DINOSAURS

Have we seen the last of them?

Published by Cosmic Awareness Communications and the Universal Church of Awareness, COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully-trained channels. The information contained herein was received from deep super-conscious 'trance' levels and 'interpreted' by an entity affiliated with C.A.C. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. The interpreters published herein have no connection with, nor control over the editorial comments and material, including illustrations. This is entirely the responsibility of the editor. Members of C.A.C. are invited to send in questions of general interest to ask Awareness for possible publication in this newsletter.

ALL ABOUT PREHISTORIC MONSTERS

("ENTITIES HAVE NOT SEEN THE LAST OF THESE CREATURES")

QUESTION:

A question from W.E., of St. Paul, Minnesota, that he got from a book provided by JW of Jupiter, called Why We Are Here, and channeled by Gloria Lee some time back. And he says: "JW states that the real great wall of China was built to keep out large and ferocious animals that plagued man around the eras of Lemuria and Atlantis. Other barriers were also constructed around the globe, as in Peru, for example. I would like to ask Awareness about that particular epoch in this planet's history. Was there a time when the animals became so dangerous and numerous that they threatened mankind, forcing various civilizations to take drastic means to eradicate them?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is in the affirmative; that the period as that which has been mentioned in the Cayce readings wherein there were those meetings among the many heads of countries and cultures as to what can be done about these animals. This Awareness indicates that while much was done through these efforts of these entities in use of various rays and crystals to destroy these animals, much of the destruction of the animals came about through natural changes which occurred on the planet.

This Awareness indicates this at the time described as the sinking of Atlantis, this approximately 10,000 BC; that this due in part to effects on the weather and also the food supply. This Awareness indicates that these creatures as having been considered totally extinct, but in reality are not all totally extinct; there are still some around. This Awareness indicates that these generally being creatures that are in lakes, in water, or in deep caverns; that there are also eggs which may yet be hatched; that there is also an experiment in the making to bring back through a kind of cloning process, the mammoth.

This Awareness indicates that entities have not seen the last of these creatures, but that they shall never again be the threat which they were previously.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

He would also like to know, he was wondering how the animals became so big and powerful at that particular time, and why would these animals of such enormity and aggression evolve?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this as that which evolve over long periods of time due to heavy radiation upon this plane; the radiation as that which affected the reptilian species more than any other, this due to the warmth and heat, and the radiation led to the increase and size, the development of armor or of tusks or of teeth or of tail; that these being weapons which were developed by these creatures in order that they might survive, and the genetic reproduction of the creatures bringing over long periods of time a greater specialization of the very features that allow them to have their survival, eventually reached a point wherein the armor, or the tusks or the size of the tail, or the small brain and all of the parts of the body which served to protect the entity became overspecialized to the point of being a hindrance to survival, (whereas the smaller creatures which were more vulnerable could more easily move about and find food); these creatures having all of that armor and size were so powerful and so specialized that they could not adapt themselves to the changes that were necessary when the geophysical changes occurred.

This Awareness indicates that man was one of the creatures that was most able to adapt to changes, thus the entity who not only survived but who thrived from the changes in the geophysical climate.

WHY DID SO MANY FICTION WRITERS
SUDDENLY ALL WRITE ABOUT DINOSAURS?

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

Awareness, around the turn of the century and on up through the 20s and 30s, it was almost a fad that numerous authors would write stories about plateaus, hidden plateaus in jungles that contained prehistoric monsters and lost civilizations, and the numerous books written, particularly, about those adventurers who would search out the North and South Poles, finding entrances into the hollow earth and great civilizations containing these huge animals.

There are books by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, H.G. Wells, Edgar Rice Burroughs, even my mother's brother, my uncle, Edison Marshall wrote a book or two about that. I'd like to ask Awareness: Were they tapping in to some kind of consciousness that was valid, or was this just good adventure stories that just simultaneously happened during that particular time?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that many of these stories came about after the works of Darwin focused on the evolution of man, whereby many anthropologists and archeologists began exploring man's origin; that many archeologists began digging and making discoveries and these many discoveries were of great significance in the news at the time. This Awareness indicates that many of these discoveries related to the uncovering of dinosaurs, the bones of dinosaurs, and to the reassembling of information related to these beings and of their existence in the many thousands of millions of years previously.

This Awareness indicates that this was all a great emphasis on the history of the planet earth which altered the traditional teaching of the Bible, which at that time taught that the earth was approximately 6000 years old; that this being a kind of new field or cutting edge of science, whereby entities could speculate and could wonder about the types of beings or creatures which once roamed the earth.

This Awareness indicates that this did indeed trigger many fertile imaginations to write these stories of these creatures. This Awareness indicates however, that this may have been the cause of these stories, the actuality is that the stories were not too far from truth. That there are indeed still some creatures living that are left over from that era; that many of the small lizards which entities see are but remnants of that period.

This Awareness indicates that there are also those sea creatures such as in the Lake Champlain and Loch Ness Monster, and others which have been seen in the ocean. There are also land creatures in Africa and Australia and in other places which are remnants of this period. This Awareness indicates that in terms of the hollow earth; there are still creatures in certain areas within the catacombs of the earth.

WHAT ABOUT THOSE PETRIFIED DINOSAURS IN THE ST. LAWRENCE?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Speaking of Dinosaurs, I was wondering if Awareness had any more information It would care to give on the information some years back about the discovery of some petrified dinosaurs found on an island in the St. Lawrence River?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these dinosaurs or prehistoric creatures, (not all being dinosaurs), that these creatures as having been petrified whole, wherein they are not simply the bones of the creatures, but the entire beings, the entire bodies; this includes not simply an eye-socket in the head, but the eyeball itself; that these have been petrified by certain devices put in the area underground by those ancients who created this area as a lure to draw these beings into the area as a lure and a trap to destroy these creatures which were so threatening to humanity.

This Awareness indicates that when science, when the archeologists are ready to look at this and when they are ready to recognize these petrified beings for what they are, it will lead to a great new understanding of the creatures and of the civilizations of humans who lived at the time. That for those who cannot understand why science does not recognize these creatures if they have looked at them, this Awareness indicates that these creatures are likened unto hills with bushes growing out of them, buried part way up their bodies, sometimes just a head sticking out of the soil with grass growing from it, other times a larger part of the body with bushes growing from it.

This Awareness indicates it takes some open-mindedness to recognize that these are actual petrified beings; that not many scientists would even bother to look at a hillside and ask themselves if this was a petrified dinosaur, for it would seem too impossible, too unlikely, and one would not wish to risk his reputation to go and check out such a story. This Awareness indicates therefore, the dinosaurs sit and wait for man's discovery.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

I talked to an entity who actually tramped over that area, and he told me that in one spot one of these cracks had occurred clear through the creature, and what looked like different colors of rock, but shaped like intestines and organs and so forth was actually visible down there. Would Awareness confirm that this was actually what was seen, or was it something else?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this was what was seen. This Awareness indicates also that there are visible eyeballs in these creatures which are approximately 25 inches across; that these eyeballs also being petrified. This Awareness indicates that entities can look at this and simply say that this is a rock, or entities can look at this with greater discernment and see the shapes and see the organs and the proper proportions and placement of these features and recognize these creatures for what they are.

This Awareness indicates that there are approximately 20 to 30 of these creatures in this area.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

Someday, if the soil was dug down around all those creatures and the brush and stuff cleared away, probably even from a helicopter or an airplane, entities would be able to see the shapes and sizes and more likely realize that that was an entire herd of dinosaurs that was petrified. Would that be more or less correct if that happened?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates however, that in digging away, entities would need to be most cautious not to cause the crumbling of the creature. That it would need to be carefully dug and carefully engineered in such a way as to preserve the creature from collapsing due to supports being taken away; that some of the creatures could be better defined than other through the process of digging.

THOSE PETRIFIED DINOSAURS IN THE ST. LAWRENCE*" THE MOST SIGNIFICANT DISCOVERY OF THIS CENTURY "*Cosmic Awareness

ED's Note: In August of 1977, this editor received a telephone call from a very excited CAC member back East. He had just returned from Canada, having visited a longtime friend there, who lived on a big spread on an island in the St. Lawrence river. He told an incredible story of dinosaurs, some 20 odd varieties, sitting, laying and standing on a piece of his friend's land, which was approximately 2 or 3 acres of the total land he owned, these dinosaurs being petrified, now solid rock. Although brush and trees were growing out of them, upon close inspection one could see that these were indeed huge prehistoric animals, with eyes, feet, tails, genitalia etc. fully intact. These creatures were all assembled together as if somehow called to that particular spot. Some were obviously mothers, with small baby dinosaurs laying or sitting beside them. Others were huge, standing creatures as big as the average house. There were many varieties such as the great thunder lizard, the Brontosaurus, the Stegosaurus, the Dinoceras, Tyranosaurus Rex and numerous other varieties. (Awareness later said there were approximately 25 different kinds). This member had tramped over these acres, inspected these huge creatures and was totally convinced. He told me he had climbed upon one of them which contained a huge crack and could see viscera,--heart, intestines etc. all in color. He also inspected eyes, noses, feet etc. He told me his friend was so secretive and protective of his amazing find that he sat out there for many nights with a shotgun on his lap, afraid somehow someone might find out his secret and try to get it from him,

After weeks of trying to get the attention of the scientific community, the owner of the land contacted a television station, which reluctantly came out and filmed the dinosaurs as the owner excitedly pointed out the eyes and ears etc. on the creatures. Evidently there was some hassle at the TV station, because the show was not broadcast for a long time. Finally, it was released on April first, and the viewers were told it was all just an April Fool's joke. I told this member I would check the story out with Awareness at our next session. I did, and Awareness confirmed the find. It stated that the Universal Service foundation, a branch of the Aquarian church was to introduce the amazing discovery to the world, but first obtaining a government grant and making arrangement with the owner to insure the land would remain intact for scientists to study, and eventually a protected park would be made and the public could then inspect the monsters. None of this, of course, every occurred, as has most projects thus assigned. It was disclosed later that this would have been very difficult to pull off anyway as the owner of the land was very greedy and was holding out for several million dollars. At the session I asked questions about all of this and Awareness gave a long and involved reading, mainly on how to go about getting the land paid for and set aside as a park before the bull dozers got to it, or the land developers etc. Excerpts from the reading are as follows:

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this as being one of the most significant discoveries, if not the most significant, of this century.

This Awareness indicates that this shall lead to even greater discoveries than is apparent at this time. This Awareness indicates that there appears to be something more than dinosaurs in that area; that there appears to be something beneath these animals, that the pictures are not clear at this time; that further energies will clarify at later dates. That there is something in the area which drew these entities to this area, that this appears to have a connection in some way to the Atlantean scientific community, whereby these creatures were lured to this area. There appears to be the use of some type of laser-like weapon which affected these entities, yet this as not being clear at this time,—the energies being somewhat confused.*

This Awareness indicates this being the greatest discovery since Columbus discovered America. This in the sense of discovering that which has been hidden which once was known. This Awareness indicates that there are, of course, other discoveries, such as those of electricity, mechanics, atomic structures; but in reference to discovering things which relate to the past, this is an archeological discovery that surpasses anything in the past four or five hundred years. This Awareness indicates the discovery by Dr. Leakey of human remains which date back three million years and beyond as being of great significance, particularly in the consciousness of the masses upon this plane.

