NOSTRADAMUS:

How he made his predictions

THE COSMIC AWARENESS FORECAST FOR 1998

CONVERSATIONS WITH NOSTRADAMUS

(Is It Possible to Contact Spirits of the Future?)

QUESTION: (11/11/94)

A question from A.E., in Ontario, Canada. He writes: "A series of three books have been written by author Dolores Canon, all entitled Conversations With Nostradamus. What is unusual about these books is that Canon places a sensitive entity into hypnotic trance and then enters into dialogue with Nostradamus; not the spirit or cast-off memory complex of Nostradamus, but seemingly the actual entity, who within his own time, believes himself to be in touch with spirits of the future. Is this possible?" he asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that anything, generally, is possible; that the way the question is asked, the entity believes himself to be in touch with spirits of the future. Of course, it is possible for an entity to believe such. If the question is: Is the entity in touch with spirits of the future?, this becomes something more questionable, and not so clearly certain.

This Awareness indicates that it does appear that the entity is capable of tapping into vibrations that relate to future time and thus, the entity does have some contact with the future through these vibrations. It is not seen as being nearly so accurate as the writings of Nostradamus in his earthly incarnation, but it is seen as being relatively high in accuracy in regard to future predictions.

The accuracy being generally in the 70% to 80% probability levels. It appears that Nostradamus in his incarnation as a human had a higher degree of accuracy, but some of this was modified by the effects of language that he used to describe his future visions. The language in his time compared to present time, made some fuzziness in his predictions.

It is easier to see the substance of a prediction after it has occurred, because it has occurred and you look at what he writes, you can apply his words to the event with a greater sense of their meaningful expression and application to the event, but if the event has not occurred, that particular form of wording of the prediction might fit any number of possible situations of the future.

This Awareness indicates that in reference to this entity's present predictions of the future, a 70% accuracy also includes the potential for fuzziness in regard to words used. A term, for example, referring to a leader, can mean many different things, because there are many different types of leaders, and therefore, the term is fuzzy. It can apply to many different potential situations that might occur in which a leader is part of the situation. Thus, a prediction that says a leader will appear who had such and such quality, can apply to many different entities of the future. This Awareness indicates that obviously, this prediction could apply to many different things, if the second part describing what happens to the leader is also fuzzy. If the activity of the leader is fuzzy enough to apply to many different situations, then surely a future situation may occur in which a leader is involved, and in which the activity has been described in a fuzzy way that fits.

This Awareness indicates that, for example, a prediction that "A great leader in blue will rise afresh in a nation that holds high standards and makes demands on other nations," such a prediction can occur in the future without any form of precise knowledge or intuitive knowledge because the words can apply to almost any nation in which someone rises to power and makes demands on others.

This Awareness indicates that this occurs all the time in decade after decade, therefore, some predictions cannot fail. This Awareness indicates that in terms of accuracy, it depends on whether those predictions attributed to this new Nostradamus book are the kind of predictions that can be generally applied to all kinds of future events or whether they are more precisely worded so as to have only one clear meaning, and if those clear meaning events occur, commonly anyway, then the prediction does not necessarily have any great significance because perhaps it is common for such predictive behavior or predictive occurrences to happen.

The Book Predicting the Titanic Disaster

When it is truly significant, the events will be unusual, and clearly stated by the entity predicting an event. For example, the question yesterday regarding the story called Futility which described in enormously accurate terms the event surrounding the sinking of the Titanic; this is not something that could have occurred through fuzzy prediction. It could only occur through precise prediction based on seeing the future.*

*A novel called "Futility" was written about the maiden voyage of a fabulous ocean liner, a ship far larger than any previously built, labeled "unsinkable." The vessel set sail for New York from Southampton, England, with a cargo of complacent passengers, strikes an iceberg in the North Atlantic and goes down within two hours.

The ship was inadequately stocked with lifeboats, resulting in heavy casualties on a cold April night. The name of the ship in the novel was the Titan, and it was a triple-screw liner that could travel up to 25 knots, could carry up to 3000 people, was 800 feet long and displaced 26,000 tons. This novel by Morgan Robertson was written 4 years before the Titanic lived out the precise scenario. All aspects of the book, with very small variations, played out in fact 4 years later. ED.

This Awareness indicates that books describing the future can be entertaining and entities who believe these events will come about can find some kind of comfort in thinking they understand the future, but until the future has come and gone pertaining to that time, those books are nothing of any significance in regard to reality, for the events may not come about at all, or may come about in a fuzzy way that is so general and so broad, that you have to strain to make the predictions apply to the events.

This Awareness indicates that for example, an entity can make a number of absolutely certain predictions if they are common enough or vague enough. You can say that "A great election will occur in which a new leader is brought to prominence. This leader has come from a very poor background and has risen to please the masses, and has many followers," and you can go on and on like that and be sure that at some time in the future, these predictions will occur and will be accurate, because this occurs all the time.

This Awareness indicates that you may continue a story about someone who is to be elected to lead the people, and you can always be right. In continuing the story you may say that he will rise to prominence and have a great following but there will be a time when his prominence comes to an end and he begins to fall and lose his popularity. These are predictions based on probabilities that are commonplace.

This Awareness indicates that in reading these books on predictions, sometimes entities, are only concerned about making predictions that are interesting to the reader, so that the reader will tell others about the book, and others will go to get the book and read the book, and the book is sold and sold again, and sold again, and the writer makes money and makes more money, and makes more money from the sale of the book, with little regard for the accuracy of future events.

The Many Tabloid Predictions Regarding Celebrities

There are many tabloid prognosticators who do this very thing. They will predict precise information about an entity and things that will happen during the year, and the tabloid will sell many copies to people who want to know what is going to happen in that year, and none of the events occur during the year. They are very interesting to read. They are fascinating to read, and to hear what is going to happen to different celebrities is amazing to the reader, but as the year goes by, none of the events predicted occur.

This Awareness indicates that when the year is over, the tabloid comes out with new predictions for the next year, and people again buy the tabloids to find out what is going to happen in this coming year, to the favorite celebrities. Where is this big earthquake going to occur that is predicted by this prognosticator?

This Awareness indicates entities read these things as though they are reading the future through the eyes of their prophet, but these things still do not occur throughout the year. People forget that they spent a dollar for information that was faulty, and again, they rush to buy the next tabloid predicting events for the next year.

The Different Approaches to Prophecy

This Awareness indicates that these are different approaches to the way of prophecy. Some do not expect their predictions to come about; they simply want them to be so interesting that no one will pass them up. Others want to be accurate, but they don't actually see the future, so they have to be vague and fuzzy and predict things that cannot help but happen, or they predict things that are sure to happen, because they happen all the time anyway.

Predictions From an Astrological View are More Accurate

This Awareness indicates that still others will look at things from an astrological point of view, seeing where the planets are going to be, and keeping the predictions within line of probability and interpretation of energies, they can make some broad predictions that are likely to occur, according to astrological trends.

Still others will look at the future based on energies in movement at the present time, and they will see that the economics of the present are heading in a certain direction, and that foreign economics are heading in their particular direction and that there is going to be some quirk, or difference, or problem because of something that is seen on the horizon; perhaps an economic meeting between two nations, which is likely to result in this or that type of treaty, and they extrapolate from the information at hand and make a prediction as to what is likely to occur.

This Awareness indicates, for example, most entities know that Hong Kong will revert to Communist China, and from that, a good prognosticator, can make certain assumptions in regard to the economy, as it relates to Hong Kong. This Awareness indicates that the same thing can occur when the prognosticator considers other things: the NAFTA treaty, the GATT treaty; if the entity understands these clearly, he or she can make certain predictions and have a good chance of being relatively accurate.

This Awareness indicates that in regard to these books the questioner speaks of, and the entity looking into the future through the eyes of spirits ... This Awareness indicates the question being: Is this possible? It is possible, but it is also possible that the predictions being given in the book do not come from this action, but come from some other method of the prophet's consciousness.

The prognosticator may be using other means to make his or her predictions, or the predictions may simply be illusions in which the prognosticator believes he or she is seeing through the eyes of spirits. Even spirits may not be seeing accurately, or perhaps there are some views the spirits hold which do have accuracy.

There have been many instances or cases whereby spirits can portray events of the future that are accurate. Entities playing with Ouija boards have gotten accurate information from spirits. They have also gotten totally false information from such spirits.

This Awareness indicates that if you buy the books, you may wish to believe them, or you may wish to simply buy them as an experiment to see whether they turn out to be accurate or not, or you may simply read them for entertainment and wonder whether or not there is anything of value in these books.

At some point in the future you may find they were totally in error, or you may find they were very accurate, or perhaps somewhere in between, and you may also conclude that they are fuzzy predictions, therefore they cannot be totally wrong, nor do they really say anything of substance.

A Prophecy of World War III by Nostradamus?

QUESTION:

One of our members, Jack Manuel, in New Jersey, has written a book on Nostradamus's prophecies, not through spirits, but through analysis of the actual quatrains, and I believe he calls this book World War III According to Nostradamus, or, something to that effect, and he sent a copy to the Interpreter, I believe.*

*The book is actually called "Nostradamus: Predictions of World War III", published by Inner Light Publishers, New Brunswick, N.J.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative.

QUESTIONER:

What does Awareness think about that particular version? Approximately the same as the information just given?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the Interpreter has yet to read the book. This Awareness indicates that it appears to have some significant interpretation of the entity Nostradamus's work that is well thought out and the writer or author's interpretation has considerable validity in regard to his perception of Nostradamus. It is worth reading. It will also prove to be only partially correct, not because the author has mistakenly interpreted, but because Nostradamus tends to keep things fuzzy, and tends to occasionally be in error.

Many of the predictions of Nostradamus are not accurate, but entities tend to gloss over those and focus only on the ones which are accurate, or which can be applied to real situations that have occurred. This Awareness indicates to use Nostradamus in studying the future is much more difficult than using Nostradamus in studying the past, for when you come to a quatrain that fits clearly the event in the past, it is much more obvious to an observer than it is to read a quatrain that is alleged to fit something in the future, and make an assumption of what is going to happen, because when you describe the future, you don't have the clarity of an event that you might have when viewing the past.

This Awareness indicates that in other words, studying even Nostradamus's work, --and this entity is much more accurate than most prophets or prognosticators-- even when studying his work about the future, things are going to be very vague and confused, and the precise understanding is going to be lacking.

This Awareness indicates that Biblical prophecies are another area that cannot easily be applied to the future in order to understand precise events that will occur.

This Awareness indicates that it is very, very rare for entities to view the future and be able to act according to a prediction and be right in that action.

When an Earthquake is Predicted

It is very rare that an entity, for example, can say, "There is going to be an earthquake!" and whereby the entity prepares for the earthquake or leaves the area to escape the earthquake. This Awareness indicates there are exceptions. There are some entities, who for example, can feel certain vibrations or feel pain or hear sounds that suggest to them an earthquake is coming.

One entity had heavy headaches whenever an earthquake was approaching, and some entities, in this sense, are able to accurately predict such things, but this is extremely rare. This Awareness indicates that some entities wake up suddenly with the realization that they or someone else has died, or is about to die, or will die, or will be injured, or that there will be a fire or something of this nature, and these entities may be right.

