18, 1985

Removal of church to improve target

BERLIN (AP) — West German police say East Germany plans to dynamite a Lutheran church at the Berlin Wall to improve border guards' field of fire along the Communist barrier.

The large red brick church, built in 1894, was closed by Communist authorities after the Berlin Wall was erected in 1961 to keep East Germans from fleeing to West Berlin.

Removing the church will give East German guards a clear view of the 10-foot barrier opposite the Wedding district in West Berlin. Communist authorities are known to be concerned that people trying to get to the West might approach the wall through the church and an adjacent cemetery.

Meese not fit to hold high office

President Reagan should abandon his effort to win Senate support for the appointment of Edwin Meese III as attorney general of the United States. If the president persists, the Senate should not confirm his appointment to this nation's highest law enforcement office.

Although an independent counsel who investigated 11 charges of misconduct by Meese failed to find basis to indict him on criminal charges, the report in no way vindicates the presidential adviser. To the contrary, it offers sufficient reason to deny Meese the privilege of serving as attorney general.

Naming an attorney general is one of the most important appointments made by a president. The attorney general is the nation's chief legal officer, its highest law enforcement official and, aside from the president and the Supreme Court, the official with the greatest responsibility for upholding federal laws and the Constitution.

The independent counsel ruled Meese did not violate criminal codes when he accepted financial favors from individuals he supported for appointment to high government positions and when he accepted appointment to a higher rank and pay in the Army Reserve. But the report offers substantial evidence that Meese, at best, is utterly insensitive to the ethical standards crucial to confidence in government.

Common Cause, the citizens' lobbying organization, has mounted a major effort to call national and congressional attention to Meese's unfitness to serve. Archibald Cox, the Watergate prosecutor and chairman of Common Cause, will seek to appear before the Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on the Meese confirmation.

Cox said, "Lack of evidence of violation of criminal statutes is one thing. Compliance with the ethical requirements of high office is quite another."

The uncontradicted evidence in the investigative report shows Meese repeatedly participated in the appointment of high government officials who had done, or were doing him financial favors. By so doing, he violated an executive order which proscribes conduct which might result in, or create the appearance of, giving preferential treatment to any organization or person.

The report also reveals the Secretary of the Army telephoned Meese to alert him to a memorandum pointing out that Meese's prompt promotion to high rank and pay in the reserve would not be a "regular and normal affair." Meese not only accepted the elevation in rank but called the Secretary of the Defense to urge reappointment of the general who was one of the principal architects of the promotion.

These failures on Meese's part show he is blind to the ethical standards and obligations required of every public official.

***

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger heads what is considered to be the mightiest military establishment in the world, but he's found out it might not be safe to go out at night.

A crowd waiting for tickets at Ford's Theatre in Washington, D.C., Wednesday night heckled Weinberger as he stepped from his limo. One woman shouted, "Hey! Sit by me. I've got a few things to tell you."

***

Hard to explain

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Lawyers being quizzed by an appellate court usually find an answer for every question, but some questions are harder than others.

Attorney John Wakefield was appealing his client's rape conviction Tuesday before the California Supreme Court. Aside from improperly admitted evidence, he declared, the case boiled down to "his word versus her word."

But, Chief Justice Rose Bird interjected, wasn't the defendant caught naked in the woman's bedroom?

Wakefield hesitated only a moment.

"I knew somebody was going to bring that up," he said. "It is a little hard to explain."

He then changed the subject.

From staff, wire reports

U.S. resumes war drills in Europe

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — The first of 18,700 U.S. troops representing about 50 active Army, Reserve and National Guard units will arrive in Europe this week for the first major winter maneuvers in five years, the U.S. Army said yesterday.

Aphrodisiacs don't work

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's no such thing as a love potion, the Food and Drug Administration says — at least not one that's safe, effective and available without a prescription.

So the agency is proposing a ban on over-the-counter aphrodisiacs.

The FDA issued a formal notice Wednesday that it is tentatively adopting the conclusions of an advisory board that has been studying non-prescription drugs that claim to arouse sexual desire. That move was a preparatory step to issuing a regulation banning such drugs.

Ad angers union

NEW YORK (AP) — An advertisement seeking "clean-cut, all-American" performers to work for free at President Reagan's inaugural celebration has union leaders threatening legal action and calling the plan insulting and arrogant.

"The ad is so incredibly insulting that when I first saw it, I thought it was a hoax," Actor's Equity Executive Secretary Alan Eisenberg said Monday of the advertisement in the current issue of Backstage.

A Day In The Life

Americans are obsessed with statistics: TV sports announcers crunch more numbers during the course of a football game than a mathematician, and pollsters tell us who's voting how, long before elections are held. Like the ancient seers who read the entrails of animals to fathom the unknown, compilers of statistics are thought to have mystical access to the inner secrets of our national life.