* ED's Note: in later readings, Awareness revealed that what lay beneath these monsters appeared to be human beings and very sophisticated laser-type equipment, probably equipment from Atlantis or from entities from outer space. It hinted that one reason these dinosaurs were not allowed to be accepted at this time, was because the CIA and others involved in violating entities would probably use these inventions for even more war and destruction.

ED's Note: For more information on prehistoric monsters, please refer to 'Revelations of Awareness' No. 78-15 (Prehistoric Creature Discovered); $2.00; 81-15 (The Dinosaur Hunt in Africa); $3.00; 85-13 (What Killed Off the Dinosaurs?); $3.00 from CAC.

WHAT KILLED ADELLE DAVIS ?

QUESTION:

A question from R.M. of Honolulu, Hawaii: "Adelle Davis, nutritionist, who did so much to inform the public about good nutrition, died a few years ago from bone cancer. What were the circumstances surrounding her illness? Was there foul play involved because of her opposition to established medicine"?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it appears that this was brought about from some form of contamination which occurred several years previously; that this does appear to have some mystery and intrigue in connection with her campaign to promote more healthful eating habits. This Awareness indicates that it does not appear however, to have come from any source of authority; that it appears to have resulted from some lesser level, not from a conspiracy of higher authorities. This Awareness indicates that it also appears that this was not connected to her eating habits or personal diet, but was brought on from some other aspect of her experience.

ED's Note: Adelle Davis wrote many books on health through nutrition. These are available in most health-food stores and much of the information they contain parallels similar information given by Awareness on this subject.

Love Chain

If you love this planet, if you want Peace on Earth and if you believe in the force of Love, JOIN THE LOVE CHAIN each Sunday at noon!

The only way to bring about Peace is through Love...

* First, by becoming a channel for this universal Force we can overcome despair and apathy, we can create a momentum of enthusiasm and thus set in motion the huge potential of human capabilities necessary to save the world.

* Secondly, in doing so, we transform ourselves because Love opens our heart and brings us happiness and serenity.

* Thirdly, we become able to change our priorities and our actions so they can be harmonized with this ideal of Love and therefore we transform the world in the most concrete way.

To join the Love Chain all you have to do is to...

* Take 15 minutes of your time each Sunday at noon, close your eyes and relax as much as you can.

* Open your heart to the universal Force of Love and let it freely flow through all your being.

* Unite your soul to the millions of souls already attuned and thus create a world-wide Love Chain.

In doing so, we will give Life to a powerful Being of Love synthesizing all humanity's Love and guiding us towards a New Age of Peace, Brotherhood and Light.

"WHEN SPIRIT DID WITHDRAW INTO ITSELF"

-WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

QUESTION:

A question from J.L., of Skokie, Ill. "I have a question for Awareness. In Revelations of Awareness No. 1 (the Philosophy), I quote: 'When the spirit did withdraw into itself, there was that manifestation of energy wherein creation takes place.' My question is: I always associated the withdrawing into itself as the dissolving of form. Please explain how creation was born of spirit withdrawing into itself."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the tendency of mind is to assume that things began with something existing, or nothing existing, and out of the something came space which reflected and accented the something, or out of the nothing came something which became emphasized by its essential presence in a sea of nothing. This Awareness indicates that is the way in which the mind tends to categorize or to think when it attempts to understand creation.

This Awareness indicates however, that to understand creation one must cease thinking in terms of nothing or something, and must simply think in terms of mind in existence, and mind creating images within itself, and these images being labeled as something or nothing. This Awareness indicates the ever-expanding universe expands forever because as mind seeks to perceive the outer limits of the universe, it also stretches and creates those outer limits, and the outer limits ever move further.

This Awareness indicates that as mind expands, the universe expands. As images are created, the realities are created. As images are defined, the realities are defined. As images are solidified, the realities become realities. This Awareness indicates that realize is to solidify an idea, and to make real is to create an image that is solidified as an idea becomes manifest and holding itself together for mind to enjoy.

This Awareness indicates there is nothing apart from mind or consciousness that has been created or will be created. This Awareness indicates that withdrawing into itself, simply means that mind, the creator, turned upon its own energies to create an image of itself and thus caused an alteration in the body, or virgin consciousness, so that there appeared something in the sea of nothing.

This Awareness indicates that when mind focuses, it creates from the plasma of consciousness a particular energy field in which the image that is focused manifests, either on the etheric level, on the mental or physical level, depending on the degree

This Awareness indicates that when mind enters into a manifestation into a focal point and from within that manifested form begins to expand and grow, rather than focusing outward or inward on a particular point, mind beginning to radiate from the point; this creates that which is the expansion of consciousness, moving back to spirit.

This Awareness indicates that in this manner entities create form, enter form, and leave form and dissolve form. This Awareness indicates that entities are mind, energies are mind, forms are mind, images are mind, all things are consciousness. This Awareness indicates that the vibrations, the frequencies are consciousness. This Awareness indicates that even as a drop in the ocean is water, so an individual in the sea of Cosmic Consciousness is also consciousness, is also Cosmic Consciousness. That the individual as water in the sea of consciousness, or the drop of water in the ocean of water are distinguished only by mind which defines one as being small, and the other as being large and totally inclusive.

This Awareness indicates that you as individuals are only limited in your potential to be Cosmic Consciousness by the limits you place upon yourself from the descriptions that your mind presents in its way of thinking about the experiences which you perceive. This Awareness indicates the entity who sees himself as a small insignificant, isolated portion of a huge impersonal universe; that entity experiencing the humility of being a part, a small insignificant part of this great universal creation; that entity is experiencing that humility because the entity sees the difference between the small self and the greater universal self.

This Awareness indicates that this is recognition of what is according to the interpretation of the entity's conditioning, or the entity's thought processes. This Awareness indicates that wherein the entity has been allowed to think differently and sees himself as also being the universe in its entirety manifested in this little tiny grain of sand, this insignificant little life, yet a reflection of the totality, a crystal containing all of the Light that the universe has shined towards this crystal; that entity may still feel humility even of that action of being part of such a grand design.

This Awareness indicates that wherein the entity sees the total and identifies with being the total, wherein the entity sees that the universe is God and all parts are God, the universe is alive, and everything within the universe is alive, and the fragments or atoms or Henries or Georges or Marys; all of these entities, whether human, whether atom, whether molecules, organs, substances...all of these things being alive, even organizations, structures, social groups and classes, each having their own essence and vibration, each being an entity of one magnitude or another,—all of these things are part of that total living being of the universe, and each one has as much right to claim significance as any other.

This Awareness indicates that it is not any one's prerogative to say that the individual is less important than the group, nor that the group is less important than the individual, for each one has its own claim and its own right to exist as it is without being compared, measured or judged by any other part.

A "FREQUENCY SWITCH" AND ALCHEMY

QUESTION:

A question from S.S., Williamsburg, N.Y. "I'd like to know Awareness' opinion on the concept of a 'Frequency Switch'. Dick Supten suggests this is the answer to the riddle of why the world consciousness, including physics and so forth, can be so clearly divided on the future of the world. It seems that a holocaust is being energized and people are more or less driven to self-destruct, but we know others (mainly psychics) who can see only a new world, a new age, the kind of world that could hardly come out of the ashes of such destruction."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this as related to alchemy. This Awareness suggests that in an alchemical action or in an action, for example, the making of wine, which is a type of alchemical action,—wherein putrefaction occurs, certain changes come about. This Awareness indicates that as certain things fall apart and decay, there comes a point of complete putrefaction. That after this occurs, then something else occurs and a reversal takes place, and the putrefied material then suddenly begins to produce something which is no longer decaying, but is in fact developing and growing.

This Awareness indicates that, essentially, the energies of the earth have been moving toward putrefaction, and that during the next thirty years, this putrefaction will have reached its apex and will begin decaying greater and greater quantity of energies which have been in their state of dissolution. And as this is occurring on the one level, there will also be that which begins to develop anew, springing forth and bringing forth the new age and new world. This Awareness suggests that entities who have been attuned to the messages which this Awareness has given, have looked at the putrefaction process, have seen the negative, and that there shall be other descriptions of the putrefaction. This Awareness indicates however, that the entities in watching this putrefaction, are advised not to identify with the dissolutionment, but rather to begin watching for the new which shall come out of the old dissolution energies.

This Awareness indicates that, essentially, the earth is on the brink of a long period whereby pollution, industry, economy, leadership of societies, morality, and social upheaval, and geographical upheaval, and weather shall begin to express much dissolutionment over the earth, creating more and more problems which cannot be dealt with by use of the old methods. That wherein more food needs to be produced for the ever-increasing population, demanding that more factories be built and more pollution emitted, then entities will suffer from that pollution. And whereby the population is set back, then this

PUT YOURSELF ON THE LINE.

THE LINE THAT LEADS TO THE END OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS

"We covenant together to bear public witness. Our opposition to nuclear weapons and the imperative of peace will be taken into the public arena: to our workplaces, to our community and civic organizations, to the media, to our governmental bodies, to the streets, and to the nuclear weapons facilities themselves."

from the New Abolitionist Covenant
Sojourners—August, 1981

On March 1st, 1986 be one of five thousand people who will leave homes, jobs, and schools, to walk from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C. We will walk 15 miles a day, 255 days, 3,235 miles. Our one goal: global nuclear disarmament. Nothing less.

We need you to make it happen. We need you to create a citizens movement so massive that world leaders will have no choice but to abolish nuclear weapons—to create a world in which our resources are no longer wasted on the arms race but are used to promote social and economic justice.

If you're eighteen or over or accompanied by a parent, in good physical condition, and ready to devote nearly a year of your life to peace, then step forward. Help turn hope into history.

means destruction, war, or starvation; or whereby entities cut back on the productivity in order to decrease pollution, then entities will suffer economically.

This Awareness indicates it has reached a point upon this earth whereby only a series of small shocks, or a series of breakdowns in all levels, can bring about the balancing and avoid the great crash or crisis which would totally destroy much of the earth and its population. This Awareness indicates that the best entities can hope for is a series of small crisis developments over a period of thirty years, to set entities back from the brink of disaster and to bring about new ways, new ideas, new methods of food production, energy production and governing systems.

This Awareness will have more to say on this at a later times. This Awareness suggests, however, that entities may wish to be aware of the crisis period which is coming and to be also aware that from this crisis, there comes forth a new beginning which will be a solution to the disillusionment which has been experienced from the old ways.

THE BOLSHEVIK GENERAL IN THE WHITE HOUSE IS NAMED

QUESTION:

One of our members, who formerly lived in Russia, wrote and asked if I'd ask the following question:

"Lately I've been having many discourses with my father, many more than before, mostly about politics, namely old Russians, Communist Russia, Bolsheviks and so on. Well, about a month or so ago, I started talking about this general who defected to the United States from Russia, and who wrote a book about his so-called "suffering" and who was even invited to the White House by Reagan, and had his picture taken with him which appeared in Russian immigrant newspapers, all of which are controlled and published by Jews.