They do not know why they are correct. They do not have the ability to predict the future at will; it is simply something that happens to them. Very rarely a person is capable of looking at the future of an individual to see what is going to happen in this individual's life. These entities are called psychics.

Many So-Called "Psychics" Operate on Bluff

There are many people who call themselves psychics who operate on bluff. They do not have such abilities, but they are able to speak in terms of vagaries, or in terms of astrological probabilities, and the astrology influences are probably the easiest to control and read with the greatest amount of accuracy outside of true psychic abilities.

This Awareness indicates that even with the astrological energies, the interpreter of these astrological energies generally needs to keep the information in a broad or general term, because if he or she tries to be too precise, they might interpret the energy just slightly off key and miss totally.

This Awareness indicates that is because astrological terminologies are like rays of light shining on different things simultaneously, and if you have a ray of light that shines down upon a building and on the streets and in the parks, you do not know whether to speak of the building, of the street, or the parks when you speak of what you see in the ray of light.

Likewise, an astrological influence can apply to your plumbing or to your vehicle or to your attitude or to your relationship, and if this particular configuration in your chart is interpreted in a precise way, you might miss totally how it turns out to apply, because your application may be more of an emotional or psychological application rather than a physical application of the energy.

If you have applied the psychological interpretation instead of the physical interpretation, or vice versa, you could interpret it totally wrong, and you could say the person is going to have trouble with his pipes, or his plumbing, and it might be that he has trouble with the flow of his finances, the flow in his bank account might be blocked, or something of this nature, and the entity would say, "You certainly missed! I didn't have any trouble with my pipes at all!"

This Awareness indicates that in other words, where the interpreter of the chart gets too precise, it becomes risky and there is a chance that the precision will be erroneous, but if the entity, the interpreter of the chart, simply says: "There will be blockages in areas of your life," then it is too vague to have any particular value to the person.

So, the astrologer must take some risk, and possibly offer options. He or she may say: "This aspect in your chart indicates possible blockages in your communication, in your finances, or in your home, including plumbing or the foundations of your home, or possibly electrical systems. And by presenting various possibilities, numbering off different things, the astrologer can be more accurate and precise, but the astrologer also has not pinpointed the area that the entity can watch and has given instead areas for the entity to watch.

This Awareness indicates that therefore, even the use of astrology which is fairly accurate in most situations, depends on the skill and intuitiveness of the astrologer. It is not something that is a precise science; it is not generally applicable in a precise way, yet it loses any value if it is too vague or too broad, because what good is it to say: "You are going to expect blockages during this time!" or "Who knows what the blockages will be!" or "What difference would it make? Because you are experiencing blockages off and on throughout your life anyway!"

Therefore, to be too broad, too vague, or too imprecise makes astrology meaningless, and yet to be too exact may cause you to miss the truth altogether, therefore, presenting options gives an entity areas to focus on and this can be perhaps a better way for the entity to use astrology, unless the astrologer is both psychic and well-trained in reading the astrological chart.

Nostradamus a Good Astrologer as Well as a Psychic

This Awareness indicates that it appears Nostradamus had these psychic abilities and astrological training so that he could use the charts and tune in as an astrologer and as a psychic to point out in a vague language, events of the time indicated astrologically. This Awareness indicates that in the quatrains, a kind of poetry, he could keep things broad enough, and yet, using astrological terminology, precise enough to be close to the truth.

The broad enough terms would allow the truth to fit under them so that he could recognize an astrological indicator of rulership, for example: a king could describe the concept of rulership, and he could see the probability of fire through perhaps Mars, Neptune, Uranus; and he could see that this would be widespread because of the position of Jupiter; thus, he could predict a great fire in a city. He could predict the location of the city by the placement of the planets in the heavens at the time, and therefore, get some precision in his prediction, and yet to stay with terms that are broad enough so as not to miss-state by being too precise.

This Awareness indicates the entity, in other words, had a kind of genius for balancing indications together and coming to a linguistic formulation or language assimilation that presented the concept satisfactorily, without being too precise or too vague. In other words, he had to choose the right words, and look at the right energies and bring them together. The energies being indications, not precise information.

The Interpreter of Awareness Uses a Similar Method

This Awareness indicates that essentially, when It gives information through this Interpreter, It presents indications rather than facts. There are indications of this or that, and the Interpreter weighs and balances the strength of the indication and tries to find the right words to reflect that. It is somewhat similar to that which Nostradamus used in his work.

This Awareness indicates, however, Nostradamus also used astrology and indications from the astrological energies along with careful wording of the complex formula of indications. This Awareness indicates that most entities can do this. It becomes a matter of practice. The more it is practiced, the easier it becomes.

The Lady who Needed to Talk to the Interpreter Story

Again, this Awareness reminds you of an event that occurred to the Interpreter in which a young lady spoke to him saying, "I need to talk to you; I need your help on understanding something!" The Interpreter replied: "What's the problem?" She said: "My boyfriend and I aren't getting along. We're having problems in our relationship."

The Interpreter said: "I'm on my way to work. I can't talk now, but your problem has to do with your goals. He has one thing in mind, and you have another, and you have to discuss these goals." At this point her mouth dropped open, and she said: "You know everything about us!"

This Awareness indicates the Interpreter only new that if they were having trouble, they were not in agreement about things that they wanted. What they wanted are their goals. He used the term "goals" because it was all-inclusive, and he knew that if they could talk about their goals, they would work out their wants and they could reach some kind of agreement, if they would talk about their goals.

It was not a matter of the Interpreter being psychic; he just understood something that she didn't quite understand yet. This Awareness indicates that with some understanding of simple principles such as this, entities can be very clear in their thinking and in helping one another, and those who do not understand simple principles such as this may think that they are absolute geniuses or have some kind of supernatural ability, which they really don't have at all.

This Awareness indicates that many of you in this regard, are much more psychic than you realize, if you just understand certain simple situations or concepts. It is mere logic. It is not psychic or supernatural. It is simply logical.

This Awareness indicates likewise, much of Nostradamus's work is logical, not supernatural and not psychic. And much of the work of psychics is not really psychic; it is merely logical, but using information that many entities don't understand clearly. This Awareness indicates that for some reason, which most entities do not understand, astrology has a degree of accuracy, and an entity who uses astrology, who learns of its accuracy, can make statements and predictions along with a certain amount of logic.

The coupling of logic, astrology and other information that may be apparent to the astrologer; perhaps information seen in the question of the client; can often find answers to the client's question that are comfortable to the astrologer, wherein the astrologer sees this is highly probable as a proper response to this question. "If I can keep it in the right general terms, I won't miss the accuracy of my response!"

This Awareness indicates the astrologer may also recognize that: "When the recipient reads my response, he will take the words that I am expressing in vague terms, and he will know where they apply and what they actually mean in his precise situation." This Awareness indicates it is like the young girl, who, being told that she and her boyfriend had particular goals in mind.

The Interpreter had no idea what these goals were, but she did. She knew exactly what they had in mind. His goals were different from hers, and she knew exactly over what goals they were fighting over, even though the Interpreter did not. Yet, she thought the Interpreter understood what they had been fighting about because the word "goals" to her, meant what she understood. The word "goals" to the Interpreter simply meant some big goals that they had been fighting about. It meant "goal" without the Interpreter knowing what the goals were.

Likewise, when the psychic responds to his client using astrological terminology, he might use a term or word that he does not fully understand in the sense of how it applies to the person, but he does know that the person will understand this term. The person will know what he is talking about.

Thus, the recipient of the reading, of the information, of the astrological response, will apply that term in the manner that is meaningful to their quest or to their situation, and feel that the astrologer has given them insight and that they now can understand where things are in regard to their particular needs.

This Awareness indicates that basically is how many entities who appear to be psychic work with clients. They do not have to be truly tuned in to the client. They do not have to be reading the client's mind. They do not have to be totally involved in the situation psychically. They may have to be able to tune in just enough to understand the vagaries, the generalities of the problem the entity, the client, is experiencing, so as to be able to give the client the skeleton response necessary and the client then fills in the meat of the matter on that skeleton answer.

ED's Note: The book by CAC member Jack Manuelian, Predictions of World War III According to Nostradamus is available from Inner Light, Box 753, New Brunswick, NJ. 08903. CAC does not list this book in its BOOK PRICE SHEET, but does have a small supply in stock. Our sale price is $12.00 Plus $1.50 postage while they last. The book is an easy read, richly illustrated, and contains, incidentally, quite a bit of information from Awareness in regard to the Book of Revelation, The Third Prophecy of Fatima, the Alien agenda, the coming war with the aliens, abductions by aliens, the Twelfth Planet and other factors which the author claims all ties in with the prophecies of Nostradamus.

An Astrological Prophecy Comes True

(The Editor's Adventures with Plumbing)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

The reference by Awareness to plumbing made me recall a very unpleasant situation about 20 years ago, for which I can certainly verify the accuracy of one astrologer, when I received a phone call from Toni Davis, up at my Harrison Avenue office one afternoon out of the blue. Toni had years before drawn my chart and she mentioned that she just happened to be going through her book and she spotted it and her question immediately was: Had I had any plumbing problems recently, or perhaps right now? And I said, "Of course not! I'm not interested in plumbing problems." And I asked, "Why do you ask?" and she replied, "Well, I was going through your chart today and plumbing problems, water problems are imminent and I just thought I'd check and warn you that you'd better get your plumbing fixed, and fast!" And I said, "Well, I don't have time to do that right now and everything seems to be working just fine!" And we terminated the conversation.

That night, when I got home from work (about 2:AM) I discovered water all over the kitchen floor. The water heater had sprung a leak. It was an old one, and it had drained all over the floor and it burned out the elements, I discovered later, and so I had to replace the water heater in a couple of days. That very night, which was January, I believe, we had a storm and the temperature got very low, and all the pipes under the house froze, and the next day, as it started thawing out and warming up, I could hear water squirting beneath the house, hitting the floorboards of the house, and in some cases moisture was already coming through, and when I opened up the crawl-space and looked in, there was water literally shooting out from every pipe under there, and there must have been 15 or 20 places where water was squirting out, and it ended up with me having to replace the entire plumbing system.

This all happened within hours of the call from the astrologer, and so I called her back afterwards and told her I didn't want to hear from her again. So I can vouch that in that particular respect, her astrology was very accurate.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the entity must have been very well-trained and very well-practiced in her art to be so precise. It is very rare to have an astrologer who is that precise to be able to pinpoint the energies of astrology in this way.

This Awareness indicates in most cases, the energies could have applied to different things besides plumbing itself. It could have, for example, applied to one's digestive system, the bowels, and an astrologer might warn you to take care of your health, particularly in regard to the bowels.

This Awareness indicates to be able to pinpoint that it was the plumbing of a house instead of the plumbing of the person would require that the entity have a much better training than most astrologers have. This Awareness indicates of course, the 4th House in a chart applied to the home, and a person's bowels would apply in the 6th House of health; therefore, it is possible to distinguish between these two as to where the effect will occur.

This shows a difference between an astrologer who is really professional and one who is simply practicing from an amateurish level or from a level not highly proficient. The art of astrology itself is seldom in error, but the astrologer, just as doctors, may be in error in the practice.