It was with great wonder and anticipation, then, that we picked up a new book called In One Day: The Things Americans Do in a Day, by Tom Parker (Houghton Mifflin). Because stored within this little paperback are scores of statistics about life in the United States—what we eat, what we suffer from, how we amuse ourselves, how we die. Forget The New York Times—this one volume contains all the information that you need to know. For instance, did you know that in one day:

1. Dogs bite 20 mail carriers.
2. Americans buy 50,000 new television sets.
3. We throw out 200,000 tons of edible food.
4. The average American eats one teaspoon of artificial col-

- ors, flavors, and preservatives.
5. Sixty people desert the military and almost 200 go AWOL.
6. Thirteen or 14 human bodies turn up that can't be identified.
7. Almost 6,000 teen-agers have sexual intercourse for the first time.
8. Twenty trains accidentally jump their tracks.
9. Americans spend $125,000 on tours and merchandise associated with Elvis Presley.
10. Americans buy more than 80,000 pieces of clothing and accessories with little alligators embroidered on them.
11. Some 2,200 Americans discover they have cancer.
12. Two American public officials are indicted on charges of corruption.
13. More than 8,000 Americans become pregnant by mistake.
14. Americans are x-rayed 650,000 times—of which, according to government sources, only 250,000 are necessary.
15. Two hundred Americans have their breasts enlarged, 90 have their breasts reduced, and a total of 35 have their breasts lifted or aimed in some other direction.

Pirates board liner

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — Eleven Filipino pirates used hooks to climb aboard a British liner in an attempt to rob passengers but a coast guard patrol boat fired shots that sank two of their outrigger boats and scared them off, the coast guard said today.

The coast guard in the central Philippine city of Cebu said the pirates jumped from the S.S. Coral Princess and fled in one remaining outrigger after the shots were fired.

Doc's breast exam went too far, claims woman

A pretty 21-year-old woman has accused her doctor of squeezing and sucking her breasts — while claiming he was testing for the presence of milk.

The Ashford, England, woman made the charge before Britain's General Medical Council, which charged the dirty doc with misconduct.

The unidentified patient said she went to the doctor because of a persistent cough and eye trouble. "I was sitting on the couch and he squeezed my nipples because he said he wanted to find out if there was milk," she said. "Then he leaned over and sucked my right breast."

"He said there was no milk and asked me if he could suck the other breast for the milk. I did not say anything and he leaned over and sucked my other breast."

"As I left he kissed me on the cheek and said goodbye. I was crying all the way home." The hearing is continuing.

Insanity Award of the Month

Give Permanent Pre-Hostility a Chance?

This month's award goes to the Pentagon for its innovative use of the English language. From the people who brought you the Peacekeeper (known to military illiterates as the MX missile), we offer the following:

- Peace is now called "permanent pre-hostility."
  - Civilian casualties in nuclear war are known as "collateral damage."
  - The Invasion of Grenada was a "pre-dawn vertical insertion."
- (Perhaps the MX will now be called the Permanent Pre-hostility Keeper?)

The Pentagon was already honored for its vocabulary by the National Council of Teachers of English with their 1984 Doublespeak Award. Top honors for the Doublespeak Award went to the State Department for officially replacing the word "killing" in their human rights reports with "unlawful or arbitrary deprivation of life."

Dog heroes recognized

ASHEBORO, N.C. (AP) — When Burnie Wilson was staring into the face of an angry 600-pound hog, he relied on a little help from man's best friend. And the help Wilson got from his German shepherd, Lady, has earned the dog special recognition.

Lady is one of nine finalists in the Ken-L Ration Dog Hero of the Year program, profiled in the January issue of Consumers Digest magazine.

Last Sept. 8, Wilson said he was confronted by an angry 600-pound sow while he was chasing six piglets. "That old sow, she charged me," he said Tuesday. "I beat her off with a stick, but she was still charging."

Then, Wilson said, he fell and broke his arm. To the rescue came 3-year-old Lady, who jumped on the sow, bit the animal in the neck and led it on a chase.

"I believe that sow would have tore me up," said Wilson. "She (Lady) is a wonderful dog."

Lady, however, faces stiff competition from eight other daring dogs, including:

- A Wisconsin collie that protected a man from an attacking bear.
- A Michigan German shepherd that found and brought help for a woman seriously injured when she fell off a horse.

• A New York mixed-breed puppy that kept a 2-year-old girl warm during the night until searchers found her.

• A California Labrador retriever-Irish setter mix that saved a man from drowning.

Last year's winner, Villa, then a 1-year-old Newfoundland, dug out a young girl trapped in a snowbank and dragged the girl 40 feet to her Villas, N.J., home.

Each year the contest, the only national one of its kind, receives "hundreds of letters and clippings" nominating plucky pooches, said Mary Breckenridge, publicist for Boasberg Co. in Kansas City, Mo., Quaker Oats Co.'s public relations firm.

Ken-L Ration, a division of Quaker Oats, sponsors the program, which is in its 31st year.

War Tax Resistance

As the tax season approaches, guides are available for persons considering some form of war tax resistance.

The Center on Law and Pacifism has put together a 1984 edition of People Pay for Peace, by William Durland. This guide details specific methods of war tax refusal, likely responses by the IRS, and potential legal consequences, including histories of civil and criminal cases. The author also analyzes the 1982 changes in the tax law and the resultant effect on war tax resisters. The paper-bound book is 108 pages long and costs $5, including postage. To order write Center on Law and Pacifism, Box 308, Cokedale, CO 81032; phone: (303) 846-4545.

The War Resisters League has revised the book Guide to War Tax Resistance. This guide describes several different methods of tax resistance and various responses of the IRS and includes sample W-4 and income tax forms. It gives a history of war tax resistance in the United States and around the world, and presents an analysis of military spending and the budget. The paper-bound guide is 122 pages long and costs $6, postage paid. To order write WRL, 330 Lafayette St., New York, NY 10012; phone: (212) 228-0450.