"My father was very upset about this general, because as he says: 'The general never suffered compared to the Russian people. He is pointing fingers at other leaders of the Soviet Union while washing his hands of the whole dirty mess.'

"I started putting 2 and 2 together and I think I have put the puzzle together, which has bothered me for some time, so I asked my father who the general was. His reply was: P.G. Grigorienko. This general is active in Russian organizations now. Avaton, you may have already guessed who the general is, but in case you haven't, here it is, and I hope I'm right.

"A few years ago in the Awareness readings, Awareness mentioned that the Skoptsis have suffered a great setback because one very important general defected to the United States and spilled all the secrets to the U.S. Bolsheviks. Later, someone asked Awareness who the general was, and for some reason or other, there was no answer, and so since then I've been trying to find who the general was, and I think my father helped me to solve the puzzle.

"But I'm still not sure, so Avaton, I have a favor to ask of you. Could you please ask Awareness if this is the same general who is working for the Bolsheviks in the White House now?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative. This Awareness suggests that when this question is printed that you not include the entity's initials; the questioner's initials or name.

THE GURU'S DARK SECRET

QUESTION:

We have a question from J.B., of Motala, Sweden, and we usually don't ask questions of this type, but he's very insistent that this entity appears to have some pretty sinister elements...and so I'll read the question, but first I had better read the introduction of the letter so it'll make some sense. It says:

"Dear Vicki and Avaton. Thanks a lot for everything I receive through you. It's valuable. I haven't had before any really serious questions I wanted to ask Awareness, but now there is one very urgent question, not only important to me, but for thousands of people around the globe. I hope you do what you can for taking this question up. Due to its nature, it could rarely be answered correctly by anybody else except Awareness.

"The question is referring to an entity with tremendous mental power and spiritual power, that could not possibly be answered by anybody except one who is more powerful. I am aware that the nature of such type of questions like this one is very sensitive, and for you, not very easy to publish, so I agree if you do not want to publish the whole question and answer, please ask my question as whole for Awareness. For safety, I enclose a photograph of the entity the question refers to, with the full name and location, since I think otherwise the entity could be confused with other entities with similar names."

(I'm holding in my hand the picture of this entity, and I'll spell out the name: Sri Sabbha Sai Baba, living in Prasanthi, Nilayam, Penukonda, Taluka, Anantapur District, Andra Pradesh, India).

"This entity is perhaps the greatest living self-proclaimed godman/avatar in India, or the world at large. Can he claim to be God, or is he the most powerful miracle worker on earth? I'm not sure.

"I, together with millions, have witnessed his materializations out of his bare hands, and no one has been able to say that he is only making tricks. He seems to be omniscient, omnipresent, and omnipotent. Is it true? I'm not sure. I know he can read other people's thoughts and know past and future. His message seems to be that of love, peace, truth, right conduct, non-violence, and integrating all religions. He says he will succeed definitely.

"There have been written hundreds of books about this entity, who was born in 1926. Last week I received a book which confused me a lot. It's called Avatar of Night, The Hidden Side of Sai Baba, by Tal Brooke, an American who first met Sai Baba in 1970. This book states that Sai Baba has made homosexual actions with some of his devotees, and in fact is the Anti-christ power on earth, and that he has the mark of the Beast: 666 on his form.

"If it's true what this book is stating, it's terrible! It's supposedly the most sophisticated bluff in the spiritual area one can find. Please Awareness, comment on this, and if it is true, these negative statements about Sai Baba, if they are true, how to protect oneself from this entity? Most of the followers of Sai Baba in the West are older followers from another guru/master."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it does not appear that the entity who wrote the book regarding this man, as having been objective in his evaluation. This Awareness indicates that there does of course, in all entities, reside the dark side of the soul; every entity, regardless of their spiritual development has that portion within himself which is less than wholesome and perfect, and which the entity will always need to struggle with.

This Awareness indicates that this entity does have certain weaknesses or failings of the spiritual level, yet these are not seen as being anything of a great defect; that any entity having abilities such as this, having influence such as this, having the potential for greater influence and power such as this entity has, will always be subject to temptation, to misuse of such power. How the entity used this will determine much in regard to his future development and growth, and his role in society.

That at present, the entity having trained very seriously over long periods of time in those areas of metaphysics, meditation and the use of mind, attunement to vibrations; the power of concentration and imagination being heavily stressed in this man's training allows him to manifest and create, which may be seen as a kind of miracle to impress the masses.

This Awareness indicates that such an entity indeed can be dangerous and does need to be watched, although such an entity can also be an inspiration to help others to learn how they too may become more than they presently are; that as this entity shares his teachings, assists others in becoming more spiritually inclined and developed: this being the fruit of this entity's labor, may also serve as a measurement of his motive.

This Awareness indicates that if however, the entity's motive begins to shift toward personal aggrandizement, the desire to collect followers, the activities which impress others, claims which impress others, so that others follow this entity in a manner of worship, though they receive little information for their own soul growth and development; then entities might begin to suspect that this entity is on a personality power pursuit, using charisma to entrap others and to gain power over them; that not only using charisma, but also using forms of magic and so-called miracles to entrap the followers.

That wherein the entity is willing to share, and to give guidance and assistance to those who wish to grow spiritually, this then, is that which indicates the true master, and also those who are valuable as teachers.

This Awareness suggests that it is inappropriate for entities to expect to ride to heaven by association with one who claims a vehicle going in that direction; that you cannot get to heaven riding on the coattails of another. However, by being given information by one who is on the path, and able to move in that direction, one who can serve as an example, and one who can give you the guidance necessary so that you may travel in that direction on your own; such an entity can be of great assistance; that you may find it also helpful to identify with that individual and ride along, holding onto the coattails. This Awareness indicates however, that if the coattails and association is the only thing which you have as your ticket to heaven, that it is not a likely ticket. This Awareness suggests that it takes more than simply being a follower to evolve spiritually, although being a follower can serve to give you an example of how to be, so that you can develop your own abilities: spiritual, mental, emotional, social, or whatever, and thus improve your chances for greater evolvment toward enlightenment.

AMERICAN GRAFFITI

Likewise, association with those forces or entities who are detrimental to spiritual growth cannot deny you from moving toward your spiritual evolution; even as the entity Jesus was associated with the thieves and rabble of his time, still maintained his own spiritual strength. However, entities who associate with those of lower spiritual vibration, and who allow their spiritual vibrations to be diminished by following and holding those lower entities in high esteem will, by using these entities as examples, or models, will find themselves moving quite likely toward a detrimental direction.

This Awareness indicates that to some extent, the model you choose is that which is helpful to you, but still your own levels of consciousness, and your own spiritual worth and identification is that which is most important, and the teacher which gives to you those messages which are helpful in your soul growth is the teacher which is most important to you. That the teacher who simply glorifies himself in your eyes is not particularly helpful to you.

ED's Note: the concept of homosexuality is so highly charged, and in this particular case by the energy of the question, it is little wonder that Awareness, who makes no judgments anyway, deftly diverted this energy into a rap about gurus in general. Awareness has never pointed fingers and has never, to my knowledge, ever indicated that being a homosexual detracts from the spirituality of the entity. There does appear to be a kind of phenomenon in the psychic field wherein gurus and various types of channels often turn out to be homosexuals, which in turn upsets their followers and creates havoc with the organization. Right in this immediate area, I have personally observed this phenomenon a number of times. A world famous psychic medium in Seattle, who has branches of his church all over the country, created astonishment and dismay among his followers, when a scandal erupted and subsequent revelations, published in the newspapers, alleged the entity was homosexual. After a stint in the state penitentiary (allegedly for molestation), near death from a bout of cancer, the entity was released and again astounded his flock by announcing he was becoming a woman, and he did. Rev. Franklin Loehr, the author of "Power of Prayer on Plants and People" and a famous medium and reader in his own right, did the same thing: after years of being a man, became a woman, (presumably from a sex change operation). I think year later he became a man again. (I always wondered what his wife thought about all that). Awareness has never made a big thing about the sex life of entities on this plane; it is more concerned with one's soul growth and of how many the entity has served, and how well. The highly charged nature of the subject has come mainly from the hangups of the Judeo-Christian public, particularly right-wing fundamentalist types, who believe that sex in general is somehow evil (certainly non-spiritual) and homosexuality in particular, is somehow of the devil. They might be right, but first they need to delineate exactly what "devil" is. Anyway, it is highly unlikely that Cosmic Awareness would chew out an entity for being gay, for at least two of its interpreters that I know of were indeed homosexuals themselves. For example, Ralph DUBY, before Awareness took him over as a channel, was an active homosexual in Seattle. I have been told by one who attended some of the parties, that Ralph's appearance dressed in drag was almost legendary. When he finally admitted his past homosexuality one Sunday morning during an Organization of Awareness service, half his followers and ministers walked out, the organization was divided, but it survived. (I have a suspicion it was some kind of test Awareness was putting before its flock to see just how aware these entities had become during the association). Ralph publicly apologized for his condition and to the surprise of many, Awareness did not zap him with some cosmic bolt of lightning, but continued to channel through this entity some of the most beautiful and enlightening material that has ever come through any channel of any type. (Ralph DUBY was also a Jew, and some never forgave him for that either). So if readers of the Awareness messages expect Awareness to point fingers and chastise those who are gay, just because the reader has been programmed to think such entities are 'evil', they simply have not discerned what Awareness is all about. My personal theory about channels in general and Awareness channels in particular is that Cosmic Awareness is androgynous, so it stands to reason that a channel for Awareness should be as closely balanced in a similar manner, and like it or not, the homosexual entity does appear to often fall into this category. Entities should be reminded not to make judgments about sexual preferences of a guru or channel, but base their evaluations on what comes out of the mouth of the entity. (Avaton)

Khadafy hangs 'Israeli dog' tag on Reagan

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy has referred to President Reagan as an "Israeli dog," the official Libyan news agency JANA reported today.

Calling someone a dog is considered one of the worst possible insults by Arab Moslems.

The reference was in the complete Arabic text of remarks made by Khadafy in a news conference in Tripoli, the Libyan capital, on Sunday. The reference was not included in a French language text released earlier by JANA.

The Arab text as reported by JANA, monitored in Nicosia, said:

"Reagan discredited America because he became an Israeli dog, and it is not good for the president of America to become an Israeli dog. What happened at the Rome and Vienna airports is against Israel. Why did the Americans interfere to threaten us?

"Did Reagan consider himself an Israeli dog? This is not good for the American people and the American president, for Israel has many dogs lesser than Reagan."

At the news conference, Khadafy said Libya had gone on full alert following the movement of U.S. 6th Fleet warships in the Mediterranean. He said he would send suicide squads to strike America if an American attack materialized against Libya.

The United States accuses Libya of abetting the Abu Nidal Palestinian faction which it blames for airport raids that killed 19 people, including five Americans, in Rome and Vienna on Dec. 27. The attacks occurred near check-in counters of El Al Israel Airlines.

On Sunday, news services quoted Khadafy as denying that Palestinian terrorists are being trained in Libya.

JANA quoted Khadafy today as saying that "as to the source of the weapons obtained by the group which attacked the airports... this is something that concerns the guerrillas... We support their right to liberate Palestine. But at the same time we are not responsible for the Palestinian method toward that end."