FOLLOW-UP:

There was also one other thing I forgot to mention. Her stress was on excess water, and when she called that afternoon and I closed the shop that night and went home, and experienced all of this calamity at the house; the next day, when I went back to work, there was over a foot of water over the floor of my entire shop and office. The storm that had come in the night before had somehow plugged up the storm drain outside, the system for drain water, and it had overflowed and came through beneath the back door of the shop and flooded the shop. All of this happened during that 24 hour period.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is an amazing testimony to the effects of astrological energies that show in an entity's birth chart. It is amazing that a chart put together in regard to the time an entity is born could effect and reveal events that happen much later in life in such a precise manner, yet this Awareness indicates that is exactly what astrology is about.

Most people who have a disbelief in astrology have either not pursued it, studied it, or have been in communication with bad astrologers, those who did not understand the art of casting a chart, of reading a chart or of understanding the influences of a chart.

This Awareness indicates, of course, most scientists have never ever studied astrology; they simply repeat what they have been told, that it is only a superstition and there is nothing to it. This Awareness indicates their approach of course is not scientific at all; they are using their title to degrade astrology. They are not using science, for true science would explore something before drawing a conclusion about it.

THE MYSTERY OF THE THREE-LEGGED FROGS IN CHINA

QUESTION:

A question from John. S., Pacifica, California. He writes: "The enclosed article was printed in the San Francisco Examiner and comes from the Reuters News Agency. The reason I mention those facts is because this is the type of story you normally would expect to find in a cheesy tabloid."

He sent in a small clipping titled "Chinese workers find three-legged frogs by the hundreds in pit." And the article reads:

"In Beijing, China, workers building a school in a village near China's capitol Beijing found more than 300 three-legged frogs living in a pit, the official news agency said Saturday. It said the cause of the deformity is not yet known."

And John's question is: "Were these three-legged frogs the result of genetic engineering experiments designed to increase the production of meat for a frog-leg craving populace? Or perhaps a secret Communist plot to dominate the Calaveras County Jumping Frog Contest has been discovered? Or is this God's idea of a joke?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there is seen no advantage in a three-legged frog over a four-legged frog for any of those purposes. It is more likely that a four-legged frog could jump further than a three-legged frog, and if it is for feeding the people, a four-legged frog would be more desired than a three-legged frog.

This Awareness indicates that it appears that there was some cause for the abnormality that created the three-legged frog and that other frogs in the area were wiped out for one reason or another and that the three-legged frog, commingling with other frogs, laid eggs or caused eggs to be laid, which reflected its genetics so that those many frog eggs carrying its genetic makeup caused many frogs to develop through tad-pole stage into three-legged offspring, and thus, a large number of three-legged frogs were born simultaneously from the one parent.

After this, many further offspring were born from the brother and sister offspring of that one freak of nature. This then became commonplace in the particular area for the three-legged frogs that followed.

This Awareness indicates that frogs tend to lay large numbers of eggs and can go into dormant states for long periods of time, and the eggs can hatch out with the genetic memory of their parent or parents, and thus create a flock of three-legged frogs. It appears this is what happened in this unusual incident.

If someone with multiple personalities threatens to kill himself, is it considered a hostage situation?

Remember This Reading: Great Benefits for Your Psychic Development

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness suggests that entities who wish to practice their psychic abilities may wish to have some training in astrological chart reading, and also keep in mind the importance of what this Awareness has described in this reading, because it can be of great benefit and help to your effort, so that not only do you learn the sensitivities of finding the right word that applies to the energies that you are discussing, but you also learn to be sensitive.

Just as you must be sensitive to the energy in order to find the right word, you are also trained to feel sensitive to the energies of a person asking a question, and that sensitivity is part of the training required if you are to be psychic. Psychic qualities generally are qualities of sensitivity. You can be sensitive in your attunement to an entity, even to an entity's name, and gather information.

Keep in mind that energy, is in everything, even in an entity's name, and that energy is information, or to put it another way: Energy carries information. If you can make yourself sensitive to the information or to the energy, you can get information from it.

If you can make yourself sensitive to the name, you can get information from it. It doesn't come roaring out like a lion, it seeps out like sweat, or odor. You have to be very sensitive to even know it's there. But this can help to develop psychic understanding, psychic energy from various things, and over years of being sensitive, you may suddenly one day discover that you have some degree of psychic power.

Psychic Power is Not Significant: Spiritual Advancement Is

This Awareness indicates it is not to say that seeking psychic power is of great significance or importance; the only thing truly important is spiritual advancement, but psychic power, just like muscle power, has a place, wherein you can, for example, help someone with your psychic intuition, or sensitivity to the entity's needs. This can be helpful as a spiritual tool.

Do not try to make it an end in itself. Do not try to dismiss the spiritual development and focus on psychic development, because it pays more, or has more power and influence in regard to your friends and associates, for the pursuit of psychic power is said to be a problem in terms of one's spiritual development.

This Awareness indicates it is not a problem to have psychic power. It is a problem when the psychic power becomes more significant to you than your spiritual development. Let the psychic power simply be an outgrowth or part to your spiritual development. If you have a job wherein you pursue your job and you receive perks or benefits for having that job, you do not stop your work, your focus on your job to concentrate on your perk, your benefit; your sick-leave, for example, or your vacation time; you continue to focus on your real job, your real purpose.

It is the same in regard to your spiritual development. Let that have the first priority and let psychic development tag along as a secondary benefit. Otherwise, you can retard your spiritual growth, if you give too much significance to your psychic growth.

The Law of Gratitude is given.

What Causes the Change From Love to Hate?

QUESTION:

A question from R. C., Schenectady, New York. He writes;

"Love and hate are the opposite sides of a similar emotion. What causes the change from love to hate? How can we reverse this direction?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that love and hate are not necessarily opposite sides. This Awareness suggests that love is a quality which, when added to fear, produces hate; that the fear of a loved one or fear associated with one who is loved can often result in a kind of frustration, which expresses itself as hostility. However, wherein there is no respect or love for the one, then the hatred is of a different type.

This Awareness indicates it is possible for an entity to hate a stranger, one who is not loved, whereby this stranger violates the entity's principles or well-being, such as in cases of rape or robbery or other forms of violence by a stranger upon one. That this appears to be a somewhat different type of hatred which is not opposed to love because the entity would not normally be expressing love toward that stranger, whereas the violation can create a type of hatred toward the entity. This Awareness suggests, however, that fear is always an element prevalent in the activities wherein the term hatred would describe an emotion.

Fear and Hatred are Two Sides of the Same Coin

This Awareness indicates that essentially, fear and hatred are two sides of the same coin; that wherein one is attuned in to the fearful side they would retreat, but wherein one attunes in to the hatred side of the coin they would express hostility and be more inclined toward attacking. That wherein an entity is backed into a corner out of fear, the entity, realizing there is no escape, may turn toward the attacking position and therefore become aggressive in that emotional action which expresses hostility or hatred.

This Awareness indicates that essentially, the relationship of love toward this fear/hatred coin, or the circumstance which creates fear and hatred, --the relationship of love toward this is one whereby an entity may feel threatened and may feel fearful in expressing love, for fear that they will be violated. The action of love is to put oneself in a vulnerable position, and when one is in a vulnerable position, the entity is open to being violated, and wherein one is open to being violated and vulnerable, the entity may become fearful; and this fearfulness can result in a desire to close down the expression of love, or the vulnerability, or may result in an aggressive action toward the one who is the recipient of that love or vulnerability.

This Awareness indicates that wherein one opens oneself and is vulnerable to another, and the other reacts in a way which causes the first entity to feel threatened or insecure in that expression of love, the first entity may then feel a type of aggressive rejection or hostility toward that entity who was loved, and in this way, the entity expresses the quality known as hatred toward the loved one. This Awareness indicates the other action would be to close down and retreat, removing any vulnerability. This Awareness suggests that this type of behavior as being very common among entities who open themselves to trust those who are not fully trustworthy.

This Awareness indicates also, that this as a way of reaching out to establish a relationship; and that wherein entities open themselves to establish a relationship with another and are basically insecure, they may see various slights as threats, even though no threat is intended. This can often result in entities having their ego or self-esteem ruffled by their loved one and can result in a kind of temporary hostility or quarrel or a domestic or relationship problem which requires deeper communication and working out the ruffled feelings of each other. That as this is worked out between entities, a gradual building of sensitivity and trust and understanding can grow between the entities, so that even though there were many areas of disagreement and frustration or quarrels, the entities can gradually become more trusting of each other, more aware of each other's sensitivities, and learn how to relate without becoming so frustrated with each other. That as this occurs, the relationship can gradually move toward more harmonious levels.

This Awareness indicates that wherein entities involved in a love relationship violate each other out of self-fear, or out of the feeling that the other is abusing them, wherein this becomes extreme and the problems are not worked out to a satisfactory solution, but simply keep repeating themselves, with one entity winning and the other entity losing, either through physical abuse or through some other form of psychological abuse, --this Awareness indicates that if this cannot become balanced whereby both entities win through a reconciliation and a deeper understanding of the root causes of the conflicts within each other, (rather than pointing to the other and saying: "You are the root cause of this conflict")--wherein each entity can look within herself or himself and discover the weaknesses within oneself which assisted or contributed to the problem, and thereby eliminate these weaknesses or modify these weaknesses; wherein this can occur, leading to reconciliation and deeper understanding of each entity, then the relationship is more healthy for the quarrel or argument, and this may be considered as a cleansing fight or cleansing quarrel.

Wherein this does not cleanse, but simply results in one entity feeling righteous and the other entity feeling abused, then the quarrel cannot be considered as cleansing, but as a malady or sickness in the relationship.

Hatred is Always Accompanied by Fear

This Awareness indicates that in terms of the concept of hatred, wherein one feels such intense hostility as to wish to destroy another, in whole or in part, this kind of hatred is always accompanied by some type of fear. That often an entity will express hatred, not toward the source of the fear, but will find a substitute for that hatred. Therefore, one entity may attack total strangers, may violate society or individuals of society, even though the real root cause of the hatred stems from an earlier relationship with a totally different entity or different circumstances.

This Awareness indicates that such substitutions are very often behind the malicious attacks expressing hatred on innocent victims. But even in these circumstances, fear of some type,--fear of rejection, fear of a particular group of entities, a race of entities, or of the opposite sex, or of the same sex, of a different age group, or of a particular type of person, --these fears often are transferred and receive and contribute to the expression of hostility upon innocent victims.

Any Expression of Love Involves a Risk

This Awareness indicates that generally the idea of love and hatred being opposite each other, this as a loose general concept, but is incorrect without the realization that fear is an element involved in these concepts. This Awareness indicates that any action of love, any expression of love involves a risk, the risk of being made vulnerable and having to put oneself into a vulnerable position of trusting another. This Awareness indicates that one can trust the other because of experience in dealing with the other, yet, it still requires that you trust the other to remain as they are, to remain loyal to the image which you have come to know of this entity.

When Fear and Paranoia Enters the Relationship

This Awareness indicates that wherein one has deep fear that another will change or be unfaithful to the image which you expected, then suspicions may enter and paranoias, or fears, and these can eventually lead to breakdowns in the relationship whereby certain frustrations and hostilities will creep in, leading to a need for communication regarding these fears and suspicions. If the communication is not forthcoming, the fears and suspicions may tend to develop even further. This depending, of course, on whether the entity can work out the problems within oneself and whether there is any substance for the fears and suspicions.