Reagan to Gorbachev: Threat from ET's would unite Earth

FALLSTON, Md. (AP) — President Reagan revealed Wednesday that his discussions with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev touched not only on "Star Wars," but the extraterrestrial.

In an address to students at Fallston High School here, Reagan departed from his prepared remarks to say that in his private discussions with Gorbachev at last month's Geneva summit, he noted that "we're all God's children."

"I couldn't help but say to him, just think how easy his task and mine might be in these meetings that we held if suddenly if there was a threat to this world from some other species from another planet outside in the universe," Reagan said.

The president went on to say that such an event would force himself and Gorbachev to "forget all the little local differences that we have between our countries" and they would find out "that we really are all human beings here on this Earth together."

"Well, I don't suppose we can wait for some alien race to come down and threaten us," Reagan added. "But I think that between us we can bring about that realization."

The president then ended his remarks, without giving his young audience a clue as to how Gorbachev responded.

American industrialist Armand Hammer has engineered the first art exchange under a new U.S.-Soviet culture accord. It will bring 40 Soviet-owned masterpieces to the United States for two exhibits.

Hammer signed the agreement yesterday with Yevgeny Zaitsev, Soviet first deputy culture minister.

Under the exchange, the Hermitage Art Museum in Leningrad and Moscow's Pushkin Art Museum will provide 40 paintings by Paul Cezanne, Claude Monet, Pierre Auguste Renoir, Paul Gauguin, Vincent Van Gogh, Henri Matisse and Pablo Picasso.

They will be shown at the National Gallery for two months beginning May 1, then at the Los Angeles County Museum.

TAKING ON THE FED.

Rep. K.J. McDonald, a Republican state representative in the Minnesota Legislature, has sponsored a resolution in the Minnesota house calling for the repeal of the Federal Reserve Act of 1913, the legislation that established the Fed as America's privately owned and controlled banking monopoly that governs our nation's monetary system. McDonald, a Watertown Republican, says: "Something is wrong with the system when farmers and small businessmen across the nation are going into bankruptcy. The solution is to go back to the system the Constitution provided for, a system where Congress issues money, not banks. Now, the people of the United States pay interest on the money the banks create."

Smoker's face: Wrinkled, weary

LONDON (AP) — Cigarette smoking can lead to "smoker's face," a wrinkled, weary, haggard look that will give you away every time, a British doctor says.

In an article in the British Medical Journal, Dr. Douglas Model, a specialist in general medicine at Eastbourne District General Hospital, said his findings could be important in anti-smoking campaigns.

"In my experience, many people notice the ravages of smoking for the first time when it is pointed out to them that they can be identified by their faces alone," he wrote.

The journal, the main research magazine of the British Medical Association, accompanied Model's article with photographs of nine people, inviting readers to pick the smokers.

Among them were two well-known personalities, the late actor William Holden and the late poet W.H. Auden, both of whom smoked and had deeply lined faces.

Model said his survey confirmed earlier findings that "cigarette smoking causes readily recognizable wrinkling and other changes to the face of many people."

He said changes in the color and quality of the skin "suggest a toxic process." Other studies show that cigarette smoking reduces circulation to the skin in humans and mice, the doctor noted.

His article said three previous studies indicated a link between cigarette smoking and wrinkling and other changes in complexion.

The author defined smoker's face as at least one of the following:

- Crow's-feet at the corners of the eyes, or other lines, or wrinkles radiating at right angles from the upper or lower lips, or deep lines on the cheeks and lower jaw.
- A subtle gauntness, in some cases causing a slight sinking of the cheeks or a leather-like, worn or rugged appearance.
- A slightly gray, orange, purple or red complexion.

For the study, 116 volunteers aged 35 to 69 were chosen from patients attending general medical outpatient clinics at two hospitals in southeastern England.

Each volunteer was asked about age, diet, consumption of alcohol, smoking habits, occupation, recent weight changes and exposure to sunlight.

Among the volunteers were 41 current smokers, 37 past smokers and 38 non-smokers. Model said smoker's face was present in 19 current smokers and three who had quit, but none of the non-smokers had it.

Is U.S. Press Really So Free?

The editor: I was meeting a friend at library. As he was late, I drifted to the newspaper rack and picked the Dec. 15 London Sunday Times. A dline caught my eye: "U.S. Role in vadoran's brutal ordeal."

The story, by John Carlin, was elined San Salvador. It began: rious questions have arisen over United States' commitment to dictating human rights abuses in El lvador after evidence emerged of detention and torture of a lvadoran employee of the American 'bassy in San Salvador."

In September '85, Graciela mendez de Iglesias "was illegally tested and interrogated by U.S. officials, handed over to the Salvadoran Treasury Police — a notoriously brutal security force — repeatedly raped and tortured while in detention and further questioned by U.S. officials while in custody."

In October a judge ordered Graciela Menendez's release. She has since fled and is now one of hundreds of thousands of Salvadorans seeking sanctuary abroad.

The article is troubling because of the agony and brutality it describes. But Senora Menendez' ordeal is not the only issue. The story appears on Page 1 of the major newspaper of our major ally. The story did not appear on our front pages, or, as far as I know, anywhere in our papers.

Does this suggest that the world outside the U.S. knows more about our role in El Salvador than we do? Is there lots more we're not being told? Is our 'free press' really so free if it isn't willing — or doesn't dare — to focus on our government's brutality?

Income Tax Amendment Null, Void

EXCLUSIVE TO THE SPOTLIGHT
By Merle Naylor

The income tax amendment is null and void. That's the only conclusion one can make after reviewing a long-hidden document that has been discovered in the National Archives.

Patriots across America are swiftly becoming aware of the existence of this document, due in large part to the efforts of Bill Benson of Illinois. And now, as more and more Americans are coming to recognize the regressive and destructive fraud it is, the discovery of this document is sure to send shock waves through the nation.

This document will surely bring the Internal Revenue Service to its knees, for it shows beyond question that the income tax amendment was never Constitutionally ratified—that the 16th Amendment is, in short, "a law that never was."

The history books tell us that on February 3, 1913 the 16th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution was ratified. Two-thirds of the states—the number required by the Constitution—approved the proposed amendment; we are told, and the "progressive" individual income tax was set in place.

This document is a February 15, 1913 memorandum from the Office of the Solicitor of the Department of State. It sets forth, in detail, the numerous flaws, errors and deliberate alterations made by the various state legislatures in their consideration of the proposed amendment first ratified by Congress.

The memo proves, beyond any question, that only 27 states actually ratified the amendment, even though the State Department falsely certified 38 states as having ratified the amendment. And 11 states sent Congress alternative amend-

Bullies Driving Japanese Kids To Suicide

By RONALD E. YATES
Chicago Tribune

TOKYO — Japan's postwar educational system has hummed along like a well-oiled assembly line for 40 years, turning out literate, highly disciplined and properly motivated men and women trained to take their places in the Japanese workplace.

But in recent months a dark, disturbing side of what some educators have called the world's most efficient education system has emerged. It is a problem as old as school itself — bullying.

During 1985, nine children, all under 14, have committed suicide because their torment became so unbearable, police say. More than 20,000 others have refused to go to school, according to the Japanese Education Ministry.

In Japan, bullying, or "ijime," is a relentless process that can begin when a child enters elementary school and continues until the end of high school. It has been refined into a black art, complete with manuals written by students detailing methods of tormenting a victim.

Those singled out are viewed as somehow different by their tormentors. In most cases, the differences may be as subtle as the way a student answers questions in class, the way he combs his hair or even because he or she is shy.

Victims are harassed not only in school but on the way to and from school, on weekends, at nights, even during summer vacations.

In October, Seiji Sato, a quiet, soft-spoken 14-year-old, ended what authorities said was three years of incessant bullying by hanging himself in a barn with a vinyl hose. Near his body, police found a note demanding 15,000 yen ($75) and a bike.

Police theorize that Seiji hanged himself when he found he was unable to comply with the note's demands. An investigation later revealed that during his years of abuse, Seiji was forced to drink milk laced with detergent and eat weeds, and that he was often beaten and led around with a leash attached to a dog collar.

In November, a 13-year-old boy hurled himself in front of a speeding bullet train outside Kyoto. Authorities said a group of bullies had extorted money from the youth, burned him with cigarettes and forced him to spend hours crawling on his knees until they were bruised and bloody.

Three weeks ago, Tokyo police arrested 16 students who had been tormenting five junior high school students for more than two years.

See Bullies: Page C-2, Column 1

Bullies

The group, it was revealed, had written a 78-page illustrated manual replete with detailed instructions on how to intimidate others.

Some of the tactics included sticking hot pins under a victim's fingernails, forcing boys and girls to eat live insects and putting victims into Tokyo's rat-infested sewer system for hours at night.

The same week, Chiharu Kameda, 13, jumped to her death from her parents' 9th floor Tokyo apartment. She left a note that said, "I've been bullied by girl classmates. They now force me to push around another classmate. I can no longer take it."

Though some youngsters have opted to escape their tormentors by committing suicide, 26,215 junior high school and 2,977 elementary school students have elected to stay home from class rather than face the daily dose of abuse, according to the Education Ministry. Absenteeism in general is at a 10-year high; 47,098 students miss at least 30 days of school annually, the ministry said.

But bullying is not the only reason. Japan's rigid, inculcated system of education is a high-pressure environment where even elementary students are required to attend classes 210 days a year (compared with an average of 175 days in the United States), wear identical uniforms and in some cases march in neat lines to school.

Some of these rules go so far as to define the number of pleats allowed in a girl's skirt and require students with curly hair to carry certificates attesting that their hair is naturally curly, not "permed." Some students simply cannot stand up to it, the report said.

Last summer, an interim council on education set up by Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone reported that rigid uniformity was producing standardized students who lack individuality. "Also lacking," the report said, "is any kind of moral education about life, society and different philosophies."

"Conformity, discipline and academic performance are the three pillars of the Japanese education system," said Chiyoji Saito, a Tokyo junior high school teacher. "Our job is to make sure Japanese children can read and write, add and subtract. We don't care if they can dance or drive."

Critics of the Japanese system, including the Nakasone council, say the schools actually create an atmosphere for bullying by emphasizing sameness and by smacking down children who try to express their individuality.

The Education Ministry has ordered an unprecedented crackdown on bullying in Japan's 40,000 public elementary and secondary schools. Since last summer, a special squad of 30 Tokyo police have arrested 930 youngsters for assaulting and victimizing other students, and an ijime hot line has received more than 1,400 calls.

In addition, the Tokyo Office of Education announced last week that it will establish special "shelter classes" for students who are victims of school bullies. For children too traumatized to return to school, a Tokyo mental hospital has established therapy programs for victims.

"It seems incredible to me that we have let this problem go this far," said Michio Ishiyama, a Tokyo educational counselor. "It shows you where our priorities have been — create children who behave like mindless robots so they can serve the Japanese superstate so it can force us all to behave like robots."

Hookers spread the AIDS virus

More than 6,000 New York prostitutes carry killer AIDS and are spreading it to customers who mistakenly think they're safe because they're not gay.

Dr. James Staff of the National Institutes of Health warns in his new book, The AIDS Epidemic, that the diseased hookers are threatening the city with a literal "explosion of heterosexual AIDS cases."

Most of the AIDS-infected gals are drug users who picked up the virus from contaminated needles, said the expert.

News Food wrap film in cancer tests

SCIENTISTS in Birmingham were yesterday carrying out tests to discover whether using clear plastic film to cover food could cause cancer.

Food wrapped in the film, including lettuce and cheese was bought from city shops and supermarkets for the investigation.

The decision to order the probe follows American research, which linked additives in the film with cancer in animals.

West Midlands County Council's consumer services department now want to know to what extent the additives are passed on to the food.

A consumer spokesman said yesterday: "There are a lot of factors involved, such as the type of food, the length of time it spends wrapped and the temperature at which it is stored."

Fluoride Limits

The Environmental Protection Agency wants to almost double the maximum levels of fluoride it will allow in the nation's drinking water, to 4 milligrams per liter of water, even though the new standard is well above levels that can cause dental fluorosis, which causes tooth stains and bone damage.

The proposal has yet to be presented to the public for comment and hearings, though the EPA has a target date of March 1986 for implementation.

Fluoride, often added to water supplies to prevent tooth decay, occurs naturally in some water supplies. Under the current maximum level of 2.4 milligrams per liter, some communities have had to install expensive processes to reduce fluoride levels to EPA standards.

Medical evidence indicates that fluoride concentrations of more than 2 milligrams per liter can cause teeth to turn brown and to chip or crack. But Surgeon General C. Everett Koop says fluoride-stained teeth are only cosmetically damaging and are not a health hazard. The agency may urge a non-binding "secondary maximum contaminant level" of 2 milligrams per liter.

More Attacks on Your Financial Privacy

Ron Paul Investment Letter Dec. 1985

Last spring I warned of Washington's plan to kill financial privacy. Several bills have been introduced, but not a lot has happened. Congress is too busy demagoging the deficit and debt limit issue.

As the legislative session nears an end, however, the bills that will be jammed through on the last day amidst mass confusion are chosen. This is what I see happening with the "money laundering" bills.

The Treasury urged the elimination of all privacy in financial records before the Senate Judiciary Committee on August 29th, and endorsed bills introduced by Senators D'Amato and DeConcini. Of course, the Feds are only seeking drug dealers — not decent Americans trying to survive a government-created financial holocaust.

The Treasury-approved bills change the law in two significant ways. First, no financial institution will have any responsibility for maintaining the privacuity of depositor records. Now customers have some legal recourse if their financial institution turns over records without proper notification of the depositor.

Second, for the first time, the Treasury Secretary will be able to issue summonses for financial institutions. Subjects can include documents, officers, employees, former officers, former employees, or custodians of the records. People summoned will be exempt from civil liability no matter how they damage their customers, and the financial institutions will be encouraged to give private records to the federal government on their own without summonses. Since financial institutions depend on the federal government for their existence, expect all records to be delivered to the government at its discretion, and expect your banker to be recruited as an IRS spy.

Under the Right to Financial Privacy Act of 1976, the depositor is granted a modest degree of financial privacy (although not as much as guaranteed by the Constitution). That will soon disappear.

David Queen, testifying for the Treasury, said: "These (bills) would not compromise any legitimate privacy interests." If you believe that, he has a bridge he'd like to sell you. And he notes that they "provide...protection to financial institutions that cooperate."

We can expect an exponential growth of government harassment during the next five years. IRS agents, snooping bankers, and Treasury officials will be in a "bull market."

One Congressman once told me that if you have nothing to hide, you have nothing to fear. But liberty and privacy are not related issues, they are the same issue. Without a guarantee of privacy, and a right to say No to a snooping Big Brother, there can be no free society. ■

Horses killed

Thurston County sheriff's deputies today continued investigating the killing of two horses in the Bald Hills area in southeast Thurston County.

A resident in the 20000 block of Lonesome Lane early this morning reported the two male quarterhorses had been slain.

Their throats had been cut and the genitals of one had been cut out and were found lying beside it.

The man said his dogs began barking frantically at 11 p.m. Wednesday. At 12:15 a.m., a stallion kept in a fenced area near his house also became frantic. He went to check on it, then checked his other horses. He found the two dead horses in his field near the road.

He told deputies he feels he scared off the killers of the horses. Neighbors reported they neither saw nor heard anyone near the field, deputies said. The horses were valued at $2,000.

A rest home evicts woman who can't pay

By Kathleen Klein
P-I Reporter

Who would have guessed Alta McClellan would live past 100?

Not Alta, not her family, not the bank that handled her trust fund and not the nursing home that's evicting her because she ran out of money to pay her keep.

The 102-year-old is being transferred from Ballard Convalescent Center, her home for the last eight years, because the center does not accept patients whose bills are paid by Medicaid, a public program providing poor people's medical care.

Ballard is one of 14 King County nursing homes that do not contract with the state to take Medicaid patients, said Dennis Duvall, director of Citizens for Improvement of Nursing Homes. There are 77 nursing homes in the county.

Marijuana is No. 1 crop, group says

WASHINGTON — The value of U.S.-grown marijuana rose 12 percent last year to $18.6 billion in the face of the Reagan administration's highly publicized eradication campaign, the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws said yesterday.

NORML, which advocates legalization of marijuana, said pot edged out corn as the nation's No. 1 cash crop. However, the latest Agriculture Department estimates set the value of the 1985 corn harvest at a minimum of $20.49 billion.

Tally no! cry the foes of fox hunts

LONDON (UPI) — The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals launched a campaign yesterday against one of Britain's oldest traditions — horsemen thundering through the countryside in the fox hunt.

The New Money in Vietnam

The Vietnamese government just enacted a New Money. For each ten old currency units (dongs), people received one new unit in a 10 to one devaluation. The reason? In one aspect, the Reds were more honest than our politicians. They openly said the reason was to "reduce undeclared wealth" (i.e., to attack the underground economy). When the big turn-in took place, security procedures were very tight. All international flights were canceled and the country was sealed for several days.

There was another purpose as well, however, that the Communists didn't mention. The old exchange rate was 100 dongs to the dollar. A 10 to one exchange should have produced a 10-dong-to-the-dollar ratio, but shortly after the exchange it was 15 to one. The black (free) market is, of course, still functioning, although many people lost their savings, but the exchange did help hide an official 50% price hike.

I've argued that a 10 to one exchange is probably not in store for us when the New Money comes, but such a devaluation does have one advantage for the government. When a $1.00 item that should sell for a dime after the exchange instead goes to 15 cents, it may be more easily tolerated than if it suddenly jumped to $1.50.

This technique could be used to hide a lot of inflation when the financial holocaust hits and the big bailout is required. My personal guess is that knocking off one or two zeros will come later in the decade. But we should be prepared for anything, since we can never know exactly when the thief will strike. ■

Signal crosses up satellite

By John Hübner
USA TODAY

Is someone, perhaps an angry TV watcher, starting to interfere with satellite broadcasts? Maybe so, says the Home Satellite Newsletter.

The trade publication said: "From Oct. 23 to 25, an unidentified signal interfered with broadcasts handled by Hughes Communications' Galaxy 1 satellite. (The signals were transmitted by Showtime/The Movie Channel and Eastern Microwave Inc. serving New York TV station WOR.)

IS ELECTRONIC BANKING? ALSO VULNERABLE?

The alleged jamming caused severe interference that made it impossible to watch some TV broadcasts.

Penelope Longbottom, a Hughes spokeswoman, said Tuesday: "There was some interference and we'd like to know the source of the problem. We have no way of knowing if it were deliberate or not."

In a letter to the Federal Communications Commission, Eastern Microwave said: "Given the nature of the signal and its intelligent manipulation or control, deliberate interference must be considered."

EMI said TV watchers upset with attempts to scramble satellite TV broadcasts may well be attempting to interfere.

A jammer can be built for under $1,000, the newsletter said, and 24 USA communications satellites are vulnerable.

Court overrules moment of silence

NEWARK, N.J. — A federal appeals court decision striking down a mandatory daily moment of silence in New Jersey's schools is a "victory of religious freedom over government intrusion," opponents of the practice say.

The 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia on Tuesday ruled 2-1 that a 1982 law requiring the moment of silence was enacted with a religious purpose, violating the constitutional separation of church and state.

The statute, which never took effect, would require a moment of silence "for quiet and private contemplation or introspection" at the start of the day in public schools. It does not contain the word "prayer."

Monkeys were said to have died of AIDS at Harvard's experiment center (New England Regional Primate Research Center in Southborough, Mass.) as early as 1970. — AIDS can take from one to five years incubation period. AIDS epidemic in the U.S. started in the mid-70s.

FBI arrests man on spy charges

WASHINGTON — A man employed by a firm that does printing for the government was arrested by the FBI Friday night and charged with espionage, marking the 11th federal spying arrest this year.

Randy Miles Jeffries, 26, was accused of "gathering and attempting to deliver defense information to representatives of the Soviet Military Office" in Washington, a statement from FBI Director William H. Webster said.

The statement, released late Friday, said agents arrested Jeffries at 9:11 p.m. at motel at a downtown Washington intersection.

FBI spokesman Bill Carter said the firm's name would not be disclosed.

U.S. Leary went to jail, Gottlieb is one of the untouchables. He is living high, probably on taxpayers' money!

In the future, if we have a future, will we learn that once again one of our most prestigious universities is responsible for another carnage on our country, the spread of AIDS in the U.S.? Maybe Dr. Letvin can tell us!

NEW LIGHT ON THE CURRENCY CALL-IN:

The "New Economic Order" and "The Overprint Program"

From the Patterson Strategy Letter ("A Monthly Lesson in Criminal Politics") (Volume 5000—Issue 119) (P.O. Box 37812, Cincinnati, OH 45222; or P.O. Box 1059, 4001 Basel, Switzerland) ("a privately circulated financial newsletter, reflecting Trilateral control of the economy and dedicated to the protection of your retirement assets"), comes the following information.

Here is perhaps the clearest expose we have seen of the real reasons behind the plan for a new U.S. currency, and the ultimate control of all financial transactions (including private matters) by "Computer 666," and with identification upon the body of each person (see Rev. 13:16-18). It is now evident that the planning for a controlled world economy under one man's leadership is far advanced indeed. In fact, the Antichrist's control of world finance is nearly complete, and the trap is about to be sprung on every American!

The report follows (quote): Since the MLCP made the shocking announcement of market research being done on "new currencies" many have remained dubious about a call-in and replacement of United States currency! Even after it was reported in the New York Times (on Page One) doubts remained about the logic of such an idea. Obviously, the excuse given by the Fed—(the risk of counterfeiting)—is nonsense. Counterfeiting is a minor, small time crime and would not justify spending 50 cents of Federal money to reduce any more than it already has been. My explanation for the currency call-in was the implantation of metal strips and the possible use of a hologram on the currency to permit the careful control of large sums of cash through and across national borders.