This Awareness indicates that wherein the entity discovers the fears and suspicions were simply within himself and had no real substance in the relationship, and wherein the entity in discovering this, dismisses these fears and suspicions, then the need for communication regarding this is not so important. This Awareness suggests, however, that this may be beneficial to allow the other to understand more about oneself and one's insecurities and feelings. This Awareness suggests that wherein one moves into a suspicion regarding the other, and upon investigation is inclined to believe that the suspicions are accurate, then the entity will profit by discussing these with the other, so that the two may work out a clearer relationship before the problem intensifies.

This Awareness suggests that in discussing your suspicions about another wherein you feel the other might violate or deceive you, that the discussion can bring about a clarification or may even cause the other to recognize that the relationship is in need of greater fidelity and greater harmony between the two. This Awareness indicates, however, that wherein an entity, suspecting that another is deceiving, or is inclined to deceive, discusses this with the other and the other, whose intentions are deliberate to deceive, and the other does not wish to continue the clear relationship, but does, in fact, wish to violate the first; then the problem becomes more complex and the communications may not be able to patch up the relationship. But even in this case, the communications at least will open up the truth of the matter whereby the entities involved can carefully look and realize that the relationship is indeed in jeopardy, and from that realization take the necessary steps, either to dissolve the relationship, or to find ways of rearranging the relationship so that both parties are satisfied to continue the relationship.

The Cause of Those who Hate Others in General

This Awareness indicates that in terms of general hatred that; some entities have toward all others, regardless of who they may be, this is basically brought on within the entity's own consciousness based on fears, rejections, slights or experiences which have caused the entity to wish to express revenge or hostility toward others. That often this also is intensified from the inner excitement which the entity feels in regard to seeing another violated; this excitement being stimulated by curiosity and a kind of sadism and enjoyment of seeing each other suffer. This Awareness indicates that this also as being somewhat common for the more un-evolved souls, particularly those who have themselves experienced frustrating circumstances in their earlier development.

Those Who Hate Dislike Themselves?

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

Awareness, isn't basically at the heart of the matter of an entity who hates, violates or dislikes other people, a basic subconscious dislike of his own self

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this not necessarily so; that often the entity does like himself but feels that others do not. This Awareness indicates also, that there are different degrees of what may be termed hatred; that a particular degree of this action is somewhat healthy, as it creates initiative. Wherein one resents being violated by others, the entity in maturing, turns this resentment into personal initiative, and, this becomes a driving force which can serve one's ambition to succeed.

Resentment can Turn into Revenge or Vengeance

This Awareness indicates that the resentment, when held too long and too strong, can take its place in revenge or vengeance, whereby the entity wishes not only to prove to others his worth or her worth, but wishes that others suffer as the entity shows them how much better he or she is than they.

This Awareness indicates that above and beyond this vengeance factor is the general extreme quality of what might be termed hatred,--the desire to simply destroy another because the other is unworthy of being allowed to continue existing in the same world as you. This Awareness indicates that this may take many forms: that an entity may destroy another's career, may destroy another's emotions, may destroy another's will, may destroy another's hopes, may destroy another's relationships, may destroy another's good name, may destroy another's plans, may destroy another's self-image, may destroy another's family, may destroy another's friends. There are many ways whereby one entity can destroy another without committing murder. This Awareness indicates that entity may destroy another's peace or poise.

This Awareness indicates that as one entity attacks another in hostility or hatred or vengeance toward the other, this often gives a kind of energy and a feeling of righteousness to the one who has subjugated the other; this as based on the concept of "Might makes right" and whoever wins therefore must be correct. That this as being very deeply programmed into the consciousness of many entities.

"Might Makes Right" Proves They are Right

This Awareness suggests that throughout history many conflicts were resolved by the use of combat,--that whoever won must be the right person. More recently, concepts of justice center around mutual laws which protect even the weaker, as well as the strong. This Awareness indicates that there still, however, tends to be that strong feeling within entities that if they win they must be right. Therefore, this Awareness suggests that entities often seek to win in order to prove to others that they were right.

Wealthy Entities are Blessed by God Says Calvinism

This Awareness indicates this reflects also in the Calvinistic attitude that if one is truly "with God", then one must be blessed financially; and therefore, those who are wealthy are obviously spiritually divine and following the path of the proper religious attitudes. This Awareness indicates this led to a materialism whereby the entities could collect wealth and feel divinely proud that they were blessed by God, even though they might be cheating others in receiving their wealth.

This Awareness indicates that wherein the entity feels a poor image of oneself, the entity may express hatred toward others and seek revenge, rise up and attack the other. That this can be a factor wherein the entity has felt himself to be a victim, and therefore, the expression of hostility by this entity may be said to be brought about by a poor self-image. This Awareness indicates, however, that it is not exclusively caused by a poor self-image; that some entities have a good image of themselves, but have unusual values whereby they look down on others as inferior and despise them for their weakness. That this, also, as a form of sickness which is sometimes at the root of expressing hostility.

This Awareness indicates that even this, however, does have a slight element of something within it whereby the contempt one feels toward others,--there may also be a form of fear relating to that contempt, whereby one looks down on others contemptuously, fearing perhaps that he, too, may someday be like that person; or may despise looking at this particular person because it reminds him of his own vulnerability, and therefore, the entity may wish that person not to exist in his presence;--that this can also be a factor in the contemptuous attitudes entities hold for others. This Awareness indicates therefore, from that point of view the question you asked as being in the affirmative, but not exclusively in all cases.

THE EXPERIENCE OF LOVE

OPENING MESSAGE:

(11/23/97)

This Awareness indicates the necessity to communicate, redefine and emphasize certain aspects of that mysterious force and wondrous human experience known as love. This Awareness suggests as implied by the Law of Love, that this power as energy, embodies more than what is commonly conceived of as the feeling and experience of love among humans.

This Awareness suggests that the concept is often limited to the exchange of energy between sexual parenting and life partners, given almost an exclusionary aspect to a far more universal force and impetus. This Awareness suggests that love is also understood between significant others, including intimate friends, family relationships, and even animal companions.

This Awareness suggests, however, that a conceptual broadening and redefinition of the Love Force can be beneficial in facilitating understandings contained within the Lessons of Enlightenment and of the very spiritual essence which seeks development and expression in a physical experience. This Awareness suggests that the concept of love should be applied also in many other experiences; each and every one of which invokes what has been described as a spiritual resonance, a sensation experienced within the general vicinity of the heart and the solar plexus, or central area of the human form and energy system.

This Awareness suggests that the Love Energy can be experienced in any situation where Spirit is achieving fulfillment and expression. The more intense the feeling, the more spiritual presence or attunement to All That Is. This Awareness suggests that the gazing upon a sunset, a snowflake, a bucolic scene of natural beauty invokes such a resonance that it affirms a connectedness, the meaningful position of humans within the physical scheme. It resonates a wisdom, order and beauty of the Creator and the Creator or Spirit Itself.

This Awareness suggests the experience of love and spiritual resonance occurs when entities gaze upon other entities who are successfully achieving expression of that which their spirit offers through physical creative expressions: artistic, musical, poetic, of movement. The experience of love and spiritual resonance is also experienced through the mental creations; not only through the expressions one creatively offers to the world, but also through the feelings of the receiver. Any creative offerings, ideas, stories, or imaginings shared outwardly in any form, strike their mark of spiritual recognition of that which is universal and spiritually pleasing. Any such ideas or mental offerings which meet human needs will be met with feelings of love and the quickening of Spirit as it finds expression and acceptance within the mind and body. This Awareness suggests that such expressions achieving an uninterrupted flow and quickening of Universal Love energy, can be received with like intensity, creating fulfillment and resonance in the observing and receiving entities, for such expression affirms again the universal connection of each and every entity, the universality of the creative impetus and the validating pleasure, when its expression is achieved.

This Awareness suggests that love can be experienced in the empathic understanding of the situation of a relative stranger in a situation of struggle, or a situation of fulfillment wherein vicarious emotional experience is felt within an observer of entities in such situations, in that which is defined as compassion. It indeed is more accurately defined as an experience of love. To act upon the love and compassion with offers of assistance and light is the perpetuation and extension of the network of Love, light and spiritual energy.

This Awareness suggests that entities seek out such experiences which create this resonance, this quickening in the central area of the form near the heart, and understand such feelings to be the completion of a spiritual energy circuit wherein Spirit has achieved expression and fulfillment.

This Awareness suggests that the conscious examination of all such feelings and the gaining of understanding of the mental ideas, beliefs and strategies of mind have taken root and have been successful in the physical world in completing the spiritual circuit. As humans begin to note the ebb and flow of their feelings and how they constantly relate spiritual needs of goals to physical actual outcomes, entities can at last come to understand the power of mind.

The force of love is that which provides inner evidence and judgment upon the contents of mind to bring interfering and limiting beliefs into conscious awareness so that they can be removed. The love experience is the ultimate and pure voice of the Creator.

This Awareness suggests that entities facilitate such loving experience, take active steps to create opportunities in the home, in the workplace, in the community, in the social and political structures wherein a maximum number of such experiences can be enjoyed by all.

This Awareness suggests that as the evolution of humanity proceeds, that love shall become a far more frequent and a far more inclusive concept and experience, as Spirit intends; that the energy network shall extend in ever-expanding directions, replacing emotional networks fused by fear and spiritual obstruction. We have completion.

AN OVERVIEW OF WHAT'S AHEAD IN 1998

QUESTION:

Could We ask Awareness at this time for a brief overview of what It sees in the coming year of 1998, and from that perhaps extract information and ask specific questions?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the year 1988, shall provide certain cornerstone events and experiences wherein humanity can focus more clearly and obtain certain understandings more directly which shall facilitate the overall redirecting of energies which now promise the usherance of the era of Light empowerment, and renaissance, the dawn of the Millennium.

This Awareness suggests that such energy and shift in consciousness shall be experienced in many areas of human existence: in political trends which cease to vacillate wildly between polar extremes, wherein certain aspects of nature and human need are emphasized at the expense of others. This Awareness suggests that the more even keel interests, perspectives that have arisen and prevailed, shall continue to exhibit their success in having attained the balance between the individual needs and affiliative group needs within entities as well as the collective needs within mass consciousness, to compensate for the continuing misunderstandings that they still exist.

This Awareness suggests that such trends will also be observed in the economic ups and downs and market forces which reflect conflicting goals and disparity between direction of entities torn between the pessimism yielded from previous and continuing cyclic human error versus the optimism that faith, cooperation, empowerment and enlightenment now promises. This Awareness suggests that a balancing and a leveling off in a general sense within market trends shall be indicative of these forces which gather for the Millennium.

Seven Critical Public Events Will Occur

This Awareness suggests there shall be seven critical public events which will capture the attention and public discussion and focus regarding certain human rights, judicial processes and tensions between individual freedom and group cohesion and control.

This Awareness suggests that the information to be derived from these 7 major headline-grabbing situations shall be best understood in a framework of understanding spiritual human need and the tensions created when environments, political structures, economic communities and social groupings do not accommodate the individual effort that seek need fulfillment and the repercussions that often result. This shall provide an excellent arena of discussion of the self-preservationary defensive impulse versus the emerging consciousness of the spiritually desirable natural impulse toward self development and expression.

This Awareness suggests there shall be several new artists arriving at the forefront of arts, film and music who will model creative inspirational expression and highlight certain social trends leading to empowerment and enlightenment through their art.

This Awareness suggests that the year 1998 will evidence synchronicity in the bringing together of diverse approaches, endeavors and successful expressions from seemingly polar opposite starting points, yet which all dovetail together, fueling the fire of human spirit, which will find its proper outlets as the understandings contained within the Lessons of Enlightenment absorb into mass-consciousness and begin to take root.

Lessons of Enlightenment to Spread

This Awareness suggests that an opportunity will arise for the Organization of Awareness to achieve broader exposure for the ideas contained within the Lessons, and that certain entities within the membership will also be instrumental in facilitating a broader distribution and communicative network for the more timely and efficient distribution and impartation of this essential information.

Major Seismic Activity Will Occur in China

This Awareness suggests that there will be certain seismic activity related to certain energies which are building, surrounding the collective consciousness and frustration within a country known as China. The psychic physical and economic aftershocks will be experienced throughout the globe to awaken humans to their state of interdependence. This Awareness also suggests there is significant energy invested in a probability of a major air disaster.

But this Awareness emphasizes that such negative human experiences have existed since the dawn of humanity and shall continue until complete enlightenment replaces ignorance; that certain patterns and trends and activities will be evident, apparent and abundant, which emphasize the misunderstandings and deficits within political and social communities which pit human spirit against the limitations within the mind of man.

Such spiritual frustration will continue to be observable in individual and social ills, from depression, violence, anger, defensive aggression, certain criminal activities, resistance and hostility to over-controlling communities or those that provide inadequate opportunity, freedom and power.

This Awareness suggests, however, that when history continues to repeat itself, as the understandings and enlightenment are achieved, that such patterns will be recognized for their inevitability, their sources understood, so that these changes and alterations can be effected within the social structures that eliminate such automatic reaction.

The General Tone of the Year 1998 is Positive

This Awareness suggests the general tone and feeling of the year 1988 is one of positivity, productivity, good fortune, and, most specifically, a quickening of energies which can propel entities attuned to that energy within themselves into a most productive and personal development pattern of activity which will place them at the forefront of humanity, positioning them as leaders of the new enlightened community which shall commence at the dawn of the Millennium.

This Awareness suggests that in the next two years, a great deal can and shall be accomplished, with limitation only to the degree that entities are willing to continue to limit themselves. This Awareness suggests that there shall be an increase in the network of Light Workers and communities with the specific purpose of understanding the parameters of consciousness, of spirituality, and of actively working with the information contained in the Lessons of Enlightenment, to reclaim the long-lost human capacity to understand the voice of Spirit and to finally begin evolution and civilization. Through the use of the spiritual feeling sense, entities can adequately define the individual mind and cleanse the mind of man, the cultural thought, the prevailing truth of any ideas and structures which limits and frustrate spiritual intention.

The Lessons of Enlightenment Give You a Two Year Headstart

This Awareness suggests that entities can achieve a preliminary practice run for the life that they seek to create for themselves in the coming Millennium; that entities who study and practice the Lessons can begin to experiment with creative reality, to define for themselves at the beginning of 1998, that which they seek to accomplish during that year, and to faithfully follow the daily suggestions for living in Light, and that by the year's end, such efforts will have created an even more empowering and positive picture for the emergence of 1999, ever increasing those energies which are gathering to propel mass consciousness forward in one mighty explosion, should enough entities be successful at their endeavors. The wisdom within the Lessons gives entities a two year running start—and they shall emerge as leaders and major influences upon the mass enlightenment. Two years to attune to individual fulfillment and watch how it never fails to also penetrate mass fulfillment.

This Awareness suggests that success is only measured by the amount of fulfillment achieved within such individuals and that even the slightest suggestion of spiritual resonance, can contribute a substantial amount of energy to that which is gathering, and that each and every such effort contributes, regardless whether it be the first time resonance upon gazing into the eye of a former enemy and recognizing oneself in that spiritual communion, of gazing upon a sunset and understanding it to be the resonance of Spirit, and recognizing that which is mentally foreign, yet deeply familiar within the human feeling system.

Progress can be made in such simple actions or such grand acts as creating networks of information, ushering political change, redirecting consciousness in any number of institutional environments. This Awareness reminds you, however, that those entities considered as social, spiritual and political leaders, observed as making substantial contributions, are no more valuable than each and every entity whose heart swells with the resonance of Spirit, over even the slightest experience.

If we have specific areas of request, we can continue.

Why the Highest Military Budget in History?

QUESTION:

Yes. I'd like to know about the military budget. The Pentagon is running articles that it's going to slash the civilian work force, for example, and the cuts in the bureaucracy would free money for weapons. Well, the Pentagon already has 250 billion dollars in the budget, which is an all-time high, even back when we were fighting the Cold War. We're the only country in the world that is still fighting the Cold War, and we don't really have any enemies.

Now, why is all this money going for new weapons when we don't really have any big enemies or any major war?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that although a truly enlightened civilization requires no such budget and no such weapons, that humanity is far, far removed from such a state that can be described as 'true' civilization. This Awareness suggests that although on the surface, such activity appears to be leading the consciousness in backward directions which promote competition, conquest, and superiority, that the rationale behind the weaponry described serves to ensure that the superpower known as the United States maintains its position of power and dominance, communicating in the language of fear, which is often the only language spoken and understood within entities severely limited in their own socio-political communities, which still operate upon grossly limited assumptions which frustrate spirit to the degree that animalistic competition, hostility and violence becomes an accepted norm within such communities.

The U.S. An Experimental World Community

This Awareness suggests that it is of cosmic importance that the United States retain such superiority, regardless of the methods required to facilitate that position, for it is the community of the United States which serves as a training ground for ideas to emerge regarding the ultimate global community which is evolving. It is historically the first multicultural community which now acts as an experimental world community. The freedom and pursuit of happiness ensured constitutionally are aligned with spiritual intention.

This Awareness suggests that from U.S. principles sprang the United Nations. The seed which has been planted, which shall sprout and grow and flourish into a directional guiding force to design a world community with standards of freedom, of opportunity, of human rights and human dignity. Certain energies, even from those Light Workers who disavow the use of weapons and force; that such energy is actually being applied into such programs that continue to facilitate the dominant strength of the United States, given its mission of providing thought, rationality, principles and strategies which shall ultimately lay the groundwork for the global community. The necessary openness of freedom and opportunity has not yet been achieved with such a degree of balance within any other powerful nations.

This Awareness suggests that as the energies accumulate which shall propel consciousness in more civil directions, that the worst has passed, wherein the use of such weaponry becomes actual rather than existing in a probable realm within the mind of man.

This Awareness suggests that the existence of weapons within the mind of man provide enough power and strength to remind those aggressors and individual nations who, when mired within mental bondage, seek competition and to remain economically and ideologically disassociated with the rest of humanity, or those whose ideologies insist upon separatism, necessary competition, holy war, or aggression against that which they do not understand nor experience connection.

This Awareness suggests that as the consciousness of humanity expands there shall be a re-direction of energies, resources and moneys into specific budgets which facilitate cooperative peaceful existence, which maximize individual opportunity and minimize those conditions which create narrow cult-like, warring environments which need to be controlled by threat.

This Awareness suggests that the current leadership of the United States understands at an intuitive level, the importance of operating not only with vision toward an enlightened interconnected cooperative future existence, but that the necessary understanding and acceptance of the conditions as they do indeed exist, the acceptance of the inevitable limitations within the realm of man and the keen awareness of and the vigilant protection against the potential lashings out from entities within an international community still convinced within their own limited intellectual and emotional boundaries of mind, that there is One God, One Way, One Choice that shall be foisted upon all, by those who have chosen such beliefs for themselves.

This Awareness suggests that a major impetus behind the community of the United States, a major enlightened doctrine which has yet to be fully and completely appreciated and utilized, are certain tenets which underlie the visions and goals and legal structures of the United States, which ensure individual freedom, empowerment, the separation of church and state, wherein freedom is ensured as a choice rather than being legislated.

This Awareness suggests that such freedom facilitates the multi-cultural perspective and communities that now comprise the United States and which ultimately can apprise the united nations of the world. This Awareness suggests that entities concerned over the existence of such weapons shall be reminded that humanity came face to face with their own ability for annihilation and became enlightened, choosing specific negotiations such as SALT, wherein the choice and decision to allow human annihilation to exist only as a possibility within the realm of mind and to never become a physical actuality.

Freedom Consciousness is Within the Leaders of the Free World

This Awareness suggests that this decision has had a profound impact upon human consciousness and will never be forgotten, and that entities can be assured that this consciousness is within the leaders of the Free World and even within the consciousness of leaders whose worlds are not yet free, yet they recognize that the limitations of the past cannot be completely swept away with one mighty broom of change, for the fabric of society can be irreparably torn apart, and that change must be incremental and thoughtful.

This Awareness suggests that many apprehensions and fears can be dissipated in the knowledge that such consciousness exists and does underlie motivational principles of the leaders that shall retain and rise to positions of power.

If we have completion, we can continue.

What About the so-called "Black Budget?"

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Though a previous Interpreter, Awareness indicated that these huge military budgets went into what is called a Black Budget, which the population was kept ignorant of, and this was for research and development in the space program and otherwise, of weapons to defend the world from what the military leaders felt at least at one time, was an inevitable invasion by extra-terrestrials. Does Awareness see anything of that scenario still in the works?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this potential scenario has never existed beyond the realm of human mind, and the 'alien invasion' has already manifested to its full physical extent with the notable trends saturating popular culture from films to bumper-stickers and key chains. Little, if any, energy is being directed toward such goals in that what is described as 'darkness' has been replaced with the first glimmerings of light. This Awareness has no further comment.

WHAT ABOUT SADDAM HUSSEIN?

QUESTION:

Does It see anything, a reconciliation or otherwise with this entity Saddam Hussein, who allegedly has biological weapons that he keeps moving around and won't let the UN people check out these underground facilities, and that these biological weapons contain enough germs and so forth to destroy all civilization, as one news story put it. Can Awareness tell us anything about what's going to happen with this entity in the coming year?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that there is a degree of validity as well as a degree of distortion in the information suggested regarding this entity and that for which he stands. This Awareness suggests that in the broadest sense, the world is enjoying the final bow, a death rattle of sorts, through this sequence of events with this particular entity and this particular country which marks the watershed event for humanity wherein the conclusion shall be universally understood that no longer can countries within the global community continue to operate as if they are unique, isolated, independent entities who insist upon maintaining rigid mental boundaries without regard to the interconnection that does exist, and demands mental flexibility.

This Awareness suggests that this event also epitomizes the tendency to defend mental/emotional boundaries to a highly fanatic degree. This Awareness suggests that the capacity to be and act like Saddam Hussein, exists within every entity, and in those who seek to defend limited knowledge, world views and thought systems which are touted as universal truths, yet which frustrate the spirit of even its most dedicated adherents.

This Awareness suggests that a take-home message from the saga of Saddam Hussein will be that of the utilization of all of human capability, most specifically, the human feeling sense, to examine the contents of mind (that drives the actions), to develop and express rather than motivate actions to defend, to fight and take flight in denial at the realities that exist within a global interconnected community.

This Awareness suggests that this entity is motivated by the fear that his own ideologies create within. There is a mass acceptance of fear and anger given the religious doctrines and world views that have been accepted and carried on traditionally within communities that base their existence upon fear of retribution from deities and supernatural beings.