These concepts have been analyzed and repeated by many other publishers over the last two years! While there is a sound basis for such beliefs—many remain unconvinced. Why?—some just don't believe the Treasury (and the Fed) would dare risk losing the confidence of the public in such a maneuver. I concede—it would be very risky! . . . After all, if the public lost confidence in the currency—it could foster a shift into precious metals and collectibles—creating a possible fatal drain on the Treasury's ability to float endless reams of Treasury debt. It really would be very risky. On the basis of the benefits to be derived, as so far explained—a currency call-in just doesn't make much sense. There must be some greater benefit to be derived and I believe I have discovered it.

HOW TO REACH—THE "NEW ECONOMIC ORDER"! Could there be some benefit to the currency call-in which no one has yet perceived?? A critically important piece of this puzzle has been discovered . . . yes, a much greater goal can be reached than simply blocking the transfer of cash over national boundaries. The fact is, the elitists want to get all countries into a one-world economic order—in which there is only one single currency. But—how could a call-in of United States currency facilitate such a move to a new economic order?

The reality is—that other countries have already reissued new currency—including Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Spain—and the more critical countries of England, France, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands and Western Germany. All these countries have gradually replaced earlier issues and many (including England and West Germany) have clearly imbedded metal strips!! Since new currency is issued on a continuous basis we cannot possibly be accurate in determining what other countries are doing at this very moment in time! But the currencies obtained from local banks exhibit one shocking similar feature.

We have been dumbfounded to find—a common feature of these new bills. All these bills provide approximately the same amount of blank space!—It can only be for one conceivable purpose:—an overprint—of a "world currency denomination" [on the left end of each bill (note)!]

Especially striking is the new currency of France—The plain white block sticks out like a sore thumb! It is patently obvious—that the blank square is being prepared for some special purpose. Look at the Belgian Franc. The circle over the "50" designation can hardly be there by accident. What is intended for all these blank circles and squares?? There can be only one logical answer—That is, a massive overprint program to create the one world currency at some point in the future. Why later on? Because U.S. currency does not provide a blank space for an overprint!

U.S. does not provide a blank overprint space! Yes, that's right! Only the United States currency remains to be called in and reissued—to provide for the convenient blank white square or circle for purposes of imprinting the denomination of a world currency! . . . Why else are all these countries creating obviously unused space on their currency?—I was absolutely amazed! It is incredible that this has remained unnoticed. . . .

WHAT IT MEANS (?) It means that we have finally solved the riddle of a new United States currency. Regardless of risks—it MUST BE ISSUED—otherwise there can be no overprint at the appropriate time—to merge the United States into a one-world financial monetary and political system!!! This is their goal! This is what they're after—to do away with nation states! National money must be done away with if nation states are to succumb. Herein lies full justification for the risks involved—in such an expensive, time-consuming and risky venture. Those who have doubted that a currency call-in was to become reality, can now settle in their minds that the ugly plans that are being laid out for all of us are real! . . .

DEVALUATION [is] likely to occur at the time of overprint—at the time of the currency call-in! We have discussed in detail (see the March 31st, '84 issue)—the concept of a "reverse currency split"—and a devaluation against gold. Some analysts believe a reverse split and devaluation is unlikely at the time of a reissuance of the U.S. Dollar. No one knows, of course, but it may be more than likely that a devaluation will not occur at the time of the call-in! But rather at the time of world-wide overprint of all currencies!

An overprint of national currencies has the advantage of a "world designation" (and denomination)—while at the same time giving people a "security blanket" of their individual national currencies! Remember, it is absolutely imperative that a run from paper currency into precious metals must be avoided at all costs! Since overprint facilitates the greatest security against a panic, it is more than likely that it will become a reality for merging the U.S. with all UN-IMF countries!

PLANS ARE HIGHLY ADVANCED! If you doubt that the elitists have advanced in their planning for a new economic order, consider: a group of 36 international banks formed the Ditchley Group in London in May of 1982. Among the members are the Bank for International Settlements, the IMF, the Bank of England, the U.S. Fed and the World Bank. They discussed a new currency system was needed under a "world central bank" which would have direct control of the economies, currencies and debts of both debtor and creditor nations. Our research shows—WE ARE AT AN ADVANCED STAGE OF PREPARATIONS!

In his article "International Banking is Out of Control!" written for the Brookings Institution left-wing think tank, Richard S. Dale has argued for the necessity of a "new world banking order." Frank Feather, president of Global Futures Network of Toronto, Canada sees a truly global economy evolving. He believes it will have a single world currency—and one central bank—(U.S. News & World Report).

Notice there is a theme to these reports—THEY ALL USE THE SAME CATCH PHRASES! At the World Future

Society's 1984 annual meeting (now get this)—the World Constitution and Parliamentary Association announced its plans for the operation of the "world gov't" by 1990. Their planned New World Order would include a world financial administration and would operate an interplanetary banking system which would provide what they call "distributive justice" of the world's economic resources. There would also be a world income tax, and naturally—a world police force.

The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) revealed its plans for a world currency in the Fall 1984 issue of its revealing journal "Foreign Affairs. On page 166, Harvard professor and Trilateralist, Richard Cooper, states, "I suggest a radical change . . . the creation of a common currency for all of the industrial democracies, with a common monetary policy and a joint bank of issue to determine that policy."

RONALD REAGAN—HAS ALREADY AGREED TO THE WORLD GOVERNMENT! At the Spring, 1983 Williamsburg economic summit, President Reagan stated: "The evidence is compelling that reconsideration of the world monetary system is overdue. Therefore, national economies need monetary coordination mechanisms and that is why an integrated world economy needs a common monetary standard which is the best neutral inflationary coordinating device—But no national currency will do—only a world currency will work."

EMERGENCY [is] ALREADY DECLARED! Reagan not only advocated a world currency but shortly thereafter cleared the way for it to occur in the U.S. by declaring a national economic emergency" and in the Weekly Compilation of Presidential Documents stated October 17, 1983, Reagan is quoted as saying, "I, Ronald Reagan find that the unrestricted access of foreign parties to the U.S. commercial goods, technology, and technical data constitutes an unusual and extraordinary threat to the national security and hereby declare a national economic emergency to deal with this threat."

AGENCIES EXIST—to manage the crisis! Therefore, we have the groundwork laid for the instantaneous call-in of the currency and temporary bank shutdown should the need arise. Some excuse will give rise to this "artificial emergency." It could be the influx of illegal aliens or a major banking collapse. Whatever, we are already prepared for a "state of national economic emergency." A Federal agency has already been created to manage such an emergency. It is the Federal Emergency Management Agency—(FEMA). It can be activated at any moment, to freeze your bank account or limit withdrawals. (As readers already realize, bank withdrawals have been limited at savings banks in Ohio and Maryland during the last twelve months.)

THE $100,000 FDIC GUARANTEE could become meaningless! Facing national bankruptcy as we do now—Federal guarantees of bank deposits are hardly worth the paper they are written on. Such guarantees can be canceled under an economic emergency—which has already been declared! Furthermore, that may not even be necessary to cancel the guarantee. A simple limit on your withdrawals effectively cancels the guarantee! Yes, it's true! If you stop and think about it, a limitation on your withdrawals voids the guarantee! If you are only permitted what the gov't says you need—the rest of your money is considered as "excess." That which is unavailable to you may make you "feel wealthy" but yet may never be available to actually spend!

What good is a guarantee of the FDIC—under a limitation on withdrawals?? You have nothing but a worthless book entry—fully guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation—(isn't it wonderful?) You, the account-holder would never know when your "excess funds" could be withdrawn! Facing national bankruptcy as we do—I believe such a limitation on withdrawals will become a reality for all American bank depositors!

HOW TO PROTECT YOURSELF and loved ones—What should be done? For living expenses, you should have U.S. junk silver coins (one bag per family member). 25-50% of investment funds should be held in United States legal tender numismatic gold which has never been called in or restricted in any way—even by FDR in the Great Depression! Beyond that, excess funds can be held in a safe depository in Switzerland. At the present time, we recommend Pound Sterling. . . .

THE STEPS—TO A "WORLD ECONOMIC ORDER":

I believe the following steps may be utilized to reach the ultimate "World Economic Order." They are: First, issue a new national currency here in the U.S. to join all other Trilateral countries that have prepared for the overprint process. Later on—(I make no guess as to timing)—overprint all bills with the new world monetary unit. Keep in mind—this stamping process is not a "reprinting." It can be done by hand at banks all over the world on an exchange basis over a period of time. Impossible?—Not at all! There are 14,000 banks in the U.S. employing several millions of people. The staff of these banks could hand-stamp individual bills over a period of time with little difficulty. Other countries can do likewise. Next—issue a new world currency—completely different in design after it is no longer necessary to be concerned about a "panic" into gold. Once this occurs, we will have—a universal currency unit—probably with bar codes as well as metal strips.

THE "SMART CARD"—is now in use. Finally, withdraw all currency and replace it with a universal debit card or "smart card" with an imbedded computer chip, including all your personal data. Such a card is already in use experimentally in both France and the United States. The last step: After an appropriate period of time for brainwashing, the smart cards can be replaced with a computer chip implant in the finger or in the hand: There you have it! There is the best judgment of this research group for the ultimate development of the one-world currency—and one-world monetary system!

Still have doubts?—consider the following: In 1972, Robert A. Henderson wrote a book called "The Cashless Society" in which he outlined a scenario for such a plan. The book outlined how a world central bank would someday decide how much of your money you could transfer and to whom it could be transferred. It enables controlled economic expansion—(or contraction)—and in the selected areas of the world as desired.

In 1981 the August issue of "The Banker" reported that the explosion of computer-based electronic-funds transfer has abolished the ability of national central banks to control their own monetary system. The Bank for International Settlements in Basel, Switzerland (owned by the gov'ts of the world)—may be the agency to transform an economic monitoring system into a clearing system! A giant world computer, three blocks long and 30 feet high has been built in Brussels, Belgium to accomplish this. Another gigantic computer complex was later built in Luxembourg.

The evidence is overwhelming! What's more, personal identification numbers have already been prepared for the world's population. It consists of three groups of numbers with six digits in each group. The number of the giant computer complex, as might be expected, is 666. The plans are appalling! . . . Our research files indicate that the elitists have been preparing for this system as far back as the 1930's and that their planning is in a highly advanced stage . . .

Flash—stop press. . . REAGAN FORMALLY REVERSES STRONG $ POLICY! . . . Dollar drops 3 1/4% Sept. 22nd after Central Bank meeting!

In an amazing about-face, the Reagan

Administration . . . has cancelled the strong dollar policy! A secret meeting of the group of five finance ministers—(Britain, West Germany, France and Japan)—was organized in New York by Treasury Sec'y and Trilateralist, James Baker. Amazingly, the Reagan Admin. had agreed to join in a coordinated, multi-national effort to lower the value of the dollar—against other major currencies! (End quote).

NEARING THE MARK OF THE BEAST

Further information to the above is that a national identification card (which is used in many countries) is being considered in Australia, England and the United States. Would it become a "passport to captivity"? (quote):

The president of the Victorian Council of Civil Liberties, Mr. Ron Castan, QC, says: "The first stage in the destruction of the liberty of the individual is the requirement that every person carry a form of state-prescribed identification, which can be produced on all occasions that the state desires . . . Once such a system is introduced, the occasions for its use will proliferate. Every governmental organisation will find it necessary to require production of the pass. And every time the pass is produced, the computer records will be updated." (End quote).

But the move toward credit cards and a cashless society goes farther than that. From a source unknown to us (article supplied by a subscriber) comes the following (quote):

Since the advent of the fourth generation computer and the universal acceptance of plastic credit cards, the time when all will work, buy, and sell using only code marks and numbers seems to loom at hand. When shopping in department stores in Shanghai, Moscow, Cairo, or Jerusalem, you probably won't be able to use American money or personal checks . . . but clerks will gladly accept a major credit card. Stores in your own town may not take your check unless you are a recognized customer, but they will take your credit card. Universally, the credit card is becoming the accepted method of exchange.

William Garrison has recently written a book titled Holocaust II. On page 96 Mr. Garrison reports the following observation in making a credit card purchase: I filled the gas tank, then went in and handed the clerk my VISA bank card. She ran the card through some kind of an electronic machine . . . then SNT-COR V, the name of the device, relayed the information instantly to central computers in Georgia, Kansas, Texas, and California . . . I was quite impressed with the efficiency of it all. But the real impression came when, upon closer examination of SNTCOR-V, I saw a listing of three-digit numbers printed on the face of the machine. I copied down the list exactly as it was: Mutual Credit—111; Monycard—222; VISA—333; Mastercard—444; American Express—555; Diners Club—777; Carte Blanche—888; Universal Charge Card—999.

Author Garrison was more than a little curious about the conspicuous absence of

666. The store manager knowingly, and with a grin on his face, replied: "I think this number is being reserved for something else." The number, 666, is reserved for the electronic funds transfer system foretold in Revelation. Chapter 13, verses 16-18, reads: And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: and that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name. Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred threescore and six.

Microchips no bigger than the head of a pin are being developed that can be implanted under the skin. These will provide a thousand times more information than a plastic credit card. The world has been technically, economically, and psychologically prepared for the mark of the beast. (End quote).

Taking these developments a step farther is the following item identified as from the Examiner of Oct. 15, 1985 (quote):

A new type of ID is virtually impossible to lose—it's attached to your tooth.

A tiny disk bearing personal and medical information that is bonded to the first upper right molar can help medical and law enforcement officials positively identify unconscious accident victims, missing children and others.

One type of disk, the size of a typewritten "o," contains all the information on it and can be read with the instrument doctors use to examine the ear canals—or removed and read under a microscope.

Another contains the person's Social Security number and a toll-free number that can be read on the tooth with the naked eye.

A computer operator at the number supplies the vital information.

Gary Gresham, of Micro ID, notes that the disk is more accurate than fingerprinting—and can't be lost.

TRIPLE DIGIT NUMBERS

The use of triple digit numbers in codes is increasing. The U.S. Government has been using them for quite some times now, notably on government forms such as the W-2 form, and now even in Zip Codes. For example, mail addressed to a postmaster of (apparently) any post office carries the four digit suffix, "9998."

Strangely, the occult claims that "9" is the sacred number of Lucifer. Nimrod was called "Ninus," and "Nineveh" was named for him and dedicated to the worship of Lucifer whose sacred number was an integral part of its name. The occult also claims that the use of triple numbers, like 222, 666, 888, 999, etc., sends signals to "superior intelligences in outer space" (demon spirits), inviting them to come to earth, and the New Age Movement, of which the Lucis Trust in New York is an important center, strongly encourages the greater use of such triple digit numbers. Our government seems to be cooperating well (and commercial businesses also)

SOVIET THEOLOGY: ESPIONAGE IN CLERICAL CLOTH

Under the title, "Tutu Exposed," Washington Inquirer of August 9, 1985 (Box 28526, Washington, D. C. 20038), described the way in which the clergy has been subverted to form an effective social and religious espionage force. This tactic proved very effective in the Soviet conquest of both Rhodesia (Zimbabwe) and Nicaragua, now under firm Marxist control, and the same pattern is so apparent in South Africa (quote):

In the view of a former communist terrorist, who is now a black Christian minister, Anglican Bishop Tutu of South Africa is aiding the communists.

Pastor Ndabezinhele Musa made his remarks to some 500 persons attending "The State Department Held Hostage Conference" in Washington.

Born in Rhodesia, Pastor Musa said that he had been trained as a terrorist and killer by the Soviets in Moscow who then returned him to Rhodesia to destroy, kill and disrupt the civil order of the government of Ian Smith.

His training in terrorism took place at Patrice Lumumba University in Moscow (called "Apartheid U" by non-communist diplomats resident in Moscow in the sixties).

"At Patrice Lumumba University, we were trained to destroy the cultural and intellectual leadership. They (the communists) do not want to see (permit to live) chiefs, missionaries, or even parents," Musa told the predominantly conservative audience. The communist indoctrination at Lumumba University instructed him to believe that his parents had taught him a false religion. "We were told that we would find our own religion. Christ was not a black God." Moscow brainwashing of all of the young terrorists at Lumumba University included the promise that, through revolution, they would all become "independent, rich and free."

"We did not realize," recalls Musa, "that a new ideology was being put in place of our religion."

Once back in Rhodesia, Musa wrote to his own relatives and parents, who had raised him as a Christian, that he intended to kill them. "They were afraid of me," recalled Pastor Musa in an understatement that brought the assembled audience to laughter.

In Southern Rhodesia, the area of operations of his terrorist group, Missions and Mission schools were the first and primary target. Then "we destroyed farming communities: we destroyed farms."

On one mission, Musa was assigned to destroy a missionary school and its leadership, but he took the time to listen to the sermon before killing the missionary preacher. That sermon saved the preacher's life. Musa, probably recalling his earlier Christian training, was re-converted to Christianity. Later on, a death-sentence from Ian Smith's government was commuted by act of the liberal British government of Prime Minister Wilson.

"I was a terrorist," Pastor Musa concludes simply. "Today Rhodesia is at it

Ex-Littleton official: FBI at controls of spy plane

By GUY KELLY
Rocky Mountain News Staff Writer

About 9-27-85

LITTLETON — A former Littleton city councilman said Tuesday that officials have confirmed his suspicion that the mysterious plane flying circles above the city is on a mission for the FBI.

"One of the supervisors (in the Denver FBI office) has called me and acknowledged it was an FBI operation," Waller Hurtt said. He declined to name the source. Hurtt said the call came after he threatened to call the FBI every time the plane circled his house. "If the plane circled my house 59 times, I said I was going to call them 59 times."

But information about what the single-engine plane has been doing, and why, remains unavailable. Officials in the Denver and Washington, D.C., offices of the FBI have consistently refused comment about any connection with the plane.

William Gavin, agent in charge of the Denver FBI office, declined comment Tuesday about the plane.

"That agency is in total control in terms of information," Hurtt said. "You seldom find them responding."

Numerous residents have said the plane continues to circle the city, but not as frequently as it did before publicly about the so-called spy plane. The plane has been flying since June. "The constant circling was getting on everyone's nerves, but that's broken off," Hurtt said.

A.L. Grant said he called the tower at Stapleton International Airport recently to complain about the plane and was told that flights would continue for six months, or into January.

"It flew until midnight one night last week," Grant said. "On Sunday it started about 2:15 p.m., and it flew through the rest of the daylight hours and well into the night. I turned on a fan to drown out the noise."

"The only difference is now it has a blue stripe along the side instead of a red stripe. It's a different plane or they've repainted it," he said.

Bob O'Brien, acting manager of the Stapleton tower, declined comment on when the flights would end. "We're not at liberty to disclose anything about the flights, except to say we know it's there. I couldn't say how long it's going to last."

Local law enforcement officials will say only that the plane is on a "federal operation." Officials at agencies ranging from the Drug Enforcement Administration and the Internal Revenue Service to the Federal Communications Commission have denied any connection with the plane.

Hurtt told the Littleton City Council last week the plane is on an FBI mission. Hurtt said he reached that conclusion after conversations with FBI officials.

"I went before the council because I wanted to put this all on the record in case there's a crash," Hurtt said. "The plane is going to plague us for a while. I don't know what more anyone can do."

Littleton Mayor Charles Emley said the city has taken no position on the plane. "I don't see any action that's appropriate," he said. "I frankly have no idea what the plane is doing."

One resident, who requested anonymity, said he received an envelope with a Washington, D.C., postmark containing copies of a Rocky Mountain News story about the plane and a typed message.

The message read: "One never knows where this will lead. A year or two down the road after this has been forgotten, you may find yourself on some list. At that time you may have a better view of what's in store for you. Are these flights for nothing? Good luck!"

Mystery Plane Saga Continues

Littleton writer says he's the target

The mystery of the Denver area's "mystery plane" is, in one man's opinion, no mystery at all. It is, instead, a not too subtle, almost bumbling federal reaction to criticism leveled at the Webster-FBI by a Littleton writer.

Waller A. Hurtt, the writer who also is an official for the City & County of Denver Department of Social Services, states flatly: "A former FBI man told me that I am on a federal watch list. I'm a thorn in their side."

Hurtt, who has written on national security topics for a number of military magazines, headed an organization called "Friends of the FBI" in the 1970s. His status as "friend" disappeared, he says, when William H. Webster, a former federal appeals court judge, was appointed to head the FBI in early 1978.

The police arm of the U.S. Justice Department then took on a "new look," Hurtt insists, one which was marked by "absolutely no finesse" and a "downgrading of relations with the media and the public. They've even closed their informational doors to members of the public trying to supply information."

"The aircraft has circled my house repeatedly," Hurtt says of the "mystery plane," which has sparked dozens of calls and almost as many rumors since it showed up with regularity over the Littleton area some eight weeks ago.

"It's just harassment. (William) Gavin (special agent in charge of the Denver FBI) and I don't like each other. I have been very critical of FBI procedures here; the way operations are run," Hurtt says.

Hurtt has, he continues, "drawn some (written) conclusions" on a number of subjects in which the FBI is interested, "and the government doesn't like my conclusions." Hurtt is, he says, currently engaged in gathering sensitive information on Nicaragua, South Africa, Poland and is engaged in "some activities with an anti-Castro group in Miami."

But who owns the "mystery plane," a high-winged, single-engine, white or cream-colored aircraft with no identifying numbers visible? Hurtt says it belongs to the FBI. The FBI won't say whether it does or doesn't.

Other governmental agencies—including the Colorado Highway Patrol, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, the Civil Air Patrol, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms—deny it's theirs. The Federal Aviation Administration, depending upon whom is contacted, either does or doesn't know about the plane.

"Yes, sir, I do know about it," said the FAA's Noel Keane, tower chief of Centennial Airport in Arapahoe County. "I can't talk about it, but it's not as big a deal as everyone is making it." Said Steve Hayes of the FAA in Washington, D.C.: "We have no information at all."

Lane Bonner of the FBI's press office in Washington, to whom calls were referred, said: "We don't discuss pending operations. Any law enforcement agency engaged in what might be a life and death situation doesn't discuss such pending operations. The press would cooperate if there were a kidnapping situation," he said, drawing an analogy.

"I'm not acknowledging that anything is going on, by the way," Bonner added. "We would prefer that these things not be publicized." He referred further comments to Denver special agent Don Gunnerson.

"Our position," said Gunnerson, "has been that we've been making no comment. I'm going to have to stick with that position."