This Awareness suggests that fear can motivate quite irrational, unproductive and devastating behaviors and actions such as those already witnessed, wherein the message of the repercussions is not accepted, even when living in the direct fallout of one's mistakes. This Awareness suggests, however, that this entity has indeed gained a degree of wisdom regarding what he can and cannot get away with, although he is recalcitrant in his belief and his self-righteousness regarding his assets, his resources and his destiny.

This Awareness suggests that this entity does indeed have every intention of creating and utilizing biological weapons, although perhaps in a less advanced developmental stage than was suggested; that certain biological weaponry has already been deployed; the results of which have manifested in such mysterious illnesses as the Gulf War Syndrome and certain viruses that continue to circulate. On the other hand, he provides certain symbolic fulfillment in line with deeply ingrained beliefs to the degree that his people feel love for him.

This Awareness suggests, however, that given the spotlight of the international community, that there shall be relative compliance and acquiescence within this community and this individual, although this is not an entity to retreat lightly and to accept limitation, for it would mean the admitting to the self that certain ideas and concepts and dictates that comprise the very identity of this particular entity, and much of the identity of the community and the culture itself, to be inaccurate.

This Awareness suggests that this is a painful experience that has been avoided for centuries, creating an ever-narrowing ideological community which is not in keeping with the expansion of the larger global community which allows freedom of thought, human dignity and acceptance of each and every aspect of human nature, rather than the begging of forgiveness and favor, for the evil that is inevitable within humanity.

Evil can be manifested if it is chosen, for many entities around the world now view Saddam Hussein as Evil Incarnate, where he himself perceives himself to be a champion against the evil that he perceives in the world. This Awareness suggests that the entity would, benefit from reciting, understanding and living by the Law of Love.

This Awareness suggests that the scenarios wherein weapons of mass-destruction ultimately annihilate humanity, are not likely to manifest.

ANY MAJOR WARS ERUPTING IN 1998?

QUESTION:

Does Awareness see any major wars erupting in 1998? It seems like the Israelis are doing everything in their power to initiate a war with the Palestinians. They have reneged on their agreements and they're pushing, they're building projects into areas which they said before they were giving back to Palestine, and they're taking Muslim sacred sites and keeping these people from visiting up there and so forth, which only makes the Palestinians furious and creating atrocities against the civilians in retaliation.

Things seem to be coming to a head. What does Awareness see is going to happen in the Middle East in the coming year?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this pattern and energy is one of continuing tension and confrontation between energies, an effort ultimately driven by religious ideology which shall not achieve resolution without particular understandings and enlightenments reaching all entities involved.

This Awareness suggests that ultimately, there will be an accommodation, a union of certain communities in this general vicinity wherein certain freedoms, opportunities and ideological flexibility can be established. This Awareness suggests that until such time there will continue to be outcroppings of violence, flashes and clashes, not only in this area but in many others who continue to carry out exclusionary mental dictates in blatant defiance of the equal right to choice and freedom of will and determination of others entities of opposing ideologies.

This Awareness suggests that this specific area will continue with its back and forth discussion and expression of hostility and insistence that the other energies acquiesce, but that on the horizon, the energy which enfolds the earth, there will be very few significant and threatening flashes of violence, like bursts of flame in a dark quiet night. That is the relative state of equilibrium that exists and shall continue; a relatively peaceful productive and enlightening year.

This Awareness suggests that this specific situation will involve insurgence, which will be experiencing a turnabout, recreating the pattern which is already perpetuated, but will, as the energy is deflated from such ideologies and assumptions which fuel this continuing cycle; that this pattern will experience entropy, and ultimately result in a peaceful compatible cohabitation of this geographic environment with the diverse ideologies co-existing side by side, once the ideological boundaries which limit them are removed and the freedom so desired within each group, yet so limited in their perspective toward the other, is finally acknowledged and recognized, as is the unity, that is the valid and spiritual reality.

Will President Clinton be Impeached?

QUESTION:

A question about the political system here in the United States. There is a rather strong movement from two or three different sources in this country who are very serious about impeaching President Clinton, on everything from a long line of naughty escapades the entity has been involved in, to taking money under the table to finance campaign contributions, but the most serious is put out by the Conservatives who say he has circumnavigated and undermined the Constitution, which he has sworn to uphold, and that in so doing, he has committed treason.

Does Awareness see this entity being impeached in 1998, or being seriously pursued by those who would impeach him?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is in the negative. This Awareness indicates that there is significant energy revolving around this entity, that despite certain human frailties, has allowed tremendous success in the laying of the groundwork for the centrist understandings, which are now recognized as the obvious answer to the problem of vacillating between Conservative and Liberal polarities, between Republican and Democratic parties, between individual rights versus social necessities and requirements of equal opportunity, in that this entity has utilized the energy surrounding him to manifest the unique balance between such polarities to highlight the goals that each seeks, and to emphasize that they are not mutually exclusive goals.

This Awareness suggests that the Conservative factions described in the questions which continue to grasp at straws and maintain their rigid intellectual boundaries (regarding the necessary conflict between varying political factions which guarantee that progress will be minimized); that such entities' energy and power has been substantially deflated, due to the success and the conscious understanding of this success of the trend of centrism.

This Awareness suggests that this entity will not be completely absolved from certain incidents, but that the general impetus and energy is one that contributes toward the evolution of consciousness, the political restructuring, and is indeed based within the tenets of the United States Constitution. This Awareness indicates the expanding upon and interpreting these tenets in their broadest most inclusive sense, shall greatly perpetuate the progress of the United States toward achieving the balance necessary to provide the maximum individual freedom for entities to satisfy their spiritual need to create, to develop and express their uniqueness in which manners they so choose without unnecessary legal restriction, as well as to provide the social structures which provide equal opportunity, rather than insist on equal result.

This Awareness suggests that the energies surrounding the Republican Party, specifically those locked into the rigid Right Wing extreme positions, have been reduced to the degree that they can no longer find cohesion or numbers of individuals to contribute their energy and that certain re-organizations, understandings, changes, alterations and acceptances of realities which have been bitterly rejected in the past must be achieved for such groups of individuals to continue to gather the steam and momentum and power and energy needed to facilitate the agenda.

This Awareness suggests that this pattern and trend of entities stepping aside and questioning certain affiliations and rigid ideas regarding how one must think, how one must vote, who one must align themselves with, that entities are to be congratulated who can step from one ideological realm to the next, taking those ideas that facilitate spiritual development and expression with them from each and leaving behind the limitations, rather than to huddle within existing emotional boundaries of limited ideologies, so that their members, one by one, leave for more free-thinking environments, until eventually the cheese stands alone.

This Awareness suggests that this particular political leader shall be the first in a trend of leaders to facilitate the equalization and the pulling together, the uniting of the United States citizens, which can provide a model for similar progress, which will be inevitable in any civilization, for they must fully accept and accommodate human nature within a political structure.

This Awareness suggests that this leadership and the leadership which shall follow, which in the strongest probability shall be the Vice President assuming the presidency, in that this trend will gather further momentum and facilitate certain enlightenment which is part of the human destiny and the momentum gathering for the Millennium.

This Awareness suggests that the leadership community will receive access to certain information, some of which is contained in the Lessons of Enlightenment, and that this shall be a tremendous resource, and that the receptivity is particularly high within these entities.

Will Social Security End this February?

QUESTION:

A question from Ed Hartman of Pocatello, Idaho. He sent in a flier "The Prophecy Club" with a long diatribe about the secret government plot to abolish Social Security in February of 1998. And his question: "Would you please ask Awareness if It sees Social Security being abolished in February 1998, or at any other time in the near future?"

"Reference article from Weekly World News, September 9th, 1997 is attached."

QUESTION:

This Awareness suggests that this is not a likely probability at this time. This Awareness suggests that like many human systems, the one described has experienced certain limitations and problems which are being addressed at this time, so that a restructuring and a redefinition perhaps, in the long run, of such a system, will be achieved.

It does not appear however, that the system will simply be eliminated suddenly and unceremoniously in 1998. This Awareness suggests that such a system strikes a necessary balance and achieves fulfillment for Spirit in the areas of providing equal opportunity, as well as recognizing the individual resource of humans in free pursuit of creative development and expression.

This Awareness suggests that certain cooperative safety net systems which provide a continuity and security in this case, for its participants, is a worthy activity and shall continue to be a political pursuit, until such a time as the correct and accurate balance can be achieved between the influx of resources and the distribution, or out-flux of security to those benefiting from the system.

This Awareness suggests that such a program is an example of the cooperative impetus which is spiritually fulfilling, when it achieves its maximum potential.

Is The Photon Belt Only a Metaphor?

QUESTION:

A question from Barbara Wagner, Felton, Delaware. She writes: "In a recent issue it was stated that the Photon belt is a metaphor. Is it only a metaphor, or is it really out there in space? If anyone else is interested, would you please ask Awareness to re-explain, through the new Interpreter Grace, the "Dimension Shift" or Dimension Split on earth and the events expected to occur, and the approximate dates, etc., concerning this?"

"Will this Dimension Shift occur on the other planets in our solar system too? Any information, old or new, would be much appreciated."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness, through this particular channel in the entity Grace, identifies the Photon Belt phenomenon within a framework of human evolution and expansion of consciousness and enlightenment. Such abstract perception has been her particular gift and focus of consciousness upon this Awareness.

This Awareness indicates that an abstract and clear representation of the energy of this Awareness permeates this perspective. This Awareness indicates that although certain cosmic configurations and bodies within the ever-evolving and expanding universe correspond in direct relationship to the major thought systems and energy networks within the mind of man; that the greatest understandings of the Photon energies are to be derived in the metaphorical sense, in the 'splitting' of consciousness, beginning with the initial and missing understandings of the function of the human emotional sense.

This Awareness suggests that this shift, and the grasping of such understanding is tantamount to a cosmic explosion, a shift of polar-like dimension in consciousness. Although it may appear to be simple, entertaining and perhaps too easy an answer to solve the breadth of human problems and issues, such enlightenment is indeed the way. Human expectation is often highly creative in imagination and catastrophic in certain supernatural events (cosmic, psychic, spiritual events) within the existing mind, which are wild sweeping external actions which change the existence of humanity without anything transpiring within the realm of mind.

This Awareness indicates that this expectation is limited, unrealistic and extremely inaccurate, for indeed, the realm of human mind is the point of power wherein spiritual energy is converted into physical experience, wherein entities can actively design and define the very events that they seek to create, to manifest development and expression of their individual spirit and progress along a Destiny Path, to redefine, to cleanse the mind of man of the many impurities that now grossly limit human consciousness and human experience.

This Awareness indicates that something so simple as understanding the human nature and the system of spiritual communication may not be fully graspable given certain unrealistic expectations and the limitations which do exist and are touted within major thought systems regarding human limitation, the evil nature, how emotions are to be repressed as animal vestiges or an evil, sinful impetus, guided by Satanic Forces. For all change can only spring from within the realm of mind, for external events can only be manifested following the creation within the realm of mind and thought.

This Awareness suggests that certain catastrophic events can indeed occur within individuals, and within the entire realm of humanity, but that within specific individuals the degree of success in obtaining and retaining the connection between Spirit and mind shall be the single most important cosmic explosion of consciousness that can be obtained at this time.