In the meantime, the "mystery plane" continues to circle Hurtt's—or someone's—home and residential area. So Hurtt wrote a complaint to the FBI's John Glover, head of the inspections division, in Washington.

Glover could not be reached. But Bonner said, "We have received no complaints. Not that I'm aware of."

Soviets testing Yankee F-14s

Jane's Defence Weekly says "The Soviet Union has been given access to all Western military technology in Iran," the article said, "with U.S. built F-14 Tomcats and F-4 Phantoms being flown to the USSR for tests and former CIA monitoring stations in northern Iran being made available for examination by Soviet technicians."

Croc apparently eats Australian

CAIRNS, Australia — An Australian woman who had been wading with friends in a tropical rain forest river apparently was attacked and eaten alive by a crocodile, police said yesterday.

Her companions said they saw a "severe swirling" in the water just after she disappeared and then spotted what "appeared to be the back of a crocodile" swimming away.

Senior police Sgt. Van Timm said a search of the Daintree River turned up no trace of Beryl Corrine Wruck, 43, but a crocodile about 8 to 10 feet long was sighted in the area where she vanished.

Kremlin OKs some nuclear verification

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today expressed its readiness to consent to "certain measures of on-site verification" if the United States agrees to a comprehensive ban on nuclear testing.

The Communist Party daily Pravda said in an editorial that the Soviet Union, which in August decreed a unilateral five-month test ban that expires Jan. 1, was interested in prolonging the moratorium.

But Pravda reiterated this could only be done if the United States followed suit. U.S. officials have

Peruvian tea studied

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration will look into a scientific study that concluded that a Peruvian tea sold in the United States has cocaine in it, an agency spokesman said Saturday.

The tea, called Health Inca Tea, has been sold in American grocery and health stores and by mail order since 1983, scientists who performed the study said.

The researchers said drinking two cups a day of the tea, while causing no ill effects, could provide the drinker with mild stimulation, mood elevation and an increased pulse rate.

They added that some people have reported chewing the teabags or smoking the leaf fragments in cigarettes or pipes.

Thank Constitution, not U.S. government

In the Dec. 10 letters section a retired federal employee wrote a salute to Vicki Williams for her Nov. 29 column, "U.S. government stands by citizens," (she cited government as "being by my side" and not "being on my back") under the headline, "U.S. government makes country great."

It is the Constitution that makes our country great, not government.

Government has never been the friend of the people — that is why our Founding Fathers made specific reference to binding the government in the chains of the Constitution. Those who strive ceaselessly to place government in the role of a benefactor of the people are simply without a knowledge of history.

Giving government more power in this mistaken belief is like trustingly putting your arm down the throat of a crocodile just because you fed him as a baby.

CHANGE NEEDED? Lloyd Cutler, a high-powered Washington lawyer and former counsel to President Jimmy Carter is leading the charge to scrap the Constitution. Cutler, a member of the Rockefeller-controlled Trilateral Commission, recently leveled his latest attack on the Constitution. "Some of us have concluded there isn't much wrong with the people—there is something wrong with the structure," he said. Cutler is a co-chairman of the Committee on the Constitutional System, another Rockefeller-funded Establishment group that wants to change the Constitution.

Soviets landed on Mars — then returned

THE RUSSIANS have traveled to Mars on a secret space mission and returned safely, claims a Soviet defector.

Overjoyed by the event, a high-ranking official in Moscow boasted, "This will teach the United States they aren't the only nation who can conquer outer space."

Sergi Orlotsky, the defector, warns while America is concentrating on using its space technology as a weapon of peace, the Russians have been developing tremendous military capability.

"They hope to get satellites in orbit that could, on a moment's notice, destroy any enemy with powerful laser beams, nuclear-tipped missiles, and other awesome space weapons under development," Sergi adds.

Sergi defected from Russia in 1984. The former Moscow writer, historian and expert on thermonuclear warfare, is now in hiding in the U.S., under protection of the Secret Service.

Present figures show the Soviet Union is spending five times as much as the U.S. on space laser weapons, one of the most fearsome of the 21st-century arsenals being amassed by the two military giants.

Maimed

The successful launch to Mars was made after seven Russian cosmonauts died in a series of explosions and fires that left 14 other Soviet citizens critically injured and maimed. The Kremlin concealed the accidents from the public in order to keep a high support level for its space program.

A U.S. official, who declines to be identified publicly, says, "The West has finally awakened to the threat of Soviet military domination of space, largely because of Reagan's interest in the program. We're scrambling to meet the challenge."

"They may have a leg up on us in some respects, but we're still ahead in the race and we're determined to keep the edge. That's why the President won't scrap his so-called Star Wars project," the official adds.

Beast

"It's a highway to a peaceful world and the Soviets know it. They also realize it could spell the end of their military domination of the world."

"Knowing the nature of the Russian beast, it seems to most of us in the military Reagan has a pretty good handle on what is happening in the Soviet Union. He's the man of the hour and the right man for the job, particularly in the light of Russian space success."

U.S. sources are trying to check out an unconfirmed rumor that the Russians actually left behind some living cosmonauts on the planet Mars.

Burned

"If this is true, and if the people are still alive, this would be the greatest breakthrough in the conquest of outer space," declares an American official.

At least five Russian cosmonauts are believed to have died in an ill-fated attempt to land on Venus, a source says. The men were reportedly burned when their spacecraft crashed onto the steaming surface of the inhospitable planet.

Pentagon wants boost of 5.2 percent

Washington Post

WASHINGTON — Defense Department officials said Friday that they would have to ask Congress for a 5.2 percent increase, not including inflation, in next year's budget to get back on the track President Reagan has laid down to build up the nation's weapons.

This would mean an increase from the $281.1 billion in military spending just approved by Congress for fiscal 1986 to about $296 billion — plus inflation — for fiscal 1987, which begins next Oct. 1.

If inflation were 4 percent, the total would climb to about $308 billion, a 9.2 percent increase over fiscal 1986.

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger plans to request a total in that neighborhood, aides said, to achieve 3 percent real growth in fiscal 1987 and to make up for the 2.2 percent real cut that he figures Congress imposed on the Pentagon's fiscal 1986 budget.

Reagan has said Congress owes him a 3 percent real increase in his new military budget.

Although congressional leaders predict that no budget seeking such an increase would pass, they say that it makes sense for the Pentagon to ask for a large increase to soften the automatic cuts expected to be triggered by the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings balanced-budget law.

Lampooned identity law gets the ax

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Posh Palm Beach's controversial worker identification law, lampooned earlier this year by cartoonist Gary Trudeau, is unconstitutional, a federal judge has ruled.

The law required blue-collar workers to get fingerprinted and photographed and to carry identification cards while on the island town.

Palm Beach's ID card law received national attention this summer when it was compared to South Africa's "pass" law in the comic strip "Doodlesbury."

More than 2½ years after Ignatius Wallace and Rochelle Vana, both of West Palm Beach, challenged the law, U.S. District Judge Norman Roettger this week ruled that the 45-year-old law imposed a burden on interstate commerce that outweighed local security interests.

THE TIME HAS COME

"Time" magazine, the Establishment news journal, has agreed to pay $100,000 in penalties and costs for false advertising. The magazine has agreed to stop sending renewal notices that resemble bills to subscribers who have not renewed their subscription to "Time." The invoices violated federal law in that they did not indicate that they were only renewal notices and were accompanied by letters requesting payment. "Time" is one of the Establishment media outlets that has asked the U.S. Supreme Court to sanction libel privileges for syndicated columnist Jack Anderson.

Slavers rounded up

KARACHI, Pakistan — A government official said more than 100 Bengali women who were being sold as slaves were rescued by police, and 40 alleged slave traders were arrested in a recent crackdown.

Ghous Ali Shah, chief Minister of Sind province, said Tuesday slave traders have been helping women from Bangladesh get across the Pakistani border illegally from India, promising them jobs. The women then are sold.

Jury convicts 11-year-old

JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP) — A jury Saturday found that an 11-year-old girl participated in the stabbing and bludgeoning death of a 9-year-old playmate after quarreling over his bicycle.

The child wiped her face and mouth with both hands and her mother sobbed loudly upon hearing the ruling, which came after more than 6 hours of deliberations at the end of an 11-day trial.

The verdict leaves Circuit Judge Mark Farnum to decide whether to commit the girl to a foster home or a juvenile treatment center.

The judge said he would set a date Monday for a hearing for the defendant, who was too young to be charged with juvenile delinquency under state codes that apply to those 12 years of age or older.

PAT BOONE ON 'LIVE AID'

HYMNS TO THE DEVIL

While Pat Boone approved the raising of money for African famine relief, according to the Toronto Sun of July 18, 1985, he said that he found inconsistency between the lofty goals of the LIVE AID concerts and songs that "were obviously hymns to the devil and Satanic things".

Speaking at a news conference on July 18, he said: "I heard Duran Duran talking about dancing into the fire and songs that were obviously hymns to the devil and satanic things". To talk about feeding the hungry under these circumstances he said revealed "a real inconsistency".

He also questioned a "highly erotic" duet performed by Mick Jagger and Tina Turner during the Philadelphia concert.

Major N-weapons test tomorrow

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — A major underground nuclear weapons test believed tied to President Reagan's Strategic Defense Initiative has been scheduled for tomorrow despite objections from some members of Congress.

The test, at the Nevada Test Site 104 miles northwest of Las Vegas, is designed to measure the intensity of laser beams emanating from a nuclear explosion, said Jeff Duncan, an aide to Rep. Edward Markey, D-Mass.

Pelton indicted on spy charges

WASHINGTON — Ronald Pelton, a former analyst for the National Security Agency implicated by KGB double-defector Vitaly Yurchenko, was indicted yesterday on espionage charges.

Pelton, 44, was arrested Nov. 25 in Annapolis, Md., and charged with passing vital U.S. secrets to the Soviets after he left the super-secret spy agency in 1979.

An FBI affidavit filed with the initial charges against Pelton said he admitted to FBI agents hours before his arrest that he had sold secrets to the Soviet Union.

NORAD: HOW SOLID?

Perhaps it was just Science Digest's ruse to throw the Soviets off the track, but in "NORAD's Mountain Redoubt" [September 1985] you talk about Cheyenne Mountain as "but another peak in the spine of the Continental Divide." In fact, the Continental Divide lies about 75 miles due west of NORAD, along the Sawatch Range. As to the Cheyenne Mountain complex's solidity, several years ago a forest fire burned right up to one entrance, and on another occasion a cloudburst, aimed by a force mightier than the Soviets, catapulted a rocky landslide onto the south-entrance guard station. Finally, the whole operation straddles the Lite Pass earthquake fault.

Irwin Schiff, author of the best-selling book "How Anyone Can Stop Paying Income Tax," was sentenced in Hartford, Conn., yesterday to three years in prison and fined $30,000 for tax evasion.

Schiff has advised thousands of Americans through his books and speeches not to pay federal income taxes, calling them unconstitutional.

He was convicted by a federal jury in October of wilfully failing to pay more than $49,000 in incomes taxes in 1980, 1981 and 1982.

The judge released Schiff on his own recognizance so he could enter a hospital to be treated for depression.