This Awareness suggests that no amount of shifting in planets, of physical catastrophic events, of social turmoil and turnabout can create the positivity and empowerment that simple shifts of individual mind can accomplish. This Awareness suggests that the Photon Energies which have been predicted were perceived by former sources as 'light at the end of the tunnel,' yet the tunnel was so long and so dark from this limited perspective that it existed in specific terms and within specific conditions which were virtually unattainable given existing limitations.

This Awareness suggests, however, that humanity is far closer to that light when they remove their invested energies within the darkness of the tunnel, and when they remove themselves from their self-imposed limitations by once and for all defining the contents of mind to the desire and intent of Spirit, rather than continuing to insist that existing ideas handed down from generation to generation and offered as truths which in actuality frustrate and limit Spirit so tremendously that pain and suffering and violence, disconnect- edness and competition are the accepted normal human conditions and behaviors.

This Awareness suggests that to first and forever begin to attune to the spiritual wisdom and to utilize the free choice in the manner of which it is intended, to design the mental environment to be free and clear to manifest human spirit in a physical form in any way that the Spirit directs; that this is what has been meant with the shift from Photon energies, the splitting off. The specific date that you request is the specific date that you and anyone, and everyone understands how to listen to the spiritual voice within and how to use that information to redesign the contents of mind, to act upon the spiritual impetus to redesign the contents of the mind of man which exists in human culture, and continues to pass down information.

This Awareness suggests that the moment of the fragmenting is a moment that such understanding is obtained, and that with each subsequent understanding that is received and verified and validated by human spirit, that the Photon Energy can build and increase and explode upon human consciousness in exponential amounts, but that none of this can take place without this initial fundamental mental step. The photon phenomena is the enlightenment, for photons are indeed units of light.

WHAT ABOUT THE STOCK MARKET?

QUESTION

A question from Lora Gardner. Awareness has discussed this previously but we never did get it published. She writes: "Regarding the recent New York Stock Exchange and global markets that seemingly crashed...is this now actually stabilized or is this but a testing to get the reactions of the public as but a prelude to a future total crash?"

QUESTION:

This Awareness suggests that as discussed, in the clashes between countries and in the vacillations between political extremes in American government, that the stock market is an indicator of the emotional tone and the trust and the validity in the cooperative spirit, or its opposite.

This Awareness suggests that bull markets are representative of optimism, of faith in the cooperative effort and interconnectedness and economic stability that can result from such efforts. This Awareness indicates that a bear market is driven by the pessimism that individual competition is the one and only successful impetus, and that negativity is inevitable and acceptable.

This Awareness suggests that an historical glancing at the ups and downs of the economic marketplace can be shown to reflect and coincide with the emotional ups and downs of the global community, the international marketplace and the sentiments of the American people. This Awareness suggests that the huge dips experienced as crashes in previous history are not likely to be repeated, but that an ordinary vacillation, a righting of systems when optimism prevails past the point of the existing consciousness, that dips correcting to rebalance and accurately reflect the overall sentiments as they exist in the moment, rather than as they are shaping up in the mind; but that the overall trend is one of stability and prosperity.

This Awareness suggests that as flashes upon the horizon will continue in clashes between countries, there will be little flashes upon the economic environment regarding ups and downs, but that the general trend is one of stability and prosperity.

Should We Change Our Calendar From Gregorian to Mayan?

(Will It Change Consciousness from War to Peace and Love?)

QUESTION:

John Winston forwarded over the Internet from Voltron, a long report on the Conference of Prophets that took place in October. I'm not going to read this. Most of them were Indians, Hopis and so forth, and Sitchin followers and so forth, and those who predict the planet stalling and then reversing and that sort of thing.

But there was one thing here that's sort of interesting. He writes: "Jose and Lloydine Arguelles--the closing address of the conference was given by these two beautiful presenters. Their basic message is very simple: Change our calendar from the Gregorian calendar to the Mayan calendar of 13 moons, 28 days, in order to enter the 4th dimension, the expanded state where telepathy reigns.

"For the last several years they have traveled the world to give this message and have received positive responses from many countries, including Japan, Brazil and Hawaii. They caution that as long as we follow the Gregorian "old" time calendar, we are buying into the greed, war and power abusiveness of self-serving governments and corporations.

"They ask that we switch to the Mayan time calendar by July 26, 1998, to be in tune with natural earth/solar system timing and return to the ways of love, art, sharing and service." Does the Awareness have any comment on this switching calendars?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests there can be some benefit from the suggestion, in that the calendar appears to be more inclusive and flexible in universal measure and guideline. This Awareness suggests, however, that the calendar is simply that: a new way of measuring time in a relative physical universe in a system of time/space.

This Awareness suggests that the true message delivered by these entities is in keeping with the changes and sweeping alterations in consciousness that shall follow the preliminary understanding of a human spiritual communication system.

This Awareness suggests that each and every goal described as that which can be attained from the switching of one timetable to another, is exactly a goal and possibility contained within the enlightenment in the human purpose of choice, in the designing of individual mind and ultimately the redesigning of the mind of man. This will grossly and profoundly broaden the totality of human potential and human experience, but like the unreasonable expectation of external, supernatural or extraterrestrial intervention which alters dramatically human existence without any effort whatsoever on the part of humanity, is unrealistic and short-sighted. To say that simply switching calendars and wipe away limiting beliefs misses the point of self-determinism.

This Awareness suggests and repeats that all change is within the grasp of each and every human entity and that consciousness can dramatically expand when entities understand how to attune to the spiritual impetus that has been available and lying in wait for humanity since the dawn of the physical experience, when human beings bit of the apple and fell from grace, in creating their realm of mind and their own human knowledge which superseded and interfered with the receptivity and completion of the spiritual message and energy circuit

"1935 will go down in history! For the first time a civilized nation has full gun registration! Our streets will be safer, our police more efficient, and the world will follow our lead in the future!"

---Adolf Hitler

that is part and parcel of a fulfilling and desirous human physical experience.

This Awareness suggests that great wisdom can spring from such efforts as those who circulate the word regarding these potential changes. Even if their sources are described as alternative, many entities have no concept as to their own innate power and ability, let alone conceive of the fact that they can receive direct enlightenment from their spirit and their Creator and that community with All That Is, without going through religious intermediaries, political advisors, medical advisors, psychological advisors, et cetera, for such a capacity sounds too good to be true, given the incredible limitation that has become acceptable within the realm of human consciousness.

This Awareness expresses a great regret and sorrow that such ignorance and suffering has remained a powerful component in human experience, when such an utter fulfillment, blissful and complete expressive spiritual experience lies waiting at the fingertips of humanity, should they only choose to grasp it.

POLE SHIFT TO START FEB. 28TH, 1998?

QUESTION:

One last question here came over the Internet from Voltron called Pole Shift Update. There's a lot of that stuff going on. And he talks about 'This is a report from someone who attended the Earth/Sky Conference, by Drunvalo Melchizedek, October, 1997. This refers to my earlier post titled "Pole Shift to Start February 28th 1998."

"Drunvalo told us 3 weeks ago in the facilitator's conference in Caldon, Arizona, that there was this major solar eclipse that will occur February 26th. If you are in the Caribbean, then the sky will go completely dark and you will be able to see 5 planets with your naked eyes. Drunvalo says the next major eclipse isn't until August of '99, but with the one in February, it will bring about a "quickenning of the spiritual path."

"He says "You haven't seen anything yet, if you think things have been moving fast up until now. Things are really going to pick up after that time!" He didn't say the poles were beginning to shift on February 28th; they have been doing that for a year and a half now. If you check out old aviation maps, you can see where they have made corrections for the magnetic pole shift.

"Chicago has shifted 2 and a half degrees; some places up to 13 degrees, so it is already going on. It will pick up though. Drunvalo referenced Edgar Cayce's work, saying that the real major stuff was to occur in the Winter of 1998. Drunvalo said he was never sure if Cayce meant January/ February, or November/December. So that's the latest on the Earth/Sky Workshop."

Does Awareness have any comments on that information?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that certain geological and geophysical activities which are part and parcel of the physical experience and Destiny Path of the earth itself shall continue, as they have, but this Awareness indicates that specific dramatic upheavals, such as that suggested in the concept of a rapid and complete polar shift are not likely to occur within the specified time period.

This Awareness suggests that a great deal of influence on geophysical activity is exerted through the consciousness and intention of human entities, and the energy which they put out in directed, or misdirected spiritual Will Energy. This Awareness suggests often a major component underlying discussions and predictions regarding catastrophic physiological events are indicative of the impetus within human beings to understand the nature of their own Will Energy and the creative capacity of the mind of the individual as well as the collective creative capacity of the mind of man.

This Awareness suggests that certain predictions are intended to refocus human consciousness upon their own participation in the creativity and maintenance of their planet in that human spirit has far more influence, intervention and control over certain geophysical events than are even imagined.

This Awareness suggests that just as social/political religious warring factions evidence spiritual unrest and just as economic indicators such as the ups and downs of the stock market reflect human emotional tone, so do certain geological manifestations with varying degrees of intensity and instability in exact accordance with varying degrees of intensity and stability of the human spiritual Will Energy and its clear directed creative manifestation, or its willy-nilly expression invested in such scenarios, invested in belief systems where chaos and catastrophe are inevitable, vented in many directions of spiritual anger and frustration without understanding of the source of such dissonance. In such cases, spiritual energy is let loose into such creative scenarios of human powerlessness, eventual catastrophic destruction and supernatural manipulation.

This Awareness suggests that certain geological patterns can be correlated with the mental patterns and emotional tones which signify, personify and define specific human experiences, historical periods and consciousness trends. This particular trend of rising consciousness and a great leap forward will overtake any misdirected energy which may contribute to such a catastrophic event.

If we have completion, we can continue.

Love Should Not Be Limited

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness suggests that as entities begin to attune to the Love Energy that exists within them, to redefine that energy, to broaden the concept and scope, they transcend the concept of love into one of an important and freely given energy to each and every other spirit, Love should not be limited to those simple chosen few while vigorous boundaries remain between the loved and accepted ones and the rest of those insignificant faceless, meaningless, feelingless people that exist. Such meaningless is evidenced by their physical and cultural differences, or their ideological perspectives being unlike and unfamiliar to those considered within the 'lovable' group.

In addition, this Awareness suggests entities enfold each and every human entity, each and every spirit embodied in any physical form as part of the loving community; that in addition to this change in consciousness and in focus and in direction, that they place themselves at the very top of the priority list as worthy in acceptance of their own Universal Love Energy, and that as offered from others.

This Awareness suggests that a great deal of dogma regarding selflessness disallows entities to absorb and bask in the Light of the many love energies that are afforded them in daily experience, and that this Awareness suggests that they absorb each and every photon of this energy and Light available to them, for this shall greatly increase the conscious receptivity and expansion of awareness, which can attune them to the direct creative insights of their own Spirit.

Why Diabetics Resist Absorption of Insulin

QUESTION:

A question from Rasma Kidd in Saint Cloud, Minnesota. "What causes the body of a diabetic person to resist the absorption of insulin. This was my problem this summer, and I believe there may be many readers who share this condition."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that insulin in the form the body produces naturally through the pancreas is specifically tailored to the receptor cells, also within the body, in that although human recreation of this hormone has substantially improved the condition of diabetes, it is not a perfect hand-glove fit, and any discrepancy which exists physically can be greatly magnified, given the belief systems of the entity.

This Awareness suggests that there are certain fears surrounding the efficacy which are rooted to the fears surrounding the condition itself, and the experience of vulnerability and ultimate life or death attention necessary in the maintenance of the condition that can increase the body's resistance to the very cure that insulin can provide.

Entities Should Examine their Beliefs Regarding Medication

This Awareness suggests that entities in this specific situation should carefully examine any beliefs regarding the medication, the process, and any which connect with deep fears should be revised or eliminated and replaced with less conflicting, more supportive ones, which can manifest the subtle physical changes which can allow better receptivity of the insulin itself.

This Awareness suggests that often, intellectual intervention, with many possible scenarios wherein a bright entity can fret over this possibility or that possibility given specific knowledge which may or may not be accurate, yet active within an intense mind, can all contribute to the weakening of the success of the effect of the medicine received to eliminate, or in this case maintain the condition.

This Awareness suggests that this situation is not limited to diabetes alone, but that any regulatory medication offered can be affected tremendously by fears surrounding the conditions, fears surrounding the cures, which in effect minimize and interfere with natural healing abilities and the inner workings of the medications themselves.

Such analyses can be beneficial in a physical as well as mental and emotional sense.

If we have completion we can continue.

QUESTIONER:

A little PS., from her letter I'd like to read. "I am pleased to get to know a bit more about Grace from reading her letter. I am looking forward to the new lessons. The first one is most interesting and it gives me enthusiasm to apply new ideas in my life. I send my love to her!"

An Apocalyptic Scenario for California

(He has a Dream—But is It a Prophetic Dream?)

QUESTION:

Now, Vikki got some E-Mail from James Howle, an entity who forwarded it from an entity named Alex T. Yamane, who I've never heard of, but it's an interesting thing, and I'd like to ask Awareness to comment. He writes:

"Hello everyone! (And he smiles) This morning I had a dream, and it wasn't a normal dream. It started out with various scenes that were not of this planet, which I don't remember too well now, but I was on board a Sirian Lightship surrounded by angelic beings of Light.

"They flew me over the Western Continental coast of South America, and the ship flew up the coast through Central American coast and up to Southern California. Man, from a satellite view, it is incredible down there. Anyway, the storms are brewing down there, and I saw with my own eyes how it is slowly making its way up the coast of the Americas.

"Already Colombia, Peru, Chile, and coastal countries are in a state of emergency. It's funny, because what I saw is not reported in our daily news. It's almost like they're trying to keep us from knowing and being prepared. It may have to do with keeping people from panicking as well. In any case, its the Mother of all storms down there, and as you know, last week, some 200 or so people died in Mexico because of the hurricane that swept inland.

"I then was taken two months into the future. I know this because I saw a New Year's scene that was wet and soaking in a torrential rain in Southern California. For the last few days the weather has been fantastic, but it's because the coastal pressure and moisture is being pulled out into the Pacific Ocean where the temperature is rising.

"There is a lot of information that people like Jose from Medellin, Colombia has posted which indicates scientifically that all that I am trying to say is real. In any case, I saw that most of Southern California was flooded, literally, like I have never seen it in the last 21 years I've been here. In fact, there were emergency personnel and Cal Trans people using boats to help people out of homes in the coastal areas.

"As the months went on, it got progressively worse. It's like the rains continued every single day, reminding me of the story of the Great Flood in the Bible. The area was declared a National Disaster by President Clinton, but FEMA was not on the scene, leaving a major food problem, as most supermarkets were drenched in the water.

"All of the coastal cities of Ventura and Los Angeles counties were under water with roofs of one-level homes barely showing. Most businesses came to a complete halt, and unprepared people were just trying to collect their valuables to get out of here. I saw scenes of helicopters desperately trying to pull up a school bus filled with children that was about to go into a waterfall, that was created of mud near the Topanga Canyon area.

"There was water everywhere. The Orange County area, however, was not as badly hit, though it was also flooded and completely gray clouds everywhere I looked. The worst of the flooding stopped around the Westminster, Fountain Valley area, and I don't know if it's higher elevation or what, but from about Irvine on down, the streets were still navigable with 4-wheel drive sport utility vehicles.

"All those lower Hondas that kids nowadays drive were completely running through water, though. This continued for several months. I think it was June, and people had just started to build an infrastructure with floating bridges when a major earthquake hit the southlands and all of a sudden the flood waters were gone. It all went subterranean or something, taking all kinds of debris: people, animals, buildings, cars, with it. It was so real watching this, that I thought I was already there, saying, "Man if these people were only prepared!"

"Then I was taken a few months ahead, and the southlands looked like something I remembered when I was a child 20 years or so ago, when the air was much, much cleaner and there were less people on the streets.

The ones who had survived started to pick up the brooms and start over again, and it felt like a completely different Southern California.

"Many lives were lost, many people were missing and unaccounted for, and finally the Marines and FEMA were on the scene, after the fact. This pissed me off, thinking "Where were they when it was all happening and we needed their help the most?" Anyway, I wanted to share this with all of you because I believe what I saw was events that are to come in our very near future, especially if you live in Southern California.

"Don't be scared or alarmed, just be advised. Stock up on cans of food, candles, blankets, water and your toiletries. Also get warm clothes that are waterproof and boots that go up to your knees. If you can trade in your car for a sports utility vehicle, used or lease one is fine, just be prepared, because this one is coming, and what I saw was a very severe cleansing of this now polluted wasteland. Sincerely, Alex."

Would Awareness comment on his dream?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the entity has traveled in the dream consciousness into one of many probabilities which are now gathering energy to become actual events, such as he describes. This Awareness suggests that the weather patterns already having occurred in addition to those which are expanded upon in this entity's dream, are related to the El Nino climatic effect which now threatens certain outcomes.

This Awareness suggests that the severity of the scenario may not necessarily manifest to the degree that this entity has described; however, his description is an accurate one regarding a specific probability which may be manifested, depending on the energies in between this current time period and the coming months.

This Awareness suggests that already there has been a shift in a reduction of the energy necessary to bring about this more dramatic result, and that event which is more likely to be manifested from probability into actuality is less severe than that described. This Awareness suggests, however, that the floodings in the areas described are quite accurate, but that the levels will not be quite as catastrophic as those described unless certain energy patterns are reversed.

This Awareness suggests that this entity is quite astute in interpreting his experience and applying his wisdom externally, offering guidance and suggestions to those who may be afflicted by these phenomenon. He is also astute in the suggestion regarding fear and panic and the suggestions of preparation rather than panic.

This Awareness suggests that this very type of panic can contribute to the energies necessary to reverse the patterns and create more severe scenarios and probabilities like that which this entity describes. This Awareness suggests, however, that there are also energies involved rather than direct thoughts of catastrophe.

The misdirected energy of frustrated Spirit contributes as well, in that if entities take steps to create beliefs and surroundings in which the Spirit can develop and express and experience the joy that is its birthright, that the misdirected Will Energy and negative emotion is not as likely to manifest itself in the area of energizing such a probability as the catastrophe in the magnitude described.

Attune to Specific Dreams to Make them Manifest

This Awareness suggests that entities also attune themselves to specific dream experiences and take seriously the messages and the warnings received within the understanding that these are probabilities which the entity can choose to validate and energize, or invalidate and refocus. This Awareness suggests that such sojourns into alternate realities and potential probabilities are common daily, or more appropriately, nightly experiences, when entities' consciousness is attuned to other aspects, while they assume it to be asleep.

This Awareness suggests that the direct and controlled creative visualization to counteract such effects upon entities can also benefit tremendously toward being the one house on the block that survives the catastrophe, that separates the lucky from the unlucky, and that such empowerment is encouraged.

If we have completion, we can continue.

Shall We Ask for a Forecast for 1998?

QUESTION:

Traditionally, CAC, towards the end of the year, has asked Awareness for a forecast for the coming year, both which would cover economic, spiritual energies, anything cosmic, et cetera, and we publish that as the last issue of the year which the members receive in early January. I'd like to ask, is it appropriate that we ask Grace sometime for a forecast for the year 1998, or should we abandon this policy?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this is an appropriate question and an enjoyable policy, perhaps for all involved. This Awareness indicates that, as always, the energy received through Grace comes from a particularly removed level of abstraction as it relates to the personal empowerment and enlightenment which is now upon humanity, and that this will be the context wherein such projections shall be interpreted.

This Awareness suggests that there can be tremendous benefit in such a general description of the coming year. This Awareness suggests, however, a separate session should perhaps be reserved.

If we have completion we can continue.

An Exceptional Beginning

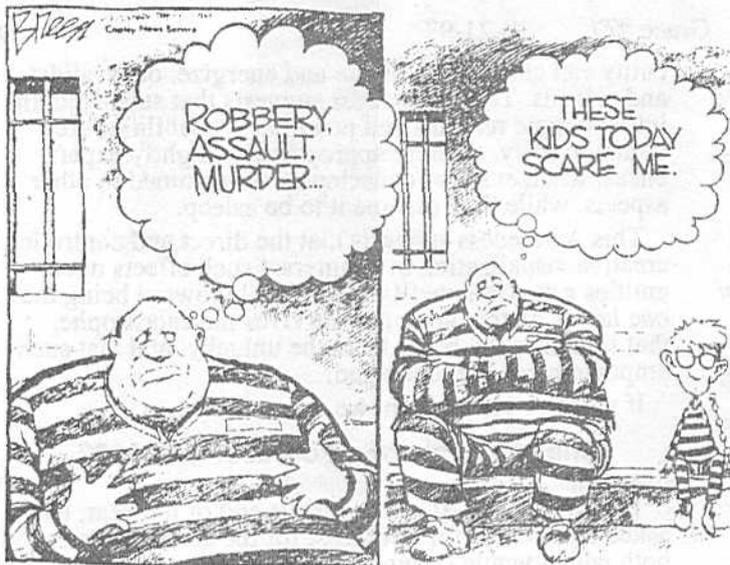

(Cosmic Awareness Is Pleased)

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness suggests that the feedback regarding the Lessons of Enlightenment indicates not only a readiness, but a receptivity and a hunger and an acquisition of the understandings which are indicative of the readiness of consciousness supposed by this Awareness. This Awareness indicates, however, that this was a probability that is now becoming an actuality, directly attributed to those entities receiving, absorbing, and resonating to the information in that each thought, each feeling, each concept is contributing to the evolution of mass-consciousness, whether they realize it or not.

This Awareness suggests that the individual rewards, the actualized desires, the joy, the bliss are simply that which Spirit intends and that should be welcomed, accepted and applied to validate the self-empowerment, the self-understanding, the efficacy and confidence that is the birthright of every human being. This is not to be seen as an aberration or a foreign or a temporary experience: This is living.

This Awareness suggests that in this living, that the natural elevation of mass consciousness is the ultimate result, and that alterations to human consciousness have already been achieved, and although this is just the beginning, it is an exceptional beginning. This Awareness is pleased. We have completion.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. The interpreters published herein have no connection with, nor control over the editorial comments and material, including illustrations. This is entirely the responsibility of the editor. Members of C.A.C. are invited to send in questions of general interest to ask Awareness for possible publication in this newsletter.
